The 57th Regiment will attend Divine service at St. John's Church tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock.

BOY SCOUTS ARE NAMED

Harold Stratton and Norman Layton on Contingent

Scouts Will Leave Toronto Next Thursday For Montreal

The Mail and Empire to-day publishes the names of the boy scouts who will make up the Ontario contingent to go to the coronation, and the representatives from Peterborough are given as Harold Stratton and Norman Layton. This announcement, coming from Toronto, is rather remarkable when considered with the fact that persistent enquiry from the committee here has been answered with the statement that the local selection has not yet been made.

The Ontario contingent will leave Toronto next Thursday for Montreal, where the scouts will embark. They return on July 14 ,sailing from Bristol on the Royal Edward.

LAID TO REST

A large number of citizens attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Goodfellow, which was held this afternoon. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent by friends and acquaintances.

Service was conducted at the late residence, 177 Aylmer Street, at 2.30 o'clock by Rev. Robert Pogue assisted by Rev. H. J. Keith, the funeral cortege leaving the house at 3 o'clock and proceeding to Little Lake cemetery.

The pall-bearers were six grandchildren, Messrs. William, George, and William Laing, H. J. and Archie McCannon and Ira Goodfellow.

The funeral of the late Joseph J. Bell was held from the family residence, 35 St. Patrick Street this afternoon and was largely attended by the citizens, friends and relatives of the deceased. Members of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows also turned out in large numbers to pay their last respects to their departed brother. Services at the house and at the grave were conducted by Rev. Canon Marsh, while the pall-bearers were three brothers and three brothers-in-law, viz. Messrs. James, William and Thomas Bell and Messrs. Walter, Wilbert and Percy McWatters.—Lindsay Warder.

Auxiliary Meeting

OBITUARY

Death of Mrs. Cunningham

The death occurred on the 31st May of Mrs. Martha Peel Cunningham, at Austin, Manitoba.

The deceased who was 68 years of age, was the last of her generation, her brother having died last March, aged 85. Originally a resident of Ops, she left for Manitoba about 25 years ago.

Mrs. Cunningham had been ailing more or less for three yeas, but two weeks ago she was in splendid health. However, on May 28th she had a relapse and never rallied.

The deceased is survived by three sons, John T. Cunningham of the Peterborough Music store, living at 508 Stewart street; Bertram and Charles at home, and two daughters, Susie at home, and Mrs. John Reid, of Austin, Manitoba.

Mr. John Cunningham was telegraphed for yesterday and he left for Austin, Manitoba, where the funeral will take place.

You might as well have a Furnace that will burn both Wood and Coal—

THIS LARGE DOOR

No danger of striking the shovel and spilling coal here. The door is big enough to take the largest shovel of coal or a knotty chunk of wood. It has a large sensible handle that drops into place, locking the door automatically.

And one that can be changed from a Coal to a Wood Furnace at a moment's notice.

¶ The "Hecla" burns wood or coal equally well.

All you need to do if you want to burn wood is to slip a wood grate in through the big door of the furnace. Not a bolt or screw is necessary. You can fix it yourself without soiling your hands or clothing.

The wood grate is supplied free with each "Hecla" furnace, and doubles its usefulness to those who sometimes want to burn wood.

Note the Air Jets in the Door.

They are there to heat the air that passes into the fire chamber. Hot air consumes the gas; cold air checks the fire.

"Hecla" Furnace

Four Grate Bars.

Ever notice how a coal fire burns faster at the edges, leaving more ashes there than at the centre of the fire pot? Now, you can shake down the ashes in a "Hecla" without losing any of the good coals in the centre.

The "Hecla" has four grate bars which can be shaken separately, so that the outside edges can get a thorough cleaning without touching the centre.

Good idea?

The "Hecla" is full of them.

GET THIS BOOKLET and learn how it saves one ton of coal in every seven. Write now.

MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE AND PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

One Application Already for the Vacant Position—Two More Parks Wanted.

The industrial commissioner problem, was the chief subject of discussion at the meeting of the city manufacturers committee yesterday afternoon. There were present Ald. Buller, chairman; Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Eggar, Anderson and Bradburn.

Alderman Bradburn broached the delicate question by suggesting that something should be done about it.

Ald. Anderson, when asked his opinion, said that he thought the matter might be allowed to stand a while longer. He said, however, that when the matter was up before the Council previously, he had felt that they should have continued the office. Now that the office has been demoralized let it stand for a while.

Ald. Buller said that already one letter had been received applying for the position, and Ald. Anderson remarked that there would be numerous applications.

Ald. Eggar when asked for his opinion on the subject, said he was not at present in favor of the office. It appeared to him that the city or council had nothing to offer any institution that came here.

The mayor took him up on the statement saying that there never had been any institution wishing to come here that the city had not been able to supply with power. There was always plenty of it to be secured.

Ald. Bradburn stated that he did not think it wise to let the matter drop.

The mayor made what was considered a wise suggestion when he said that a man should be employed to devote his whole time to the work and be paid a salary and a bonus on every factory he secured.

The question of whether the office will be continued will come up before a meeting of the committee of the whole council on Monday evening.

A motion also carried that the chairman interview the president of the Board of Trade and ascertain if the board will hand over its correspondence and its effects belonging to the late office of industrial commissioner.

EAST AND WEST PARKS

The park question was also discussed. On motion it was decided that the chairman and Ald. Anderson, see if they can locate a property in east ward containing three of four acres suitable for a park, and secure an option on the same. Also that the chairman be authorized to have a valuation made of property in the west, that he thinks suitable for park purposes and have a by-law prepared for submittal to the electors providing for the purchase of parks in east, west and south sections of the city.

Ald. Bradburn said the idea of a park, was that it should combine both park and playground, a place where the boys could go out and play without taking to the street.

In east city Ald. Anderson said, the most suitable site was the old Clancy property at the corner of Hunter and Mark Streets. People, he said, while going to the lift lock often wish to sit down and rest and this place would be ideal.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Finance Committee also met yesterday afternoon, Chairman, Ald. Bradburn presiding. There were also present Mayor Morrow and Ald. Buller.

Moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by the mayor,—That the mayor be authorized to sign the renewal application for the bond of the tax collector, and that a cheque be issued for the premium.—Carried.

Moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That the city solicitor be instructed to collect an account $8.50 from D. W. Dumble for street scrapings. Carried.

Mr. Dumble disputes this account.

A letter was read from C.H. Sproule Assistant Provincial Treasurer, enclosing a cheque for the balance of railway taxes due the city, after deducting charges for patients in asylums. Received.

A number of accounts were certified to and payment thereof will be recommended at Monday night's council meeting.

MANY HEARD BAND CONCERT

Cornet Solo by Sergt. Hughes the Hit of the Program

A large number of citizens attended the first open air band concert of the season given by the 57th regimental band at Victoria Park last evening.

The band in the rendition of the different selections, gave a very popular concert. The cornet solo, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," by Sergt. Hughes, was the treat of the evening. The old hymn, "Abide With Me," with the chimes, and the grand fantasie—Russian Folk Songs—concluding with the chimes, were also much enjoyed.

LICENSE FEE IS LOWERED

Moving Picture Houses Will Only Pay $50

Toronto, June 2.—It has been decided by the Provincial Treasurer that the new tax on moving picture theatres, machines and operators will come into force on the first of the month. Instead of paying a license fee of $100 a year the theatres will pay only $50 and operators will be called upon to pay $1 instead of $5 a year.

Mr. Edwards of the Crystal, has received notice to this effect and is also informed that licenses which have already been taken out in payment of the former fee of $2.25, are not affected by the new regulations, and are good until expiry. Mr. Edwards also wrote for fuller information regarding the admittance of children under fifteen years of age, but no particulars accompanied the letter.

MARKET TO-DAY

Good Offering in Potatoes at $1 per Bag

Some of the farmers on the market this morning stated that the caterpillars in the country were very much in evidence and that active measures are being taken to stamp them out. They have obtained a good headway, however, and all that can be done now is to burn them wherever a cluster is discovered.

The market this morning was large. Potatoes and live pigs were the staple articles outside. The latter sold mainly at $1 a bag.

Eggs and butter prices are almost stationary these days, althought there was an abundance of each offered. The following were the prices:

Potatoes—$1 a bag.
Eggs—18 cents.
Butter—23 cents.
Chickens—60 cents a piece or $1.20 a pair.
Turkeys—$2.
Lamb—11 and 12 cents.
Pigs—$7 a pair.

HOMING PIGEONS

To be Liberated at Five O'clock To-morrow Morning

A number of homing pigeons will arrive in the city to-day, in charge of the Canadian Express Company from New Bedford, Mass., and Mr. W. F. Skitch has been requested to liberate the birds to-morrow morning at five o'clock which he will do from Armour's hill, as this will allow the birds to get a good flight. The pigeons belong to the Whaling City Homing Club of New Bedford, Massachusetts.

They were liberated at Niagara Falls a week or so ago for a flight of 426 miles and for the first time in three successive seasons, some of the birds got home on the day of liberation. This is the third season that the birds have been started from Peterborough by Mr. Skitch and the arrival of the birds and their liberation is creating considerable local interest.

DOES NOT SPEAK SINCE INJURED

Little John Begley's Condition Causes Some Uneasiness

The condition of little Jack Begley, who fell from the scaffold, while satisfactory in some respects, is causing some uneasiness to those in charge of him. The little lad is bright and appears to hear everything that is said to him, but he never talks. This symptom is rather alarming to his parents. His condition otherwise shows gradual improvement.

Farmers' Institute Annual Excursion to Ottawa

The above Excursions will be run via C.P.R. Special Train, starting from Cavanville at 6.40 o'clock, a.m., calling at all stations on line to Tweed inclusive, on Thursday, June the 8th, 1911.

Train leaves Peterborough at 7 a.m.

Note the fact that this is the only Farmers' Excursion run by the Farmers' Organizations from this District this year and we promise you a good train service and a splendid Educational Trip. You will be sorry if you miss it.

TWO TEAMS TIED FOR LEADERSHIP

Cresswell's Nine Won From Dixon's by 6-4

Cresswell's team defeated Dixon's in a collegiate league game at Riverside Park last evening, thus making it an even break between the two teams for first place.

The score, 6—4, goes to show that there was some good ball played. Cresswell was due to pitch this afternoon, and worked Sheehy ("Willie Keeler") in the box, Horsefield receiving until the fifth, when he got injured, and Taber undertook to hold Sheehy. Huycke and Phelan worked well together a couple of Cresswell's runs coming on errors by Huycke's supporters.

The batteries were:

Dixon's—Huycke and Phelan.

Cresswell's—Sheehy, Horsefield and Taber.

BASEBALL

The Central school seniors cannot be stopped apparently. They won their game at Boswell's field last night against King Edward seniors by the score of 13—4.

The game was a fairly good exhibition, but the winners were heavier hitters than the southern bunch, and the latter contributed a few errors, which were costly.

Deliberately Shot at Greeks.

Woburn, Mass., June 3.—Deliberately firing at three Greek brothers, Louis Vincenzo, an Italian, shot and killed Thomas Caliazas, probably fatally wounded John Caliazas and wounded slightly Charles Caliazas on the farm of Ellis H. Marshall here yesterday. Vincenzo ran into the nearby woods before the astonished laborers who had witnessed the tragedy, realized what had taken place. The police officials, however, were notified within a short time and last night the woods of Woburn, Winchester and Arlington were scoured by a posse.

Fifteen farm hands were resting in one of the farm buildings during the noon hour. Thomas Caliazas was taking a nap when, without warning, Vincenzo is said to have drawn a revolver and started firing. Anger because the Greeks were employed instead of Italians is given as the cause of Vincenzo's attack.

Workman Awarded Damages.

Montreal, June 3.—Albert Bourgeois was yesterday awarded $2,500 damages for injuries received while working for Mr. John Stewart, contractor, in the house Mr. J. N. Greenshields. Bourgeois had objected to doing certain work, but the foreman had insisted and as a result Bourgeois suffered a fall, resulting in serious spinal injuries.

COX GROUP TO MEET RIVALS

Capitalists Breaking Way May Form New Company

More About Canada Life Squabble — Sanderson's Part

Toronto, June 3.—Mr. Frank Sanderson, M. A., LL.D., whose reduction from the position of joint general manager to that of chief actuary of the Canadian Life Assurance Company was the rock on which the Bank of Commerce group of financiers split Thursday, is believed to be about to sever his connection with that company.

It is not improbable that he may become the head of a large new insurance company to be organized by the five directors who withdrew from the Canada Life board, and the powerful interests behind them.

It was almost ten o'clock when Mr. Sanderson reached his office in the Canada Life building this morning. His office is on the fourth floor, only a few steps from that of the official who was recently his business equal, but who is now his superior in office—Mr. E. W. Cox.

Mr. Sanderson was averse to discussing the matter at all when approached by the News.

"I have no desire to say anything at all," he said. "This matter rests with Senator Cox and his directors; I'm not the issue at all."

"The statement handed out by the company yesterday sounded very much as if you were the issue," suggested the News.

But Mr. Sanderson would not admit it. "It's a broader question than that," he averred.

WILL HE BREAK AWAY?

"Is there any truth in the story that you are going to sever your connection with the Canada Life?" Mr. Sanderson was asked.

"Oh, I don't know," he replied indifferently, as he walked over to a corner of the office to hang his hat on the mahogany rack. He returned to his chair, sat for a moment in silence, and then made his statement. It was brief, and to the point;

"I have several alternatives before me as to what I shall do. Meanwhile, I remain here as chief actuary of the Canada Life. They have made it as comfortable for me as they can, financially and in other ways."

Mr. Sanderson would say nothing more. But from this it may be inferred that he does not intend to stay around the Canada Life building any longer than he can help. His "meanwhile" and "several alternatives" were not the words of one who intended to retain his post much longer

STILL IN "COMMERCE" DIRECTORATE.

A rumor that Hon. George A. Cox was resigning from the Canadian Bank of Commerce directorate was emphatically denied at the Canada Life building.

"There are a lot of yarns going the rounds to-day," the News was told, "but there's nothing in a good many of them."

Dog Ran Amok.

New York, June 3.—A handsome Great Dane suddenly turned into a wild beast on the streets of the upper east side in the heat yesterday afternoon, and severely bit a girl and seven horses. The huge animal buried its teeth in five-year-old Josephine Bondy's side, leaped to a horse's back and bit a gash in the animal's flesh, attacked another horse in the face and five others in the legs, while policemen pursued him and finally got him wthin safe range of their revolvers. Shopkeepers joined the police in the hunt and shot the infuriated dog a dozen times before he finally dropped. The bitten girl was taken to the Pasteur Institute.

Stabbing Affray Among Pollocks.

Ottawa, June 3.—A stabbing affray occurred among the local Pollocks last evening. A number of men started a quarrel in a hotel, and concluded it outside in a free-for-all. An unknown foreigner was seriously stabbed in the throat and John Kurylak is under arrest for the deed, though it is doubtful if the police have the right man.

Will Lecture In Boston.

Boston, June 3.—M. Alphonse des Jardins of Levis, Que., founder of the People's Bank system of Canada, and director general of L'Action Populaire Economique, arrived in Boston yesterday for a stay of six weeks, by invitation of the commonwealth, and the approval of the governor, to lecture on and establish credit unions.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Failed to Cure Rheumatism

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings and Ultimate Cure With "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

MARY MANNERING MARRIES AGAIN

New York, June 2.—Mary Mannering, the actress, who divorced James K. Hackett, April 19, 1910, to-day was married in her apartments at the Prassada to Frederick E. Wadsworth, of Detroit, who has a boat-building plant on the Detroit river, and is rated as one of the wealthy men of Michigan.

Mr. Wadsworth, as well as Miss Mannering, filed divorce records upon applying for a marriage certificate at the office of Deputy City Clerk Joseph F. Prendergast early to-day. Mr. Wadsworth gave his age as 43 years and his residence as Grasse Point Farm, Michigan, and his business as a manufacturer. He was born at Durham, Connecticut.

The record filed by Mr. Wadsworth to-day shows that his wife, Loella Pack, divorced him at Kalamazoo, Michigan, in July, 1910, the court granting her the custody of the two children. Mr. Wadsworth had obtained the divorce on the ground of cruelty.

A GRAND MEDICINE FOR OLD PEOPLE

"Fruit-a-tives" Restores The Health and Strength of Youth.

GRANDE LIGNE, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910.

"I heartily recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all who suffer from constipation and the painful consequence, Piles. I am now over 80 years of age and suffered for more than 10 years with Constipation and Piles. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing cured me.

About four years ago, I received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". After taking a few doses. I felt that "Fruit-a-tives" were doing me good. As "Fruit-a-tives" were not sold here then, I wrote to Ottawa for several boxes.

After taking four boxes, I felt well—my Bowels were regular—and the Piles had disappeared". N. JOUBERT.

By taking one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet half an hour before meals—or one or two at night—old people can correct all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

"Fruit-a-tives" the famous fruit medicine is mild and gentle in action—pleasant to the taste—yet no other remedy has been found to be so effective in keeping old folks in good health.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

REV. DR. CARMAN AT CONFERENCE

Declares Rock of Christianity is the Bible

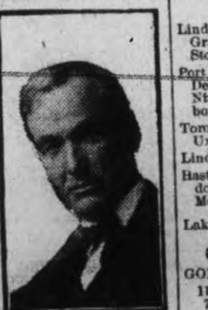
Stratford, June 3.—"What Christianity in Canada needs is a Hydro-electric policy," declared Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist church, in the remarkably forceful address with which he opened the ministerial session of the London Conference.

The venerable speaker was arraigning the inroads of what he bitingly termed the flamboyantly paraded so-called scholarship of modern thought among the ministry.

"What right have these modern apostles of negligibility to say to me; 'You're an old fogey; you're antiquated; you're behind the times? Am I? Are we? What about your Hydro-electric?" he continued. "Men of purpose and vision sought to lighten up the pathways of the people. By strands of steel they linked with Niagara Falls, they tied to the cataracts of continents. They are using the powers of nature to give light and power. That is the project for Christianity in this time of stress. Fasten on to the central power. God is the great central power. Tie up to the Lord God."

Dr. Carman declared that the rock of Christianity was the Bible. "I am not called upon to boast of the so-called modern scholarship, thank God," he declared, amid a storm of applause. The modernists had reduced things to reductio ad absurdum. There was a lack of simple, plain Saxon logic. "Wesley had no trouble," he continued, with grilling cynicism. "He just went on as though Moses was no myth. He actually believed the Bible. Such was the amazing stupidity of Wesley."

Country Town Sayings



By Ed. Howe

If a dressmaker promises a woman a dress on a certain day, she'd better have it ready.

When people say they will help you in time of trouble, thank them, and don't count on it too much.

A woman's idea of art is to make a dinner so elaborate that the guests will not know how to eat it.

When a man quits abusing his rival, it is a sign he has his rival down.

As a rule people are disappointed in compliments; they always expect more.

Your best friend has a question or two he would like to ask you, if he dared. Keep up the bars, so that he will not dare.

Nearly every man thinks he has done a great deal for the town in which he lives, if he has not actually made it famous.

Speaking of total wrecks, ever notice a dinner table after the guests have all had their fill, and pushed back to talk.

After a woman has been a widow about so long she says: "Well, I used to say I'd never marry again, but I don't know."

BRYAN CAN'T LEAD DEMOCRATS

Peerless One to be Politely Told He is a Has Been

Washington, June 2.—The Democrats of the House of Representatives to-night repudiated William J. Bryan's attempt to dictate their policy in regard to the revision of the wool schedule. By a unanimous vote in a party caucus they turned down the peerless leader's demand for free raw wool and accepted the bill prepared by the Ways and Means Committee, under the direction of Representative Underwood, which fixes a duty of 20 per cent. on raw wool, as compared with an equivalent of 44.31 per cent. imposed under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The effect of the action by Representative Underwood and his followers in defeating Mr. Bryan's efforts to impose his will on the house organization will extend far beyond the proposed revision of the woollen schedule. It amounts to the serving of notice upon upon Mr. Bryan that the Democratic organization of the house will not tolerate his assumed leadership.

It is the general impression in Washington to-night that the repudiation of Bryan on the wool schedule is the beginning of a serious break in the party. Politicians expect to see the fight carried out ultimately into the Democratic national convention.

WEST PETERBORO FARMERS INSTITUTE

3. Report of executive committee and financial statement by secretary-treasurer.
4. Auditor's report.
5 and 6. Suggestions of points at which to hold regular and supplementary meetings.
7. Election of directors and auditors.
8. Suggestions as to how the Institute can be improved or made more useful.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P.; Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.L.A.; Mr. H. B. Cowan, editor "Farm and Dairy," and Mr. H. C. Duff, B.S.A., district representative, have been invited to give short addresses.

All members are invited to be present and bring their families along, as the intention is to finish the afternoon with a picnic.

WM. COLLINS,
Secretary.
J. H. GARBUTT,

The Western Association of Baptist Churches, meeting at Windsor, elected Rev. H. C. Cameron, Windsor, as moderator, and condemned the Ne Temere decree.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Marion, sole distributer. WHO PAYS THE DUTY?
You or our foreign competitor

You pay. About that there is no room for doubt.

And it's more than likely you believe in the necessity of the tariff.

But—of what earthly good is it if you pay the duty?

The foreigner laughs at duties imposed by our government as long as you are willing to cash up. Take beer, for instance.

"Salvador"

The Famous National Drink

is the purest and best beer brewed on this continent.

The formula and entire process of brewing "Salvador" is a secret and absolutely controlled, on this side of the Atlantic, by Reinhardts' of Toronto.

Beer, almost as good as "Salvador," is brewed by the big American brewers and sold in the States at exactly the same price as "Salvador" in Canada.

But—when you order an American beer in Canada there's 34% extra to pay—the duty—plus extra freight charges.

Is it rational to pay that duty—when you can get a better beer at the normal price? "Salvador" beer is rich in flavor, sparkling and charged with invigorating properties.

THREE NAMES ARE SENT TO ROME

In Connection With Appointment of New Archbishop

Kingston, Ont., June 2.—It is understood that three names for the Archbishopric of Kingston have been forwarded to Rome. It is an aosolute secret as to the names selected, the bishops of the two ecclesiastical provinces declining even to talk about suggested candidates. It is not likely that the announcement of the new Archbishop's selection will be made until late in August or early in September.

It is in this appointment that the name of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor has been mentioned.

BIRTH

REID—On Wednesday, May 28th, to Mr and Mrs. Robert Reid, 16 London Street, a daughter.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Judge Roger and Mrs. Roger of Cobourg are visiting in the city.

Miss Ethel Packenham of Toronto is visiting Mrs. James Fanning, George Street.

Miss Lottie Davis has returned from her visit to Carina, accompanied by her sister, Miss Edna Davis.

Mr. Fred. Hall of Montreal is spending a few days in the city preparatory to going west to fill a lucrative position.

H. H. Edmison returned to Winnipeg on Tuesday, after spending a few days here as the guest of County Magistrate Edmison.

The many friends of Engineer Kelcher will be pleased to learn that he has returned to the G.T.R. flyer after five months' illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Libby left this morning on a visit to St. Catharines and the Falls. They will be accompanied from Port Dalhousie by their son, Walter.

Dr. and Mrs. Neal returned last evening from a four days visit to Niagara Falls where Dr. Neal read a paper at the Ontario Medical Association convention.

Dr. Malcolm McCulloch accompanied by Mrs. McCulloch left to-day for Montreal, where he will attend the reunion of the McGill medical graduates and the Canadian Medical Association next week.

SHOPPING AT STONY LAKE

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the Juniper Island store, at Stony Lake, is now open for the season, and as last year, will be carried on by Mr. H. W. Stock. The store is the headquarters for all cottage supplies and also the headquarters for news, for the cottagers and campers meet to exchange greetings and tell one another of the happenings on and at the several islands.

Several new departments have been adde to the store, the stock is prime and fresh and customers are assured by Mr. Stock that prices will be no higher than is charged in the stores of the city for a similar service.

A convenience to those going up the lake is that orders may be sent to the local store, 283 Sherbrooke street, or by mail, to Juniper Island, and the supplies will be delivered on the day and where directed. This relieves the cottager from taking up a lot of stuff, as in former years, and will be a distinct convenience.

The boat livery in connection supplies canoes, skiffs, etc., at reasonable rates.

CONFERENCE AT PORT HOPE

Endorsed Church Union by Vote of 167 to 15

Port Hope, June 2—After a debate of about three hours and a half the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference to-night endorsed Church union by a vote of 167 to 15.

Rev. Dr. G. J. Bishop, Mr. L. Peterson, Cobourg; Rev. R. Duke, Rev. A. H. Reynar, Cobourg; all spoke in favor of union. Rev. Mr. Duke introduced the supporting resolution.

Mr. O'Flynn submitted a proposition to endow a chair of mathematics to be called the "Dr. Albert Carman Chair" for Albert College, which was now facing a critical period by reason of the new government regulations for approved schools. The college will have to engage teachers of government standard, and higher salaries will have to be paid. The school had now 300 students. It is also proposed to endow several other chairs. The proposition will be dealt with later.

The request that Mr. J. B. Snider be ordained for special service raised a protest against the practice from Dr. G. J. Bishop. Rev. Robert Burns consulted with Dr. Carman, who was of the opinion that marriages performed by men so ordained were illegal. "Why should we cheapen our ministry by ordaining young men who have not been proved ?" asked Dr. Bishop. It was declared that marriages were performed by certain men specially ordained and these were not legal. A committee will make inquiry into the matter.

A permit was granted to the trustees of the Lonsdale Church to sell the property, and the trustees at Fenelon Falls are permitted to sell the old church.

The Committee on State of the work reported an increase in all the funds except the temperance and moral reform fund. The total membership in the year decreased by nineteen, and 960 persons ceased to be members.

MODERN SCHOLARSHIP

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir—Every Bible reader knows that Christ taught the people that Moses wrote the Pentateuch. Christ also quoted from the 110 Psalm and said David wrote it. In Mark 12-36 He says, for David himself said by the Holy Ghost. "The Lord said to my Lord, sit thou on my right hand till I make thine enemies thy footstool," a quotation from the 110 psalm, which appears in no other place in the Old Testament. Now listen to what so called modern scholarship has discovered. On page 50 of his "little book" Prof. Geo. Jackson says, "Christ for example assumes the Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch and the Davidic authorship of the 110 Psalm Modern scholarship denies both." This is a fair sample of the boasted intellectual fearlessness of these modern deniers of Christ. What sane person can believe what Geo. Jackson, or any of our so called modern critics know better than our Lord, Jesus Christ, who wrote the Pentateuch ? Does not the Great Supreme know better who wrote the 110 Psiam, than Geo. Jackson ? Mr. Jackson may be a very nice man but the Methodists are slowly wakening to the fact, that he is teaching a mighty nasty theology to their people.

HOW TO TREAT SKIN TROUBLES

Greasy Ointments of No Use—The Trouble Must be Cured Through the Blood

It is not a good thing for people with a tendency to have pimples and a blotchy complexion to smear themselves with greasy ointments and such things. In fact they couldn't do anything worse, because the grease clogs the pores of the skin, making the complaint worse. When there is an irritating rash a soothing boracic wash may help to allay the pain or itching, but of course it doesn't cure. Skin complaints arise from an impure condition of the blood and will persist until the blood is purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of eczema and skin disorders because they make new, rich blood that drives out the impurities, clears the skin and imparts a glow Mrs. S. L. Peterson, Brandon, Man., says: "I suffered for years from eczema, which brought with it other troubles, such as poor appetite, headache and weakness. The portions of my body affected by the eczema gave me constant torture from the itching and heat. I tried several doctors and all sorts of lotions and ointments, but did not get the least relief. Finally, I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to do so. After using the Pills for some time the irritation and heat began to grow less and I seemed in better health otherwise. I continued taking the Pills for several months, and every vestige of the trouble disappeared, and my skin is again as free from blemish as in youth. Given a fair trial Dr. Willliams' Pink Pills will not disappoint those suffering from skin eruptions or weakness of any sort."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all those troubles due to poor blood simply because they make new, rich, red blood. That is why these pills cure common disease like anaemia, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, headaches, indigestion, St. Vitus' dance, and the general weakness and special ailments that only women folk know. UNDER ARREST AT TORONTO

Chas. Wilder Gave Peterboro as His Address

Toronto, June 3—With a letter in which she had enclosed a $2 bill ready to mail to her mother in England, a 20 year old English girl, was turned over to the Salvation Army, by Staff Inspector Kennedy yesterday after she had told him a tale of moving pathos. Following her story, Charles Wilder, a married man, 37 years of age, who has a wife and three children in the city, but who gives his address as Peterboro, was locked up on a charge of procuring the girl for immoral purposes.

Inspector Kennedy saw the girl in the police court corridor and engaged her in conversation. At last she told him her story. She said that she had been living with Wilder as his wfe at a house in Jarvis street, and that he had driven her into a life of shame and collected most of the money she earned in this way. She declared that she had given him $20 last week.

JUDGMENT OF $50 TO PLAINTIFF

Defendant Borrowed $50 to Bet on Horse Race

Judge Huycke gave a judgment in the division court yesterday that is of more than ordinary interest. The case was heard two months ago, when the plaintiff took action to recover $50, which had been borrowed from him by the defendant. The defendant wanted the money to bet on a horse race, and told the plaintiff so. When the date arrived for the payment of the $50 loan, the defendant gave a note for same, but the plaintiff was unable to recover the money, and as a result took action. The defence claimed the transaction was illegal.

His Honor, in giving judgment for the plaintiff, ruled that, as there was no evidence of collusion between the two parties, the transaction was legal. When a man borrows from another, even though the lender may know that the money is to be used for betting, it does not come under the law. The case is different when there is a secret agreement between the two parties.

AYLESWORTH WILL RUN IF ELECTION FIGHT HINGES ON THE RECIPROCITY PACT

Betrays Nervousness as to the Result North York Liberals Hold a Convention—T. C. Robinette, K. C., is Alternative.

Newmarket, June 5.—If there is a general election this fall Sir Alan Aylesworth will probably be the Liberal candidate for North York. If Parliament runs its course he will carry out his intention to retire. That seems to be the situation in this riding after the nominations on Saturday, when the Minister of Justice was named as candidate with T. C. Robinette, K.C., as alternative. The Town Hall was fairly well filled and there was an abundance of enthusiasm among the Liberal cohorts. While reciprocity was admittedly the great question before the country yesterday and was discussed by Mr. Robinette and A. H. Clarke of South Essex, references to it were incidental to Sir Alan's animadversions of the tactics of the Conservative party in the House of Commons. The Government would not dissolve Parliament unless the Opposition forced them to that extremity. Mr. Borden was not so much to blame, "it rests upon the wild men, some uncontrolled and uncontrollable men who sit about him."

Sir Alan declared himself in favor of applying the gag.

"The Government has no intention of bringing on an election at the present time," he stated. "That is not going to happen, you may take it as coming from me, unless the public business of this country is deliberately obstructed so that it cannot be carried on by the men you send to Ottawa to do your work.

"If His Majesty's loyal Opposition wants an election, they can have it; they know how to get it.

"Bring on your election if you like, and we shan't turn our backs to them.

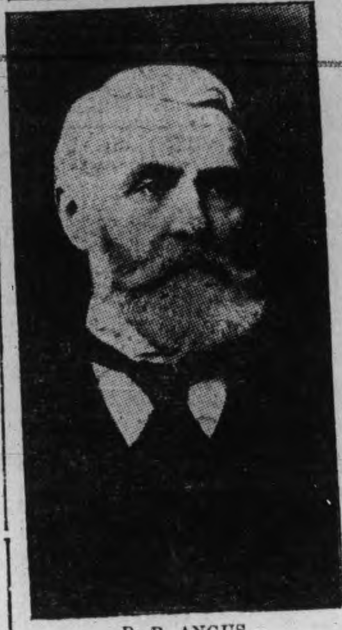
"We are perfectly prepared to meet them on this question of reciprocity—yes, and to beat them." (Loud applause.)

"The situation does not rest with Mr. Borden. It rest with the wild men, some uncontrolled and uncontrollable men who sit about him, who have hopes of safe constituencies for themselves, who play the act of Samson and pull the house down about their ears."

When the nomination was called Eugene Cane, Newmarket, offered the name of the Minister of Justice with the provision added that in the event of Sir Alan not being able to contest the election, T. C. Robinette, K.C., should be the Liberal standard-bearer without a further convention. John McCabe King, seconded the motion, which was received with cheers and long applause.

Perley Back on the Job.

Ottawa, June 5.—George H. Perley, chief Conservative whip, has returned to Ottawa after a short holiday, and will preside at the Conservative headquarters during the absence of Mr. Borden, first in Nova Scotia, and afterwards in the west. Mr. Borden goes east to-day. He is being flooded with applications for speeches at various western points, and the tour is likely to develop into a series of car-end meetings.



R. B. ANGUS.

President of the Bank of Montreal, who will probably soon be knighted.

STREET CAR MEN REFUSE TO STRIKE

Movement in Vancouver to Tie up Town Fails.

Vancouver, June 5.—With the street railway men declining to join in the sympathetic strike, that was to tie up the town, the outlook for the general "cessation of labor" to-day was somewhat dampened. Because the employers were able to fill the places of the striking carpenters with non-union men and start an open shop in Vancouver, leaders of the carpenters and allied trades called on fellow unionists in every trade represented in the 52 unions affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council to stop work on June 5. To tie up the town the unionists leaders declared that they would stop the street cars and have electric light and power turned off. But the street railway men voted ten to one against joining the strike, chiefly because they had recently closed a satisfactory three-year agreement with the British Columbia Electric Co., and by it were required to give thirty days' notice of a strike.

Saturday the mayor worked might and main to secure some kind of a settlement, but the strikers refused to meet any committee of union men to arbitrate a settlement. The employers claim that the strike will turn out a fizzle, and that the open shop will be established in Vancouver.

It is a bad sign when a young man start in politics before doing anything else. Let him first demonstrate his worth in a business way.

WEST STATES ARE IN FAVOR

Poll of Newspapers Shows 3 to 1 Majority.

Safe Guides to Sentiment of Country at Large.

Chicago, June 5.—The Tribune published yesterday morning the results of a poll of newspapers in twenty-two central, western, southwestern, northwestern and Pacific states on the question of approving the reciprocity agreement with Canada.

To more than ten thousand newspapers, representing every shade of political opinion, The Tribune submitted this question. The replies numbered 4,303, of which 4,240 were definite, even if qualified, expressions of opinion.

Of these 3,113 were in favor of the agreement, and 1,127 against it—nearly a three to one vote for the policy advocated by President Taft. The newspapers, daily and weekly, which give the verdict are representative of public opinion. They are safe guides to the sentiments of the communities in which they circulate.

The weekly papers outnumber the dailies in the proportion of eight to one, and it may be assumed safely that the poll is an expression of agricultural as well as urban sentiment.

SHOT HIS WIFE THRICE IN HEAD

Shocking Murder in New Westminster, B.C., by Englishman.

New Westminster, B.C., June 5.—Henry Jobes, machinist's helper, 427 Fourth street, murdered his wife early yesterday morning. The murder was discovered by his son, William Jobes, who, when he went to work in the morning, heard his father had bought a revolver the previous day. He immediately hurried home. Entering the house he was horrified to see his mother lying dead on the floor, a pool of blood being by her head, from which it had poured from three bullet wounds, one under the right ear and one in each temple.

The physicians who examined the body stated death was instantaneous. The coroner's inquest will be held to-night.

It has been learned that Jobes attempted to kill his wife on May 25, but was prevented by his son, who took the revolver away from him. This incident was not reported to the police. After this attempt, Jobes left the house and lived elsewhere in the city. Jobes has not yet been arrested, but the police expect he will start drinking and be found in some barroom. He is about 50 years of age and came here from England March 1.

COX FINANCIERS SAID TO BE ABOUT TO PROMOTE NEW BANK

Report From Montreal as to the Founding of New Institution — Bank Would Have at Least $10,000,000 Capital — Room for Big Bank.

Montreal, June 5—The report to the effect that the Cox interests would in the near future promote a new bank with very large resources, has revived the discussion over the future of the Canadian banks, and it is generally admitted in Montreal banking circles that something must be done before a very long period. A leading banker stated to-day that the circulation of the banks doing business in the Dominion, has reached its limit, with three remedies ahead. First, the circulation of a larger quantity of Dominion notes over the counter, the distribution of gold, the founding of a number of big banks, or the increasing of capital of the existing banks.

Difficulties present themselves at once in most of these alternatives. In the first place, the people are not accustomed to the general use of gold, as is the case in Great Britain, while if the banks increase their capital, the amount to be earned for dividends will have to be proportionately large. The alternative of founding new banks is no doubt what will take place, as it is conceded in the Canadian business world that the legitimate trade of the country has increased in a far greater ratio than the resources which the present banks have placed at the disposition of the business community.

This, therefore, encourages the belief that Hon. Geo. A. Cox President Plummer of the Dominion Steel Corporation E. R. Wood and their powerful allies and associate financial corporations, will in the near future start a bank with a capital of at least $10,000,000. It is stated here every day of the week that, although the International has the promise of another ten millions in Paris whenever it is required, there is still room for another big English bank, either in Montreal or in Toronto, and that if Senator Cox and his friends do not step into the breach, some other group will do so sooner or later.

WINDSOR MAN SACRIFICES HIS LIFE TO SAVE CHILDREN

Tried to Stop Runaway Team From Dashing Into Group of Children Watching Circus Procession.

Windsor, June 5.—William Parsons, aged 39, a machinist employed in Detroit and whose home is at Fletcher, Ont., was carried into St. Mary's Hospital Saturday, his spine fractured, both legs broken and his body a mass of bruises, as a result of his heroic attempt to prevent a team of frightened horses from dashing into a crowd of children who were watching a circus procession. Parsons died shortly after he was placed on the operating table, having literally given up his life to save the children, among the group being two of his own.

The accident occurred in Detroit on Jefferson avenue, near Beaufait, while both sides of the street were lined with children. The whistle of the steam calliope caused a team of horses, attached to a heavy truck, to take fright, and the driver was unable to control them. The animals made a wild dash straight for the group of little ones. Parsons happened to be standing nearby, and without hesitation he ran into the maddened horses, but was forced to loosen his hold and fell to the pavement. The forward wheel of the truck passed over his legs and the rear one across his back, breaking his spine. The runaway team was caught before doing any damage.

Parsons had resided in Detroit for some time. He leaves a widow and two children. The remains were taken to Fletcher Saturday night for interment.

Fisher on Defence.

London, June 5.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Replying to an address presented by a deputation of the Workingmen's United Empire League on Saturday to Australian Premier Fisher's Commonwealth defence policy, said that whilst feeling that it was incumbent upon the representatives of the people to institute compulsory military service, they desired not only to co-operate with the Mother Country and the other dominions, to ensure their own peace and the preservation of their country, but to develop the longing for universal peace. It was not desired that there should be any aggression, or that they should interfere with the high aspirations for development of other peoples. It was simply to maintain their own land and institutions and to defend their liberty with the last man and the last shilling.

MOTOR BOAT PARTY IN PERIL

Gasoline Explosion Started Fire in Craft—Rescued by Launch

Special to the Review.

Buffalo, June 5.—Noah Heline, the centre fielder of the Buffalo Eastern League ball club, with three friends, two of whom were women, were badly burned about their heads and limbs, when their motor boat took fire on the Niagara river. The trouble was brought about by an explosion of gasoline, and all the occupants of the boat leaped into the water, and, after narrowly escaping being drowned, were rescued by a launch party. The craft was burned to the water's edge.

MONUMENT TO KING EMMANUEL

Cost Twenty Millions and Took Thirty Years to Build

Special to The Review.

Rome, June 5.—The second monument to King Victor Emmanuel was dedicated to-day before a vast assemblage. It took thirty years to build the monument, which cost twenty millions of dollars.

Victim of Wreck.

Vergas, Minn., June 5.—Mrs. L. S. Berg, wife of the president of the New Orleans, Mobile and Chicago Railroad, was killed, and Mr. Berg was seriously injured in a wreck of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie train No. 109, northbound for Thief River Falls, at 11 o'clock Saturday night. The wreck was caused by a washout a mile south of Vergas.

Saved In Nick of Time.

Kingston, Ont., June 5.—Sergt. Snedden and Constable Mullinger saved the life of Robert McDonald, a sailor on the steamer Turret Chief. While drunk, McDonald went to sleep under train, foot of Princess street, and the constable found him in the nick of time.

He was fined $1 and costs in the Police Court.

Girl's Body Found In Canal.

St. Catharines, June 5.—The body of Gertrude Dale, 15 years old, was found floating in the old Welland canal between lock 21 and 22 yesterday by Owen Cummarford. The girl had disappeared over a week ago and it was feared she had done away with herself.

AVIATORS WILL CONTINUE RACE

Last Leg Means Perilous Flight Over the Apennines

Special to the Review.

Rome, June 5.—With the arrival of Aviator Vidar to-day, the four leaders in the Paris to Turin race, determined not to abandon the last leg of the race, which will be over the Apennines mountains. All the birdmen will continue the flights.

PREPARING FOR BIG DAY

Coronation Plans Are Being Carried Out.

Centre of London Mass of Stands and Platform.

London, June 5.—The usual dignity and stateliness of the British capital's public buildings, principal parks and streets, are being sacrificed to the demands of coronation visitors and sightseers. The whole neighborhood of Parliament, including the yards of Westminster Abbey and the Parliament Buildings, is covered with huge unsightly wooden stands, most of the way from Trafalgar Square to the Abbey. The chief Government offices are almost hidden in the same unattractive fashion. St. James' Park, near Buckingham Palace, is similarly covered, as well as the principal streets through which the possession will pass.

Even the church yards present a double row of stands, and the houses and clubs on St. James street, Piccadilly, are fronted with stands. The big Rothschild House, near the entrance to Hyde Park, is half concealed by a wooden structure, and Hyde Park is being transformed into a camp for the troops. The southwestern section, opposite the fashionable quarter, is already filled with tents and horses.

A complete cordon of barriers with gates has been built on all streets leading to the line of parade, so that the police may prevent too great crowds from assembling and encroaching on that territory. Military contingents from distant colonies have begun to arrive. The many uniforms and the picturesque costume of Indian potentates are already giving the town a festive appearance.

Carpenters and decorators will have no holidays these days, since an immense amount of work remains unfinished for the coronation. The columns surmounted with angels and griffins in Whitehall are more effective than decorations at any previous coronation, and masts with gilt crowns, evergreen garlands and red caps seen in Piccadilly, St. James street, the Strand and other thoroughfares already offer promise of an artistic spectacle. The masts and columns are linked together by wire cables, with electric globes, and will supply a basis for the best scheme of illumination ever seen in London.

New Zealand's and other archways, are nearly finished, but the draperies will be kept back until coronation week. In Westminster the decorations are costing $13,000 a mile, or more than $7 a yard, and will include ten thousand lamps in that distance.

Rehearsals of the coronation music have already begun in the church house. The principal novelties are a homage anthem, "Rejoice in the Lord," by Sir Frederick Bridge, with a refrain from the Lutheran "Ein Feste Burg." At the end of the festival a "Te Deum," composed by Sir Hubert Parry, and an offertory anthem by Sir Edward Elgar, will be heard. These works have been tried at rehearsal, and Handel's "Zadok, the Priest" has been sung with orchestral accompaniment.

The master of the horse has ordered trials of the royal carriage horses during next week. The first general rehearsal of the principal tableaux in the Abbey will take place before another Saturday, with dummies in place of the King and Queen.

The Abbey is still filled with carpenters and litter, but the work remaining unfinished is chiefly concerned with decoration.

TWO ITALIANS DROWN IN BAY

Rowboat Was Upset, and Men Couldn't Swim.

Hamilton, June 5.—Frank Corena and Nicholas Rafaelo, two Italians, aged 22 and 18 years respectively, were drowned in the bay at the mouth of the Des Jardines Canal here about 3.30 yesterday afternoon. The drowning occurred about 100 feet from shore in water about six feet deep. In company with three other Italians, named Fred. Ballassari, Gabriel Virgilio and Rafael Worgante, the two men who lost their lives, were rowing in the bay, when they attempted to change seats and overturned the boat, throwing all the occupants into the water. None of the men except Ballassari could swim, but Virgilio and Worgante clung to the upturned boat for a few minutes until assistance reached them from shore. The two drowned men were unable to get hold of the boat and sank before the men on shore could get to them. Immediately after the accident the police were notified and Patrol Sergt. Cruickshanks and Constables James Clark and Mountain were despatched to the scene. Search for the bodies was begun, and about six o'clock the body of Corena was brought to the surface and taken to the city morgue in the patrol wagon. Dragging for the other body was continued until dark, without success.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

Nerviline CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large bottles, 50c, trial size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MUNRO CASE

Under the provisions of the present bank act, a president or manager who signs false returns to the government innocently, cannot be punished. Ignorance of the bank's affairs, by the president or the directors is no crime. It is simply an indiscretion for which the shareholders have to pay when the bank blows up. The proposed bank revision that has been postponed for a year will change this. Under it the president and directors will be personally and criminally liable for any incorrect statement they sign, whether they have direct knowledge of the inaccuracy of the statements contained in it, or not. Under this bank act we will not have cases like that of Col. Munro being acquitted, because he was merely a tool in the hands of W. R. Travers, believing implicity what the latter said and did.

It is the hardest thing in the world to prove in court that a man knew something or did not. To prove beyond doubt that a man actually knew a fact or set of facts in the face of a later denial will test the ability of the cleverest lawyer, because a prisoner gets the benefit of a doubt, and some men can be very stupid when they want to.

What sort of a president of a bank is he who knows so little about the affairs of his bank that a general manager or accountant can deliberately deceive him month after month with cooked up figures, even when the knowledge was common property that the institution was steadily heading for the rocks? Surely an ordinary keen business man ought to have some intuition of how things stood that would lead him to do more than merely scratch his name at the bottom of a sheet of figures, in the management of a bank. But Col. Munro seemingly did not know, and apparently never took the trouble to care, whether his institution was on solid ground or not. If the shareholders of the bank who are facing the double liability claim can force the government to make good the loss, because it was a government departmental blunder that permitted the wreck to become possible, they will be getting what is only their right, though the people of Canada should not have to pay the piper for Fielding's mistake. A government is responsible for the public act of any of its members, and when the election rolls around, those Farmers' Bank shareholders who are being ruined through this colossal swindle, will not forget who made that swindle possible, either wittingly or unwittingly.

SIR WILFRID'S ATTITUDE

At the imperial conference Sir Edward Grey proposed that before Britain made treaties, the imperial government should consult the colonies, and before going into the Hague conference the British representatives' instructions should be considered by the colonial governments, and made the result of joint deliberation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected, on the ground that participation in British treaty-making by Canada would put Canada under the obligation to take part in any war that might arise, and he did not propose that Canada should be put in any such a position.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has made himself very clear on this subject. He is willing that Canada should remain a part of the empire—the people of Canada have something to say as to that—although at one time in his career he was looking forward to the time when Canada should separate from the motherland "as the ripe fruit falls from the parent tree." Sir Wilfrid adopted a naval policy at a time when British sentiment demanded quick and energetic action, that was satisfactory to no one. At the time of the South African war he refused to consider the sending of Canadian troops to South Africa until absolutely forced by Canadian public opinion. He was at this time in Chicago orating about Canadian friendliness with the Americans, a very favorite subject of the premier's.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier may be a patriotic Canadian, but one certainly cannot say that he is an imperial statesman. He is not an empire-builder, though he might be classed, in a certain sense, as a nation-builder. His conception of Canadian destiny is that of a great independent nation, and he would not have Canada a party to any imperial federation scheme that is so dear to the hearts of the people. When Sir Wilfrid adopts this negative attitude toward imperial concert, it would not look so black if he adopted the same sort of an attitude toward the United States. But he is doing his best to drive through the Canadian parliament, and force on the country a deal that substitutes Uncle Sam for John Bull as our chief partner in trade. He is by this deal making it impossible for the empire to bind itself together by trade preferences. He believes that Canadian destiny is not in laying hold with firmer grip on the British connection, but in loosening it by trade alliances, with the United States, with France and with Germany, that tend to exclude Britain.

It is not urged by us or anyone else that Canada should not make commercial arrangements of benefit to herself, when she has the chance. But in many cases more than mere dollars and cents has to be considered. The nation that sinks to the dollars and cents level soon comes to the cent class for good. Canada may be drunk with prosperity, as a prominent Canadian said in London, but to invite Uncle Sam to come in and take what we've got, in our maudlin generosity, is a policy that one would think all good Canadians would object to.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is more Americanized than he is Anglicized, and in the imperial conference he is doing his best to play for the Quebec vote by valiantly guarding our beloved autonomy, even to the extent of refusing to participate in matters of general imperial interest. The spectre of Bourassaism haunts him even in the fogs of London.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Some people say that the eternal question is now, the census man.

Some of the enumerators are quitting. It must be that they feel strongly opposed to taking part in such questionable proceedings.

Embezzlements in the United States and Canada in March amounted to $2,500,000, of which banks and trust companies lost $500,000. Won't someone please put up an electric sign, "Honesty is the best policy." This motto, of course, would stop all population.

The American Banker draws attention to the fact that training in a bank is an invaluable asset in financial life afterwards. The bank clerks need to gain something valuable from their labors to make up for the meagreness of their income.

The census returns can be only approximately correct. There are half a hundred ways in which it will be incomplete, unreliable. Therefore, when we quote the census figures as indicative of how things stand in Canada, we must remember that they are just good guesses, and that's all. Of course this applies to the census of every country of any size.

A few days ago the Grit newspapers authoritatively announced that Mr. Borden was not going to take part in the Nova Scotia election, fearing loss of prestige. Mr. Borden left for Halifax to-day to start a series of meetings in his home province. The Grit newspaper men find it about as easy to guess Mr. Borden's movements as to defend those of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The U.S. authorities have decided not to hold a demonstration by their naval flotilla on the great lakes because it would draw Canadian attention to the violation of the Rush-Bagot treaty. Why this winking at such a flagrant breach of a treaty, anyway? Is the Laurier government prepared to stand for all violations of the treaty because of its friendliness to the Taft administration?

One often hears a remark about how nice it would to be a king, but there are few Canadians at least, who will envy King George during the next three weeks. Being a king calls for a life of hard work and constant attention to ceremonial detail that would make many an ordinary man wish he were a savage on a desert island, where such a thing as red tape was unknown. The humble Canadian who is enjoying life quietly is a happier man than the mighty prince and the powerful potentate. There were never truer words uttered than those of Gray, in his Elegy:

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
All that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave Await like the inevitable hour,
The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

Making Himself Useful.

Persia's former shah appears to be supporting his exile more philosophically than Abdul Hamid. According to the Cri de Paris, he has learned Russian and reads Tolstoy, Dostoievsky and Gorki in the original. He attends some of the lectures at the University of Odessa and has paid his entrance fees to the school of medicine. This branch of study appeals to him most strongly, and he hopes in due course to take a medical degree and even to practice as a doctor should his subjects not recall him to the throne.

Burned to Death.

Winnipeg, June 5.—There was another infant tragedy in Winnipeg on Saturday, the victim being Nelly, the three-year-old daughter of John Stowie, 258 Aberdeen avenue. Along with her brother, two years her senior, she was playing with matches, and her brother having lit a bonfire, she got too close, and her dress caught fire. Her cries were unheeded as there are a great number of children about that neighborhood, the screams sometimes being deafening. A particularly piercing scream made the servant girl run to the door, and she called to the child's father, who made desperate but futile efforts to save the babe's life, though he beat out the flames and sustained serious burns about the hands and arms. Medical aid was summoned and the little one taken to the general hospital, where she died in agony about three hours later.

Rainbow at Midnight.

Emerson, Man., June 5.—Spectacular and extremely weird was a sight witnessed here at midnight, for in the western horizon was distinctly seen a huge rainbow. The sight was witnessed by hundreds. In the evening rain began to fall and later a violent electric storm raged, and as it passed eastward the sky blackened into intensity seldom before seen.

In the west it lightened and a beautiful rainbow, stretching from earth to sky, was seen. It lasted for half an hour and then faded.

Chicago Sweltered Yesterday.

Chicago, June 5.—Chicago sweltered yesterday in which was five degrees the hottest June 4 recorded in this city. The temperature rose to 95.3 degrees, more than one degree higher than the next hottest day of the year in which many heat records have been exceeded. One drowning and a number of heat prostrations were reported.

Following a day of suffering, the mercury dropped suddenly last night, falling 30 degrees to 65 by 9 o'clock.

Automatic Waterworks.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 5.—Supt. Porter of the water works system at Taber, has been released, the council judging there would be no more work, now that the system has been installed and completed.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"S-sh! Don't call me that," warned the other, jumping to his feet.

"No, sah. I don't say dat name no mo'," replied Croup, with an effort restraining his excitement and pleasure. "'Twas your own pa done riz me, sah, an' yo' can trust me clean throo to de bone. I'm Croup, what done knowed yo' was li'l' marse. But what yo' doin' here? 'Tain't safe. Dey das nachally goin' to kill yo', Marse Gene. Honey, yo' must git off'n dis land as quick as yo' kin."

"Thank you for the warning, Croup," said Kirby, offering his hand. "But don't you worry about me. I'm going. Can you get two horses for me? Good! Have them saddled and bring them around on the road."

As the old serving man ambled away Larkin Bunce appeared. The plethoric gambler was thoroughly miserable with his surroundings and had decided to make a last appeal to his partner.

"Praise the Lord," he began earnestly, "that the nigger's given you sense enough to see that you've got to go. You know where you are now, don't you? I heard you askin' for horses. Well, you kite for the river. I'm too fat to keep up, but I'll ketch you later on. Come. We can't get off too soon."

"S-SH! DON'T CALL ME THAT."

"I can't leave until I've seen Miss Randall," replied Kirby, with quiet finality. "I have told her that I would wait for her here."

"Why, you gosh a'mighty idiot!" exploded Bunce. "Don't you know Tom Randall's liable to be here any minute and a posse with him? If I could track you out here from Noo Orleans, he kin, kain't he? Ain't you ever goin' to quit doin' these reckless, fool things? Surely you ain't reached your time of life without knowin' what a woman means when she says 'Wait a minute,' and she didn't even say that. You kain't wait for her, I tell you."

"I'd wait for her till the Lord quit making minutes," replied Kirby. "When she comes I'll go."

Once more Bunce helplessly appealed to an invisible audience for pity, for compassion, at his thus being associated with an utter lunatic.

"You pore lost soul!" he finally groaned. "Do you think I don't know what's the matter with you? I seen you look at her. What business have you got hangin' around a lady, even if you wouldn't git shot for just comin' here? What chance have you got with a lady anyway? Ain't there women enough in the world? You know no lady would have anything to do with our kind. You got no business"—

"I don't hurt her if I only look at her, do I?" snapped Kirby, whirling upon his partner in sudden passion. "My God, if a man's been outside the walls for years you can't blame him for wanting to look at the flowers a minute if he gets into the garden some day. That can't harm them."

"Gene, do you know you're crazy yourself?" sadly pronounced Bunce, with a shake of the head. "They say them loonies do know it sometimes. And a nice, crazy turn you done me, too, tying me up here with folks like these," he added, with vehement reproach as full realization of his many wrongs overcame him. "You know I never had nothin' to say to no ladies, and as soon as I ever see one I choke up, and my neck gets hot and my ears git red. Interduced me as his secretary," again appealing to the invisible audience. "Waugh! Secretary! I'd make a h— of a secretary, wouldn't I? Come on, Gene. Fry yourself loose from all this darn foolishness before it's too late"—

"I've already given you my decision," interrupted Kirby, with some asperity. "But, Larkin, don't let my affairs detain you."

Bunce, after a farewell invocation of the heavens, resigned himself to the inevitable and, seating himself on the garden seat, proceeded to pick his teeth, while he fastened a plaintive and expectant eye on the distant house.

The partners sat in moody silence for some time until at length their reveries were interrupted by the advent of Judge Pleydell, Mr. Randall and M. Veaudry. The judge had but returned from the steamboat landing, and as he approached the occupants of the garden seat his expression was of so serious a character that Bunce, ever on the lookout for trouble, now scented danger and, nudging his companion, jumped to his feet. But Kirby, though wary eyed, remained outwardly cool and entirely self possessed and, embracing this heaven sent opportunity of further aggravating his partner, promptly introduced the latter as "my secretary."

"Colonel Moreau, sir," began the judge, somewhat astonished at the ferocity of Mr. Bunce's bow, "I have the most astonishing piece of news for you. What would you say if I told you that you had no right to be here at all, sir?"

As Pleydell, preserving his stern demeanor, laid a hand on Kirby's shoulder his companions exchanged startled and significant glances, while Mr. Bunce grew apologetic and edged nearer his partner. All eyes were now on Kirby, but his expression of mild surprise and courteous interest never changed.

"Well, I reckon I'd have to say that the joke was on me, judge," he calmly replied.

Pleydell began to laugh.

"Well, sir, according to rumor, you ain't here. According to rumor, you ain't anywhere, because you're dead." To him it was a huge joke, and he roared until the tears mingled with his snowy mustache, all ignorant of the fact that he had propounded a literal truth; ignorant of the fact that his companions were still significantly eying each other and that Mr. Bunce was having exceeding difficulty with his collar. In fact, Kirby was the sole member of the interested audience who appeared to appreciate the full humor of the situation.

"When is my funeral?" he asked, with a smile. "I don't want to miss that."

His composure somewhat recovered; but, still chuckling and occasionally going off into another spasm of laughter, the judge proceeded to explain the manner in which he had gained the interesting information.

"The afternoon steamer does not stop, sir, and I am obliged to row out in a boat to get my letters. The news was shouted to us from the deck as she moved away. All I could catch was the words, 'Colonel Moreau dead,' and I think they added, 'This morning.' The distance was too great for me to secure any further items from that interesting liar, sir."

And, still laughing, Pleydell clapped Kirby on the shoulder, while Mr. Bunce, drawing his first long breath, mutely thanked the Almighty that all guilelessness and innocence had not entirely deserted mankind when the serpent entered Eden.

But it was apparent that Mr. Randall and M. Veaudry owned more discernment and that their quick suspicions, previously aroused, had now become active, pregnant with danger. It so happened that they were now augmented by none other than the General, who would have died rather than wittingly betray his trust. During the judge's discourse the boy had joined the group, seeking out Kirby as his natural companion. Looking at the other's hand and again at his breast, the General suddenly exclaimed: "I know what all those things are that you wear. They're cameos."

"Cameos," exclaimed Aaron under his breath, his eyes returning to those of M. Veaudry.

Meanwhile Adele had been busily preparing for her last mute appeal to Kirby to remain. For the first time since her father's death she discarded mourning and in its place arrayed herself in a treasured evening gown of white satin purchased in Paris before the long shadow had descended upon

"I HAVE THE MOST ASTOUNDING PIECE OF NEWS FOR YOU."

the family fortunes. She was determined to look her best that night and in this feminine maneuver was enthusiastically supported by her aunt and Ann Pleydell, who, if they did not suspect the cause, were entirely happy with the result, for they had long been urging the girl to discard the morbid preoccupation and settled misery which had threatened to sap vitality, embitter life; anxiously sought and hoped for some means of transforming her into the girl she once had been.

Cobwebs in the Morning.

Cobwebs in the head on rising in the morning is the result of a Lazy Liver, one or two mornings in succession and sick headache follows.

Father Morriscy's Liver Pills will clear the Brain.

These Pills are a purely vegetable compound prepared with great care, and are without doubt the very best pills for general use, on the market. The greatest care has been given to selecting the ingredients, and being entirely vegetable, they act upon the liver and bowels in such a manner as not to disturb the other functions of the body as many pills do.

As a Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier and General System Renovator, they are unequalled. Sick headache is invariably brought on by a sluggish liver, constipation or irregular bowels; these pills are a cure for sick headache in any form.

Pimples, eruptions and yellow skin are often caused by a lazy liver; one pill three times a week, will soon clear the complexion.—Price 25c. per box.

British Cattle Markets.

LIVERPOOL, June 3.—John Rogers & Co. cable to-day that the market in Birkenhead was lower, heavy cattle being very hard to sell, and there was a reduction in price of one-quarter to one-half cent per pound, both States and Canadian steers making from 12c to 12 3-4c per pound. The value of sheep was also lower, wethers making 11 1-2c and lambs 13 1-2c per pound.

Big Plant for Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 4.—The report of E. J. Sifton, the electrical expert engaged by the city to formulate a plan and prepare estimates on Hamilton's proposed municipal light and power system, was given out yesterday.

Mr. Sifton's report provides for a complete plant, ready for operation of street, commercial and residence lighting and power supply of 1,000 horsepower at a total cost of $502,878. It is estimated that 3,051 h.p. will be required from the Hydro-Electric Commission. The estimates are based on the city's needs in 1914, when the present contract with the Cataract Company expires.

Forced to Change Main Line.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 4—The Canadian Pacific Railway has a gang of surveyors working between Medicine Hat and Calgary, south of the Bow River, between 30 and 40 miles north of Taber. The engineer in charge intimated that the company is forced to change the main line because of the hard grades, and would probably make the new route the main line, as grades are much better. The new lines would provide railway facilities for a large country south of Bow River, which is rapidly filling with settlers, but at present has no railway.

Treaty Against Germany.

Washington, June 5.—Enquiring whether the proposed British-American arbitration treaty is directed against Germany, Representative Hammill, of New Jersey has introduced a resolution in the House calling upon the Secretary of State for an investigation.

Mr. Hammill bases his demand on the alleged endorsement by United States Consul-General Griffiths at London, of a recent speech by Sir Edward Grey in the British Parliament, in which the latter intimated strongly that such was the aim of the treaty proposed by President Taft. Mr. Hammill characterizes Mr. Griffiths' endorsement as "offensive to the majority of American citizens."

The foreign affairs committee has taken the resolution under consideration.

For the Family
You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.
But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?
By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.
A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

PASSING OF THE OLD BELL

The Whitsuntide Festival observed yesterday in St. John's keeping the birthday of the Christian church, will long be remembered by citizens of Peterborough as the day fixed for the passing of the old bell. For 53 years it has been interwoven with the joys and sorrows of thousands of people, and the few words of Canon Davidson at evensong last night, expressing affection for the old bell, will find an echo in the hearts of many people.

A few minutes before and after service the bell gave out its own passing notes, and before another week passes it will be removed from its old ivy clad home to All Saints' church.

It may be of interest to recall the efforts of Mrs. Hatton and Mr. Campbell who so splendidly worked to place the old bell in St. John's tower. Mrs. Hatton is still with us, but Mr. Campbell passed to his rest not very long ago.

Over twenty years ago the bell was recast by a New York firm, and bears the names of Rev. Canon Davidson, Mr. H. Rush and Mr. G. A. Smith, the latter gentlemen being wardens at the time.

TWO PRINCIPLES OF PURE RELIGION

Charity and Purity But They Must be Real

Rev. R. Pogue's Discourse to the Members of A.O.F.

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this—To visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world." James 1-27.

From the above text, Rev. Robert Pogue, preached a powerful and stimulating sermon last evening in St. Paul's Church, the particular passage of scripture being applicable to the work of the Ancient Order of Foresters who attended the service in a body and for whom the discourse was specially intended.

CHARITY AND PURITY

"Pure religion consists of two great principles, namely charity and purity" said Rev. Mr. Pogue.

"Philosophers and others are divided in opinion as to what really constitutes religion, and the only true definition of it is to be found in the Bible. To some it consists in mere outward conformity and to others the performance of some ritual. Religion is also as the text implies, "To visit the fatherless and the widows, and to keep unspotted from the world." "To perform these acts, is the essence of true religion. We are religious just to the extent that we give ourselves in service to others."

CHARITY MUST BE GENUINE

"In regard to the former, if our charity is not genuine, if there is the least taint of selfishness in our disposition it will be revealed in our attitude towards the fatherless.

"It is one thing to donate $10,000 to some benevolent institution when we are conscious that the fact will be published abroad in all the newspapers but it is an entirely different matter to devote the same amount to the alleviation of the suffering and afflicted when no lips will publish it abroad. Also, it is one thing for a wealthy man to write out his cheque and send it by his coachman to a sufferer, perhaps living in poverty, but it is another thing for him to forsake his warm, wealthy home, and go down personally to the scene of poverty and want."

"It is becoming quite fashionable among society, 'to go slumming,' in ordinary phraseology, but it is mostly done by proxy. To fulfill the teachings of the text, we must visit the afflicted ourselves, out of an innate love for them and a desire to relieve their distress. A man must abandon his pedestal of supposed superiority often to do this, and come down to real life, but it is the only way."

"The man who lives for himself, dies while he lives. Service is best, which is shown to the poor at our doors.

PURITY IS ESSENTIAL

"The second ingredient in religion is purity, to keep unspotted from the world. Charity is necessary, but purity is fully as essential. The two go together. Often a licentious man will be found to be hospitable and charitable. Do not by failing to live out by principles, relieve human distress on one side, and create it on the other."

"How is it possible in this world to keep unspotted and unstained by the world? Where is the man, who has not some stain upon him? There are many who say these stains are inevitable. In the business world they excuse themselves by saying "business is business." Then there are those who become so stained and spotted that they actually glory in, and boast of the stains which they have contracted. They flaunt them as if they were badges of superiority."

Only by strictly guiding our lives in accordance with the two principles laid down in the text, can there be the assurance that we are devotees of pure religion.

Previous to the sermon, Miss Helen Davies sang a beautiful solo in her usual appealing manner.

PIGEONS SET FREE

Left for Long Flight to New Bedford Yesterday Morning

Exactly at five o'clock, Sunday morning, thirty-seven homing pigeons were liberated by Mr. Fred. Skitch from the summit of Armour's Hill, East city, to commence their long flight to New Bedford, Mass. About thrity-five interested spectators were on hand to see the start. The pigeons got away with a splendid start, and after making a few evolutions, took a direct course for their home lofts. In other years when liberated, they experienced considerable difficulty in getting their bearings and went a great distance out of their course, before eventually taking the correct route.

Mr. Skitch sent a message by wire immediately, informing the people in New Bedford, that the birds had commenced their aerial journey. He expects to hear at any time that they they have safely arrived at their destination.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Morphet

One of Peterborough's widely known citizens was called away this afternoon, in the person of Mrs. Edmund Morphet.

The late Mrs. Morphet was born at Barnstable, England, sixty-three years ago and emigrated to Canada at an early age, taking up her residence at Port Hope. She was married to Mr. Edmond Morphet, while in Port Hope, and they came to Peterboro thirty years ago. She made a large number of friends by her kindly disposition. Though practically an invalid for the past few years, she bore her affliction patiently. She has been a valued member of St. John's church, since coming to Peterboro, and an active member on the Women's Auxiliary until her illness.

Besides her husband there are two sons, Herbert W., secretary of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, and Vernon, who is employed in the freight department of the Quaker Oats Co. and one daughter, Mrs. Rev. W. Archibald of Hastings, on the Hudson, N.Y.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Death of Mrs. Girven

The death occurred this morning of Jane Miller, wife of Mr. James Girven, 598 Sherbrooke street, after a lingering illness. Deceased was fifty-five years of age and an active member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Her husband and three daughters survive.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

SCOUTS LEAVE ON THURSDAY

Official Announcement as to Local Selection for Coronation Contingent

The official announcement in regard to the Peterborough repesentatives on the Boy Scout Coronation contingent made to-day is that Norman Layton Paterson, aged seventeen, and the son of Mr. A. W. Paterson, 34 Maitland avenue, and James Reginald Stratton, aged fourteen, son of Mr. A. H. Stratton, Park street, are the two scouts who have earned the enviable honor.

Not everyone can appreciate the difficulty which the local committee has had to face in making the selection, but nevertheless it is backed by the assurance that the Scouts most worthy have been selected.

The Scouts will leave here Thursday morning for Toronto, where with the Ontario contingent, they will be entertained by the Toronto Scouts, and leave in the evening for Montreal from where they sail next Saturday. The personal equipment of each boy, includes among many articles, a Bible.

WHY NE TEMERE DECREE IS WORTH OBJECTING TO

No Set Marriage Ceremony Commanded by Christ Says Rev. Mr. Riddiford

Pope Must Keep His Hands off Country's Civil Affairs

Continuing with his subject of "Is the Ne Temere decree worth objecting to?" Rev. W. C. Riddiford spoke to a very large congregation at Park street Baptist church last night. Rev. Mr. Riddiford held that the decree was false to the teaching of the New Testament, because was there was no set ceremony commanded by Christ. He did not delegate His church and certainly not the Roman Catholic church to alone have power to consummate marriages. The religious nature in a marriage ceremony was there by the consent of the contracting parties, and not by any special command of our Lord. The religious element should not be divorced from the marriage ceremony but at the same time it was not essential to marriage so far as the ceremony is concerned. Marriage was a civil and religious contract.

"What can a celibate priest know about the holy fire of love that lives and thrills the heart of a man who is married to the woman he loves?"

"What right has a priest, or anyone, to enter into a home thus established and charge them with living in sin?"

The decree was false to the natural intuition of the human heart, and to the God ordained institution called home. To love a noble woman, be she Roman Catholic or Protestant, was not only human but divine. God made man and put that intuition there, and if God put it there, no priest or any unprincipled Protestant has a right to step into the Holy of Holies of Love and say, unless you promise me to do so and so, you cannot marry the woman you love.

"The Pope has a perfect right to look after the interests of his children, but he must and will keep his hands off the civil affairs of this country, or know the reason why," said the preacher.

The decree was false to the highest conception of nationhood, he held, because in the ideal nation there were equal rights to all; homes, be they Roman Catholic or Protestant, were equally protected, and no man was allowed to enter any home and say, "The state law is subject to the canon law of my church."

LINDSAY MAN MET DEATH

Received Electric Shock While at Work on Pole

Lindsay, June 4—A fatal accident occurred here on Saturday afternoon, when Mr. John McGillivray, head electrician for the Light, Heat and Power Company, lost his life. He was constructing a new piece of line on Kent Street opposite the Ross Memorial Hospital, and while connecting the new piece with the old, was caught by what is termed "a ground." The unfortunate man was wearing the usual "belt" precaution, but fell backwards and partly down the pole until the belt caught and the body hung suspended. Death was instantaneous.

You cannot expect good work from a furnace unless it is properly installed.

You cannot buy a Furnace like you do a Stove—send it home and have the "Handy-Man" put it up—not if you expect to get all the heat out of your coal.

¶ Your heating system must be planned. The registers must be properly placed. The warm and cold air ducts must be a certain diameter. The furnace must be located in just the right spot—and it must be just the right size. ¶ We supply plans to you absolutely free and you do not need to buy a furnace to get them either.

¶ If you have a heating problem to solve—new building or old—send us a rough diagram of your building, showing the location of doors and windows. ¶ We will prepare for you complete plans and specifications for heating that building, give you an estimate of the cost of the heating system, and also the advice of our experts on every detail.

"Hecla" Furnace

The plan is essential, but it is also essential to have a furnace that will give you ample heat—one that will supply pure, fresh air without a taint of gas, and, for the lady of the house, heat that will be free from dust and smoke.

The "Hecla" is such a furnace.

GET THIS BOOKLET.

"Comfort & Health" tells how you can get heat without gas. It tells how to get the same heat from six tons of coal as you ever got from seven. Write for it to-day. And at the same time ask for any information you may require regarding the heating of your home. 147

DEATH FOLLOWED A BRIEF ILLNESS

Sudden Passing of David Allison —Funeral To-morrow

David Allison, aged 74 years, residing at 887 Water street, was on Saturday afternoon seized with an acute attack of indigestion, which affected his heart, and although medical aid was given him, he passed away within a short time after being taken ill.

Deceased was watchman at the Auburn woollen mills, and left his home about two o'clock Saturday afternoon apparently enjoying the best of health. He took ill suddenly after arriving at the mill. His wife and a physician were immediately summoned, but their attention was of no avail.

The late Mr. Allison was born at Pollock Shaws, Scotland, and came to Canada in the month of October, 1856, going to Bobcaygeon, where he resided twenty-eight years, and was the village constable for some time. For the past seven years he had been employed at the Auburn woollenmills.

Those surviving are his wife, one son Ross; two daughters, Miss Olive, nurse-in-training at Toronto General hospital, and Miss Agnes, at home, and one brother, Mr. A. Allison, the Water street grocer.

The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery.

FORESTERS AT KNOX CHURCH

Large Number Turn out for the Annual Parade

Sunday evening at Knox church was Foresters' night. The several Courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters met at the Court room on Simcoe street and marched to Knox church where they were addressed by Bro. Rev. H. J. Keith. The centre of the church had been reserved for the visiting order, the congregation very kindly giving up their seats for the evening. There was a large congregation and the service was most interesting.

Taking his text from the 15th Psalm Rev. Mr. Keith preached a sermon at once instructive and timely, prefacing the discourse with some words of welcome and pointed out that the fraternal orders, having such objects as defined in Forestry, did and should stand in close association with the church of Jesus Christ. The founders of the order were wise and far-seeing in holding to the principles and guidance of God's word and the Scriptures. It was commendable that the order displayed as its title the word "Canadian." Canada was a great land and would produce a great people, men and women of the highest type. He urged on the members that within the order they endeavor to inculcate ideals of true manhood. Innocence, purity of character and helpfulness would make for the production of men of the highest type of citizenship. He pleaded for a pure language, purity in service, and a hearty helpful service in the home, and in public affairs. Our duty as citizens was that we bend our energies to the bringing up of strong men in all walks of life.

At the conclusion of the service the members returned to the court room where votes of thanks were formally passed to the officials of Knox church and to the pastor for the opportunity and for the helpful service rendered.

OBITUARY

The Late Miss Doherty

Miss Veronica Doherty, the youngest daughter of Mr. John Doherty, 155 Stewart street, passed away this morning about 7.30 o'clock, after a three weeks' illness from spinal meningitis. The late Miss Doherty, who was nineteen years of age, had been a favorite among a large circle of friends and acquaintances, who deeply regret her passing. Previous to her illness, she held a position in Miss Allen's millinery store. Besides her bereaved parents, three sisters, Misses Mary, Erminie and Laura, and one brother, Lorne, are left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

The Late Mary H. Thompson

After four months' illness from nerve and heart trouble, little Mary Helen Thompson, aged 9 years, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Thompson, 107 Hazlitt street, passed away at an early hour this morning.

Deceased was a bright child and very popular with her many friends. She attended East Ward school and was a regular attendant at St. Luke's Sunday school.

Those left to mourn besides her parents, are three brothers, Robert, William and Albert, and one sister, Edna.

The funeral service will be conducted by Rev. F. J. Sawers, at the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, after which the funeral will take place to Little Lake cemetery.

FRIENDS GAVE KITCHEN SHOWER

One of Havelock's Fair Daughters Pleasantly Surprised

Special Correspondence.

Havelock, June 5.—Mrs. Harry Roche, of town, gave a kitchen shower on Wednesday last in honor of Miss Edith Scott, the bride to be. The drawing room was prettily decorated with bridal roses and ferns. The table was also decorated and presided over by Mrs. (Rev.) C. W. Holdsworth, Miss Mabel Sweyer, Miss Minnie McWilliams and Miss Anna Bryans. A wagon was decorated with tissue paper to convey the kitchen utensils and it was drawn by four little girls Miss Cleo Fowler, Maude McGuire, Ailene Wright and Miss Madeline Kindred, who were prettily dressed in white. LINDSAY COLLEGIATE NINE WAS EASY FOR CENTRAL PARK BOYS

Return Game Went 18-5 for the Homesters—Cresswell Fanned Ten.

The Lindsay Collegiate team did not show any real reason in their game with the local Collegians, Saturday afternoon, at Riverside, why they should have defeated the latter by a score of 16-7 in Lindsay, one week previous. Though the visitors got away to a good start in the early stages of the fray, scoring three times in the first innings, they failed to keep up the pace, in fact they appeared to be a very ordinary bunch in comparison with the good work of the homesters. Of course the pitching had a great deal to do with the result. Cresswell, the local dispenser had speed, a variety of shoots and plenty of control, never passing a man during the game, and striking out ten Lindsay braves. "Tubby" Williamson didn't have much the locals couldn't solve, once they got started and he was forced to retire in the eighth in favor of Brown, who didn't have very good control.

HUYCKE'S BATTING

Huycke, the younster who has been such a success as a twirler in the Juvenile League this season, proved himself to be a Ty Cobb with the stick. In five times up, he stung the sphere three times, each for a two bagger, driving a runner home in every occasion.

Though eleven errors marred the local's play, the visitors were credited with seventeen, the most of them being registered when the general blow up came in the seventh and eighth.

J. J. Thompson of the local "Y" umpired satisfactorily to both teams.

PETERBORO' MADE SURE BY A BATTING RALLY IN NINTH

Defeated Port Hope With Surphlis Twirling by Score of 14-8.

The Peterborough Baseball team won its second Midland League game of the season on Saturday afternoon when Manager Quinlan's aggregation invaded Port Hope and carried off the big end of a 14 to 8 score. The statistics indicate that the blue and white team had a comparatively easy victory, but there were moments in which the possibility of a defeat for the Petes refused to stay in the back ground. The visitors got away to a good start and at the end of their half of the fourth were in front 10 to 0. Blake Crawford's bunch determined that the slaughter had gone far enough and they started to get some runs on their own account. They bagged three in the fourth and kept climbing up until the score at the beginning of the ninth was 11 to 8. The Petes however put the game on ice by a batting rally in the ninth which netted them three counters and Port Hope failed to score in their half.

Considering the field it was not a bad game of ball. The Agricultural grounds, where the contest was pulled off, missed by several miles being a real ball yard. Out in the outfield, the hay was half way up to Bill Shaw's neck and the infield, while the alfalfa had been trimmed was rough and uneven, and the career of a grounder was about as uncertain as that of a Cobalt stock. Errors under the circumstances were not as prevalent as might have been expected. The Peterborough infield played steady ball all through considering the handicap they had to work out. The outfield did not have a chance all day. Manager Quinlan did the twirling for the Petes and showed his old time form, fanning fourteen of the Port Hope aggregation, the first six men hitting nothing but the wind, while there was nothing that looked like a hit until the fourth innings. He was given good support behind the bat by Doc. McFadden, who caught in snappy fashion. Murphy did some fine fielding around third base.

A feature of the game was the refuting of the "Can't Come Back" theory by Mr. Ike Walters of Port Hope. Mr. Walters who is the leading brewer of soft drinks in the progressive lakeshore town, wore a Port Hope uniform when most of the present Peterboro team were climbing over the fence at the old P.A.A.A. grounds to see the games. Blake Crawford says he has been playing twenty-five years and Blake should know. Mr. Walters fielded with the agility of a schoolboy around second base, and distinguished himself at the bat as well, by pickling one on Quinlan's drops for a mile a minute hit which resulted in Port Port Hope's first run. Our old college chum, Henry Surphlis, pitched for Port Hope and did not prove the easiest proposition although he was hit freely at times, the Petes bunching their hits nicely. He did not have the old steam but once in a while he smoked a fast one over just to show how good he used to be. Rowden, who used to play the outfield several years ago was at third base for Port Hope, and did some fine fielding around the difficult station. Hudson in left field, tore off several pretty catches, getting a long foul fly in spectacular fashion.

Mr. Shaw of the Petes, was the central figure in a somewhat unusual episode. In the second innings he dropped a Texas Leaguer into the long grass behind second base. Mr. Walters was seen to hie himself in that direction and than dig frantically in the hay. Mr. Shaw, remembering the years Mr. Walters has been in the game, hovered thoughtfully around first for a while, figuring the veteran might be trying to put one across on him. Finally, however, as the right and centre fielders came into the hunt, too, Mr. Shaw proceeded to circumvent the bases in his usual speedy fashion and had aviated home before the lost ball was discovered. Whereupon the fans in the grand stand were loud in their demands to the management that some tonsorial operations be performed upon the field.

Murphy O'Hearne and Shaw were the big noise with the stick for Petes, all three banging the ball for fair, although the others managed to bite a few themselves. The Petes score would have been larger had it not been for taking too many chances on the bases, several opportunities to score being spoiled by too much of the Ty Cobb stuff. However, they won by a comfortable margin.

A good crowd of fans saw the game and rooted vigorously when Port Hope started to close the gap although the 10 to 0 lead had taken a lot gimp out of the grandstand occupants.

Weeks, of Bowmanville umpired the game. He had a lot of close decisions and neither team seemed satisfied.

The teams were as follows:

Port Hope—Rowden, 3b; Thompson, c; Walters, 2b; Hudson, lf; Surphlis, p; Mall, df; Carmichael, ss; Secord, rf; Borland, 1b.

Peterborough—Murphy, 3b; Shaw, lf; O'Hearne, 2b; M. O'Brien, 1b; Quinlan, p; Rahmel, ss; Wettlauffer, ss; McFadden, c; Craig, rf; W. O'Brien, cf.

ST. JOHN'S WON HARD FOUGHT GAME

Only Church League Football Contest Had 2-1 Score

All Saints' and Park Street Play To-night

Amid scenes of great enthusiasm, the return match between St. James and St John's, was played on Saturday afternoon. Since the sensational defeat of the Y.M.C.A. by St. John's this match had been [illegible] about, and a record crowd assembled on St. John's ground to witness it. The best game of the season, was the popular verdict at the close, of a hard fought game. Cheers were frequently given by supporters of both clubs. One continually heard, "Play up St. Johns," "Play up St. James," and play up they certainly did. It was evident all through that St. John's were the stronger team, but they had to fight hard indeed. At half-time each team had scored one goal and it looked like a draw until about 15 minutes to time when St. Johns scored the winning gaol. Result, St. John's 2, St. James' 1.

St. John's line up was.
Goal—Doody.
Backs—Gamble, Gregory.
Halves—Smith, Simmonite, Renshaw.
Forwards—Sharman, Edwards, Copson, Stewart, Hancox.

The next game in the Church League will be between All Saints, the Church League leaders, and Park St., on Monday night at the latters' grounds.

On Thursday next, St. John's play their return game with Cold Springs.

...is hair green?"

"Precisely. In those copper districts where the ore is of a low grade it is roasted in open furnaces to refine it and make it more marketable. A gas emanates from the furnaces that turns the firemen's hair a bright green, this arsenic green that the firemen's hair takes on.

"So if you ever see a man with green hair you can say, a la Sherlock Holmes:

THE CLANRICARDE PLAQUE.

A Famous Specimen of the Sixteenth Century Goldsmith's Art.

One of the greatest cinquecento jewels in the world is the Clanricarde plaque, owned by Lord Clanricarde, who is known as the "hermit peer" and who claims direct descent from the kings of Connaught. He guards with jealous care this precious example of the goldsmith's art, keeping it safe from possible thieves and the common gaze in a bank vault, to which he goes occasionally with great secrecy to feast his eyes upon its magnificence. Some years ago, by royal request, he lent it to an art exhibition in London, where it was admired and coveted by some of the greatest connoisseurs of Europe.

The huge disk is as delicately wrought as a spider's web and represents the figure of Hercules wielding a diamond sword. The sword blade is composed of a mass of perfectly matched steel white stones, and a superb blue diamond scintillates from the hilt. The present owner inherited it from his mother, who was a Miss Canning before her marriage to the Irish lord, and the plaque is practically priceless. Aside from its value to collectors and its worth as a specimen of rare and exquisite art, it is incrusted with a fortune in jewels.—New York Press.

"Clipping Sunday."

At Painswick, in Gloucestershire, the Sunday following Sept. 8 is called by the curious name of "Clipping Sunday" and connected with a quaint custom. In the churchyard are ninety-nine yew trees, and tradition says that all attempts to complete the hundred by planting another yew have failed becomes the newcomer invariably dies. Every year before the feast of the Nativity of Our Lady—Sept. 8—these mystic yews are clipped, and the Sunday "in the octave" thus becomes "Clipping Sunday." After service there is a procession of parishioners around the churchyard, and then all join hands and form a ring round the church. Finally they gather at the foot of a flight of steps leading to the chancel door, from which a sermon is preached.—London Chronicle.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders, and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

TELESCOPE LENSES.

The Small Glass Magnifies the Picture Made by the Large One.

People sometimes wonder why a telescope has two glasses, one at the big end and one at the little end, and they want to know the difference. The glass at the big end is to gather light. It is simply a big eye. If it is a hundred times bigger than the eye in your head it will gather a hundred times more light. It gathers the rays of light coming from a star and bends them all into a common meeting point called a focus, which is a picture of the star. You can look at this picture of the star with your naked eye if you like. But you can see it better and examine it more closely if you look at it with a small magnifying glass. And this is the glass at the small end of the telescope. It magnifies the picture made by the big glass at the other end of the instrument. All telescopes are built on this principle. Sir William Herschel was the first to arrange matters a little differently. He took away the glass from the big end and admitted the rays coming straight into the tube in parallel lines. Then at the bottom of the big tube he placed a bright concave mirror made of burnished metal. When the entering rays fell upon this mirror they were again bent to a point called a focus, which was the picture of the star. To look at this picture he had to place the little magnifying glass at the side of the tube because the mirror had stopped up its lower end. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Something Blind.

In one of the crowded streets of New York a beggar was in the habit of taking his stand every day and appealing to the charity of the passersby. By means of a short string he held a dog, around the neck of which a card was fastened with the words, "I Am Blind." A very kind old gentleman, who had been in the habit of dropping a penny into the beggar's hat, passed rapidly one morning without doing so. Instantly the beggar rushed after him and asked for the penny to be given, as usual. The gentleman, turning in surprise, said:

"Why, I thought you were blind?"

"Oh, no, sir!" was the cool reply. "It is the dog that is blind, as the card says."

Why a Horse Rolls.

Horses are fond of rolling on the ground, and no animal more thoroughly shakes itself than they do. After a roll they give themselves a shake or two to remove anything adhering to the coat. The habit is of much service to horses living in open plains. On being turned loose at the end of a journey an Arab horse rolls in the sand, which acts as blotting paper, absorbing exudations from the body. A shake removes the sand, and the coat soon dries. Cavalrymen in hot climates sometimes put sand on their horses as the simplest and quickest way of drying them.—Selborne Magazine.

Untainted.

Tempted by an offer of considerably more than the property had cost him, Mr. Kreezus, who counted his wealth in millions, had parted with his suburban villa.

"You didn't need the money," said his disgusted business partner, who had just heard of the transaction, "yet for a little filthy lucre you sold that beautiful home."

"I didn't!" exclaimed the equally indignant Mr. Kreezus. "I sold it for clean cash!"—Youth's Companion.

Bell Tones.

The peculiar magic in the tones of a bell is due to its striking not a single note, but a chord, and to obtain the perfect octave entails an immense amount of calculation as well as skill. The bell caster, therefore, has to be not a mere mechanic, but a highly trained specialist.

A GREAT NATION IN COURSE OF BUILDING

BY CY WARMAN

NOT many of your readers will remember that the original charter gave the Canadian Pacific Railway an absolute monopoly in Western Canada. In those dark days statesmen floundered under the fallacy that contact with the Republic would dislodge the loyalty and strain the patriotism of the people of Canada. And so the law provided that the Canadian Pacific must build no branch lines pointing in a south-easterly direction from the main line, and that if it should seem advisable to build in a south-westerly direction, such projected line must not build nearer than fifteen miles to that invisible line that marks the meeting of the American Republic with the Dominion of Canada. It was a long way from Winnipeg to Montreal, then, as now, the commercial metropolis of the Dominion, and yet the people of the West were not allowed to bridge the fifteen mile strip of silence which separated them from their neighbors, with whom they wished to trade, and who wished to trade with Canada. For seven years they suffered these things to be. During these seven years a bitter resentment developed in the West against the Dominion Government. It grew as the years dragged by, and finally found expression in a desire to be annexed to the United States. It is difficult to imagine what might have happened if conditions had not changed, but what followed the change is worth noting here. Perhaps the change would not have come so soon, if at all, had it not been for the heroic treatment applied by the West. In what might be called open defiance of the national Government, the Province of Manitoba undertook to build a line bridging the neutral strip. This brought the Province and the people thereof into conflict with the Railway Company, backed by the Dominion authorities. Finally, by arranging for the loan to the Railway of some millions of dollars, the Government arranged for the repeal of the monopoly clause in the railway charter, and immediately Western Canada and the Western States began to trade and traffic with each other, as neighboring nations should.

Here we come to the interesting part of the story. Instead of Western Canada slumping over into the arms of Uncle Sam, all sentiment in favor of annexation ceased. Instead of injuring the railway which was pioneering in the West, this communication with the Western States worked great benefit to that railway. From that day to this the best class of settlers settling in the West, the best class of settlers that ever settled in a new country, have come and are still coming from the Western States. Instead of injuring Montreal and Toronto, the removal of these railway restrictions made possible a more rapid settlement and development in the West, and therefor made more business for the Eastern mills and manufactories.

What was good for Canada at that time is good for Canada to-day. Enlargement of the market, greater and better transportation facilities are all good for Canada. By the extension of its line from St. Paul to Chicago, from the southern British Columbian boundary to a Pacific port at Portland, the Canadian Pacific is now able to take traffic from Chicago and carry it for hundreds of miles through Canada before delivering it at Portland, Oregon. That is better for Canada than letting the traffic flow East and West through the Western States. Away across at the eastern edge of the continent the Grand Trunk has a terminal at Portland, Maine. Thousands of settlers seeking homes in the Western States are carried through Canada from Portland to Chicago. Export beef, which might go directly East from Chicago and down to the sea in ships sailing from New York, is captured by the traffic scouts of the Grand Trunk, carried across Canada, to be shipped from Portland, Maine. This traffic uses Canadian cars and car-hands, and even the earnings on the two alien ends of the Grand Trunk filter through the banks of Montreal, and finally lodge in London for the benefit of the owners of the road.

The Grand Trunk controls the Central Vermont system, reaching to the Atlantic at New London, Conn. Over this line freight from New York is carried to the Grand Trunk proper and by that road to the West. All this, as argued above, is good for Canada, therefore it is difficult to understand the logic of those disaffected souls who argue that the extension of the Central Vermont a little further into the manufacturing centres of New England will injure Canada. Just the reverse of that is true. Every car-load of freight from the eastern mills to the Western States, and every shipment from the Western fields to the Atlantic seaboard passing through Canada, contributes so much to the prosperity of Canada. And this is revenue that could not come to Canadian lines unless they were in a position to command it, to find it, ferret it out, and secure it. Its just so much extra—like money from your wife's people.

By the extension of the Central Vermont Railway some sixty miles from Palmer, Mass., to Providence, R.I., the Grand Trunk will secure the benefit of direct connection with the busiest manufacturing section on the American Continent. Along this short line there are great industries, employing hundreds of thousands of men and women, and at the terminus there is a city which, with its suburbs and environments, holds almost half a million souls. To one whose vision is not twisted by political prejudices and perverted patriotism, it would seem the greatest folly to neglect an opportunity to reach so rich a traffic field as will be touched by this Providence extension of the Central Vermont Railway. If this Reciprocity pact shall pass, and if it works the wonders its friends believe it will work, the Western fields will, within a few years, be furnishing traffic sufficient to keep all our railways busy, and all our ocean ports busy as well. Out there in the wind-fanned West experts tell us there are seventy million acres of wheat land and less than seven million under crop. Multiply this cultivated area by four, and think what that will mean in millions of bushels of wheat, and still we would have less than fifty per cent. of our wheat-fields broken. There is every indication that more settlers will come, more homes be made, and more new fields furrowed this year than in any year in the past. Three years more should see two more Canadian transcontinental railways, and from that day forward the development will be so rapid, the volume of business so great, that all the railways will be busy taking care of the business which comes to them. If certain things happen that are now on the horizon, Canada, her people, and her railways will be too busy to worry over little things—building a nation.

CONVENTIONS IN MUSIC.

Rules Which Song Composers Seem to Feel They Must Follow.

Why is it that all our musicians in writing a nautical song invariably use a portion of the best known hornpipe as the introduction, "vamp," or counter-melody? Why do the open fifths in the bass always appear in rustic songs? Because it can't be helped, it seems. Our popular Irish songs always have a bar or two of a well known old Irish melody or a drone bass, otherwise they wouldn't be Irish. The exhausted old Turkey and his partner, the straw, come to the rescue of every "rube" song or dance that is perpetrated, and our national airs must run all through the accompaniment of patriotic songs to give them "flavor."

Because all of these things are "set" they are conventions. Why must every song end on the tonic note, with the preceding tone either the second or seventh of the scale, unless we except the detestable third or the hollow fifth? Because our audiences expect it.

Should one of your composers in a moment of bravery or recklessness produce a score in which he disregarded these many conventions his first night hearers would go away remarking that the music was crazy. They do not realize that they expect to hear the same old thing, served up a trifle differently, of course, but still the same.—From "Where Have I Heard That Tune Before?" in Metropolitan Magazine.

Four men accused of assaulting Secretary Roberts, of the Dominion Alliance, during a raid on a Montreal dance hall were acquitted.

He Was Just Thinking.

"Mary," said a man to his spouse, who was gifted with a rapidly moving tongue, "did you ever hear the story of the precious gems?"

"No," she replied. "What is it?"

"It's a fairy legend that my grandmother told me when I was a boy," the husband continued. "It was about a woman from whose lips fell a diamond or a ruby at every word she spoke."

"Well?" said his wife as he pause.

"That's all there is of it, my dear," he replied. "But I was just thinking if such things happened nowadays I could make my fortune as a jeweler."

Love of Trees.

We find our most soothing companionship in trees among which we have lived, some of which we ourselves may have planted. We lean against them, and they never betray our trust, they shield us from the sun and from the rain, their spring welcome is a new birth which never loses its freshness, they lay their beautiful robes at our feet in autumn; in winter they stand and wait, emblems of patience and of truth, for they hide nothing, not even the little leaf buds which hint to us of hope, the last element in their triple symbolism.—Dr. O. W. Holmes.

Until 1870 it was against the law and sacred custom for any subject to look at the emperor of Japan. His political advisers and attendants saw only his back. When he first left the palace the shutters of all the houses had to be drawn, and no one was permitted in the streets. Even today, when the emperor has the privilege of driving through the streets like one of his subjects, it is not considered quite proper to cast a glance at him.

CAMELS OF THE ARABS.

Various Ways the Desert Nomads Use the Animals' Milk.

Nearly 90,000 camels are used in the vilayet of Bagdad as beasts of burden, and with donkeys they form the only means of carrying goods to inland points. For a common burden camel $30 is a fair price, though the trotters, or swift messenger camels, are worth more. A young camel can sometimes be had about Bagdad for as little as $3 or $4.

Besides its use for riding and carrying purposes, the Mesopotamian Arabs depend on the camel for milk. Shoes are made from its tough, calloused hide, and in times of famine its brittle, strong tasting flesh is eaten. Condensed milk, made by boiling fresh camel milk until evaporation leaves only a hard, chalky substance, is prized among the desert nomads. By rubbing this substance between the hands it reduces to powder, and when mixed with warm water it makes a refreshing drink, highly esteemed among the desert folk. "Mereesy," as it is called, will keep in good condition for two years. When made from buttermilk it tastes sour and is prized among Arabs who have eaten much of sweet dates. Fresh, warm camel milk is also the food of many valuable horses owned by desert sheiks.

Camel calves are weaned in their eleventh or twelfth month. When a camel caravan is on the march the very young camels are often tied upon the backs of the mother animal, since they cannot endure the fatigue of a long march. Valuable dogs and Arab desert hounds, called "slugeys," also ride in the same way.—Chicago Record-Herald.

VIENNA DEATH NOTICES.

They Read Like an Extract From a Family History.

"Don't die in Vienna. You'll be sorry if you do," writes an American on his first visit to that city, "not because of the usual objections, but on account of the death notices in the papers. They appear flanked by all sorts of ads. and range in size according to the desire for notice on the part of the family of the late lamented. Every possible title is mentioned, and the name of every member of the family goes to make up the notice. A death announcement black bordered and covering half a page of the paper is nothing unusual. Here is a sample:

"'Bruno Weiss, purveyor of lubricating oil to his imperial and royal majesty, and his wife, Amalie—born Horsitzky—in their own and in the names of their children—Hans, Otto, Minna, Laura and Hilde—and their sons-in-law, Military Surgeon Dr. Lois Krobinsky and Architect Oskar Jellinek; their daughters-in-law, Louise, born Lederman, and Marie, born Anspacker, as also in the names of their grandchildren'—here follows a long string of names—'and their mother and mother-in-law, Frau Ernestine Winkler, relict of Commercial Councilor Anton Winkler, announce to their friends the entrance into eternal rest, after a long and severe illness, of their dearly beloved son, Arthur, in the twenty-sixth year of his age.'

"This is correct except as to the names."—New York Tribune.

Our Semi-annual

Dress Goods Sale

Wednesday and Thursday

June 7th and 8th

Many inquiries have come to us relative to our Semi-annual June Dress Goods Sale. Will we hold it same as in the past? When will it be? Will it afford ample opportunity to shoppers? To all these we say YES: On each occasion the volume of business we have done has increased. Each sale has out-distanced its predecessor. The reason for this success is easily found in the sterling character of the goods offered, every yard measuring up to the R. F. & Co. standard of quality; the absolute reliability attached to the sale, and the permanent impression the marked reductions have made with our customers. It is therefore with pleasure that we announce that our Semi-annual June Sale of Dress Goods and Suitings will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, June 7th and 8th, the sale commencing at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, and not before.

This magnificent offering will, as on former occasions, be divided into two lots, as follows:—

LOT NO. ONE

Embraces all wool black and colored French Broadcloths, Sedan Cloths, Venetians, Bedford Cords, Panamas, Eoliennes, San Toys, French Twills, Plain Voiles, Fancy Voiles, Empire Twills, Granite Cloth, Melrose Cloth, Silk Warps and Eudora Cloths, that formerly sold at from 85c to $1.50 per yard. THISTLES DEFEAT MAPLE LEAVES

Plenty of Hitting in Juvenile League Score 18-4

While the Peterborough and Lindsay Collegiate teams were hammering the pill all over Riverside park Saturday afternoon, the Thistles and Maple Leaves, of the city juvenile league, were doing likewise at the Oval. The Thistles won 18—4. For the lovers of baseball who like to see a slugging match, these two games were made to order. The Thistles in the juvenile league have won all their games so far and look somewhat like the league winners, although there are several hard games yet to play. The Maple Leaves meeting this team first ran up against a tough proposition and may do better as the season advances. The Maple Leaves have a good fielding team and should win most of their games if they can get their battery eye working. The Thistles hit very hard and often. The feature of the game was Moran's batting, hitting safe four times up.

Batteries—Thistles, Lees and Cavanagh.

Leaves—Bain, McIlmoyle and O'-Heron.

Umpire—"Pete" Weatherstone.

Games this week are:

June 6.—Lights at Thistles 6.30.
June 8.—Tecumsehs at Lights, 6.30.
June 9.—Midgets at Tecumsehs, 4.30
June 10.—Leaves at Mid., 2.30.

FRUIT MEN MERGE.

Combine Is Mooted With Capital of $12,000,000.

New York, June 5.—It is understood that arrangements have been practically perfected looking to the consolidation of the Atlantic Fruit Co., the Central American Growers & Transportation Co., J. Simon & Co., of Sama; the Simon Fruit Co. and other fruit and steamship concerns, in which Joseph Di Giorgio and associates are interested.

To this end a new company is in process of formation, which will have a total authorized capital stock of $12,000,000. An issue of $5,000,000 bonds is also contemplated to acquire additional banana lands.

Mr. Di Giorgio will head the new combination, the title of which, it is said, will be the Atlantic Fruit & Steamship Co., with headquarters in this city.

As a result of the consolidation the company will own a line of steamers, which will be increased from time to time, according to the needs of the company. New York and Baltimore capitalists are understood to be associated with the new enterprise. Permanent organization is likely to be perfected in the early future.

Will Fly to Turin.

Rome, June 5.—There is some talk of abandoning the last leg of the Paris-Rome-Turin race, owing to the difficulty in finding appropriate landing places in the Apennines. Beaumont, however, declares that he will make the flight to Turin, whether or not that portion of the race is officially eliminated.

According to the rules, the start from Rome may be made any time before June 10 for the Rome-Turin section of the contest. Beaumont is in good condition for this flight, but Garros is still suffering severely from the injuries to his right shoulder. Vedrine, the winner of the Paris-Madrid race, has sent a message from the French capital saying that he hopes to fly to Rome, and that he expects to accomplish this flight in one day. He would then be ready to take part in the contest from Rome to Turin.

Former Stayner Man Dead In West.

Manitou, Man., June 5.—There died early yesterday morning at his farm home near here, Dr. Young, aged 64. Deceased was one of the early settlers in this part. He was born in Ontario, where he taught school previous to graduating in veterinary science, which he practiced for some years at Stayner before coming west.

About 150 men at the Wilbur (Ont.) iron mine are reported to have demanded increased wages.

CENSUS AND SENTENCES

How the Count Will be Conducted In Prison—Disappointment for Convicts

For weeks after the census is over and done with (so far as the public is concerned), quite a number of His Majesty's subjects will entertain hopes thereon, foredoomed to particularly doleful disappointment.

The individuals referred to are the prisoners in the jails, who this year, as in 1901, will mostly remember the function with regret.

Why? the reader will naturally wonder.

Well, this is Coronation year, and 1901, when the last census was taken, happened to be the year of Queen Victoria's death and King Edward's accession to the throne. And, to cut things short, when in 1901 thousands of prisoners were interrogated in respect of census particulars, they thought they were going to receive remission of their sentences on account of the accession—and guessed wrong. And the same thing is happening this year.

Preparing the Papers

At the present moment, in every prison in the kingdom there are men and women joyfully nursing hopes of early release, simply through getting the census and the Coronation mixed up. This will explain:

In prison, preparations for the "papers" begins some days before the auspicious Sunday. Every prisoner is brought before the governor or his deputy, and interrogated on any personal particular required for "filling in." Of course, prisoners due for discharge before the day of enumeration are not included, as these will be sleeping elsewhere on the all-important night. The rest, brought from their cells in batches, and interviewed individually, wonder what it is all about. The warders are dumb on the matter; while among the multitude of speculations indulged in by the prisoners themselves, the census is perhaps the only thing that goes unthought of.

Presently some wideawake one suggests that the proceedings can have reference to nothing else than remission of sentences.

"Coronation, you know," he whispers oracularly. And that is enough. He is not the only one struck by the notion; others have it, the news spreads like wildfire, and presently half the prison is on a pinnacle of expectancy regarding early release.

Then, oh, the awakening!

Doubt Displaces Dreams

The days pass, and anticipations do not realize. Doubt displaces dreams, though hope does not die out yet awhile. By the irony of Fate, it is a "decent" warder who extinguishes the last spark. The other sort is not approachable by the prisoner.

"How much are we going to get off?" the latter anxiously inquires.

"Off what?" the officer asks in turn.

"Off our sentences—for the Coronation."

The "screw" smiles, and shakes his head.

"Nothing, that I know of," he replies; and either stops further questioning by ordering silence, or getting away from his interrogator. He knows quite well what has given the prisoner the notion, but discipline forbids the dispelling of it.

However, enlightenment comes sooner or later—sooner should a better informed comrade mention "Census," later when it becomes a question of sentence—served out in the usual way.

And it is just this last "sentence" that, in another way, thousands of prisoners are at the present moment pathetically pondering. But these do not incluude the old birds who were similarly "had" in 1901. They remember.

UNIQUE COLLECTION

King George Has a Great Variety of British Stamps

Talking of British stamps, the fact is not generally known that King George, who has made a hobby of stamp collecting for many years past, has an absolutely complete collection of British stamps. This no other collector can boast. It is probably the richest aggregation of rarities in the world, and His Majesty, with only one or two exceptions, has everything in both used and unused condition. And amongst his collection, it might be mentioned, is the twopenny "Post Office" Mauritius, which realized the highest recorded price—viz., $7,250—ever paid for a stamp. This stamp was purchased at "Puttick's" by an agent who bought to the King's order—or, rather, to the order of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, as he then was.

MAN'S TEETH ARE NOT LIKE MONKEY'S

Anthropologist Shows the Darwinian Theory to be False

Toronto, June 5.—Mankind can no longer congratulate or commiserate itself on evolution from the monkey. Dental research has shown that the monkey is of recent, if not of more recent origin, than mankind. This was explained to the members of the Ontario Dental Association last evening by Dr. Hordlicha, who is the anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institute of the United States National Museum at Washington. The evolution of the human tooth is ascribed by Dr. Hordlicha to a change in diet away back in the remote ages. The primitive being having multiplied beyond the sustaining power of his environment, branches of the family had to seek "fresh woods and pastures new," where conditions were different and food dissimilar. Then it was that the jaw began to change its form. The human tooth, being nothing but a natural tool, developed in the first place to fulfill the organic function of mastication, and when the nature of mankind's sustenance changed, and hard substances had no longer to be ground, in fact when man first began to eat grain, the canine tooth grew smaller and the molars followed suit.

WHEN MAN WAS CHINLESS

Primitive man had no chin. This was not a sign of low intelligence, but rather that his teeth were large and his dental arch broad. When the teeth grew smaller the dental arch receded, and as a result a chin formed. This may be seen at the present day in aged people; the dental arch recedes in old age, and the chin in consequence protrudes to a greater extent.

As the human race proceeds, Dr. Hordlicha predicts that the teeth will become smaller and more irregular; in fact at the present day in the cultured classes tooth space is perceptibly smaller, and the teeth more irregular. As time rolls on a man may exist almost, if not quite, toothless. Then the shape of his skull will change, enlarging laterally.

ELIMINATION OF WISDOM TEETH.

One sign of civilization is the elimination or partial elimination of wisdom teeth. In skeletons found in ancient Egypt and in Yucatana the wisdom tooth is missing, therefore it may be put fordward that these peoples attained a civilization as great as that of the present day, and also that they were a grain-eating nation.

In skeletons discovered in Yucatan teeth have been found which have been inlaid with cut stone, and even gold, thus allaying the ravages of decay, showing that dentistry existed far back in the ages.

COMEDY GAME AT HAVELOCK

Locals Had to Run From Field to Catch Train

There was plenty of comedy stunts for the small crowd which attended the Midland League football game at Havelock Saturday when the C.G.E. were the visitors. Neither team managed to put the ball between the goals. The first half was easily contested with close shots coming from each team, but the champions had the better of the battle after the breathing spell. The second half was, however, short-lived as two footballs were punctured and the train arrived with the players on the field. The locals carrying one of their injured players, made for the station and managed to connect with the train in time. One of Havelock players was also injured. Ernie Brumwell, refereed.

Protest Against Cruelty.

London, June 5.—The British Government's invitation to Morocco to send a special ambassador to the coronation of King George has been withdrawn and the Foreign Office has notified El Mokri, who had been designated to represent Sultan Mulahifad, that he will not be received.

This action on the part of the British Government was brought about by the cruelty with which the Sultan's troops treated women and children during the recent raid from Fez. The soldiers captured many women and girls in the neighboring villages and sold them on the streets of Fez.

Paterson Will Not Go West.

Ottawa, June 5.—Hon. Wm. Paterson, who had his trunk packed for a western trip to offset the Borden tour, isn't going.

The Minister of Customs was billed to go west with Hon. Frank Oliver to discuss the duties on biscuits and other commodites with the grain growers. Just what happened to these arrangements nobody seems to know, but it is announced that the team is unbroken, that Mr. Oliver will go west alone, and that Mr. Paterson will do his talking in Ontario.

SIR WILFRID WANTS RIGHT TO WITHDRAW FROM TREATIES

If Any Imperial Agreements Don't Suit, He Would Have Canada Get Out—Will Make Motion to This Effect at the Conference.

London, June 6.—According to the delayed report of the conclusion of Friday's proceedings at the Imperial Conference Premier Fisher moved that it was advisable in the interest of the United Kingdom and the dominions that efforts in favor of British manufacturers' goods and shipping be supported as far as practicable. He pointed out that other countries assisted their shipping in its competition with other shipping, both by subventions and contributions from the national exchequer.

Hon. G. F. Pearce, Australian Minister of Defence, said that the principal difficulty was in regard to certain treaties which were in the main with small countries. If the dominions by legislation desired to assist British shipping in the only way open to them, the United Kingdom might very well consider the advisability of denouncing the provisions which stood in the way of such action.

Rt. Hon. Sidney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade, said that the matter had been considered and the conclusion come to was that in the interest of British shipping all the world over the renunciation of parts of certain treaties might be undertaken if the end justified the means. It was not merely a question of denouncing treaties of trade elsewhere, which might be seriously adversely affected.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said treaties had to deal with were more those in existence long before the dominions had reached their present position, and were negotiated from the view-point of Great Britain. [illegible] cent years the Home Government had adopted the principle of not including the self-governing dominions in commercial treaties without first obtaining their consent. With a view to the matter being considered he would at a subsequent meeting move that the Home Government be requested to open negotiations with several foreign Governments having treaties which apply to the dominions with a view to securing liberty for the dominions which may desire to withdraw from such treaties without impairing them in respect to the rest of the Empire. Further consideration of the resolution was postponed until the sixteenth instant.

Premier Fisher moved that it was desirable that the attention of the Governments of the colonies be called to the state of navigation laws in the Empire and other countries, with a view to securing uniformity of treatment for British shipping and prevent unfair competition by foreign subsidized ships, to secure for British ships equal trading advantages with foreign ships to promate the employment of British seamen on British ships, raised their status and improve their conditions.

Rt. Hon. Sidney Buxton said that the Government would accept the resolution provided it read: "That it is desirable that the attention of the Governments of the United Kingdom and the dominions should be called to the desirability of taking effectual steps to secure, etc." As amended the resolution was unanimously carried.

It Cost Money Last Time.

Montreal, June 6.—That the Automobile Club would not undertake to finance another aviation meet was the statement made yesterday morning by A. George McNamee, secretary of the club.

The Automobile Club has received a communication from the Curtis Aeroplane Co. of New York, "which contemplates the extension of their aeroplane sales business, as well as exhibition rights, to this country."

Mr. McNamee went on to explain that the losses came through the big fees paid to the aviators. "They were worth it," he said, "and I do not mean that we were not perfectly satisfied, but $12,000 to one man, $10,000 to another, and $4,000, $5,000, etc. to others, represented a lot of money."

Autos In Manitoba.

Winnipeg, June 6.—Registrations of automobiles in Manitoba so far this year number 2,155, of which 1,091 are in Winnipeg. Several others have not yet registered. It is estimated that investments in automobiles in the province amount to about five million dollars.

Prisoner Jumped From Train.

Brockville, June 6.—Robert Dowell of Metcalfe, in charge of a man named William Blanchard, who he was deporting, reports to the police that his charge escaped from his custody near Brockville yesterday, by jumping from a train.

Confessed to Accepting Bribe.

Columbus, O., June 6.—A member of the Legislature, Owen J. Evans, confessed in open court yesterday that he had accepted a bribe, and declared his willingness to go before the grand jury and make a clean breast of all his knowledgt concerning alleged legislative corruption.

Russo-Chinese Treaty.

St. Petersburg, June 4.—Advices from Pekin say that China contemplates a revision of the Russo-Chinese treaty of 1881, which expires in August, unless it is renewed.

The ultimatum issued recently by Russia with regard to the interpretation of the treaty was based on the supposition that China would leave the treaty intact, inasmuch as revision would open up great difficulties and involve the long-standing Russian privileges, such as the exclusive right to navigate on the Sungare and exclusive trade in Mongolia. A revision of the treaty would involve new rights, which Japan would be certain to demand for herself, as Japan is far more active commercially and diplomatically than this country.

Russia considered that China had less to lose by renewing the Russian privileges intact than by curtailing them, but the Chinese plans cannot be carried out without provoking anew the question of the re-occupation of Kulja, as a Russo-Chinese treaty cannot be considered without reference to the events of 1881.

LONDON CONFERENCE RISES AS A MAN TO CONDEMN DECREE

Methodists Sing God Save the King After Passing Strong Resolution.

Stratford, June 6.—The London Conference rose to a man yesterday afternoon when a resolution, moved by Rev. Dr. Whiting of London and Mr. Ezra Hunt, condemning the ne temere decree, was put. Then the big gathering broke into "God Save the King" and applauded tumultuously. There was no mistaking the spirit of the conference as being a unit in favor of the strong resolution, it being insisted that "Roman" be placed before "Catholic," an omission in the original resolution.

The resolution was as follows:—"The ne temere decree of the Church of Rome is a matter of vital interest to the inhabitants of this Dominion. We accede the right of any Church to make what ecclesiastical laws it deems prudent for the members of its own communion. We affirm our belief in the sacredness of marriage and abhor the numerous pretexts for its dissolution. We agree that mixed marriages between Roman Catholics and Protestants are to be discouraged, as producing neglect of individual and family religion, but for this Dominion or any province of this Dominion to confirm by Parliamentary statute the ecclesiastical enactment of the ne temere decree is a yoke as impossible to be borne by the citizens of this Dominion as any yoke from which liberty has obtained freedom in the course of human progress. We declare that the alleged right of the Roman Catholic Church above any other Church to determine who shall legally perform the right of marriage for any person has our utmost resistance, and that we will resist it with unalterable determination until one equal law for all prevails throughout this country. We would further add that the custom of Canada in appointing minister of the Gospel to perform the marriage rite is altogether to be commended. This custom gives a religious sanction to marriage and has a wholesome moral effect upon the nation, and we express our grave apprehension that the result of the ne temere decree will be to make marriage a purely civil contract, a result Roman Catholic and Protestants alike would deplore."

Vancouver's Big Strike.

Vancouver, B.C., June 6.—Four thousand men, representing all the building trades, quit work yesterday morning, but the city is not tide up as the street railway men refused to join the strike.

However, matters are made serious by all the linemen of the telephone and telegraph companies going out.

The teamsters are still working and will not strike.

There were no demonstration and no complaints at police headquarters.

The wires of the street railway company were cut in the suburbs at 8 o'clock but were repaired by 8.30.

The situation is serious, but not as bad as anticipated.

Bible Agent Arrested.

Ottawa, June 6.—Mayor Fontaine of Hull explains the arrest of Henry Lanctin of the Grand Ligne French Baptist Mission, stating that it was necessary that he should have a peddler's licence to legally sell Bibles from houses to house, and that he carried a circular offering $500 to any one who could prove that the Virgin Mary was immaculate or that the Pope was never married.

The incident is creating a great deal of religious feeling in Hull.

Fire Chief Hurt.

Montreal, June 6.—While dashing along Craig street in response to a fire alarm, District Chief Giroux was thrown from his buggy when it collapsed near St. Andre street and sustained a badly fractured right leg.

EARLY CLOSING AND DRINK EVIL

Montreal Finds Blind Pigs Coming Into Existence.

Montreal, June 6.—There was a very noticeable increase in the number of drunks brought before Recorder Weir yesterday. Out of a list of 84 names, sixty-one were for drunkenness.

Chief Campeau stated that since the early closing law had gone into effect there had been a large number of "blind pigs" opened in the congested district of the city, and boarding-houses were finding it profitable to lay in a good supply of liquor for consumption at greatly increased rates after the saloons had been closed for the night.

Saturday night there was much liquor sold on the streets and in the various dens of the city. The constables charged with seeing that the closing law is enforced, find it almost impossible to catch the illegal sellers. When the liquor is stored in houses, on these places being raided, the owner declares it was store there merely for his own use and he has to be set at liberty.

Constables declare that drunkenness has greatly increased in all parts of the city. One constable said: "We cannot catch the offenders in the act of selling liquor, but it is very easy for us to see by the number of persons who are found drunk that they are at work." The police claim also that many dens in the city where liquor is sold, are now more frequented than ever.

Smallpox at Summer Resort.

Montreal, June 6.—A case of smallpox has developed at Pointe Claire, the summer resort on Lake St. Louis, and a young lady is quarantined in a tent in the rear of the house, where she had expected to pass a pleasant summer.

The patient is Miss Simpson, sister of Mr. Vincent Simpson, of the Lomer Co., Ltd., of this city, who had only two or three weeks ago arrived from the West Indies and last week was attacked by what was assumed to be chickenpox. On Friday, however, a consultation was held, with the result that a tent was raised in the rear of the cottage and Miss Simpson and a nurse became its occupants. The town authorities placed a policeman on guard in front of the house, and a strict quarantine is being maintained.

Nationalist Member Hurt.

Dublin, June 6.—John Dillon, Nationalist member of Parliament for East Mayo, was dangerously injured about the head and back in an automobile accident Sunday night near Dundalk, 45 miles northwest of Dublin. It was at first thought that Mr. Dillon was dying, and a priest, who was hastily summoned, administered the last sacraments. The injured man rallied, however, and was removed to Dundalk, where he now lies in a hospital, in a serious condition.

The automobile dashed into a culvert and Mr. Dillon was thrown through the glass screen.

To Tour the West.

Winnipeg, June 6.—Itineraries are being arranged for two parties of newspapermen who are coming to inspect the western provinces in August. Twelve men from English dailies will come out with Obed Smith as guide, and about the same time the Ohio Press Association will tour the country in a special train. The latter party will number about 200.

DELIBERATELY LEFT HIS WIFE

The Belief of Toronto Police in Dubios' Case

Special to The Review.

Toronto, June 6.—The police here state that Francis Dubios, the prospector from Porcupine, who arrived in New York and claimed that he had been spirited away from his wife at a station near Toronto, deliberately deserted the woman, having rechecked his baggage and took his train without making any effort to find her while here.

STREET CAR HIT THE BLACK MARIA

Montreal, June 6.—That a big load of prisoners who were on their way to the court house from the penitentiary were joggled and bumped and otherwise inconvenienced by a car striking the Black Maria, is one of the claims made by the Attorney-General of Quebec in an action against the Montreal Street Railway.

The amount of damage asked for in the suit is $2,077.45. This is principally for damage to the Black Maria, but a certain portion of the amount is for inconvenience to the prisoners.

Despite the fact that the Government had a wagonload of people at the time, none of them were called as witnesses. Some of them have served their time and disappeared a long time ago.

The collision took place March 2, 1906. The company pleaded that the accident arose from circumstances which they could not control, slippery rails, which would not hold. Mr. Justice Lafontaine took the case en delibre.

Labor Protests.

Montreal, June 6.—"This campaign of lying and viturperation organized in a certain section of the press of this continent by the hirlings of capital against J. J. McNamara is not going to be allowed without a strong protest by the labor union men," said Mr. Lynch yesterday.

"On June 18 the Building Trades Council will hold a big meeting in the City of Montreal, with a view to exposing the disgraceful methods employed in the arrest of J. J. McNamara.

"The whole subject will be taken up by prominent speakers, who will show an almost unique occurrence in civilized countries, that of a citizen of a supposedly free country, arrested and kidnapped and carried from one state to another like a traveling bag."

FRENCH CRUISER IS ASHORE NEAR HALIFAX FOR SIX HOURS

Floated Off Bank Three Hours After High Tide—An Investigation.

Halifax, June 6.—In thick weather at 6.30 o'clock yesterday morning, the French warship D'Estre, commanded by Capt. Prouhet, struck on George's Island, one of the forts in Halifax harbor. Six hours later she floated off without assistance, and having sustained no damage whatever, even her paint apparently not having been scraped. Offers were made of help from towing steamers and the Dominion Government's Marine Department, but these were declined with thanks.

Capt. Prouhet of the D'Estre ordered the forward water ballast to be pumped out and the ammunition moved.

The warship struck three hours before high water and she floated three hours after high tide, the water being at the same height when she slipped off as when she touched. Pilot John Hayes was aboard, having been taken on outside the harbor.

George's Island is in the centre of the harbor. The only explanation for the accident is that the pall of fog and smoke hung so thickly over the harbor that it was impossible to see ahead and the pilot misjudged his position. He thought he was west of the island, whereas he was south, and in feeling his way up, going very slowly, he struck. A fog bell is on George's Island and it had been heard earlier in the morning, but the warship was carried to the westward, and in that position the sound was carried past and became undistinguishable on board. There will be an investigation.

SUIT STARTED OVER A. & G. W. CASE

Legal Case Involving $2,000,000 is Brought On.

Edmonton, Alta., June 6.—Claims for damages aggregating $2,200,000 are being prepared to be filed against the Province of Alberta in connection with the Alberta and Great Waterways case. The whole matter gets more and more complicated. At present the province is suing the Royal Bank of Canada for the $6,000,000 of Alberta and Great Waterways money deposited with it. It has also taken action to get possession of the remaining $1,-400,000 deposited with other banks. So far as can be seen at present the struggle will be a long one, especially with the added complications.

The assertion is very confidently being made that Premier Sifton has anxiously desired to meet J. Pierpont Morgan in London. Mr. Morgan is well-known to have lent countenance to the Alberta and Great Waterways project.

Along Imperial Lines.

Montreal, June 6.—Dr. R. D. Roberts, secretary of the Congress of Universities of the Empire, to be held in London, who arrived on the Megantic to attend the preliminary congress of Canadian universities, convened by Dr. Falconer (Toronto) and Dr. Peterson (McGill), stated yesterday morning that the main idea of the London conference was a sort of a unification, on Imperial lines, of all the universities of the Empire with the intention of formulating some universal educational training scheme than that at present exists.

Fifty-one universities, he said, would be represented at the London congress. Canada heads the list with nineteen institutions, while the British Isles follow with eighteen.

Death of Old Resident.

Hespeler, June 6.—An old and highly respected citizen, in the person of John Warren, died yesterday in his 80th year. Warren was born in Bramshott, Hampshire, Eng., Jan. 24, 1832. He came to Canada with his parents in the fall of 1852, and settled in Georgetown, where he followed the trade of paper making. He married in 1857, Rachel Unsworth, who, with ten children and thirty grandchildren, survive him. Mr. Warren has lived retired in Hespeler since 1887.

A Magnificent Monument.

Rome, June 6.—Nearly one million people witnessed the dedication on Sunday of a magnificent monument to King Victor Emmanuel II., grandfather of the present King. Interest was added to the occasion by combining therewith a celebration of the granting of the constitution by King Charles Albert in 1848, the same constitution which still rules United Italy.

The monument is composed of a great portico in white marble, with sixteen immense columns surmounted by a frieze, and at the ends quadrigae in bronze. In front of the colonnade stands the gigantic equestrian statue of the father of the country on a richly decorated pedestal, leading to which are grand staircases decorated with fountains, statues, groups and antenae with gilded figures. The entire length of the monument is 500 feet, depth 450 feet, and its height 250 feet.

JACK JOHNSON MAKES A HIT

Gets Flowers and Reception on Board Atlantic Steamer

Special to the Review.

New York, June 6.—Jack Johnson, the world's champion pugilist, is being lionized on board the Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which sailed to-day for England. His stateroom was decked with a basket of flowers and he was accorded an informal reception in the apartments of the chief engineer.

THEY ASK FOR CHEAP PAPER

American Publishers Interested in Reciprocity as to This.

Executive Session on Wednesday to Discuss Bill.

Washington, June 6.—Public hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill were concluded by the Senate finance committee yesterday, representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and of the Associated Press being the last to appear before the committee.

Secretary of State Knox, at the request of Senator Bailey, had been asked to explain to the committee to-day whether the Root amendment to the paper section of the bill providing that it shall not be in force until the President is satisfied and has issued a proclamation to the effect that paper and wood pulp are being admitted free into all the provinces of Canada, is in full accord with the agreement, as understood by the commissioners from both countries, who prepared the treaty. On Wednesday the committee will take up the bill in executive session to discuss committee action.

Both Herman Ridder, until recently president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, testified yesterday, in answer to queries from various Senators, that in their opinion no effort had been made by the newspapers of the country to present only one side of the reciprocity argument, to color their reports on the question or to suppress any facts which were of news value. Bruce Haldeman, president of the Publishers' Association, and F. B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, also appeared.

The chief interest which the newspapers of the country have had in the matter, Mr. Ridder told the committee, is their desire to free themselves from the paper manufacturers' trust, which now, he added, has the publishers at its mercy. The readers of the country would benefit by cheaper paper, as well as the publishers, he declared, because the money saved on paper could be used to furnish a larger and better news service.

The hearings wound up with a friendly philosophizing between Senators Bailey, Smoot, Lafollette and Clark on the one hand, and Mr. Stone, on the other, as to whether or not it would be better for the public if the newspapers gave them more of the serious, solid and instructive sort of news and less of the sensational.

Mr. Ridder, who occupied the greater part of the day before the committee, acknowledge that the Publishers' Association had sent out bulletins and letters urging the passage of the reciprocity measure. "But I would not have favored the measure," he said, "if I had not thought it would be of benefit to the country as a whole independent of my interest in it as a newspaper publisher."

When Mr. Ridder attacked the paper trust, which, he said, limited the output, fixed the price and told a publisher where he must buy his paper, both Senators McCumber and Bailey, opponents of the bill, declared that if there was such a trust they wanted to see it prosecuted by the Government. Mr. Ridder insisted, in answer to numerous questions, that any amendment to the bill would, in his opinion, endanger and probably kill the measure, and that therefore he was in favor of seeing the bill passed exactly as it come from the House.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it, because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Design Australia's Capital.

Ottawa, June 6.—Australia's new capital may be designed by a Canadian. A model of the site selected by the Commonwealth Government in New South Wales is on the way here and will be on view early this month at the Department of Public Works, together with all details necessary for the preparation of competitive designs.

A report received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from D. H. Ross, Canadian trade commissioner at Melbourne, states that Canadians will be eligible to compete for the prizes offered by the Australian Government. These designs must show a capital city complete, including Parliament buildings, a residence for the governor, a central railway station, a national theatre, stadium, parks, gardens and military barracks. The prizes are: First, $8,750; second, $3,750; and third, $2,500.

The designs go to the Australian Department of Home Affairs at Melbourne.

BRIGANDS WANT HEAVY RANSOM

Demand $75,000 for Release of German Explorer

Special to The Review.

Salonica, June 6.—Seventy-five thousand dollars ransom was demanded by the brigands who last week kidnapped Prof. Richter, a German explorer, and who are now holding him on Mount Olimpus, which is their stronghold. With the demand was sent a letter from Richter imploring the Turkish government to meet the demand of the kidnappers.

CURE THAT COLD

This is Quickly and Pleasantly Accomplished If You Use

Catarrhozone

Catarrhozone will relieve colds almost instantly and in a few hours will cure completely. If it is old-standing asthma or bronchitis its quick and curative results will astonish you.

Catarrhozone is little drops of healing medicine carried by air to the sore and diseased parts. You breathe them through the Catarrhozone Inhaler and they spread throughout all the air passages.

It is sense as well as healing, because Catarrhozone is a germ killer, a healer and restorer of weak tissues, because it is so prompt and certain in its results, better than any other remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is neither alcohol, morphia or cocaine—all [illegible]erous.

Tens of thousands have used Catarrhozone without reporting a single case of failure to cure diseases of the throat and lungs and nasal passages. Remember, CATARRHOZONE is taken in air, and is little drops of healing for the throat, nasal passages, or lungs. It always does cure—is guaranteed.

UNION LABEL

THE MODERN EVIL

One of the biggest problems the people of the twentieth century have to deal with is the problem of the industrial monopoly and merger. This has often been called the commercial age, and the industrial age. It is also the age of seeking after wealth, to the exclusion of everything else. The captains of industry are giving place to the kings of finance, and these are rapidly consolidating the business enterprises of the country both to the south of us and our own, so as to obtain a dangerous grip on the production of the necessaries of life.

It is said that five men who are the chief magnates behind the United States steel corporation are an oligarchy controlling seventy per cent of the banks of New York. They control seventy per cent of the steel trade, and control seventy per cent of the railroads of the United States, commanding through this source a weapon of deadly effect on the business of the country. The concentration of money power in the hands of one man like J. P. Morgan, through the purchasing of control in banks and trust companies by the securities of other institutions of the same kind, constitutes a danger that the common people of the country are awakening to. It is said that J. P. Morgan controls moneyed institutions worth $1,500,000,000, and that he could produce a financial panic the like of which has never been seen on this continent, if he wished to sit on the public.

In Canada we have had an era of merger formation. Most prominent of these is the cement merger. Lately the Canada Car and Foundry company, with a total capitalisation of $16,000,000, was formed. It pointed out in its prospectus that it was protected from competition by a duty of 30 per cent. While it is the intention of both Liberal and Conservatives to maintain the policy of protection, in the case of the modern merger there should be careful discrimination.

The merger creator is not a public benefactor. The man who starts a new industry and places it on a sound footing is entitled to the thanks of the country, but the man who welds a number of individual concerns into one big whole, with plenty of watered stock, is what the Manitoba Free Press calls a public leech. The object of the merger is not to reduce the prices of commodities to the public, through the savings effected in administration, but to use the powers of monopoly to get out of the public a higher price. F. W. Hirst, editor of The Economist, in an article on the Stock Exchange, differentiates the combine promoter from the real industrial leader, in the following striking passage:

"From the standpoint of general utility there is all the difference between the promoter of a real new enterprise and the promoter of a trust or combination. The former is calculated to increase wealth; the latter is rather likely to diminish it. The former is good for employment, the latter is likely to reduce it. The former increases the good things of the world and multiplies the conveniences of life. The latter aims at restricting them, and so increasing their cost. One is addition, the other subtraction. One enlarges the world's resources and enriches the consumer by giving him something new; the other exploits him by establishing a monopoly and so forcing him to pay higher prices or to pay the old prices for inferior articles."

POWER PRICES

The Toronto civic electrical department has announced its prices for light and power under the hydro-electric system, and it is found that on the average they are about a third cheaper than the Toronto Electric Light Co's. prices to-day. The method of computing and charging is very different in the two systems, and it must be left to the electrical experts to reduce them to a common basis, for the benefit of the uninitiated public.

A most illuminating table is supplied, however, by the Toronto electrical department, showing the approximate difference in the rates. In the following table the city rate is given first, and the T.E.L. rate after. They are:

Residence lighting—4 1-2 cents per kilowatt hour; 8 cents per kilowatt hour.

Commercial lighting — alternating current, 4 cents per kil. hour; 8 cents per kil. hour.

Commercial power, alternating current—2 cents per kil. hour; 4 cents per kil. hour.

Commercial lighting, direct current —5 cents per kil. hour (with storage batteries); 8 cents per kilowatt hour (without storage batteries.)

Commercial power, direct current—2 3-4 per cent. kil. hour (with storage batteries) 4 cents per kilowatt hour (without storage batteries.)

These rates are made in anticipation of 20,000 horse-power business, and the civic plant is expected by the commissioners to show a deficit for some years, at the prices that are to be quoted. The Toronto commissioners figure that the plant is the property of the people of Toronto, and they are entitled to the biggest saving that can be effected, even if some of it has to be returned out of the taxes to square accounts. Whether this form of financing a civic power project is desirable is open to debate. If the Toronto commission were in the field to put the Mackenzie-Mann combination out of business, they could not have adopted a more belligerent method of stirring up a fight. But it is scarcely an equitable deal to the citizens of Toronto, who do not use electric power, to ask them to share the deficit for the sake of giving other citizens power below its actual cost to the city. This is what would be termed "cut-throat" competition, if initiated by a private company.

It is claimed by the civic experts that the Toronto Electric Light Company can meet the new rates, and exist quite comfortably. A cut of 47 per cent. could be met by the company and yet meet its annual interest and other charges. Whether this is so or not is of course, subject to confirmation. If the private company were making an annual profit of 47 per cent., or even 40 per cent., the introduction of civic competition would assuredly be a great move for Toronto. The Electric Light Company recently sold out to the merger at a price of $135 per share. Based on earnings as indicated by physical value and dividends, the company was either making much less than the 33 or 40 per cent., or was concealing its real financial condition very successfully.

In Hamilton a report by an independent engineer on the cost of a civic distribution system for hydro power has been made. It involves an expenditure of $500,000, and provides for a complete system for electric street lighting, residence lighting for 1,000 residences, and power to any consumer by conduit within the city limits. It is interesting to note the comments of this engineer, A. L. Sifton, on the charges for residence lighting under the hydro-distribution system, and under the present Cataract rates. Basing charges on the method in use by the hydro-electric municipalities, Mr. Sifton finds the cost would average 63 per cent. of the Cataract rate, or effect a saving of about 36 per cent. to the consumers.

Twenty residences used as a test now pay an average net rate of 7.52 cents per kilowatt hour to the Cataract Co., while under the proposed rates current would be sold at 2.7 cents per hour and the flat rate would bring the average up to 4.8 cents per kilowatt hour. And consumers using current for irons, toasters, small motors, etc., would get it at the current rate of 2.7 cents.

These facts are interesting to Peterborough people because we will have to face a similar problem if cheaper power is introduced by the city. The price of lighting residences in Peterborough is 7 cents per kilowatt hour net, which is considerably higher than Toronto and Hamilton hydro systems propose to charge, although no higher than residents have been paying under private monopoly. As has been said by the Review before, however, the question in Peterborough is not whether the rates now are fairly reasonable as power prices go, but whether they cannot be materially reduced by municipal competition. It is a business problem that requires working out in a business manner.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If the moral reform investigator is able to give Brantford a clean bill of health, he would probably have to say Peterborough has no need for doctors or police.

Toronto and Hamilton are figuring on hydro electric street lighting systems and prices. When will Peterborough arrive at that stage? Will you live to see it?

Sir Wilfrid Laurrier sees the spectre of Bourassaism in every nook and cranny of the imperial conference room, mocking at him trying to dodge the imperial issues of the day.

The reciprocity vote in the United States senate will not be reached until July or August. President Taft's mighty frame will be worn to a shadow if those senators don't behave themselves.

It has been generally understood that Sir Allen Aylesworth was seeking an opportunity to retire from the political battle. But he will again be the North York government candidate if there is an election on reciprocity this fall. Here is one Liberal riding where reciprocity will need all the help it can get to carry the day.

The sob squad is already hard at work on the coronation "stuff." They have now succeeded in making King George sad and melancholy as the bleak November days, in the prospect "of being set apart in his kingship." "The awful responsibility" is made to produce weeps that would put an onion to shame. Being a king isn't a pleasant job about this time, but the world has also troubles of its own.

The granting by the imperial conference of complete autonomy for the navies of Canada, Australia and New Zealand has caused considerable speculation as to whether Laurier is responsible. The words of Le Canada, the Laurier French organ, are coming true. Le Canada persisted in saying that Laurier was going to the conference to repel the aggression of those who would involve Canada in closer imperial bonds. Laurier seems to have succeeded very well in staving off any tightening of the bonds of empire.

Rocked the Boat.

Brockville, June 6.—The old story of rocking the boat almost resulted in a double drowning opposite here. Three young men named Haley, McMahon and Burns, under the influence of liquor, capsized by the reckless act of the last mentioned. Haley immediately struck out for shore, one hundred yards distant, and being an excellant swimmer, had no difficulty in reaching it. His companions were too intoxicated to aid themselves further than to cling to the craft. Wm. Foster put out in a skiff to their aid. Burns managed to crawl into it at the risk of making a second upset. McMahon was well nigh exhausted, but Foster managed to hold his head above water until Customs Officer Burns, in another boat, appeared on the scene, and between them McMahon's rescue was affected by Foster holding him up by the wrists and Burns towing them ashore.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

It now appeared as if their most optimistic desires had materialized, for it had been many a long day since Adele had evinced such anxious care and pride in her toilet, assumed the necessary duty with such lightsome heart and eager, feverish fingers. With pardonable vanity she closely scanned her reflection in the mirror, seeking a blemish and finding it not. Indeed, her toilet finished, the result more than justified her elaborate and careful preparation. As a finishing touch she pinned in her coiffure the white camellia which Kirby had discarded, and, conscious that she had done her very best in this important detail of her maneuver, she repaired to the veranda, accompanied by Mme. Davezac and Miss Pleydell, suitably attired for the evening.

The moon had now risen, flooding the garden with its brilliant light and disclosing Mr. Randall and M. Veaudry standing a little apart from the others, their attitude eloquent of hostile suspicion. A pregnant silence had succeeded the General's exclamation, a silence broken at length by a tense whisper from Bunce.

"Come, Gene," he urged, catching the other's arm. "The boy has let it out. Look at that man's face," indicating Aaron Randall.

Kirby nodded imperceptibly while he calmly patted the General's head.

"Gentlemen," he said, bowing to the others, "I regret I am taking my leave. I only wait to say goodby to Miss Randall."

"Who is it speaks of leaving?" suddenly demanded Adele's clear voice, and, turning, they all saw the ladies watching them from the veranda. "Colonel Moreau," added the girl, coming down the steps and approaching Kirby, while Mme. Davezac and Ann Pleydell echoed her protests, "you cannot think of leaving. Dinner is served, and your place at table is next to me. Will you give me your arm?" smiling up into his eyes.

The full significance of her change of attire, the delicate but overwhelming compliment paid by the white camellia and the message it mutely conveyed, the great honor shown him, the overpowering appeal which this new, wondrous, resplendent Adele made to his already captive senses, wiped out in a breath all Kirby's hitherto adamantine resolution and fixity of purpose, obliterated all thoughts of the future or care for his present danger.

"Now git to those hosses," implored Bunce, sensing that his partner was in peril of yielding dominion to this feminine appeal. "Git to the hosses, Gene."

"Hang the horses!" cried Kirby recklessly. "I'm going to dinner with a lady."

Throwing whip and hat on the garden seat, he bowed to Adele and offered his arm, while Larkin Bunce, inwardly raging at this new and sublime act of lunacy, turned helplessly to his sympathetic but invisible audience.

CHAPTER X.

DUE in a great measure to Kirby's and Adele's high spirits, which infected all but three members of the company, the dinner in honor of Colonel Moreau was an entire success and, in fact, could not have been surpassed had that unfortunate gentleman himself been present. Judge Pleydell, believing that he was assisting to entertain one who by championing the cause of the Randalls, while at the same time ridding the community of the notorious Cameo Kirby, had earned his lasting esteem and gratitude, told his best stories in his happiest vein, and Mme. Davezac, together with Ann Pleydell, suffering under the same delusion, put forth every effort to charm, even going to the length of heartily applauding the judge's most venerable and moth ravaged yarns.

No mean raconteur himself, Kirby ransacked his vast store of personal experience for interesting topics of conversation that would bear rehearsal in the present company, and even Bunce, finally and unwillingly drawn by some mysterious spell into the vortex of small talk, carefully selected, as befitted a "secretary," the least innocuous of his many escapades and ventured to confide it to the demure ear of his dinner partner, Miss Pleydell. This heroic action of the old river gambler—for he was desperately embarrassed at the honor shown him and thoroughly cognizant what must be the inevitable and tragic ending of his partner's reckless action—is sufficient testimony to the fact that the preoccupied manner of M. Veaudry, coupled with Mr. Randall's grave silence and studied courtesy toward Kirby, had no effect upon the spirits of the company, if, indeed, their demeanor was even noted by the majority.

Before entering the house the two gentlemen in question had come to an understanding regarding the status of their guest, concurring in the opinion that he was impersonating the gentleman in whose honor the dinner had been planned. But Aaron alone had found a sinister significance in the General's observation to the effect that Kirby wore a quantity of cameos, and, although he lacked authentic evidence upon which to erect his suspicions, while likewise granting that it was an amazing and unbelievable action for one to deliberately walk into the house of his enemies, he vaguely sensed that the pseudo Colonel Morean was none other than the notorious Eugene Kirby.

Still, Aaron Randall was a strictly just and upright man, who was fully aware of the many crimes committed in the name of circumstantial evidence. Slow to pronounce judgment, he was quick to act when once assured that in no sense would justice be violated. Moreover, Adele, in whose integrity and force of character he had the firmest belief and for whom he had the highest regard and proof of whose acumen he had had ample testimony, vouched for the imposture and even confessed complicity if not actual initiative in the same. In the absence of Tom Randall she was absolute mistress, with the right to act as she deemed fit, and had, moreover, exacted his word of honor that he would trust her until the arrival of her brother. Even had he been satisfied with the truth of his conjectures regarding Kirby's identity this promise to Adele would have pledged Aaron to secrecy, and M. Veaudry, being subsequently acquainted with the compact, likewise agreed that it could not be violated.

For the young creole this passive role was extremely difficult, and it was eloquent proof of his self command and personal integrity, coupled with those refined instincts bestowed by gentle birth and breeding, that he considered Aaron's promise equally binding upon himself and, repressing all promptings of jealousy, refrained from denouncing Kirby as an impostor. The successful suit of an honorable rival would have been difficult enough to recognize, but this encroachment of a stranger who at the best was a masquerader if not a character more sinister and disreputable was intolerable, for M. Veaudry had gathered from Mr. Randall's manner that he suspected their guest of being guilty of something more criminal than assuming a name to which he had no right.

Thus, even while the young creole and Aaron prayed that Tom Randall's arrival would be hastened and coincident with it free vent could be given to their suspicions, Larkin Bunce earnestly hoped to the contrary—hoped that Kirby would suddenly realize his danger, growing the more deadly and certain as every minute passed, and would ride for the river before the coming of Nemesis.

But evidently nothing was more remote from that reckless young gentleman's intention, for, unmindful of his partner's increasing uneasiness and that both were the object of watchful, hostile eyes, he continued to act as if time and opportunity had been created solely for Adele and himself. Dinner finally at an end, he and his young hostess, entirely absorbed in each other's society, sought the drawing room balcony, while the others, with the exception of Bunce, indulged in a game of piquet, M. Veaudry proving a wretched partner, his entire attention being occupied with the couple on the balcony.

M. Veaudry, owing to his preoccupation, proving such a thankless partner, Mme. Davezac at last turned to Bunce and suggested that he and Kirby join the game in lieu of the young creole and the judge.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

Liverpool Exchange Closed, Chicago Wheat Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 5.—A huge wave of speculative buying to-day in the wheat pit ran against heavy realizing sales on the part of the longs. In consequence, much of a sharp advance was lost, and the market closed easy at prices varying from Saturday night's level to ⅜c above. Corn finished ⅛c down to ⅛c to ⅜c up; oats with a gain of ½c to ⅜c, and provisions more costly by 5c to 20c.

The Liverpool grain exchange and the continental markets were all closed yesterday for the holiday. Liverpool and Paris will also be closed to-day.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 5.—Owing to the strength in the Winnipeg market for oats, a stronger feeling prevailed here, and holders of round lots were asking 41½c for No. 2, and 40¼c for No. 3, Canadian western, ex-store, but the demand continues to be very limited from all sources. The foreign demand for spring wheat flour was fair, and sales amounting to 6000 barrels were made at an advance of 15c per barrel. A good local trade is passing, and the undertone to the market is strong.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41½c to 42c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41¼c; No. 3 C.W., 40½c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40¼c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, June 5.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 76 carloads, consisting of 1435 cattle, 401 hogs, 333 sheep, 97 calves and 15 horses.

Exporters.

Geo. B. Campbell bought for Morris & Co. 149 export steers, as follows: For Liverpool, 133 steers, 1250 lbs. each, at $6.02, average price, or a range of $6 to $6.10; also 16 London steers, 1310 lbs. each, at $6.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked cattle sold at $6 to $6.10; loads of good to choice sold at $5.70 to $6; common to medium, of which there were few, sold at from $5.50 to $5.70; bulls, $4.75 to $5.25; cows, $4.50 to $5.35.

Stockers and Feeders.

Few, if any, stockers and feeders were offered. Prices would be unchanged. Short-keeps, $5.60 to $5.75; feeders, 850 to 1000 lbs., $5.25 to $5.50; stockers, $4.75 to $5.30.

Hogs.

Hogs were higher, at $6.70 for selects, fed and watered, and $6.40 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited number of medium to good cows were reported at $45 to $60 each.

Veal Calves.

Wesley Dunn reported veal calves as selling at $4 to $6.50, or an average of $6.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices for sheep were lower, as follows: Sheep, ewes, $3.50 to $4.50; rams, $3 to $3.50; spring lambs, $4 to $6 each. No yearling lambs were on sale.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 5.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 3, were 1600 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 2275 hogs and 975 calves, and the supply on the market this morning for sale consisted of 750 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1600 hogs and 250 calves.

Altho cable advices on cattle were weak and lower to-day, there was no important change in the condition of the local market, prices being steady. The attendance of buyers was larger than usual, a fairly active trade being done. The average quality of the stock offered was good, and this, coupled with the cooler weather, tended to increase the demand from some dealers, which resulted in a good clearance being made before the noon hour.

A few extra choice picked steers sold as high as 6¼c, but the bulk of the trading was done in choice stock at 6¼c; good at 5¾c to 6c; fairly good at 5½c to 5½c; fair at 4¾c to 5c, and common at 4c to 4½c per pound. Some choice cows brought 5½c, and the lower grades from that down to 3½c, while the top figure paid for bulls was 5¼c per pound.

The tone of the market for hogs was stronger, notwithstanding the fact that supplies were larger than a week ago. There was no actual advance in prices, but there was a keener demand from packers, and an active trade was done in selected lots at $6.85 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

The trade in small meats was quiet, and the market was without any important change to note, prices for all lines being steady. Old sheep sold at $4 to $5; spring lambs at $3 to $4.50, and calves at from $2 to $6 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, June 5.—Cattle—Receipts, 4370 head; market fairly active and steady; prime steers, $6.25 to $6.45; butcher grades, $5.25 to $6.35.

Calves—Receipts, 2400 head; market active and firm; cull to choice, $5 to $6.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5000 head; market active and steady; choice lambs, $6.75 to $7; cull to fair, $5 to $6.65; yearlings, $5 to $5.75; sheep, $2 to $4.85.

Hogs—Receipts, 1700; market active and firm; yorkers, $6.35; stags, $4.50 to $5; pigs, $6.20 to $6.25; mixed, $6.30 to $6.35; heavy, $6.20 to $6.25; roughs, $5 to $5.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 19,000; market slow, steady; beeves, $5.15 to $6.40; Texas steers, $4.50 to $5.50; western steers, $4.75 to $5.50; stockers and feeders, $3.85 to $5.65; cows and heifers, $2.40 to $5.80; calves, $5.25 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 35,000; market 5c higher; light, $5.80 to $6.15; mixed, $5.75 to $6.10; heavy, $5.60 to $6.05; rough, $5.60 to $5.80; good to choice, heavy, $5.80 to $6.05; pigs, $5.55 to $6.05; bulk of sales, $5.95 to $6.05.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts estimated at 20,000; market steady to strong; native, $3 to $4.50; western, $3 to $4.55; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.35; lambs, native, $4.25 to $6.96; western, $4.25 to $7.20.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

MORE ASSISTANCE FOR EXHIBITION

Council Asked to Increase Annual Grant to $1000

President R. H. Leary and directors of the West Peterboro Agricultural Society, were present at the Council meeting last night and Mr. Leary and Mr. J. J. Turner, asked the Council that the annual grant of $400 to the Society be increased to $1000.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Leary held that there was nothing could be done in Peterborough that could beat a good fair, for advertising purposes. The Society was trying hard to secure new buildings, and the directors were working hard in the interests of the fair without remuneration. If the grant could be increased to $1000, the money would be well spent.

The exhibition was gradually getting better. Mr. Leary explained that the lease of the property expired this year, and remarked that it was up to the city to get new grounds.

"We'll put up the buildings" said Mr. Leary.

Mr. Turner said that the officers found it hard to get people to exhibit in the present buildings. The exhibition had prospered during the past few years and Mr. Turner paid a tribute to the good work accomplished by Mr. Leary. It was hoped, he said to extend the fair into another day or two days.

Mayor Morrow assured the speakers that the work of the president and his directors was appreciated by the citizens. On motion of Ald. Metheral and Brown the matter was referred to the Finance Committee with power to act.

MUSICALE AT CONSERVATORY

By Miss Lulu McGill and Miss Chalmers

A delightful "Musicale" was given last evening in the Conservatory of Music Hall in which the artists were Miss Lulu McGill, pianiste, of the Conservatory staff, and Miss Mary G. Chalmers, soprano soloist, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music. The attendance was large considering the inclement weather and the program was of that charming and well arranged nature that assured the specially pleasing musical treat. The numbers were all distinctly classical and their splendid and masterly delineations were a source of continuous pleasure to all.

Miss Chalmers was accorded a flattering reception and made herself an instant favorite with the audience. Her graceful stage presence and easy method of singing revealed her to be a thorough master of the profession of vocalism. Her two numbers, "His Lullaby" and "The Spring Song,' by Bond and Weil, enraptured her hearers and were enthusiastically received. Owing to her numerous appearances on the program she did not respond to the determined encores. Besides possessing a voice of remarkable sweetness and purity, she is able at will to lend to it a wonderful volume of sympathy and expression most charming and effective to hear.

The skilful playing of Miss Lulu McGill, pianiste, and instructor on the piano at the Conservatory, won for her last evening unstinted applause. Miss McGill's ability as a pianiste has been more than once demonstrated before local audiences. She plays with a correctness and technical skill that plainly denotes superior training and a proper conception of the art of piano-playing. All her numbers were greeted with deserving praise. The final selection "March Militaire," by Schubert-Tausig, was the climax to a program of real merit.

Following was the program:

(a) Les Deux Alouettes.........Leschetizky
(b) Berceuse in D flat... ... .Chopin
Miss McGill.
Haymaking...... .... Needham
Miss Chalmers.
Sonata Op. 2 No. 3... ... .Beethoven
Miss McGill.
(a) On the Shore...... ....Chaminade
(b) Proposal...... .... Brackett
Miss Chalmers.
(a) En Courant...... .... Godard
(b) Polonaise...... ....Chopin
Miss McGill.
(a) His Lullaby...... ....Bond
(b) Spring Song...... ....Weil
Miss Chalmers.
March Militaire... ... Schubert-Tausig
Miss McGill.

SIDERIAL WATCH WANTED ABROAD

Reference was made in the Review some time ago to a siderial watch, for use by astronomers, and which which was designed and constructed by Dr. Marsh, of Springville. The watch is now being made in Switzerland, and for some time past enquiries and orders have been coming to Dr. Marsh from all parts of the globe. These include orders from centres in Spain, France, Mexico, Brazil, as well as from the United States and England. Apparently a close scrutiny is kept by those interested in such things, for while no effort has been made to secure publicity, the intelligence in regard has been pretty widely disseminated. It is gratifying to Dr. Marsh to find that his device has met with approval and is regarded as one helpful to astronomers, no matter where they are located.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid. something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

LOCAL PASTORS ELECTED OFFICERS

At the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference

Among the list of officers who were elected by the Theological Union at the Bay of Quinte Conference in Port Hope is the name of Rev. J. G. Brown, of this city, pastor of St. James' Methodist church, who was appointed executive member. Rev. C. E. Cragg, who is to succeed Rev. C. H. Coon as pastor of Mark street church, East City, was elected president. Among the district chairmen elected were Rev. S. J. Shorey, and whose new charge will be at Lindsay, and Rev. G. W. Henderson, pastor of Charlotte street Methodist church, Peterborough.

The conference concluded at the evening session on Monday.

The Temperance and Moral Reform committee commended the excellent work on the circuits in pledging the boys to abstain from intoxicants, cigarettes and tobacco, and from indulging in profane language.

COUNCIL VOTED NOT TO RE-OPEN THE FIREMEN'S CASE

Largely Signed Petition Asking for Hearing Was Received.

Letter From Deputy Fire Chief Grange as to His Discharge.

A petition, signed by a large number of citizens, and asking that Deputy Chief Grange and Captain Thomas of the Fire Department, be given a hearing, reached the Council last night, and Deputy Chief Grange also wrote. Mr. G. N. Gordon, of O'Connell and Gordon was present, in connection with the petition and asked that the Council re-open the case of the two discharged firemen, and allow them permission to speak to the Council and give their side of the case.

The vote, however, which was taken, resulted in the motion of Ald. Graham, that no action be taken, being carried.

Deputy Chief Grange wrote as follows:

"I beg leave to request that your honorable body reconsider the action of my dismissal from the department as Deputy Chief and wish to state that I consider the action too severe. Were I proven guilty of any wrong doing of a minor nature it would be my first offence and a lesser punishment would probably serve the interests of the department and justice equally as well. During my three years service I have tried to perform my duties to satisfaction of every person. I have been obedient to the Chief and courteous to the members of the Council and all citizens. While I am compelled to protect my innocence and assure you I was not a party to writing the offensive letter directly or indirectly, I am at the same time extremely sorry that the unpleasantness occurred.

"Thanking you in anticipation.

"I am your obedient servant.

GEORGE GRANGE.

"This matter was brought up before and threshed out" said Ald. Graham. "I'll move that no action be taken." Ald. Anderson said he was glad the matter had come up again, and he held that the Council had never taken a more unpopular step, when they asked for the resignation of the two firemen. He did not think they were guilty of anything by which they should be discharged in such a summary manner.

"I understand that they did not write the letter" said Ald. Anderson, "and I move an amendment that the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be instructed to have Deputy Chief Grange and Captain Thomas reinstated.

Ald. Metheral seconded Ald. Duncan's motion, he holding that the men had had every opportunity to appear before the council. Ald. Anderson's amendment was seconded by Ald. Edgar and the vote which followed went against the amendment.

REV. C. H. COON FOR LAKEFIELD

Instead of Grace Methodist Church Trenton

Rev. C. H. Coon, of the Mark street Methodist church, is to be transferred to the Lakefield Methodist church, while Rev. C. E. Cragg, B.A., D.D., of Roxboro, is to be his successor in Peterborough.

The appointment to Lakefield is considered more lucrative than the one to Trenton, and Rev. Mr. Coon and family will not be so far removed from Peterborough as if they were going to the latter place.

The change does not take place until the latter part of the present month.

BOY SCOUTS

Every boy, of the 3rd troop of Boy Scouts, is expected to be on hand sharp at 7.30 at the Armories, Friday night. There will be a business meeting in the band room from 7.30 to 8 for the 3rd troop only. Boys not getting there on time will not be able to pass the last examination for the 2nd class badge. Every boy must be in full uniform as usual. Don't forget camp arrangements.

COUNCIL DECIDE TO CONTINUE THE PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

A Temporary Arrangement With City Clerk Armstrong Taking Up Work.

W. H. Meldrum Sent Application for Position of Commissioner

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, city clerk, will continue the work of the publicity department, and will have the assistance of Miss Thompson, who was stenographer for Mr. Duggan.

This arrangement, which is only a temporary one, was decided on at a committee meeting of the council last night.

Ald. Buller informed the committee of a suggestion that had been made at a recent meeting of the Manufacturers' committee, which was to the effect that Mr. Armstrong take over the work temporarily, and that he have as his assistant Mis Thompson.

Ald. Morgan was of the opinion that a commssiioner was useless until the city had power, and also that no benefits were to be received for paying a man $4,000 to look after correspondence.

Ald. Metheral thought the money could be used to better advantage, but Ald. Anderson held that the city should have a commissioner. He pointed out that other cities had an official and were securing industries, while it might be that Peterborough was "asleep at the switch." There should be someone, he held, who would get in touch with those behind the industries. He did not know, he said, of any case where the city had lost an industry through expensive power.

"Most of the industries are looking for big inducements, and when an appeal is made to the citizens, they turn the proposition down. They are overburdened with taxes, and don't want any more," said Ald. Metheral.

"And the poor man doesn't want his taxes to go up when he gets about $8.50 per week from the factory," said Ald. Brown.

Ald. Edgar moved that the matter of engaging Miss Thompson be left in the hands of the chairman of the Manufacturers' committee, Ald. Buller and Mayor Morrow, and that Mr. Armstrong take over the work of the department. The motion carried.

Ald. Duncan suggested that Mr. Armstrong had been appointed secretary of the Queen Mary hospital Board of Management and that more work would be entailed by him on account of the added duties of the publicity department he receive an increase in salary of $100, dating from June 1. Complimentary remarks as to Mr. Armstrong's services to the city were passed by several of the aldermen, and the mayor neatly added that he did not know of any other man who was better qualified. This motion also passed.

AN APPLICANT.

At the council meeting in the chamber, the committee delegated at the meeting of the manufacturers, retail merchants and members of the professions to wait upon the council in regard to the engagement of Mr. Duggan did not put in an appearance.

The city clerk, however, read a letter from Mr. W. H. Meldrum, who applied for the position of Industrial Commissioner. He wrote that he would take the position at $1,500 and expenses per annum, and $300 bonus for each industry secured by him. Mr. Meldrum referred to his long years of activity in the city and his connection with electrical power.

The communication was referred to the Manufacturers' committee.

FELL OFF ROOF OF THE CREAMERY

Accident to Roland E. Slingerland A Tinsmith

Roland E. Slingerland, a tinsmith, in the employ of Adam Hall, living at 258 Aylmer Street, fell to the ground from the roof of the Peterboro Creamery, this morning, a distance of about ten feet. He sustained a badly twisted ankle, but was able to reach his home without aid. He had crawled out of a window overlooking the sloping roof to make some repairs to the cave-troughing and slid off the rather steep incline, falling down into the mud below.

Visit China Hall

The display of fine hand-painted china and ornaments at China Hall, 394 George street, is well worth a visit. No such opportunity has ever been offered the Peterborough public to buy high grade goods at such extremely low prices. The sale is being conducted on a private sale basis now, which affords customers an opportunity to inspect and examine the unique and useful goods for wedding presents, especially as this sale presents a variety and newness of choice not to be often met with. The whole stock is being closed out at much below cost to avoid packing, and the sale will only continue a short time longer. Store open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

CAMPBELLFORD TO PLAY RETURN

Will Meet Collegiate Team at Riverside Park

The Campbellford baseball team is due to play the return game with the local Collegiate nine on Saturday morning at Riverside Park. Owing to the train connections the visitors have asked that the game be played in the forenoon and the locals have consented.

Though the local nine lost in the first encounter, the game was fast, the batteries being very strong.

The Campbellford aggregation have a couple of imports for the occasion.

The Central Park aggregation have a couple of imports for the occasion and the Central Park bunch have the Lindsay slaughter to their credit and anyone who witnessed their performance last Saturday afternoon, will wish to see them in action against Campbellford.

Cresswell is going good and should be able to dish up some classy stuff on the slab Saturday.

SPORT TALK

O.A.A.C. defeated Ottawa College in a city league game at Ottawa Saturday by a 9—2 score. Frank Heffernan was there for the college team with his usual hit.

George Minorgan, who is attending Albert College, Belleville, was one of the clerks of the course in a Marathon race held in connection with the annual field day of the college.

In 53 times at bat Dubbie Shea, of the Brantford Canadian league team, has hit 16 times, and is seventh on the list of that club.

The baseball match at the park on Saturday afternoon resulted, as was expected, in a win for the Peterborough team. The score was 17 to 8, Peterborough taking nine runs in the first two innings. The playing of the Peterborough team was by no means brilliant, but they put up a better article of ball than the locals. The fielding of the Peterborough team was no better than Port Hope, but they far excelled in batting, and base running. The exhibition of base running by the local team could not have been worse. If a runner managed to steal second he would at once decide to go to third and in one instance a player tried to make home. They were caught in nearly every attempt and lost easily five runs. The ground is in very poor condition, there being a fine crop of hay through the outfield.

For the next game the management will make several changes, and a much stronger team will be on the field in future.

BALL CLUB EXCURSION

Special Train to Cobourg Saturday for Midland League Game

The first real big excursion of the season will be held on Saturday when Peterborough Ball Club runs a special train to Cobourg for the Midland League game with Manager Burke's nine, and this popular trip will no doubt be taken advantage of by a big crowd. The return fare for adults is $1 and 50 cents for children. The train will leave the G.T.R. station at 1.30 o'clock sharp and Cobourg for the return at 8.30 o'clock. This will allow of a long stay at the lakeshore town.

The game billed as the star attraction will likely furnish some surprises as Cobourg came to life last Saturday and defeated the strong Bowmanville team with a 14—7 score, what means a much faster team than was seen here in the opening game.

ALL SAINTS WON FROM BAPTISTS

Church League Football Game Played in the Rain

Finishing their game in the rain last night, All Saints team, Church Football League leaders, defeated Park St. 4-2 on the latters' grounds.

The players were not as agreeable as might be wished for, the Baptists not being satisfied as to several of the decisions of the referee, in fact, the game was played under protest, and the matter will come up at the next executive meeting.

The first two goals were scored by the "Saints" and then the Baptists tallied once. Before half-time was called the former secured their third counter.

During the last period each team scored once. The last part of the game was played in the rain, spectators adjourning to quarters which were not so damp.

The next game will be on Thursday evening, when St. John's and Cold Springs meet.

CHILDREN OF UAP.

They Don't Have to Worry About Food, Clothes or Shelter.

In describing Uap, one of the Caroline islands, Dr. W. H. Furness says that children become more or less public property on that island as soon as they are able to run about from house to house.

They cannot without extraordinary exertion fall off the island, and, like little guinea pigs, can find food anywhere. Their clothing grows by every roadside, and any shelter or no shelter is good enough for the night. They cannot starve. There are no wild beasts or snakes to harm them. What matters it if they sleep under the high, star powdered ceiling of their foster mother's nursery or curl up on mats beneath their father's thatch?

There is no implication here that parents are not fond of their children. On the contrary, they love them so much that they see their own children in all children. It is the ease of life and its surroundings which have atrophied the emotion of parental love.

When a father has merely to say to his wife and children, "Go out and shake your breakfast off the trees," or, "Go to the thicket and gather your clothes," to him the struggle for existence is meaningless, and without a struggle the prizes of life are held in light esteem.

Somebody's children are always about the houses and to the fore in all excitements, and never did I see them roughly handled or harshly treated.

MASTERING A TEMPER.

The Method by Which Marion Crawford Controlled His Anger.

Mrs. Hugh Fraser, sister of the late F. Marion Crawford, tells some interesting stories of him in her book, "A Diplomatist's Wife In Many Lands." It was at the Villa Negroni, Rome, that Crawford was born, an event which so delighted his father that, as Mrs. Fraser says, "my father was beside himself with joy and showered presents on all of us to make us understand and share it."

When young Francis was about ten years old it dawned upon him that he had a violent and uncontrollable temper, and with the simplicity which marked all his character he decided to get it in hand.

"One member of the family constantly irritated him to the verge of frenzy, and he invented a form of self discipline which very few children would have thought of imposing on themselves. My mother entered his room one day and found him walking round and round it, carrying on his back a heavy wooden shutter which he had lifted off its hinges at the window.

"'My dear child,' she exclaimed, 'what are you doing?'

"'Getting over a rage,' he replied doggedly, continuing the exercise. 'When I am so angry that I want to kill somebody I come in here and carry the shutter three times round the room before I answer them. It is the only way.'"

Women and Tea In Japan.

No Japanese society woman has completed her education unless she can tell just what grade of tea is being served to her—Uji, Mikado or a hundred others—and at least be able to distinguish by taste at least a dozen "blends" in a brand that has that many or more. Such accomplishments are partly a matter of inheritance and environment, for Japan is a country where tea has been raised and used for centuries. With tea plantations five centuries old and tea plants 200 years of age there is no need for tea commissions to fix customs standards. As for the household standards, the Japanese housewife decides them herself.

The Cock Lane Ghost.

St. John's, Clerkenwell, is a mean structure architecturally, but possesses two interesting historical associations, one romantic and the other ludicrous. It is the headquarters of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, part of the choir of whose ancient priory can still be seen in the early English crypt. This crypt was the haunt of the "Cock lane ghost," which excited all London in February, 1762, and attracted Johnson, Goldsmith and Horace Walpole. The "ghost" proved, as Dr. Johnson surmised, to be the mischievous little daughter of a parish clerk.—Westminster Gazette.

A Regular Attendant.

As the new minister of the village was on his way to evening service he met a rising young man of the place whom he was anxious to have become a member of his church.

"Good evening, my young friend," he said solemnly. "Do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes, indeed, sir, regularly every Sunday night," replied the young fellow with a smile. "I'm on my way to see her now."—Metropolitan Magazine.

His Complete Triumph.

"Uncle Rastus, I thought they had sent you to jail again on the usual charge."

"No, suh; I's vindicated dis time. De jedge couldn't quite make up his mind, an' he turned me loose an' said I mustn't do it again."—Chicago Tribune.

You can nearly always please a man by telling him he really ought to be in a larger field.

VARIED HIS VIEWS.

A Broad Minded Candidate and a Patient Constituent.

Farmer Gordon was engaged for a fortnight to drive a political candidate about the county in his buggy. They traveled by day, each town being a stage, and the politician spoke every evening.

The man was honest and well meaning, but careful local partisans had tried the temper of each community in advance and reported to him with suggestions. So it happened that from his extreme anxiety to please his expressed conviction on the issue varied considerably from time to time.

"Well, Mr. Gordon," said the candidate one day at the beginning of the second week, "how do you stand on the election? How are you going to vote?"

The farmer was silent, thinking. "I really don't know," he said. "I can tell better, maybe, at the close of our engagement."

"Can't make up your mind yet? You've heard all of my speeches."

"Yes, and I like you personally, and I'm hoping to get to vote for you. Don't worry—at least, not yet."

"Not yet! Why do you say that?" asked the puzzled candidate.

"Well, you've had several points of view, and I'm just waiting and thinking maybe before the end of the week you'll get round to mine too."—Youth's Companion.

Help For the Electrician.

If you are ever puzzled in working with electric wires as to which is positive and which is negative or whether the current is alternating there is no simpler method than the use of a potato. Cut the vegetable in half and insert the ends of the wire into the fresh body. About the positive wire a green stain will at once appear, due to dissolved copper. If the current is alternating the ends of both wires will be surrounded by dark colored stains.—Chicago Tribune.

Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

If there were a wounded dog lying in front of your house, would you walk out and kick it? That is what you do when you repeat vicious gossip; you are cruel.

How many wives would leave their husbands if they had good places to go, and money sufficient for their needs? Do you men ever think about it?

The description of a wedding notice in the society department of a country newspaper sounds like dukes and kings, until the last ten lines, when it is said that the groom is a popular clerk in a drygoods store.

After a woman over thirty has passed a crowd of sixteen-year-old girls on the street, somehow she doesn't feel as spruce and well dressed as before she met them.

Half the people have nothing to do but to notice things, so don't imagine you can act wrong without being talked about.

Being a professional musician in a country town must be an awfully hard job.

If you want a man to remember you always, cheat him; he will soon forget a favor.

A young girl was pushing a baby in a buggy. "He's a very bad boy," she said. The boy was eleven months old. The women begin talking about us early.

We would all be in mischief oftener if we didn't have so much work to do.

Nearly every woman has an ambition to regulate the men.

WEDDING BELLS

HANNA—DONALDSON

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, May 31, at the home of Mr. Wm. T. Donaldson, Centreville, when his daughter Amy Elizabeth was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Edward Hanna of Janetville.

The drawing room was prettily decorated for the occasion. The bride was given away by her father, and entered the room to the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march which was played by her cousin, Miss Nellie Syer of Pontypool.

She looked handsome in a directoire gown of cream satin, trimmed with Irish pointe lace, and carried a beautiful shower of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Marion Donaldson, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A., Centreville. The groom's gift to the bride was an amethyst brooch set in pearls, to the pianist an amethyst brooch, and to the flower girl, a gold locket and chain.

Among the many beautiful and valuable gifts to the bride was a cabinet of sterling silver, from Centreville congregation, also an address of appreciation for excellent services in choir, Sabbath school, and Y.M.C.A. The going away gown was green foulard silk, over which was worn a rajah silk coat and hat to match. After congratulations, guests to the number of fifty partook of a dainty dejeuner.

The bride and groom left on the 5 p.m. train for Niagara Falls and Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna will reside at Janetville and they carry with them the best wishes of a large circle of friends for future welfare.

HAD FURNISHED ROOMS.

And He Had a Sign Out to Let the Neighbors Know.

In a little settlement on the outskirts of Chicago two houses stand out more boldly than the rest. These two are the domiciles of two Italians of means, who, although being very ignorant men, vied with each other for the social leadership of the locality.

One day a newcomer, in search of temporary lodgings, attracted by a conspicuous sign in the window of the first of these two houses, stepped to the door to make inquiry.

"I see you have furnished rooms here," he said to the swarthy man who answered his knock.

"Ya," rejoined the foreigner, pointing to the furnished room sign, "dere's da sign."

"Well, if you have one that's suitable I'd like to rent it for awhile."

"We no rent da rooms," was the bewildering declaration. "I got my family in here, and dey take up all da house."

"Don't rent any rooms? Why, then, have you that sign stuck in the window?"

"I'll tell you. Las' week dat fellow next door hang such a sign in his front window, an' we'n I see dat I put one of da same kind in my front window, just to show da people dat he ain't only man in dis place dat have his rooms furnished!"—Judge's Library.

SOMETHING ABOUT DR. JOHN CLIFFORD

Who Will Lay Corner Stone of New Murray St. Church

"The best fighting man the Free Churches of England have turned out since the days of Oliver Cromwell." David Lloyd George is a good judge of fighting men, and when he paid that tribute to Dr. John Clifford, it was the testimonial of an expert. Somehow, one always thinks of this militant Baptist as a contemporary Cromwellian. Alfred G. Gardiner, of the 'Daily News' has gone so far as to suggest that Dr. Clifford must sometimes lament that he was born two and a half centuries too late. 'How joyously would he have had his ears cropped, with what hymns and psalms and spiritual songs he would have rushed to battle and when the victory was won what sermons he would have preached as the sun went down on the carnage of the battlefield.

After the commonwealth had gone down he would have spent his old age,' continues Mr. Gardiner, 'in preaching secretly in out of the way conventicles, in prison often, in the pillory and the stocks more often, harried from parish to parish, a stern invincible old warrior waiting for the return of the saints and keeping the lamp trimmed and burning through the riotous night of the restoration.' To-day, at seventy-four, he is one of the most eager combatants in the public life of the United Kingdom.

Luckily for his American visit, there is just now a lull in popular controversy. The cause at issue has passed for the time from the electoral to the parliamentary arena. Otherwise there would be heard from many quarters a demand for his personal activity in the struggle that it would not be easy for him to resist.

While an uncompromising Puritan, John Clifford is a demagogue in the best sense of the word. No labor leader is more emphatically a man of the people. He has retained until old age the popular sympathies of his earliest days. In his eleventh year he had to leave school and go to work in a lace mill near Notthingham. This was before the factory acts of Lord Shaftsbury brought the protection of the law to those who were oppressed by the prevailing conditions of industrial labor. From the position of a 'jacker off' he was promoted to that of a 'thredder,' where he had to work in a gang, preparing the 'carriages' and the 'bobbins' for the big machines. Young Clifford toiled in this factory, not eight hours a day, but often sixteen and sometimes twenty.

COMMITTEE HEARD MORE ABOUT OIL

A representative of the British American Road Oil Company waited on the Committee of the Whole Council last night, showing samples and giving information regarding the road oils manufactured by his firm and which had received testimonials from many cities using the oils, which do not damage rubber tires. The Board of Works will take up the matter at the next meeting.

New Train Service to "Lake of Bays"

An important feature that will be inaugurated during the coming season will be a new train service to the "Lake of Bays" district. A standard Grand Trunk passenger train will leave Toronto with through coaches, parlor cars and dining cars at 10.15 o'clock in the morning, daily except Sunday, for Huntsville, reaching the latter point at about three o'clock in the afternoon connecting with the steamers for points in the "Lake of Bays" district, and affording passengers the opportunity of reaching their destination in time for dinner.

The Sunday evening boat service from WaWa Hotel, Britannia, Point Ideal, Portage, Deerhurst and other important calling ports on "Lake of Bays" to Huntsville will be run on same schedule as for season 1910, during the months of July and August, and which will be a boon to week-enders desiring to return to the city for business on Mondays.

Our Semi-annual Dress Goods Sale

Wednesday and Thursday

June 7th and 8th

Many inquiries have come to us relative to our Semi-annual June Dress Goods Sale. Will we hold it same as in the past? When will it be? Will it afford ample opportunity to shoppers? To all these we say YES. On each occasion the volume of business we have done has increased. Each sale has out-distanced its predecessor. The reason for this success is easily found in the sterling character of the goods offered, every yard measuring up to the R. F. & Co. standard of quality; the absolute reliability attached to the sale, and the permanent impression the marked reductions have made with our customers. It is therefore with pleasure that we announce that our Semi-annual June Sale of Dress Goods and Suitings will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, June 7th and 8th, the sale commencing at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, and not before.

This magnificent offering will, as on former occasions, be divided into two lots, as follows:—

LOT NO. ONE

Embraces all wool black and colored French Broadcloths, Sedan Cloths, Venetians, Bedford Cords, Panamas, Eoliennes, San Toys, French Twills, Plain Voiles, Fancy Voiles, Empire Twills, Granite Cloth, Melrose Cloth, Silk Warps and Eudora Cloths, that formerly sold at from 85c to $1.50 per yard. Your choice for

50c Yard

POLICE STATION

At the Property Committee meeting held yesterday afternoon, a resolution was carried recommending that the city trust commissioners call for tenders for the erection of a new police station in accordance with plans made by Wm. Blackwell, architect and have them submitted to the City Council before letting the contract.

A clause was also added to the resolution, by which the chairman and Ald. Graham, were appointed a building committee to go over the specifications before submitting them.

The estimated cost of the work is $3,335.

The above was included in the report of the property committee read by Ald. Duncan.

Ald. Buller objected to one clause of the report, which recommended that the milk inspection by-law, provide for the delivery of milk in bottles.

Ald. Edgar asked if there was anything in the by-law which would stop the using of the bottles by customer for coal oil, etc., and the vendors from filling dirty bottles on the street.

Ald. Duncan had the by-law to present to the meeting but it was decided to hold it over for a further discussion.

All other recommendations in the report were passed.

CORRESPONDENCE

Ald. Buller informed the council that he had been in conversation with Mr. Eastwood, president of the Board of Trade, and Mr. D. O'Connell and was assured that the correspondence of the late Industrial Commissioner would be handed over to the council.

RESOLUTION

Ald. Graham seconded by Ald. Kerneghan moved that a resolution of thanks be tendered Mr. J. Harris McClellan for his kindness in placing at the disposal of the council, the "Bessie Butler" on the occasion of the visit of Hon. William Jennings Bryan and Hon. Adam Beck. The motion was unanimously carried.

Moved by Ald. Metheral seconded by Ald. Graham that a resolution of thanks be tendered Mr. J. R. Stratton for inducing the Dominion Government to appropriate $20,000 towards the new wharf at Spaidings Bay, and that the Council desires to express its satisfaction at the completion of the wharf in East City at the foot of Mark Street.

TO NAME STREET

Ald. Brown asked that the street west of Park and connected Sherbrooke and Boliver street be given a name. He also asked that a street from Boliver to Patterson street, near the boundary be opened. The first request was referred to the Property Committee, and the second passed over.

On motion of Ald. Morgan and Anderson the water commissioners will be asked to place a hydrant at the corner of Cambridge and Mc Donnel streets for the Bonner Worth Company.

Ald. Duncan asked that a troublesome crossing on Ware street, be removed. The Board of Works will look after the work.

Ald. Kerneghan asked for the removal of one of the crossings, north of Smith street on Aylmer. The work at this street is on the list so he was informed.

"Is the Property Committee doing anything in regard to a by-law regulating scavenger work," asked Ald. Edgar. It was stated that this question would come up at another meeting.

Ald. Anderson, thought that with a small expenditure, the site of the old drill shed on Mark Street, could be made into a park. The Property Committee will take up the matter.

A number of by-laws received their readings and were passed. Included in the list was one authorizing the conveyance of land for the Protestant Home; one to authorize the borrowing of $10,000 for the erection of a building to be known as the Protestant Home and another to execute an agreement between the city and the Protestant Home Board.

CHIEF'S ACCOUNT PASSED

Clause three, of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, read by Ald. Morgan, found opposition.

It read "That the expenses of the Chief of the Fire Department, to Montreal regarding the fire alarm system amounting to $21.20 be paid.

Ald. Graham moved that the clause be struck out.

Ald. Morgan, as chairman of the committee said that the account had been on file for a long time and he wanted it cleaned up. Yeas and nays were asked for on the motion of Ald. Morgan that the report be adopted and they were:

Yeas—Ald. Buller, Bradburn, Edgar, Kerneghan, Anderson, Morgan. Nays Ald. Duncan, Metheral, Brown, Grahams.

OTONABEE POWER COMPANY'S OFFER BEFORE COUNCIL AGAIN

City Would Get 500 h.p. at $15 per h.p. With 24 Hour Service.

Business Before City Fathers at the Regular Meeting.

In the event of a resolution being passed by the city council asking the government to proceed with such work at dams 4 and 5 as will allow of the Otonabee Power Company proceeding with development work at dam 4, and that work will be done, the city will be given 500 h.p. at $15 per h.p. with a 24 hour service.

Mr. R. R. Hall, of the Otonabee Power Company, wrote the council to this effect and the communication was read at the meeting last night. Mr. Hall, who was present, spoke in connection with the proposition, and in his remarks noted that the company could sell 600 h.p. at $20 per h.p., the name of which he was not in a position to disclose at the present time.

On motion the matter was referred to the Power committee of the council.

Mr. Hall enclosed in his letter a copy of a resolution passed by the city council in 1907, in which the Otonabee Co. agreed to furnish to the city 500 h.p. at $15 per h.p. per annum for a twenty-four hour service. At that time the company obtained an order-in-council from the Department of Railways and Canals authorizing the issue of a lease whereby dams 4 and 5 could be developed under one head. By the time an agreement was reached, however, the severe financial stringency at the time, which affected industries, caused the company to defer action until some certainty of being able to sell at least part of the power could be produced.

In 1909 the government passed an order-in-council amending the former one, in which the government claimed that the lease should make provision that the headrace connecting dams 4 and 5 should be so constructed that it could be made to form part of the Trent canal system in the event of the government deciding to make one lock instead of two at the two dams. This brought about changes in the company's plans, because the water would run through the headrace four times as slow as it would if it were being used solely for power purposes. Now the company have come to an agreement with the government as to the basis upon which the head race can be used by both parties, but engineering difficulties have delayed the development work of the company.

Mr. Hall asked that in view of the offer to the city the council pass a resolution urging the government to proceed with such work as would bring about the development of dam 4 by the Otonabee Power Co.

AMENDMENT TO TARIFF BILL WILL BE MADE BY COMMITTEE

Root Pulp and Paper Clause to be Tacked on as Rider for Consideration of the Senate — Democrats to Oppose Amendment.

Washington, June 7.—Hopes of the administration here that the finance committee of the Senate would report the Canadian reciprocity bill unamended were dashed yesterday, when, after a brief executive session of the committee, it was learned that the Root amendment to the paper and wood pulp section probably would be adopted in modified form.

It was said that, in addition to seven Republican members of the committee, Senators Bailey, Simmons and Johnson, Democrats, would vote for the amendment, while Senators Penrose and Cullom are declared to be with the three Democrats in opposition, thus presaging the adoption of the amendment by a vote of ten to five. Final consideration of the measure will be begun by the committee to-day.

The amendment offered by Senator Root provides that the paper and wood pulp section of the bill shall not be in force until the President shall have satisfactory evidence and shall make proclamation that such wood pulp, paper and board, being the products of the United States, are admitted into all the provinces of Canada free of duty."

It is contended by its opponents that the amendment, raising the question of the Dominion Government's jurisdiction over the provinces, will endanger the measure, a contention that is refuted by those who believe in the provision. The modification of the amendment may have an important bearing on the situation.

Secretary of State Knox was expected to appear before the committee yesterday to explain the agreement between the two Governments, but was prevented, he sent word, by important engagements. The Secretary said he had forwarded to the committee a communication setting forth his views.

A decided majority of the Democrats are favorable to reciprocity, but comparatively recently many of the disposed toward political advantage, made the condition that the Canadian bill should receive no consideration except in connection with the pet Democratic measure. They have abandoned that attitude, and now announce boldly that they will oppose all amendments of whatever nature. They have gone to the extent of rejecting overtures from the progressives, which are coupled with a promise on the part of the latter to tack the free list on to the reciprocity bill.

"We want a vote on the free list," they say, "and shall insist on having it, but it must be separate from reciprocity."

Advocates of the bill are confident of success, but the vote will be preceded for several weeks with intense struggle and strong resistance in the meantime. No one predicts a vote earlier than July 15, and some extend the time by a month.

"And with reciprocity disposed of," declared Senator Stone yesterday, "I should say that we ought to stay here until we merge this session into the next regular session, and that session into the second regular, if we don't get a vote on the free list."

KEPT LIGHT REVOLVING

Lighthouse Keeper's Children Heroes of France

Father Dead, Mother Exhausted, Little Tots Keep it Going

Paris, June 7.—Straining with their tiny arms past the point of weariness where strong men cease from struggling, the two little children of Jean Matelot, keeper of Kerdonis lighthouse, on the southeast point of Belle Ile-En-Mer, a windswept spot on the Brittany coasts, kept the great light revolving through a long night of storm and held the signal true for ships making the perilous passage through the storm.

These tiny tots, aged respectively 7 and 10 years, whose heroism has been brought to the notice of the French Government, took up their task only after death had stilled the laboring hands of their father and their mother had dropped from exhaustion in an effort to care for the stricken father and to repair the broken mechanism of the light.

While cleaning the revolving light, Matelot was stricken with a sudden illness. He stuck to his task and the mechanism was almost in order when he dropped dying beside his work. Noting the strange stillness in the light tower, the wife clambered up the winding stair through a driving gale and, after assisting her dying husband to their tiny house at the foot of the light, she again ascended to the light to carry on the task which for many years has yielded them their scanty living.

As dusk drew on, the gale increased and the skies became overcast. The woman struggled desperately with the machinery which revolves the heavy light. At last her willing arms would respond to her will no longer.

The wife fell where the husband had dropped. When she recovered from her swoon the need for action was borne in on her weary brain, and she forced her tottering limbs to carry her to the cot below. There she arrived just in time to hear her husband's last words, gasped out in a broken voice: "The light—you must fix the light!"

The woman made another effort to mount the tower, but her weary limbs could not drag her through the buffeting wind. She gave up this effort, but sent her two little ones to carry on their father's lifelong task. She knew that the mechanism was out of order, but she knew that the light must be kept revolving if it was not to be mistaken for other fixed lights on the channel, when disaster was almost certain to follow. She told the children that the light must be kept turning, and they mounted to their task.

There, through the long night, they drove their little muscles to the unequal labor. With panting breath and aching arms they kept the great light revolving until daylight came when they dropped at their posts from sheer weariness. When the heroism of the little ones became known among the sailor folk ashore, one old woman piously remarked: "And a little child shall lead them."

Manchester Spinner Docked.

Montreal, June 7.—The steamship Manchester Spinner, which ran aground on her way up the St. Lawrence River at Crane Island, has been examined by divers, after discharging cargo, left for Quebec, where she will be put in drydock.

Preliminary inquiry has been privately held by Capt. Riley. It develops that the injuries are not so trivial as at first supposed, and that only the double bottom of the vessel prevented serious damage. As it is the tanks are badly strained and there is considerable leakage.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY IN SESSION AT OTTAWA TO-DAY

Church Union Question is the biggest one on the Agenda—Election of Moderator.

Ottawa, June 7.—Commissioners to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which opens here to-day, began to arrive yesterday.

Their sojourn will last ten days, which will be fully devoted to the serious and social problems of the great Presbyterian family of the Dominion. Arrangements were made to meet all trains arriving to-day to welcome the delegates. It is estimated fully 500 are present. Ten years ago the largest General Assembly of the Church in Canada convened at Ottawa. Since that time the representation of Presbyteries has been reduced, but those in charge of the arrangements have predicted the largest attendance since the reduction.

Rev. Dr. Forrest, former president of Dalhousie College, as Moderator, will convene the assembly. The choice of his successor in the highest post in the Church is in the hands of the members, but opinion is overwhelming that the honor will fall upon Rev. Dr. R. P. MacKay of Toronto, the general secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Church.

Among the important matters which will come before the assembly the one in which the members are most deeply concerned is the proposition that the Church should unite in an organic way with the Methodists and Congregational Churches of Canada. During the year the question has been voted on by the sixty-eight presbyteries of the Church from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the result shows a decided sympathy on the part of the Ministers and the representative elders in favor of the movement for union.

QUAKES IN SPAIN

Madrid, June 7.—There have been twenty-four slight earthquakes during the past forty-eight hours at Santa Fe, and in that vicinity. No damage has been reported.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.
He is sharply criticized for his lack of imperial spirit. One London newspaper says that it is evident his heart is not with the empire.

After a woman has been a widow about so long she says: "Well, I used to say I'd never marry again, but I don't know."

BRITAIN VS. UNITED STATES

(Chicago Tribune.)

The British tariff commission contends that American and Canadian reciprocity would imperial Imperial unity. It is alleged that it would do so by diverting Canadian trade from British into American channels. It would compel the Dominion to ADAPT ITSELF TO AMERICAN CONTINENTAL ENDS RATHER THAN BRITISH IMPERIAL ENDS.

THESE ARE REASONABLE APPREHENSIONS, which furnish a good ARGUMENT FOR THE CONFIRMATION OF THE RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT. NO SENATOR SHOULD BE SO INTERESTED IN IMPERIAL UNITY AS TO VOTE AGAINST THE RECIPROCITY BILL SO AS NOT TO IMPERIL IT. No Senator should be willing to vote against a measure calculated to expand American at the expense of British trade, by making Canada a still better market for American products.

It is the AIM OF MANY ENGLISHMEN TO ESTABLISH A "POLICY OF PREFERENCE which should make the commercial relations of Great Britain and its colonies more intimate and exclusive, to the prejudice of other nations. THE RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT WOULD BLOCK THAT POLICY as far as Canada is concerned. THE REJECTION OF THE AGREEMENT WOULD BE PLAYING INTO THE HANDS OF THE CHAMBERLAINITES and sacrificing American trade.

ADVISED TO AVOID ROMAN CATHOLICS

Bishop Hamilton Against Inter-Marriage and Its Results

Ottawa, June 7.—"Last year I laid before you a warning advice on the question of marriage with Roman Catholics, and living as we do on very friendly and happy terms with them, it is most painful for me to have to put you, and through you all our parents and young people, on guard against intermarriage with our Catholic neighbors," said Archbishop Hamilton, in opening the Anglican Diocesan Synod here yesterday.

He advised Anglicans to avoid all social intercourse with Roman Catholics, else intermarriage could not be prevented.

Arrested Stock Broker.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 7.—A sensation was caused in town by the arrest of F. W. White, a local stock broker, on a complaint laid by Dr. Moffatt of Richmond. Dr. Moffatt alleges misappropriation of some $8,000, which he had placed with the accused for investment purposes.

The accused appeared before Judge Mulvena and an application was at once made for bail, which was granted, the amount being fixed at $25,000 personal and one other bondsman in $25,000. The preliminary hearing was fixed for Friday, June 9.

Manitoba Crop Report.

Winnipeg, June 7.—The first spring crop report of the Manitoba Government shows splendid conditions. The striking features in the bulletin are: That every item in the bulletin, with the exception of timothy, shows an increase over that of a year ago.

Flax has more than doubled, due to prevailing high price.

Three years ago there was not enough clover or alfalfa to mention; this year the total area under this product is 3,902 acres.

This spring there is an increase of a quarter of a million acres in the land under crop over that of a year ago, which area was an increase of 176,000 acres over any previous year.

Attempted Abduction.

Montreal, June 7.—William S. Waldo of New York was arraigned before Judge Bazin yesterday morning on a charge of attempting to abduct the two-year-old boy of Stewart H. Jones. It appears that there is some difficulty between Mr. Jones and his wife, and Mr. Jones has been granted the custody of the child by the courts.

The complaint against Waldo states that on two different occasions he has attempted to obtain possession of the child. The Thiel Detective Agency have had charge of the case against Waldo and effected his arrest Monday night. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for enquete on the 13th.

Fatal Fall on Steps.

Montreal, June 7.—A man about 55 years of age fell while descending a short flight of steps into a restaurant at 115 St. Paul street yesterday morning, and died. The body has not been identified.

CENSUS MAN IS BACKED BY LAW

Proper Replies to be Insisted on —Prosecution

Ottawa, June 7.—"The work of taking the census is going on well," said Chief Commissioner Archibald Blue yesterday, "and we expect to have it pretty well over on schedule time. We have a few troubles, but they are small."

Asked as to the law under which a Picton farmer was fined $25 for refusing to answer questions put by the enumerator, Mr. Blue pointed to sections 46 to 51 of the Census Act, which provides that as the maximum penalty for each refusal to give the required information.

The only other case of this kind which has been brought to the notice of the Department is that of a Grey County farmer, who gave what the enumerator believed to be an inaccurate statement, afterwards saying to his wife, "Well, he didn't get much out of me."

The enumerator is being instructed to question this man again, and if the answers are still improper, to proceed against him.

FOUR TRAINS IN WRECK

Cars of First Thrown Across Double Track

Five Killed, Four Injured and Four Missing

Special to the Review.

Fairfield, Conn., June 7.—Five trainmen were killed and three others were critically injured, and four are missing as a result of four freight trains piling into each other on the New York-New Haven and Hartford line at midnight. In the first accident the train left the rails and the cars were thrown across a double track. The other trains crashed into the wreckage at short intervals.

QUAKE RECORDED AT WASHINGTON

Lasted for Ten Minutes—Reported From Other Points

Special to the Review.

Washington, D.C., June 7.—The most severe earthquake ever recorded here occurred at 6.07 this morning and lasted for ten minutes. The quake was also reported from other parts of the country, and it is believed that the disturbance was in Alaska or South America.

Niagara Camp Opens.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 7.—Companies of khaki-clad soldiers were lined up yesterday all over Niagara common. The new uniforms, while not so picturesque as the familiar scarlet, have the advantage of being much more business-like. Linen shirts and trousers of an olive color are used for drill purposes, while the scarlet uniforms are still used for dress parades and walking out.

Squad drill and rifle and musketry exercises were on the program for the day, but skirmishing and drill in extended order was also indulged in. Instruction in musketry has already commenced under the supervision of Captain W. P. Butcher, the men of the 12th York Rangers having been supplied with Ross rifles. The smallness of the camp this year will enable the instructors to give more individual attention to musketry, a very important part of the training. Actual shooting on the ranges began this morning.

AVIATOR THOUGHT TO BE DROWNED

Monoplane May Have Fallen Into Corsican Waters

Nice, France, June 7.—That Lieut. Bague, of the French army, who started Monday morning from Nice on an aeroplane flight for Corsica, has met death in the venture is now considered almost certain. Torpedo-boat destroyers and other naval craft have searched in vain for any tidings of the missing aviator.

A fisherman at the Garoupe lighthouse, on the extremity of Cape Antibes, says that he saw a monoplane several miles out to sea about an hour after Bague made his start. As he watched, the machine turned to the right, as if the pilot wished to return to the shore. It was pitching and lurching heavily.

The fisherman became busy with the lines for a few moments, and when he looked again, the aeroplane had vanished. There were no vessels in sight and the fisherman believes that the monoplane fell into the sea, although he could not affirm this as a certainty.

REV. DR. GRIFFIN ATTACKS UNION AS BREACH OF FAITH

But Conference Passes Resolution by Overwhelming Vote.

Galt, June 7.—"Enter into Church union under the present proposed basis and you violate a sacred promise; you break faith with the dead," said Rev. Dr. W. S. Griffin, treasurer of the Superannuation Fund of the Methodist Church, in a vigorous attack on the union basis, with particular reference to the superannuation provision, at the resumption of the Church union debate before the Hamilton Conference yesterday morning. "At my time of life I personally cannot feel anxious over the working out of this basis. It is for the prospective claimants and the widows and orphans of our dear brethren who died in full confidence that the precious trust left in charge of the conference would be safely and sacredly guarded that I feel deep concern," he said.

It was 11.30 o'clock before the question was finally put to a vote. Rev. A. I. Terryberry's amendment advocating federal union as a prelude to inevitable organic union was submitted to a standing vote and was lost 17 to 143. The original resolution declaring Church union desirable and its proposed basis practicable gained a substantial majority, 149 votes being cast in its favor and 27 against it.

SHOOTING PAINS IN SIDE, ARMS, BACK

Prove the Presence of Rheumatic Virus, Which Is Cured Quickest by Nerviline—Rub It In.

Pains in the muscles, in the sides, the back, the neck, or the chest—they always carry with them great discomfort. If the inflammation is severe the pain will be intense. If allowed to continue they are dangerous. Nothing so quickly cures local inflammation and drives away pain as Nerviline. Nerviline does this because it penetrates so deeply. Nerviline is not only powerful, but soothing. By relieving congestion it cures pain. It does this always. It cannot fail because it is a true antidote for pain. You can scarcely find anybody that will not tell you wonderful things about the pain-curing power of Nerviline. Remember, that there is not an ache or pain that Nerviline will not cure immediately. Nerviline is an anchor of health in every household.

Refuse anything that may be offered you instead of Nerviline, which is guaranteed for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, and all muscular aches and pains.

INFANT MORTALITY

The Ontario Government has issued a blue-book on "Infant Mortality," written by Dr. Helen MacMurchy, of Toronto, that contains much valuable information. In this report the ratio of deaths of infants under one year to the number of deaths for 1908 is given. It will be noted that Peterborough infant mortality rate is one of the lowest in the province. The report is:

Belleville	197.6
Brantford	159.1
Chatham	179.0
Fort William	248.8
Guelph	185.7
Hamilton	191.5
Kingston	179.7
London	200.2
Niagara Falls	219.6
Ottawa	256.0
Peterborough	169.9
Port Arthur	243.3
St. Catharines	170.1
Stratford	136.2
St. Thomas	185.6
Toronto	193.4
West Toronto	191.7
Windsor	169.0
Woodstock	89.0

The following excerpts from the report will be of general interest:

What we want is the ordinary Canadian baby. We have the fathers and mothers, and we must see that they can get good milk, good air, and good water.

The destruction of the poor is their poverty. The rich baby lives—the poor baby dies. Certified milk costs eighteen cents a quart to-day in Toronto. We cannot give everybody certified milk, but we must see that the poor man's milk is good enough to keep his baby alive. What is the use of milk legislation or medical health officers, if they cannot do that?

The mother is the only one who can save the baby. But what should the sanitary and medical authorities do for the mother.

One great thing we can do for the mother is to find her a decent house, a clean street and a clean back yard. The mother is always fighting against dirt. Dust and dirt and flies—these are the things that the good housekeeper wages war against.

The places where the big infant mortality occurs are parts of certain cities where there are houses in which the Edinburgh aristocracy lived in the 17th and 18th centuries. There you shall see ten mean houses in a row, with one water-tap out on the street, which is their one source of water supply. How can the mother keep things clean? There you shall see whole districts where that abomination, miscalled a sanitary convenience, recalls to one the unmentionable filth of the seventeenth century.

There you shall see back to back houses—houses unfit for human habitation—houses unfit for a dog-kennel—houses that Hercules himself, who cleansed the Augean stables, would refuse to take the contract to clean. And we expect the poor woman bearing the burden of motherhood to do it! That house was probably old and filthy when she came to it. The lack of any convenience, sanitary or otherwise, no bath—no sink even sometimes, an unpaved street or lane outside, and a good deal of dirt constantly coming into the house in various ways—the sum total of these things is too much, and it is harder on the mother than the father, because she is in the house nearly all the time and has but little recreation or amusement, while the tendency to deterioration of character and conduct in such a house is great.

No wonder that Dr. Hastings, medical health officer of Toronto, is now getting information as to the housing problem in Toronto. But the city still sleeps on, though it shows some signs of waking soon. It cannot wake too soon, for there were born in Toronto 1908, 7,618 children. And 1,215 children,—or 159 in 1,000, died before they were one year old.

What is the greatest cause of infant mortality? In short, what kills the baby? Dr. Newsholme's answer is in these words: "Infant mortality is highest where, under urban conditions of life, filthy privies are permitted, where scavenging is neglected, and where the streets and yards are to a large extent not 'made up' or paved. The local sanitary authorities are largely responsible for the continuance of excessive infant mortality, and until they fulfil satisfactorily their elementary tasks, efforts in the direction of domestic hygiene can only be partially successful. Diarrhoea is most prevalent where municipal sanitation is bad. It cannot be entirely removed unless infants' food is prepared under cleanly conditions. Sanitary authorities, in the words of Sir John Simon, the first medical officer of the local government board, are the "appointed guardians for masses of human beings whose lives are at stake in the business."

In each 100 deaths among children under two years of age 37 are caused by diseases of the digestive system; 23 by the impure air diseases; 19 by defects or accidents of birth; 9 by acute contagious diseases; 3 by diseases of the nervous system; 2 by tuberculosis; 2 by violence; 1 by venereal diseases, etc., 70 per cent. of such deaths can be avoided—with proper care.

There is a general feeling that we shall not make the progress that we might in preventing infant mortality until we teach the proper care of the baby where we teach everything else, viz., in the school.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is probable that the provincial board of health will again order all dogs to be muzzled in the hot weather. Because there was an epidemic of rabies a couple of years ago, why should the cruelty of muzzling be perpetuated? One swallow does not make a summer, and one vicious dog does not make the whole canine tribe mad from the heat.

A new provincial law has come into force, under proclamation, by which the province is declared the owner of the beds of all navigable streams except where express grants are made, and not the owners of the foreshore. The provision would lead one to think that as soon as a stream ceased to be navigable the province lost its title thereto, and it reverted to whoever claimed it before, or whoever made claim to it at that time.

Now that Hon. Mr. Fisher has said that he favors a system of gag to stop parliamentary discussion, the opposition will sit weekly and humbly in the house with hands crossed, when house reassembles to fight out reciprocity. Reciprocity must not be obstructed; everyone must sit with bated breath while the Taft alliance is consummated, for fear of being "gagged."

The Lid on In Chatham.

Chatham, June 7.—Cigars may not be purchased in Chatham on Sunday after this date. Heretofore smokers might buy a cigar at a drug store or a hotel on Sunday, but very religious persons did not think it Christian and proper that they should have this privilege, and police are now enforcing the law that prohibits Sunday selling of this nature. Officers yesterday notified the hotels and drug stores that they must not in future sell cigars on Sunday.

Say Strike Is Imminent.

London, June 7.—The officials of the sailors' union persist in their statements that a strike is imminent and that preparations for this are complete. Signs of activity in the dock district are absent, however, although placards posted everywhere enjoin the seamen to await the signal. Other unions closely connected with the maritime trades have as yet received no intimation of the sailors' intentions.

Liverpool Exchange Closed, Chicago Wheat Close Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Ending of the hot weather scare pulled support to-day out from under the wheat market. There was also a growing belief that the reciprocity bill would pass the senate. In consequence a decidedly weak feeling prevailed the greater part of the time, with the close 1⅛c to 1¼c lower than last night. The final gong left corn ⅝c to 1¼c to 1⅜c down, oats off ⅞c, and hog products higher by 5c to 15c.

The Liverpool Grain Exchange was closed to-day for the Whitsuntide holidays. Antwerp closed ⅝c lower on wheat, Budapest 2c lower, and Berlin ½c lower, compared with last Friday.

MONTREAL, June 6.—There was a slight improvement in the demand for oats from local buyers, but the market on the whole was quiet, with no change in prices to note. There was some inquiry for Manitoba feed barley, but owing to the small stock on spot buyers found it difficult to fill their wants. A fairly good trade continues to be done in flour, and the tone of the market is firm. Millfeed is quiet, but steady.

Exporters.

There were seven or eight loads of good to choice exporters sold at $5.90 to $6.25. The two best loads were brought in by Wm. Stinson of Gorrie and B. Kerwin of Clifford. Mr. Stinson's load sold at $6.25, and Mr. Kerwin's load was bought by McDonald & Halligan at $6.20, and resold by them to the Harris Abattoir Company at $6.30 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers' cattle sold at $6 to $6.10, and one extra choice lot of six cattle at $6.25; loads of good to choice, $5.70 to $5.95; medium, $5.40 to $5.65; cows, $4 to $5.40; bulls, $4 to $5.10.

Stockers and Feeders.

Short-keep feeders, $5.60 to $5.75; feeders, 850 to 1000 lbs., $5.35 to $5.55; stockers, $4.75 to $5.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Prices ranged at from $40 to $60 for good to choice cows, with common at $33 to $37 each. Drovers will need to go easy on the milch cow end of their business.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was firmer, at $4 to $7 per cwt., or an average of $6.40 per cwt. A very few calves of choice quality were reported at $8.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep were about $1 per cwt. lower in price, ewes selling at $3.50 to $4.50 per cwt.; rams, $3 to $3.50 per cwt.; yearling lambs, $5.50 to $6.50; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

The hog market continues firm, sales of selects, fed and watered at the market, being quoted at $6.95, and $6.45 f.o.b. cars at country points.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"Eh, truly, Anatole," she added, with some asperity, tapping the other's arm with her fan, "you cannot keep your mind on the game, and so we are unable to play. Will you surrender your place to Colonel Moreau?"

"It seems to me that I have already done that," he responded gloomily.

With as good grace as possible yielding to the dictates of courtesy, Kirby unwillingly terminated his tete-a-tete with Adele, and as he approached the card table his place was promptly preempted by the young Creole, who followed Miss Randall to the balcony. It was the first time he had been alone with Adele, and his long repressed emotion and bitterness found vent.

"Ah, mamzelle, it is true," he said reproachfully. "You are changed—so quickly. Yes, you will say I wanted to see you happier, but I also had wished to be the one to make you so. Adele," he added earnestly, striving to take her hand, "if this difference in you comes only from the gratitude you feel to—to Colonel Moreau because he tried to protect your father I shall be happy. But how have this man bewitched you that"— "I don't understand you, Anatole," she said quietly, drawing away.

"'Tis I that do not understand you, Adele. I think you know from the first he is not Colonel Moreau. I have some very strange suspicion of him."

Instantly the woman in her was up in arms, seeking to defend, eager to do battle for the object it sought to shield. "It is enough that I know he is a man who has had a great wrong done him. That's one way of making a woman believe that you love her—when she's trying to help some one in trouble, make it harder for her—be jealous," she finished, with a bitter laugh.

"I am jealous—I do not deny that. But I am, first of all things, a man of honor," he said quietly enough, although white with anger. His voice trembled with emotion as he added, with simple dignity: "Do you think a man of honor have suspicion of a rival only because he is jealous? Do you think I would suspect him only for that?"

"I can't discuss it with you," she returned coldly. Leaning on the balcony railing, she promptly became absorbed in the wonders of the night.

Recognizing the sign of dismissal, he yet hesitated, miserably conscious that he had offended, but still feeling justified in the position he had assumed, still holding that those emotions which had prompted his words were but natural, impersonal and sincere. It was his right to protect the girl he loved from the wiles of a nameless adventurer, of whose integrity he had the gravest doubts. It was his right to protect her from herself, for, deny it as she might, it was all too bitterly apparent that this debonair impostor had succeeded where others had failed and that Adele had discarded all sorrow with her mourning and was yielding to a fascination that he firmly believed would prove her ruin.

While he still hesitated, afraid to make an enemy of the girl he loved, yet stubborn in his resolution to thwart Kirby, Aaron Randall, suspecting some such controversy as had taken place, joined them on the balcony, and Anatole, with evident relief, turned again to Adele.

"Mademoiselle, here is your cousin. He will not be thought to be jealous," he said gravely. "I ask him to tell you what he will not tell me. I ask him to tell you what he thinks about this gentleman."

"Cousin Aaron," replied the girl, turning and confronting the two from whom she had most to fear, "in my brother's absence you respect my authority here, do you not? Very well, then. My introduction of this gentleman as Colonel Moreau is enough for you."

"It must be, Cousin Adele," replied Aaron, evidently greatly perplexed and troubled.

"And I am responsible for my actions only to my brother," added the girl, looking directly at M. Veaudry.

He flushed under the scrutiny of her eyes and the significant inflection of her voice.

"In his absence I would protect you. I would act for him," he protested desperately.

"You may when you have his authority. Until then I bid you adieu." And, with an elaborate courtesy and pleasant smile, she vanished through the window, while the gentlemen remained on the balcony, a prey to the most disquieting thoughts.

"You see how she have change—in this one day—with him," bitterly exclaimed Anatole, pointing through the open window to where in a distant corner of the room Kirby sat at the card table. Mr. Randall merely nodded and gloomily chewed his cheroot. He was facing a difficult problem and praying for the arrival of young Randall.

Presently from the music room there came the subdued harmony of a guitar and harp, and when the soft prelude had finished Adele's fine contralto took up the theme, singing. "I sent thee late a rose wreath, not so much honoring thee." It was Kirby's favorite song, snatches of which Anatole had heard the other humming at intervals since his arrival. Clearer, sweeter, purer sounded the words until the music ascended like an anthem and came stealing out of the window to mingle with the soft murmur of the night, to blend with the unheard, far distant harmony of the stars. Anatole stood transfixed, a prey to the bitterest emotions to which man was ever hostage.

"You hear?" he cried passionately, turning to Aaron. "For the first time since how long? Now she wear no more black. Now she is no more silent. Now she sing, not for her brother, not for those who love her, not for me"—

"No; it's for Colonel Moreau," finished the older man, throwing away his cigar.

The creole laughed harshly, contemptuously, his black eyes snapping with passion. "For 'Colonel Moreau?' I dare you—look me in the face and say that man is Colonel Moreau," waving a trembling hand to the window.

"I shall tell you nothing," replied Aaron sternly. "No matter what I suspect, I don't know. And I won't let a man be killed until I do know."

"When you met this man you did not know him," said Anatole, with slow significance. "I think to myself—who can he be? I make a guess and another guess and another guess, but I am not sure."

"Exactly," commented Mr. Randall, with some sharpness. "There you are. You are not sure. Neither am I. There is nothing to do but to await Tom Randall's arrival or, failing that, some authority from him, instructing us how to act; otherwise our honor binds us, and we must meet this difficult matter with such patience and fortitude as we may possess. At the same time I thoroughly understand your feelings, and you have my entire sympathy. Let us pray this unbearable suspense will soon be terminated, for I make a poor and unwilling conspirator."

Meanwhile, at the card table, Messrs. Kirby and Bunce had been acting, for the benefit of the audience, a farce comedy bordering on the burlesque. Two seasoned gamblers, men who knew every game and trick embraced in cards and to whom the pasteboards were as familiar as one's knife and fork, it was somewhat difficult to simulate that chronic state of ignorance for which their self relegated position in society should attest.

Moreover, Kirby's native histrionic ability was badly handicapped by his thoughts being solely centered upon the now absent Adele, while the worthy Bunce's natural clumsiness was greatly enhanced by anxiety over their mutual safety, re-enforced by a perspiring embarrassment at finding himself a unit of such society. Happily for them their partners were not of a suspicious or inquiring turn of mind and were entirely engrossed with the game.

"I CAN'T DISCUSS IT WITH YOU," SHE SAID COLDLY.

"You gentlemen know the cards a little?" Mme. Davezac had ventured, with a charming and guileless belief in their ignorance. "Well, we shall teach you something new of the game, maybe."

"I'll be glad to learn something new about it," Kirby replied, with gravity and perfect truth.

Mme. Davezac, with sadly amateurish fingers, assisted with many a flourish, intended to impress the presumable tyros with a fitting admiration for her skill, proceeded to cut the deck, while Bunce eyed her gloomily and mentally criticised what he termed a "dirty riffle." His professional dignity was outraged by the fact that she had cut to the last card and then serenely reunited the deck, and, forgetting himself, he was about to assert his rights and demand a new shuffle when a warning kick from Kirby checked him.

"Ah, 'tis your deal," Mme. Davezac at length exclaimed, tendering the cards to Bunce. "First you must make the cards well—mix them, so—like you saw me. See, you suf-fel, as they call it. You think you can do that?"

Vedrine Has an Accident.

Buc, France, June 7.—Pierre Vedrine, winner of the Paris to Madrid flight, left the aerodrome here at 3.31 yesterday morning for Nice, 537 miles, the end of the first stage of the Paris-Rome-Turin air race. Four of the contestants have reached Rome, and are preparing to resume their flight to Turin.

Vedrine, flying at an altitude of 3,000 feet, encountered a violent wind, which rocked his machine and compelled him to make a rough landing just outside Macon. He was uninjured, but his aeroplane was damaged, and as he had planned to make the first stage in one day, will return to Paris.

MISSED THE KANGAROO.

The Hunter Was After Meat, but Got Instead a Stone.

In 1889 a hunter in New South Wales took a fancy for some kangaroo meat, so he made a trip through the mulga with no companion but his gun. He had no need of either guides or dogs, as he was an experienced bushman.

The first kangaroo sighted was wounded by him, but not badly enough to disable it. Before he could get in another shot it made off through the salt bush at a terrific pace, but leaving a plain trail in drops of blood, so the hunter followed as fast as he could.

The trail gradually grew fainter as the wounded animal bled less freely, and its pursuer was often obliged to stoop and examine the ground closely for the telltale signs. After several hundred yards had been covered without seeing any more crimson spots the hunter began to think his quarry had escaped, when he saw a single fleck of red before him.

As he bent to look for more flecks the red changed to an iridescent pale green, and he say it was a gem stone that lay before him. The kangaroo was not bagged, but the White Cliffs opal fields were discovered.—New York Press.

A Fish Aids Science.

There appears to be no limit to scientific curiosity, especially in Germany. Not long ago a scientist of Leipzig, wishing to ascertain whether fish are warmer than the water they live in, stuck a needle connected with a thermoelectric circuit into a living fish in an aquarium. The needle formed one element of the circuit, while the other element was immersed in the same water that contained the fish. The latter was not seriously injured by the needle and quickly became indifferent to it. Then as the fish swam about, carrying the needle, the ingenious savant closed the circuit and kept watch of the galvanometer. It showed no deflection whatever, from which he concluded that the fish and the water were precisely equal in temperature, for had either been warmer than the other a current would have been generated in the circuit.—Chicago Record-Herald.

RELIC OF ANTIQUITY.

The Seal That Is So Often Used on Legal Documents.

A most absurd thing connected with legal business is the little piece of red, green or blue paper or daub of sealing wax which we often place at the end of a signature to a deed, will or other important document.

It is a very small thing in size, but one to which a great deal of importance is frequently given. It is a relic of antiquity, and no plausible excuse can be invented for continuing its use.

Some of the more progressive states have practically abolished its use by legislation, which deprives it of any technical legal significance. In others, however, it is still used with all seriousness and solemnity, and an almost magical value is given to it by dignified judges that is little less than ridiculous.

A man died years ago, leaving part of his estate to another to enjoy while he lived, with the privilege of devising it at his death to others whom he might select by a writing under his "hand and seal." A writing was executed so devising the property, but it was contested by others claiming the property upon the technical ground that the paper contained no seal after the signature and the devise was therefore void.

A wise Philadelphia judge closely scrutinized the signature and after carefully listening to the arguments of lawyers decided that at the end of the signature there was an extra scroll or flourish made with the pen with which the signature was made and that this was sufficient in law to constitute a seal.—Case and Comment.

HER HOMEMADE HAT.

It Brought a Proposal That She Promptly Turned Down.

The bohemians were making merry in the dim lit studio discussing the latest novel that one of their number was trying to write, the brutal editor who had refused the best article ever written—a masterpiece of the host—bemoaning the nonintelligence of the art critics, execrating the mercenary theatrical manager and utterly repudiating the general public—the vast horde of the Philistines. By way of diversion the painter of pastel portraits said to the bachelor maid:

"That's a charming hat you have on. Who else would know enough to combine turquoise and old rose? You have a genius for color. What a pity you only write!"

"Glad you like my hat, anyway. I made it myself. I trust it will only enhance its merit in your eyes to know that it cost me but 50 cents."

"Impossible!" screamed all the bohemians with one breath, ceasing their arguments in order to take notice of the vastly becoming creation which capped the bachelor maid's brown hair.

"Fifty cents, did you say?" asked the man who once wrote a poem—aye, and had it published. Then rising, placing his hand above his heart, bowing low and solemnly, he said: "Fair one, will you be my wife? All my life I have been looking for a woman who could trim her own hats for nothing. Pray be mine."

"Nixie!" scoffed the bachelor maid cruelly. "All my life I have been looking for a man who would be willing and able to pay $50 for my hats."—New York Press.

TAKE GIN PILLS

TYNESIDE P.O., ONT.

"I received your sample of GIN PILLS and after using them, I felt so much better that I got a box at my druggist's, and now I am taking the third box.

The pain across my back and kidneys has almost entirely gone and I am better than I have been for years, I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism but it has all left me. I strongly advise all women, who suffer from Pain In The Back and Weak Kidneys, to try GIN PILLS. MRS. T. HARRIS.

Thousands of women, right here in Canada, owe their robust health, their strength and vigor, their bright eyes and rosy cheeks—to GIN PILLS. And they know that GIN PILLS will cure the Kidney and Bladder Troubles with which so many women suffer.

Do just as Mrs. Harris did—first, write for a free sample box of GIN PILLS and try them. Then, if they do you good, get the regular 50c boxes at your dealer's. Your money promptly refunded if GIN PILLS fail to give relief. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. B, Toronto. 56

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any 's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

Rub It In
And The Pain Comes Out

Pains and aches will come to every household, and the prudent mother keeps a bottle of Father Morriscy's Liniment on hand to meet them.

Whether it's cuts or bruises, burns or frost-bites, chapped hands or chilblains, sprains or sore muscles, back ache, tooth-ache, ear ache, rheumatism, sore throat or pain in the chest,

Father Morriscy's Liniment gives prompt relief.

It "rubs in" quickly and thoroughly, going right to the seat of the pain. Scarcely a trace of it stays on the skin. That is one reason why it is so effective.

With a bottle of Father Morriscy's Liniment in the house you can save yourself and your family hours and hours of needless pain.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid. something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

LIVELY DISCUSSION AT THE BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETING

Should the Names of Tenderers for School Improvements be Published — Resignations and Appointments—Cadet Inspection June 9th—Accounts Passed

An interesting little discussion occurred at the meeting of the Board of Education last evening, owing to a division of opinion among the members as to the advisability of publishing the names of the tenderers and the amount of their tenders for the several works to be undertaken at the different schools in the city. Mr. V. Eastwood vigorously held that they should be, on the ground that the Board should have nothing to conceal from the public, and also to the fact that it is the policy of all public concerns to publish tenders for their work. It was also advanced by one in favor of the innovation, that not to publish them had a tendency to lessen competition in future. Mr. Hill remarked that to do so, would be to establish a precedent. The latter also was led to believe that by Mr. Eastwood's suggestion, the report of the chairman of the Property Comittee was being questioned. One member also stated that his opinion was that the public should know, and that they should invariably be aware of the names and amounts of the tenders. As an example, Mr. Fair said, suppose three or four tenders are submitted for school supplies, what opinion would the public have of the tenderer whose price was away above the others. Mr. Eastwood finally made a motion to the effect that the tenders for schools be published in future. Colonel Miller seconded the motion. The others on the Board, however, were opposed to the motion and it accordingly found no backers except the two members mentioned, when voted upon.

The following was the report which evoked the discussion and which was adopted.

To the chairman and members of the Board of Education—

Gentlemen—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows:

As authorized, your committee had plans drawn by Mr. Blackwell, architect, for the several works to be undertaken at the different schools, and after carefully considering the plans and specifications submitted, your committee advertised for tenders and beg to recommend.

1st. That the contract for the completion of the 3rd. flat at the King Edward, be awarded to Messrs. Rose and Hickey for the sum of $2,495.00, and that Mr. Adam Hall be awarded the contract for the heating and plumbing of this building at $1,616.00

2nd. That Mr. W. J. Johnston be awarded the contract for the work to be undertaken at the Central school building for the sum of $4,460.00, and that the contract for the plumbing and heating of this building be awarded to Mr. R. G. Sturgeon, at $537.00.

3rd. That Mr. C. A. J. Duranceau be awarded the contract for the heating, plumbing, ventilation, etc. of the old Collegiate building for the sum of $3,323.47.

These are the lowest tenders in each case.

All of which are respectfully submitted,

R. FAIR,
Chairman.

CADET INSPECTION

On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the annual inspection of the Collegiate Institute cadets will take place, and a letter was read asking that the Board arrange to have the inspecting officer driven to and from the grounds on that afternoon. The letter furthermore requested all the members of the Board to strive to attend the inspection. The event will be held at Riverside Park.

The following report of the Committee of appointments was read by the chairman, W. H Hill and adopted.

COMMITTEE OF APPOINTMENTS

Your Committee of Appointments have carefully considered the matters referred to it, and beg leave to report and recommend the following:—

1 That the following teachers be re-appointed on the Public School and Kindergarten staffs at salaries according to the schedule adopted by the Board—

H. A. Yenney, R. F. Downey, W. L. C. Richardson, J. W. Kelly, J. M. Roszel, M. H. Park, F. E. Kerr, W. H. Walkey, W. J. Stacey, W. J. Neale, Miss E. Morrow, Miss M. Hallett, Miss K. Martin, Miss D. Morley, Miss E. Thomlinson, Miss E. B. Smith, Miss E. Jenkins, Miss A. E. Peters, Miss M. Morrow, Miss C. Cairns, Miss E. L. Thomas, Miss L. Perrin, Miss M. Denne, Miss E. Carey, Miss B. L. Thompson, Miss M. F. Erskine, Miss M. Ross, Miss M. E. Stubbs, Miss J. Lightfoot, Miss M. R. Rannie, Miss E. Brown, Miss A. Staples, Miss J. Jackson, Miss M. Moore, Miss M. Cadwell, Miss L. C. Cadwell, Miss S. E. Carmichael, Miss F. Walker, Miss L. A. McDonald, Miss L. Elliott, Miss E. McQuarrie, Miss P. S. Bennett, Miss M. R. Warner, Miss L. H. Rush, Miss A. Gillespie, Miss A. H. Cameron.

That the following special teachers of Manual Training, Household Science Art and Music, employed jointly by the Education Department and the Board of Education be re-appointed at salaries according to schedule—

Miss Steinhoff, Miss McRae, Miss Davies, A. F. Hagerman.

3. That Miss Esme Thomlinson, who has been supplying on the staff, be appointed permanently from the 1st of September at the minimum salary for teachers holding second class certificates.

4. That Miss Olive M. Fisher, Miss J. M. V. Runnings, and Miss Lillian Ord, the holders of first class certificates, and Miss Florence E. Foster the holder of a second class certificate be appointed to the Public School staff at minimum salaries according to certificate and schedule.

5. That Mr. Walter Northcott be appointed janitor of the Central school buildings, salary to be according to schedule and duties to start 1st July. There were a number of excellent applicants and your committee selected Mr. Northcott because of his successful experience in similar work, and his general qualifications.

6. To remove all ambiguity in the agreement made with the teachers, your committee recommend that clause 6. be amended and read as follows—

"The Board of Education and the teacher may, at their option, respectively terminate this engagement, prior to or subsequent to the expiration of said year, by giving notice in writing to the other of them at least two calendar months previously, but so that such engagement may terminate on the last day of December or March."

And that the following additional clause be added to the agreement—

"Teachers desiring re-appointment on the termination of their contract, (30th of June) shall give notice in writing to the secretary of the Board, previous to date of termination of said contract."

7. Your committee would further recommend that this amended agreement be signed by the members of the Public School teaching staff according to the regulations of the Education Department.

8. That Mr. E. C. Srigley, be appointed a member of the Board of Examiners for the entrance examinations.

9. As authorized, your committee have advertised for two kindergarten directresses, and the applicants will be dealt with at a later date.

10. Your committee would recommend that in the event of duly qualified candidates presenting themselves for training as assistant kindergarten teachers, that such candidates be trained by the directress of the Queen Alexandra Kindergarten class.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. HILL.

H. R. H. Kenner wrote the Board asking for several little improvements at the Collegiate. The matter was referred to the Supervision Committee with power to act, and Property Committee with power to act.

EFFICIENT CADET CORPS

Regarding the letter of inspection Colonel Miller said that last year the inspection was highly complimentary to the cadet corps. Harry Hall, the commanding officer at the time had handled the corps as well as any officer in Peterboro could have done. But the inspection had not been attended by the people said Colonel Miller. One had said to him, where on earth are all your people. The local cadet corps has earned the honor of being termed one of the best in the Dominion. Dr. Morrison moved that at this inspection a formal invitation be extended to every body to attend.

W. H Hill moved that the schools be opened after the summer holidays on the day after Labor Day, Sept. 5th. It was carried.

In regard to the school children taking part in the Coronation celebration Dr. Morrison said that the Supervision Committee had appointed their chairman and another member to confer with a central committee about the matter, but so far nothing had resulted.

TO PURCHASE CHARTS

It was decided to purchase a cabinet and 13 charts known as industrial charts for use in the public schools costing about 35. The charts consist of exhibits of coal, silk, etc. They make the study of these, different, interesting and very intelligible

Letters of resignation were received from the following:—John Simpson, janitor of Central school; Miss McBride, Miss B. M. Brown and J. H. Linklater, teachers, and letters of acceptance of positions were read from the following:—Miss Ord, Miss Rummings, Miss Fisher and Miss F. E. Foster.—Received.

WHAT'S ON TO-NIGHT

Rex Theatre, two performances.

This furnace is built to keep gas, dust and smoke out of the house.

No matter how cosy your home, an odor of gas, however slight, is unpleasant and sometimes dangerous.

The health of your whole house demands a furnace that will give pure warm air without gas or dust.

Gas cannot escape from a "Hecla" Furnace. Every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an opening has been made absolutely tight by our Patent Fused Joint.

The constant expansion and contraction of the steel and iron parts cannot break this joint.

THE FUSED JOINT

In the "Hecla" the steel sides of the radiator are fused by our patented process to the cast iron plates at the top and bottom. This process welds the steel and iron into one piece, making an inseparable joint—one that cannot spread with the heat, and one that has proven perfectly gas and dust proof, even after years of service.

"Hecla" Furnace

The "Hecla" has other safeguards against gas. The cast iron Combustion Chamber will not burn through and allow fumes from the fire to pass into the house.

The air jets in the door assure proper burning of any surplus gas.

The Automatic Gas Damper prevents danger from gas puffs.

There is a special dust flue to carry the ash dust up the chimney.

The "Hecla" Saves One Ton of Coal in Seven

How steel ribs added to the "Hecla" Fire Pot make this saving is told in our booklet "Comfort & Health."

IMPOSED A FINE OF $25

Procurer for Blacklister Pleaded Guilty to Charge

Walter C. Flint was in police court this morning on a charge of begging, without a certificate from the proper authorities commending him to the public. His home, he said. was in Cobourg. His Worship allowed him to go back to that town, with the remark "that we don't want professional beggars here."

FINE OF $25.

Percy Gould was called to face a charge of procuring liquor for a blacklister. He pleaded guilty.

"You are twice as bad as the man that drinks," said Magistrate Dumble when he ordered him to pay a fine of $25. The offender had not the money handy, so he takes the alternative of 30 days in jail.

SOME FACTORIES REFUSED TO SELL

Mr. Gillespie Was the Heaviest Buyer—High Price 11c

At the Peterboro Cheese Board this morning Messrs. J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay, and G. Gillanders, London, Eng., were visitors. Mr. Gillanders in response to Mr. Switzer's welcome, said he regarded Peterboro cheese as the best he has handled. As regards to the handling and marketing of cheese in Canada, it was probably superior to that of the Old Land. He said he would carry back with him pleasant memories of the Peterboro Cheese Board.

There were 2785 cheese boarded this morning. Several factories did not sell.

Mr. Watkins opened at 10 7-8c, and Mr. Gillespie raised to 11c. calling Keene, Warminster, Shearer, Central Smith, Selwyn, Villiers, Warsaw, Westwood, and Trewern.

Mr Thompson and Mr. Lang bid at the same moment and by mutual consent called alternately at 11c, the former taking, Myrtle, Young's Point, Lang, Indian River, and Fleetwood; while the latter took Daisy D., Ormonde, Norwood, and Killarney.

G. A. Gillespie offered 10 15-16 for the rest of the board, only getting Bensfort, as the Oakdale, Pinegrove, Maple Leaf, North Drummer, East Emily and Cederdale refused to sell.

The Board adjourned for two weeks with permission to factories unsold to sell off the board.

The factories boarded as follows—

Keene	70
Warminster	120
Shearer	80
Central Smith	132
Selwyn	133
Villiers	85
Warsaw	180
Westwood	148
Oakdale	115

DROPPED DEAD IN HIS YARD

Summons Came Suddenly to J. J. Butler

J. J. Butler, 137 Lake street, the well-known expressman and carter, died suddenly this morning after leaving the house to attend to his horse.

It had been his custom to meet the early trains for the mail and he left the house as usual about 6.30 o'clock this morning. When the family arose and Mrs. Butler went into the yard her husband was lying in front of the stable door lifeless. The cause was heart trouble.

The late Mr. Butler, a son of the late Pierce Butler, was born in Norwood fifty-three years ago. He came to Peterborough when he was 32 years old and shortly after was married. He has been engaged in the express and carting business for a number of years and was generally known for his obliging disposition.

Besides his wife there are five children surviving, namely, Mary Ann, Pierce, Lizzie, Margaret and Joseph.

The funeral will take place at nine o'clock Friday morning from the family residence 137 Lake street, to Sacred Heart church, thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A POINT OF THEOLOGY.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I would like to consult with Mr John Carlisle on a few points. It is not necessary for me to quote Scripture and verse to him; he will know what I refer to. I want to ask him if Noah and his houseboat party looked like getting safely away. Does he think that the people round about, would have allowed themselves to be drowned without making an effort to get in the ark and if they did make an effort, what does Mr. Carlisle think would have been the result. I have heard some people say that the ark would have been upset in the confusion and that several of the animals would have been drowned.

SPLENDID WORK OF PERFORMERS IN LAND OF NIGHT

Delightful Presentation at St. John's School House

"The Land of Night," a highly delightful little comedy in two acts was presented by the D.W.Y.C. of St. John's church in the school house last which was filled to capacity, and the performance was meritorious and thoroughly worthy of patronage. The dramatic training and ability of the cast was most advantageously revealed and reflected great credit on both the performers and their efficient director, Miss Helen Denison.

The acting, scenery and costuming was indeed a revealtion to those present, and proved to be a continous source of pleasure.

The scene in the first act was especially pleasing, representing a garden in the Province of Darkness, Kingdom of the Sky. Electrical effects and foliage contrived to present a scene of remarkable attractiveness, which was additionally enhanced by the gorgeous and harmonious coloring of the costumes of the performers. About twenty-four young ladies comprised the cast for the performance, each one going through her sometimes difficult and rather responsible part very easily and without exhibiting the slightest trace of stage nervousness.

Owing to the lengthy cast of characters list, special comment on their efforts would be rather difficult, but special credit must be attributed to the clever, graceful acting of Miss Philippa Delafosse, in the role of Princess of Night, and to Miss Muriel Curry as Princess of Dawn. The extremely difficult part of "Jane Jogway," an exponent of woman suffrage, was successfully essayed by Miss Lillian Crowe in a most commendable and realistic manner. Her enunciation, and assurance in the part was worthy of the applause which greeted her acting all the way through.

The always important and difficult comedy part of the play fell upon Miss Emily Horsefield in the character of Nora Mulligan, an inimitably funny Irish servant to Jane Jogway. Her actions and attire and freedom of speech kept the audience convulsed, and much of the applause of the evening was plainly attributable to her. The Starmaids, Sunbeams, attendants to the throne, and last, but not least, charming little Cupid, personified by dainty Kathleen Cuffe, all ably contributed by the skilful acting to the enjoyable and delightful dramatic treat which the evening provided.

Miss Gladman ably supplied the musical accompaniments.

BASEBALL

Everybody is talking about the Ball Club's excursion to Cobourg, on Saturday and at this distance it looks like a big trainload of fans and fanettes for the Ferry Town.

The club has arranged for the reservation of one coach for ladies and their escorts and the arrangements also include a stay in Cobourg till 8.30 o'clock. The return fare is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The Peterboro Ball Club will practice this evening and to-morrow. All players are requested to be out.

At the oval last evening the Thistles were one run to the good on a 5—4 score against the Northern Lights, when the game was called at the fifth. The remaining four innings will be played Saturday.

South Huron Liberals.

Seaforth, June 7.—The annual meeting of the South Huron Reform Association was held at Bracefield yesterday. There was an unusually large attendance, every municipality in the riding being represented. H. Smith of Hay was re-elected president and J. H. Stanbury of Exeter secretary-treasurer. Local presidents were appointed for every municipality and a thorough organization effected. Resolutions strongly approving of the Dominion Government and the provincial opposition, and also endorsing reciprocity were passed.

Earl Grey to Inspect Scouts.

Montreal, June 7.—The Governor-General will inspect the Canadian coronation contingent of boy scouts on the McGill campus on Friday evening at 6.30 o'clock.

During Friday the coronation contingent will be entertained by the Montreal council of the boy scouts movement. In addition to the Montreal scouts, there will be five from Ontario, and 25 from Saskatchewan; 99 in all.

They will embark on the Megantic on Friday evening.

Candidates In North Perth.

Milverton, Ont., June 7.—The North Perth Liberal-Conservatives' nominating convention was held in the public library hall here yesterday afternoon, with President J. G. Hamilton in the chair. Delegates were present from all sub-divisions to the number of 107. The following candidates were nominated: For the Commons, H. B. Morphy, Listowel; for the Legislature, James P. Torrance, Milverton.

Woodstock Man Wins McGill Prizes.

Montreal, June 7.—Results of examinations in the second year, McGill medical faculty, were posted yesterday. Seventy-six students qualified to enter the third year next fall. An Ontario student, C. Kent Crops a Failure.

Chatham, Ont., June 7.—"Wheat is not going to be a good crop," announced Clerk Jonas Gosnell yesterday; "a great deal of wheat in this country is already heading out and it is only a foot or so high. There will be practically no straw, and in some places the wheat is pitifully thin. Hay is short and a poor crop.

"The last two rains may help some, but the recent drought did much towards decreasing the crop averages in Kent by thousands of dollars."

BRAVE BOYS IN BLUE.

Courageous Constables Who Have Been Killed on Duty.

The recent tragedy in Houndsditch recalls many similar examples of police heroism in the face of terrible odds, all going to show that the men in blue have never hesitated to risk their lives in the course of their duty.

Constable Davey of Acton, so far as record shows, was the first policeman to be shot dead by a thief. Davey suspected a man named Brookes to be implicated in a certain robbery, and Brookes knew that Davey was on his track. Brookes called at Davey's house at night, and shot him down.

In the seventies a policeman was shot at Whalley Range, near Manchester, and two brothers, named Habron, were accused, and sent to penal servitude for life. It was afterwards discovered that they were innocent, and that the real assassin was the notorious Charles Peace. Peace shot at and wounded P. C. Robinson in his last exploit, before his daring career was brought to a close.

Again, in 1881, P. C. Atkins surprised a gang burgling a house standing in its own grounds at Kingston, and was shot down.

Up to the time of this affair burglars had rarely used revolvers, but now the practice became common, and, in the following year, P. C. Cole was murdered at Dalston. The murderer was Orrock, a young man who was a member of the Baptist chapel he was breaking into when Cole came upon the scene, and was considered quite a model youth. But two years went over before justice was done, and then Orrock was run to earth quite by accident.

He had left his chisel behind him at the chapel, and on the blade was scratched the word "rock," and when, some months after the murder, a man named Orrock was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment for housebreaking, a detective got into conversation with one of Orrock's friends — also "doing time"—and learned something which brought the murder of Cole to his mind. The chisel was then examined under a microscope, and underneath the word "rock" was found another, which the microscopist made out to be "Orrick."

This was enough to hang the murderer, and hanged he was accordingly.

Following the murder of Cole, further regulations were made to enable the police to meet the new class of desperadoes on something like equal terms. Double patrols were arranged in certain places, constables were allowed to have revolvers when it appeared necessary, and whistles were given them.

In the year of the Dalston murder there was a desperate affray in Hoxton. James Wright, a hardened villain, shot three policemen, wounding them severely. The case which followed over roofs of houses, where the ruffian kept his pursuers at bay with a revolver for more than two hours, forms one of the most exciting episodes in police annals.

Inspector Simmons, of the Essex Constabulary, the following January, was shot at Romford by one of three men whom he had been watching. His murderer, James Lee, was tracked owing to his stupidity in pledging his pistol at the pawnbroker's shop where he had previously pawned it.

One of the men with Lee was an ex-convict who had been concerned in shooting at two policemen in Gloucestershire, and another was a member of the gang who burgled Netherby Hall, Cumberland, and whose subsequent flight furnishes an intensely dramatic story.

The gang were pursued from place to place until they were run to earth, twenty-four hours afterwards, and captured, fighting desperately. During their flight they shot four policemen, wounding three, and killing one outright.

Then, in July, 1885, there occurred a terrific fight between a young constable and a masked burglar, whom he surprised on the roof of a house in Kensington. Four shots were fired at the officer, who was subsequently found insensible. Holland, another constable, was assailed by three burglars in St. Marylebone Churchyard, in August, 1886, and was shot in the leg by one of them.

A burglary at Muswell Hill, in 1889, when a gang, armed with revolvers, severely wounded one of the inmates, led to the old, heavy regulation boots being discarded for boots with india rubber soles for night duty; and after this affair came a cessation of murderous outrages with the burglar's revolver until London was startled by the extraordinary affray at Tottenham, in 1908, which is sufficiently recent to be remembered by everyone.

How "T. P." Rests.

It would not be an easy matter to find a man who works more strenuously than Mr. T. P. O'Connor. When, a short time ago, he went to America to collect the funds for the Irish Party which have furnished so much talk and discussion, he traveled 12,000 miles in eight weeks, delivering speeches almost every day. Then the doctor ordered him complete rest. "T.P." rested for two days: then he got restless, wrote a long magazine article, delivered two speeches, each of nearly one hour's duration, and afterwards wrote another short article, which he posted himself between one and two o'clock in the morning. Mr. O'Connor writes everything with his own hands on a typewriter. He has one machine in his library and another by the side of his bed, and each typewriter lasts him little more than twelve months.

Dangerous Work.

Cordite, used by the British soldiers, is the outcome of a strange paradox—the result of mixing two most powerful explosives is a smokeless, slow-burning powder of great velocity. Nitroglycerine and guncotton mixed together with a little petroleum jelly make cordite. In the factory women knead the two deadly explosives into paste with the same unconcern as if they were kneading dough for bread. Indeed, machines similar to those used in bakeries take up the work and knead the buff-colored cordite paste for seven hours.

Several Hamilton firemen have resigned rather than do odd jobs around the station.

A SHABBY DIGNITARY.

Duke of Norfolk Is the Worst Dressed Man In England.

"The worst dressed man in England!" That is what they all say of the Duke of Norfolk, and yet this man, the laughing stock of the tailors, is Hereditary Earl Marshal, and will be manager of ceremonies at the coming coronation, as he has been at all royal functions for years past.

He will prescribe where each person shall sit, and what each shall wear, even to the color of the clothes, the feathers in the hair, and the amount of the decolletage.

All the duke's official duties as premier peer are associated with pomp and costume, yet he positively glories in his shabbiness when off duty, and many a tale he tells of the experiences when his clothes have caused him to be mistaken for what he is not. From his watch chain dangles a sixpence which he proudly displays as "the first and only money he ever earned." Being noticed by a lady in a railway station, he was taken for a hard-up porter and bundled off to call a cab. He gratefully accepted the sixpenny bit which was offered, for that coin gives him an excuse to tell the story.

On another occasion in Rome he was taken for one of Cook's men and had to help carry an American's luggage. He hoped for another sixpence, but got none, and was mightily displeased. He has been ordered, when acting as marshal in his unconventional garb to get out of the way of his own carriage, and to cap it all, he was mistaken for the chief undertaker at Queen Victoria's funeral.

But when it came to take part in the great Roman Catholic procession in London in 1908, the duke in all his robes of office escorted Cardinal Vannutelli through the London streets, for he is England's foremost Roman Catholic peer. In fact, he is sometimes called the unofficial ambassador of the Vatican at the Court of St. James, and his influence, 'tis said, had much to do with the changes in the accession oath.

The duke is one of England's richest men, having an income of $7,500,000 from London holdings alone. He owns 50,000 acres of the fairest country-side in all Great Britain. Arundel Castle, the great feudal estate, has been improved to the extent of $5,000,000 since he has held it—he inherited the title at the age of thirteen. The neighborhood was once the home of Alfred the Great, and the castle has been the home of Norfolk's family since the Anglo-Saxon days, long before William the Conqueror's time.

Norfolk's title as premier of the twenty-eight dukes dates back to 1483, the present holder being the fifteenth of the line.

His other titles are very numerous, and to them are attached strange perquisites. As Butler of England, he is entitled to the King's table cloth and a goblet of solid gold. As Marshal he could claim the King's palfrey after the coronation, if palfreys were fashionable.

Altogether this extraordinary man has in his sixty-three years played many parts, for in addition to performing all his strange duties he has found time to serve as a soldier in the Boer war, and as Postmaster-General in the British Cabinet.

Carlile's Trombone.

The founder of the Church Army, Prebendary Carlile, who was recently received by King George, tells an amusing story about one of the open-air brass band processions which paraded London, headed by Mr. Carlile with a trombone. Robed in his surplice, the prebendary left the procession—which was a New Year's Eve parade—from time to time and entered the numerous public houses passed on the road. In one public house a man seized the prebendary's trombone and told him he should have it back if he would play a tune. On his reply that he was too tired, a tall, clean-shaven man volunteered to play instead. Calling out, "Hats off, gentlemen!" he played "God Save the King." The musician then took Mr. Carlile's cap and passed it round, collecting 5s. in a very few moments. The cap, collection, and trombone were then returned to Mr. Carlile, who departed well satisfied to have raised something for the Church Army relief work in this unconventional way.

Surprised the German.

General Sir Reginald Pole-Carew, who has been returned for Bodmin, in the recent British elections, relates the following story showing the energy of the British soldier. A German attache in the South African war was amazed at the spectacle of the British soldiers after a fight staggering into camp, but rushing instantly after a football which was thrown on the veldt. The German attache said to the general, "Well, you are the most extraordinary people in the whole civilized world. I have been with your men all day. I know what they have done. I know they have had nothing to eat or drink, and I know of no other troops in the world that would not have been lying down asleep. If we could do this we could conquer the world!"

Studied In Tree-Tops.

Dr. Ryle, who has given up the Bishopric of Winchester, worth $30,000 a year, to become Dean of Westminster at a salary of $10,000, is a fine example of muscular Christianity. When at Eton he became famous as a runner and jumper, and today finds chief recreation in walking, tennis-playing, and mountaineering. As a boy, too, he was very fond of climbing trees, and was often daring enough to read his books while seated in the topmost branches. One day he fell down from one of these eyries, and would have been killed had it not been for a cushioned seat at the foot of the tree, which broke his fall. A quaint hobby of his is collecting portraits of Erasmus, the famous Dutch scholar, of which he is believed to have a greater number than any other man living.

A Shower of Iron.

Three Rivers, Que., June 7.—Captain H. Lockhart-Muir of the steamship Ben Ern, unloading here, reports that as he was passing the ruins of the Quebec bridge at 6.25 p.m. Saturday, his vessel got a shock from a mine going off. Immediately after, a shower of iron fell over the vessel about the gallery, breaking the water service pipe, while a piece of iron struck Seaman Wm. Black in the neck, badly wounding him.

The Ben Ern was some three-quarters away across the river from the bridge ruin, or one quarter way distance from the north shore. Captain Lockhart-Muir had the whistle blown, but, when not far off, another mine went off, this time, however, without doing any damage. There was a passenger steamer passing at the same time.

Would Not Be Admitted.

Ottawa, June 7.—"This is the first I've heard of it," said Superintendent of Immigration Scott, when asked concerning a report that 5,000 Armenians, the persecuted Christians of Turkey, were seeking to come to Canada and settle on British Columbia fruit lands.

"They would not be admitted without the money qualification of $25, unless they were farmers or farm hands," he said.

"Would the fact that they were persecuted affect the situation?" he was asked.

"Not in the slightest," was Mr. Scott's firm reply. "If they are persecuted, it is probably their own fault."

Ecclesiastic at the Quirinal.

Rome, June 7.—Canon Paclucci, mayor of Goriano Abrizzi, who was enthusiastically cheered for taking part on Sunday in the dedication of the monument to King Victor Emmanuel III., yesterday attended the garden party given by the King in honor of the 8,000 mayors now in Rome. Paclucci is the first ecclesiastic to attend an official ceremony at the Quirinal, which up to 1870 was the Apostolic palace.

Romance Appealed to Them.

Montreal, June 7.—Second-class passengers of the Allan Line steamer Grampian, which arrived in port yesterday morning, were the guests on Sunday night of the officers of the vessel, at a dinner, which was tendered on board to five young Scotch women on their way to the west via Montreal, to be married to their sweethearts, who had preceded them from the old country to prepare the homes.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil. E. Pascaler, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for billousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

MYSTERIOUS DREAMS.

Phantasms of the Night That Have Caused a Sensation.

The interest in the general election in the British Isles gave way to the sensation caused by the evidence given by Mr. Claude Sawyer in the Waratah case. Mr. John Dickinson, who conducted the Board of Trade inquiry into the mysterious disappearance of this liner between Durban and Cape Town last June, said at the close, "I heartily congratulate you, Mr. Sawyer, on being alive and being here to give evidence." Mr. Sawyer told that three or four days before the ill-fated vessel reached Durban, he had "a dream, which was most unusual." He had booked a first-class passage from Sydney to Cape Town by the Waratah, and he seems to have felt anxiety before leaving Australian waters. Three times he had a dreaming vision of a man in a peculiar dress, who was holding in his right hand a bloody sword. "The second time it came, I thought, 'I will know it again'; and the third time I looked at it so intently that I could almost design it, sword and all, even now. Next day I mentioned the dream to a gentleman, and he said, 'It's warning.' Then I began to think why I should be warned, and I was anxious to leave the ship." He left it at Durban.

Perhaps the strangest story of a dream at sea is that told by George Burrow in the opening pages of "The Bible in Spain." "I was bound for Lisbon. We passed Cape Finisterre, and, standing farther out to sea, speedily lost sight of land. On the morning of the 11th the sea was very rough, and a remarkable circumstance occurred. I was on the forecastle, discoursing with two of the sailors. One of them, who had but just left his hammock, said: 'I have had a strange dream, which I do not much like, for,' continued he, pointing to the mast, 'I dreamt that I fell into the sea from the cross-trees' He was heard to say this by several of the crew besides myself

A moment later the captain of the vessel, perceiving that the squall was increasing, ordered the top-sails to be taken in, whereupon this man, with several others, instantly ran aloft; the yard was in the act of being hauled down, when a sudden gust of wind whirled it round with violence, and a man was struck down from the cross-trees into the sea, which was working like yeast below. In a short time he emerged. I saw his head on the crest of a billow, and instantly recognized in the unforunate man the sailor who a few moments before had related his dream. I shall never forget the look of agony he cast whilst the steamer hurried past him. . . . The poor fellow who perished in this singular manner was a fine young man of about twenty-seven, the only son of a widowed mother. He was the best sailor on board, and was beloved by all who were acquainted with him."

Irish M.P.'s Cheap Election.

With the exception of the returning officer's fee, Mr. J. McVeagh's election as Nationalist M.P. for South Down cost him nothing. At a meeting to celebrate his success, he told his supporters that they had achieved victory without expending a copper on the payment of agents, literature, postage, printing, or even on the issue of polling cards. They declined the offer of motor-cars and not a single elector was canvassed.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. ELIZABETH KENDREY, Treasurer.

MAIMED CERVANTES.

Bravery in Battle of the Famous Author of "Don Quijote."

An incident of the battle of Lepanto, which broke the power of the Turks in Europe, has an interest for students of literature. "In the Marquesa galley"—we quote from Commander Currey's "Sea Wolves in the Mediterranean"—"was lying in his bed, sick of a fever, a young man twenty-four years of age, a Spaniard of Alcala de Henares, the son of honorable parents, we are told, although these parents were poor. When this young man heard that a battle was imminent he rose from his bed and demanded of his captain, Francisco San Pedro, that he should be placed in the post of greatest danger. The captain and others, his friends, counseled him to remain in his bed. 'Senores,' replied the young man, 'what would be said of Miguel de Cervantes should he take this advice? On every occasion up to this day on which his enemies have offered battle to his majesty I have served like a good soldier, and today I intend to do so in spite of this sickness and fever.' He was given command of twelve soldiers in a shallop and all day was to be seen where the combat raged most fiercely. He received two wounds in the chest and another which cost him the loss of his left hand. To those to whom he proudly displayed them in after years he was accustomed to say, 'Wounds in the face or the chest are like stars which guide one through honor to the skies.' Of him the chronicler says, 'He continued the rest of his life with honorable memory of this wonderful occurrence, and, although he lost the use of his left hand, it added to the glory of his right.' How glorious was that right hand is known to all readers of 'El Ingenioso Hidalgo Don Quijote de la Mancha.'"

Be Yourself.

Insist on yourself; never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation, but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous, half possession. That which each can do best none but his Maker can teach him. Where is the master who could have taught Shakespeare? Where is the master who could have instructed Franklin or Washington or Bacon or Newton? Every great man is unique. Do that which is assigned to you and you cannot hope too much or dare too much.—Emerson.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

STREET CARS WILL NOT RUN ON SUNDAY, DECORATION DAY

Says Mr. Munro, Manager of the Radial Railway Co.

Mr. J. H. Munro, manager of the Peterborough Radial Railway Co., informed a Review representative to-day that the company would not operate its cars, as requested by the city council to do so, on Sunday, June 25th, Decoration Day.

This announcement should ease the feelings of a large number of citizens and the local clergymen, who were very much against the idea of street cars running on the Sabbath.

RAILWAY WONT.

Mr. Munro also stated that plans for the new car barn were now being prepared and that the Canadian General Electric Co. were manufacturing the motors for the new passenger cars, which will be constructed by the Ottawa Street Car Co., and that the company had asked the city council for permission to construct gas mains throughout the city, which work would be pushed forward before the company's railway extensions would be commenced. As soon as possible the extension from the C.G.E. would be made to Byersville, the material having been contracted for.

POWER BY OCTOBER.

Regarding the progress at the new Auburn power house, Mr. Munro said the work was progressing favorably and that it was expected that power would be transmitted from this point by October 1st. Local industries are manufacturing the apparatus, the Wm. Hamilton Co. making the power wheels and the C.G.E. the generators, transformers and switch-boards.

Y.W.C.A. GIRLS WERE AT HOME

Pleasant Evening and Pretty Scene in Gymnasium

The Y.W.C.A. gymnasium hall never perhaps presented a more animated scene than last evening when the "Y" girls were "at home" to their many friends.

Had any disappointment been felt when it was known that the lawn party must be held in the gymnasium, it was dispelled as one entered the gaily decorated building. Pennants, flags and bunting, kindly loaned by Mr. Turner, had been used with attractive effect, and the orchestra furnished a splendid program, playing throughout the entire evening.

STORY OF THE BROWN THEFT

His Money Was Taken While He Slept

Judgment Reserved in Case of Each Prisoner

Vernon Killingbeck and John Dogherty were in police court again this morning when the hearing of evidence in connection with the charges against them, of stealing $54 from Robert Brown was resumed. Judgment was reserved in both cases. Dogherty who had previously pleaded guilty told his story of the affair. The other prisoner did not plead or elect. G. N. Gordon appeared for Killingbeck and Crown Attorney Wood prosecuted. F. D. Kerr also made a plea for leniency to be exercised by the Magistrate in dealing with Doherty's case.

THE ROBBERY

Dogherty said that he and Killingbeck had met Brown, who is a lumberman, and a native of Switzerland, near the Oriental, on Wednesday, May 31. The three went in and had a drink. Brown and the other two put in money enough to buy a flask of whiskey at the Little Windsor Hotel. They went up behind the court house and finished the bottle and became intoxicated. As it started to rain they took to a box car on the Cereal siding, where Brown under the influence of the liquor fell asleep. Witness and his friend then relieved Brown of the $54 which he had shown them, leaving him in the boxcar, they made their way up street.

Dogherty, the witness went home and when he came up street that night, he heard that Killingbeck had been arrested. He went back home, secured his money, and bought a ticket at the Grand Trunk station and went down to Port Hope, where he was immediately arrested by Chief Bond, and brought back by Detective Newhall.

Mr. Kerr in addressing the Magistrate, on behalf of the prisoner, Dogherty said that he had the misfortune as well as the good fortune of belonging to a good family apparently in respectable circumstances. He alone had brought shame upon them. Although the prisoner was only seventeen he should be old enough to see what an absolute fool he had been. His mother was also in a dangerous condition of health.

Crown Attorney Wood said that it was not right that parents should neglect their boys and then when they go wrong, blame it on the boy.

Magistrate Dumble was of the opinion that the boy knew of what the consequences of his act would be. "Some young men," he said, "think they can rob men in regular Dick Turpin style without taking the consequences. Previous convictions against Dogherty were also against him in this case.

WAS INJURED ABOUT THE FACE

Mishap to G. W. Powell at Charlotte Street Corner

At the corner of Charlotte and George streets last evening, Mr. G. W. Powell, while on his way to the station to meet his daughter, was knocked down, but owing to the prompt action of the driver of a Gibbs bus, he escaped with cuts about the face.

He was taken to Dr. Greer's office where his injuries received attention.

SALEM NEWS

Ladies Took Hand at Racing Game

Special Correspondence

Salem, June.—The King's birthday was loyally observed here on Saturday, June 3rd.

The Salem Jockey Club held the first matinee of the season on Tuesday, of last week, when two of our local lady sports lined up for the 2.10 race. The broncho being favored with the rail and position, and being a little better trained, landed at the wire a slight margin in front of the Fitzgerald horse.

The Rev. Mr. Pogue, accompanied by Prof. Lowe, of Toronto, visited his parishoners in this vicinity last week.

We hope steps will be taken to have the seats of the church cushioned, as one of our young men used his tile for a cushion at the evening service.

Mr. Wm. Hunter, and Miss Helen Wilson visited friends in Smith on Sunday last.

Miss Ethel Hunter and Miss Clara Armstrong were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee on Wednesday last.

The farmers of this vicinity are busy doing their statute labor this week.

Mr. Bert Duffus, the census taker, is busy at polling sub-division No. 5 this week.

The brain and brawn of our community leave on Monday, June 12th, for Petawawa for two weeks' annual training. We all join in wishing them bon voyage and a safe return.

Mr. Ab. Armstrong and Clifford Curtis spent the 24th down the river. A very pleasant time is reported.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong, of Thornbury, is visiting his brother, Mr. Chris. Armstrong.

Mr. Charles Noyes occupied the pulpit on Sunday and preached to a very large congregation.

Mr. Dan Lynch and Charles Brandon visited at Mr. Tim Doherty's last Sunday.

LAID TO REST

A large representation of citizens attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Edmond Morphet, which took place this afternoon, from the family residence, Aylmer street.

After a very impressive ceremony at the house by Rev. Canon Davidson, assisted by Rev. Charles Carpenter, the cortege proceeded to Little Lake cemetery, where interment took place. Those who carried the remains to their last resting place were Messrs. H. Rush, J. J. Turner, sr., J. J. Howden, C. H. J. Mitchell, W. Johnston and D. H. Burritt.

KEENE ITEMS

General Store of G. T. Gall to Re-open

Special Correspondence

Keene, June 7—Mr. G. T. Gall is preparing to start business in Mr. D. McFarlane's. He intends to open up for business in a few days. We trust he will be patronized by the public, as he certainly came to a great loss by the fire. Owing to his honesty and obliging manner, he has won the confidence of the public. We wish him every success in his new enterprise.

Owing to the damage done by fire to Mr. T. English's residence, it has been repainted and the result is that its appearance is much improved.

Mr John McFarlane, our enterprising, has been appointed fishery and game inspector. He certainly is the right man in the right place and will faithfully attend to his duties.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Johnston pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. Mr McDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian Church preached in his place here on Sunday last.

There appears to be some attraction for some of our young men on the Hiawatha road as they very frequently drive in that direction on Sunday evenings.

We have been favored with a copious rain in this vicinity which has improved the appearance of the crops and cheered the hearts of the farmers.

If current reports are true, we are to be favored with a visit of the Sons of Rest from our sister village of Lang. The Keene brethren no doubt will cordially receive and entertain them.

We are pleased to see Mr. Burley, our blacksmith able to move around again. He received a very bad cut on his foot which disabled him from work for some time.

Potato bugs are very numerous here and are attacking tomato plants in right good style.

A meeting of Argyle L.O.L. will be held in their hall on Wednesday, the 14th inst. All the members are requested to attend as business of importance is to be transacted.

Items from Keene have not appeared for some time owing to illness of the scribe but he has recovered and it is his intention to send items more regularly in the future.

KING GEORGE PLANS TO VISIT CANADA DURING NEXT YEAR

Dispatch to Montreal Paper Says King Will Return From India via Canada—Would Create a Precedent for British Sovereigns

Ottawa, Jun e7—King George V. will visit Canada in the course of the year 1912, after his return from the Coronation Durbar in Delhi, India.

It is of course impossible to obtain any official or authoritative statement concerning this intentio, the first definite announcement of which must come from the King himself; but The Hearld learns from the most absolutely reliable sources that the King's visit is regarded as an assured fact by Canadians who are in close touch with British court circles.

TO VISIT MANY CITIES

It is expected the royal visit will be a fairly lengthy one, and will involve a brief stay in each of the chief centres of population. The Duke of Connaught will at that time be the holder of the vice regal dignity in Canada, and the presence of these two descendants of Queen Victoria will involve functions of social splendor unprecedent in the Dominion.

The projected visit is thoroughly in harmony with the well known Imperialist interests of His Majesty's mind. While his father, Edward the Peacemaker, found his chief scope in matters of European diplomacy, King George has both before and since his accession been more interested in the welding together of the different nations and races which make up the Empire.

A UNIQUE EVENT

Tours of the reigning sovereign to the outlying parts of the Empire have been under discussion ever since an early date in the reign of Victoria, but have never hitherto materialized partly through disinclination of the monarch for such lengthy travels, and partly through a strong feeling prevalent in Great Britain that the sovereign should not absent himself from the centre of the Empire for such a length of time. Both of these objections are now greatly lessened. His Majesty is an excellent and devoted traveller in the prime of life, and British politicians have already ceased to regard Canada as a remote and unimportant part of the British possessions, while the improvement in means of communication will enable the King to keep in perfect touch with the advisers of the Crown while on shipboard, and he could if necessary return to the seat of government in eight or ten days at the maximum.

SIXTY-THREE ARE KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO CITY

Seventy-Five Wounded and Property Loss $100,000—Day of Madero's Triumph.

Mexico City, June 8.—Sixty-three were killed, 75 wounded and property worth $100,000 was wrecked yesterday by an earthquake shock which shook Mexico City and injected a note of tragedy into what was to be a day of pure rejoicing over the arrival of Francisco I. Madero, jr.

When the work of searching the ruins is completed it is possible that the list of dead will be increased somewhat, as hiding here and there throughout the city there doubtless are wounded, who, with traditional fear of the authorities and Government hospitals, are anxious to evade discovery.

Little of the loss is covered by insurance.

It was 4.36 o'clock when the first shock was felt. According to meteorological observatory the greatest intensity was reached at the end of the first minute, but the instruments continued to record the shocks for 14 minutes more.

The disturbance was vacillating and almost free from trepidatory motion.

More than half the dead accounted for were soldiers. They were caught beneath the falling walls of the artillery barracks in San Cosma, near the Mexican Central station.

Another place where the earthquake took its toll of death in considerable numbers was at the city power plant of the Street Car Co. There six persons were killed and six wounded. Two others were found in the debris.

With these two exceptions, the death list was made up of single cases, or in a few instances of two and three persons caught beneath falling walls in unsubstantial buldings.

Although the shock was plainly felt in all parts of the city, few realized the magnitude of the catastrophe until later in the forenoon, because the casualties were confined to a comparatively small area. Accustomed as the people of the city are to earthquakes, which usually are harmless, the inhabitants were slow to realize that this was the most serious shock the capital has suffered in a score of years.

With the exception of one Chinaman killed, no foreigners were injured.

In the barracks, where the soldiers were killed, twelve women also lost their lives. They were the wives of artillerymen. These women have the privilege of spending the night within the walls of the barracks, an old structure. It was unlike many of the older edifices of the city, as its walls were comparatively thin. Seventy-two soldiers were sleeping in the house. Approximately 35 were quartered on the first floor, the remainder on the second.

The bodies of 30 soldiers have been recovered. Three are missing and 16 are wounded, a few severely. Those who escaped began the work of rescue at once without spreading the alarm for some time. Women, whose soldier husbands were in the pile, stood by waiting in groups, while children clung to their mother's dresses and stared curiously at the gruesome scene. Ambulances later carried the wounded to the military hospitals and the dead to Dolores Cemetery.

LIVED IN THE ICE FOR THREE MONTHS

Extraordinary Experiment With Gold Fish

Geneva, Switzerland, June 8.—Extraordinary experiments showing the possibility of suspending life for an indefinite period have been carried out by Prof. Raoul Pictet.

He took some live goldfish, froze them in water to 20 degrees centigrade below zero, and then, after three months, gradually warmed the blocks of ice and brought the fish back to life.

Frogs, he says, can bear freezing to 28 degrees below zero, snails have borne from 110 to 120 degrees, and a dog has been seen to go through a whole hour at a temperature of 110 degrees below freezing point without dying.

Prof. Pictet is convinced that life is being brought within the number of nature's constant forces.

Girls Say He Broke Into Their Apartment

Special to the Review.

New York, N.Y., June 8.—William E. D. Stokes, a millionaire, has three bullets in his leg and Lilian Graham, an actress, and Ethel Conrad, an artist, are under arrest, charged with the shooting. The story told by the two girls is that Stokes broke into their apartment and attacked them, while the victim of the shooting declares that he was lured by the girls into their room and that they made attempts to extort twenty-five thousand dollars from him.

Never Offered For Sale.

Kingston, June 8.—On being interview yesterday, Hon. William Harty denied offering the Chats Falls for sale to Ottawa for any price. He produced a letter written by him Sunday, in which he stated that the City of Ottawa had never made any proposal to him, nor had received any proposal from him concerning the ownership of the falls, or the price at which he would be willing to sell.

Ask $10,000 For Hospital.

Brantford, June 8.—At a meeting of the city hospital trust board here it was decided to ask the city and county combined to provide $10,000 for a new hospital building to be erected on the present site, the John H. Stratford Hospital being utilized in the new building. The directors appointed Miss Carson, superintendent of Owen Sound Hospital, as matron succeeding Miss Tolmie, resigned.

MONTREAL JUDGE SAYS ROME CAN'T UPSET MIXED MARRIAGE

Judge Leet Says He Doesn't Think Court Would Invalidate a Mixed Marriage

Montreal, June 8.—Judge Leet, who considers that his opinion with regard to the Herbert marriage case and the "ne temere" decree has been quoted in such a way as to create a misunderstanding, has issued a letter to the press in explanation of his position. He upholds the ruling of the court as regards the legal invalidity of the marriage of two Catholics by a Protestant minister, but contends that this ruling has no application to mixed marriages. The courts, he says, cannot endorse the "ne temere" connection with regard to the marriage of a Catholic to a Protestant.

After discussing the legal history he concludes:

"Until the ne temere decree there was never any question in this country as to the validity of the marriage of a Catholic with a Protestant by a Protestant minister, and I do not think there is any danger of the courts upholding the pretension of the decree. The decree will only cause heart burnings and social difficulties that the law can hardly deal with. It is only a dogma of the church, which the law now does not recognize and is not likely to recognize."

COMMITTEE REPORTS THE BILL WITH THE ROOT AMENDMENT

End of the Fight in Finance Committee — Now up to Senate—Discussion Bitter.

Special to the Review.

Washington, D.C., June 8.—After an hour's session to-day, the Senate Finance Committee agreed to report the Canadian reciprocity bill with the amendment of Senator Root added to it. This amendment has to do with the clauses regarding pulp and paper.

Washington, June 8—Following four hours' discussion of the Canadian reciprocity bill by the Senate finance committee in executive session yesterday, Chairman Penrose expressed the opinion that any amendment that might be adopted by the committee would be killed on the floor of the Senate. It was thought at first that a compromise might be reached on the Root amendment to the paper and wood pulp clause; which amendment had been objected to as fatal to the agreement, but such a compromise was found impossible. It is not believed that any amendment other than that offered by Senator Root will have a chance of adoption in committee, although Senator Nelson who has prepared several, placing duties on grains, cattle and horses, which under the agreement would come in free, will be heard by the committee to-day.

It was the first day of executive consideration of the bill, but the committee's deliberations were without result so far as voting on the bill or any amendment were concerned, and it was declared doubtful whether the committee would be ready to report the measure to-day.

Bitterness of political debate such as has not characterized any of the opening tariff skirmishes of the present session of Congress cropped out in the beginning of the wool tariff discussion in the House yesterday. Democratic Leader Underwood devoted the afternoon to an explanation of the proposed revision of the wool tariff, and to an attack upon the Payne tariff law and the Republican party.

He was met at almost every stage of his argument by replies from former Chairman Payne, now ranking Republican on the ways and means committee, and by other Republicans who questioned his statements and his arguments.

Mr. Payne will lead the opposition to the Democratic bill and will probably make the opening speech today.

"There is nobody in this country who does not know that the American Woollen Co. to-day fixes the price," said Mr. Underwood; "that it is a monopoly, that it is a trust, and that industry and that company dictated to a Republican House, when they prohibited you from reducing the exorbitant rates under schedule K in the last Congress."

Paying his respects to the present tariff board, Mr. Underwood said that if that body "went on for ten years as it is going at present, we would not get enough information on the wool schedule to write a tariff bill."

He said he was convinced that no tariff board ever appointed by the President, even though it were a permanent board with wide powers, would work satisfactorily. While not questioning "the sincerity or honesty of purpose of President Taft," Mr. Underwood said he was convinced that "either the board refused to give up facts we called for, even with the President's sanction, or else the board has wasted a quarter of a million dollars in its work."

A NEW DEPARTURE

London, June 8.—A new and striking feature will mark the great ceremony of the Coronation. The standards of India, Wales and of the British dominions beyond the seas will be borne into Westminster Abbey in addition to those of England, Scotland and Ireland, and the Union Standard.

CONGREGATIONAL UNION PROSPERS

Annual Session at Kingston Shows Good Report.

Kingston, June 8.—Yesterday morning's session of the Congregation Union of Canada was taken up in selecting standing committees and receiving reports. The missionary report presented was most encouraging. The society is supporting forty ministers and churches, carrying on an aggressive campaign. A special evangelist was recommended for Swedish work. A bequest of $17,000 was reported from the late George H. Hodge of Sherbrooke. It was reported that the co-operation committee had succeeded in consummating with other denominations an agreement for cooperation in home mission work.

Feeling reference was made to the death of Charles Cushion, whose influence was felt in all departments of the work. The mission society referred to the increase in finances since 1906 to 1910, from $14,718 to $39,835.

Rev. Dr. Garvie, representing the English Colonial Missionary Society, gave an address, in which he spoke of the interest England had in the work being done in Canada.

Nearly Ran Into Canal.

St. Catharines, June 8.—A large auto driven by W. Thompson of Paris, narrowly escaped plunging into the new canal at Queenston street crossing. The car rounded a curve approaching the bridge at rapid rate, when it was discovered by the driver that the bridge was open. By applying the brakes and steering the car into a near-by post, a most serious accident was avoided, but the machine was considerably damaged by the impact with the post, which was cut into, toppling over into the auto.

Ridgetown Wreck Inquest Shows Deliberate Mischief.

Someone Removed a Rail to Wreck the Trains.

Ridgetown, Ont., June 8.—Evidence submitted by trainmen and others at the adjourned inquest yesterday afternoon into the fatal wreck of the Michigan Central flyer, which was derailed here on the morning of May 31, went to show that a rail had been deliberately removed and laid 12 inches inside its usual position, while five spikes had been pulled from the other rail.

No evidence was submitted to incriminate anyone, but an adjournment was taken till Tuesday to allow the crown to enquire into the actions of certain people, who may be implicated in the matter.

Coroner Dr. C. B. Lake presided. Crown Attorney H. D. Smith of Chatham had charge of the case, W. S. Blackburg, a London barrister, a brother-in-law of the deceased Engineer Oakes, W. B. Kingsmill, for the railway company and Government, and Provincial Detective Jas. Miller, who is working on the case, were present. An array of witnesses were in the room, but only 12 were called.

Thomas Hickey, roadmaster of all the Michigan Central, was the first witness. Describing the accident, he said when he arrived after 4 o'clock in the morning he found the engine and baggage car overturned, and the front trucks of the smoker off.

"I found a rail had been taken out," he said, "and laid between the tracks, about 12 inches inside of its normal position. I found that the spikes had been taken out and the fish plates taken out, and thrown down the bank. The bolts were taken off by hand."

"How do you know they were taken off?"

"Because they could not have come off any other way. The thread of the bolts was in the usual condition. The spikes showed they were pulled out without any bending or twisting."

Asked if he saw any further evidence of intentional wreckage, he declared that five spikes had been pulled from the other rail, as if an attempt had been made to remove it also.

W. B. Kingsmill, for the railway, brought forth the story about the breaking into the tool house, and the robbing of foreman's tools. Questioned concerning the spreading rails, he said that rails spread gradually, and that one rail alone would not have been loose.

Jno. Lamb, station foreman, was asked about his inspection of the line. He made an inspection in the morning, but kept his eyes open all day for anything wrong. Monday night, however, was the last time of inspection until the Wednesday morning of the accident. The ties were not bad in any place. He put his tools in the tool house on Tuesday night and locked the doors. When awakened on the morning of the wreck, he went to the tool house and found part of the lock wrenched off. Search with his twelve men showed his plow bar and wrench missing.

George Galt, a passenger, declared that the tools which had been found showed indications of having been recently used. There was no rust on them, as he would expect from iron being out all night, and they were all perfectly dry.

Adjournment was then made until Tuesday, June 20, at 10 o'clock, the crown saying that there was another side of the case which would take some time to enquire into.

"There are people whose actions have not been satisfactorily explained and whom the officals of the crown are of the opinion might possibly be implicated in the matter," declared Crown Attorney Smith last night. "Until the evidence can be shaped out to justify us in naming them and in presenting what facts we have against them, however, we think it only fair to hold our hands and not take any evidence that might hurt innocent people."

The Lakeside Sold.

St. Catharines, June 8.—The Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Navigation Co. on Tuesday disposed of the steamer Lakeside to M. J. Hogan of Port Colborne, the price paid being $10,000. The old steamer was yesterday taken to Port Maitland, to enter service for Hogan, who has large contracting interests. The familiar whistle of the boat is now in use at the Independent Rubber factory at Merriton.

New Church For Alexandria.

Cornwall, June 8.—The building committee of the Presbyterian Church, Alexandria, has awarded the contract for the new church to J. J. McIntosh of that town, who will commence work almost immediately. The church will be of concrete blocks with hot air furnaces and electric light.

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has Hitherto Baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhozone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases.

What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhozone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhozone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhozone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why

MUNICIPAL TENDERS

The members of the board of education in deciding as a matter of principle not to publish the tenders on school constructional work, have adopted a policy that is fortunately not widely in vogue. In the case of tenders for municipal or other public works, the common usage is to publish the accepted tender and the other tenders, that the public may see how they compare, and judge of the board's wisdom in selection. This acceptance of a tender for public construction is business that concerns the public money chest, and as such the public is entitled to full information, without having to go to the office of the secretary of the board specially to get its curiosity satisfied.

The awarding of a contract to a tenderer is often a matter of considerable perplexity, because the lowest tender is by no means necessarily the cheapest. One man may put in a tender $1,000 higher than someone else for a certain work, and the city or any civic body in accepting that higher tender may be getting better value for the money than in the case of the man who tenders at the low figure. Even when specifications for a certain job are followed, the work done by two contractors will vary noticeably. In making up an estimate for a tender, either on a public or any other job, a contractor has to face about the same cost for wages as his competitors. The labor market rules about the same for all contractors. He has to pay about the same for his material, providing it is bought in reasonably large quantities. The difference then either comes in when one contractor undertakes to cut the price so close that to avoid loss he must "skimp" the work as far as specifications will permit, or in the method of figuring. It is not always public wisdom, generally speaking, to award a contract to a tenderer who is away below his fellows, for the necessity of economizing to keep within the price set may lead a man away from the practice of doing good work.

This is aside, however, from the question as to the publishing of all tenders received for public school construction. It is in the interests of the citizens that they be made known, because the fact that one contractor is higher than another does not necessarily mean that he is not giving as good value, and is not as worthy of private patronage. Many things besides lowness of price must be considered in the final analysis.

CIVIC COMPETITION

After the Toronto hydro-electric commission announced its rates for house lighting, and the citizens knew that they were a third lower than the prices charged by the Toronto Electric Light company, there was a rush to the city offices that would have astonished even bargain store proprietors. Over two hundred contracts were made during the morning, and there was every evidence of the warm welcome the new civic power would receive from the citizens.

The manager of the Toronto Electric Light company has announced that his company will meet the new prices, and the installation of the hydro-electric service means that not only will the patrons of the civic power get their electric lighting much cheaper than ever before, but the customers of the private company will reap equal benefit. This is a case where the application of municipal ownership has accomplished something worth while, and the fruition of the determination of the Whitney government to give the people cheaper power is at hand, after triumph over obstacles that would have daunted most men or governments.

Applying a reduction of this nature to the case of Peterborough, in the event of a civic development of power, thousands of dollars would be saved to the people annually. One gentleman remarked yesterday that a reduction such as the new rates in Toronto were making would save him $40 a year on his lighting bill here, and the saving would be very much greater in the case of those having a greater space to illuminate.

Of course, this is travelling rather far ahead. Hamilton, after several years of struggle with the hydro power question is just now beginning the consideration of a municipal street lighting, house lighting and power supply problem at a cost of half a million. But if the new rates mean a saving in all of $50,000 a year to the citizens of Hamilton—as they probably will if the scheme works out as at present reported—that is worth while. The Cataract Power company in Hamilton, of course, is able to offer bitter competition, but if the hydro-electric commission can deliver power a third cheaper than the present rates, house-holders taking power from either source will reap the benefit. Thus is the great power of municipal competition in keeping down the prices for current to a reasonably low notch. The municipal plant does not seek to pile up as big profits as possible. It distributes power at cost, and the consumers get the benefit of the difference, whether taking from the civic concern or the private one.

The only question to be considered practically is whether a supply of power can be secured or developed cheaply enough to warrant the municipal enterprise, and if that is settled satisfactorily, whether the annual cost of such a system can be met, or nearly met by the receipts of sales at a low figure. If the proposition will work out satisfactorily from a business standpoint, civic power is a great lever and weapon.

AN ANTI-IMPERIALIST

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is being attacked in England as no colonial statesman was ever attacked before for his anti-imperialistic attitude. He has offended Britain, just as he has offended Canadians who are interested in seeing Canada maintain her self-respect as an integral part of the British empire. Sir Wilfrid's policy is one that would lead to the dismemberment of empire, just as he is heading Canada for the rocks of continentalism. Canada cannot be a part of the empire without taking the responsibilities, in spite of Sir Wilfrid, and to seek to avoid the duties and responsibilities that face every nation, either in the empire or out of it, is to travel in search of a brilliant rainbow. The London Globe points this out to Sir Wilfrid in almost rude terms, but the very candidness of the utterances demonstrates how keenly the British people feel the lack of imperial spirit manifested by the head of a loyal and imperial-minded people. The Globe says:—

"We know the difficulties of his position, and how hard the Opposition have pressed him, but they would have pressed him no harder had he been less ready to sink the statesman in the party politician. We admire his measured graceful periods, but we own to a prejudice in favor of candor. We are glad to be assured, as Sir Wilfrid assures us two or three times a week, that a new star has arisen in the West, but we should be glad to know which way that star is travelling.

"We do not feel that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a very felicitous interpreter of Canadian feeling at the present moment. We honor the distinguished man who has led the Liberal Government fourteen years in Canada, but we are beginning to have a suspicion that the Imperialism he professes is something very different from what we would have supposed.

"The mistake is this world's, no doubt, but there is room for more clear thinking and clear speaking on Sir Wilfrid's part than he has thought it wise to utter.

"We are not a nation to be afraid of hard words, when hard words are necessary, but we have an invincible objection to substitution of "soft soap" for the guidance of true statesmanship."

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 7.—There was an improved demand from local buyers for oats, and a sale of 5000 bushels No. 2 Canadian western was made at 41¾c, and 25,000 bushels extra No. 1 feed to arrive at 40⅝c, ex-store. The tone of the market is firm, but unless the demand for export account improves the impression is that present prices cannot be maintained. The foreign demand for spring wheat flour was good, and, as the prices bid showed a further advance of 6d per sack, sales of some round lots were made.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41½c to 42c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41½c; No. 3 C.W., 40½c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40½c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.30; seconds, $4.80; winter wheat patents, $4.60 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.60; straight rollers, $4.10 to $4.25; in bags, $1.85 to $2.

Rolled oats—Per barrel, $4.55; bag of 90 lbs., $2.15.

Feed barley—Car lots, ex-store, 51c to 52c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 7.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the offerings this morning were 500 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 825 hogs and 800 calves. There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being fairly well maintained on account of the fact that the supply was not large, and the demand was ample to take care of it. The attendance of buyers was fairly large, and a good trade was done. Choice steers sold at 6¼c; good at 5¾c to 6c; fairly good at 5¼c to 5½c; fair at 4¾c to 5c, and common at 4¼c to 4½c per pound. There were some thousand cows among the offerings, and they brought 5¼c, while the lower grades sold at from that down to 4c, and prices for bulls ranged at from 4c to 5¼c per pound.

The tone of the market for hogs was firm, with no change in prices to note. The supply was only fair, for which the demand from packers and butchers was good, and a fairly active trade was done. Sales of selected lots were made at $6.75; very heavy weights at $5.75, and stags and sows at $5 to $5.25 and $5.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

Supplies of small meats were rather larger, for which the demand was good and more active.

The tone of the market was steady, and values were unchanged, with sales of old sheep at $4 to $6; spring lambs at from $3.50 to $6, and calves at from $2 to $6 each.

At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market there were 250 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs and 850 calves. The market was fairly active for all lines, and the prices realized were much the same as those quoted, with the exception of hogs, which sold a trifle higher, at $6.85 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars, for selected lots.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, June 7.—Cattle—Receipts, 50 head; market active and steady; prime steers, $6.35 to $6.50; butcher grades, $3.50 to $6.25.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"Yes'm, I reckon I can git that fur," he ventured modestly. Taking the deck, he promptly forgot his role and proceeded to give a very fine demonstration of the professional shuffle, spreading the cards in the air between his hands until he resembled an expert bartender mixing drinks. This completed to his entire satisfaction, he spouted out the pasteboards in a deal of lightning-like rapidity, while Mme. Davezac and the old judge sat bolt upright with astonishment. At length an extra desperate and well executed kick from Kirby checked the old gambler's stirring exhibition, and, covered with confusion, he dropped several cards to the floor and, in order to hide his flaming cheeks, stooped and began to miserably grope for them.

"You see," exclaimed Kirby, "my secretary is not so experienced as he might be. To speak confidentially, I would have let him go last month if it weren't that he is the only support of a wife and eleven children."

"I wish I was in the lower regions," groaned Bunce sotto voce.

"I'll see that you get your wish if you don't sit up here," replied Kirby.

But soon it was Kirby's turn to gain that state of absentmindedness for which he had censured his partner, for in the adjoining room Adele had commenced to sing, and all his thoughts promptly went out to her, his lips mutely repeating the words of the well remembered song, while his eyes grew as dreamy and abstracted as his mind. At length, when it was his turn to play, conscious only that he was holding a book of cards and consequently inferring that he must be indulging in his bread and butter game of poker, he spread his hand face up upon the table.

"Malheur!" exclaimed Mme. Davezac, aghast at this startling innovation. "He expose his hand."

"I fear," commented the judge, rising and pushing back his chair, "that Colonel Moreau finds it difficult to play cards and listen to the voice of a beautiful woman at the same time."

"And you cannot say that he have not good taste," commented Mme. Davezac. "Tiens! We adjourn, then, to the music room. You will come, Colonel Moreau and monsieur the secretar'?"

Adele was still singing, Miss Pleydell accompanying her, and, drawn by the soft harmony, M. Veaudry and Aaron at length forsook the balcony and, as had the others, proceeded to make their way toward the music room. Their goal, however, was never attained, for as they stepped through the window into the deserted drawing room they were met by Poulette, one of the "French niggers." She carried a small bundle made of a knotted spotted handkerchief, and her manner attested that she was evidently laboring under the repressed excitement incident upon discovering business not intended for her cognizance. In fact, she had but completed a victory over old Croup, who had persistently annoyed her with his attentions and, when censured for so doing by his ample wife, had promptly and quite untruthfully charged Poulette with making his life unbearable by her unrequited affection for his person. Since then Poulette, smarting under the calumny, had eagerly sought some method of assuaging her outraged feelings, and now at last she had secured it.

"Miche Aaron," she whispered, plucking Mr. Randall's sleeve as he was about to pass on—"Miche Aaron, dat black man, Croup, he have a secret. Dat secret it is with Miche Moreau."

CHAPTER XI.

"WHAT secret?" demanded Aaron, for at the magic name "Moreau" his companion and he were instantly all attention. "What secret?" he again peremptorily demanded.

"I see them speak together sly," said Poulette, nodding her head and screwing up her eyes in a manner that boded ill for the amative and untruthful Mr. Croup. "I can tell that they did not wish you to see. Then when you come from dinner Colonel Moreau he hand this to Croup behind the door. Croup he keep it in he breast pocket until he fall asleep on poarch just now. I have look. It is all those camels"—

"Camels?" dryly echoed Aaron, with raised eyebrows.

"Oui, miche," confidently nodded Poulette, evidently no whit amazed at the idea of the spotted handkerchief being able to accommodate such animals. "All those camels the colonel gen'eman wear when he is come, wear them on his fob chain." And she opened the spotted handkerchief.

"Cameos, M. Aaron!" exclaimed Anatole, an exultant light leaping to his eyes. "See, there they are. Now I know. You saw Colonel Moreau when he started for that meeting this morning. You saw him when Tom Randall has meeting this morning. You saw him when Tom Randall has give him that pistol of his father's to go and kill—who? But one man—Cameo Kirby!" he cried, leveling his arm at the startled Aaron.

And, as if further proof were needed, evidence which proved beyond a doubt the sinister identity of the unwelcome guest, Croup entered with a note, which he handed to M. Veaudry.

"Man on horseback ride all de way from de city wif it," he explained.

Hastily scanning it, the young creole handed it in silence to Mr. Randall, and the latter read:

I have one more clew to run down, but I shall follow this within the hour. I hear a rumor that Colonel Moreau took the journey with you this morning. If this is true, secure his portmanteau, and if he is still at the plantation do not allow him to quit the place till I come. Use any means to prevent his leaving. Do not hesitate at force. Colonel Moreau was murdered this morning by Cameo Kirby. TOM RANDALL.

Aaron gravely returned the letter to his companion, and for a long moment the two men looked at each other in silence. Then M. Veaudry quietly placed the paper in his pocket, turned on his heel and strode from the room, Mr. Randall obediently following. At last they had arrived at a complete understanding regarding the identity and disposition of the troublesome guest who boldly masqueraded under the name of Colonel Moreau. That no words had been necessary testified to the sinister character of the resolve upon which they had mutely determined.

From the balcony Larkin Bunce, chewing impatiently on his cheroot, waited for Adele to leave the drawing room. It was imperative that he should have a final word with Kirby. Escaping from the music room before the others, he had been in time to catch a glimpse of Aaron Randall's face as the latter followed M. Veandry, and the sight had not been a comforting one, the old gambler feeling assured that something untoward had happened. It would not have surprised him if their respective identities had at last been discovered.

"I knowed we'd get it if we stayed," he commented gloomily. "I wonder if this means it's come," glowering at Aaron's retreating back.

And yet, looking through the window, he discerned Kirby seated at the card table negligently toying with the pasteboards and frittering away the time with Adele as if secure in the peace and happiness of his own home. Such indifference was maddening, inexplicable, and the old gambler, with a final imprecation, decided that the moment Adele had gone he would convey a last warning to his partner, and if it was still unheeded he would then think of his own safety and, however difficult it would prove, leave Kirby to the fate he deserved.

Meanwhile that gentleman was calmly pursuing his dialogue with Adele.

"You ask me if I am sorry I did not go," he was saying. "Miss Randall, what is a man who acts against all the reason he has?"

"Sometimes he is a hero," she replied, steadily meeting his eyes.

"And sometimes he's a fool," he added grimly. "Things come so suddenly sometimes that you can hardly get your breath quick enough to tell what to do. Yet," he added musingly, "you do know all the time, underneath, what you ought to do. For instance, I know that I ought not to be here now. I haven't any right. And, then, I ought to be hunting the man who stole a silver mounted pistol at the oaks this morning."

HE DISCERNED KIRBY SEATED AT THE CARD TABLE.

"But you can't do that," she expostulated, nodding wisely. "Your friends would"—

"Miss Randall, I've got only one friend in the world, and he's out there on the balcony swearing cuss words at me because I don't go."

She turned away, evincing sudden and vital interest in a book she had read twice over and knew by heart.

"Do you think you have a right to say that you have only one friend?" she asked gently.

"I—I hadn't thought of you as a friend, Miss Randall."

"Why? How do you think of me?" suddenly facing him, her eyes half timid, half daring, demanding a sincere answer.

"Why—just as you, Miss Adele—and I ought not to think of you at all."

"Do you mean because this unjust charge is hanging over you? Do you think I care for that? Is there any other reason?"

He nodded, permitting the cards to fall from his hand one by one to the table. "Yes; there is another reason. You remember what Mercutio said of his wound—''Tis neither as deep as a well nor as wide as a church door, but 'twill serve. Ask for me tomorrow; you shall find me a grave man.' The bad prince ought not to stay too long, you know."

She seated herself at the table and scrutinized him with grave, troubled eyes, her chin reposing daintily on the crux of arched hands. "You must make it clearer to me than that. What are you afraid of my finding out?"

Ice Keeps Steamer Out.

Nome, Alaska, June 8.—The steamer Corwin, which arrived from Seattle with 102 passengers Monday, has been unable to make a landing because of the heavy ice floes and the rough sea. The Corwin went twenty miles up the coast, but was unable to find a suitable landing place. The ice still stretches six miles out from shore.

Three Children Burned to Death.

Sherbrooke, June 8.—A report was received here yesterday afternoon that three children, aged 12, 9 and 6 years, was burned to death at St. Martin's, Beauce County, yesterday morning. The fire broke out in the house occupied by Leon Poulin. Mrs. Poulin and her 20-year-old son were also badly burned.

"Mother, I thought you were going to try Red Rose Tea?" "Well, I was, but I just forgot—I'll go and 'phone for some right now!"

Railway steel reached Porcupine yesterday. The work train leaving at 6 o'clock to-day carried the first passengers on the all-rail trip from Porcupine. Ballasting is completed within eight miles.

At a meeting of the Oxford Council at Woodstock a resolution was offered calling on the Attorney-General to press the graft charges against certain members. No vote was taken, pending the receipt of the committee's report.

Thomas Moyse of Toronto, who was arrested a week ago at Galt on a charge of kidnapping his son, who was a ward of the Children's Aid, received his trial yesterday. The father was referred to the society with his grievance, and was told to keep away from his son.

Does Not Want an Election.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Hon. Frank Oliver stated here yesterday that the Government has no desire to call a general election now. It was true that only five-twelfths of the supply had been voted ,and therefore it was in the power of the Opposition to force on an election in September. That would be before complete census returns would be in, and therefore before redistribution would be possible. He spoke last night at Selkirk, Man., and will address several meetings in Manitoba before proceeding west.

Entertained by Lord Northcliffe.

London, June 8.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Lord and Lady Northcliffe entertained 300 members of the Imperial Conference and general oversea visitors at their residence, Sutton Place, Guilford. Attending were Sir Joseph Ward, Premier Morris, Lord Chelmsford, Premier Hazen, Sir Edmund Walker, Sanford Evans, Max Aitken, M.P.; Sir William Mackenzie, Rev. T. C. S. Macklem and Miss Merritt.

Ladies Were Searched.

Brockville, June 8.—Five female passengers landed here from Ogdensburg, N.Y., by the steamer Riverdale, were searched in the customs office by Mrs. Ogilvie of Toronto, the special officer, and each were found to have goods secreted in their clothing. Three of the ladies hailed from Kingston.

HOTELS IN PORTUGAL.

Paying One's Bill There Becomes a Duel in Politeness.

When traveling for the first time in Portugal one is apt to become exasperated when he desires to settle up with his landlord at the hotel. When the traveler asks how much his bill is the landlord bows graciously, smiles suavely, rubs his hands together and replies that the bill is as much as the guest wishes to contribute.

This is simply the opening of a duel of politeness, for the hardened traveler at once thanks the landlord for his confidence in him and again very courteously asks for a detailed statement of his account. Still the bill is not forthcoming, for the landlord declares that he does not wish to insult his guest in any such manner. Finally the landlord does reckon up the charges on his fingers. When he has finished he asks the traveler how much the sum total is. If the traveler hasn't kept track of it the landlord very laboriously goes over the account again. If the guest has footed up the bill the landlord is sure that it cannot be so much and insists on a re-reckoning. The result is the same, and the landlord invariably needs to bring two or three more fingers into use for items that had been accidentally omitted.

Needless to state, the traveler not hardened to this process breathes a deep sigh of relief when he "escapes."

Tips Didn't Pay.

Montreal, June 8.—John Flynt, a follower of the races, who was arrested on Monday night by the Westmount police for selling "tips," was brought before Police Magistrate McMahon and sentenced to fifteen days in jail. So poor a business had the man been doing that he was not able to pay the optional fine of $5, which would have kept him out of jail.

Kidnapped By Parents.

Brantford, June 8.—There was some excitement near Langford yesterday when a man and woman in a covered buggy kidnapped a nine-year-old adopted daughter of a farmer named Shunk, while she was on her way to school.

The girl is a ward of the Children's Aid Society, and her parents are believed to be the guilty parties.

Missing Child Found Drowned.

Brockville, June 8.—Glendin Newvine, aged three, wandered from home on Tuesday. An all-night search by the police failed to locate the child.

Yesterday morning a fishpole found on a boat-house dock in Tunnel Bay furnished a clue, and a drag-net recovered the body in ten feet of water.

Patched Up Their Quarrel.

Brantford, June 8.—The trouble between the Dufferin Rifles Regiment and the city was adjusted yesterday, the regiment sending notice that by a majority vote it had been decided to turn out and assist in the mayor's gala day and coronation celebration.

Released Wrong Man.

Cornwall, June 8.—In compliance with a telegram from Chief Russe of Cobourg, Chief of Police Smyth of Cornwall, the other day went to the G.T.R. depot and arrested a passenger on the eastbound express, named Charles Crane. It seems that Crane, along with several other young men, was arrested and sent to jail at Cobourg for stealing a ride on the Grand Trunk Railway. One of the crowd, named Berry, wrote to his friends in Montreal, who sent the Cobourg chief money to pay Berry's fine and provide him with a ticket to Montreal. When Berry was asked for at the jail Crane stepped forward instead, was released and started for Montreal. Afterwards the mistake was discovered, and the message was sent out in pursuit of Crane. He was taken back to Cobourg by Chief Russe to finish his sentence.

For the Family
You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.
But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?
By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.
A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the claim amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

WHAT IS YOUR AGE MISS.--?

Some Hesitation Follows This Query by Enumerators

"Yes, many of the questions do sound rather impertinent and unnecessary," said a census enumerator to the Review, "but they are important and enable Government to secure a man's standing. Some of them I would prefer myself not to ask."

"I have been in fifty-seven houses already," he continued, "and I have not had the least trouble yet. The questions that appear to be most distasteful and which are answered most reluctantly are those relative to the age and to the amount of earnings during the year."

"What do you do when a lady who is a little bashful about giving her age," the enumerator was asked, "when she is enjoying spinsterhood bliss."

"O we have a plan which works well and by which we invariably obtain the information."

"What is your age," she is asked.

"I can't tell you that," she replies, "well I'll put you down at say 45,says the enumerator, making it ten years more than what he judges her age to be.

"Rather than submit to having the figures go down for, that age she volunteers the correct information."

At one house the enumerator had went into the mother had given the ages of all her daughters. Soon after the eldest girl came in, not knowing her age was down and told her mother not to give it.

"That will be all right, replied the questioner and she went away satisfied that Mr. Inquisitive did not have her age down in his book.

"We do not divulge any information as we are sworn to secrecy in the matter and information obtained at a house never gets past the door." he said.

It is apparent that his coming is not hailed with pleasure as one enumerator called at ten houses on a certain street yesterday and at only two were The inmates found at home.

MR. K. EARDLEY-WILMOT who was married yesterday.

MILK BY-LAW AT LINDSAY

Provides That Milk Have Standard of 3 per cent Butter Fat

The Lindsay Town Council, has a milk by-law on its hands which provides for a standard of milk at 3 per cent butter fat and recommends that an inspector be appointed to inspect dairy stables and see that they are sanitary in every respect ,that the drinking water for cows is pure, that utensils in which the milk is kept are clean, and also that milk before being sold in Lindsay shall first be cooled on ice.

At the present time, milk vendors are not called upon to pay a license fee, and the suggestion was that all person, selling milk even if they have but one cow, pay a fee of $1. This question an d several others were stumbling blocks for the by-law at the last meeting and it was laid over for further discussion.

NO CHEAP RATES CORONATION DAY

Toronto, June 8—There will be no excursion rates over the C.P.R. and G.T.R. lines on June 22, Coronation Day. This was decided at a monthly meeting of the Eastern Canada Passenger Association held in the Prince George Hotel yesterday It was concluded tha in view of he small number who took advantage of the single-fare excursions on the King's birthday, last Saturday, it would not be advisable to reduce rates on June 22. This applies to the steamboats asw ell as the railways.

COON HUNTING ON GEORGE STREET

Animal Ascended Pole But Was Finally Bagged

It was not religious devotion that caused hundreds of eyes to be turned upward on George street this morning, but just to watch the frantic efforts of a live "coon" to evade capture and displacement from his high perch on the top of a telegraph pole in front of H. LeBrun & Company's store. Clerks, store employes and passers-by all stopped to watch the unusual sight. Coming from no one know where, Mr. Coon sought his lofty abode probably to escape annoyance from quarrelsome dogs or would-be captors. It did not require long for a crowd to gather and view the strange spectacle. A telephone call brought a fireman, who ascended the pole armed with a bamboo rod, and with which he tried to dislodge the animal. The coon fought viciously and performed some real menagerie and tight-rope stunts, while the big crowd below looked on and applauded. Another young man also climbed the pole with a potato bag, endeavoring to coax the animal to walk into it. The coon declined and proceeded to walk upside down along the wire until drawn back by means of a string thrown around its neck.

Finally it was jerked down and dropped to the street, where a couple of J. J. Turner's men caught it, placed it in the bag and it was carried to the fire hall.

ESTIMATE OF LOSS BY USE OF OIL

Bicycle Dealer Gives Figures at $10,000

A representative of a Toronto road oil firm waited on the city council on Monday with a proposition to supply oil for the street at five cents a gallon. The agent claimed that the grade of oil which he recommended had been successfully used on the streets of Woodstock, Toronto, and other cities. In regard to these statements a prominent bicycle dealer of this city stated to the Review this morning that there was very little difference in the oil which was recommmended and what had been used already on the streets. In Toronto the bad effects are not so clearly shown ,owing to the fact that many of the streets are of asphalt, and only on some of the side streets is the oil sprinkled. A bicyclist, for instance, coming into the city after riding a short distance on an oil sprinkled street, would strike the asphalt road where the oil would quickly be brushed off.

In referring to the destructiveness of the oil to tires in Peterborough, the same gentleman stated he was safe in placing the local loss already at $10,000. Liverymen say that the tires on their outfits have been completedly ruined. Automobile owners, bicyclists, liverymen, etc., all are sufferers from the oil.

SUCCESSFUL WORK OF FRED J. BENTON

Peterboro Boy in Missionary work at Spokane

Peterboro people will be interested in the following, which is taken from the Spokane Daily Chronicle, and refers to a former Peterboro boy, Fred. J. Benton, a brother of Mr. George Benton, 224 Rubidge Street.

Fred. J. Benton and wife of Los Angeels, have arrived at Spokane, Mr. Benton, to take the position of assistant, to Mr. Dan. W. Bush, superintendent of the Union Rescue Mission. Both are musicians of ability. Mr. and Mrs. Benton will sing for the stereopticon illustrations.

For several years Mr. Benton was engaged at the parent, Lel Trotter Mission at Grand Rapids, Mich. For the last two years he has been assisting Mr. George Trotter, at the Los Angeles Mission. He has been particularly successful in street work.

Mr. Benton has been away from Peterboro about fifteen years, and previous to leaving served apprenticeship in Lewis' barber shop. He had marked ability as a pianist and was popular among a large number of young people, and many friends still residing in the city will be pleased to hear of his success.

TO DISCONTINUE DOUBLE HEADER

Light Moguls to Haul Freight on Northern Division

The Grand Trunk officials are considering the matter of replacing the lighter freight locomotives in use on the northern division, with the light Moguls off th emain line. The charge is with a view to doing away with double headers. The average load for a double header is eleven hundred tons and a test mogul which was run from Lindsay to Belleville last-night, drew eight hundred tons.

The track, bridges and culverts all along the line have been strengthened and the road is in good shape for the additional weight.

Moist Heat is the Natural Heat

YOUR HOUSE WILL "FEEL" WARMER AT 65° WITH MOIST AIR THAN AT 70° WITH DRY

Door Open to fill pan.
Either door may be used.

Adding moisture to the air in your home will give you the same heat for less fuel.

A consideration, no doubt.

But that is not all.

Warm dry air, however pure, is not healthful. The human body demands more moisture than is carried in the winter air.

The "Hecla" supplies this moisture in plenty. A large circular pan of water is placed where it will be easy to fill and where it will not be overlooked.

Circular Water Pan

Has five times the evaporating surface of pans placed over furnace door. Runs clear around the back of the furnace. Will hold enough water to last 24 hours. May be filled at either door, as shown above.

"Hecla" Furnace

SAVES ONE TON OF COAL IN SEVEN.

By actual test the "Hecla" saves one ton of coal in seven. That is, it is so constructed as to give the same heat for six tons of coal as you ever got from seven.

Do you want to know more about this furnace?

No Gas or Dust.

And it is just as important to keep the air free from coal gas and dust.

In the "Hecla" every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an outlet, has been fused absolutely tight by our patented process. The same fused joints keep out the dust and smoke.

CANNOT SELL SEPARATELY

The Restaurant Keepers Received Notice From Police To-day

All restaurant keepers, quick lunch counter proprietors and drug store owners were officially given warning to-day to cease selling ice cream or cigars, alone, on Sunday, hereafter, or else be subject to the extreme penalty of the law for violation. This action by the local authorities was taken following the recent decision of Justice Middleton in Toronto in reference to similar cases.

Ice cream may now only be had on Sunday when ordered with some article of food. The same holds good with cigars and tobacco. They may be bought as a supplement to a meal. The law is to be strictly enforced in all cases.

Soft drinks, however, are not included and may be had separately as before.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The choir of St. Paul's church will rehearse to-night at eight o'clock.

All the boy scourts are requested to be at the armories to-night in full uniform for drill purposes. It is very important that all should attend.

At the request of L.O.L. Duke of Manchester, No. 50, their handsome new banner, purchased from and manufactured by the Dominion Regalia Co., Toronto, has been placed in the east window of Belleghem's furniture store. The small banner, presented by Mr. J. B. McWilliams to the juvenile lodge, is also on exhibition.

The excursion to Ottawa this morning, under the auspices of the Farmers' Institute of East and West Peterboro and East Durham, was largely patronized, about 230 from Peterboro district taking it in. Those who went were mostly farmers from the surrounding towns and villages.

On June 20th, the law forbidding the admission of all children under fifteen years to nickleodeons and moving picture shows unless accompanied by an adult goes into effect. Proprietors of all local moving picture shows have been notified of the decree.

The Y.W.C.A. moonlight excursion per steamer "Stoney Lake," will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 15th. The Salvation Army band will furnish music. Tickets 25 cents.

PRETTY JUNE WEDDINGS

JOPLING—ELLIOTT.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening about 6 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Frederick Dobson, 499 Cambridge street, when Miss Edith Ruth Elliott, of Smith, and Frederick William Jopling, of Bridgenorth, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Crookshanks, of Bridgenorth.

A host of friends and acquaintances were present at the event, many being from surrounding towns and villages. The bride was assisted by two bridesmaids, Miss Laura Elliott, her cousin, and Miss Jopling, sister of the groom. Messrs. J. M. O'Brien and Harry Jopling were groomsmen. Miss McClung played the wedding march.

After the nuptial knot was tied, the young couple and guests, numbering about sixty, partook of a charming wedding supper, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jopling returned to Bridgenorth, their future home.

EARDLEY-WILMOT—TAYLOR.

Ottawa Journal.—An exceptionally pretty wedding took place to-day at the home of the bride's father, in Perth, when Rev. A. H. Scott, M.A., of St. Andrew's church, united Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, manager of the Bank of Montreal, in marriage to Miss Ethel Grace, third daughter of Henry Taylor, Esq.

The groom is a descendent of Sir John Eardley-Wilmot, who during the closing half of the eighteenth century was Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of England, and he is a son of the late Major-General Frederick Eardley-Wilmot, F.R.S. of Berkswell, Warwickshire, Eng. The His brother, Colonel Irton Eardley-Wilmot, served as an officer of the British army in India and is now in England. The bride belongs to one of the best known families in Perth and is a descendant of one of the old Scottish families of Edinburgh, and is a granddaughter of the late Samuel Massey, of Montreal.

Miss Jessie Taylor, of New York, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid, and Mr. J. A. Craig, of Perth, was best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony, among the out-of-town guests being Mr. H. E. Suckling, of the C.P.R.; Mrs. H. M. Taylor, of Regina; Mr. and Mrs. George Tooke, of Montreal; Mrs. F. Shaw, of Kingston; Mr. John Wright, of Toronto; Mr. Kenneth Taylor, manager of the Merchant's Bank at Walkerton.

ANDERSON—RUMBLE.

A pretty June wedding occurred at 2.30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in East City at the residence of Wm. Anderson, of Cambridge, Ont., and Miss Mary Rumble, of East City, were married by the Rev. Robert Pogue in the presence of a large number of guests.

The bride was charmingly attired in white embroidered silk trimmed with lace and was assisted by her sister, who was most becomingly dressed in brown silk.

The groom was supported by Mr. Will Huffman.

A dainty wedding luncheon was served and the happy young couple left on the 4.38 for a short wedding trip before taking up residence at Cambridge.

PICKERING—ANDERSON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, 672 Concession street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this morning, when their second daughter, Miss Margaret Elizabeth, and Mr. Carmel L. Pickering, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pickering, Lindsay, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. G. W. Henderson performed the ceremony at 11 o'clock before the relatives and friends of the contracting parties, after which a dainty wedding dinner was partaken of.

The groom is train despatcher for the Grand Trunk at Lindsay, and was formerly identified with the local depot offices.

Among the many costly presents was a silver tea cabinet from the groom's parents, a dinner and tea set from the bride's parents, also a beautiful hand painting from fellow-employes of the groom.

The happy couple left for Montreal and points east, via the G.T.R. 1.40 train. They will reside in Lindsay on their return.

BELMONT CLUB OPENING

The Belmont Club House was formally opened for the summer last night when a very successful dance was held. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the club colors, (mauve and purple) and lighted with Chinese lanterns. The wharf was also lighted with the lanterns and the effect was very pleasing.

About fifty couple enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Mr. Jack Strathdee, the clever pianist, of Toronto, who is always a favorite here, supplied the music for dancing in his usual highly satisfactory manner. Refreshments were served by Coleman Bros., caterers, and at a late hour the pleasure seekers were met by special street car service.

The next event of the Belmont Club is a regatta and flotilla, which will take place July 12th, in front of their club house. There will be several open events. It will be the first event of this nature ever undertaken by any club in Peterborough and should meet with the general approval.

NO BAND CONCERT FOR TO-MORROW

Granolithic Walk Construction Responsible for Postponement

Mr. Gliddon has, at the request of the city council, called off the band concert program at Victoria park for to-morrow night.

The new granolithic walk is under construction and advanced to such a stage, that to ensure its protection from damage, it has been deemed advisable to have the concert postponed.

GAVE CONCERT AT GILMOUR CHURCH

Highly Successful Program by Conservatory Talent

At the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church last evening talent from the Conservatory of Music gave what proved to be a most enjoyable and successful concert, under the auspices of the young men of the church, before a very large audience. The members of the Conservatory orchestra and young people to the number of twenty-five, made the trip to and from the church in the Rutherford and Grimes motor car. Seven numbers were given by the orchestra, and others who were heard were Misses Choate, Logan and McKee, and Messrs. Asa Huycke, Warren Dean and Walter Hughes. One of the numbers was an instrumental trio by Misses Choate and Dean and Warren Deen. Mr. Hughes gave a cornet solo. One of the features of the program was the playing of Miss Hilda Bonner, a pupil of the Conservatory, her difficult selections by Gounod and Merkel being given careful delineation.

At the conclusion of the program the ladies of the church served refreshments, and the occasion was voted one of the most enjoyable ever held in connection with the church

PARENTS ATTENTION

The Annual Inspection of the Collegiate Institute Cadet Corps will take place on Friday afternoon next at Riverside Park, at 2 o'clock The Public is cordially invited to be present on that occasion. John Crane, Chairman, Board of Education.

PERSONAL

LABOR REPORT FOR THE MONTH

Monthly Letter to Labor Gazette On Local Conditions

Labor generally has been well employed. Building operations were rapidly increasing in activity, and the year promises to be prosperous. Manufacturing industries were very active, a number of factories having to work overtime. Labourers were in good demand during the latter part of the month, and from now on work will be plentiful in nearly all trades. The contracts have been let for the new Murray street church, and the contractors have started to put in the foundation. Work has commenced on the erection of the factory for the Bonner Worth Worsted Yarn Company. The Canadian Canoe Company will build a new structure, about 32x114; it will be three stories high, with a basement and storehouse, 48x80, with lumber shed 20x114. A new home for the Protestant poor will be built this summer. The board of works has contracted for 4,000 barrels of cement, and will build about 5 miles of granolithic walks. A new navigation company has been organized here, viz., the Peterborough & Lake Simcoe Navigation Company. It has a fleet of six steamers to operate on the waters of Lake Simcoe and the intermediate lakes and rivers to Rice Lake. The question of cheap power for Peterborough is engaging the attention of the Industrial Commissioner and the City Council. There are two or more propositions to be considered, viz., the hydro-electric power, under Government auspices; the purchase of the Lakefield dam and the purchase of power on the river Trent, at Healey's Falls and other points.

Agriculture.—Farmers were very busy seeding. Fall wheat in this locality is said to have wintered well. There was a good demand for farm labourers.

Lumbering and manufacturing were active.

The building trades were unusually active for this time of the year. Iron moulders and core makers had a busy month. Machinists and electrical workers were active. The printing and allied trades were active. Journeymen tailors and garment workers very active. Bakers and confectioners, butchers and meatcutters were active. Leather workers were fairly well employed. Textile workers were active. Railway and street railway employes were active. Teamsters and expressmen were busy. Unskilled labor was fairly well employed.

Woodmen's Church Service

The members of Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, W.O.W. are requested to attend church service in St. Andrew's church, on Sunday evening June 11th. Camp will meet at 6 o'clock p.m. in S.O.E. Hall and parade to church. 3d.

Many people drink O'Keefe's "Special Extra Mild" Ale solely for its food properties. Being brewed of finest hops and malt, it contains all the body and brain building elements of these grains. It is because we use the best, that is so rich and creamy—so thoroughly enjoyable—as well as so nutritious and wholesome. It's "extra mild" remember, and never makes you bilious. In Crown stoppered bottles. No broken cork or tinfoil in the glass.

O'Keefe's

Special Extra Mild Ale

SPRIGS OF SPORT

HEFFERNAN CAPTAIN OF 1912 OTTAWA COLLEGE BALL TEAM

Is Being Shifted From the Right Garden to the First Cushion.

Ottawa Free Press says:—Big Pete Heffernan has been elected captain of the College baseball team for 1912. Heff hails from Peterboro, and is developing into a classy ball player. He has been playing in the outfield this season, but in future will be anchored on first. He is a clean up hitter of the reliable kind, and usually gets in one of his long pokes when the cushions are occupied. He has a very fine throwing arm, and can speed some around the paths.

There is a row on in the city ball league at Ottawa and charges of professionalism are in the air, photos of several of the players having been noticed in the Canadian edition of the Spauldings' Basball guide. The Ottawa College is taking in the initiative in order that their players, who are prominent in other sports may be protected.

But in connection with the annoucement, the Ottawa Citizen says:—

"It has been whispered that charges of ineligibility would be laid against Heffernan and Ed. Killian. However, both according to Manager Harris, are bona fide students. Manager Fred. Chittick, of the O.A.A.C., courts an enquiry and each of the other managers is also willing that the commissioners if necessary call each of the players on the carpet.

COBOURG NINE

Will Give the Locals a Hard Game Saturday

Since it has become known that the Cobourg team has been greatly strengthened since the game here on the holiday, the majority of the fans are looking forward to witnessing a pretty battle when the locals line up on the lakeshore ball lot, this Saturday. It's a cinch that Quinlan will have a much more difficult proposition than on the first meeting when the home aggregation had little trouble in winning with that record 31—9 score. The team is hard at work practicing in anticipation of running up against a surprise and all hands are fit and ready for a stiff contest. The special train will not leave the G.T.R. station until 1.30 o'clock. The fare is $1 for adults with children half price.

LAWN BOWLING

Although it is early in June, the Peterboro Lawn Bowling and Tennis green, presents a lively scene, during the afternoons. The tennis courts are always occupied when weather permits and the bowling end of the program is also waking up.

In a singles contest between D. H. Moore and T. B. Yeates, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Moore finished one up on the 13-12 score, but frankly admitted after the game that it was an accident.

Skip Brightman and skip Renwick rinks had a lot of sport piling up fourteen shots on a fourteen end game, and it is understood, the genial president will be only too pleased to explain how he outmanoeuvred his opponent and finished at the front of the 8-6 tally. Games had been arranged for the evening, but had to be called off on account of the rain.

WARSAW HOLD JUNIOR HONORS

Of Midland Football League — Havelock Couldn't Score at Home

Special Correspondence.

Havelock, June 7.—By drawing a no score game here with the local juniors on Friday night, the Warsaw soccer aggregation succeeded in winning out in the round and annexing the Midland junior league cup for 1911. When Havelock went to Warsaw two weeks ago the home team won, and thus by holding Friday's game to a no score exhibition, succeeded in getting away with the silverware which the local juniors tucked away last year after a hard tussle.

In Friday night's game some good football playing was shown by both sides considering the fact that the contestants were juniors, and that each team has only figured on one game before, so that the players were not in the same condition as plenty of practice would have assured. A working out of good combination was prevented by the teams playing with only ten men aside thus breaking up the pass work where it would have done most good.

Only a fair crowd came out to cheer the locals in their struggle, but a good proportion of the fair sex encouraged the gladiators to do their best. Under the refereeship of Bell of Warsaw, who gave satisfaction in spots, the game got under way at seven o'clock.

During the first portion the Dummer boys were on the aggressive and made some bold efforts to break through the defense, but Shepherdson and Copp proved a good back-stop, while Stuart in goal did some star work whenever the back line failed. Darling brothers, of the Warsaw eleven, proved fast men, and succeeded at times in forcing an opening in the halves, but were unable to find the stakes.

Havelock during the second act were up and doing, realizing that one goal might give them a chance to retain the junior pennant. The forward line made some good attempts wor... ...ether, Doren and Rose doing some ... work with Warner and Herrington doing their share in their portion of the lawn. However, the Warsaw backs proved their equal, Dewart playing a well balanced game, while Hawthorne was always on the job between the stakes so that the second and final game of the junior series ended in a no count affair. Those who done battle for the home team lines up as follows:

Goal—Stewart.
Backs—Copp, Shepherdson.
Halves—Bennet, Knox, Seabrook.
Centre—Rose.
Right—Warner, Herrington.
Left—Doren.

BASEBALL

East City and Sacred Heart Church teams of the Inter Catholic Ball league promise a good game at Riverside Park, Saturday afternoon, when they line up for the second contest of the league, at 3.30 o'clock.

The Easterners will have O'Hern behind the bat and Coughlin and Owens handing out the twirling while Harry Lafave will support either Gus. Rose or Gorham for the southerners. Gorham has been presented with a permit to put in his lot with the church nine and will likely get a chance to serve a few of them up. The ladies pass the gate free, but the male portion will be asked for a fee of ten cents. A capable umpire will take care of the teams.

BENSFORT BRIEFS

Special Correspondence.

Bensfort, June 11 — The township council, constituting our Court of Revision, met in the council chamber at Centreville on Monday, May 29, when all appeals were disposed of and then adjourned until Wednesday, 31st ult., for the transaction of other municipal affairs. Reeve Waterman occupied the chair and had a full attendance of councillors.

Mr. George Smithson, our local contractor and builder, has a busy seasons work ahead of him having contracts for barns for Messrs. John Buckham, Wm. Deyell, Joseph Higgins and Joseph Wood. He has commenced work at Mr. John Buckham's.

Mr. Wilson Dodd with wife and family have left here and are now visiting friends near Collingwood.

Mr. Thomas Smithson of Gravenhurst is visiting friends in this community.

Mr. Mitchell of Millbrook has commenced the store work for Mr. W. Deyell's new barns.

Mr. Joseph Wood is procuring most of the material for his new barns from Mr. John Smith of Bewdly. He will have it brought by water to within a comparatively short distance from home.

Mr. O'Hara of the Millbrook creamery spent Sunday at Mr. Herbert Perrins.

Mr. George Howson, scale inspector, was making calls in this vicinity a few days ago

Miss Louise Nimmo of Peterboro has been home on vacation during the past week.

Mr. Wm. Turnbull, an old resident of this vicinity is renewing acquantances here again, after an absence of some years in Manitoba and New Ontario.

Mr. John Buckham has commenced his government contract of taking the census in this vicinity.

Miss Lizzie Pue is visiting her sister Mrs. Adam Pimott of Allandale.

The Bensfort Union and Centreville Presbyterian Sunday schools are holding a joint excursion to Idylwyld and other points per steamer Stoney Lake on Friday, June 9th.

The steam launch "Mayflower" belonging to Mr. W. A. Nurse, was not in condition for the expected excursion on Victoria Day, but some of the near by bachelors assembled at Watkins' Corners, near Rice Lake, where quite a demonstration was held. Refreshments were served during the afternoon and a very enjoyable time spent. The main event was the boxing bout and it was not considered a good square ring performance by any means The frequent clinches effected by both principles gave evidence of lack of training and little interest was taken in the affair. The gathering dispersed at a somewhat late hour.

Mr John Moncrief has been building the cement foundation for Mr. Walter Finnie's new driving shed, during the past week, and the carpentering will be done by Mr. Harold Fry.

Mr. Mein of Peterboro has completed the bricking of Mr. George Whittingtons' house.

Mr. Alfred Wood, of Mather's Corners was visiting his father Mr. Thos. Wood, of this vicinity a few days ago.

Mrs. Wordsworth Perrin and daughter, of Vancouver, B.C., are now the guests of her father, Mr. Thomas Wood.

Dr. G. W. Dawson of Owen Sound spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dawson, of this vicinity.

Mr. Stanley Fry was renewing acquaintances at Mr. George Wood's on Sunday.

Another rubber tired buggy has found its way into our community, the owner being Mr. William Dawson, and we hope to hear of him enjoying it quite freuently, as he has not been in the habit of seeking pleasure to such an extent as some of our other young men.

Mr. Harry Kerr was renewing acquaintances at Mr. James Jackson's on Sunday.

Mrs Hatherley of Peterboro is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. McCallister of this vicinity.

Miss Irene Chambers of Peterboro spent Sunday at her home here.

Reeve Waterman is attending the meeting of the County Council at Cobourg this week.

SPRINGVILLE

Special Correspondence

Springville, June 7.—Miss Greta Clarke was the guest of Miss Euphema Bowles Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lightel, Miss Law, Miss Huston were visiting Mrs. J. Cathcart last evening.

Quite a number of our young men are looking forward to being a "soldier boy" at Petawawa.

Mrs. D. Smith is visiting friends at Elizabethville this week.

The large stones have been raked off the main street and our side roads, which makes quite an improvement.

Holy Communion was celebrated in the Presbyterian church of Springville Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. Clarke, of Peterborough, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. Smith.

Mr. and Miss Kennedy, of Toronto, are the guests of Mrs. J. Cathcart.

Mrs. Bell, of Peterborough, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hara.

Frank Whitfield passed through the village Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cathcart and Miss Lillie spent Thursday evening with Mr and Mrs. A. Campbell, Fraserville.

We notice W. Betteer has purchased a new buggy.

TOO SENSATIONAL.

Principal Forrest Condemns Tendency of Ministers.

Ottawa, June 8.—"In the name of the great King and head of the church," the 37th general assembly, the highest church court of the Presbyterians in Canada, opened last evening in Knox Presbyterian Church.

As was expected Rev. Dr. R. P. Mackay of Toronto was elected moderator. Rev. Dr. James Ross of London was also put in nomination, but he withdrew and the choice of Dr. Mackay was made unanimous. Rev. Dr. Scott will now be in line for the honor next year. A suggestion was also made that the honor might be given to a layman, but the retiring moderator pointed out that the rules required that the moderator be a clergyman.

The other features of the evening was the address by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. Forrest, Dalhousie University, Halifax. In a forceful sermon he emphasized the importance of pure gospel preaching and in no uncertain tones condemned the modern practice of many ministers preaching on political economy, sanitation and other questions on which too often they knew very little. The aids called in to make up for the weakness of the sermons, music, cantatas, solos with violin oblagatos, also came in for pointed criticism.

He said in part:

"Some may think that I am pessimistic, but I wish I could think the one theme in the whole of our pulpits is Jesus Christ and Him crucified. I know with many it is. But read the advertisements in the Saturday evening papers in many towns and cities and you will hear of men preaching on every kind of theme, sanitary hygenic, political or economic, and often when the preacher has very imperfect ideas of the subjects he professes to deal with. Follow down the advertised absurdities till you reach the region of absolute drivel, inaccurate history, crude and ill-digested economics, sensational serio-comic attacks on sins of people far away, while the sins that stare up from every pew are quietly ignored, and think that this is done by ambassadors of Christ, and the very thought of it is humiliating.

"What do such preachers think? Have we not enough of this in the yellow journals that come into our homes from day to day without having this trash palmed off in the church? Can we expect thinking men to come to the house of God for such stuff as this? Is it the message heaven has sent to dying men? We talk of our educated ministry. What education? What injustice! What refinement is there in preaching of this kind? When a medical man enters our homes to deal with a serious case we at least expect seriousness and dignity from him. Do we expect less from a physician of souls?"

Uncovering the Sunken Maine.

Havana, Cuba, June 8.—The first stage of uncovering the wreck of the battleship Maine was completed when the water level within the great cofferdam built around the wreck had been lowered Tuesday by precisely five feet. This leaves the portion of the barnacle-covered wreck visible above the water practically the same as after the disaster, before the hull was imbedded in the mud. The pumping resumes June 15.

Local Option at Vankleek Hill.

Cornwall, June 8.—Local option went into force at Vankleek Hill on May 1, and now it costs 50 cents for a meal at the Vankleek Hill hotels, and a charge is made for use of the hotel sheds. The temperance people are fighting this by throwing open the sheds at the various churches, and the business men are arranging for a 25-cent meal eating house.

INDIAN RIVER

Special Correspondence.

Indian River, June 7.—William O'Leary, who is census enumerator for this district, is hard at work.

Three carloads of hogs were shipped from Indian River last week. One was by Stabler Bros., one by Mr. Teddford, of Warsaw, and one by John Devlin, of this place.

The 4.20 train, westbound, now arrives at Indian River at 4.10.

A kitchen is being built at the cheese factory.

Mr. Lye, of Vancouver, was at Indian River on Monday.

Nellie Borland is home from Peterborough.

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Life is but an empty dream,
Just go to an ice cream social
Have your fill of good ice cream.

Life is real, life is earnest,
But brown gravy is not all,
We want ice cream in the summer,
We want oysters in the fall.

Lives of great men all remind us,
We can have a dandy time,
If here and there we leave a dollar,
Here and there we leave a dime.

Bethel, June 7th, at home of Adam Pimmet's, Alandale.

Baptist church, June 13th, at school ground.

Questions the enumerator may ask:

1. Are you crazy or have you been bitten by a mosquito?
2. Can you spell, read, write?
3. Are you a bachelor? If so, who mends the holes in your socks?
4. Do you eat ice cream? If so, how many?
5. Do the trains bother you at night?
6. How many (s)miles to the lap?
7. Do you keep cattle or do the cattle keep you?
8. Which do you think the more of the man who throws a banana skin on the sidewalk, or the banana skin that throws a man on the sidewalk?

St. Lawrence Crystal Diamonds

—The Crowning Achievement In The Science Of Sugar Refining.

The success of "Crystal Diamonds" is a distinct triumph for the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery, Montreal. A great many people have always wanted a really fine lump sugar — something attractive and appetizing in appearance — which they could serve on special occasions, or regularly with tea and coffee.

Such are "Crystal Diamonds". These daity squares of crystal sugar, brilliant and sparkling, are a distinct addition to any table.

In 5 pound boxes—also sold by the pound. Please remember to order by name—not "lump sugar" or "crystal sugar"—but the full name, ST. LAWRENCE CRYSTAL DIAMONDS.

Sir,—I was pleased to see the deserved rebuke of Rabbi Jacobs administered to the Rev. Dr, Mackay, in Toronto for his unchristian remarks about the Jews. THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles.

THIS AWARD WAS NOVELTY

Plasterers Troubles in Calgary Subject of Dispute

During the month of April last a strike of plasters and of plasterers' laborers occurred at Calgary, Alta. The cause being a demand for an increase of wages from 68 1-4 cents to 75 cents per hour, and from $3.50 to $4.00 per day, respectively.

It was decided, after the strike had gone on for a few days, to submit the matter to arbitration. Representatives from each side were chosen, with Superintendent R. B. Denne, of the Northwest Mounted Police, to act as chairman. The award of the chairman, which was given out on April 25th, was unfavorable to the claims of the men, and the chairman makes some remarks in the course of his award, which are a rather novel thing to find in such a document. He expresses very frankly his impressions and gives his reasons, the board of arbitration agreeing with him, as no dissent was noted. The Labor Gazette prints the award as follows, and labor men will be interested in reading it;

"As the Builders' Exchange has made the following concessions, the same become part of my award, and go into effect forthwith, to remain in effect during the ensuing year, dating from April 3rd, namely;

1. Eight hours to comprise a day's work, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., excepting Saturdays, when four hours shall comprise a day's work.

2. On such work as can readily be completed on a Saturday afternoon, not extending over more than two additional hours, the standard rate of pay is to take effect.

3. No work is to be done on Sundays, legal holidays nor on Labor Day.

4. Any work extending over the hours laid down in clauses 1 and 2 is to be paid for at the rate of time and one half.

The builders take exception to any increase in the present wage scale, as asked for by Plasterers' union, being an increase from 68 1-4 cents to 75 cents per hour.

They point out plasterers are paid at the rate of 60 cents per hour in Winnipeg, Regina and Saskatoon, whereas 65 cents is the rate in Edmonton.

They claim that living in Calgary is no more expensive than in the before mentioned cities, and that, even if it could be shown to be so, the difference is more than covered by the 8 1-4 cents preference which the Calgary plasterer enjoys over his Winnipeg, Regina and Saskatoon brethren, and by the 3 1-4 cents advantage which he has over his Edmonton brother.

I have myself lived in one or other of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta since July, 1883, on a fixed salary, and am unable to find any adequate reason for the advantage given to the Calgary plasterer, unless it is to be accounted for by the undue inflation of values of real estate in this city, which must ere long find their true level.

Plasterers advance as a reason for their demand that they have received no increase in wages for four years, but it seems to me that they on that account hold themselves to be anything but men made in the image of their Creator.

Why should the pursuit of an honorable calling, which only a man can follow, lead to the loss of self respect in a competent mechanic?

The broad question, as it seems to me, is this; Is the trade of a plasterer subject to greater risk of life and health, to more bodily discomfort and mental abasement, and to greater uncertainty in the way of employment, than the other trades in the building industry?

I cannot answer this question without consulting representatives of the other trades, but to my mind, it is a very material question. If such a condition is recognized by the building industry generally, that might be a reason for the conceding to the plasterers generally a higher scale of wages than is paid to bricklayers, carpenters and the like, but I have insufficient evidence before me to warrant me drawing such an inference.

For the reasons which I have briefly outlined I am constrained to say that I cannot make the award which the plasterers ask for.

The Hod Carriers and Plasterers' laborers ask for an advance from 43 3-4 cents to 50 cents an hour, basing their claim on the restricted season in which the plasters' work is possible, the laborious and dirty nature of the work and the liability to catching cold when running out of a warm house into the cold air several times a day.

They also quote prices which are in vogue in Vancouver, $4 a day, and in San Francisco, $5 a day.

They mention further the increase in the cost of living in Calgary.

As to the restricted season for work, and the nature of that work, what I have said as to the plasterers applies equally to the plasterers' laborers.

They choose that work as a means of livelihood and the fact that in spite of all its alleged disadvantages, they still stick to the trade, argues inferentially that it has, after all, some compensations—and one very material compensation in that plasterers' hod carrier receives per hour 6 3-4 cents more pay than the bricklayers' laborer.

We are not concerned with prices on the Pacific coast—the conditions of trade in the prairie provinces are our best guide.

MR. MILBURN TURNS BALL BACK IN FIRST PERIOD

GOOD-BYE TO BOY SCOUTS

Royal Farewell at Toronto to Canadian Lads.

A Thousand Scouts Gather to Give Send-Off.

Toronto, June 9.—Over a thousand Baden-Powell Boy Scouts assembled at the armories last night to give the coronation contingent a good send-off. District Scoutmaster A. E. Mercer was in charge of the parade of the evening and directed the martial movements of the lads, who were heartily applauded by the thousands of spectators who thronged all the galleries and occupied every spare inch on the ground floor.

The chief event of the evening was the presentation of colors to the contingent, and this ceremony was performed by Mrs. W. K. George, after Rev. A. D. Casler of Beamsville, local scoutmaster, had led the whole gathering in repeating the Lord's Prayer. The colors—a Union Jack, a Canadian ensign and troop flag—were received on behalf of the contingent by G. Brander, Wallaceburg; D. Stoddard, Coppercliff, and Percy Gibson, Bracebridge. The band of the 48th Highlanders played "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the scouts and spectators standing with heads uncovered.

Arrests Made in a Threatened Abduction Case.

Montreal, June 9.—Wm. S. Wolda, said to be a private detective from the States, was arrested here Wednesday night, and two others, A. J. King, of Toronto, and Leopold Brodie, were arrested at Goderich where they were negotiating for the location of a new process for the manufacture of salt. The charge is attempting to kidnap and the complainant is Stewart H. Jones, a New Yorker of wealth, who some months ago had a misunderstanding with his wife. In this the name of Leopold Brodie was mentioned. Suit was brought in New York and the court gave the custody of the two-year-old child to the father, and they came to Montreal.

Jones suspected that friends of the wife were trying to get the boy, and employed private detectives, resulting in the arrests.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

SEPARATION AT QUEEN'S TO BE CONSIDERED BY ASSEMBLY

Important Matter Comes up To-day—Missionary Work in the West is Under Discussion.

Ottawa, June 9.—One of the biggest questions for the Presbyterian general assembly, in fact, ranking with church union for first place, is the proposed separation of Queen's University from the church. This constitutional change was dealt with in the college report, represented by Principal Gordon, but so important was it considered that it was left over until to-day.

The committee on church union has been named and will hold its first meeting to-day. The committee is a large one, with Prof. Ballantyne of Knox College, Toronto, as convenor.

The missionary work in the west was the feature of the meeting of the general assembly last night. Rev. Dr. McLaren, home missionary secretary for the western section, spoke of the bright and less favorable features of the situation.

A great deal of interest was centered in the address of Rev. J. Bodrug, the Ruthenian or Galician representative at the assembly. He said that the missionary work was never going on better in the west. There was never a time when the missionaries were being better received, and never a time when the Presbyterians of Canada were more liberally supporting this great cause. He pictured great things for the Dominion if the people addressed themselves to the great work of peace and righteousness.

Rev. Dr. Somerville, in connection with his report on statistics, pointed out that in the west great difficulty was encountered in securing accurate statistics. There were so many changes, both in ministers, missionaries and congregations, that reports could not be obtained from a great number often. There should, however, be more attention paid to this. The general assembly in cases where it was making grants for missionaries, it surely was entitled to know whether five or twenty-five families were being served. Any missionary who failed to make this report should be called upon to explain. It makes the membership of the entire church much smaller than it really is.

The following recommendations were made:

(1.) That Presbyterians be enjoined to give special attention to securing complete and accurate returns from every congregation and mission station.

(2.) That the committee on statistics of each presbytery be composed of the clerk, the conveners of augmentation, home missions, French evangelization, Sabbath schools and such other members as may be deemed necessary, and that this committee see that there are no discrepancies in the different statistical reports presented to the general assembly.

(3.) That special attention be given to the formation of the roll of presbytery, that it contain only the names duly authorized by the church and that it contain a full list of the congregations and mission stations as at March 31.

(4.) That when changes are made in the names of congregations or mission stations or in the groups forming the pastoral charge, or mission field, the presbytery clerk shall immediately notify the treasurers of the church, and thus enable them to correctly report contributions to the schemes.

(5.) That presbyteries be enjoined to fully consider and deal with the matter of statistics and finance as set forth in report to the assembly at the first ordinary meeting after the minutes of assembly have been printed and distributed, or as soon thereafter as possible, with a view to ascertaining the increase or decrease in the several congregations, which congregations, if any, have failed to report or have contributed to all the schemes of the church.

There was considerable discussion over immigration. Rev. Dr. Dove of Quebec maintained that there must be a very considerable shortage in the total numbers. He assists in receiving immigrants on their arrival in Quebec and he instanced two ships he met last week. On one there were 1,350 immigrants, of which about 1,075 were Presbyterians. "This has been going on all spring," he said, "and indicates how many are coming to Canada." He argued that there was something wrong with the system that such a number of those who came in last year had not yet become connected with the church. They were given cards to give to the minister in the place to which they were going, and the minister was notified to look out for them. However, there was something wrong that so many of them had not come to the church.

Rev. Dr. Somerville was of the opinion that too much emphasis was being laid on the financial side in proportion to the amount of energy used on the spiritual side.

"Let All Be Canadians."

Ottawa, June 9.—To-night a hundred delegates from Ottawa and vicinity leave for Windsor, to attend conventions of Le Union St. Joseph and the Catholic Order of Foresters.

There will be a parade, in which each man will carry a cane either engraved with or bearing a pennon inscribed "Let us all be Canadians."

LAURIER GETS IT FROM ALL SIDES

Premier Scored as an Anti-Imperialist—Playing for Quebec Vote

The Hamilton Herald (independent) has followed quickly on the heels of the Montreal Witness (Liberal), in condemnation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's anti-Imperial course at the Conference. In an editorial headed "Imperial Disintegration," the Herald says in part:

"If the separation of Canada from the Empire were part of the work which Sir Wilfrid is ambitious to accomplish, it would almost seem that he is anxious to "finish his work." For it is certain that his proposal makes for disintegration. One cannot help wondering whether our Premier has it in his mind to claim for Canada the right to develop and maintain a foreign policy of her own as well as a naval defence system of her own, without regard to the rest of the Empire and independent of it. The London Times foresaw the difficulty of reconciling the absolute national autonomy of the dominions with Imperial connection when it said some weeks ago, "A single foreign policy cannot be permanently reconciled with five separate systems of commercial treaties and five separate systems of defence. . . . Are these Governments to have five foreign policies, for which each will make itself separately responsible to foreign powers, or are they to be jointly responsible for one?"

DOES NOT LIKE IT.

"If Canada claims the right to go her own way in matters of foreign policy, she ought to be willing to undertake to rely solely upon herself to meet any danger that may come upon her as the result of her independent action. Not only should she be willing; she ought to be prepared; and in order to be prepared, it would be well to see about the requirement of a real navy without delay.

"The Herald confesses that it does not in the least like Sir Wilfrid's attitude at the Imperial Conference. One is almost tempted to suspect that his proposals and utterances are designed chiefly to influence the electors of Quebec. In the Herald's opinion Canada ought to be a party to the making of Imperial treaties with foreign powers, and should have a voice in determining the Empire's foreign policy; and when those treaties are made and that foreign policy is matured, Canada should be loyally subject to them."

SOMERSAULTED HALF MILE IN AIR

Geneva, June 9.—The Swiss aviator, Tadeoli, while monoplaning at Lausanne, had trouble with his machine 2,000 feet in the air. The machine turned two complete somersaults, each time unseating Tadeoli, but the airman managed to climb back and get control of his machine.

When within 300 feet of the ground his motor suddenly stopped, and the monoplane began to fall. Tadeoli hung by his hands until within ten feet of the ground, when he dropped to earth unhurt.

The machine passed beyond him and was wrecked.

HAVE DROPPED PROPOSAL TO HAVE STANDING COMMITTEE

Harcourt's Imperial Body Proposal Drops to the Ground—Was Advisory and Not Executive, and Not Responsible to Anyone.

London, June 9.—The Imperial Conference yesterday resumed consideration of Rt. Hon. Louis Harcourt's proposal for a standing committee. Harcourt, since the previous week's discussion, had circulated a memorandum stating that the standing committee would, in effect, be a subsidiary to the conference, meeting at more or less regular intervals for the transaction of business referred to it by the Secretary of the Colonies, with the assent of the dominion Governments. It has been by no means uncommon, he said, for the Governments to nominate and use an advisory committee as an aid to administration. Ministers found them of great service as a method of securing interchange of views among public departments and commercial interests, both one and the other being adequately represented in the committee.

Harcourt proposed that the committee consist of a secretary for the Colonies, the Parliamentary and permanent under secretary, the assistant under secretary for the Dominion, the Imperial Conference secretary, the High Commissioners for Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, the representative of Newfoundland and the secretary to the committee.

While it was undesirable at the outset, he said, to define too precisely the duties of such a committee, it must be advisory and not executive. Therefore there is no necessity to confer voting power. It must deal only with matters concerning a past conference or preparations for an approaching one. In all cases the dominion Governments should be consulted through their governors as to their willingness for the submission of questions to the committee. It would be unnecessary to keep any detailed minutes of the proceedings.

Harcourt wound up the memorandum by reiterating that the Imperial Government does not desire to press the appointment of the standing committe upon the dominions if they were unwilling to accept the proposal. The Government, however, was of the opinion that such standing authority might be of substantial advantage securing efficiency in the working of the business of the secretariat and of the conference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he did not view the proposal with favor, but was prepared to hear the views of the other members upon it.

Sir Joseph Ward thought there would be considerable improvement if some such bridge as suggested existed between one Imperial Conference and another, over which could be carried matters not brought to a final issue. While he did not agree with all suggestions in the memorandum, he thought that the existing machinery was not sufficiently complete. With slight alterations, Harcourt's suggestions would meet the position.

Harcourt said that, in deference to various criticisms, he proposed to omit reference to the high commissioners as representatives of the dominions, leaving it for the different Governments to appoint whom they pleased to represent them on the committee.

Premier Fisher thought the time had arrived when there should be a body to carry on the work between conferences. This year the Home Government had taken the delegates entirely into their confidence in regard to matters of great concern to them all. It made it all the more necessary that there should be some subsidiary body to facilitate closer communications than had hitherto existed. He agreed that such a body should be purely advisory. The respective dominions should be free to appoint their own representatives, in view of the confidence extended to them. It seemed to him that the conference would have held shorter periods than four years unless powers were entrusted to some person or body than at present.

Hon. E. L. Batchelor of Australia, with regard to the suggested limitations and the additional one that each question should only be referred to the committee with the consent of all the dominion Governments, said that there would hardly be any doubt as to the advisability of the standing committee.

Gen. Botha said he could not accept the proposal as it stood. The object of the conference was to secure uniformity and to obtain the attendance of members of the same standing. This would need to be secured if some dominions send high commissioners and other selected officials of a different kind. He was wholly favorable to a subsidiary conference, to which overseas' Ministers would be sent to consider special questions. The proposed standing committee ought not to discuss such matter or interfere in any way with the work of the responsible Governments.

Harcourt said they had had a useful and informative discussion, but, in view of the opinions expressed, he would not proceed further with the proposal. The resolution of New Zealand dealing with the reconstitution of the Colonial Office for similar reasons was also withdrawn.

JUDGMENT IN THE SHELDON CASE RESERVED FOR WEEK

Three Hours Disposd of Evidence—$1,500,000 Put Into His Hands for Speculation.

Montreal, June 9.—The case against Charles D. Sheldon, the get-rich-quick wizard, who left Montreal last October, after receiving thousands of dollars from investors on his promises to earn them 30 or 40 per cent., came up in the courts yesterday.

The trial was a short one, occupying in all, scarcely more than three hours. Judgment will be rendered this day week.

Hormisdas Pelletier, who conducted the defence, called only one witness, Alex. Burnett, Sheldon's bookkeeper, and now curator.

In summing up the case for the defence, Mr. Pelletier pointed out that Sheldon's clients had given him the money to use at his discretion, knowing that they must expect to share losses as well as profits; that there was nothing in the transactions to suggest fraud or fraudulent intent, and that the books were kept in proper order.

The crown prosecutor insisted that there was every evidence of premeditation on Sheldon's part; that he had accepted money on the very night of his departure; and that he had received money for a purpose, and that this money was unaccounted for.

90 MILES AN HOUR

Pue, France, June 8.—Aviator Averino flew from Orleans to this place to day in 55 minutes (the distance approximately is 85 miles.) He travelled at a height of 7,500 feet in a northeast wind, having a velocity of 30 miles an hour.

Take No Stock In Story.

Renfrew, Ont., June 9.—Liberals of this town take no stock in the story that Hon. Charles Murphy will become candidate for South Renfrew, nor do Conservatives. Thos. A. Low, the present member is sure to be renominated. He was not at the meeting said to have been held in Ottawa to talk over the introduction of Mr. Murphy here.

Drowned Trying to Save Dog.

Ottawa, June 9.—Mrs. Robert Stevens of Aylmer yesterday afternoon tried to save her dog, which fell from the Aylmer wharf, and herself fell in and was drowned. Her daughter called for aid, but a man in a boat came up too late. The woman was 46 years of age and leaves a family of three and a husband.

QUEBEC MARRIAGE LAW

The statement by Judge Leet in Montreal as to the law, in reference to mixed marriages is quite clear and distinct, and should calm some of those who have been applying the bellows to the fire of their wrath at the Ne Temere decree of the church of Rome. There are evils which may arise, and do arise in Quebec under its system of civil-canonical law, in relation to marriage, but Judge Leet says that he does not believe any court in Quebec would dissolve a properly contracted marriage between a Protestant and a Catholic, or in other words, a mixed marriage.

Such an annulment would be entirely unjust and tyrannical to either one of the parties or to both. Suppose a Roman Catholic married a Protestant, before a Protestant minister. According to the Quebec civil code that Protestant is validly married. The Roman Catholic is not, according to the rules of his church, and a choice must be made by the interpreters of the law as to whether the decree of Rome is to upset the legality of what is admitted a valid marriage of a Protestant. No mixed marriage case has ever come before the courts, however. Only in the case of two Roman Catholics being married by a Protestant does the civil power give effect to the canon law.

It might be mentioned that Judge Leet says that Roman Catholic priests have no right to marry by license (in Quebec) and by the laws of the church cannot marry Protestants unless they renounce their religion and become Catholics. If the law in Quebec is that two Catholics cannot be married except by a priest, there does not seem to be the ground for such an outcry. But there is confusion as to the interpretation of the law in some cases, and all these should be cleared up.

CANADA MISREPRESENTED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's strange and unCanadian stand in seeking to have it understood that Canada may have the right to withdraw from British treaties and thereby be immune from participation in Britain's wars, has provoked hot criticism from even his own papers. The Montreal Witness, a staunch supporter of the Premier, turned on him, and the Manitoba Free Press, the chief newspaper stay of the Liberals in the west, says that Sir Wilfrid's attitude is nonsensical. It says that autonomy is a good word, but it is possible to overwork it. The Free Press remarks:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position in the Imperial Conference has been generally so in keeping with sane Canadian opinion that we find it difficult to believe that the cables have been just to him in disclaiming any desire on the part of Canada to take part in the drafting of treaties lest this would imply responsibility for any wars that might result from them and oblige Canadian participation therein.

This is nonsense, which Sir Wilfrid does not usually talk. When Great Britain is at war the whole Empire is at war. The British overseas Dominions, not less than the motherland, are, under these conditions, open to attack. In actual practice the Dominions would be involved only in the event of war with a first-class power; but technically they are engaged in hostilities in every little war that breaks out, at any of the exposed points on the far-flung boundaries of the Empire. Sir Wilfrid knows this perfectly well; has, indeed, given expression to it himself upon the floor of Parliament. The dictum, "When England is at war, Canada is at war," is his.

That, at the present stage of Empire development, treaty-making should remain in the hands of the Home Government is probably desirable. In making treaties of such moment as to involve the possibility of war the British Government should consult with the Governments of the Dominion. Means for the prompt and confidential interchange of views should be provided by the Conference. Once the treaty is made, after such consultation, the whole Empire must, of course, stand together in its support. If war results, all the British Dominions must, to the extent of their power, take part. This is a moral obligation which involves no diminution of our legitimate rights of self-government. Autonomy is a good word, but it is possible to overwork it.

In this the Free Press takes a very sensible stand. Laurier had no right to pretend he was representing Canadian public opinion when he desired the right to withdraw from the Empire in the time of the Empire's need. That that is not the spirit of Canada may be judged by the manner in which public opinion emphatically demanded the sending of the South African troops, at a time when Britain was not at all in danger, but was merely engaged in trying to down Krugerism in South Africa.

The attitude of Canada towards the Empire is in such marked contrast to the attitude of straight loyalty adopted by Australia, New Zealand, and the now united South Africa, that Canadians who wish to be thought as loyal as their fellow Empire subjects, must blush a little at the actions of their Premier. When his two strongest newspaper supporters (except the hypocritical Globe), will refuse to support Laurier, the latter must be traveling very wide from the mark of public opinion. It is safe to say that Canada is not being represented at the imperial conference, but is being misrepresented.

MONEY CENTRALIZATION

They are talking in Montreal of a big bakery merger, that will control the people's bread. By the way, this would not be strictly speaking, a "merger" though the term seems admissible, but a consolidation, the difference being that a merger is the combination of a number of concerns into one parent company that holds a majority of stock in the subsidiary concerns, while a consolidation is wheere the companies unite under one management, with the one corporate body holding.

This proposal to control the bread of the people is going too far. Much criticism has already been leveled at those who would get into their hands the power of increasing the cost of the staple of life, and it is likely that the project will be abandoned, if it ever really got to that stage. It is bad enough to have mergers or consolidations—in the end it doesn't matter which, since the people have to pay—controlling cement, paint, steel and iron, navigation, boots and shoes, and a dozen other commodities of personal use and of commerce, but to have bread included would probably arouse Canadian opinion in a manner that would shock the daring young financiers, who are doing this combine manipulating and becoming millionaires over night.

It was rumored a few days ago that a paint consolidation was under way, to include most of the big paint manufactories of the Dominion. But when the news leaked out, the prompt denials by those interested that it was a merger, shows already this combination habit is greatly in disfavor. When capitalists engaged in watering stock dodge for cover at the sight of a name, it is a sure sign that something is wrong.

The mass of the people are making a great ado, about the provisions of the Ne Temere decree, and its effects in a few odd cases of marriage, but they have not raised any protest yet as to the centralisation that is going on in the financial world and which threatens to have unpleasant results. One is a matter of sentiment; the other a matter of pocket. The trouble about a matter like this is that the public does not wake up until the shoe pinches, and then it is too late. Foresight by the public is a very rare quality. Its hindsight is much better.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Madame Patti sang at a benefit in London the other day, and the critics said her voice was growing younger again. Is this a polite intimation that another farewell tour is coming?

The Liberals of Ontario have arranged for nine conventions to nominate candidates. Four reciprocity meetings have been arranged. The Liberals evidently have information that leads them to get a hustle on.

A California treasure-hunting expedition to get $25,000,000 hidden by the crew of a Chilean cruiser has been successful. This good news, however, should not cause half a dozen other expeditions to organize to hunt for Capt. Kidd's treasure. Treasure-hunting is a worse gamble than poker, or a horse-race, or the stock market.

Hon. Frank Oliver told an audience in Selkirk, Man., that reciprocity had already helped industrial enterprises in Montreal, Toronto, Brantford and other manufacturing cities. Speaking with first-hand knowledge, in what way has reciprocity helped Peterborough? It would be easier to answer the question as to how reciprocity had hurt Peterborough.

A Swiss aviator's monoplane turned a somersault twice at an altitude of 200 feet, but he regained his balance. Somersaulting at a height of half a mile is a leetle bit too exciting for most of us. If this could be made a circus attraction it would have the Leap to Death and Diablo's automobile somersault faded a mile.

The American newspapers are in favor of reciprocity because John Norris tells them that they will save $6,000,000 a year in newsprint bills, in having access to the forests of Canada. But the agreemtnt does not and cannot give them the access they want, because that is in provincial hands, and the policies of the provinces are firmly set—to force the manufacturer of pulpwood in Canada. But this hope of the publishers explains the newspaper championing of the agreement.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 8.—There was a good demand from Bristol for Canadian western oats, and the price bid showed an advance of 4½d per quarter. Sales of several loads were made for June-July shipment at 17s 10½d, and considerable more business could have been worked if ocean room for that shipment had been obtainable. There was a fair demand from local buyers for round lots, and several sales of extra No. 1 feed were made at 40¾c per bushel ex-store. The foreign demand for flour was quiet to-day, but a fairly good trade continues to be done for local account.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 41½c to 42c car lots ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41¼c; No. 3 C.W., 40½c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40¼c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

He shrugged and smiled. "Life makes some pretty queer shuffles, Miss Randall, and you can't fool much with the deck yourself," he said, somewhat irrelevantly, picking up the cards and unconsciously beginning to riffle them. "If you don't play the game square it's only a question of time till you get caught, and then nobody will play with you. I don't know why Life dealt me the hand I hold. All I know is I've got to play the cards according to rule. Sometimes I've found that mighty hard. I keep wishing and wishing there'd be a different hand dealt, but wishing won't change it. It was the shuffle that settled it long ago."

"PERHAPS WITH ONE WOMAN HE COULDN'T BE BEATEN."

"I don't think, sir, that you've said anything that concerns you and me very much," she commented, glancing up shyly.

"'Concerns you and me,'" he echoed sadly, and, rising, he began to pace the room. "Miss Randall, let me tell you something," he added at length, halting and regarding her fixedly. "One evening toward sunset I was leaning over the rail of a Mississippi river steamboat, and, not finding much pleasure in what I was thinking about, I put my hand casually into my pocket and drew out a deck of playing cards, cards that had been used—well, considerably. I contemplated them a moment and then let them fall from my hand. They dropped into the water in a kind of little shower. And then a curious thing happened. Those shabby old playing cards floated alongside a rosebush all in bloom that somebody had evidently planted too near a caving back upstream. It seemed as if they kind of hoped to go along with it on its journey, but it didn't look right. The rosebush was too pretty for bad companions like that. And then, one by one, those shabby playing cards, lying on their backs in the water, began to sink under and drown. Then along came an eddy and caught that pretty rosebush and swung it out into the current, and away it went down the stream, happy and proud in just a glory of sunshine and sparkle. It served those old playing cards right. They ought to have been drowned for trying to keep company so high above them. That's what I thought looking down from the boat's rail."

Without conscious effort or any attempt at elocution Kirby had told the little allegory with simple feeling and sincerity, his manner growing more abstracted until at the conclusion it seemed as if he were speaking to his inner self, taking counsel with all that was best in him. Silence ensued, while Adele looked dreamily away, and he continued to stare at the cards, but seeing them not.

"Does a man always stop to think whether he has a right or not?" she ventured at length, speaking so low that he strained forward to catch the words.

"Doesn't a woman always want him to?" he gravely returned.

"Ah, but there is something a woman wants a man to do more than that—she wants him not to give up anything till—he is beaten," she whispered.

"Suppose he is the kind of man that ought to be beaten?"

She arose, throwing the scarf about her shoulders, and walked meditatively to the door.

"But mightn't it be perhaps—perhaps with one woman," she whispered, "he couldn't be beaten even then?"

Astonished at her own daring, she gave a little gasp, then incontinently fled, while Kirby stood staring after her, fearing to interpret her words. He turned with a start as Bunce strode through the balcony window.

"Well, have you told her goodby?" snapped Larkin, who had interpreted the foregoing passage as a species of farewell.

"No," said Kirby violently, irritated at the interruption.

"Well, I reckon it's about time to sit down and take a good hard think," warned the other, pacing the room like an excited sentry. "Do you think you could git this girl?" he continued, with heavy sarcasm. "How about it when she finds out who you are—Cameo Kirby?"

"Easy on that name, Larkin!"

"'Easy on the name!'" bellowed Bunce, appealing to the ceiling. "Why, it's been shriekin' through this house ever since you got here. There's been two fellers within ten feet of you all the time who never took their eyes off'n you—that young Veaudry and Aaron Randall. Do you reckon they think you're Colonel Moreau? Why, I seen them leave the house a short spell back, and I'd be willin' to bet my immortal soul they're on to our makeups and are plannin' to raise h— with us. I tell you this place is gittin' too hot for Larkin Bunce. You haven't said goodby to her? Well, then, I'll say goodby to you. Somebody's got to be loose. I wouldn't be no good to you—nor to me either—in jail. For the last time," he pleaded, making an imploring gesture with his trembling hands, "are you comin' with me?"

Kirby, who had quietly resumed his place at the table, now slowly shuffled the deck and carefully inspected the card that had turned up.

"No," he said, with grave finality. "I'm not going with you, my friend. The hand's dealt; I'll play it out."

"For God's sake, Gene!" implored Bunce. "Then I got to quit you. You know what this means to me," he added despairingly. "I hate to go, but there's no sense in my stayin'."

"No. And I thank you for staying as long as you have," interrupted Kirby, with a smile, rising and placing his hand on the other's shoulder. "I'm afraid I haven't been thinking very much of you, old partner. But I'm going to stay—call it what you like. However, this is not your hand, Larkin, and I don't want you to help me play it out. Go, by all means, and at once. Did you get a fresh horse?"

"A fresh horse? Why, I wouldn't even durst to ask for the one I come on," cried Bunce, mopping his face. "You don't seem to rightly size up the mess we're in, Gene. I'll be lucky to git out on my own two feet. I don't even know where they put my hat, and I'm skeered to ask for it. Then it ain't no more use my askin' you to come?"

"No more use than in your staying," said Kirby.

Bunce hesitated for a moment, then thrust out his huge hand.

"Goodby, you durned fool!" he gasped, choking up.

"Goodby, Larkin, but don't bet that it is goodby. They won't get me. I'll ride your horse into town for you tomorrow."

Bunce bestowed a final helpless appeal upon the ceiling, gave his partner's hand a farewell wrench, then lumbered hastily from the room, while Kirby, humming softly to himself, strolled to the open window and, leaning negligently against its frame, gave himself up to retrospect.

He wanted to be alone; he wanted to think, to dream, to go over and over again every word that Adele had spoken, every smile, every gesture. His thoughts were solely of the immediate present and past. For the future he did not care—neither Tom Randall's homecoming nor his own inevitable unmasking. He wondered what he would have been, what the end would have been, had his early life been laid in pleasanter lines—less harsh, less lonely. Yes, utter loneliness was a great and sinister factor in molding man's destiny. What if the last of the Kirbys had proved an honor to the old name, instead of a professional river gambler! And why was he remaining? Was not the allegory of the rosebush too bitterly true? Why had Adele said those last words: "But mightn't it be perhaps with one woman he couldn't be beaten, even then?"

Yes, it might be, and it would be, and the truth of it had been proved since the beginning of time. But, even if she were willing and knew him for what he was, could he rightly ask the sacrifice? Yet those words had awakened a fierce longing, had held out a promise of hope. And he could not utterly renounce, not just yet. Perhaps—

He turned as a hand tugged at his sleeve, turned to confront old Croup, who had stolen noiselessly to his side.

"Marse Gene, fo' Gawd's sake look out!" whispered Croup, his face gray with anxiety, his voice trembling with suppressed excitement. "I's feared it's too late fo' yo' to git away. Marse Anatole done ride out de stable lak he's crazy, an' if yo' listen to de quiet out yonneh yo' kind hear hosses a-comin' down de big road, an' dey comin' on de gallop, Marse Gene. Old Croup mighty skeered fo' yo', honey."

Kirby turned an attentive ear toward the softly stealing south wind—that harbinger of danger. Yes, the hoof beats were now insistently audible, drawing nearer and nearer with every passing second. More than one horse, too—say a dozen, if he was any judge.

"Thank you for the warning, Croup," he said quietly, preserving his attitude of idle indifference as if discussing the most trivial commonplace. "I quite agree with you that it is too late to think of escape."

WRAP THE BREAD

Calgary Women are Determined to Enforce Cleanliness

Calgary women have started a campaign against the flies and also unwrapped bread. Miss Stewart, one member of the Women's Canadian Club having the war in hand, has this to say:—

"I watched a man delivering bread the other day, and when I tell you just what I saw it will startle you if you haven't thought of it before. The delivery man had on a pair of dirty gloves; the bread was unwrapped. He handled the loaves carelessly, tumbling them about with his soiled gloves. When he had left loaves at one house, he stopped on the curb and scraped some mud off his shoes with his gloved hands. Then he delivered some more bread. When he came away from the next house he patted a dirty dog and immediately afterwards picked up two loaves of bread.

"There is a grave danger in the meat, fruit and milk supply. Fruit should not be kept outside the shop on an open stand in a city where there are such dust storms. Meat is not so terrible, as this is cooked and germs are destroyed. But the milk supply is not properly supervised, and the system of delivery is often very bad. Even the bottle system is not any too clean and housekeepers shrould always be careful to cleanse the glass mouth before the cover is removed."

A CRIMEAN VETERAN

Served on the Warships and in the Trenches

Alexander McRae, a Crimean veteran, is dead at Flesherton, aged 78 years. He was a native of Inverness, Scotland. In 1864 he enlisted in the British Army and served on a warship and in the trenches through the Crimean war, taking part in the engagement at Azoff, Sebastopol, Inkerman, and Balaclava, for which he received medals. When about thirty five years of age he came to Canada, and for eleven years followed sailing from Montreal to the head of the upper lakes, after which he settled on a farm near Flesherton.

PERFECT

Optical Aid

People are now beginning to realize that in order to secure perfect optical aid, something more is necessary than an examination in which are used but a few sight-testing charts.

Intelligent people know that skill, experience and care, directed according to a carefully planned system, are necessary in order that clear, safe and perfect vision may be absolutely assured.

Our system of Scientific Sight-testing is the result of painstaking research. It reduces the possibility of error to a minimum, ensures clearer vision for you and perfect fitting glasses that are guaranteed to give you the comfort sought.

There is a proof of this in the fact that we can point to thousands of patients in Peterborough and vicinity. The testimony of your townspeople should appeal to you.

If we cannot help you, we say so. If we can, we do so thoroughly.

This is one of the main principles which has gained for us confidence.

Each and every one we have fitted with glasses will testify to the care and skill exercised in their case, and the benefit they have received.

They have found our methods to be the most reliable, and our treatment to give the utmost satisfaction.

Therein lies our success

We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk things optical. You will incur no obligation.

COULD NOT GIVE PROOF

Inspector Had Inside Information in Blacklist Case

A very much surprised woman left the office of the liquor license inspector this morning, because that official would not, at her request, place her husband, as she called him, on the blacklist.

The law reads that the father, mother, wife, sister, brother, guardian or employer at an age upwards of twenty-one years, is entitled to give the information, by which the blacklist papers will be served, but in the case of this morning, the inspector was inclined to be doubtful and asked his called if she could produce her marriage certificate. She answered that she had lost it, and when questioned as to the officiating minister, said she couldn't remember the name. The inspector, to protect himself, refused to make out the papers, as a heavy fine can be imposed for unlawful proceedings in connection with the listing of a person.

There have been many cases where young wives, under twenty-one years of age, have asked the inspector to blacklist their husbands on account of their drinking habits, but the act says that an inspector cannot act on the information.

DR. LANGFELDT WAS INDUCTED

Into Rectorship of the Parish of Innisfil

By Bishop Reeve — Sermon by Rev. H. R. Trumpour

The Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, the late rector of St. Luke's Church, East City was inducted into the rectorship of the parish of Innisfil, on Wednesday evening, June 7th, by Bishop Reeve. Rural Dean Carpenter was present and read the mandate of induction, and the induction sermon was preached by the Rev. H. R. Trumpour of All Saints. The ceremony was beautiful and dignified, and a very large congregation was present, many people having driven ten or twelve miles from the further limits of the other station in the parish to be present.

The friends of Dr. Langfeldt will be pleased to learn that he is very happily and comfortably settled. The rectory is about four miles from the town of Barrie, and the parish has two strong congregations, St. Paul's, at Painwick, and St. Peter's at Churchill, both situated in the midst of a wealthy farming district. The Doctor has taken hold of the work with his usual aggressiveness, and he has had a splendid reception in his new parish. Evidence of the new life he has aroused there, is seen in the beginning of a large, handsome new rectory at Painwick, which a large proportion of the money necessary has already been raised.

TO DO SECTION WORK BY CONTRACT

C.P.R. Intends to Abolish the Present System

The question of whether the Dominion Railway Commission had the power to regulate the employment of trackmen by railways was raised, through a complaint of the Trackmen's Brotherhood, being made against the action of the C.P.R. in increasing the section limit for one gang to nine miles between Port Arthur and Chalk River. A complaint was also made that an eight mile limit had been established on the Toronto Grey and Bruce line. Chairman Mabee, after consultation with other members of the Board, stated that the Railway Act as now constituted, gives the commission no power to act, though Parliament might wish to take a hand in the matter later.

Supt. J. W. Leonard, of the C.P.R., following the Board's decision, made an important announcement as to the policy of his company.

He intimated that the C.P.R. intended abolishing the present section system and have supervisors and inspectors in charge of the work, and have the section work done by contract as far as posisble.

If the company carries out these plans there will no further necessity for the trackmen and waymen and therefore the Brotherhood for the maintenance of waymen will not be of any use.

Mr. Leonard argues that the Brotherhood had no ground of complaint as the distance now patrolled by section men is a reduction from 2.19 to 2.15.

BOY SCOUTS

Every boy, of the 3rd troop of Boy Scouts, is expected to be on hand sharp at 7.30 at the Armories, Friday night. There will be a business meeting in the band room from 7.30 to 8 for the 3rd troop only. Boys not getting there on time will not be able to pass the last examination for the 2nd class badge. Every boy must be in full uniform as usual. Don't forget camp arrangements.

SIX MONTHS IN THE COMMON JAIL FOR YOUTHFUL CRIMINAL

John Dougherty Sentenced Yesterday for Stealing $54 Killingbeck Committed for Trial.

John Dougherty, seventeen years of age, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon to a term of six months' imprisonment in the common jail at Peterborough with hard labor. Vernon Killingbeck, whom Dougherty said was his accomplice in the stealing of $54, from Robert Brown, was committed for trial.

The evidence taken all tended to show that the robbery was most deliberately planned, and that it was executed with a skill worthy of older and more experienced criminals. A couple of other serious charges of stealing were preferred against Killingbeck by John Doig, who resides on Antrim street, and who related his story of the occurrences in the witness box.

Doig's story was to the effect that about 11 o'clock on the night of May 19th he was awakened by a rap at his door, and on opening it was confronted by a stranger, who asked him to change a $1 bill. While getting the change for him, the stranger disappeared. On looking out the window he saw two men standing on the track and recognized one of them as Killingbeck. Soon after the stranger again came back with a $1 bill, but while he (Doig) was getting the money he again disappeared, and witness saw the two men walking off down the G.T.R. track.

On looking under his pillow witness discovered that his vest containing $46 in bills was missing, and surmised that the stranger had entered his house for the purpose of stealing it. A watch and a promissory note for $15, which were in the vest, were also gone.

When questioned by the crown attorney, the witness said that Killingbeck had often been at his place and knew the whereabouts of his money. Examined by G. N. Gordon, the witness said that he was taken for a kind of a sucker by the young fellows of the town.

John Dougherty, who was awaiting sentence, having pleaded guilty of being a party to the theft of $54 from Robert Brown, was put in the witness stand.

He told the crown that he had been out to Fort William, and on his return had met Killingbeck in the lavatory of a local hotel. Killingbeck has remarked to him "I got away with a nice one last night," and that his share had been $21. He said also that "he and another fellow had fleeced John."

Dougherty furthermore testified that Doig kept a poker dive at his house and that numbers of young fellows went to his place to play the game on Sunday. Doig, he said, charged them a quarter apiece to play, and that the keeper himself joined in the game a couple of times.

G. N. Gordon, who was present on behalf of Killingbeck, thought that the evidence given was not reliable enough to be used as evidence against his client. Doig, he said, had appeared previously in court other than as a witness, and Dougherty, the witness, in telling the truth, had hopes probably that his sentence would be lightened. Doig's evidence, he said, was not reliable when the fact was taken into consideration that he kept a poker dive and had young men congregate there and play poker.

His Woship said that Killingbeck's own words to Dougherty about his fleecing John could not be overlooked, being most damaging and incriminating, and held that the evidence was sufficient to send him up for trial.

Another charge against Killingbeck was proceeded with, that of stealing $20 from Doig two weeks previously. Both the crown and magistrate felt, however, that the evidence was not strong enough to favor a conviction in the case.

In passing sentence upon Dougherty His Worship said he felt a heavy responsibility. Yet for a young lad of only seventeen to be found guilty of stealing from an insensible man was a crime deserving of heavy punishment. At the time the prisoner did it he was on suspended sentence, yet notwithstanding he leagued himself with another bad youth and effected a cowardly crime. Actions such as these must be stamped out; it prevails too much in Peterborough, and is mean, dastardly and abhorrent. What makes it worse is the fact that the prisoner has a mother sick almost unto death, and his conduct might be the cause of jeopardizing her chances of recovery. However, he had been appealed to strongly to exercise leniency, and would, therefore make the sentence lighter than he otherwise would, and make it six months in the common jail at Peterborough, with hard labor.

CHASED BY THE POLICE; ONE MAN SWAM ACROSS RIVER

Trio of Vagrants Caused Disturbance on George St. Were First Put Out of Hotel.

As the result of a drunken row and free-for-all fight, which occurred last night about 6.30 at the corner of King and George streets, three men filled the prisoner's box at police court this morning to explain their unruly conduct. All three were drunk and disorderly at the time according to the police, who made the arrest and they were remanded for a week to allow Chief Thompson to further investigate the fracas, when more action will be taken.

The charge against one named Peter Fairbairn this morning, however, was one of vagrancy, with no visible means of support.

"When did you do an honest day's work?" the magistrate asked.

"Last fall, Your Honor, and I peddle shoe laces for a living. I have a lame foot, and if you'll give me a chance I'll get right out of town and go to work with a farmer."

Frank Morgan's name was called out.

"Any relation to J. Pierpont Morgan, of New York?" was the magistrate's facetious query.

"No, sir, I am a sailor," he answered.

TOOK TO RIVER.

Frank was an active participant in the free-for-all fight last night. When the police hove in sight Frank and the other two made for the river. The former, without hesitation, plunged into the water just behind the Canadian Canoe company factory, and swam across, and at the other side, dripping and much sobered, he was taken in tow and led to the police station by the officer, who crossed the railway bridge.

"You'll get free board on the hill for a week," said Magistrate Dumble.

Wm. Crawford was the third party. He pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly and will appear with the rest in a week.

"You are all about one color," said Worship.

HEAVY FINE AT NORWOOD

Spree Cost Floyd McMaster $10 and Costs

He Also Had to Pay for Damages to Rig

On Monday morning Floyd McMasten of Peterborough, was brought before Magistrates Pearce and Breault and fined $10 and costs, in all $16.00 for being drunk and disorderly. Mr. L. D. Killoran also laid a charge against McMaster for damages to livery rig and received $14 as compensation.

This is the second time within the past few weeks that heavy fines have been imposed on parties coming in from other places after imbibing too freely and acting disorderly, and as Magistrate Pearce remarked at the trial, such offences were going to be stopped and he would see to it that were stopped.

It appears that Floyd McMaster, who resides in Peterborough, met Howard McMaster of this place in Hastings on Saturday, and after having a spree drove over to Norwood that evening. On reaching here the horse was nearly fagged out through fast driving and the buggy was broken.

Constable Johnston accordingly put McMaster, of Peterborough in the lock-up until over Sunday, Howard McMaster skipping out of town. A summons was issued for him and he appeared Tuesday morning and stood his trial before Magistrates Pearce and Squire.

Two charges were preferred against him one for being drunk and disorderly the other for furious driving. He pleaded guilty to the first charge and was fined $10 and costs. On the second count a conviction was registered but sentence was suspended—Norwood Register.

BASEBALL GAME IN THE MORNING

Campbellford and Local Collegiates to Meet

The Collegiate nine are going strong for their game with Campbellford to-morrow at 10 o'clock. The Campbellford bunch is coming expecting an easy win again, but the locals expect to reverse the tally this time.

With Cresswell on the slab the fans will see a battle royal between the two south-paws, as the visitors are bringing a left-hander to do their twirling.

LIGHTS WON FROM THE TECUMSEHS

In Juvenile League Fixture by 4-3 Score

Rallying in the seventh, the Northern Lights defeated the Tecumsehs on the oval last night in a juvenile league fixture by a 4—3 score. When they started their half of the seventh it stood 3—2 against them but a couple of timely hits brought in the necessary runs.

Batteries—
Lights—Swanston and Taylor.
Tecumsehs—Smith and Feeney.

The game scheduled for to-night at 6.30 o'clock between the Tecumsehs and Midgets is postponed.

The second half of the Thistles—Northern Light game will be played at the oval to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, previous to the game between the Northern Lights and Midgets.

Mr. Neale will act as umpire.

CAVANAH'S GREAT HITTING IN SCHOOL LEAGUE GAME

Centrals Came From Behind and Scored Nine Runs in Their Fifth—Score 10-13.

After breezing away to the front in a Junior Public School league game, at the oval yesterday afternoon, the East City nine took the aeroplane way, and came down again with an aeroplane bump. The score was 19-13 with the Centrals on the winning end.

The loss by East City put that team out of the running for the laurels and Centrals meet King Edwards at the Oval Monday night. Which ever wins takes the junior series championship.

East City lead all the way up to the fourth and looked like final winners. Phillips had been twirling nice ball but in the fifth Anderson went in. The result was that everybody got a biff and nine runs went over the pan before the third man was caught. Two passed balls by Soden gave the Easterners a good chance to make a nice stunt with three runs, and although the Centrals evened up in this half, they were blanked in the next while their opponents took three and added a brace in the third. Centrals took on in their third, and both scored a quartet in the fourth. In the fifth Cavanah tightened up and Lipsett, who opened with a single was anchored at third. Then the slaughter took place and it took all of the sand out of the East City brigade.

The game was featured by the hitting of Cavanah, the Central's heaver who in five times up had, however, two triples, a double and a single.

The teams were:

Centrals, Dorris, 2b; Armstrong, 1b; Soden, c; Cavanah, p; Hilson, rf; Heard, 3b; White, lf; LeBar, cf; Trull, ss; Fanning rf.

East City—Lipsett, 1b; Hagerman, Cf; K. Moffatt, 3b; Phillips, p,ss; Williams, lf; Johnston ss, 2b; Huycke, c; Miller 2b; Telford, rf; Anderson, p; 2b, ss.

COLDSPRINGS WON FROM ST. JOHN'S

Church League Football Game Went 3-2 - Some Injuries

There was a surprise package in store for the St. John's team, when they lined up for their game, on the Brinton meadows last night in the form of very much improved Cold Springs team, and the Saints were defeated 3-2.

The victory of Cold Springs over St. John's was indeed a surprise as after the latter had defeated St. James it was thought that they would not have much trouble in disposing of the "Springs" bunch but the 3-2 score indicates that they did not have a very easy row to hoe.

As some of the spectators remarked it developed into one of the roughest games which has been played in the Church League series. Sharman of St. John's received an injury to his ankle, and had to retire near the end of the game, while one of the Cold Springs men received an injury to his nose and dropped out of the play for a time.

The games scheduled for to-morrow are St. John's vs. Park Street, at Park Street grounds, and All Saints vs. Knox at Brinton meadows.

BIG CROWD WILL TAKE IN TRIP TO COBOURG TO-MORROW

Train Leaves G.T.R. Station at 1:30 o'Clock, and Cobourg at 8:30.

With the best of prospects for first class weather to-morrow, the excursion of the ball club to Cobourg to-morrow, will be largely patronized. Fine weather helps a whole lot and the splendid arrangements secured with the special train by which it leaves the local station at 1.30 o'clock, returning from Cobourg at 8.30 o'clock are very attractive features of the excursion. The fare, too, at popular prices of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, has met with general approval, so its a case of everybody who can get away is going.

The game with the Cobourg team, as before stated, is promising of lots of good baseball. Manager Burge has been putting his braves through stiff practices since the win from Bowmanville last Saturday, and it will be a confident line-up which will face the visitors. Manager Quinlan will go on the hurling mound again and the remainder of the team will be the same as played in Port Hope and put one over on the Surphlis browd.

The following players will make the trip and be in uniform: Quinlan, Wylder, McFadden, Shaw, W. O'Brien, Wettlaufer, Ahearne, Craig, Murphy, Brydie, Rahmal.

Y.M.C.A. SPORTS

To-night at Riverside park the shot put and standing high jump are the events to be run off in the Stratton cup contest.

To-morrow morning at 9.30 the Hykers will leave for a jaunt up the canal. This should be the best of the season, and every member of the boys' department is invited to come along with a good big lunch and bathing suit. If you have not been out with this happy bunch, come along Saturday, a.m., and enjoy the sport.

TENNIS

The draw for the first round of the Ladies' Single championship of the City Lawn Tennis Association is given below. Matches are to be played on or before Friday, June 15th. Results to be phones to R. J. Devey, telephone 1323;

Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

I never knew a circus to divide; but did you ever hear of a circus that was not charged with it?

In buying a gentle horse, always remember that a gentle horse is lazy.

The most useful people are those who quietly teach temperance, honesty, industry and justice by example, and at the same time do something for the communities in which they live.

When a woman writes a letter, she is apt to put poetry in it to the exclusion of news.

Get your business rival into politics and keep out yourself.

Look out for the people who call on you to trade their half dollars for your dollars.

If you mean well, as an evidence of good faith you should occasionally do something well.

So many do not succeed that they are able to almost make success discreditable.

One of the most tiresome things in the world is to be compelled to listen to another man tell how well he understands his business, and how smart he is.

OUTDOOR SPORT AND ZAM-BUK

Every athlete, every ball-player, every swimmer, every canoeist, every man or woman who loves outdoor life, and exercise, should keep a box of Zam-Buk handy.

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal preparation, which, as soon as applied to cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, blisters, etc., sets up highly beneficial operations. First, its antiseptic properties render the wound free from all danger from blood poisoning. Next, its soothing properties relieve and ease the pain. Then its rich, herbal balms penetrate the tissue and set up the wonderful process of healing. Barbed, wire scratches, insect stings skin diseases such as eczema, heat rashes, ringworm, babies' heat sores, chafed places sore feet—all are quickly cured by Zam-Buk. It also eases and cures piles. All druggists and stores. Use Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. per tablet.

LOCAL LABORERS ARE SATISFIED

Are Receiving $2 and $2.25 for Eight Hours

Belleville builders' laborers are asking for an increase in wages and shorter hours, and in a couple of weeks it is believed that the demands will be met or the men will go out on strike.

Those who are asking for the concessions include assistants to carpenters, stone masons and bricklayers.

Mr. William Langford, the local contractor, was interviewed by the Review in regard to local conditions, and if any similar demands might be made here. He stated that he had heard no dissatisfaction expressed here. While Belleville laborers are getting $1.75 a day and asking for $2 and an eight hour day, laborers in Peterborough, said Mr. Langford, are receiving $2 and $2.25 a day at present and working eight hours a day. A few of the ordinary laborers are being paid $1.75 in Peterborough, but good men are all receiving $2 and $2.25.

Mr. Langford thought that no trouble would be experienced in Peterborough.

HANDLING OF FOOD.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Toronto has passed a by-law to regulate the handling of food with the object of preventing the contamination of edibles in general and of butchers' meat in particular. From what I have seen myself such a by-law is badly needed here, to more particularly regulate the handling of butchers' meat, while in transition from the slaughterhouse to the shop.

OBSERVER.

MUSTN'T MIX.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir—An item in The Globe of June 7th, tells how the Anglican bishop of Ottawa, warned his congregation and diocese that the only way to avoid all mixed marriages was to avoid all social intercourse with Roman Catholics. There is no doubt that this is true, but isn't it a preposterous thing that respectable people of perhaps poor but honest parents, can't meet together like human beings, but must act like wolves all on account of what? — Religion!

This is boycotting with a vengeance. One would think that the ridiculousness of it all would mean its ignominous and speedy death, but it doesn't. It's all serious! We must part if not in anger at least in sorrow. Henceforth Catholics and Protestants, infidels, heretics, lobsters, etc., must go alone unless perchance they are all of one sex and so unable to look matrimonially at each other.

People are getting worse instead of better. In a few years, nobody will speak to anybody, else unless they go to their church.

BRITISH BANK GOES UNDER

Liabilities of $43,000,000 Are Shown.

Angry Mobs Surround Building—Police Interfere.

London, June 8.—The Birbeck Bank has suspended payment. The directors issued a statement that the liabilities exceeded the assets by £375,000 (about $1,875,000.) The auditors who examined the books place the excess of liabilities over assets at £775,000 (about $3,875,000.) The total liabilities of the bank are $43,380,910.

The Birbeck Bank is a combined bank and building association and has some 90,000 depositors. Last November there was quite a run on it on account of the failure of the Charing Cross Bank. The Bank of England came to the relief of the bank at that time with a loan of $2,500,000. At that time the directors of the Birkbeck claimed that there was $4,000,000 cash in the vaults of the bank.

The directors in a circular issued today say that the depreciation in the market price of the bank's securities including those of the highest grade, has been so great that they do not feel justified in continuing the business without a reconstruction.

POLICE PROTECTION.

Special to the Review.

London, June 9.—One hundred policemen surround the Birbeck Bank establishment to-day to quell attacks which are feared from thousands of clamorous depositors who are crowded about the premises.

REV. G. W. HENDERSON AT CAVANVILLE

The Cavanville Methodist Sunday School are celebrating their anniversary and garden party, on Sunday and Monday, 18th and 19th. The services on Sunday will be conducted by Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Peterborough, chairman of the district. On Monday, June 19th, on the church grounds tea will be served at 7 o'clock, after which a varied program will be rendered by the Salvation Army Band.

"MAN BEHIND" BUSY.

Francisco Madero In Close Conference With de la Barra.

Mexico City, June 9.—In the Presidential castle on the Heights of Chapultepec, Gen. Francisco I. Madero and Provisional President Francisco de la Barra yesterday had their first conference on the Mexican political situation.

The President sent for Gen. Madero early in the morning, and the conference lasted till midday. The installation of governors in the various states, the distribution of soldiers and the situation in Lower California, where the Socialists refuse to acknowledge the authority of the present Government, were among the subjects discussed. The capital is quiet, after a night of riotous demonstration on Wednesday night to welcome Madero. The members of the general's family are greeted with ovations whenever they appear on the streets.

Child Breaks Neck.

Toronto, June 9.—Four-year-old Albert Catena, 749 St. Clarens avenue, while playing with Angelo Cocceta, the same age, upon some old boilers in a vacant lot beside the Canada Foundry Co. at 8.15 yesterday morning, fell and broke his neck. He was carried into the surgery in connection with the foundry, but died within a few minutes. The body was taken home.

The chief coroner is investigating. The lad who was with him said that the gate was open and they went in to play. He said that the lad just fell and lay still.

To Cross Ocean In Yawl.

Providence, R.I., June 9.—T. R. Goodwin, president of the Narragansett Bay Yacht Racing Association, and Thomas Fleming Day, editor of the Rudder, expect to start from Sabin Point next Saturday in the 25-foot yawl Sea Bird for Rome, via Azores and Gibraltar.

They expect to enter the Mediterranean in forty days. They will be equipped with a kerosene engine which will furnish power on calm days. They will tour Europe before returning on an ocean liner.

New Steamer Launched.

Collingwood, June 9.—The steamer Geronia, a first-class passenger boat for the Ontario & Quebec Navigation Co., was most successfully launched here on Wednesday at the shipbuilding company's yards. Miss Frances Leslie of Picton, daughter of Mr. A. Leslie, chairman of the company, christened the steamer. The Geronia, which is 219 feet 6 inches long, 42 feet beam, and 11 feet 6 inches draught, will be completed and ready to sail early in July.

Murderer Sent to Trial.

Toronto, June 9.—With evidence practically as given at the inquest, Joseph Jessiman was sent on to a jury for trial for his life, for the shooting of James Lougheed at Laplante avenue and Hayter street. The man sat in the dock with the same absent look as on his previous appearances since the shooting.

No evidence for the defence was offered. It is understood that this will be of a purely medical nature to establish insanity.

G.T.R. Conductor Killed.

Ottawa, June 9.—James Thomas Riopelle, G.T.R. conductor at Booth's Mills, was run over by a train last night. He is supposed to have fallen off a car. He was an Ottawa man 36 years of age, and leaves a widow with six children.

The Canadian mint will issue $5 and $10 gold pieces of the same size, weight and fineness of the United States gold currency.

REYNOLDS TO TRY ONCE MORE

Port Hope to Toronto and Return Route

Says He Can Make Toronto in Fifteen Hours

(Port Hope Guide.)

James Reynolds, Port Hope's veteran tonsorial artist, is once more going to try to walk to Toronto and return. James attains his 60th year on Saturday and on the following Monday morning, June 12th, he leaves the John street corner on his long jaunt. He will leave at 6 a.m., and to make the journey in the stipulated time of 55 hours, must be back here on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The principal wager is $500 to $250, Jimmy having the odds. He has another bet of $5 to $10 that he will reach Toronto in 17 1-2 hours, and a bet of $20 to $50, that he will be there in 16 hours. If successful all around he will win $560, but if it goes otherwise Jimmy will be a loser to the extent of $275.

Reynolds has attempted this journey on four different occasions, and only once was he able to return. His time on that walk was 36 hours and 18 minutes. Twice he failed at Newcastle on his return journey, and the last time he gave up at Newcastle on his way to Toronto. But Jimmy has it all figured out that it will be different on Monday. He claims to be in better condition that ever before, and is certain that he can reach the King Edward, Toronto, in 15 hours, which will give him 20 hours to make the return trip. Jimmy attributes his previous failures to heat and to an accident he met with in Toronto by being struck on the leg with a board. When asked the cause of his breakdown at Newcastle on his way to Toronto, Jimmy remarked, "We won't discuss that one at all."

Advice is not accepted by Reynolds. It is certain that Reynolds is the only one in Port Hope who thinks he can make this trip. He knows, too, but that does not change his views. He has been a game old sport all his life and he wants to beat this walking game. We would like to see him come out successful, but we feel it is a test of endurance that is too much for him, and this trip will only add to his already heavy losses. He has lost in wagers now in this walking game $800 besides his loss of time and the expense in carrying it through, which would easily increase the amount to $1,000. However, he is determined to try again, and as it is the King's highway, no person can interfere. We wish him success on Monday.

BURN "OCCO" SCRANTON COAL
"THE VERY BEST"

A FURNACE THAT WILL GIVE YOU AS MUCH HEAT FROM SIX TONS OF COAL AS YOU EVER GOT FROM SEVEN, IS ONE YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO OVERLOOK.

The "Hecla" will do this: It is built to save coal at every point, but the big coal-saving feature is the Steel Ribbed Fire Pot. By adding Steel Ribs to the Fire Pot the surface which radiates heat is increased three times.

Every Furnace has flanges or projections of some sort on the fire pot to get more radiating surface, because the heating capacity of the fire pot increases as you increase the radiating surface. But the "Hecla" is the only Furnace that has attained the greatest possible radiating surface and the reason is that where other Furnaces have clumsy cast-iron Flanges, the flanges on the "Hecla" are made of steel plate and fused to the fire pot casting by our patent process.

STEEL RIBBED FIRE POT
Constructed to save Fuel
Flanges of steel plate—97 in number—are fused into the Fire Pot casting, increasing the radiating surface three times. This gives the air better access to the source of heat so that the heat is conducted away from the coal as rapidly as it is created and without waste.

"Hecla" Furnace

A test extending over three years, demonstrated that this ribbed fire pot made a saving in coal—13⅜%.

Isn't that worth looking into?

Ask someone who owns a "Hecla."

You will find the "Hecla" the best warm air Furnace you ever saw. You will find that it gives an even distribution of heat—heat that is moist and free from gas or dust.

You will find the "Hecla" a Furnace easy to run. One that does not waste live coals when you shake it down. You will find a Furnace that burns wood or coal equally well.

CADETS WERE INSPECTED TO-DAY

Collegiate Corps. Made Very Creditable Showing

The annual inspection of the Collegiate cadets took place this afternoon, in the presence of several of the members of the Board of Education, the Collegiate staff and friends of the students.

The students, headed by the band, marched from the school to Riverside park, where they were met by two companies composed of the girls of the first forms. Lieut. Col. Ogilvie, assisted by Col. Miller inspected the corps, the cadets making a very creditable showing.

Lieut. Hodgson, the drill instructor is to be complimented on the turn-out.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Mr. Horace Wright, late secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at Paris, Ont., is in the city to-day.

Mr. Arthur Ackerman, of Regina, is home on a visit to his parents, Mr and Mrs. B. F. Ackerman.

NON-JURY SITTINGS OF THE HIGH COURT

The non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice opened yesterday, but were immediately adjourned owing to the inability of Justice Teetzel to be present. He arrived in the city this morning, however, and the sittings were resumed at two o'clock this afternoon. The only matter which claimed his attention was the case of Samuel Newall, of Dummer, who, it is alleged, committed an outrage on Mrs. Maggie Moore, also of Dummer, on May 31st.

At 3.30 this afternoon Justice Teetzel allowed Newall out on bail of $2,000, himself and one surety of $1,000 each.

WOULD VOTE FOR LOCAL OPTION IF TRIED AGAIN

That's What Some Anti-Local Optionists in This City Say.

Commercial travellers throughout the province are aroused over a general increase in hotel rates and a deputation will shortly wait upon Hon. W. J. Hanna to enter a protest against the advance which has been made to apply to baggage and sample rooms as well as hotel rates.

The higher rates started as soon as the Ontario Government's new tax on bar receipts went into effect. The movement was inaugurated in Hamilton and is still spreading over the province.

In nearly every case where an advance has been made the day rate in the hotels has gone up fifty cents, while charges for the carriage of baggage and sample trunks has in some cases almost doubled.

The increase in the price of certain drinks, too, has met with disfavor.

Locally it has been stated by anti-local optionists that if hotels persist in acting as they claim so unfairly, they would vote for local option, should another attempt to pass the measure in this city be made. They point to the fact that the hotels now doing business have received the benefits as a result of the cutting off by the commissioners of seven other hotel bars, and are not justified in raising the prices.

BAKERIES TO BE COMBINED

Bredin Bread Co., Weston Bakery and Tomlin's Bakery Are the Ontario Firms Concerned In a Five Million Dollar Corporation—Two Montreal Establishment and One Winnipeg One May Be Bought.

Toronto, June 10.—That there is to be a merger of bakeries in Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg was confirmed by Mark Bredin of the Bredin Bread Co., last night. Mr. Bredin has been in Montreal for a few days, in company with George Weston, of the Weston Bakery Co., and returned to the city yesterday. The amount of capital involved in the new concern is $5,000,000. The headquarters are to be in Toronto. While the matter has been settled so far as the outline of the organization is concerned, the details are not ready for publication. "It will take a few days," said Mr. Bredin, "before we can announce the personnel of the directorate, and I am unable at this time to state who will be president."

"I want to correct one mis-statement, which has appeared in the press," he added. "No milling interest of any kind is behind the undertaking, and in no sense can it be termed a combine or a trust. The basis of the new organization is the saving to be effected in managerial and operating expenses, by a consolidation of interests. The promoters are actuated solely by principles of business economy. As soon as the details are arranged the prospectus will be made public."

Three Toronto bakeries are immediately involved, The Bredin Bread Co., The Weston Bakery and Tomlin's Bakery. Options have been taken on two Montreal bakeries, and one Winnipeg business will be absorbed.

Ald. Weston declined to discuss the matter last night, but Mr. Tomlin corroborated in full the statements of Mr. Bredin, adding that the latter was the prime mover, and would probably be appointed general manager.

"The object is just to save expense," said Mr. Tomlin. "It is a waste of money to have different delivery wagons covering same routes. I don't think though that every baker in the city will come into the amalgamation. I understand that the different bakeries will take stock in the company and not sell out.

"As for Cawthra Mulock, who has been mentioned as largely interested, I can say positively that he will have no connection with it beyond possibility of his being asked to undertake the flotation."

CHOKED HERSELF

Greenport, L.I., June 9.—Because her parents objected to her marrying a younger man, Miss Edith Terry, of Orient, choked herself to death with a stocking.

Miss Terry was 39 years old, her fiance was 29. After spending most of the day with him yesterday, she went home, stuffed her ears and nose with cotton, made a slip noose of a long lisle stocking, put it around her neck and pulled it tight until she fell unconscious. She died soon after she was found by members of the family.

THE NEW PROTESTANT HOME—A FINE INSTITUTION

What the Protestant Home Will Look Like

After many years those who have worked so faithfully and loyally in the interests of the Peterborough Protestant Home are about to see their hopes and wishes realized, in the erection of the handsome and commodious building, the plans of which are prepared, and for the erection of which tenders will be asked.

The outline cut as printed shows the front elevation of the building, which will be erected on the city property, known as the Hilliard farm, outside the city limits to the north. Further description of the premises are given further on.

It may be appropriate to make mention of the succeeding steps in forming and keeping in existence this benevolent work, as it dates back to the year 1862.

On November 26th a meeting of those interested in the project was held in the office of the late Lieut.-Col. Haultain, at which Mr. James Wallis was elected president of the organization and Mrs. Haultain secretary.

On Dec. 2nd, 1863, at a meeting held in the town hall, Mrs. James Hall was elected president, and in May, 1865, Mr. R. A. Morrow very kindly gave the use of one of his buildings, on Sherbrooke street, and the name was changed from that of "The Peterborough Relief Society" to "The Peterborough Protestant Home." In 1870 the late Sheriff James Hall, father of the present Sheriff, and of Mr. E. H. D. Hall, purchased the building on Stewart street, now in use, and presented it to the board. His kind and generous action was a very great help to the operations of the society. In July, 1870, the inmates of the Home were first housed in the stone building, and it has been occupied ever since. The intention was to admit only destitute old women and children, but as cases were presented of deserving old men it was agreed to admit them also. There being no endowment the Home was entirely dependant on the charity and liberality of the benevolent.

About 1886 the late John Carnegie, M.P.P., used his influence with the local government, and a gift of 7 cents per head per day, supplemented by 2 cents for adults and 4 cents for children over ten years of age was secured.

In 1890 the late Mrs. Nicholls, to whom the town and city is indebted for so much that was and is helpful, and who had ever been a faithful friend of the Home, passed away, leaving a handsome endowment of $20,000.00 to the credit of the Home. The interest on this amount, which has been invested, has enabled the board to keep from debt, and will be used in future for the benefit of the inmates.

Miss Roger, the late president, was in connection with the work from the beginning until the time of her death, and no one attended the meetings of the board or evinced a greater interest in the work than this capable and sympathetic official.

The site of the new Protestant Home is on city property at the corner of Anson street and Hilliard avenue, and the institution will have as neighbors the Nicholls and Queen Mary hospitals.

The building will face Anson street and to the south. It will be of three storeys and of solid red brick with one front and two rear verandahs, with balcony, pillars being prominent at the front verandah. In the large basement a large trunk room, cold storage room, laundry, boiler room and toilet rooms are provided for. Leading from the front verandah to the first floor will be a porch, and the central space of this floor will be taken up by the board room, office and waiting room, with pantry, kitchen and serveries to the rear. On the west side will be the men's sitting room, three bedrooms and men's dining room, and on the east side the same provision is made for women, with the addition of the matron's bedroom. Accommodation on the second floor will give the men the west side and the women the other, there being two wards for the former and one for the latter, besides single bedrooms, and one for the superintendent on the men's side. Sleeping quarters take up most of the space on the third floor.

The building will give accommodation for fifty people, and the possibilities for the erection of a Home that will be a credit to the city are many. The plans and specifications are made in accordance with ideas gathered from other similar institutions, and the architects promise a modern building in every respect. It will have a frontage of about one hundred feet.

REV. FATHER TEEFY DEAD

Superior of St. Basil's Novitiate In Toronto, and Former Principal of St. Michael's College In That City Passes Away, Aged Sixty-Two—Was a Brilliant Scholar and a Writer of Some Prominence.

Toronto, June 10.—Rev. Dr. Teefy, LL.D., superior of St. Basil's novitiate and formerly principal of St. Michael's College, after having been unconscious since noon on Friday, passed away a few minutes after midnight. Death was due to diabetes. His brother arrived from Chicago before the end. The last rites of the church were administered by Father Frachon, C.S.B.

Rev. John Read Teefy was born at Richmond Hill, Ont., in 1849, the son of Matthew Teefy, postmaster of that place. He received his education at the high school in his native place and at Toronto University. From there he graduated with the degree of B.A., winning the silver medal in mathematics in 1871. He received the degree of M.A. in 1894 and LL.D. in 1896.

He was ordained to the priesthood in 1878, and joined the congregation of St. Basil. He was afterwards appointed rector of St. Michael's College and became, ex-officio, a member of the senate of Toronto University. In 1896 he was appointed a member of the educational council of Ontario. After the passage of the University Act of 1906 by the present Provincial Government, he was appointed to the newly constituted board of governors of the university. He would have held that office till 1914 had he lived. He was for some time a member of the Toronto separate school board, and a few years ago he was appointed superior of St. Basil's Novitiate.

Father Teefy was a writer of some prominence, and contributed several articles to the volume issued in 1892, in commemmoration of the golden jubilee of the Roman Catholic Church. In 1893-4 he was editor of The Catholic Register. By his death there will be removed from the Roman Catholic community one of her most prominent sons, and a man of brilliant intellect and unusual executive ability.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE IS IN FAVOR EMIGRATION

British People Should Stay in British Colonies.

London, June 10.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—At the Imperial Conference yesterday Premier Fisher moved the reaffirmation of the resolution of 1907, that it is desirable to encourage British emigrants to proceed to British colonies rather than foreign countries, and that the Imperial Government be requested to co-operate with any colonies desiring immigrants and in assisting suitable persons; also for the representatives of the dominions to form a committee of the emigrants' information office.

Premier Morris expressed himself as favorable.

Rt. Hon. John Burns said that since the last conference the object of the resolution had been to a great extent secured. If the rate of increase for the first four months were continued for the whole of 1911, the total number of emigrants from Britain to all countries would amount to 331,329, of whom it was estimated that nearly 80,000 would go to different parts of the Empire.

With the diminishing birth rate the Mother Country could not safely go beyond 331,329 yearly, of which 80,000 went to different parts of the Empire. The conference would probably agree that this was as much as they could request.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Burns' statement appeared to him quite satisfactory.

Sir Joseph Ward urged the alteration of the resolution, so as to express approval of the policy that had been pursued. Otherwise it might convey the impression that they were not satisfied with what had been done.

Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt suggested that the resolution should read that having heard Burns' explanatory statement, the conference resolve that the present policy of encouraging British immigrants to proceed to the British dominions rather than to foreign countries be continued and that full co-operation be accorded any of the dominions desiring emigrants. The resolution as amended was unanimously carried.

Sir Joseph Ward moved that reciprocal provisions be made throughout the Empire respecting destitute or deserted persons.

Mr. Harcourt suggested that the resolution should read: "In order to secure justice and protection for the wives and children, who have been deserted by their legal guardian, either in the United Kingdom or in any of the dominions, reciprocal legal provisions be adopted in the constituent parts of the Empire in the interest of such destitute and deserted persons.

Hon. George Findlay, Attorney-General of New Zealand, agreed and the resolution as amended was unanimously agreed to.

Strike Delays Ocean Liners.

Southampton, Eng., June 10.—A strike of coal porters broke out here yesterday.

The American Line steamer St. Paul, scheduled to sail for New York today, was delayed, and the mammoth White Star liner Olympic, is having difficulty in obtaining a crew.

A whole fleet of ships chartered by the Government and others for the naval review are lying off the port unable to take on coal.

Orangeville Factory Burned.

Orangeville, June 10.—This town was visited by a disastrous conflagration early yesterday morning, when the fine three-storey brick factory of the Hurndall Novelty Furniture Co. was burned to the ground, at a loss of nearly $60,000. Only the dry kiln, a one-storey addition, 25 x 50, escaped the flames.

QUEEN'S WILL SEPARATE

Presbyterian Assembly Decides to Let College Stand Alone.

Board of Trustees Make Recommendation and It Is Acepted by Vote of 132 to 79—May Have Bill Introduced In Parliament to Effect Separation—Principal May Be a Layman by New Plan.

Ottawa, June 10.—Queen's University, Kingston, is to separate from the Presbyterian Church of Canada. After a discussion which lasted all day, the Presbyterian General Assembly, in session here, approved of the recommendation of the board of trustees to that effect. The vote stood 132 to 79, but later it was made unanimous and almost with exception there was general satisfaction that the vexed question that has dragged its devious course over a decade, has been settled. The next step will be for the assembly to appoint a committee to act with a committee to be named by the board of trustees to insure the required legislation to make the changes proposed. It is just possible that matters can be adjusted so that a bill may be introduced in the present session of Parliament. The details as to how the new board will be constituted has not yet been fully worked out, though the change made in the constitution removes the denominational restrictions. The principal ones were that 27 of the board of trustees of about 40 had to be members of the Presbyterian Church, and that the principal had to be a Presbyterian.

The strongest advocate for the separation has been Principal Gordon, who presented the report of the trustees. There was quite a vigorous opposition, headed by G. H. Macdonnell, K.C., of Kingston, and strong speeches were made on both sides. An alternative motion was also made by Rev. Dr. James Ross of London, that the assembly accede to the request, but that first the Ontario Government be asked to guarantee that the university would be given adequate support. This motion was first disposed of, 35 voting for and 59 against.

The new plan approved of by the assembly is as follows;

First—That the corporation of the university shall consist of the members of the board of trustees, the professors, the graduates and the benefactors.

Second—That the board of trustees shall be constituted as follows: The chancellor, elected as at present by the university council; the rector, who shall be elected by the students every three years; the principal, the Minister of Education for the Province of Ontario; an assessor, appointed by the Minister of Education; two members to be appointed by the corporation of the City of Kingston; one member from each affiliated college; six members, in addition to the chancellor, to be elected by the graduates, according to by-laws that have been, or may be, made for this purpose by the university council; four members to be elected by those benefactors who had contributed $100,000 or upwards to the endowment of the university; 12 members to be elected by the present board of trustees, these 12 members, or any of them, may be chosen from amongst the present members; after the first election of these 12 members the board of trustees shall fill vacancies in this number by co-operation.

Third—That the position of principal should be separated from that of primarius professor of divinity, and that laymen as well as ministers should be eligible to it. (The trustees are of the opinion that the best president for a modern university is not necessarily found among the ministry. The present denominational restriction forbids the trustees from electing a principal outside the ranks of the Presbyterian clergy. The removal of that restriction, while leaving the clergy still available, would make it possible to select any other, if a more suitable man be found elsewhere.)

Fourth—That the theological faculty of the university shall be known as "Queen's College," and shall be governed by a board of management, consisting of 25 members, appointed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, five to retire annually and to be eligible for reappointment. Until the appointment of the board of management by the General Assembly the faculty of theology shall be governed by the board of trustees of the university.

TO BUILD SHIP FOR THE NAVY

British-Canadian Firm Floated With Pellatt as Chairman.

London, June 10.—The formation of the British-Canadian Shipbuilding Co., with a subscribed capital of $10,000,000 is announced. The company is organized to build warships and merchant vessels, and it is said it has bids in for four protected cruisers of the Bristol class and six torpedo-boat destroyers, to be built by the Canadian Government.

Sir Henry Pellatt of Toronto is chairman of the company, and other directors are Lieutenant-Governor Gibson of Ontario, Sir Charles Ellis, of the John Brown Co., of Clydebank, and Mr. Gracey of the Fairfield Co.

The new company's shipyards, docks, and machine shops will be at Sydney, Nova Scotia. The company will receive a yearly subsidy of $170,000 for thirty-five years from the Government.

It is stated that the company is ready to build anything from a torpedo boat to a super-Dreadnought. The Clydebank companies have agreed to send to Sydney all the mechanical experts needed.

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

Nerviline is a Trusty Liniment

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE FOR MAN OR BEAST

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1911.

FOR OR AGAINST

The attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the imperial conference is so strongly criticized by Canadian supporters of the Premier and by the British newspapers generally, that the Toronto Globe finds itself facing the problem of elucidating what it supposes is the Laurier attitude on the question of Canada's imperial relations. In relating a bit of history, the Globe says:

> When the South African war broke out and there was danger of pressure from the continental powers on behalf of the Boers there was no hesitation in Canada. Without waiting for the anticipated crisis, and without solicitation from the Home Government, the Governments of the overseas dominions began to prepare to send contingents. Their safety was not menaced and the quarrel over the status of the Outlanders of the Transvaal was not their quarrel. There was grave difference of opinion in Great Britain itself as to the justice of the demands made upon President Kruger by Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Milner. In the face of all this the moment that the Boers launched their attack and tried to sever South Africa from the Empire all the overseas dominions, Canada included, cheerfully assumed a share in the defence of British soil.

The Globe says that "Canada cheerfully assumed a share in the defence of British soil." This is not a question of opinion, or deduction. It is purely a question of fact. The Boer war and the circumstances leading to the sending of the Canadian contingents are so recent that citizens should remember them well. At the time the war was started, and Canadians were agitating for the sending of the contingents Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in Chicago. The Government declined to make any move whatever to "cheerfully assume a share in defending British soil" until the clamor of public opinion became so great that Laurier was forced to take action. Canada assuredly assumed its share in the defence of British soil, but the Globe does not mention that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was not in Canada in this case, and no thanks is due him if Canada did her duty.

The Globe spends considerable effort to show that Britain might at some time commence a war that would not commend itself to Canadian opinion as being right or just, and therefore Canada would have no desire to share in it. Of course, it must be admitted that Canada could not be dragged into a war of offense or aggression against her will, because that situation would deprive Canada of all semblance of autonomy. Whatever Canada does must be done through her own volition, in the matter of engaging in a distant war. At the same time, the probability of a war of aggression is dropping to zero, because of the tremendous cost, and while one might speculate as to whether there will ever be another big war with Britain taking the offensive, such a question is like keeping awake o'nights lest the Martians invade this planet and destroy us.

Canada as a part of the empire must assume such duties and responsibilities as become its position in the empire. It is bound from the fact that it has been reared to maturity under the protection of Britain's mighty arm, to assist in the defence of the empire, in case of some other power assailing it. It is morally bound to defend its own shores, being able to do so, and render aid to other portions of the empire if possible.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's stand, however, that Canada must not participate in treaty-making by the empire because it might involve her in a foreign war is not tenable. In case Britain were to declare war against another power, Canada dissenting, the fact that Canada might utter a disclaimer would not save Canada from attack as a part of the empire. And such a refusal by Canada to consult with the imperial government on a grave matter of negotiation that might lead to an appeal to arms, would not only do Canada no good, but would disintegrate the empire into a collection of inharmonious units.

The issue is this:—Canada either must get into the imperial game, and be ready to stand or fall with it, as an active supporting member, or be prepared to gradually break away until it finally falls into the position of depending on another nation—which of course, would be the United States.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The suspension of the Birbeck bank of London, England, with liabilities of $43,000,000 and assets of $3,750,000 less, will be a great blow to English depositors. The Bank of England has come to the rescue with an offer of an advance of fifty per cent. to the creditors, and on liquidation, the loss will probably not be more than 10 per cent. The knowledge that a bank in deep water financially will get assistance from other banks in case of collapse, seems to be an encouragement to reckless management. The Farmers' Bank case is one where the other banks did not stir a finger to help save the situation, though one cannot wonder at it.

The reports from Queen's at the Presbyterian assembly show that there are very few students preparing for the ministry. Theology is not popular as a profession. There are various causes contributed to this, the chief of which seems to be the financial consideration. The modern young man feels a call to the world of finance or business. In time this lack of men for the ministry may be the means of hastening the church union favored so much by resolution, because it is with the churches as with commercial enterprises — consolidation means elimination of useless overlapping and rivalry. Church union would enable the gospel to be spread much more effectively and conveniently, without harm to the religious or moral influence on the people, because the churches are apart, not in their aims and objects, but merely on questions of dogma that aren't material to anyone except theological wranglers.

This Old Gentlemen Cured of Rheumatism

By One Box of GIN PILLS

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"I have been bothered with Rheumatism for the past year and have taken a good many different kinds of medicine and found no relief for it.

One day a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS, and after taking one box of them, I felt like a new man, I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for the relief they gave me, and would advise all sufferers from Rheumatism to try GIN PILLS."

WM. CONTY.

Don't bother with liniments and so-called "blood purifiers". They won't help your kidneys—and Rheumatism is caused by weak, strained or irritated kidneys. The only possible way to cure Rheumatism, is to cure the kidneys. GIN PILLS will do this as nothing else will.

Take GIN PILLS NOW and be free from Rheumatism this winter. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50—and money promptly refunded if you are not satisfied.

Boiling Alive.

The last instance of boiling to death took place in Persia in 1890. The offender was guilty of stealing state revenues and was put into a large caldron of cold water, which was slowly heated to the boiling point. His bones were distributed as a warning among the provincial tax collectors.

DEFECTS OF CHILDREN IN THE SCHOOLS

What Medical Inspection Revealed at Toronto

Toronto, June 9—Medical inspection of 14,740 Toronto school children have revealed the fact that 642 have physical defects, 300 have excessively developed tonsils, 36 have defective teeth, 110 defective vision, 28 defective hearing, 99 defective nasal breathing, and a number affected in other ways. There were 677 diseased children, 62 having measles, 16 chickenpox, 23 mumps, 17 ringworm, etc., and 169 were excluded for contagious diseases.

The nurses' inspection showed 402 young children examined. Of these 127 had abscesses in their teeth, 100 had defective molars, 2,093 had had cavities in temporary teeth, and 166 had unclean mouths. The dental inspection showed that 1,195 had teeth filled, and 3,291 had decaying teeth.

Half the people have nothing to do but to notice things, so don't imagine you can act wrong without being talked about.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

CHAPTER XII.

"BUT, Marse Gene, honey," implored the old negro, "yo' sho'ly is gwine to make"—

"Some attempt to escape?" smiled Kirby. "Not any, Croup. For one thing I don't wish to, and for another I think it would be wasted effort. The moon is very unaccommodating," he added cheerfully, peering out into the darkness, "but still it seems to me that there are shadows out there not formed by trees. At least they appear somewhat agitated. I shouldn't wonder," he finished in the same pleasant conversational tone, "if Mr. Bunce has realized by this time that he would have been considerably more comfortable had he remained here. The night air doesn't appear overhealthful."

"Yo' mean, Marse Gene, dat de house am surrounded wif men," quavered Croup, seeking to peer over the other's shoulder.

"So I should imagine," agreed Kirby. "It's time our interesting friends on horseback should be here. Aren't they drawing rein out there?"

"Oh, Lawd! Oh, Lawd!" gasped Croup, abandoning himself to despair. "Dey's gwine to have yo' life, Marse Gene"—

"S-h-h!" warned Kirby. "Here come the ladies. No more agony, if you please. I assure you your sympathies are entirely wasted. The good die young, you know." And he turned, with a pleasant smile, as Mme. Davezac and Miss Pleydell entered.

Both appeared thoroughly frightened, although endeavoring to cloak it under a mask of well bred composure, and Kirby, purposely ignoring their condition, launched himself upon a soothing current of small talk which was remarkable for its lack of relevance.

"Just discoursing with Croup on the beauties of the night," he prevaricated cheerfully. "You see, I have been quite deserted. My secretary, feeling the heat, stepped into the garden for a breath of air, while Miss Randall evidently had duties elsewhere. Shall we continue our game? Or perhaps Miss Adele will sing for us again."

"I—I am a little frightened, Colonel Moreau," interrupted Mme. Davezac, her emotion mastering all repressive measures, while she glanced apprehensively at the window. "There are strange shadows moving in the garden. We saw them from the parlor."

"Ah, undoubtedly my secretary," replied Kirby, "a most active being for one of his excessive displacement. I assure you he is entirely capable of creating more than one legitimate shadow"—

"It was more than one man," interrupted Ann Pleydell in a frightened voice of conviction. "Please do not jest with us, Colonel Moreau. We are convinced that some men are watching this house both front and rear."

"In that case," said Kirby, instantly serious, "I beg of you, ladies, to retire to your rooms and permit me to investigate this matter. There is no cause for alarm"—

A shrill, frightened scream cut him short, and the next moment Poulette came flying into the room, moaning and wringing her hands.

"Oh-h-h!" she cried, shrinking away from the window. "Men all round de house. Dey have gun muskets. Dey hide in de bush. Oh-h-h!"

Instinctively Kirby placed a hand in his breast pocket and strode toward the balcony. As he gained the window a hand suddenly pulled him back, and he turned to confront Adele.

"You think they have tracked you," she whispered, biting the quiver from her lips. "They shan't take you! They shan't!" passionately, vehemently.

"Stand back from the window," he commanded quietly, throwing an arm before her. "Ladies," he added, turning to the others, who, with Poulette, had defensively bulwarked themselves behind the card table, "there is no cause for alarm. It is possibly only a posse of our neighbors hunting a runaway nigger."

"Quite so, sir," agreed a drawling voice. And, turning, Kirby discerned Judge Pleydell standing in the doorway, complacently and resolutely blocking the one avenue of escape. Kirby felt quite assured that at last some one of his late friends had discovered the true identity of "Colonel Moreau."

"I have found out who these trespassers are," continued the judge, significantly eying the masquerader, "and, ladies, it is my earnest request that you retire to your rooms."

"Retire?" furiously stormed Adele, her eyes snapping. "I tell you I'll have them whipped off the place!"

"You can't do it; he's right," cut in Kirby, nodding toward the judge.

A heavy step in full retreat now sounded on the balcony, and as Mme. Davezac gave birth to a frightened little scream Larkin Bunce, looking considerably overheated and embarrassed, pushed through the window and beamed rather foolishly upon the assembled company.

"You changed your mind about taking that stroll, did you, Larkin?" greeted Kirby pleasantly.

"Well, I didn't stroll fur," acknowledged the other, fastening an innocent eye upon the ceiling. "There was some men out there, strangers to me—so fur. Yet they kind o' seemed to show some interest in me when I ran into 'em. Told me it wasn't healthy to take too long a walk in the night air. And when I went round the house the other way there was some more o' them says the same thing similar. So I reckoned I might as well come back to the house."

A MOTHER'S PRAISE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Allen Mason, Carleton, N. B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets ever since I have had children and that is going on fifteen years. I have always found them entirely satisfactory for all the ailments of little ones and feel that I cannot praise them too highly." Mrs. Mason's praise is just that of thousands of mothers who consider Baby's Own Tablets the only safe and sure remedy to keep in the house for their little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE SILVER DOLLAR.

Many Changes In Its Design Since It Was First Issued.

The silver dollar has undergone a great many changes since it was put in circulation in 1794. On the face of the first dollar there was stamped the head of a young woman turned to the right and with hair flowing, as if she was in a gale of wind. But in 1796 congress came to her relief and ordered her hair to be tied up with a bit of ribbon. The fifteen stars which appeared on the first dollar were after this reduced to the original thirteen in recognition of the number of states.

In 1836 the design was again changed, and the dollar bore the figure of a woman dressed in a flowing garment. The designer forgot, however, to put in the thirteen stars, and the coin was soon called in, the new design having the woman surrounded by stars. Her air was defiant and stiff looking, and in 1838 dollars were issued which were more artistic in treatment. The first dollars bearing the motto, "In God We Trust," were coined in April, 1864, and in 1873 the era of the trade dollar began, lasting just five years.

The Liberty dollar made its appearance in 1878. Miss Anna W. Williams, a public school teacher of Philadelphia, sat for the portrait.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Sure of a Raise.

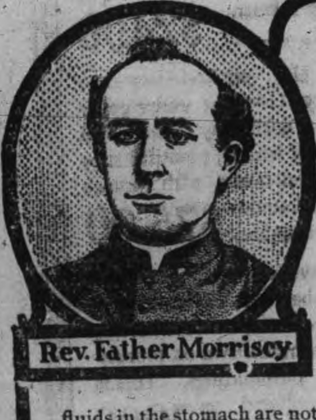
An enterprising woman who rents several apartments in a new building and sublets them furnished, room by room, has profited at the rate of several hundred dollars a year by woman's propensity for telling everything she knows. To each applicant for a room she named an exorbitant price to start with.

"Now, understand, this is a concession to you alone and must be regarded as strictly confidential. If you tell a soul in the house that I have made a reduction in your favor I shall have to charge the original price."

Within two weeks rents had gone up.

"Mrs. Smith tells me," said the astute landlady to each gossiping tenant, "that you told her you pay only $6 for your room instead of $7." And as no one was in a position to plead not guilty the additional rental was exacted.—New York Times.

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Cures Stomach Troubles.



When your stomach is working right you never know it is there. But when it feels as heavy as lead—when you have Heartburn, Belching of Wind, Sourness, a gnawing hunger, with distress after eating—when you feel irritable and depressed — then you may know that the digestive fluids in the stomach are not sufficient to digest what you eat.

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Tablets supply these fluids in concentrated form. Each tablet, dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1¾ pounds of food, which is more than an average meal.

Read what Father Morriscy's treatment did for Mr. Gosline, of Salmon Lake. He writes Nov. 30, 1908:

"I was troubled with indigestion, so severe that I really thought I had cancer of the stomach. I took much doctors' remedies, till I was forced to seek another resource, and this was the Rev. Father Morriscy. His treatments worked miracles, until I have been entirely cured, so that now I do not look to the quality of the diet but to the quantity."

Outlets For Chinese.

Ottawa, June 9.—Hereafter the Chinaman can get to a southern American destination via Canada and the United States, without having to cross the continent from west to east.

The United States sometime ago abolished a regulation under which bonded Chinamen, desiring to pass through the United States, could enter the Republic at various points along the Canadian frontier. The Chinamen coming east through Canada have had to take ship at St. John, and go into the United States at Boston, a port of entry for Chinese.

The C.P.R. has arranged with the United States Government to enter bonded Celestials at nine frontier points, and the Dominion Government has passed an order-in-council allowing Chinamen to be manifested at nine corresponding Canadian points: Huntingdon, B.C.; North Portal, Sask.; Emerson, Man.; Windsor and Bridgeburg, Ont.; Athelstone, Abercorn and Megantic, Que., and McAdam, N.B.

Macauley Is Chairman.

Kingston, June 9.—At the Canada Congregational Union meeting yesterday, T. B. Macauley, Montreal, managing director of the Sun Life Assurance Co. was elected chairman for 1912.

It was reported that total membership of churches is 12,204, an increase of 908; value of churches, $1,547,695, increase of $325,000; amount of money raised, $210,689, increase of $11,770.

Rev. John Murray, Shanty Bay; Rev. John T. Tucker, St. John, N.B.; Rev. A. G. Sheep, Ottawa; Rev. Herbert Moule, Montreal; Rev. E. J. Thompson, Keswick Ridge, N.B., and Rev. G. Watt Smith, Ottawa, were received into membership.

Canada and the "All-Red."

London, June 9.—That Canadians are eager for an all-red cable line is the opinion of The Yorkshire Post, but it declares that Sir Wilfrid Laurier hesitates to commit Canada to any new scheme of Imperial co-partnership. "Just now," The Post adds, "whatever Laurier opposes at the conference seems to end in smoke."

According to The Birmingham Post practically everything in this "All-red" connection depends upon the attitude and the action of Canada. It is felt that the Dominion ought to take the lead in engineering skill as well as in the matter of capital.

Guilty o Perjury.

Woodstock, June 9.—James Young, a local man, who ran off to Ingersoll with a girl in her teens a few weeks ago, was brought back with his young bride and compelled by the court to live with her parents. It was charged that he had sworn falsely to the girl's age, and yesterday he was tried for perjury and was found guilty. The magistrate suspended sentence on condition that the marriage be solemnized in the regular way, that he works steady from now on and supports his wife, and that he provide bonds to the amount of $500 for his future good behavior.

Laid Corner-Stone of Collegiate.

Smith's Falls, June 9.—Hon. Dr. Pyne and Col. Matheson yesterday assisted in laying the foundation-stone of the new collegiate institute here yesterday. Dr. Pyne laid the stone and told the assembly what the Ontario Government was going to do in the matter of technical education.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

FIRST AID IN FAINTING.

Lower the Head to Let the Blood Back to the Brain.

Fainting is a loss of consciousness due to the diminution of blood supply to the brain. It occurs most frequently in weak, sensitive women, but may occur also to men as well. It usually occurs in crowds or in crowded halls, theaters and churches, where the atmosphere is close and the air foul.

Fainting usually lasts only a few minutes, and the person recovers immediately when taken out into the fresh air, but there are cases in which it lasts much longer, sometimes for an hour or more. The first aid treatment of fainting is usually very simple. Take the person out into the fresh air and lay him flat on the back, with the head lower than the feet.

This can be done by grasping the feet and holding the body so that the head hangs down, or take an ordinary straight back chair, turn it over so that the back forms an angle with the floor and place the person on the back of the chair with the head hanging down. This position with the head hanging down favors the flow of the blood back to the brain.

All tight clothing about the neck and waist should be loosened. Smelling salts or aromatic spirits of ammonia applied to the nostrils and cold water sprinkled on the face, chest and hands help to restore consciousness.—National Magazine.

Boy Fell Fifteen Feet.

Toronto, June 9.—Seated on the window sill of the front upstairs room of his home at 19 Inkerman street at 10.30 last night, ten-year-old John McDonald was preparing to retire when he overbalanced and fell fifteen feet to the sidewalk below. He was picked up in a semi-unconscious condition with his face severely bruised. Medical aid was called, and it was thought that the skull might be fractured. He was sent to the Hospital for Sick Children in the police ambulance.

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

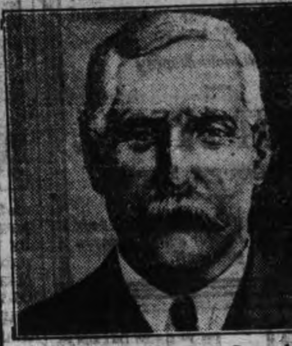
When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910.

"You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives".



"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

As Mr. Pitt says "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest headache cure in the world.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleville, Ont.—"I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish."—Mrs. ALBERT WICKETT, Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

THIRD PRINCE OF WALES LEAVE FOR PETAWAWA MONDAY

Will be in Camp for Twelve Days — Advance Party Left To-day.

The 3rd. Prince of Wales Dragoons under the command of Lieut. Col. G.H. Dyer of Millbrook, will leave for Petawawa, on Monday afternoon to undergo twelve days camp instruction. The Dragoons this year promise to be pretty nearly up to full strength, and the officers, non commissioned officers and men anticipate a pleasant outing.

Captain T. Douglas, medical officer of the 3rd. Dragoons will not be in camp with the regiment this year, much to the regret of his fellow officers. Captain Douglas, who formerly practiced medicine at Warsaw and later at Colborne, has been a resident of Moose Jaw, for the past four years. However, he has always made a point to come East for the annual camp of instruction of his regiment. This year he is unfortunately detained in the West owing to pressure of business. The officers of the regiment will also regret the absence from camp this year of Captain Poole. Captain Poole is also now a resident of Western Canada, and although he came East to attend camp last year, this year he has found it necessary to ask for leave of absence, which has been granted.

Lieut. Charlton Edmison, of Harwood who has been attending the Medical School at Detroit, during the past four months, has returned home, and will leave with his regiment for Petawawa on Monday night. Lieut. Edmison holds a commission in A. squadron at Colborne.

One of the youngest officers of the 3rd. Dragoons, is Lieut. Garnet G. Greer of this city. Lieut. Greer was in camp last year, as hospital corporal. He caught the military fever, and this year returns to camp as a commissioned officer.

Lieut. Paul Trebilcock will be out at camp again this year after an absence of several years from the regiment. Lieut. Trebilcock is attached to the Colborne squadron.

Major W. T. Hall of Peterboro, who is on the corps reserve of the regiment intends going to camp. Major Hall is one of the best officers in the regiment and is deservedly popular with all ranks.

Owing to the pressure of private business, Lieut. J. J. Duffus, signalling officer, finds it impossible to go into camp this year with the regiment. This will be the first camp that Lieut. Duffus has missed for many year.

Captain C. Campbell, of Keene, who has for some years past, held a commission in C. Squadron, Peterboro, has been transferred to the corps reserve of the regiment. Captain Campbell who is a graduate of R.M.C., and a most capable officer is leaving shortly for Kimberley, South Africa. The 3rd. Dragoons will have a new adjutant this year in the person of Major McLaughlin, of Bowmanville. The latter up till a few months ago was in command of A. Squadron.

The quartermasters advance party left at noon to-day for Petawawa, to have everything in readiness for the regiment, when they arrive there Tuesday morning.

DR. CLIFFORD ON PASSIVE RESISTANCE

The iniquitous Education Act of 1902 is still working gross injustice to the Baptists of England. A few weeks ago Rev. S. J. Ford, was commited to prison for 2 months because he refused to pay the rate levied for sectarian education in state schools—a rate which in his case amounts to 1s. 9d. The poor rate of £1 14s. 3d. he offered to pay at once, but he will not, and cannot pay even at the bidding of parliament, a direct rate for teaching the dogmas of ecclesiastical institutions. This sentence has led Dr. John Clifford to remark: "If these magistrates think they are going to stop Passive Resistance by these tyrannical sentences, or to make the rule of the squire and brewer supreme in the villages, I can assure them they will not succeed. The Passive Resistance movement has men in it made of the same stuff as John Bunyan, who told the magistrates of his day "He would stay in prison till the moss grew on his eyebrows rather than cease to preach the Gospel."

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

There is no commoner question asked of a librarian than "can you tell me the name of a good book ?" and there is no harder question to answer. Tastes are as varied as humanity itself and what gives pleasure to one person, fails entirely in doing so for another, so that anyone who plumes himself or herself an authority on books, is assuredly imagining a vain thing. But there are certain books that do indeed appeal to the taste of a very large section of the public. Unfortunately they are not of a very elevating character and are mostly fiction. And again there is a smaller class of books, also fiction, that are neither desirable, nor clever which obtain a vogue by reason of the audacity with which they treat certain phases of social life. As the Library Committee is anxious as far as possible to present books of a healthy nature to the public, they will welcome any hints given to the librarian as to any volume considered not fit for general distribution.

In prosecuting one's researches through a library, one continually comes upon books that present a train of thought at once interesting and painful. One does not have to look far or to ponder much to come to the conclusion that the great world does not have much use or veneration for books of a bygone day or for their authors. Occasionally when a great genius like Dickens or Thackeray, lifts his head above his puny fellows, his very preeminence commands a certain amount of reverence, but even the greatest lose their value as the generation that knew passes away and a new hero or heroine of literature holds the boards. In the Peterborough Library there are many books that have not been touched by the public for years. Their dinginess, like the dinginess of a tatterdemalion keeps people aloof and they pass on to the gaudy backed books, saucy in their accoutrements of green and gold, that do not hold within their covers one fiftieth part of the value, or interest that is enclosed within the forbidding looking bindings of the books first mentioned.

HOMING PIGEONS LIBERATED HERE REACHED NEW BEDFORD

Five Arrived at Destination on Same Afternoon—Will Start Here Again.

Mr. W. F. Skitch, local agent of Canadian Express Company, has received the following clipping and letter from New Bedford, Mass., relative to the arrival of the homing pigeons, liberated here last Sunday morning, from Armour's Hill. The clipping from a New Bedford paper is as follows:

The original Whaling City Homing Club, of this city, held a successful flight from Peterboro, Ont., yesterday, when five birds came home, from a distance of 415 miles. Dowd had three and King two birds. The birds were released yesterday morning at five o'clock by W. F. Skitch, with a northwest wind and fine weather. But for part of the distance the wind was ahead, and the birds made good time considering. Dowd wins first and King second.

The speed of the first three birds was as follows:

Owner.	Yds. Per Min.
Dowd	950.972
King	939.626
King	920.078

THE LETTER

New Bedford, June 7, 1911

Mr. W. F. Skitch,

Dear Sir—Your letter and the report of liberation received duly, for which I thank you. The race was a great success, all the members being pleased to have five birds arrive home on the same day of liberation. This is the most successful race that we ever had from Peterboro and we thank you kindly for the good care and liberation which you gave our birds. The first arrived at 5.47 in the afternoon, Sunday, June 4th. We will send you the birds again next year. On June 17 we fly a 500 mile race from Midland, Ont.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. H. THERIEN,
Secretary.

OBITUARY

Clara Sanders

The sympathy of their many friends will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, of North Monaghan, in the loss sustained by the death of their eldest daughter, Clara Gertrude, aged nine years, who passed away last night after a lengthy illness of about three years. Besides the parents there are two sisters.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at 1.45 o'clock.

SOUVENIRS OF KINRADE MURDER

Hamilton, June 10.—The police held an auction sale of goods which they had in their possession, and among these, it is said, were some clothes, which were taken from the body of Ethel Kinrade, whose murder was one of the most baffling the police here ever had to do with. These were sold along with other goods the police had gathered in at various times, and the lot brought about $200, which was turned over to the police benefit fund.

TO-DAYS MARKET

Plenty of Eggs, Butter and Potatoes Offered

There was a splendid offering of eggs and butter at the market this morning, 17, 18 and 19 cents being asked for eggs and 20, 21 and 22 cents for butter.

Chickens were plentiful, one lady asking $1 for two that looked as if they had forgotten to grow. Out on the square potatoes was the main offering at $1.

GOOD SHOWING OF THE CADETS

No. 2 Company Best Drilled of Collegiate Corps

Lieut.-Col. Ogilvie, in the course of his remarks to the Collegiate cadet corps, after inspection yesterday afternoon, complimented them on their showing. No. 2 Company, under Captain Austen, he considered the best drilled of the corps, and, considering the short time in which they had to prepare for inspection, they all did remarkably well.

After the battalion was dismissed Lieut. Hodgson banquetted the officers and band at Coleman's.

O'K O'K

Don't Judge the Lager You Drink by the Price You Pay For It.

The price has nothing to do with the quality. Imported lagers cost more than O'Keefe's "Pilsener" because of the high duty—NOT because they are better, or even as good.

O'KEEFE'S "Pilsener" Lager

The Light Beer in The Light Bottle

is brewed only of finest barley malt, hops and water—no rice, glucose or other ingredients—which cannot be said of any American lager.

O'Keefe's "Pilsener" is a pure, old, wholesome, healthful lager—brewed right here at home according to the Government standard—and is superior to any imported lager, no matter what the price.

SOUTH CENTRALS HAD EASY WIN FROM MURRAY ST. NINE

Winners Collected Sixteen Runs to the Opponents' One.

The South Centrals put a damper on the championship aspirations of Messrs. Cavanah, Dobson and Co. in a senior school league game on the oval last night, when the Centrals were defeated by a 16—1 score.

However, last year's champions made a fairly good showing on the season's work, only losing two games in the series.

The first three or four innings of yesterday's game were fairly well contested, but after that the Centrals were left behind. The timely hitting of the winners and a few costly errors on the part of the losers sent the latter on an aeroplane jaunt, and they came down in time to find the game lost.

Batteries—South Centrals—Parker and Haskill. Centrals—Cavanah and Dobson.

Umpire—F. D. Craig.

THE TURF

The sale of the celebrated race horse General H. to the Russian Government has aroused a good deal of interest in the trotting game and almost every horseman has a story to tell of the time he witnessed some fast time made on the track. One of the best horses ever seen on an ice circuit in this or any other country, was the stallion Cresceus that went a mile in 2.15 at the ice races on the Central Canada ice meet in the year 1903. It was admitted the finest performance ever given of speed. The attempt was to set a new ice record for the mile, as all the other marks had been made in races. The driver held the pretty animal in, and the first dash was not marked by any great speed. Coming into the back stretch he cut loose a little and passed the running mate that was provided to make the pace for the great horse. In the final quarter the record (32 secs.) was smashed to bits and the giant horse sailed over the wire full of trotting and ready for another dash. It was said to have been the finest exhibition of square trotting that was ever given in the world on ice. General H., the Calgary horse, is just another horse of the same style as the great Cresceus and it is a singular thing that the two great trotters are going to Russia. That is the finest trotting country in the world. With both General H. and the famous old stallion in that land of "skis" and "offs" there will be two of the very finest horses that ever snorted through a bridle in the one country.

SHOULD GET A TRYOUT

Stan Cresswell Deserves a Trial With the Midland League Team

It is up to the managerial end of the Peterboro Ball Club to give Stan Cresswell a tryout if the Midland leaguers win at Cobourg to-day, that is of course if the magnates are particularly anxious to receive a general patronize, and such appears to be the case.

Cresswell, by his work so far this season, has earned the right to trial on the team which was at the organization meeting given out to be a representative one. The Collegiate twirler has many warm supporters who would pass in their Cobalt to see him perform with the big leaguers.

JERRY AND HIS WAFTING

Edmonds Had Home Run, Three and Two Bagger and Single

Jerry Edmonds is going some with the willow for the Winnipeg Maroons who are located fourth place in the Western Canada Ball League. In a game with Brandon this week, he had a home run, three bagger, two bagger and a single. The Maroons had eighteen hits and eighteen runs. Edmonds performance behind the bat this season is much improved.

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Hot weather damage in Kansas, Nebraska and other states almost monopolized the attention of wheat traders to-day. In consequence the trade was strong at a net advance of 1-4c and 3-8c to 1-2c and 5-8c. Other leading staples showed good gains over last night—corn 1c to 1 1-4c, oats 1 1-4c to 1 1-2c and provisions from 17 1-2c to nearly half a dollar.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d to ¼d lower than yesterday on wheat, and unchanged to ¼d higher on corn. Antwerp closed ⅝c lower, Berlin ½c lower, and Budapest 1⅝c higher.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings:

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away.

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure Bowel and Kidney as well as Liver troubles, and keep you healthy. 25c a box at your dealer's. 14

SOWING HIS WILD OATS
REAPING A HARVEST OF SORROW

How many young men can look back on their early life and regret their misdeeds. "Sowing their wild oats" in various ways. Excesses, violation of nature's laws, "wine, women and song"—all have their victims. You have reformed but what about the seed you have sown—what about the harvest? Don't trust to luck. If you are at present within the clutches of any secret habit which is sapping your life by degrees; if you are suffering from the results of past indiscretions; if your blood has been tainted from any private disease and you dare not marry; if you are married and live in dread of symptoms breaking out and exposing your past; if you are suffering as the result of a misspent life—DRS. K. & K. ARE YOUR REFUGE. Lay your case before them confidentially and they will tell you honestly if you are curable.

Catarrhal Deafness

Successfully Treated By

Catarrhozone

Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more o less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with.

Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly, yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning.

The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear.

CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use.

From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Dealers everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

If you annoy anyone unnecessarily you are mean; that's the long and short of it.

Don't expect gifts all the time; occassionally give one.

You may think you are as young as you ever were; but others—ah, so often others do not agree with you.

It is pitiful to see a well behaved old man bustling around to help his wayward son out of difficulty.

The best way to prepare for trouble is to save your money.

A farmer was eating dinner in a restaurant. "Give me a little more chicken," he said to the waiter, "to make my bread come out even."

The facts are that a man may breathe properly, eat properly, sleep properly, and obey all the rules of sanitation, and then die of old age at seventy to seventy-four.

If you can't do anything about it, don't talk about it.

If a girl marries, and does poorly, all the other girls are discouraged for months.

HOW TO SHARPEN A LAWN MOWER

Take the driving wheels off, remove the rachets and change them, placing the left rachet on the right and the right rachet on the left side of the machine. This will cause the revolving blades to strike backward on the cutting bar. Put some heavy machine oil in the groove on the cutting bar and place some emery dust in the oil. Turn the mower upside down and push it around, keeping the cutting bar in close contact with the revolving blades. As soon as the blades are sharp, wipe off the oil and emery carefully and change the rachets. This will sharpen the blades more evenly than can be done with a file.

MUST GET $12 A WEEK AT LEAST

No Working Woman Can Exist on Less.

Boston, June 9.—"No working woman can possibly live in simple comfort on less than $12 a week," declared Mrs. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, to-day. Mrs. Robins is in Boston to attend the national conference of Women's Trade Union heagues, of which she is president. "If her wages fall below that amount she merely exists," Mrs. Robins continued.

"She is obliged to deny herself proper food and suitable clothing. Until such time as votes for women prevail, the women wage-workers must join a union and go on a strike if necessary for the protection denied them under man-made laws."

On the question of marriage Mrs. Robins said;

"A trade union girl might perhaps become the wife of a passive non-unionist and still be happy; but under no circumstances should she marry a pronounced anti-trade unionist, regardless of his wealth and social standing."

Forger Jumps From Train.

Utica, N.Y., June 10—Friedge Riath, 25 years old, of Short Hill, N.J., came to this city two weeks ago, purchased an $800 automobile, and gave an apparently certified check on a Montreal, Que., bank for $3,000 in payment. He got a check for about $2,200 in return, which he exchanged for express money orders in small sums. Running the automobile about a mile out of the city, he abandoned it. His check was returned from Montreal marked "forgery."

Riath was arrested in Augusta, Georgia. A Utica officer went after him returning Thursday evening. Between Albany and Schenectady, where the train was running slow on an upgrade, Riath locked himself in the closet and jumped out of the window.

Forty Years Bishop.

Brockville, June 10.—Fifty years ago on June 13 the election of Dr. J. T. Lewis, LL.D., as the first bishop of the newly-formed Diocese of Ontario took place. He was at the time rector of Brockville, and presided over the diocese as bishop for almost forty years. A pastoral has been issued by the present bishop dealing with this anniversary, setting forth special prayers and calling on all the clergy to commemorate the event on Sunday morning, June 11.

The 41st Regiment is arranging to take is annual outing to Niagara Falls.

Split In the Ranks.

Washington, June 10.—The declaration of Col Roosevelt that he would not be a candidate for the Presidency and the implied support promised Mr. Taft have caused a split in the insurgent ranks, and five of their thirteen Senators are said to have refused to support the nomination of La Follette and will be for President Taft.

Butchered With An Axe.

Portland, Ore., June 10.—The bodies of a man named Hill, his wife and two children, were found yesterday in the Hill home at Ardenwald, a suburb of this city.

The woman and children had been chopped to death with an axe. He had then committed suicide.

Spaniards Lost 100 Killed.

Paris, June 10.—The correspondent of The Temps at Marnia, Morocco, yesterday telegraphed that a clash occurred between the Spanish troops and a force of tribesmen at Soul Arba, Dekert. The Spanish losses were 100 men killed. The tribesmen suffered a loss of probably 60 dead.

Six Killed In Wreck.

Albuquerque, New Mexico, June 10.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 3, known as the California Limited, and the fastest train on the Santa Fe system, crashed into a tie train near Domingo, 30 miles north of here, yesterday morning.

The Limited was loaded with California tourists.

Shot Woman Nine Times.

Burlington, Vt., June 10.—Nine bullet wounds, inflicted at Essex Junction, resulted in the death yesterday of Miss May Labelle. Arthur Dosworth, employed at the same hotel, is charged with murder. Dosworth said the young woman, by her complaints to the management, had made his life miserable.

"Marvelous Recovery"

Montreal Man So Ill With Dyspepsia Thought He Would Die.

No more convincing evidence was ever put on paper than the following letter from one of Montreal's well-known citizens, Mr. D. R. Larose, of 338 Joliette street.

"Permit me to write you a few words concerning Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage. I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment after having read your advertisement in the paper. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend them to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette st., Montreal, P.Q.

Let all who have weak stomachs, and those who suffer with indigestion, headaches, billiousness, know they can be perfectly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Successfully used for many years, mild and safe, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Mustn't Join a Union.

Montreal, June 10.—According to Magnus Sinclair of Toronto, organizer for the International Street Railway Union, only the fact that the local company had pickets placed around the Labor Temple Thursday to warn employes that if they joined a union they'd lose their jobs, were the meetings called for the afternoon and evening to discuss such an organization prevented.

President Roberts of the company was himself noticed in the vicinity of the Labor Temple.

Only about forty men did attend the meeting.

Not long ago the company voluntarily gave an increase in wages, the second such increase in two years.

Released on Bail.

Montreal, June 10.—A. J. King of Toronto and H. Leopold Brodie, charged by William S. Waldo, said to be a private detective, with attempting to kidnap twenty-seven months old Stewart Ogden Jones, arrived in Montreal yesterday from Goderich, Ont. They appeared before a magistrate and pleaded not guilty. Both were released on $4,000 bail bonds, $2,000 personally and two bondsmen each in the sum of $1,000.

They simply claim that the whole thing is a misunderstanding as far as they are concerned. The preliminary hearing will take place on Tuesday next.

Medical Council Reforms.

Kingston, June 10.—Dean Connell of Queen's Medical College outlines as follows the reforms in the Ontario Medical Council which will be urged by Queen's and supported by other members of council:

(1) Matriculation uniform with junior matriculation in arts; (2) Freedom of universities to arrange details of course of five years; (3) One final council examination at end of fifth year, or any workable system of assessors in place of this examination; (4) Reduction of fee to not more than $50; (5) Reduction of council members to twelve.

Bank Teller $60,000 Short.

Winnipeg, June 10.—Arthur E. Bingham, teller of the Northern Crown Bank at Lethbridge, whence he fled several days ago, with $60,000, came to Winnipeg, admitted his shortage, and gave himself up. He is in jail here and will be taken back to MacLeod.

Masonic Temple for London.

London, June 10.—The controversy over the erection of the new Masonic Hall as being contrary to city by-laws has been settled by an amendment of the original plans. The building committee of the Masons had decided to fight, when the arrangement was arrived at.

Bye-Election For Brighton.

New York, June 10.—A London cable says: Arthur de Cardonnel Rice, Lord Dynever, died yesterday, aged 75. His son, Hon. Walter Rice, ascends to the peerage through his father's death, and, as the younger man was a member of the House of Commons, his death will result in a bye-election in Brighton to fill the vacancy.

Lord Dynever was the owner of more than 10,000 acres of land in England, and was among the wealthiest of peers.

Radial Entrance to Brantford.

Brantford, June 10.—The railway committee of the City Council has agreed to sanction the right of way to the Port Dover and Brantford Electric Radial into the city, crossing the Grand River at the southern side of the city and the Cockshutt flats to the Great Western Station at Colborne street. The survey of the projected line has been completed, and the next move of the promoters will be to secure financial assistance from the various municipalities which have been urging radial facilities.

May Be Murder.

Montreal, June 10.—A fight that may end in a murder trial took place yesterday at 447 Cadieux street, when Pierre St. Denis threw his landlady downstairs in a drunken passion. She is at the General Hospital, and is not likely to recover.

He had been drinking all night, and when she reproved him for it he struck her and then threw her downstairs. He drew a knife and ran at her again. Police passing stopped him as he raised his hand to strike.

The Canadian mint will issue $5 and $10 gold pieces of the same size, weight and fineness of the United States gold currency.

The Penalty of Overwork is Kidney Trouble—Here's Your Remedy:—

It has been man's lot since the creation to toil. The modern tendency is to overwork, to turn night into day and thus tear down faster than nature can rebuild. An unnatural strain is thrown upon the vital organs, and more especially upon the kidneys, which have the work of filtering the blood free of waste and poison.

The present-day rush is too great. If it is to continue nature must be assisted with a good kidney tonic. When the kidneys begin to fail in their work Booth's Kidneys Pills are needed. They quickly disperse the poisonous matter collected in the system.

Pain in the back is only a timely warning of trouble in the kidneys. An inflammation has set in and a disordered condition of the urine soon becomes apparent.

Too much or too little urine, with a constant desire to void the secretions; any noticeable deviation from the normal color; the appearance of a sandy sediment proves a disordered condition of the kidneys that needs quick attention.

If your work seems hard for you; if you have a lame, weak or aching back; if you are tired and listless and seem to be running down without apparent cause begin at once with Booth's Kidney Pills, the great kidney remedy that has cured so many of your neighbors. It has given thousands of working men and women strong, sound backs for their daily work.

Charles Reid, of Main street, Markdale, Ont., says:—"My back had been sore and tender; a heavy dull pain had settled in the small of my back and in the region of the kidneys. My limbs would puff up with dropsical swellings and leave me in a miserable and painful condition. The urine was highly colored and odorous and contained a quantity of brick dust sediment. Nothing had relieved my condition in any way and I began to think nothing would. I read of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box and commenced their use. I had not finished the first box when the urine cleared and the dropsical swellings had gone down. I found more relief in Booth's Kidney Pills than in all else I had used and I am stronger and better in every way, and can thank only Booth's Kidney Pills for it."

A FREE BOX

will be sent to all sufferers wishing to try this wonderful remedy. They are guaranteed to do all that is claimed for them or refund your money. All druggists sell Booth's Kidneyney Pills, 50 cents a box, or postpaid from the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., to whom all applications for free trial should be addressed.

U. S. customs officers have arrested Francis L. Richards, a Bruston, N.Y., buttermaker, on the charge of smuggling butter from Canada. Richards tendered the officials $1,600 to cover the duty, but is held for inquiry.

The Montreal authorities yesterday decided to abandon the coronation pyrotechnical celebration as there were not sufficient funds available to do the thing in style. Only $2,500 was placed at the disposal of the committee, which asked for $8,500.

Herr Schendel, who on Tuesday established a German altitude record of 6,594 feet in an aeroplane, fell yesterday evening with his mechanic, Voss, and both were instantly killed. Schendel was trying to eclipse the world's altitude with a passenger.

FADING AT THIRTY

When Woman Should be in the Prime of Charm and Beauty

At thirty to thirty-five a woman should be in the prime of charm and beauty, and yet many women begin to fade before then. Wrinkles appear and the complexion grows sallow. Dark rings surround the eyes, and headaches follow, with backaches and low spirits. The cause of this is simply need of blood nourishment. Good pure blood is the life of a woman's beauty and health. It is good blood that brings the glow of health to the cheek, brightness to the eye, and elasticity to the step, and the general happiness of good health. When woman feels jaded and worn out her blood supply needs attention, and the one unrivalled and sure remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which supply the rich, red blood that repairs the waste, dispels disease and restores the brightness and charm of womanly health.

Mrs. H. G. Hart, Winnipeg, Man., is one of the thousands of sufferers who owes her present health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I had suffered for a long time, not knowing what the trouble was. I had doctored with several doctors, but only seemed to be growing worse. The last doctor I had told me the trouble was anaemia, that my blood was turned to water and that my condition was serious. But his treatment, like the rest, did me no good. I got so bad that if I excited myself, or went up stairs, I was completely out of breath and felt as if I was going to suffocate, Mr heart would palpitate violently, and at times I would suffer with terrible pains from it. I had a yellow complexion, my lips had lost their color, and I had no appetite and could not eat. I grew so weak I could hardly drag myself along, and my feet seemed to have weights on them. I was so completely run down that I thought I was going into consumption. At this time a friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I found my health improving, and after taking the Pills for a couple of months I was entirely well, and have since enjoyed the best of health, and I feel that I can never say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The most useful people are those who quietly teach temperance, honesty, industry and justice by example, and at the same time do something for the communities in which they live.

LIBERALS ARE DUMB FOUNDED

Laurier's Attitude at Conference is Great Surprise

Ottawa, Ont., June 10.—The attitude taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Imperial Conference is giving rise to considerable comment among his supporters here. The Conservatives are not surprised, but it is among prominent Liberals that something like consternation is expressed. The Premier is going far beyond the conception of the ordinary patriotic Liberal and when it comes to an election there is bound to be a most serious defection in the ranks. It all hangs apparently upon Quebec. The Nationalistic propaganda there is down on anything and everything that savors of imperialism or even imperial unity and it is remarked that in his attitude generally at the conference Sir Wilfrid has gone Bourassa one better.

WILL CALL FOR PAPERS.

When the house resumes reciprocity will be discussed, but not it alone. One of the first steps of the opposition will be to move for all reports and papers concerning the Imperial Conference and the stand taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be denounced. There is no question where the opposition stands on the matter and it is believed that the Laurier policy, while possibly gaining a few votes in Quebec, will alienate a great body of Liberals throughout the country who do not have so circumscribed a view of their responsibilities to the empire.

REGARDED AS ALARMING.

The reciprocity agreement is regarded as creating the gravest suspicion, but taken in conjunction with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude at the imperial conference the situation is alarming. The election planned for this fall promises to be more on questions of imperial patriotism than politics. The story that Hon. Chas. Murphy, who is having a red hot time in Russell county, is likely to be forced on Renfrew, brings forth indignant denials from the party supporters up there. One difficulty is religion. The county at Toronto is represented by an Irish Catholic though the Protestants are in a majority. They have never objected to this system, but they would object to the Dominion member also being of that persuasion. If Mr. Murphy is thrown down in Russell, as is quite likely, Nipissing is the constituency which he will have to try and win.

BOSTON IS RIVAL TO FAMOUS RENO

Boston is fast becoming the rival of Reno, Nevada, as a city where it is easy to obtain a divorce, says Representative Cavanaugh, of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. He wanted a bill passed providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate divorces in Massachusetts.

Although the resolution was defeated by a vote of 119 to 102, it is probable an attempt will be made to secure a re-reading.

Representative Keefe said the reason for divorce among the poor is the inability of young wives to cook for their husbands. He said the best way to lessen the evils of divorce would be to install schools of domestic science in every city.

"Where there is no cooking there is 'no food,'" he said, 'and the husband naturally turns to drink, with the result that divorce or conditions infinitely worse follow. There is too much talk about the investigation of divorce among the rich. What we need to look after is the condition among the poor. These Newport swells really forget who their fathers and mothers are because divorce and re-marriage is so common among them.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

A special general meeting of the St. John's Anglican Young People's Society will be held on Monday next at 8.30 in the Guild room to arrange for the annual lawn social in the grounds. All members are asked to make a special effort to be present.

The 57th band has been invited to play at Scarboro Beach, Toronto, for one week, with two concerts daily and if local arrangements can be made the invitation will be accepted.

GERMAN WILL RUN AS GOOD LIBERAL

Ottawa, June 10—"I will be against reciprocity so long as it is on the carpet," declared Mr. W. M. German, Liberal M.P., for Welland, who is here to-day. Mr. German's contact with his constituents has not in any way affected his bolt with the party on the question.

"Some of the farmers," he said, "are for reciprocity, others are against it, but the towns are all against it."

"Will you run again as a Liberal?" was asked.

"Sure but I'm not for reciprocity" said Mr German. He added that he is not worrying about any trouble in the party convention.

Hon. William Paterson, in an interview to-day, declared that the Root amendment will not make any difference, so far as Canada is concerned, with reciprocity. He expressed the opinion, however, that it would likely be struck out on the floor of the Senate."

The Government has refused to subscribe towards Ottawa's celebration of Coronation Day.

MARYS' GIFT TO GO TO CHARITY

London, June 10.—A cheque for £12,500, subscribed in small sums by her namesakes of the empire as a coronation gift, was presented to the Queen yesterday at Buckingham Palace. The Queen wished to devote the amount to charities. The collecting committee was insistent that the gift was a personal one, and the Queen therefore consented that a part of it should be devoted to the purchase of a dimaond insignia of the Garter, and for portraits of King George and the Prince of Wales.

In her letter of acceptance of the gift the Queen says:

"I look forward with special satisfaction to devoting the remainder of the noble gift to a charitable object in which I am greatly interested."

The Queen has not divulged the name of the charity. Subscriptions are still coming in. The greater part of the amount was subscribed in England. The overseas contributions were headed by Canada, whose Marys sent £700.

A QUESTION OF PRICE

(London Free Press.)

Mr. John Rowland, of Walkerton, has offered to contribute $100 to the Bruce general hospital if Mr. Hugh Guthrie will substantiate statements he made at Ingersoll as reported in the Woodstock Sentinel-Review, a Liberal newspaper. This statement was that buchers were purchasing cattle from the farmers at 72 which they cut up and sold for $108, not counting the by-products. The newspaper report included Guelph, but this was evidently too near home for Mr. Guthrie, who replies that he did not speak of Guelph, but referred to Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

The Guelph Herald is not sure whose word it should accept, since Mr. Guthrie and the Woodstock Sentinel-Review do not agree. What will appear to the reader is the fact that Mr. Guthrie has been neatly trapped. He endeavored to convey to the farmers at Ingersoll and throughout the country that they are not receiving fair value in view of the selling prices of their product, and when challenged to prove his assertions he admits he has used special instances, and has accepted the word of others upon which to found an average and general situation.

Mr. Rowland also agrees to contribute $100 to the Bruce hospital if Mr. Guthrie will substantiate his claim that a steer which sells for $72 in Ontario would bring $84 in Buffalo. This offer Mr. Guthrie ignores.

Judge Huycke will preside.

FORTUNE WHEELS UNDER THE BAN

Will Not be Allowed at the Fall Fairs

The wheel of fortune is doomed, so far as the rural fall fair is concerned at any rate. Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, provincial superintendent of agricultural societies, states that there is in the act a clause strictly prohibiting gambling of any kind at fall fairs, act will be rigidly enforced this year. Mr. Wilson caused something of a sensation last fall when he swooped down upon the Ottawa exhibition and gathered into the police court some two score fortune-wheel artists.

OBITUARY

The Late James Renwick

James Renwick, 76 years of age, and one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected residents passed to his reward this morning about eight o'clock at his late residence, 589 Harvey street after one week's illness. Death was the result of a general breakdown and was not entirely unexpected.

Born in 1832 in Scotland, the late Mr. Renwick came to Canada in 1853, settling in Otonabee, where he carried on the agricultural business for some years.

He then came to Peterborough and has lived here since with the exception of eight years spent in Manitoba, living a retired life. In 1869 he was wedded to Miss Mary Henderson, who survives him.

He leaves to mourn his loss four sisters and one brother, namely, Mrs. Robert Miller, of Keene; Mrs John Smith, of Harvey; Mrs Joseph Gillespie, of Harvey; Mrs. Andrew Rabinson, of Otonabee; John Renwick, of Keene, and William, of Fresno, Cal.

The family besides his sorrowing wife, consist of two sons and five daughters, who are George, of Westwood; William, of Westcado, and David, of Wakopa, Mrs. James Moon, of Buffalo, Mrs. John Copeland, of York; Livingston county: Mrs. F. Hawker, of Buffalo; Mrs. William Stinson, of the city, and Janet, of Peterborough. In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a Liberal.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

RECIPROCITY BILL IS HAVING STORMY PASSAGE AT CAPITOL

Senate Will Take up the Bill To-morrow—It is Believed Root Amendment Will be Killed, and Pact Will Pass.

New York, June 12.—The Washington correspondent of The Herald writes:

"Canadian reciprocity will come to the Senate from the committee on finance on Tuesday with an escort of reports favorable and unfavorable, the number of which seldom has been equalled. No less than four are promised from as many members of the committee, and they are springing up over night. Plentiful as they are, they do not represent all shades of political opinion on the bill in the Senate. These will be disclosed in the debate to begin next week.

"Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, will make the majority report on the bill, which will simply hand it back to the Senate without recommendation. This is not considered a satisfactory result of four weeks' hearings. From Senator La Follette will come a report which will attempt to balance the question nicely in the middle and give th worried "insurgents" something to stand on. They have been fluttering in the air, so far as reciprocity is concerned, for several weeks.

"It now develops that Senator McCumber of North Dakota, who voted against the Root amendment, with the remark that he "would not vote for anything which would appear to make the bill better," will also have views to file. This report will purport to represent the view of the farmers of the Dakotas and the northwest. It will be, it is said, a particularly sad paper.

"Something for the Senate Democrats to think about as a party policy on reciprocity and the "farmers' free list" bill, with a few notes on the wool tariff, will be prepared by Senator Williams of Mississippi, who probably will have company, as Senator Stone of Missouri plans to sign this report if it meets his views. Senator Williams' report will be for reciprocity, but also will suggest a policy toward the other tariff measures.

"When Senator Penrose makes the reciprocity bill the unfinished business in the Senate it will have right of way. There was much talk of adjournment about the White House, Senator Smoot of Utah suggesting the date as possibly late in July."

Expects to Pass Bill.

Washington, June 12.—"It is my personal opinion that we will have a vote on the reciprocity bill July 16 or 17," said Senator Smoot of Utah, after a talk with President Taft at the White House Saturday. "The bill will pass and Congress will adjourn with all business out of the way, I believe, about July 27."

Senator Smoot said that the Root amendment to the reciprocity bill would not invalidate the agreement. He declared, on the other hand, that the amendment would perfect the pact, and that with the amendment attached the bill before Congress was in every detail like the bill before the Canadian Parliament.

Special to the Review.

New York, June 12—According to the New York World, which has made a poll of the United States Senate the Root amendment added to the Canadian reciprocity bill, will be killed and that the measure will pass the Senate in the shape, which it was first received from the House.

LINDSAY HAS RETURNED TO FACE FARMERS' BANK CHARGES

Stock Agent Gives Himself up—Trial for Conspiracy Will go on—Charge of Fraud.

Toronto, June 12.—The much heralded return of William J. Lindsay, who acted as stock selling agent for the defunct Farmers' Bank, has at last come to pass. Saturday morning, while police court was still in progress, he walked into Inspector of Detectives Duncan's office and gave himself up to face the charges which have been laid against him in connection with the bank.

He is charged with conspiring with the provisional directors, J. R. Stratton, M.P., C. H. Smith and Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, to secure the certificate of the Treasury Board of Canada enabling the bank to commence business. On Saturday no one seemed to know exactly his position in this matter. No available record showed whether he had been indicted with the others by the grand jury of the assizes in May. The cases of the others are traversed to the next sittings of that court.

Mr. Corley, however, made an order for bail in the sum of $4,000 and Lindsay's own bond in that amount. Bondsmen were secured late in the afternoon.

He appears in the Police Court today, when it is understood that the Attorney-General's Department will be present to speak to the laying of information for alleged securing of stock subscriptions from Halton County farmers by fraud and securing commissions from the bank for such subscriptions, which were later repudiated.

Lindsay's fingerprints, photograph and Bertillion measurements were taken on Saturday.

Killed by C.P.R. Express.

North Bay, Ont., June 12.—Robert Stevens was cut in two by a C.P.R. express at Chapleau Friday night. Stevens was 38 years old, came from Quebec, and had been working in the bush near Chapleau. He came out on Friday to go home, and in crossing the track was struck by a train and instantly killed.

Killed by Trolley.

Berlin, June 12.—Emil Bernhardt, aged 17, a Berlin boy, was killed on the Preston and Galt line Saturday night in attempting to drive across the tracks in front of a fast moving car, and his parents had no word of the fatality until notified by Chief O'Neil, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Leighton Huehnargard, aged 22, was found dead in his room at the American House on Saturday morning, having been accidentally asphyxiated. The parents live on Foundry street, and the mother is critically ill. This is the second son they have lost by accidental death, a younger boy having been drowned in the river at Bridgeport.

LIVERPOOL GIVES HEARTY WELCOME

Canadian Troops Received With Open Arms.

London, June 12.—(C.A.P. Cable)—Col. H. H. McLean, M.P., commanding officer of the Canadian coronation contingent, says the reception accorded the troops at Liverpool was the most magnificent he has ever seen. They were received in London by Cheyle S. Moore, Gen. MacCready, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Col. Sam Hughes and Dr. Donald Armour. The Canadian naval contingent arrived on Saturday.

The Liverpool Post say Liverpool's welcome to the Canadian troops gives a popular expression to the cordiality of the feeling that pervades all classes in the kingdom when the representatives of the dominions beyond the seas are to the front. Whatever the conference may or may not effect, there is a wholesome popular sentiment of friendliness and brotherhood for them to rely upon. Canada is unquestionably within its constitutional right in negotiating a reciprocity agreement without regard to the interests of the other parts of the Empire. No great harm can be done to either of the other dominions, but it would be in more accordance with the spirit of imperial union if recognition had been given by Canada to the relations with the other parts of the Empire by taking their interests into account.

DR. McLAREN NEEDS A REST

Has Resigned as Home Mission Secretary.

Ministers Should Study Home Social Problems.

Ottawa, June 12.—The importance of the church taking a very live interest in social and industrial matters was emphasized at the Saturday meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly. After a comprehensive review of conditions all over Canada, the board of evangelism, temperance, social and moral reform made the following recommendations:

"That the general assembly hereby urge the ministers of the church to inform themselves carefully regarding the conditions of human life in their own neighborhoods, particularly as these are effected by the conditions of industry; to acquaint their congregations with these facts; to instruct their congregations in the teachings of the gospel regarding the social service; to co-operate in every effort for the attainments of the ends for which the church has declared itself.

"That the general assembly hereby request all who have charge of schools and colleges to make ample provision for instructions regarding the Christian ideal of society; and further, that it direct the governing bodies and faculties of the theological colleges to provide that the students in their care be taught the social principles of the gospel and trained in methods of applying these principles to the needs of the localities in which they shall be called to minister.

"That the general assembly hereby urge all the members of churches to give serious study of social problems and to avail themselves of their opportunities for social service; to bring the sense of justice and righteousness, which is fundamental in Christianity, to bear upon matters of every day life, in business, in society, or wherever their influence may extend, and to create a Christian public sentiment demanding the removal of wrong wherever found."

The next order of business was the reception of the report of the Home Mission Committee, and when Rev. Dr. E. D. McLaren, the Convener and secretary of the committee, rose to present the report he had a startling announcement to make. Showing signs of nervous strain, Dr. McLaren drove all thoughts of other business from the Assembly by tendering his resignation of the dual position of Convener and secretary of the Home Mission committee. For nine years he had acted as secretary, and during that time he had had, as he said, "very little home life, no intellectual relaxation, and no social enjoyment."

It was decided to accept with great regret Dr. McLaren's resignation, to place on record the Assembly's appreciation of his faithful services, to pay him his salary up to March 31, 1912, and to appoint a committee to canvass the new situation created by the resignation of the Convener, devise a course of action and report to the present Assembly.

ELECTRICAL STORMS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE IN THE COUNTRY

Attempted Murder.

Prince Rupert, B.C., June 12.—H. Wood, a prominent contractor here, attempted to kill Alexander Matheson at the Seal Cove fish freezing plant on Saturday, two miles from this city. Wood fired four bullets at Matheson, all of which missed him. In attempting to escape the bullets Matheson fell over, and it was thought that he was killed. Wood then tried to commit suicide by firing a bullet into his own temple. The trouble is believed to have been over family matters. Wood will recover. He is under arrest, charged with attempted murder and suicide.

TRAVERS BACK IN KINGSTON PEN

Farmers' Bank Man Once More Behind Prison Walls.

Kingston, June 12.—Shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon W. R. Travers entered the big penitentiary at Portsmouth, and was registered on the rolls. He arrived at the station shortly after 1 o'clock, and Deputy Sheriff Severs, who had him in charge, took a cab and drove him to the Randolph Hotel for dinner. After dinner he was driven to prison.

Travers will have the same number he was given when he was in the penitentiary a short time ago, F 173. It is not known, but it is believed, he will be given a position as clerk in the offices.

It was not known on the street that Travers was coming and thus there was no rush to get a glimpse of him. He was dressed in a grey suit and appeared to be in good health. His arrival was so quiet that the cabman did not even know who his fare was until told. At the hotel it got whispered round who the stranger was, and while Travers was in the dining room, many eyes were turned on him.

Chinese Boy Hangs Himself.

Toronto, June 12.—Disconsolate because he was told by his uncle to wait a week for some money to buy clothes, John Dai Tak, a 13-year-old Chinese lad, hanged himself in his bedroom over his uncle's laundry, at 657 West Queen street.

When his uncle went upstairs at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, he found the boy hanging by a rope taken from a tea chest, which he had passed through a stovepipe hole over the doorway. The uncle cut the dead body down and went to the east end of the city and notified a relation of the deceased's. When they arrived at their home they tried to revive the boy, and, seeing their efforts were of no avail, they summoned Dr. Killoran, who, on seeing the body, pronounced life extinct.

The body was taken to the morgue. The chief coroner is investigating, but it is unlikely that an inquest will be held. The father lives in Vancouver.

TWO PAID THE PRICE

Murderers Went to Electric Chair This Morning.

Special to The Review.

Ossining, N.Y., June 12—Frederick Gebhardt, who murdered his wife and Thomas Barnes, who killed John Leonard in Brooklyn, were electrocuted in Sing Sing this morning. Both men met death calmly.

Owen Sound Man Killed, and Two Are Injured—Fatality at Woodstock.

Owen Sound, June 12.—John Murphy was killed and Robert Hutton and Arthur Vurman were seriously injured in a lightning storm with peculiar features, which occurred here late yesterday afternoon.

Murphy was standing on the street close to the railway tracks and the other two men were about 60 feet away from him when the bolt descended. After killing Murphy, the electrical fluid shot along the rails to where the other two men were standing. Both were stunned and thrown to the ground. All three are well-known residents of the town. Murphy was a married man and leaves a family.

Owen Sound was the centre of a curious phenomenon. Two cyclones, one traveling from the east and one from the west, appearing to meet. A heavy rain for a few minutes turned to hail, which beating down with great violence, wrecked thousands of windows in town, and lifted roofs on a number of barns in the vicinity. In the county jail 150 windows were broken and in the chair factory no fewer than 600. Crops in the neighborhood were badly damaged.

Boy and Team Killed.

Woodstock, June 12.—In a terrific electric storm which passed over here Friday night, Maxwell Redmond of Blandford, was struck and killed, together with two horses he was driving. The boy, fourteen years old, had just gone to the field driving three horses drawing a manure spreader when the storm broke and people noticed the horses stop.

On going to investigate, the boy's father, Robert Redmond, found the lad and two of the horses dead, and the other horse badly burned.

Thomas Bell, a farmer of Eastwood, was also struck and severely injured while working in the field. He was unconscious for some hours, but is now recovering.

Damage In London.

London, Ont., June 12.—Lightning struck in several places during a storm which centered over this city aboue six o'clock yesterday morning, but no person was injured. The clock on the customs house was shattered and the roof of Bishop Cronyn Memorial Church damaged.

Storm Havoc at New York.

New York, June 12.—An electrical storm of unusual intensity sweeped down upon this section of the country Saturday night and for hours played havoc with wire communication in all directions.

For a time during the height of the storm one of the big telegraph companies had no wires working either west or east.

A survey of the battlefield over which the elements raged from ten o'clock Saturday night until four o'clock yesterday morning showed that it was more than a mimic war game. The havoc of lightning and wind and fire and water was widespread in and around New York, including the loss of at least three lives and damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Losses aggregating more than $100,000 were caused by fires set by lightning. It is estimated that $50,000 damage was done in a five block enclosure in Flushing, L.I., where twenty-five thousand men and women were witnessing a society circus. Twelve large tents were blown down and in the stampede which followed, six women were trampled upon and taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries.

TORONTO BOY DROWNS WHILE TRYING TO SAVE COMPANIONS

Arthur Hewitt Finds Watery Grave When Dinghy Upsets.

Toronto, June 12.—Attempting to swim to shore when the sailboat in which he and his companions were sailing capsized, Arthur Hewitt, 18-year-old son of Arthur Hewitt, general manager of the Consumers' Gas Co., met death by drowning yesterday afternoon just a few hundred yards off his father's cottage at Lorne Park. Young Hewitt was the eldest of the party of three lads, including his nine-year-old brother Gordon, and Edward, son of Charles Booth of the T. Eaton Co., both of whom clung to the boat until rescued.

The three had been out some time, and although Hewitt was a good sailor, the squall came with such suddenness that he had not time to right the boat Once over, however, he seemed to retain confidence, and placing the younger members of the party in safe positions, he started to swim for the shore. He had not gone far when he was seen by onlookers to turn back, and then suddenly disappear. Boats soon rescued the other two, but the body of the daring swimmer was out of sight. Mait Aykroyd was notified and is now assisting in the dragging.

Dead Number 350.

Mexico City, June 12.—Because of the lack of telegraph facilities and slowness with which the officials of villages in outlying districts make reports to the Government, it is not improbable that months may pass before an accurate statement of the number of earthquake victims is known.

The list of known dead so far totals a few more than 150. It is possible this number may be augmented somewhat, but neither Government officers nor local newspapers believe it will exceed 350, notwithstanding some rumors placed the number at more than 1,000.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

SUNDAY ICE CREAM

Yesterday, the people of Peterboro could not buy ice-cream in the restaurants without making it a part of a meal. This is in accord with the Lord's Day act, but isn't it a silly state of affairs?

Ice cream, once upon a time may have been a luxury. To the public now, it is a necessity, an article of food, in the hot weather. If milk is a food, and may be peddled from house to house on Sunday, what is the difference between it and ice-cream, which is milk or cream frozen, sweetened and flavored?

Is it any more of a crime to eat ice cream on the Sabbath, than it is to eat a piece of pie? Pie isn't a necessity. It is a luxury to many people as much as ice-cream, yet the law legalises the sale of one and forbids the other. It is a crime to sell ice-cream separately for consumption, even on the premises, but to sell it along with another luxury, pie, is quite in order.

This ice cream business has been fought out in the courts of Ontario until there is nothing more to say on the subject. Justice Middleton seems to have interpreted the law as it exists, which, of course is the limit of his duty. But for a body of religious cranks to secure the prohibition of the sale of ice-cream in restaurants without resort to the subterfuge of making it a part of a straight meal, is class domination that the people object to, though the public seldom gets roused until its corns are severely handled.

IMPERIAL RELATIONS

An editorial in the Toronto Star uses the argument that "Sir Wilfrid Laurier has no authority from Parliament or the people of Canada to assent to any of the radical proposals that have been made in the past few days," referring to the conference negotiations. This defence is rather peculiar at a time when the government organs are busy explaining that the government did not need authority or a mandate from either parliament or the people to put through the reciprocity pact, which is vastly more important to the Canadian people than the question which have presented themselves at the conference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has as much authority and right to assent if he wishes, to the proposals made at the conference tending towards closer relations between the home government and the colonies, as he has to use his best effort to make a trade agreement that will tend ultimately to loosen imperial unity and cohesion. The Star's argument is a weak one, and if the dyed-in-the-wool Laurier organs cannot advance a better defence of the strange course pursued by the premier, they should be honest enough to admit like the Manitoba Free Press and the Montreal Witness, that his course is inexplicable.

The course taken by Sir Wilfrid in acting as a wet blanket on every effort to improve imperial relations bears a most significant relation to the utterances of Le Canada, his Quebec organ. Le Canada said before Sir Wilfrid went to the conference that the Premier was going to fight the schemes for a closer imperial spirit; he was going to protect Canada's autonomy against the aggression of imperial jingoes. It was taken for granted at the time that Le Canada's attitude was not inspired, except that it saw and was taking advantage of a chance to assist the Laurier cause in Quebec. But it seems that Le Canada had an intimate knowledge of the Premier's intentions, and was authoritatively and officially bulletining to the French voters that Laurier was going to out—Bourassa Bourassa.

Sir Wilfrid has fought every effort to have the imperial conference made other than it is at present—a purely consultative body. He has endeavored to block every effort at forming a body composed of home and colonial representatives, to deal with imperial questions, and has refused even to agree to being consulted by the home authorities on questions of imperial policy. He has gone farther, and demanded that Canada shall have the right to withdraw if she pleases from participation in any imperial treaty; in other words, that Canada's tie to the mother country shall be merely that of consanguinity and good-will and a dependence on the protection of the imperial fleet.

This attitude may suit the French of Quebec; but it won't satisfy the British Liberals, or the Conservatives. One would have thought that in order to offset the anti-imperial aspect of the reciprocity pact, declared by Taft, to be the means of preventing a closer imperial tie, Sir Wilfrid, would have played to the British gallery. But British Canadians certainly have little to hope for from him in the way of a broad and sane imperialism such as Sir John Macdonald possessed.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mrs. Carrie Nation has passed to the great beyond. At last the militant enemy of the bar-room has buried the hatchet.

The authorities at Hamilton say the slum evil is coming. That would assist golfing and automobiling in providing an outlet for the superfluous energy of the ladies of Hamilton society.

The reports from the Niagara district indicate a very large fruit yield this year, the peaches having to be thinned out to improve the quality. But this is early in the season. It is likely we will have several failures of the yield before fruit-time gets here.

The Bavarian people are continuing their loud protests against too much froth on their beer. The commandant of the military police at one place send a squad of his men to hale before him the lovely barmaid, and he held her there while expounding on the sin of serving too much troth. Now the commandant has been imprisoned for three months for infringing her liberty. Who wants to live in Germany, anyway?

In London, Ont., the jury trying a man for stabbing another, returned a verdict of "not guilty" because of the unwritten law that no man can break up another's home without being liable for the consequences. The breaker in this case was badly cut by a butcher knife in the hands of the aggrieved husband. The wiser plan is to let an unfaithful wife go to her paramour, that both shall be punished, but it isn't every man who can control himself sufficiently to let matters take their course.

MARRIED 66 YEARS

The Interesting Career of a Scotch Couple in Canada

Hundreds of examples can be found in Canada to-day where Scotch pluck, perseverance and determination have been rewarded with success, but the following interesting account of the life of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McIntosh, of Carrick, Ontario, is well worthy of note. Mr. McIntosh was born in the parish of Tongue, Scotland, in 1822, and Mrs. McIntosh, whose maiden name was Barbara Gunn, was born in Camster, Caithness-shire, Scotland, in 1824. Married in January, 1844, they came to Canada in 1845, and resided in Toronto for three years, when they removed to West Gwillimbury, where they remained for seven years. In 1855 they removed to the township of Carrick, county of Bruce, to lot 50, concession C., two miles and a half north of Clifford. This farm they cleared, and have lived there ever since, and to-day the comfortable up-to-date buildings which have been erected, is ample proof of the success of their labors.

Their family consisted of eleven children, seven sons and four daughters, six of whom are alive. Robert, the eldest, lives in the township of Holland, Grey County, Ontario; William is in Bottineau, North Dakota; Gordon is on the homestead; George is on an adjacent farm; Isabella and Jennie live at home.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh have been members of the Presbyterian Church of Clifford since its organization, shortly after coming to Carrick, and Mr. McIntosh has been one of the trustees ever since its formation.

DEMONSTRATION FARMS

Alberta is Taking a Forward Step in Agriculture

What promises to be the first series of demonstration farms along practical lines in Canada are being established in Alberta. The Minister of Agriculture has grasped the idea of local education of a practical nature so forcefully that even those who do not care will see that it will pay to change methods or adopt new systems. With six demonstration farms scattered over the Province, a fairly good equipment for agricultural educational work should be provided. The main point now is to secure a competent superintendent and capable form foreman. The Alberta Government evidently aims at permanent centres of education for the various agricultural districts. A hall is wanted for Institute meetings, and live stock for special demonstration lectures. For this purpose the purchase of the farms is essential. The difficulty here will be that it will not be easy to keep accounts separate, and show debits and credits that will be approved by practical farmers. When a man sees a neighboring farm being run in such a way as to bring in bigger annual profits than his own, he is likely to adopt some change in his methods; otherwise he is liable to pay little attention.—Farmer's Advocate.

MARITIME POWER

A Company Successfully Operates in New Brunswick and Maine

The Maine and New Brunswick Electric Power Company, Limited, whose plant is at Aroostook Falls, is at present supplying power in Perth, Andover and Aroostook Junction, now a C.P.R. divisional point, on the New Brunswick side, and will probably extend to other centres. In Maine it is supplying Fort Fairfield, Houlton, Presque Isle, Washburn, and a transmission line is now under way connecting with Limestone, Van Buren and St. Leonards. Power from Presque Isle to Washburn. The development at Aroostook is designed to utilize a head of 77 feet, and the present installation consists of 500 kilowatt units. In the early construction the canal, headgates, power station, raceways and other permanent work were designed to allow of an additional unit of 1,500 kilowatts. This is now being installed. The company commenced operating in 1908, and for the year 1910 showed nearly 8½ per cent. on the common stock, after paying all operating and fixed interest charges. The great bulk of the power now sold is supplied wholesale under long term contracts, Presque Isle being the only town served for retail distribution.

Angus Shaw, a Crimean veteran, died in Brockville of blood poisoning.

Commissioner C. C. Chipman, of the Hudson Bay Co., will retire June 1 with a $25,000 pension.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"If you will permit me," said Kirby, facing the company and raising his voice, "I will receive Judge Pleydell's friends on the porch yonder. No, Bunce," he added sharply as the other approached, "I don't want you. It's a lone hand, partner."

"You shan't do it," implored Adele, catching his arm. "Oh, don't you see it would be as if I had betrayed you? Anatole," she broke off sharply, a note of agonized relief in her voice as the young creole appeared in the doorway and gently shouldered his way past the judge—"Anatole, you've told me a hundred times you'd die to do me a service. Now I give you the chance. I want those men driven off my property."

M. Veaudry's face whitened and set as he became the cynosure of all eyes, Kirby's excepted.

"It is a service that I do you, mademoiselle," he said at length, with quiet dignity. "Those are my men out there. I told them to surround the house, and this gentleman knows what for," bowing gravely to Kirby.

"No, he doesn't, but I do!" cried Adele, laughing hysterically. "So this is how you win a woman, Anatole? You will answer to my brother for an attack on a guest of this house," she finished, her anger once more mastering all other emotions.

"Mademoiselle, it is by your brother's orders that I act—and I think it is that he is himself here now," replied M. Veaudry.

Even while Adele laughed scornfully a confused babel of cries was heard from the garden, supplemented by hoarse oaths and the sound of running feet. Another moment and Tom Randall had burst into the room. Covered with dust and sweat, white, haggard, half insane with excitement, a prey to the most consuming passion, he was the epitome of violence, balked revenge and undying hatred as, throwing off Adele's restraining arm, he launched himself straight at Kirby.

Aaron Randall, grave and collected, next entered and methodically placed upon an adjacent chair the green portmanteau belonging to the late lamented Colonel Moreau.

Kirby quietly awaited young Randall's onslaught and, as the maddened boy threw himself upon him, pinioned his arms and, despite all opposition, forced him backward into a chair.

"Let me go! Get out of the way, you people!" screamed Tom, like an infuriated child, as Adele and Aaron laid restraining hands upon him.

"We've run you to earth, Mr. Wolf," he added, glaring at Kirby, while he strove to release himself, almost sobbing with impotent fury.

"Wolf, am I?" echoed Kirby, stepping back. "Then I'll show you some fangs."

"Tom! Tom!" implored Adele. "What's the matter? Why do you act this way? You don't know what you're doing."

"Don't I?" he snarled, writhing from her grasp and again confronting Kirby. "It's you who are the fool. There's the man we want for the murder of Colonel Moreau!"

She started back aghast, staring from her brother to Kirby and back again in helpless, doubting astonish-

"WE'VE RUN YOU TO EARTH, MR. WOLF."

ment, while Judge Pleydell coughed dryly and his daughter sheltered herself behind the ample bulwarks of Mme. Davezac, who, now that the source of her fears had been identified, had regained her serene composure and was staring curiously at Kirby.

"It was Colonel Moreau he killed?" whispered Adele in a strangely quiet and emotionless voice.

"Shot down like a dog. Moreau was unarmed," growled young Randall, with brutal brevity.

"Indeed!" murmured Kirby, evincing sudden interest. "How do you know?"

"Because no weapon was found with the body."

"Who told you that?"

"Nobody."

"Then how do you know?"

"I found Moreau's body, and I am the chief witness against you," snapped the boy, spitting out the words with distilled venom.

Aaron Randall's expression changed, and with sudden agitation he grasped M. Veaudry's arm. To both men some idea of the boy's despicable action had occurred.

Kirby waited coolly, surveying his accuser, while he carefully chose his next words. "So you are the man I had to find," he said measuredly, with a sardonic, contemptuous smile. "Did you throw that pistol away, or did you keep it?"

"That's your defense, is it?" cried Tom, laughing wildly. "I'll show you how much water that'll hold. You want to accuse me of taking it—accuse me of taking that poor dead man's pistol? You'll find that accusation is going to fasten the rope just a little tighter around your neck. Moreau left his pistol in that portmanteau this morning while at my aunt's house, and if I speak the truth it's there yet."

He pointed dramatically to the green leather article his cousin still guarded, and, Aaron making no move to open it, but remaining preoccupied and silent, Judge Pleydell stepped briskly forward and performed the service, holding significantly aloft the Derringer which had almost ended Kirby's life.

"Ha! That looks as if I took it, doesn't it?" cried Tom, turning in savage triumph upon his fancied enemy. "The only pistol I carried in my life was my father's. There it is," producing from his pocket the silver mounted single shot weapon. "You ought to know that pistol," he finished menacingly. "If you don't, these people here know it."

"You seem to have made your case,' admitted Kirby, with cool brevity and indifference. "I believe I'd prefer to go out."

He glanced at Adele, but she had turned away with bowed head, looking utterly crushed. After a moment's hesitation he turned to go, when M. Veaudry sprang forward and barred his way.

"Keep out of this, Anatole!" warned young Randall. "You've done your share."

"Yes, I have done my share, but I have not forgotten my honor," replied the young creole, pale with but ill repressed excitement. "I would kill him, but not by lies. It was a fair meeting. Colonel Moreau was armed this morning. He carried that very pistol you show us here," pointing to the weapon that Judge Pleydell still held. "The proof is there," he finished simply. "Your cousin, he told me."

"You fool!" cried young Randall, completely outraged at this unexpected action, which he considered base treachery. "What do you mean? Aaron," he added violently, turning to his cousin, "tell him that's a lie."

The delegates in attendance at the convention of the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Durham on Saturday tendered J. H. Devitt, M.P.P., the unanimous nomination for the coming provincial election.

The second turbine battleship of the Germany navy, the Frederick the Great, was launched here on Saturday, being christened by Princess Auguste Wilhelm. The dedicatory address was delivered by Gen. von der Goltz.

Quebec was the scene of another destructive fire yesterday morning when the extensive premises of the Imperial Laundry in St. Valier street were badly wrecked. Three horses were suffocated, and four others had to be destroyed.

Syren Scared Horse.

Montreal, June 12.—The blowing of a syren on a motor car on Saturday resulted in the death of Mrs. Isabel G. Crawford, who was thrown violently from the carriage in which she was driving when her horse bolted at the sudden sound.

Mrs. John Miller, who was also in the carriage, suffered severe bruises while the coachman, John Pitts, who was driving, was also bruised.

The accident took place on the Cote St. Antoine road. A sudden blast form a motor syren caused the horse to dash down the hill, the coachman losing control.

The horse dashed between the sidewalk and a stone-laden wagon. The carriage crashed into the wagon and the occupants were thrown. Residents carried them into a house nearby, but Mrs. Crawford died before the arrival of an ambulance. Death resulted from shock, according to the doctors. Mrs. Miller will recover.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, June 10.—Wheat opened dull but steady, and prices ½d higher. Immediately following the opening it further advanced ⅛d, with light offerings. Support was stipulated by firmness in American cables and lighter American shipments. Following opening, pressure developed. Decline, however, was checked by strength in corn and expectations of lighter world's shipments, which caused some week-end covering, and at close market was unchanged to ⅛d higher.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Wheat prices came down with a crash to-day especially for the July delivery. There were signs that the big holdings acquired in the May deal had been largely hedged for July and September, and that a leading source of support therefore available no longer. Feeling at the close was demoralized, with last sales 1¾ to 3⅜ under last night. Corn finished ¾ to ⅞ down, oats off ½ to ⅝, and provisions at a decline of 15 to 40.

British Cattle Markets.

LIVERPOOL, June 10.—John Rogers & Co., Liverpool, cable to-day that the Birkenhead market showed a slight reduction in price. The demand was slow, but the tone of the market was strong for both States and Canadian cattle at from 12c to 12½c per pound. Sheep were lower, and may be quoted for wethers 11c. and lambs 13c per lb.

Big Fruit Year.

St. Catharines, June 12.—It was the tenth of June last year when the first home-grown strawberries made their appearance on the market. This year they are earlier by ten days and to-day the St. Catharines Cold Storage & Forwarding Co. will make the first carload shipment of the year to Winnipeg and the west.

The fruit season this year will be longer than any for several years past because it has begun so early. Cherries will be on the market during the week and from now on there will be little let-up for the growers.

Robert Thompson, who enjoys the distinction of being the best informed man in the district, is authority for the statement that the crop his year is the largest the Niagara District has had in a decade. Everything, he says, is very plentiful; peaches are too plentiful and will have to be thinned out to make the crop what it should be; otherwise the fruit will be small and the growers will get less benefit. The only shortage that is so far apparent is in the Marlborough raspberries, which will be much lighter than usual, though the shortage is not general to all localities.

An Unnatural Mother.

Montreal, June 12.—A threat made in court to kill her own son just as she stepped off the witness stand, caused Mrs. James Brennan to assume the role of accused forthwith. The father had been before Recorder Weir for beating the lad in the street the previous night, and the mother had been called to give evidence. When she heard the sentence of $50 or two months, she burst out:

"Two months; what do you think of that? I will kill that brat."

Constable Pelletier immediately arraigned the woman, who was required to give two bondsmen in $500 each to keep the peace for year. As she was unable to do this, three months was the alternative, and the parents both went to jail later in the day.

Contracts For Jail.

Guelph, June 12.—Contracts for the new jail and a residence for the jailer were awarded yesterday to G. A. Scroggie by the County Council, for $27,277.

This was the lowest tender, and the original estimate was twenty thousand for everything. The contract does not include architect's fees and extras. It is expected the cost will reach $40,000.

German and Reciprocity.

Ottawa, June 10.—William M. German, Liberal M.P. for Welland, is still opposed to reciprocity. He is here and says so, but he intends to run again as a Liberal in Welland.

The farmers, he says, are divided on the reciprocity question, but all the towns are against it.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

WOULD WALK TO PETERBORO

John Cummings Aged 80 Years Was Plucky

John Cummings appeared in the police court this morning on a charge of vagrancy and pleaded guilty. John has reached the good old age of 80 years, and he came here yesterday from Cobourg. He was desirous of reaching Peterborough, where he intended to enter the House of Providence. When asked how he would reach Peterborough the old man replied that he thought he could walk there in two days. The magistrate allowed him to go but first furnished him with a ticket to Peterborough.—Port Hope Guide.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Mr. F. D. Kerr, went to Cobourg Saturday.

Rev. Father Casey of Campbellford was in the city to-day.

Mr. Ray Snider, of Toronto, visited his parents over Sunday.

Judge Huycke and Mrs. Huycke went to Cobourg, Saturday.

Mr. W. T. Hamilton, Rubidge Street is now making a satisfactory recovery from an attack of blood poisoning.

The condition of Miss Maud Adams, who has been suffering from an attack of peritonitis, shows a slight improvement.

Mrs. Edmund Layfield, 580 Charlotte street, left on the midnight for one months' visit to Sherbrooke and St. Johnsburgh.

Mr. Arthur Rosborough, of Toronto University, who has been spending a couple of weeks at his home just outside the city, left this morning for Lindsay to spend a month.

The Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton have issued invitations to the marriage of their niece, Alberta Louise Gooding, to Mr. L. T. Harris Ardiel, on Wednesday, the 14th of June, at 2 o'clock, at their residence, "Strathormond," Peterborough.

Rev. Father Phelan, of Lakefield, left for Windsor this morning as a delegate to the convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters, which opens at Windsor to-morrow. He is attending the funeral of the late Dr. Teefy in Toronto to-day.

WEDDING BELLS

SEARIGHT—LITTLE

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Miss Lillian M. Little and Mr. Edwin J. Searight were joined in holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. James Rollins.

The young couple left via the 4.28 C.P.R. train for New York city. They will reside at 308 Boswell Avenue, on their return and will be at home after July 1st.

WOODMEN AT ST. ANDREW'S

Scholarly Sermon on Principles of Brotherhood by Rev. Jas. Rollins

"To love the brethren" was the scriptural passage upon which Rev. James Rollins, of St. Andrew's Church, based his sermon last evening in addressing the members of Sherwood Forest Camp, Woodmen of the World, who attended divine service in a body in that church. About seventy five members were in the parade which was marshalled by Master of Ceremonies, E. Dummet.

The pastor's sermon was intensely thoughtful and scholarly and he endeavored to show that "Love" was the unit which held mankind unit d.

"Love" he said, "has given a new meaning to Christianity." It was the utterance of the words "to love" that shattered Paganism. Wherever Christ's love was, there was a rejuvenation of society.

ENEMIES OF LOVE

"There are many forces at work in the world hostile to love. Materialism is a practice, and a force that has still its strong grip upon us. It is one of the factors for making our commercial and industrial life the warfare that it is.

LOVE THE BROTHERHOOD

"The life of a country is really measured by the love that is in the hearts of the people of that country. We have passed from death unto life because of the love we bear to the brotherhood. The term brotherhood has a wide significance. It does not mean we are to love one particular class of people or one religious creed. Neither are we to be selfish in our love. Family love for instance is important, but even that does not do all it is claimed to do. Love that limits itself to one's family is selfish.

LIMITED LOVE

"Limited love was clearly exemplified in the days of feudalism. The principles of feudalism were intense love among clans, but notwithstanding constant warfare was maintained. The King could not keep the feudal lords from each others throats. Much of the spirit of feudalism still survives in self centered families, and in the feelings of separate sets of people in a community."

In closing, the pastor said he hailed every organization that was recognizing the fraternity of love. It was the one saving force. Every nation should be a great fraternal society. He wished the society every prosperity and blessing in its works.

Just prior to the sermon, a beautiful duet was given by Miss Olive Howell and Mrs. Dormer, in a most feeling and effective manner. The voices, soprano and alto, blended with delightful harmony.

LAWN SOCIAL

Come to the lawn social to be held at St. Andrew's manse grounds, Tuesday evening, 15th. Tea will be served for 13c to those who wish it. Sale of home made candy and cooking. Good music. Come and bring your friends. Silver collection.

INJURY TO HEAD

Sergeant Coulter's Horse Frightened at an Automobile

Sergeant J. Coulter of Lindsay, while on his way to the city Saturday to join the 24th Battery, C.F.A. met with a painful accident. He had two horses, one of which he was leading. On nearing the city, he met an automobile and the animals frightened. The vehicle in which he was riding, upset and Sergt. Coulter was out at the back of his head. On reaching the city, the wound was dressed by Major Young.

BATTERY OFF TO PETAWAWA

24th C.F.A. is Strong for This Year's Camp

At 9.10 last night, the 24th Field Battery, C.F.A. started on their journey, via C.P.R. to Petawawa, for their annual drill. The train was made up of sixteen cars carrying about eighty-five men, sixty horses, guns, wagons, etc. The Battery is in a more flourishing condition than it has been for a number of years.

Hundreds of citizens lined Central Park, yesterday afternoon, in the expectation of seeing the parade and entraining which was to have taken place, about 5 o'clock, but, owing the delay in securing horses and fitting the new harness, etc., the start was not made till the evening.

45TH REGIMENT

Has Gone to Barriefield for Two Weeks

About eighteen local members of the 45th Regiment left via the G.T.R. this morning for Lindsay, where they joined the remainder of the regiment and entrained for Barriefield camp, to spend the next two weeks in drilling.

The train passed through the city at noon, and proceeded via Port Hope to its destination.

Some History About Typewriters Modern and Ancient

CHAPTER ONE

TYPEWRITER history is making fast. Real action commenced 14 years ago—with the Underwood.

FOR 20 years the typewriter had been evolving and finding its place in business.

THE Underwood was the first present-day typewriter. It was radical. It violated all old-time ideas about typewriter construction.

IN the face of sneers, jibes, ridicule, and opposition from other makers it gave to the public the first writing-in sight typewriter.

THE public applauded—and bought. Naturally they preferred to be able to see what they wrote as they wrote it.

HERETOFORE typewriters had been built on the simplest plan mechanically, but up-side down with the writing out of sight. It was time for something better.

SHOWER AT JACKSON PARK

Brides-to-be Honored by Choir of Knox Church

The ladies of the Knox church choir held a picnic to Jackson park on Saturday, June 10, in honor of the brides-to-be, Miss Jean Robson, the soloist, and Miss Menzies. After spending a pleasant time together, the party partook of tea. A shower of linen was presented to the two young ladies, Miss Keith making the presentation. Much regret is felt at the loss of these two members, but the good wishes of their associates will follow them. The wedding of Mr. Roy Lang and Miss Menzies takes place on the 15th inst., at Knox Church at 9.30 a.m., and that of Mr. Porter and Miss Robson in the last of June, at Norwood.

POLICE COURT

Drunk and Disorderly Assessed the Usual Fee

"Two dollars with ten days to pay it in," said Magistrate Dumble to a local man this morning who went out Saturday and absorbed an over-supply of hot stuff.

"First time I've been drunk for a long time," he told his Worship rather e'atediy.

"Put by $2 in your vest-pocket when you intend to go out on a spree" was the parting advice.

$2 WORTH.

A south-end resident had trouble with his wife Saturday night or at least she had trouble with him. Chief Thompson received a phone massage telling him that a man was down at a certain place swearing and creating a shindy.

"It was my wife that phoned you, Chief," said the prisoner, "the neighbors have been gossiping and making her jealous."

Two dollars with ten days to pay it in, ended the matter.

HUGH FIFE LOST BARNS AND CONTENTS IN ELECTRIC STORM

Eighteen Pigs Perished—A Local Painter Had a Close Shave.

The barns of Hugh Fife of Jermyn were totally destroyed during the electric storm of Saturday morning, and implements, one driving horse and buggy, eighteen pigs and one calf were lost in the fire.

The loss is partly covered by insurance. Mr. Fife was away at the time only his wife and three small children being at home. One of the daughters had just returned with the horse and had put the animal in the stable. Neighbors gave their assistance and by tearing down the fence, stopped the fire from spreading. What wind there was at the time, was blowing away from the house, which was about three hundred feet from the barns.

Mr. C. A. Lenderville, a painter, whose home is at 576 Homewood ave. was working at a nearby house, and had a very narrow escape from being struck by lightning.

He was painting and the hair in the brush that he was using, was completely burned off by the bolt, which was conducted to the ground, by the rod on the house without damage being done.

SUCH CONDUCT!—W.A.B. CALLED DETECTIVE ABUSIVE NAMES

Spent a Night in the Cells and Had to Part With a Two Spot.

William Bailey, better known as "Bill," slipped into the clutches of the law on Saturday night for being abusive to a police officer.

When charged with the offence before Magistrate Dumble this morning Mr. Bailey said he denied it completely.

It appears that when Detective Newhall in a friendly manner warned him on Saturday night about his dog tax, Mr. Bailey took offence because the officer had a pipe in his mouth.

"He followed me down the street," said the officer when in the witness stand, "calling me abusive names, including 'blackguard,' and a few other uncomplimentary things, and also accused me of being instrumental in causing the drowning of Arthur Henning some years ago. A crowd collected and I was compelled to take him into custody."

Constable Meagher was able to corroborate Detective Newhall's statements. While standing at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, Constable Meagher saw Detective Newhall and Bailey coming toward When they reached him Mr. Bailey said:

"What do you think of this blackguard with the pipe in his mouth arresting me?"

Mr. Bailey appeared anxious to get in the witness box to relieve his feelings and tell exactly what did occur.

"It is not etiquette, your Worship, nor polite for a police officer with a pipe in his mouth to arrest me," he said.

"Mr. Newhall is a very clever man," he added, "but I think he has a grudge against me."

"I had to spend a night in the cells, Your Worship, and they are a blackguard place to put a man into."

"You'll have to pay $2, Mr. Bailey," said the Magistrate, "or spend 10 days in jail.

And Mr. Bailey sadly handed over the money.

RECORD DRIVE

Logs Brought From Jack's Lake in Five Weeks

The first drive of logs to arrive in this city made its appearance last Saturday and the drive which is owned by the Peterborough Lumber Co., Ltd., contains 125,000 pieces.

The logs were taken out from the townships of Methuen and Burleigh, and they were brought the long distance from Jacks Lake to the company's mill at Burnham's Point, in five weeks. This is fast time—in fact a record, so the Review was informed by practical river drivers to-day.

It speaks well for the company's superintendent, John Dwyer, and the foremen under his charge, John Watson Wm. Wm. Dwyer, Ed. Wilson and Albert Milliken, and their performance is all the more creditable, when the fact of the water being two and a half feet lower than usual this year, is taken into consideration.

The lumber will be sawn at the Peterborough Lumber Co's. mill, and will give employment to one hundred and twenty-five men, the mill now being operated at full strength.

Robin Went to St. Andrews' Church

A robin flew into St. Andrew's church last night during service and came near disturbing the proceedings, At intervals it flitted across the church near the ceilings and several times perched on the top of organ above the choir from which place it observed everything, giving vent to expressive little chirps. About the middle of the service it alighted on the hat of a lady in the congregation, where it was caught and given its liberty outside the church.

R. R. HALL FOR EAST PETERBORO

Liberals Said to Have Agreed on Candidate

The Liberals of East Peterborough have practically agreed that R. R. Hall, will be their candidate in East Peterborough, according to the rumors political. Mr. Hall would have little chance against J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., a home man, and it would be conceding the riding to the Conservatives, but evidently the Liberals figure out that Mr. Hall would make as good a showing as the next one. He was a member of the house from 1900 to 1904 when he retired.

Adam Hall Sells the Furnaces

During the last few weeks advertisements have appeared in the Daily Review, of Clare Bros.' furnaces, the well-known "Hecla," with the name of W. J. Higgins as local agent. This was an error. Adam Hall is and has been the local agent for these furnaces for many years. Higgins Bros. handle the Clare Bros.' stoves, a distinct and different line. The error has been rectified and each firm will receive in future proper credit for their respective agencies.

PETES HAD AN EASY WIN AT COBOURG; SCORED FOUR IN FIRST AND ALWAYS LEAD

Pounded Two Twirlers for Fifteen Hits Which With Loose Play Gave Them Eighteen Runs—"Bill" Shaw Had a Homer.

At home or abroad, they all look alike to the Peterborough ball team. It was 31—9, in the first game here, 14—8 at Port Hope, and at Cobourg Saturday, the figures were 18—5, or a total score of 63—9. This is some team of ours.

The game down by the lake's sands, Saturday was the locals all the time. They scored four runs right at the start. It wasn't on account of any tall swatting, but rather because of the loose work of Manager Burge's outfit. It wasn't exactly the same team that played here, but then the changes didn't help very much. That old warhorse, Tommy Bulger, took the first corner, Hand started off at second and went behind the bat in the second act. McKinnon served up the twirling for five innings Harcourt, one of the old boys, worked at right.

McKinnon heaved nicely and effectively enough to have brought about a pretty battle for the four or five hundred fans in attendance, but he got the cold shoulder from his mates in all of the five innings but the third when M. O'Brien, Quinlan and Rahmal were retired in order. Passed balls and wild throwing brought about his downfall, and his exertions found him all in when the last man was out in the fifth. With but one miserable single, the locals crossed the pan three times. An even dozen clouts was secured off Glenn during the remainder of the agony, one of which was a homer by Shaw and a three-bagger by Quinlan.

The fray commenced at 4.10 and Bill Shaw left the shade of the weeping willows and the few remaining maidens, at 6.50, pulled off a short Marathon stunt, and brought down the curtain on a throw from the pitcher, Holnbeck having led off the middle cushion and gone to sleep.

But there were a few redeeming features. In the seventh with one down, Murphy took care of a high fly from Bulger and then woke up the crowd by grabbing a sizzling hot shoulder high liner from Burge. M. O'Brien was steady throughout but his stop of a line drive from Bulger in the fifty was something extra. Shaw with a tree in the path of a long fly and the golden rods, up to his waist, grabbed the ball for the first out in the seventh. Niles for the other fellows gave a similar performance.

Doc MacFadden should be close to having established a record for a backstop. In the game which lasted two hours and forty minutes, he only had one putout, Quinlan only striking out three men. MacFadden had a passed ball, the first one, he held the ball after dropping the third on Harcourt, with the intention of holding the runner and third. The third strikeout gave him the only putout.

Craig too had an interesting time all by himself in right field. He didn't get a chance all day, and while he left the plate five times, only once did he reach second and then was called out for running off the line at the bag.

The special train took down about two hundred and altogether the trip proved very enjoyable, the G.T.R. service to and from Cobourg was all that could be desired. Jack Rosevear handed out the usual satisfactory brand of decisions to both teams.

FIRST INNINGS

Murphy led off for the Petes, and with two called on him, grounded along third, Glenn letting it go through. He went from second to third on Shaw's hit and scored on a passed ball. Shaw, taking second. Ahearne hit to the trees in left for a single, and with M. O'Brien at bat, another passed ball gave Shaw the plate and Ahearne third. The batter was out for bunting third strike. Quinlan walked and stole second. Rahmal was safe at first when Bulger let the grounder get away, Ahearne scoring and Quinlan taking third and counting on MacFadden's sacrifice. W. O'Brien out third to first. Four runs, two hits.

For Cobourg Holnbeck sent a grounder to Rahmal, who threw over first to the crowd, the runner taking second. Guy sacrificed him to third, but he was out on the way home, Quinlan to McFadden to Quinlan. Bulger, who connected safely was out on the same errand as Holnbeck, Quinlan getting him. No runs, one hit

SECOND INNINGS.

Craig lifted one to short. Murphy walked and stole second and came home on an error by Hand, who had gone in to catch and one by Holnbeck, who took the middle cushion. Shaw flew out to short and Ahearne to centre. One run and no hits.

Burge wafted to Ahearne; McKinnon was out Quinlan to first. MacFadden allowed the third strike on Harcourt to get away and he was safe. Niles was an easy out, pitcher to first. No runs and no hits.

THIRD INNNIGS

M. O'Brien was out on his short roller, Hand to Bulger; Quinlan missed three and Rahmal found the distance too long. No runs and no hits.

Glenn was safe on Murphy's fumble, Hand flew out to Shaw. Holnbeck forced Glenn at second, and, after getting second on a balk, the former was out MacFadden to Murphy. No runs, no hits.

FOURTH INNINGS

Guy took MacFadden's fly, but his slipup placed W. O'Brien on second, and he was sacrificed to third by Craig. Murphy walked, stole second, O'Brien scoring on a passed ball and Murphy taking third. Shaw struck out. One run, no hits.

Quinlan found the fourth a troublesome one. He got the first man by covering the bag, O'Brien going out after Guy's grounder. Then he walked, Bulger hit Burge and walked McKinnon, and the bases were all working. The crowd got interested, in fact very much so, and pressed too close to the third-home line. The local heaver refused to go on till the crowd was chased back. Rosevear called the game, whereupon Manager Burge left his bag and went at his umps in true big league style. However, the line was moved back and when MacFadden let a strike get away, it bounded into the crowd and Bulger was allowed to score on the block. Harcourt struck out, but MacFadden, after dropping the ball, held it, to stop Burge coming in and the bases were all working. Then Quinlan forced in Burge by giving a pass to Niles, and again the bases were filled. Glenn send a short pop half way to third, which Quinlan just managed to grab. In his haste to get the runner off third, he threw over Murphy's head and McKinnon scored, Harcourt taking the odd bag on a return wild heave to Murphy from Shaw. Hand stopped the proceedings by fanning. Three runs, no hits.

FIFTH INNINGS

McKinnon had commenced to wobble. He walked Ahearne, and Niles dropped M. O'Brien's fly to left, Ahearne taking second. Quinlan hit and with three on, a block ball sent Ahearne home; Rahmal struck out and MacFadden flew out to Holnbeck, Quinlan going to third on a passed ball and scoring with O'Brien on a wild throw from the catcher, which went to centre field, the latter beating out the throw in. MacFadden flew out to Holnbeck; W. O'Brien walked and stole second. Hand dropped Craig's third strike, but got him at first. Three runs, one hit.

"Mike" O'Brien's phenomenal stop in the fifth.

Holnbeck was out Rahmal to first. Guy hit and went to second on Bulger's effort, which M. O'Brien made aclever stop. Burge flew out to Murphy. No runs, one hit.

SIXTH INNINGS

McKinnon was relieved by Guy, who was an easy victim for the visitors. Murphy was retired at first, Shaw walked after the umpire called a pretty drive to right a foul. A double by Ahearne, a single by M. O'Brien, and a single by Quinlan followed, Shaw, Ahearne and O'Brien scoring; Rahmal fanned and MacFadden was out third to first. Three runs, three hits.

McKinnon grounded out, Harcourt was safe when Ahearne juggled his contribution; Niles sacrificed Harcourt and Glenn flew out to Murphy. No runs, no hits.

SEVENTH INNINGS

W. O'Brien doubled, was sacrificed by Craig, and with Murphy, who walked, scored on Shaw's homer to right. Ahearne and M. O'Brien singled, the former scoring on Quinlan's triple, and O'Brien being out on the throw in, Bulger let Rahmal's grounder get away, Quinlan scoring. MacFadden flew out to third. Five runs, five hits.

Shaw made a nifty catch of Hand's fly to the trees. Holnbeck connected and stole second and went to third when Ahearne fumbled Guy's grounder. Holnbeck tallied on a block and Bulger flew out to Murphy Two runs, one hit.

EIGHTH INNINGS

W. O'Brien flew out to Niles; Craig dropped a pretty hit over second, but was called out for running off the line at second. Murphy sent out a long fly to Niles. No runs, one hit.

McKinnon dropped one to Rahmal, Harcourt gave W. O'Brien his first chance and Shaw took another from Hand. No runs, no hits.

NINTH INNINGS

Holnbeck went in behind the bat again. Shaw was out second to first. Ahearne singled and took second on a passed ball. M. O'Brien popped to Rahmal, Quinlan singled and Ahearne came in on Rahmal's double. Quinlan ended the locals end by walking into an out to the catcher. One run, three hits.

Niles and Glenn flew out to W. O'Brien, and after Holnbeck reached first and second on Murphy's fumble and his steal, Shaw ran over and took the peg from Quinlan, and the game was over.

Bets $250 Against $500 That He Will Finish on Time

The money on the walk billed for next Monday was put up yesterday afternoon, Jimmy Reynolds betting $250 against $500. Reynolds leaves the Queen's hotel here on Monday morning at 6 o'clock, and to win the wager must be back at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening. He has arranged for two men to accompany him. and the opposition will send a couple also to see that everything is [illegible] on the square.—Guide.

FOURTEEN FANS FOR CRESSWELL

Collegiate Twirler Had a Good Day Against Campbellford

In his work in the game against Campbellford Saturday morning, Cresswell, struck-out fourteen men. The rain put a stop to the play for a time and the diamond was not very fast during the last four innings hence a number of errors were chalked against the players on each team.

West, for Campbellford had eight strike-outs to his credit, and though the local artists hit him freely, the wonderful support he received kept down the score. The Collegiates won 7-6.

If there were a wounded dog lying in front of your house, would you walk out and kick it? That is what you do when you repeat vicious gossip; you are cruel.

SACRED HEART CHURCH NINE WON

East City Were Too Generous With Their Errors

Taking an aeroplane jaunt after the sixth innings, the East City nine were defeated by the Sacred Heart church aggregation in an Inter Catholic League game Saturday afternoon, by a 10-7 score.

The first six innings was featured with some good ball, the twirlers being stingy with their hits. The score at that period was 5-5 and then the blow up came. With a runner on first and two men down, Johnston made a balk but Umpire Ahearne neglected to call it and the runner in trying to steal second was caught. The Sacred Heart captain protested vigorously, and his umps changed his decision. This disheartened the North Enders, and they made several errors, letting in five runners during the next period. Guerin went in the box in the seventh and did not allow any hits, but there were many holes in his support. There were a number of close decisions, and neither side seemed satisfied.

Batteries:
Sacred Heart—Rose and Lafave.
North Enders—Johnston, Guerin and O'Hearne.
Umpire—George Ahearne.

NORTHERN LIGHTS AND MIDGETS WON

Juvenile Ball League Games at the Oval

While the Midland Leaguers were hammering away at Cobourg on Saturday afternoon, the Oval was the scene of some lively baseball.

In the first contest, the Thistles and Northern Lights, finished the game which was previously calledin the fifth innings on account of rain, the Thistles winning the remaining four innings by an 8-6 score. It was an uphill battle between the pitchersm Huycke starting with one run to the bad on the previous evenin's work.

Batteries—
Thistles—Huycke and Cavanah.
Lights—Callaghan and Taylor.

SECOND GAME

In the second game the Midgets defeated the Maple Leafs, 19-10, in a rather loose exhibition. There was plenty of hitting and several costly errors.

Batteries—
Midgets—Barried and Haskill.
Leafs—Long and Smith.
—W. J. Neale umpired both contests.

Y.M.C.A. SPORTS

The events scheduled for to-night in the Stratton Cup contest are standing broad jump and half-mile run, already several records made last year have been broken, and to-night should see new figures hung up for the broad jump. The record for the half mile is held by W. Willis, 2.05, and unless he lowers this himself it will likely stand.

The events contested on Friday were standing high jump, which was won by S. Canniff with a jump of 4ft. 5in. He also won the shot put with 35ft. 8in. H. Wood being a good second in both events.

The junior contest events will be run off on Tuesday and Thursday of this week, those taking part are requested to be on hand as soon after 4 p.m. as possible.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone In The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLIETTE, P.Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder.

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life". 46

Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

PRINCE GETS GARTER.

King George Pins Coveted Insignia on His Heir.

London, June 12.—The first of the great state functions associated with the coronation of King George V. was witnessed Saturday at Windsor Castle, where the Prince of Wales was invested with the insignia of the Order of the Garter.

The elaborate ceremonial, dating from the institution of the order 560 years ago, was conducted in the throne room. King George and Queen Mary, with the knights of the order, attended in gorgeous robes, and full insignia of the order. The King himself buckled the blue velvet garter on the left leg of the youthful knight.

Following the investiture a brief religious service was held at St. George's Chapel, and the King and Queen and knights then returned in procession to the castle. The ceremony was private, but the boys from Eton, the civic authorities of Windsor and a few privileged ones were permitted to view the procession.

The investiture was a very brilliant function, the ceremony including a grand procession of knights in their robes. The knights wore full regalia, including the large plumed hats, more than a foot in height, which have been worn only on rare occasions.

The King himself buckled the garter on the prince's left leg, affixed the riband and the George on the left shoulder, fastened the star of the order to the left breast and handed his royal highness the collar.

During the investiture the prelate of the order, the Bishop of Winchester, pronounced the following quaint admonition:

"To honor God omnipotent and in memorial of the blessed Martyr St. George, tie about thy leg for thy renown this noble garter. Wear it as a symbol of the most illustrious order, never to be forgotten or laid aside, that thereby thou mayst be admonished to be courageous, and, having undertaken any just war in which thou shalt be engaged, that thou mayst stand firm, valiantly, fight successfully and conquer."

WORKING WITH GOLD.

Factories In Which Dark Colored Clothes Must Be Worn.

Light suits of clothes are not favored in factories where work is done on gold. In fact, in many such factories a dark suit of clothes is absolutely required, and even a light waistcoat may lose a man a job. The reason for this is that any stray grains of gold that may get on the clothing can easily be caught on a dark suit, while they might get away from the establishment if light clothes were worn.

That such a rule was enforced among gold workers one man learned recently when a Bohemian gold beater applied to him for a helping hand. The Bohemian said that he had only recently come to this country, that he had had a chance to obtain a good job at his trade, but that the place had been refused him because he turned up with a light coat and waistcoat on, and they were the only clothes he had.

The man whom he approached was struck by the story and offered to help him out if it proved true. He went to a downtown factory with him and found out that the man could have the job if he presented himself within an hour with the proper clothes on. Two dollars enabled the man to rig himself out in the dark coat and waistcoat to go with his dark trousers, and, sure enough, he got the job.

"You may think this strange," said the man at the factory, "but it means quite a little to us. Every man's clothing is carefully examined when he leaves here at night and the gold brushed off whenever we see any on his clothing.

"It is impossible to hide even tiny grains on a dark background, but take a mixed or a light suit and we might easily lose quite an amount of gold, and gold isn't anything you want to lose even in small quantities."—New York Sun.

REFUSED TO OBEY.

Major Butler Carried His Obstinacy Right Into His Coffin.

Many amusing stories are told of the great formality blended with a humorous brusqueness and independence which characterized early Revolutionary days. An incident of camp life is related by the author of "Romance and Realism of the Southern Gulf Coast."

In 1798 the first United States troops that came down the Mississippi were quartered at Fort Adams. General Wilkinson, Colonel Hamtramck, Major Butler, Captain Green and other officers were merry over their punch one night, and the general by some accident got his cue burned off. Angry at the laugh which followed his mishap, he next day issued an order forbidding any officer to appear with a cue. Obedient to orders, all the officers but Major Butler cut off their cues.

"The vain old prig!" said the major. "I'll see him hanged before I cut off my cue to gratify him!" And he boldly appeared without changing the style of his hairdressing.

The major was put under arrest, but he declared obstinately that he would spend the rest of his life in prison before he would comply with such a silly command. Soon afterward he was taken very ill, and, realizing that he was at the point of death, he gave instructions for his burial, which he knew would be witnessed by the whole command.

"Bore a hole," said he, "through the bottom of my coffin, right under my head, and let my cue come through it, that the old general may see that even when dead I refuse to obey his order."

And these directions were literally carried out.

Big Mouthfuls.

"Yes," whispered the man who knows everybody, "the big chap over there at the third table is a great gormand. He's a mountain in the financial world, you know."

"H'm!" commented the quiet observer. "Instead of a mountain he looks to me like a great gorge."—Chicago News.

RISKS HIS LIFE FOR NEW FOODS

[illegible] explorer, working under commission of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture, is today in a lonely land, and before his mission is ended he will pass through still lonlier lands. His collecting journey began at St. Petersburg and it will end at some sea coast port of Eastern China. His trip already has been successful enough to make it worth much more than the money it has cost. He has frozen and melted alternately as the altitudes have changed. He has encountered wild beasts and men nearly as wild; he has scaled glaciers and crossed chasms of dizzying depths; he has been the subject of the always alert suspicions of government officials and of strange peoples jealous of intrusions into their land—but he has found what he was sent for.

A plant hunter! Official and peasant are accustomed to the coming of hunters of wild beasts. They understand the lust of killing and the desire for danger which make men take long journeys into strange places. But a plant hunter!—it seems to them the thinnest pretense to hide some design on the peace of the government or the community. The specimen bag must hold some strange instrument of destruction, the more deadly because it is unknown. The experiences of botanists in the Eastern mountains, though with an added element of real danger, are like those of the peaceful opera glass ornithologist whose sanity is doubted and whose arrest is threatened by the country folk because he prefers to study the living bird, rather than to kill it, fill it with cotton and arsenic, and to pierce it with wires, for mounting in painful and grotesque attitude.

Admittedly the expression falls within the limits of what the objectors call the bromides, but it is the desire of David Fairchild, the Agricultural Explorer in Charge, and of his fellow laborers in field and capital, to make such deserts as the United States has to blossom like the rose, or, if not the rose, the pear, the apple, the orange, the pomegranate or the olive. The nature of much of the land which is under search to-day for plant treasures is stony and forbidding, places apparently for the thistle and the thorn, and it would appear that he who looks for fruitage, there must be one who thinks yea the answer to the question of Scripture, and that grapes may be gathered of thorns, and figs of thistles.

The explorer now in the Himalaya Mountains carries in his head a botanical chart of the United States. He finds a species of plant useful or ornamental, or a variety of a species, and by reference to the mental map, he knows instantly in what part of the United States it has a chance to flourish and prove a blessing. He gathers with full knowledge of the locality in which one day Americans may sit under the shade of a Himalaya tree or gather fuit from a Himalayan vine.

In the plant hunter's head there is also a weather map. He knows the sections of the United States, where long periods of drought would wither quickly any form of introduced vegetation, whose life is moisture. He knows the places where the rainfall is apt to be excessive, and he knows where there are shadow and sunshine in about equal parts. His, is a work of selection, and it can be said that in large part, the judgment of the plant finder has been justified by results.—From "Plant Hunter in the Wilds" in July Technical World Magazine.

His Advice Not Wanted.

"My dear," says the doctor to his wife, who is cuddling their new boy, 'you should not feed the baby oftener than every three hours, you should not take it up every time it cries, it should sleep practically all the time, it should not be shown to every one who calls, your mother and father should not be permitted to dandle it, you should not chuck it under the chin that way, it should sleep in a room without heat and with the windows wide open, its clothing should be simple—none of those lacy, embroidered things—and—and"—

"Humph!" interrupts his wife. "You go and tell that stuff to people that pay you $5 a visit. I don't want any of your old advice about this baby."—Life.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

Graduates and Prominent Men Honored at Toronto.

Toronto, June 10.—Another convocation [illegible] is passed and gone. Yesterday afternoon the stately procession of graduates in academic costume filed out of University College and across the lawn to convocation hall, where the powers that be were ready to confer the well-earned honors. Crowds of sight-seers were gathered on the lawn to see the procession pass, and an imposing array of camera's were also in active service.

It was exactly 2.40 p.m. when the long line of graduates left University College. The girl graduates came first, carrying beautiful bouquets of roses, and marched two abreast across the lawn, headed by the yeoman bedel, Robert Martin. It was an imposing procession, this, with the white costumes of the ladies, the black gowns and the vari-colored hoods of the faculty.

Behind the graduating classes walked the chancellor, Sir Wm. Meredith, accompanied by the two mace-bearers, while next in the procession came President Falconer and Sir Charles Moss. Following were Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Dr. E. Gould of New York and Dr. Grenfell. The entire faculty of the university followed two abreast.

The honorary degrees were conferred first. Right Hon. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, P.C., K.C.M.G., was presented for the LL.D. degree, by Sir Chas. Moss, Chief Justice of Ontario; Elgin Ralston Lovell Gould, B.A., Ph.D., was presented for his LL.D. by Chancellor Burwash of Victoria University; Wilfrid Thomason Grenfell, M.D., LL.D., C.M.G., was presented for his honorary degree in medicine, by Dr. Clarke, dean of the faculty of medicine. Hibbert Winston Hill, M.D., of Minnesota, had conferred on him the diploma of public health. It was a long and tedious duty for the chancellor, who conferred degrees without cessation for almost two hours.

Killed by Live Wire

Brandon, Man., June 12—William Shaddick, and Englishman, aged 22, driver for Murdock Bros., was instantly killed Saturday evening by a live wire. Shaddick had finished deliveries and put his horse in the stable and was going to supper, taking a short cut by a lane back of the Empire Hotel. Two wires were hanging low. He caught the end of one of them. His right hand was burned a quarter of an inch deep. He had no relatives in this country. He was a member of the Sons of England.

Here is a furnace that is easy to attend—
One you can clean out without using the poker.
¶ The ashes at the side of the pot can be shaken down without losing good coals in the centre. The four separate grate bars do that.
¶ The water pan, so essential to good heating, is placed where it can be easily filled and not so likely to be overlooked.

"Hecla" Furnace

Six tons of coal instead of seven.

And this furnace which is so easy to run will save you one ton of coal in every seven.
¶ It will give you pure air without gas or dust.
¶ When you shake it down no ash dust can escape either in the basement or in the living rooms.
Sound interesting?
Why not investigate?

Get this Booklet.

It will be sent free, and it will tell you things you ought to know about heating. Write for it to-day.

NOTE THE FEATURES THAT MAKE FOR CONVENIENCE:

Water Pan Openings conveniently placed on either side of ash door.

Large Firing Door for wood or large shovels of coal.

Four Separate Grates to clean out ashes without using poker.

Common Sense Ash Pan fitting perfectly and catching all the ashes.

Large Door Handle which drops into place and locks the door securely.

ALL SAINTS' BEAT PRESBYTERIANS

Dawson Broke the Tie Shortly Before Game Ended

In a Church League football game played on Brinton Meadows, on Saturday afternoon before a large crowd All Saints won a very close match from Knox by a 2-1 score.

The Saints won the toss and decided to kick with the sun at their backs. The game opened with the blue and white pressing the Knox goal, but owing to good goal-keeping by Calladine, the Saints were unable to score until after twenty minutes of play, when their first goal was got by James passing three of the defence and beating the goal-keeper by a hot shot.

On starting the play again Knox's came pretty strong, but were robbed of what looked like a sure goal by the Saints sturdy goal tender. All Saints received the ball and went up the field and shot but the ball just missed the goal post. The boys who were playing their best game of the season, received the ball and came down the left side and scored their only goal of the game which was just before half-time.

SECOND HALF.

The second half started out by the Presbyterians pressing the "Saints" goal but owing to good work by the blue and white backs, they could not score.

The game was drawing to a close, only five minutes to play, and many spectators were looking for the game to end a tie, when Dawson, one of the Saint's half-backs, saw that someone must do something to save the day, for the Saints; he took one of those rushes of his, and went through the Knox defence; and beat the goalkeeper on a shot that hardly any man could stop, and this goal put the Saints the winners by a two to one score.

Geo. Miller gave good satisfaction as referee. The Saints' team was Goal—Moraity.

Backs—Rew and Robinson.

Half-Backs—Hooper, Dawson, and Edwards.

Forwards—Curtis, Willis, James, Abbott and Downes.

PORT HOPE HAS CLEVER TWIRLER

Gave Bowmanville But Five Hits and Fanned Twelve

Port Hope, June 12.—In a Midland League game here Saturday Port Hope defeated Bowmanville by a score of 10 to 6 before a large crowd. The feature of the game was the pitching of young Pipher, he having fifteen strike-outs and only allowed five scattered hits. Score;

Bowmanville... ... ...000001320— 6
Port Hope... ... ...20210104x—10

Batteries—Rose and Jones; Pipher and Thompson.

FOOTBALL

All Saints' meet Cold Springs tonight on the Brinton meadows at 6.45. As Cold Springs are going strong at present a good fast game is looked for.

The Saints' team will be picked from the following men: Rew, Moraity, Robinson, Hooper, Dawson, Edwards, Curtis, James, Abbott, Willis, Eoles, Downes and Johnson.

W. Jones will referee.

If you annoy anyone unnecessarily you are mean; that's the long and short of it.

THE PEOPLE'S CHIMES—A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Review,

Dear Sir,—While commending the energy and perseverence of the Rev. Canon Davidson and the other gentlemen concerned by whose endeavors the people's chimes have become an actuality, as a subscriber to them outside of St. John's church, I should wish to know what plan has been adopted by all the contributors with regard to the ownership.

Subscriptions have been paid into this fund on the understanding that the chimes were for the benefit of the citizens generally. I think there should be some agreement to this effect, carrying with it the appointment of a board that would administer the trust in the manner intended.

In making this suggestion I believe, too, that I am voicing the sentiments not only of the outside subscribers generally, but also of a considerable portion of the adherents of St. John's church, who desire that good faith be shown in the matter, and who realise that with the lapse of time circumstances become obscured and are forgottan, a situation which would be relieved by the establishment of a trust for the benefit of all and administered by a board selected from the contributors.

ELECTRICAL STORMS CAUSE

The Storm at Pennsylvania.

Chambersburg, Pa., June 12.—A severe windstorm swept down Saturday night, felling trees, unroofing a dozen buildings and prostrating the lines of telephone, electric light and trolley companies. One hundred feet of the new shops of the T. B. Woods' Sons Co. was blown in. No one was hurt. Ross Wingert, a resident of this place, came in contact with a live wire and may die. The damage is estimated at $50,000. The storm was general in the Cumberland Valley.

Storm Spoils Aero Race.

Rome, June 12.—Stormy weather Saturday caused three of the four aviators who have reached Rome in the Paris-Rome-Turin race, to abandon the contemplated start on the final leg of the aerial journey.

The schedule called for a concluding flight of 391 miles, taking the contestants first from Rome to Florence for an official stop; then over the Apennines to Bologna, another official stop, and then on to Turin.

The crossing of the mountain peaks called for the most daring exploit of the whole 1,300 miles of the course, and great interest in this test had been aroused.

Throngs were early at the aerodrome to see the fliers get away. Adverse weather conditions influenced Andre Beaumont and Roland Garres to give up their hope of starting soon after they reached the field. Frey, the German aviator, was more determined and made five attempts to get into the air, each time being compelled to descend. Finally, on a report that a strong wind was blowing over the Apennines he, too, decided to quit. Vedart, the fourth contestant, who has reached here, did not appear and has not announced his future plans.

The competitors remaining in the race have until June 15 to arrive at Turin.

The Retort Courteous.

James Russell Lowell was once a guest at a banquet in London where he was expected to reply to a toast. The speaker who preceded Mr. Lowell said many contemptuous things about the people of the United States, avowing and repeating again and again that they were all braggarts. As American minister at the court of St. James Lowell could hardly overlook this speech, so as he rose he said smilingly: "I heartily agree with the gentleman who has just spoken. Americans do brag a great deal, and I don't know where they got the habit, do you?"

Boiling Alive.

The last instance of boiling to death took place in Persia in 1890. The offender was guilty of stealing state revenues and was put into a large caldron of cold water, which was slowly heated to the boiling point. His bones were distributed as a warning among the provincial tax collectors.

Kind to the Eyes

Kryptok lenses have distinctive advantages over all former near and far-sighted glasses, having no line or patch to suggest old sight or to confuse the eye. "They are truly delightful and I scarcely realize that I am wearing glasses, as my vision is perfect, both distant and reading," is the remark of one of the pleased patrons of the Optical Institute.

MORMONS ARE BIG MENACE

Presbyterian Assembly Considers the Evil.

Will Carry on Campaign in Alberta.

Ottawa, June 13.—The menace of the Mormon community to Canada was emphasized at the Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday, which went on record in favor of an active campaign against it. The matter came up on the report of a special committee, which was presented by Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark of Montreal.

That the Mormons were, as a rule, a sober and industrious people was the opinion of Rev. Dr. McLaren of Vancouver. But their religion propounded some abominable principles and their morals were a positive danger to Canada. The number of marriages and progeny appealed to a Mormon, but was distasteful to a Canadian. They had attained great power in the United States and talked of getting the balance of political power in Alberta, if not in all Canada. The Mormons voted together, and a corporate vote was always dangerous, and not desired in Canada. Mormonism was more of a menace than Roman Catholicism, because the Mormon priest had a greater hold on the people. "We don't want this sort of thing in Canada," said Dr. McLaren, "and the main remedy is to preach the gospel in the very centres where Mormonism is making a stand."

Mormonism was really under the protection of the politician, and therefore difficult to get at, stated Rev. Dr. Pringle of Sydney. Their morals were low and should not be allowed in Canada.

That the Mormons were the most dangerous people in the west because of their activities was the statement by Rev. D. W. Reid of Calgary. He referred to their bringing 500 girls from Great Britain to Utah, and said there were many objectionable features to their worship. They had a male and a female god and taught that the more morriages and the more children a man had the higher would be his position in heaven. They claim to have 3,000 missionaries to propagate their principles and one little town is said to have sent out thirty. Their strength in South Alberta is claimed to be 20,000 and two members are in the Legislature.

The following motion, moved by Rev. Dr. Clark, was then carried by the assembly:

"The assembly deems it advisable to call attention to the danger that necessarily attaches to the existence of Mormonism in any country, and to utter a warning against the insidious methods employed by Mormon missionaries, while frankly acknowledging all that can be fairly urged in behalf of Mormons and Mormonism, the assembly regards with deep regret and grave anxiety:

"The detestable doctrine held and preached by the Mormon Church.

"The extravagant political ambitions cherished by the Mormons.

"The absolute obedience to their religious leaders, required of the members of the organization, not only in their religious, but also in their material and political relationships.

"The assembly very cordially endorses the important work that is being carried on by the home mission committee in the Mormon district, commends it most heartily to the sympathetic and prayerful interest of the whole church, and requests the committee to give special attention to this department of the work during the present year and bring in such recommendations to the next general assembly as they may deem wise."

The "ne temere" decree will come before the assembly to-night, and there is every indication that this question will receive a great deal of attention. Already the matter has been touched upon in the report of the board of social and moral reform, and was referred to a special committee by the assembly. Rev. Dr. Duval of Winnipeg, and F. H. Larkin of Seaforth have also presented a motion on the question. This motion was read at the assembly and was referred to the committee without any vote being taken. Dr. Duval stated that it was put in purely as a basis for the committee to work on.

THREE KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Philadelphia Visited by Vicious Storm.

Reports of Damage Come From all Sides.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Three persons were killed, several seriously injured, wires were prostrated, trees uprooted and buildings damaged by an electrical storm which visited this city and vicinity last night. The wind attained a velocity of 42 miles an hour.

At Allentown, Pa., the cyclonic wind prostrated live wires which fell on a house on Union street. The building was a frame one with corrugated iron lining. As David S. H. Gackenbach, aged 30 years, and Hannibal J. Dotterer, aged 24 years, were leaving the building, they came in contact with the metal and were instantly killed. John Wagner, aged 40 years, was killed in going to the rescue of the men. Miss Carrie Allender was badly shocked.

Killed by Thunderbolt.

Cortland, N.Y., June 13.—James M. Davis, a stock dealer of North Pitcher, was killed by a thunderbolt while riding yesterday afternoon in a carriage near Cincinnatus.

Lightning Played Pranks.

Kingston, June 13.—A severe electrical storm passed over Kingston yesterday afternoon. The rainfall was very heavy, many cellars on down-town streets being flooded. Lightning put the street railway system out of business for two hours. At the moving picture shows lightning played great pranks with the operating machine. Luckily no buildings were struck.

Storm Damage at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., June 13.—A terrific electrical storm, with rain, hail and wind, broke over Baltimore at six o'clock, putting practically all telegraph and long distance telephones to the north out of commission and doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage to property in the suburbs. The storm was of short duration, but after a brief interval another heavy rainstorm set in, which lasted for several hours.

So far no loss of life has been reported.

Barn Burned by Lightning.

Inglewood, June 13.—A violent thunderstorm passed easterly over this vicinity about four p.m. Sunday, doing considerable damage. Archibald McGregor's fine barn, half a mile out, was struck by lightning and entirely consumed with contents, including a colt. Loss about $5,000, some insurance.

COLBORNE MAN ARRESTED IN BRIMACOMBE MURDER CASE

Henry Hicks, an Auctioneer, Charged With Perjury in Giving Evidence for Defence.

Colborne, June 13.—A sensation was caused here late yesterday afternoon by the arrest of Henry Hicks, auctioneer, of Colborne, on a charge of perjury in connection with the trial of Henry (Son) Matthews for the murder of Josephine Brimacombe. Matthews was acquitted on April 15 last.

Hicks was arrested by John Miller, provincial detective, who, it is understood, has been for some time quietly at work on the case, as the result of the crown's dissatisfaction with the conflicting nature of the testimony at the trial.

The evidence given by Hicks decidedly strengthened the side of the defence, as he swore positively that he was in the Bristol Hotel on the night that the Brimacombe girl, a waitress, met her death, and had seen her alive after Matthews had left the hotel.

Hicks was taken to Cobourg by Chief Jameson and lodged in the jail there.

Perjury Somewhere.

Toronto, June 13.—There was perjury at the trial of Charles Watkins for assault upon Harold Barrod. That's what Magistrate Kingsford said in the Police Court yesterday morning. Two men swore that Watkins struck Barrod and three swore he did not. The two were believed.

E. B. Skimms, George Browning and John Glenn were the trio who failed to gain credence, while the stalwarts who upheld the truth against odds were Barrod and Charles Taylor, who was with him when the trouble took place in Smith's hotel. Watkins went to jail for sixty days.

A new daily paper, to be known as Le Journal International, to publish only news of world-wide interest, will be published in Paris.

BISHOP LAID THE CORNER-STONE

New Roman Catholic Church at Chatham Being Erected.

Chatham, June 13.—His Lordship Bishop Fallon of London at three o'clock Sunday afternoon laid and blessed the corner-stone of the magnificent new church in process of construction at Pain Court, to be known as the Church of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin. The function was carried out with all the solemnity of the beautiful ritual of the Roman Catholic Church, and was witnessed by thousands of people, including members of Pain Court Church and other parishes round about.

The bishop was attended by the following priests: Rev. Frs. James of Chatham, Robert of Windsor, Nicholas of Chatham, Brady of Wallaceburg, Doe of Bigpoint, Hogan of Merlin, Martin of St. Peters, Ford of Bothwell, Tierney, and Rev. Fr. Emery, pastor of the Pain Court Church.

After the ceremony had been completed the bishop delivered an address in French, followed by a few brief remarks in English.

New College Professor.

St. John, N.B., June 13.—Rev. Geo. M. Campbell, D.D., district secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, has accepted the offer of a professorship at Mount Allison College, and will take the chair of homiletics and practical theology at the beginning of the college year next autumn.

Farmers Back Broken.

Fredericton, N.B., June 13.—Abraham Schreiver, farmer, aged 70, died Sunday night. He was thrown from his wagon Saturday by the wheel striking a defective culvert, and was found unconscious, with his back broken, by a man who noticed the team without a driver.

Mgr. Gauthier at Ottawa.

Ottawa, June 13.—Archbishop Gauthier returned to Ottawa on Sunday from Mt. Clemens, Michigan, where he had gone to rest after having had a slight attack of neuritis. Press reports that the archbishop had been taken seriously ill are emphatically denied.

BAR TAX WILL ADD $180,000 TO PROVINCIAL TREASURY

One Month Adds $18,000 to the Coffers of the Province—City Bars Pay the Tax.

Toronto, June 13.—The ten days of grace allowed hotelkeepers throughout the province to send in their returns under the new percentage clause of the liquor license act, expired on Saturday, and the Provincial Treasury is now richer by some $18,000, paid on bar receipts for May.

"The returns this month indicate a yearly revenue from that quarter of about $180,000," said Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary. "The figures work out very much as calculated."

The first month's figures show that the estimates upon which the bill was based were conservative. In the country districts the returns varied little from estimates, but the large city hotels paid more than was expected. Under the act hotels in cities of 100,000 population pay a tax of five per cent. on bar receipts in excess of $60 daily, while all other hotels pay five per cent. on the excess over $50 daily.

The fact that there are considerably over 2,000 hotels under license in Ontario makes the compiling of the returns a difficult task, and it is yet impossible to state with accuracy the number of hotels doing a bar trade of over $50 or $60, and therefore paying the tax. Practically all the bars in the cities and large towns will pay a share, but a great many rural hotels will escape entirely.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL BOWSER, of British Columbia, who is cutting some figure in the coronation festivities and functions.

C.N.R. MUST PAY FOR CONTEMPT

Winnipeg, June 13.—The Canadian Northern Railway Co. has been fined $1,000 by Chief Justice Mathers for contempt of court in delivering papers to the returning officer at Beautiful Plains in an election case, after the court had ordered the papers were not to be delivered.

Returning Officer Boston was ordered to pay costs or go to jail for 30 days.

The trouble grew out of the late provincial general election, where the Conservative was declared elected on a technicality.

Lower Rates for Montreal.

Montreal, June 13.—Rates for electric lighting are to be reduced according to the announcement of the Electric Light, Heat & Power Co. The new rates will amount to 7 1-2 cents per kilowat hour on five year contracts, instead of 8 cents for residential. On one year contracts the rate will be 10 cents and 5 per cent. discount for ten days. This new rate is to become effective from July meter readings.

FOURTH STORM ALONG COAST

Twenty Five Lives Lost and Much Damage

Fifteen Fishermen Missing From Norfolk

Special to the Review.

New York, N.Y., June 13.—The fourth great electrical storm since Saturday swept the coast from Norfolk to New England last night, causing death to upwards of twenty-five persons and enormous monetary loss. Lightning bolts killed three people in Allentown, Pa., and three in Philadelphia. Fifteen fishermen are missing from Norfolk, and it is believed that they have lost their lives along the coast. The storms were accompanied by terrific winds, which uprooted trees by the thousand and demolished many buildings.

12,000 Volts Through His Body.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 13.—William Wright, assistant to switchboard operator at Toronto Electrical Development Co.'s plant, was killed instantly early yesterday by coming in contact with a short-arm cable at the works. It is said that 12,000 volts passed through the man's body. Deceased was 30 years old. He left a wife and two children.

ARE ASKING FOR CHEAPER FARES

Montreal is After More Street Railway Concessions.

Montreal, June 13.—The dropping of the clauses demanding greater percentages from the Street Railway Co. receipts and the enlarging on the cheap ticket principle are two features of the new report of the controllers in regard to negotiations between the railway and the city for an extension franchise.

Practically nothing is said as to increased percentages, but it is demanded that the company make much better terms for tickets. Tickets must be cheaper for workingmen and for school children, women must be given cheaper tickets during shopping hours, and an extension is asked of the time when these cheap tickets shall be honored. In addition the company is again asked to do certain street paving, water streets, extend tracks, prevent overcrowding and relieve congestion generally.

Young Girl Suicides.

Kingston, June 13.—Disappointed in love, Miss Flossie Whitmore, aged 16, took a dose of bi-chloride of mercury and died in the General Hospital. On the evening of June 1 she was out walking with her sweetheart, and on arriving home told her sister that she was going to take poison. Her sister thought she was joking and paid no attention her. The next morning she was terribly sick and then admitted what she had done. She was rushed to the hospital and lived until yesterday morning.

ONE PASSENGER DIED OF CHOLERA

Eight Hundred Steerage Passengers Held at New York

Special to the Review.

New York, N.Y.—North German Lloyd steamer Berlin from Mediterranean ports, which arrived here today, reports the death of a steerage passenger from cholera. All infected baggage is being burned, and eight hundred and twenty-six steerage passengers are held.

MISSOURI MAN WILL BREED A CROWLESS ROOSTER NOW

He Has Produced a Wingless Chicken—A Silent Rooster His Ambition.

Kansas City, June 13.—"The crow must go." This is the edict of Missouri. In this day of alarm clocks the people of this state have asked in vain to be shown the use of the rooster's crow. They admit that the rooster himself is a necessity, so F. I. Welborn of Kansas City, who is a sort of Luther Burbank of poultry, has set out to eliminate the now useless crow. He has determined to evolve a crowless rooster.

Already he had produced a well nigh wingless chicken, which must of necessity stay on the home side of fences which would not halt even a hickory-legged army veteran for a mere moment. When Welborn had achieved this wingless victory, his neighbors were strong for recognizing his services by the presentation of a medal. The hen scientist told them to wait a while and he would show them a real boon in the shape of a silent rooster. They declare that if he is able to produce this sleep producer, they will not stop until his manly bosom is adorned with the Carnegie hero medal.

Babe Gave Alarm.

Ingersoll, June 13—Spontaneous combustion is thought to have been the cause of a fire which early yesterday morning damaged the building and stock of Walley's drug store to the extent of probably $1,500 or $1,800.

Mrs. Orme, wife of W. H. Orme, photographer, whose studio and living apartments are over the drug store, wakened shortly before four o'clock to find the room filled with smoke. A baby, probably made restless by the smoke, wakened her and probably saved the lives of the whole family, as Mr. Orme was almost overcome by the smoke.

Wants to Leave Husband.

Montreal, June 13.—Mrs. Guiseppe de Lorenzo, who disappeared mysteriously from her home at 755 St. James street on Monday last, and afterwards wrote to her mother saying that she was in the hands of a "black hand" gang, appeared at the court house on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of securing a separation from her husband.

Mrs. De Lorenzo, who was accompanied by her two children, refused to give any explanation of her conduct. She said that she had not been outside of the city.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

They do say that if a girl wants to be revenged on a young man, all she has to do is to marry him.

This isn't the sivinteenth of March, but it is the day of the Ennismore pic-nic, which is about the same thing north of Peterborough.

A woman in St. Louis has been given alimony of $500 a week. Who said marriage was a failure?

Over 200 tons of sugar slid off a Halifax wharf into the harbor. Hon. Wm Pugsley may be depended on to see that a government dredge removes the sand bar.

The strawberry season is here, but most house-wives can only stop to have a look while on the way to the prune counter.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

FREIGHT RATES

The Manitoba Free Press has been publishing a most informative series of articles on railway freight rates, showing the discrimination against the west.

In one of these it deals with the freight rates from Montreal to Peterborough, as compared with the rate for the same class of freight over the same distance out west. It points out that Peterborough is an inland point, and that the railways cannot use the old argument as to the necessity of competing against water transportation.

From Montreal to Peterborough is 267 miles; from Winnipeg to Broadview is 264 miles. In carload lots freight costs 16 1-2 cents per cwt. from Montreal to Peterborough, and 35 cents per cwt. from Winnipeg to Broadview. In less than carload lots, the Montreal-Peterborough rate is 22 cents, and the western rate 52 and 40 cents, depending on the class of freight.

On a carload shipment of 30,000 lbs. the difference between the Montreal-Peterborough rate, and the (Winnipeg) Broadview rate is the difference between $49.50 and $105. In a shipment of 2,000 pounds of iron commodities which shipped from Winnipeg would be one-half third class and one-half fourth class, the Montreal-Peterborough freight bill would be $4.40, and from Winnipeg it would be $9.20.

POWER IN MONTREAL

Montreal electric power consumers have been paying eight cents per kilowatt hour for their house lighting and nine cents for their commercial lighting. The Montreal Light, Heat and Power company proposes to make a voluntary reduction to 7 1-2 cents for both house and commercial lighting.

In Toronto the new rates will be 4 1-2 cents per kilowatt hour, both from the hydro-electric and the private company, which has announced its intention of meeting the hydro rates. In Peterborough the rate is 7 cents net for house lighting and 10 cents for commercial lighting.

Of course the power people say that the new Toronto rates are so low that the hydro system cannot pay for years, but some wonderful things have been accomplished under favorable circumstances in the matter of cheapening power and light, and it may be that those who guess that the Toronto hydro rates cannot possibly make ends meet, will be in the wrong. It is now strongly denied that the commissioners in making the new rates in Toronto figured on a deficit for some years, and deliberately cut the prices so low as to induce it. The experiment in Toronto will be watched with interest, because it is the first attempt of the hydro-electric to compete on a large scale with a big private company, by means of such a drastic cut.

The people of Montreal have not had the benefit of any governmental power policy such as Ontario has enjoyed under the progressive Whitney administration, and needs must fight the big power company single handed, if there is a fight, which does not seem likely. It would not be very wide of the mark, however, to guess that the reduction in Montreal prices came as a result of the sweeping cut in the Toronto prices. The Montreal company apparently considered it business wisdom not to continue to charge the people of Montreal double what the Toronto people had to pay, although the reduction is trifling at the best.

Montreal thus gets the benefit of the Ontario hydro-electric power policy indirectly. However, the metropolis seems to be so thoroughly saturated with corporation sentiment that it is not likely to evolve any power project of its own, but will be content to pay what its big power company deems it wise to ask.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Two men near New Orleans killed eight negroes in ten minutes. This record would almost put an aviation meet to shame for quickness and precision.

W. J. Lindsay, the Farmers' Bank stock promoter, has given himself up, but it is not likely that his friend Dr. Beattie Nesbitt will go and do likewise. Lindsay has seen the numerous acquittals in the Farmers' Bank cases, but of course, his return to stand trial has nothing to do with that.

Some newspapers are attacking Carrie Nation, even before the funeral, as a woman of low intellect who strove for the lime-light in cheap, notorious fashion. But back of it all there must have been an intense determination, a strong conviction of the evil of the bar-room. The trouble with many people is that they are the very antitheses of Carrie Nation. Saloon-smashing with a hatchet does not accomplish much, but strong public sentiment does, and many people do not even have this, on the liquor evil.

The bread merger, which is being formed to control in part the bread business of Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, has a capital of $5,000,000. The loaves of bread that would have to be sold to return an adequate interest on this sum would be rather numerous. Of course, in the matter of bread, if the merger becomes too exacting in its prices, the housewife can turn in and make her own bread, as our mothers used to do. That is the great problem to confront the merger, if it tries to boost prices unduly. The modern girl, however, doesn't know much about bread-making, and it might be well for some enterprising people to watch the course of events, and be ready to start a correspondence school to educate the ignorant ones.

He Was Just Thinking.

"Mary," said a man to his spouse, who was gifted with a rapidly moving tongue, "did you ever hear the story of the precious gems?"

"No," she replied. "What is it?"

"It's a fairy legend that my grandmother told me when I was a boy," the husband continued. "It was about a woman from whose lips fell a diamond or a ruby at every word she spoke."

"Well?" said his wife as he paused.

"That's all there is of it, my dear," he replied. "But I was just thinking if such things happened nowadays I could make my fortune as a jeweler."

Love of Trees.

We find our most soothing companionship in trees among which we have lived, some of which we ourselves may have planted. We lean against them, and they never betray our trust, they shield us from the sun and from the rain, their spring welcome is a new birth which never loses its freshness, they lay their beautiful robes at our feet in autumn; in winter they stand and wait, emblems of patience and of truth, for they hide nothing, not even the little leaf buds which hint to us of hope, the last element in their triple symbolism.—Dr. O. W. Holmes.

Above the Vulgar Gaze.

Until 1870 it was against the law and sacred custom for any subject to look at the emperor of Japan. His political advisers and attendants saw only his back. When he first left the palace the shutters of all the houses had to be drawn, and no one was permitted in the streets. Even today, when the emperor has the privilege of driving through the streets like one of his subjects, it is not considered quite proper to cast a glance at him.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Savage selling to put an end to loss ripped the top off the market for wheat to-day. With big shipments of the new grain heading for Kansas City, and with the harvest area rapidly widening, owners here became half frenzied when a bull clique which was supposed to have closed out a load of 10,000,000 bushels accumulated in the May deal here began a fresh selling movement directed chiefly against the July delivery. That option broke more than 3c a bushel in addition to 5c decline last week, and closed unsettled 2 1-8c to 2 1-4c down as compared with Saturday's close. Other months at the end of trading were off 1c to 1-8c to 1 3-8c net. Latest figures showed corn 1-8c down to 1-4c up, oats 1-4c to 3-8c to 1-2c advance, and provisions dearer by 2 1-2c to 5c to 27 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅞d to 1⅛d lower than on Saturday on wheat, and ⅜d lower on corn. Buda Pest closed ¾c higher on wheat; Berlin, ¾c higher. Holiday at Antwerp. Paris, closed ¾c to 1⅜c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 12.—Business in grain for both export and local was very quiet, but the tone of the market here is very firm for oats. The local demand for flour was fair, but was no business reported for export. Mill feed is fairly active and firm. Oats, Canadian western, No. 2, 41½c to 42c, car lots ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41¼c; No. 3 C.W., 40¼c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40¼c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c. Flour, Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.30; seconds, $4.80; winter wheat patents, $4.60 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.60; straight rollers, $4 to $4.25; in bags, $1.85 to $2. Rolled oats, per barrel, $4.55; bag of 90 lbs, $2.15. Feed barley, car lots ex-store, 51c to 52c. Corn, American No. 3 yellow, 61c to 61½c. Millfeed, bran, Ontario, $22; Manitoba, $21; middlings, Ontario, $22.50 to $23; shorts, Manitoba, $23.

Eggs—Fresh, 17½c to 18½c per doz.

Cheese—Westerns, 11¼c to 11½c. per lb. Easterns, 11c to 11⅛c.

Butter—Choicest, 22c; seconds, 21c to 21½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, June 12.—The receipts live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 73 carloads, consisting of 1497 cattle, 78 sheep and 33 calves.

Exporters.

Export steers sold at $6.10 to $6.35. E. L. Woodward bought for Swift & Co. 100 steers for London, 1380 lbs. each, at $6.25 per cwt., average price, and a range of $6.15 to $6.35; also 76 Liverpool steers, at average of $6.15, or a range of $6.10 to $6.20; also 38 cattle for Winnipeg, 1060 lbs. each, at an average of $6.17, or a range of $6.10 to $6.25.

Butchers.

Butchers' steers and heifers sold at $5.60 to $6.30; cows at $4 to $5.50; bulls at $4.50 to $5.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers were quoted at $40 to $65 each.

Veal Calves.

The calf market was steady, at $4.50 to $7.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, are worth $3.75 to $4.50; rams, $3 to $3.50; yearling lambs, $5.50 to $6.50; spring lambs, $4 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

The market for hogs is strong at $7.10, fed and watered at the market, and $6.75 to drovers, f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 12.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of livestock for the week ending June 10, were 3600 cattle, 375 sheep and lambs, 2100 hogs and 1000 calves. The offerings this morning amounted to 800 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 1050 hogs and 125 calves.

A much stronger feeling prevailed in the market for cattle, and prices advanced 25c to 35c per cwt., which was attributed to the strength in the Toronto market at the latter end of last week. Choice steers sold at $6.50 to $6.60; good at $6.20 to $6.35; fairly good, at $6 to $6.40; fair, at $5.75 to $5.85, and the lower grades at $5 to $5.50 per cwt. There were a number of choice cows among the offerings which brought as high as $5.75 per cwt., and the common ones sold at from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt. A few choice bulls sold at $5.50 to $5.75 per cwt.

A feature of the holding trading was the very strong feeling which developed and prices scored an advance of 25c to 50c per cwt. This strength was due entirely to the sharp rise in prices, which took place in the Toronto market last Thursday and Friday, sales being made as high as $7 per cwt. The supply here to-day was fair, for which the demand was good and a fairly active trade was done, selected lots selling at $7.25 to $7.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

The tone of the market for sheep was stronger and prices have advanced ½c per pound owing to small supplies coming forward and sales were made at 5c per pound. Lambs were steady under a fair demand at prices ranging from $3.50 to $5 each. The demand for calves was good at from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

New York Live Stock.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

But Tom Randall's second witness proved as disappointing, and his hasty, despicable and well executed method of vengeance fell to pieces before his enraged eyes. He, who had not thought twice of fastening a murder upon his enemy, had never for a moment doubted that, the necessity arising, this important witness, this blood relation who shared his hatred, would readily swear away the life of their mutual enemy. He had acted without principle. He had reckoned without his cousin's inherent love for common decency and justice. Aaron Randall positively refused to corroborate the falsehood. "No, sir," he said sternly. "We have a better way."

Tom, abandoning himself to rage and chagrin, turned upon M. Veaudry and Aaron. "You cowardly sneaks!" he cried. "You go back on me now when I had this man where I could pay him what I owed him. There are twenty men around this house who would stamp his life out like a rattlesnake. Give me that pistol."

"Give him the pistol. Give him forty!" added Kirby hotly as Judge Pleydell hesitated. "I'll teach you to skulk behind trees and rob a dead man, to swear a murder on me," he added passionately, turning upon his accuser. "I am clear of your lies. I am within the law now, and you are outside it. Take your pistol, call in your friends to help you, and I'll make"—

"No! No!" cried Adele piteously.

He turned, mastering by an effort his bitter passion. "And," he finished courteously, with a formal bow, "I will make them welcome. It shall never be said of me that I was inhospitable in my own house."

Oblivious to the others, his declaration had been aimed at Adele, and, despite the suave courtesy with which it was delivered, she was acutely conscious of a certain bitter undercurrent of irony in the words, re-enforced by the sardonic challenge of his eyes.

"Your own house," she echoed slowly. "Did you say that"—

"It is mine tonight."

She stared at him, wide eyed and tremulous with sudden fear and horror, as if the phantasmagoria of some hideous dream, a being whom she had swiftly learned to cherish, had in a breath turned into a venomous reptile, its wicked head drawn back to strike.

"There is only one man in the world who could make that claim," she whispered, choking over each word while she still stared with horrified fascination—"only one man in the world who could make that claim!"

"Don't you see who the scoundrel is?" cried Tom, with brutal contempt.

Kirby bowed gravely to Adele Randall.

"Cameo Kirby—at your service, madam. I told you the bad prince always stayed too long," he added sadly, bitterly.

CHAPTER XIII.

IMMEDIATELY following Kirby's dramatic declaration Adele had given a little cry and promptly fainted, while her brother attempted another ineffectual assault upon his enemy. With difficulty he was bundled out of the room by Aaron and M. Veaudry before blood was shed, Kirby being in no humor to stand further insults from his accuser. Then Adele was escorted from the room by old Mammy Lena, Croup's wife, while Judge Pleydell repaired to the balcony and dismissed the patiently waiting posse.

Unwillingly the posse dispersed, some even returning to New Orleans, while the indefatigable old judge retired indoors and sought his three friends, leaving Kirby and Bunce in undisputed possession of the ground floor.

"Well, gentlemen," began Pleydell in a businesslike voice, "there is only one thing to be done, and that is to adhere to our original plan. It is no time now to deplore our mutual blindness. The fact remains that that d—d low gambler has claimed the plantation, as we expected, though I admit he took an unlooked for and devilish roundabout method of doing so."

"If I had had any help he wouldn't be here now," interrupted Tom Randall sulleuly, glowering at Aaron and M. Veaudry. "I'll fix him yet!"

"Not you alone, but the four of us," corrected Pleydell, "and we'll give him a fairer chance than he deserves. In the meantime, Tom, you must control yourself and keep out of his way until the ladies have left the house, for no violence must be indulged in in their presence. Your poor sister has stood about all she can bear, I reckon, though I'm glad she discovered in time the true character of that designing villain"—

"You mean to insinuate that he dared [illegible] to Adele"— [illegible] Tom, springing to his feet in a fresh access of fury.

M. Veaudry laid a restraining hand upon his arm. "It is that I do not think Mr. Kirby has acted as other than a gentleman to a lady," he said pacifically, glancing significantly at Pleydell.

"Gentleman!" sneered young Randall. "As if he knew the meaning of the word! But if he had dared to address Adele I would go down now and"—

"You must learn to control yourself, sir," interposed the judge, somewhat testily, irritated at the boy's mad outbursts. "I think you can safely leave the honor of the family in the mature and capable hands of your cousin. You have misinterpreted my words," he added, ignoring the other's shrug at the mention of Aaron's supposed abilities, "for Anatole is quite right. Mr. Kirby evidently has one virtue—he knows his limits—and your sister is not one to be impressed by such a character even if masquerading under such an honorable name as Colonel Moreau. To return to the real theme, is it agreed, then, that we adhere to our original plan?"

As Tom sulkily refused to speak, Aaron asked gravely: "You mean that the ladies go to your plantation, Judge Pleydell, while we remain for the ostensible purpose of formally handing over the estate to—to that man? The ladies are to be kept in ignorance of our real purpose?"

"I'd shoot him and be done with it," sniffed young Randall. "He'll slip through your fingers again—see if he doesn't."

"Yes, the ladies are to be kept in entire ignorance," agreed Pleydell, ignoring the boy's observation, "likewise Mr. Kirby and that fat scoundrel who accompanies him—no warning, mind, for they are desperate characters who hesitate at nothing. Miss Adele will naturally abhor the idea of remaining under this roof one minute longer than is absolutely necessary. To complete our ostensible purpose inform the servants we are leaving, never to return, and let Miss Adele pack up and take with her such things as belonged to her mother and upon which this scoundrel can have no legal claim. By the way, we must assume charge of Colonel Moreau's portmanteau, with such effects as it may contain. It is our duty to inquire if he left any next of kin and to return his belongings to them. Poor gentleman—so honorable, chivalrous and courageous. I regret that I had not the extreme honor of meeting him while he was yet living."

As, in quest of the portmanteau, Aaron entered the deserted drawing room Kirby, pacing the balcony, hailed him from the window.

"Mr. Randall, if you think that excitable young cousin of yours is ready to listen to me there's something I've got to tell him," he said quietly, mastering his irritation.

"It is our intention that you shall see him, sir, as soon as the ladies have gone," replied Aaron, with a significance lost on the other.

POULTRY OPPORTUNITIES

The Output Should Increase Tenfold In Five Years

It is an interesting and instructive, though possibly not a particularly edifying fact, that the poultry products of this country last year totalled only $25,000,000, as against $625,000,000 for the United States, in the same period. Such figures as these offer food for thought. Poultrying is very much underdone in Canada at the present time, and unless we are going to import eggs and poultry very heavily, our output in the next five years must increase to ten times what it is to-day. Even now we are importing eggs from the United States, Russia, and Germany. Sifting these figures down to their plainest meaning, we are shown that the United States on poultry products is beating us out in the ratio of about three to one per head of population.

PLANTED 20,000 FRUIT TREES

A. C. Pratt, M.P.P. for South Norfolk, has, within the last four years, planted close on 20,000 fruit trees, principally apple, about 12,000 of which have been planted within the last three weeks. The trees cover an area of about 350 acres, and include peach, pear, cherry and apple. Ten thousand strawberry plants were also set out, and 10,000 asparagus plants. Faith in Simcoe County as a fruit country has been taken hold of by a large number of men, and during the past two years over $1,000,000 has been expended in lands and trees by English interests through Mr. Pratt's visits to the old land.

FURS AND MUSKRATS

Mr. C. J. Kerr, game overseer at Hamilton, claims that Old Ontario is richer in furs than New Ontario, but muskrats are becoming scarcer. According to his estimate the catch of furs in the county of Wentworth totals $20,000 annually. Only two years ago the catch of muskrats alone in Dundas march and those adjoining Hamilton Bay totalled $16,000. Naturally the muskrats are decreasing in numbers.—Rod and Gun.

CURIOUS POSTAL PARCELS

Some of the contents of the postal parcels received at the dead letter office, Ottawa, recently, were of a most curious nature. There were 13 suits of baby clothes, 220 blouses, 254 cakes, 12 packages of chewing gum, 24 packages of cigarettes, 1 marriage contract, 8 corsets, 1 ear drum, 2 gramophones, 4 parcels of hair, 88 pieces of maple sugar, 15 pedigrees, 98 shoes, 102 silver watches, 14 artificial teeth, and 6 pairs of trousers.

Expect Government to Help.

Kingston, June 13.—In an interview yesterday Prof. John Watson, vice-principal of Queen's, who has just returned from Ottawa, ridiculed the suggestion that raising the denominational restrictions on the university would in any way divorce religion from its education. Dr. Watson said that the late Principal Grant, had he lived, would have continued to press for the nationalization of Queen's, which he strongly advocated in 1900. Dr. Watson believes the Ontario Government will have to give aid to the university.

Used a Monkey Wrench.

St. Catharines, June 13.—Albert Durand yesterday afternoon appeared before Judge German charged with aggravated assault on William Baker on Wednesday last aboard the steamer Wacondah. Evidence showed that Durand used a monkey wrench to good effect on Baker's head, following a lively argument between the two men. Durand was sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment in the county jail.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

"Now, Please Don't!"

There is one thing we ask you: one very particular and distinctive feature of this store which we wish you not to overlook.

This is not a ready-made clothing shop; it is not a $9.95 store, where a few good clothes are mixed up with a lot of yodelling clothes made in the sweatshop.

Every garment in this store is a genuine "Semi-ready," and it is real tailoring, specialized tailoring, as different from the others as dark from daylight.

The maker's price—the mark of actual and proven worth—is stamped on each garment, with the guarantee that it's worth it.

We want you to know that there is a difference and distinction in Semi-ready Tailoring. Everything is exclusive but the price.

CENTRAL FOR SIX MONTHS

Chas. Wilder Who Says His Home is Peterboro Sentenced

Toronto, June 13.—Having deserted his wife and six children, Charles Wilder, who says he has a business in Peterborough, has been living in Toronto upon the earnings of a young girl's prostitution. He was sent to the Central Prison for six months from police court yesterday morning.

OBITUARY

The Late John Donovan

General regret was expressed to-day at the news of the passing of John Donovan, which occurred at the family residence, Aylmer street, this morning at 3.30 o'clock, after a lingering illness.

The late Mr. Donovan, who was 60 years of age, started his life in Peterborough, when but a small child and as he grew to manhood, won the friendship and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. A number of years he spent in the lumbering business and was probably the best known riverman in these parts. He also conducted a boot and shoe business at Hastings and was identified with Mr. John Kylie, of this city, for many years and was with Mr. Kylie before his late illness. He was a member of the C.M.B.A.

Surviving are a wife and family of six sons and one daughter. The sons are William, Henry, Thomas, Samuel, James and Eugene and the daughter is Mrs. N. Gillis. All reside here. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at nine o'clock from the late residence to the Sacred Heart church and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

REYNOLDS BLEW UP

Port Hope Barber Only Walked Eighteen Miles

Jimmy Reynolds went out for exercise this morning. He walked eighteen miles, fell by the roadside with severe cramps, and had to be driven back to the Oriental hotel at Newcastle. This little jaunt just cost him $280.00. And this makes a total loss of $1,080 that Jimmy has lost on the walking game.

It was his intention to walk to Toronto and back in 35 hours, and he bet $250.00 against $500.00 that he could make the trip. He also bet $20 to $50 that he could reach Toronto in 15 hours, and $10 to $20 that he could make Toronto in 17 1-2 hours. But he blew up one mile west of Newcastle, and as this is the second time that he has quit at Newcastle on his way to the city on his way to the city, it is quite evident that the walking game is too much for him. No person had the slightest idea that Jimmy would walk to Toronto and back in 35 hours, nor in 45 hours. We did think that he might reach the city, but this performance clearly shows that he is not a walker, and he should give it up for a bad hob.

And the same men who took his $800 will take $250 more to-day. That is the spongy end of it. They hang up odds of 2 to 1, which looks large to Jimmy and he grabs at it. It is easily a $1,000 to $1 shot, and that is what the bookmakers at the Woodbine would offer. There is no sport about it at all, in fact a good sport would never make the wager. We do not wish to lead any person to believe that the opposition went in search of this bet. Reynolds was the one to make the proposition, but even at that the other side should have passed it up. We sincerely hope that this walking game is at an end.—Port Hope Guide.

D. B. THOMAS IS JAILED

Echo of the Short Lived Boom in Lindsay

Was "Doing" Others When Placed Under Arrest

Lindsay, June 13.—D. B. Thomas, the slick swindler, who operated in Lindsay several months ago, when he promoted the Thomas Shoe Factory bubble, has been arrested in Breckenridge, Minnesota, where he was also seeking to "do" the people. This morning Acting Chief Constable Short received the following letter from the County Attorney, E. H. Elwin:

Board of Trade or Chief of Police, Lindsay, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—We have one David B. McCain, in jail here for forgery; he tells us that he operated in your town as a shoe manufacturer and that the people put up a bonus for him in starting the project; that he operated there under the name of D. B. Thomas, and that he forged some notes at the Home Bank of Canada, in Lindsay. I wonder if you can give us any information as to his doings there if any; he is about 28 to 30 years old, 5 ft. 10 in. tall, weight about 180 to 190 pounds, dark complexion, smooth spoken and good appearance.

Very truly,
E.H. ELWIN,
Co. Attorney.

Breckenridge, Minn., June 4, 1911.

IN REAL ESTATE.

Enclosed in the letter was also the following clipping from the Breckenridge Telegram, which explains the matter of Thomas' swindle in the States:

David B Myers, representing himself to be a resident of Freeport, Ill., but registering at the hotel as from St. Paul, was arrested here on Tuesday afternoon for attempting to swindle Burrows and Shepherd, of this city, out of $11,000 and also for forging a warranty deed. He has agreed to plead guilty to the charge and appears the latter part of this week.

Mr. Myers arrived in town last week and informed the Plaisted Bros. land firm that he was about to buy a half section of land south of Foxhome which he wished them to show him. They therefore took him down and showed him the land. He then began negotiating with Burrows & Shepherd to buy the land from him, finally coming to an agreement where he was to get $4,000 cash and property to the value of $7,000, the papers for which were drawn up and signed.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Mr. W. H. Bradburn was in Port Hope yesterday.

Rev. Father Phelan was at Toronto yesterday attending the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Teefy.

Mrs. Ernie Hannah and daughter, Madge, left for their home in Montreal to-day via the 11.26 C. P.R. train.

Mr. Arthur V. Wood, son of Mr. R. E Wood, has completed his course and returned to this city for the summer, going into his father's office. He passed the final examinations very successfully, securing as high as 80 per cent. in several subjects. He will receive his call at the convocation to be held in September.

WEDDING BELLS

NANCARROW—HARRIS.

The marriage of Miss Ada Nancarrow, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Charles Nancarrow, Campbellford, to Mr. C. H. Harris, of Nova Scotia, was quietly solemnized by the Rev. A. J. Reid in the presence of only immediate relatives. The bride wore a gown of white satin with veil and orange blossom wreath, and wore a necklet and pendant of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Mae Nancarrow, in pale blue satin, with pearl embroidery and pearl brooch from the groom. Mr. A. B. Colville was best man. After the ceremony, Mr and Mrs. Harris left for Halifax, the going-away dress being of navy blue with hat to match.—Globe.

GENERAL SESSIONS

Opened at One O'clock — Four Cases on the Docket

The general sessions of the County Court opened this afternoon, with Judge Huycke presiding, and four cases on the docket.

The civil action of the Bank of Ottawa vs. John Haggart was commenced first. Mr. G. W. Hatton is appearing for the complaint, and Mr. E. L. Goodwill for the defendant.

The other civil action is the Peter Hamilton Co., Ltd., vs. Cummings and Cummings.

There are two criminal cases, in which will be heard three charges of theft.

The grand jury and petit jury were called, and R. H. Leary was selected as foreman of the grand jury, after which they were sworn.

In his address to the grand jury his Honor congratulated them and the county on the comparattively light duties to be performed. These duties, he said, were of importance to themselves, the municipality and to the interests of the citizens of the county.

"You are to see that the people's interests are safeguarded, and also that their rights are not unduly interfered with," said his Honor.

"It is not your duty to try a prisoner but, to see if there is some reasonable ground for putting him on this trial. If you do come to the conclusion that there is sufficient evidence to put him on trial, then it is your duty to find a 'True Bill,' but if, after hearing the evidence, you find that there has been a mistake some place—that there is not sufficient evidence to justify his being placed on trial—then it is your duty to find 'No Bill.'"

His Honor explained the duties of the grand jury as to making an inspection of the public institutions, and referred to the fact that whereas at this time last year, the occasion was one of national mourning, in the death of King Edward, the present time was one of rejoicings at the coming acclamation of his son, King George V. The signs of the times were those of peace, and it was a matter of congratulation that while the empire had been great in the past, it would be more so in the future.

EXCURSIONS TO WESTERN CANADA

The Grand Trunk Railway system announce that on Tuesdays, June 13th and 27th, July 11th and 25th, August 8th and 22nd, September 5th and 19th, 1911, Homeseekers' Excursions will be run from all stations in Ontario and Quebec to Western Canada, via Chicago, and Duluth or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, at reduced round trip fares.

The well-known double track line of the Grand Trunk from the East to Chicago appeals to the traveller, and with the superior train service that is offered by this line, including the famous "International Limited" from Montreal daily at 9 a.m., and which is the finest and fastest train in Canada, many passengers will be attracted this way. The route via Chicago is a most interesting one, taking passengers through the principal cities and towns in Canada and in the States of Michigan and Indiana. In addition to this a choice of seven lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is offered.

Canadian citizens are exempt from so-called Immigration examination, and there is no detention at any point.

Baggage is carried through the United States in bond without requiring any special attention on the part of the passenger. Inspection is not necessary at any of the points at the Border.

Another feature that will appeal to the home-seeker is the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth into freshly ventilated clean cars, avoiding the necessity of travelling a long distance in the same car.

In addition to the above routes, the sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarnia, and the Northern Navigation Company's magnificent steamers across Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, or write to Mr. J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent, Bonaventure Station, Montreal, or Mr. A. E. Duff, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto.

BOARD OF WORKS AND THE MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE

John Thirnbeck Recommended for Position of Foreman on Sewer Work.

John Thirnbeck was the choice of the Board of Works for the position of foreman on sewers for this season, at the meeting held last night. Two other applicants were Martin Neary and William Bell.

GAS MAINS

The city engineer reported on a number of streets on which the Peterborough Light and Power Co., wished to install gas mains. The streets are George, Downie, Charlotte, Sherbrooke Argyle, McDonnel, Rubidge and Margaret Avenue. The company intend to put a six inch main to Ashburnham during their operations which mean the installing of about five miles of mains.

Mr. Munro asked permission to proceed with the work. "Have you applications from citizens for a gas service on those streets," asked the mayor.

Mr. Munro replied that the company had.

On motion of Ald. Duncan and Anderson, the request was granted the engineer to see that the company's operations do not damage the roadbed on Charlotte Street.

THE CEMENT SUPPLY

Ex Ald. R. Hicks, asked that a clause in his agreement with the city for the supply of cement be modified. The agreement made him liable, in case of a railway or coal car strike, or car shortage, etc.

The matter was discussed at some length, from the standpoint of both, the city's and company's interests, and on motion of Ald. Buller and Duncan the city solicitor was authorized to modify the agreement.

A NEW WALK

A communication was received from the chairman of the City Trust Commissioners, stating that the comission was willing to bear the expense of a granolithic sidewalk from Simcoe to Charlotte streets to the west of the market.

SEWER FOREMAN

Wm. Ball applied for the position of foreman on sewers. Other previous applicants were J. Thirnbeck, and Martin Neary. Ald. Graham moved that Mr. Thirnbeck be appointed Ald. Buller moved an amendment that Mr. Neary get the position. The vote went in favor of Ald. Graham's motion and Mr. Thirnbeck got the job.

SIDEWALKS AND SEWERS

The city engineer reported on nearly six miles of sidewalks and sewers to be constructed. The work will be proceeded with at once, the sidewalk work first.

TELEPHONE POLES

The local manager of the Bell Telephone Company asked that the matter of erecting poles on the streets by the company, be left in the hands of the chairman of the Board of Works, on the report by the city engineer.

The committee decided that the matter be under the authority of the Board of Worsk with power to act. Hereafter applications went into the council and delay was caused.

A NEW STREET

D. W. Dumble sent an offer of a street from Benson Avenue to Bethune Street of 50 feet, council to grade street and construct sidewalks and sewer after six houses are built, the street to be named Fitzgerald Avenue. The offer was accepted on the understanding that the street be 66 feet and that sewers and watermains be constructed in the usual way.

SEWER PIPES

The matter of awarding the contract for swer pipe was left in the hands of the engineer and chairman, with power to act.

MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE

Mr. C. Clementi waited upon the Manufacturers' Committee, asking that the city have an advertisement in a book to be published towards the latter part of June.

The Committee decided to take a one page advertisement.

Mr. Clementi noted that information relative to the lift lock, and canal route was greatly in demand by owners of water craft from all over Canada. In one case Mr. J. H. McClellan canal superintendent, had received one letter from St. Petersburg, Russia asking about the lift lock.

The book to be published contains information regarding the lift lock individual charts of lakes and rivers, on the route of the canal, distances, water powers and other information, and would sell at $1. The Electric Power Company, other concerns, and the Lindsay Board had a one page advertisement. The price to municipalities was $20 per page. Mr. Roy was to take photographs along the canal route, the reproductions to be used in the book.

MORE ADVERTISING

Mr. McAlpin was present in regard to an advertising map, of which the city had been asked for an order of 1000. He stated that the Electric Power Co., was now willing to supply half tones of water powers free of cost to be shown on the map, and this with information about the city, would make it more useful as an advertising medium. He asked the city to take a 3000 order.

The matter was left with the mayor and chairman.

MISS GUMPRICHT'S MUSICALE

The concert hall of the J. M. Greene Music Store, was filled to capacity last evening, by the music loving portion of Peterboro's citizens, who evinced by their presence, the deep interest they entertained for the excellent musical services Miss Wilhelmina Gumpricht, the talented and popular local piano instructor is rendering the city through her pupils. Assisted by Miss Leslie Horner, pianist of Toronto, Mr. Hague Sawers, baritone; and Herbert Rush, tenor; the "musicale" given by Miss Gumpricht, was deservedly worthy of the large and high class patronage it received. The delicate expressive and skillful piano work of her pupils given with unmistakeable assurance and ease, all spoke volumes for the painstaking efforts of their popular and talented instructor and for their own faithful and earnest application to their studies.

The program was of distinctly classical nature, and was so pleasingly and skillfully varied as to prove a source of delight throughout. The assisting artists were warmly greeted in their vocal and instrumental selections and their numbers were all greatly enjoyed.

The following was the program:

PART ONE

Piano Duet — Festival Procession March, F. G. Rathburn; Misses Grace Gumpricht and Helen Greaves.

Piano Solo—(a) Au Matin op. 83, B. Godard (b) La Cigale; Miss Florence Scott.

Piano Solo—Etude de Concert op. 18, C. Lavalle, Miss Mary Laing.

Vocal Solo—The Muleteer of Tarragona, Paul Henrion; Mr. Hague Sawers.

Piano Solo—(a) Valse Elegante op. 95 Aug. Nolck; (b) Polacca Brillante op. 121 George Eggeling; Miss Helen Greaves.

Vocal Solo—Good Bye, F. Tosti; Mr. Herbert Rush.

PART TWO

Piano Duo—Pas Des Cymbales op. 36 No. 2, C. Chaminade: 1st, piano—Miss Wilhelmina Gumpricht, 2nd piano Miss Grace Gumpricht.

Piano Solo—(a The Flatterer op. 50 C. Chaminade; (b) Fantaisie De Concert, Lefebure Wily; Miss Annie Deyell.

Piano Solo—Marche Grotesque, C. Sinding, Miss Geraldine King.

Piano Solo—(a) Waltz in E. Major M. Moskowski; (b) Perpetunm Mobile C. M. Von Weber, Miss Leslie Horner.

Vocal Solo—"O Canada", Mr. Herbert Rush.

Patronesses—Mrs. W. D. Scott, Mrs Robt. Neil, Mrs. Gumpricht, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Mrs. W. H. Hill.

Miss Gumpricht wishes to express her gratitude and thanks to Mr. J. M. Greene for the use of the concert hall for the occasion, and to all who assisted her in any way towards making her recital such a grand success.

Little Dorothy Hill at the conclusion of the duet selection by the Misses Wilhelmina and Grace Gumpricht presented each with a beautiful floral bouquet and also one to Miss Leslie Horner, whose magnificent playing charmed the audience. Miss Horner is to succeed Miss Gumpricht as pianist in September, and no doubt will be extended the warm welcome that in the past has been accorded Miss Gumpricht.

THE GAME ON THE GREEN

Close Scores at Brookside Lawn Bowling Club

The following games were played on Brookside lawn yesterday;

Singles—Fitzgerald, 13; Robertson, 12; Brightman, 12; Robertson, 13; Marshall, 13; Pratt, 4; Pratt, 13; Lockhart, 8; Marshall, 13; Maynard, 12.

Doubles—Fitzgerald and Maynard 13, vs. Lockhart and Pratt, 12; McCarthy and Moore, 13 vs. McKnight and Hall 10.

The most exciting game of the season was between;

Bambrick	Harrington
Caniff	Gutterson
Ross	Marshall
Clerke, skip—19	Yeates, skip—22

It will be noticed there are a lot of new men among the above and, if last night's playing is any criterion there is a bunch of young men in the club who will make the best of the old players sit up and take notice. Observe what a close squeeze Dr. Marshall had with Mr. Maynard, 13 to 12. Friday and Saturday also had some fine games, but the scores were not handed in.

ST. JOHN'S WERE WINNERS AGAIN

Defeated Park Street Team Last Night—Score 3-2

Playing ten men to St. John's eleven last night the Park Street team was defeated by the score of 3-2 on their own grounds.

After 2 mins play, the Baptists secured the first goal of the evening, on a nice rush from the face-off. St John's came back strong, but the forwards were being continually called back for offsides. In about 7 mins Lasemby missed an easy one, and the score stood 1-1. A few minutes before the resting period, Lasenby attempted to boot a grounder, and kicked the air, the ball rolling into his goal. St. John's 2, Park Street, 1.

SECOND PERIOD

The Baptists despaired of their eleventh man, and went in to make the best of it. The next goal was scored by the "Saints" but after that neither side had much the advantage.

About 10 minutes before time, Gregory tripped Follis in the penalty district. They were both stretched out for a while, Gregory falling on his neck, getting the worst of the encounter. A penalty was allowed for Gregory's rough-house tactics, and Park Street scored in it. St. John's 3 Park Street 2.

ALL SAINTS' LOST TO COLDSPRINGS

In Game Last Night on Brinton Meadows, Score 3-1

The stock of the highly-tooted All Saints team took a decided drop last night. In their game with Cold-Springs on the Brinton Meadows, they were defeated by a 3-1 score.

During the first half the "Saints" were played off their feet, the out of town boys scoring three times. Cold Springs had a strong team and played together well.

In the second period All Saints scored once but could not even up. The losers failed to show much speed while the Cold Springs line was in good form

The loss last night by All Saints and the win for St. John's over Park Street gives St John's another chance for first place.

THREE IN ROAD RACE

Smoke Looked Fit to Take the Honors

There were only three starters in the road race from the Examiner to Ennismore, which was comemnced at 1.45 this afternoon. Smoke, the Indian from Chemong Village was the likely looking winner. The other two men were strangers to the racing game. Mr. Fred Roy took a photograph of the three runners, before they were sent away by R. M. Glover.

Too Soon to Consider.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 13.—Word was received here yesterday from the Canadian Minister of Justice that a reprieve for Mrs. Angelina Neapolitano, sentenced to be hanged August 9 for the murder of her husband, could not be considered so far in advance of the date of execution.

Petitions urging a reprieve are being circulated in many Canadian and American cities.

Arrangements have been made for the prisoner to be taken to a maternity hospital next month.

Congregational Union.

Kingston, June 13.—The Congregational Union closed its sessions last night. An invitation received from Zion Church, Montreal, for the next meeting place, was accepted.

Rev. H. I. Horsey of Ottawa, who spoke on the ministry and social and moral reform, expressed great regret that Parliament had re-sanctioned professional gambling on racetracks, and that the law did not prohibit the sending and reporting of racing information.

Popular Elections of U. S. Senators.

Washington, June 13.—The Senate, by 64 to 24, passed the resolution amending the constitution to provide for election of Senators by direct popular vote. The Bristow amendment, giving to the Federal Government supervision of such elections, was adopted 46 to 44, the vice-president casting the deciding ballot. The House has already passed the resolution.

Fire In Freight Cars.

Montreal, June 13.—A blaze was discovered early Sunday morning in a line of old Grand Trunk Railway freight cars on the Guard pier, and two men who were caught coming away from the burning cars, were taken into custody. Between fifteen and twenty of the cars were destroyed or badly damaged.

Big Dry Dock For Toronto.

Ottawa, June 13.—J. B. Miller of the Polson Iron Works was here yesterday to see the Minister of Public Works in reference to the subsidy which is to be given to the dry dock which is to be built at the foot of Frederick street.

The plans for the dock have been approved by J. G. Sing, the departmental engineer at Toronto and provide for a dock to cost $900, and big enough to take care of the largest boats on the lakes. Mr. Pugsley is expected to give an early assent to the proposal.

A Clean Sweep.

Montreal, June 13.—Sixty households will be compelled to purchase new carpets as the result of a blaze early yesterday, which played havoc with household fittings that had been sent for cleaning purposes to the Murray Carpet Cleaning Co., 331 Chatham street.

It was necessary to get six streams into operation to prevent the flames from communicating to adjacent buildings.

The loss to the Murray Carpet Cleaning Co. is estimated to be about $1,800. Though there were many carpets in the place to be cleaned, none were of very great value. The cause of the fire is unknown.

New Pulp District.

Ottawa, June 13.—Ontario may have a new pulp industry district, which will challenge those of Quebec if the result of the investigation to be conducted by a party from the interior department into the pulp properties of the English River district proves as successful as expected.

The English River is the boundary between Ontario and the new district of Keewatin, so that the work of the party will be of interest to both.

Mr. J. W. Kerrie, a graduate of the Forestry School of the New Brunswick College, will be in charge of the party.

Chatham Manufacturer Dead.

Chatham, June 13.—James S. Gray, secretary-treasurer of the firm of Wm. Gray & Sons, carriage manufacturers, passed away suddenly at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, aged 47 years and 10 months. He had not been in good health for some years, but the end came with a suddenness that was a shock to his wide circle of friends.

The late James Scott Gray was born in Chatham, a son of the late William Gray, founder of the Gray Carriage Works. He is survived by his brother and partner, Robert Gray, president of the company. He was educated here in the public and high school, and after two years' college course, went into the factory, where he has been secretary-treasurer ever since the inception of the present firm.

MODERNIZE EDUCATION

Superintendent Seath Thinks Radical Changes Should be Made

Dr. Seath, Superintendent of Education, has enumerated several obstacles which stand in the way of the "modernization" of the schools of Ontario. Chief among these is "the system of uniform departmental examinations which for over a quarter of a century have not only determined the character of the teaching but have held in thrall the pupils, the teachers and the public." It is upon the results of these examinations that a teacher's standing, promotion, and salary depend. Next, the general desire for an occupation that allows clean hands and good clothes and the lack of suitable provisions for industrial and agricultural education explains, or along with the academic tradition, explains why the principal products turned out by the schools have been teachers and professional people generally. The schools send out increasing numbers of clerks, book-keepers, and stenographers whose work also admits of the clean hands and good clothes and whose courses are brief and comparatively inexpensive. Add to this the third great obstacle, the difficulty of securing regular and adequate attendance. Only 2,801 of the 456,302 pupils enrolled in the schools reach the highest class.

The Superintendent recommends as fundamental a good general education as an essential preparation for all vocations and a closer connection between the schools and the activities of life. With this as a basis Dr. Seath goes on to enumerate in detail the special features of a scheme of organization to include courses in manual training and household science, general and special industrial schools and technical high schools. For work people there are to be part time day industrial schools and evening apprenticeship schools, and also correspondence study schools. In order to secure an adequate supply of teachers an industrial and technical college is recommended. Agricultural courses in the high schools are to be organized. Provision is to be made for the encouragement of the fine arts in a central art school. The Dominion Government is expected to establish an institute for industrial research, and to provide a special subsidy for the advancement of agricultural and industrial education in all the provinces.

HELPING THE YOUNG

What Regina is Doing to Improve Neglected Children

That it is better to save a child from crime than to send him to a reformatory afterwards is the key to the spirit that animated the people of Regina, Sask., in establishing a shelter—which was opened a few days ago—so as to deal effectively with the cases of child neglect that come before the courts, says the Standard.

The movement for the betterment of the children was started two years ago, and the work began in a small way, a house being rented for it. The movement appealed to the citizens, and a by-law was passed voting ten thousand dollars, which enabled the directorate to erect the present building and give it up-to-date equipment.

A great feature is the entire absence of anything suggestive of "an institution" about the furnishings of the home. The enamelled bedsteads are such as might be found in any well-to-do home, and the spotless linen and beautiful furniture will always be a pleasant memory in the minds of the children. During the short time the home has been in existence over one hundred children have passed through it, the policy of the directors being to find homes for the children at the earliest opportunity, so that no child is detained any longer than absolutely necessary. Even children committed by the police magistrate are allowed home on patrole, the parents, of course being kept under observation. Three boys are at present on parole, who but for the influence of the home would in all likelihood have been serving terms of imprisonment.

MAKE IT ACTIVE AND HEALTHY WITH "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Don't treat the Liver with common purgatives. Salts, senna, calomel and the host of "liver pills" do not act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure Biliousness and Torpid Liver because this famous fruit medicine acts directly on the liver.

"Fruit-a-tives" corrects Indigestion and Constipation—not by inflaming the bowels like common purgatives, but by making the liver active and healthy.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest liver medicine in the world, and is the only medicine made of fruit juices.

Country Town Sayings

By Ed. Howe

If the Lord and the Devil should run for president, Hon. Devil would make quite a race.

If you practice high ideals modestly and quietly, word that you are a high ideal man will get around without your mentioning it.

You might hear some strange things were it not for the fear that you would tell.

The man who does not amount to much himself, always expects a great deal of others.

Success does not always mean happiness; but always means a large number of active enemies.

If a man dies without life insurance his wife may not print a card in the newspapers, to complain, but she won't like it.

When a man succeeds, he does it in spite of everybody, and not with the assistance of anybody.

It isn't an evidence that there is less business because you are getting less. You competitor may be getting more.

The really important lessons of life are taught as universally as the alphabet, and are almost as simple.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir—Now that an election is in sight, the Government is hastening to adopts, one of the chief planks, in the Conservative program, namely, rural mail delivery.

It will be remembered how the Laurier Government and the Examiner of Peterboro, criticised this rural mail delivery scheme as an absolute impossibility, that would entail enormous deficits and plunge the money into debt.

The Liberals had to come to it and the farmers of the present day are reaping the benefits of one of the best planks in the Conservative platform.

The Crimson Domino

What Happened at a Masquerade in High Life

By MARY L. HARKNESS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911

Pennington is one of those places where wealthy people from the city live all the year round, though some have residences in town in which they spend a few months in midwinter. But as for social pleasures, Pennington residents have most of the enjoyments of city life with those of the country added. Their summer outdoor sports are prolonged till late in the autumn, and they play golf any time when the ground is free from snow.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Archie Worth came to live at Pennington at the instigation of Charlie Erwin, Archie's intimate friend. Had Erwin foreseen what this change of residence would bring about he would certainly not have proposed it. There resulted one of the most unpleasant situations that can happen to a man. Worth had no sooner settled at Pennington than he was obliged to go abroad on business. Before his departure he said to his friend:

"Charlie, I'm going to leave Winifred in your charge. Being a newcomer here, it is liable to be pretty dull for her at first, and I shall expect you to see that she gets invitations to what's going on both out of doors and inside, and when she needs an escort take her about yourself. You're one of the few men I know with whom I would trust my wife without the slightest compunction. I hope to get back here in time for the holidays, but I may be detained longer."

Erwin accepted the charge. Indeed, since the Worths had come to Pennington at his instance he could not do less, and, having accepted it, he devoted himself during that autumn to giving Winifred Worth a pleasant season. He drove her out, made up automobile parties for her, escorted her to field sport matches and rode with her across country.

Now, in the communities of smart sets the love affairs that go on among the unmarried and the married as well are not as with people less pretentious. Either the courtships of the boys and girls attract little attention or they precede marriages of convenience. Now and again some married woman will make an incursion upon the domain of the girls and carry off an eligible young man, gaining nothing for herself and robbing the girls.

There was a married woman of middle age living at Pennington, a Mrs. Edwards, nearly forty and much given to the society of men younger than herself. She was not popular with the women, but so long as she could monopolize their husbands, brothers and lovers she was indifferent to their opinion of her. This woman had resolved to make Charlie Erwin her cavalier when Archie Worth went abroad and left his wife in Charlie's care.

One night or, rather, morning, Charlie Erwin went to bed conscious of being the central figure of a peculiar situation. During the evening Mrs. Edwards had shown plainly that she proposed to monopolize him, and Mrs. Worth, the wife of his friend, who had left her in his charge, had indicated that she had been overwhelmed by one of those mad passions for him which will lead a woman to wreck herself for the man she loves.

Had Erwin been a lightweight man either intellectually or morally perhaps he might have been flattered that two women should have singled him out for the bestowal of their favors. But he was a man of character and with a high sense of honor. He knew women well and felt assured that, while Mrs. Edwards' interest in him was the satisfaction of appropriating him to herself, Winifred Worth had really become infatuated with him. The situation was most dangerous for him and Winifred, for not only had Winifred's infatuation made her reckless, but Mrs. Edwards would doubtless be on the watch for some slip which she might turn to account against her rival.

After thinking the matter over Erwin decided that there was no safety for him except in flight. True, the leaving behind of two women who were at swords' points about him—he not being on hand to repress either—was fraught with danger, but less dangerous than to remain. Besides, flight would put him personally in a better position in case the affair came out.

But in order to leave matters in as good shape as possible he went to the vicious one of the two and, assuring her of his devotion to her, told her that it was necessary for him to go away for a time on business.

I have said that Charlie Erwin knew women. He certainly didn't know Mrs. Edwards or he would not have counted upon her, even in this slight respect. She conveyed the news of Erwin's proposed flight to her rival and, knowing that Winifred would see Erwin and endeavor to keep him, lay in wait for the couple with a view to surprising them and thus getting Winifred in her power.

Having a maid who was quite bright in observing people's motions, Mrs. Edwards instructed her to shadow Erwin and report if he visited her rival. At 5 o'clock on the afternoon Erwin was to depart the maid telephoned her mistress that he had gone to Mrs. Worth's home. Mrs. Edwards went there immediately, entered without ringing and found Charlie and Winifred in the library, Winifred in tears.

Mrs. Edwards, having made the two aware of her presence, said that she had called and, not getting a reply to her ring, had ventured in. Then she withdrew.

Erwin saw at once that he had made a mistake in informing Mrs. Edwards of his proposed departure. He felt that he and Winifred Worth were as much in her power as if she had had a dozen witnesses to the scene she had come upon, for a married woman must be above suspicion. He abandoned his plan of going away, feeling it necessary for him to remain and, if possible, scotch the viper who he was convinced had determined to put her poisonous fangs into her rival.

That year the smart set of Pennington concluded to give a masquerade ball at the close of the season and before the opening of Lent. The costumes worn on the occasion during the first part of the evening were to be covered with dominos until the unmasking, when the dominos, with the masks, were to be thrown off.

Charlie Erwin resolved to take advantage of this ball to spring a trap on Mrs. Edwards that he hoped would put her out of business as to doing Winifred Worth or himself any harm. Worth returned a few days before Ash Wednesday. He thanked Charlie for his attentions to his wife, but Charlie could see that he had heard more of those attentions than he cared to hear. Nevertheless he was cordial and invited Charlie to dinner on the evening of the ball. After dinner he went out, leaving his friend alone with his wife, thus indicating his confidence. This gave Charlie an opportunity to give Winifred so much of his plan as was essential. He told her to tell her husband that she would wear a crimson domino, but to use one of another color. This she promised to do.

There was no hall in Pennington suitable for a ball, so one of the largest dwelling houses was offered by its owner for the purpose.

A crimson domino was seen moving about, always attended by a purple one, the two dancing together nearly every set. Presently some one standing behind Worth said, "Look out for the crimson!" Worth saw the crimson and the purple dominos going out of a door together.

Worth was an honorable man and above spying, especially on his own wife. But Mrs. Edwards had contrived to let out enough of his friend's attention to his wife during his absence, colored to suit her purpose, to make him anxious. He turned to look behind him and saw a pale blue domino just passing away. The figure turned and pointed to the crimson. There was something about this person which the domino did not conceal that was familiar to him. Whether it was the walk or the gesture, or what it was, he could not tell.

But this did not concern him as much as the crimson. He remembered that his wife had told him she would wear a crimson domino, and he had seen the domino constantly attended by the purple one. Indeed, the green monster had begun to take root in his breast before the warning came. Following the two retreating figures, he was led through several rooms on the ground floor. The figure in purple, evidently a man, occasionally turned his head and looked back.

Worth believed the man fancied himself followed and was making an effort to shake his shadower. This only added to the former's determination to remain on the scent. Nevertheless he lost sight several times of the pair, who mounted from one story to another till they entered an apartment built on the roof and used for plants.

Before going in the purple domino turned evidently to see if others were about, but by this time Worth had learned that if he were to discover what he dreaded he had better keep out of sight. He waited impatiently for awhile, then stole to where the two had entered. The crimson domino was encircled in the purple domino's arms. Rushing forward, there was a muffled shriek. He tore off the mask of the woman he thought to be his wife.

He exposed the face of Mrs. Edwards. The man uncovered, and Worth saw his friend Charlie Erwin.

With an humble apology, Worth retreated, and Erwin felt sure that any expectation of trouble with his friend had been eliminated.

The next morning both Erwin and Mrs. Edwards left Pennington, but not together. Mrs. Edwards did not return, and Erwin remained away until the next spring, when the Worths removed to the city. Then he returned.

Thus by judicious management a woman who yielded to a passing fancy was saved from the world's cold criticism.

SURGEONS' FEES.

Pretty Big Sometimes, but Then There Is Another Point of View.

I have a warm spot in my heart for the big American surgeons, says a writer in the New York Telegraph, and because of regular attendance for years at some of the most famous clinics in this and other cities I have been a witness of their unadvertised charities—acts of mercy and kindness which were never heard of outside the walls of the hospitals they honor by their services.

I knew a wealthy man whose daughter was suddenly stricken and whose life was saved by the attending surgeon. His fee was $25,000. Straightway the father emitted a wail.

"It's robbery," he said. The surgeon stood firm.

"Your daughter's life is worth $25,000 to you," he countered. There was no denial.

"Well, this fee means that I can operate on fifty persons without any charge, and if you don't like it you can force me to sue, but I will get it without a suit or you will stand a lot of publicity."

And he got the money without recourse to a court of law.

It is safe to mark it down when you see a story of some great surgeon who has charged a high fee that there are many of his patients enjoying good health and relief from pain because he charged them nothing at all.

Perfumes.

Civet is an aromatic substance of the consistence of honey and is obtained from a pouch on the civet cat, an animal from two to three feet long and about ten or twelve inches high. The best known of animal odors is musk, which is obtained from the musk deer. China furnishes the best quality. Twenty-five pods or sacks are packed in oblong boxes composed of plates of lead inclosed in a caddy made of pasteboard. Musk is obtained from Assam, Siberia, the Altai mountains and other parts of northern Asia. Ambergris is another animal odor. It is secreted in the intestines of the spermaceti whale. A very curious fact is that ambergris is only accumulated by disease—that is, it is only secreted in a sick whale. It is very hard, of a light gray color and is found in quantities varying from twenty to fifty pounds. It is worth about £6 an ounce.—London Standard.

Mucilage and Gum.

"I went into a stationer's shop in London one day," said an American, "and said to the shop assistant:

"'Do you keep mucilage?'

"'No, sir,' the young man answered. 'We try to take in all the papers, but there are so many new ones coming out. Still, I can order mucilage for you, sir. Which number did you want?'

"I learned afterward that I should have asked for gum. They don't have the word 'mucilage' over there in England.

"But an Englishman traveling on one of our railways stopped a train boy and said:

"'Have you got any gum?'

"'No; I don't use it, boss,' the boy replied in friendly fashion, 'but I can let you have a chaw off this here plug.'"—Washington Star.

An Accomplished Linguist.

"Did you learn any French while you were in Paris?" asked Bildad, meeting Slithers shortly after his return from Europe.

"Oh, a little," said Slithers. "Not so very much, though. I got so I could say cigarette in French."

"Good!" said Bildad. "What is cigarette in French?"

"Cigarette," said Slithers.—Harper's Weekly.

PUMP MUST BE REMOVED; ANNUAL CONVENTION REPORT

Mr. Henderson Gets Leave of Absence at Session of Water Commissioners.

The turbine pump question was practically settled at a meeting of the water commissioners held yesterday afternoon. The letter which Mr. Kennedy wrote some time ago regarding the matter was handed over to the city solicitor for his disposition, which he submitted yesterday. It was to the effect that the secretary write Mr. Kennedy on behalf of the commissioners ordering the removal of the pumps.

The McDougall company contended that they should have four more months to make tests of the pump, but the commissioners were opposed to the idea.

A letter was read from the Queen Mary hospital management asking for water rates. A latter from the secretary of the Peterborough Protestant Home Board was received, asking for water connection to the new building on Anson street. The waterworks superintendent was instructed to find out the cost of extending a "4," "5" and "6" main up to the site.

A communication was received from the Canadian General Electric company asking for some one to be sent to inspect the hydrants and sprinklers at their new building to enable them to ascertain the extra water rate cost. Mr. Matthews, the chairman, wrote the C.G.E. asking them to submit a blue print plan showing the location of the various hydrants, etc.

The city solicitor wrote asking to have a hydrant installed at the corner of McDonnel and Cambridge streets.

Twenty hydrants are to be ordered from the Wm. Hamilton Company to be delivered at the earliest possible moment.

Three months leave of absence was granted to W. Henderson, waterworks superintendent, for the benefit of his health, his salary to continue as before.

During his absence his duties will be performed by A. G. Fawcett, his present assistant. As this change will necessitate more help, Mr. Geo. Haley was engaged as Mr. Fawcett's assistant.

The commissioners will write to the three waterworks foremen notifying them that Mr. Fawcett has been appointed temporarily to the position of superintendent.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, who attended the convention of waterworks engineers and commissioners in Rochester, was present. He was very enthusiastic over the splendid gathering and its beneficial results. The following was his report:—

REPORT OF T. F. MATTHEWS.

As directed by the board, I attended the above named convention, going to Rochester by way of Toronto and Buffalo. I was very much impressed with the value of a gathering such as this, particularly for waterworks engineers, superintendents, or others interested in supplying pure water for public purposes. It was largely attended by representatives from both the United States and Canada. Papers were read and discussed by those foremost in their professions, and criticisms freely offered by those in actual control of waterworks plants.

A most important feature was the display by every manufacturer of importance of waterworks goods and tools, with experts to explain their use and value.

I will not attempt to give any extended report of the papers presented, as these will be sent to the commissioners printed and bound in the near future. On Tuesday, 6th inst., after the usual president's address, and reports of committees, a paper on pumping station management was read. This was not particularly interesting to me, as it referred altogether to the operation of stations using steam as motive power. In the evening we had an illustrated lecture on the Panama canal, and a most excellent paper on "Some fundamental considerations in the determinations of a reasonable return for public hydrant service." In brief, some conclusions arrived at, were:—

Public fire hydrant service in the United States and Canada is usually paid for upon the basis of an annual rental for each hydrant.

2. Those hydrant rentals rarely bear any relation to the cost or the value of the service rendered.

3. They have heretofore usually been determined by average prices paid in the state or surrounding district, in the case of the larger communities, and by the requirement of meeting the interest charges upon the plant investment, in small ones.

4. The range of hydrant rentals paid in the United States is in general from $100 per hydrant per year, to a nominal sum of $10. The average hydrant rental is about $40.

5. Hydrant rentals or the demand for public fire protection service should be examined from five points of view.

a. The cost of the service.

b. The value of the service.

c. The number of hydrants per mile of pipe and the distance between them and area served.

d. The rate of taxation corresponding to the amount paid for public hydrant service.

e. The relative cost of other forms of public service, such as lighting and police.

6. The cost of the portion of the water works plant involved by fire hydrant service probably constitutes from 60 to 80 per cent. of the entire cost of the physical property in the case of communities having less than 5,000 population, decreasing in the larger places. The approximate annual cost of fire hydrant service is estimated at $1 per capita with variation at 40 per cent. more or less in different communities, being 60 to 75 cents in the largest cities and $1.25 to $1.75 in small well served cities and towns. These per capita costs amount to about $55 per hydrant.

The hydrant rental charged to the city of Peterborough, by the commissioners amounts to $27.50 per hydrant, and is well below the average charged in both the United States and Canada. In the discussion following the paper, it was recommended that an arrangement should be made with the municipality, either on a cost or per capita basis, with the understanding that hydrants should not be more than 500 feet or 600 feet apart, in the residential districts, and 250 or 030 feet apart in the business districts. The practice adopted by the commissioners here respecting the payment for private hydrants and sprinkler systems was commended, as these services have an important bearing on the cost and capacity of street mains and on the pumping capacity as well.

The discussion on this paper occupied considerable time during the morning of Wednesday 7th, after which the election of officers took place, and Mr. Alex. Milne of St. Cartarines, was elected president. By vote of the delegates, it was decided that the next annual meeting should be held at Louisville, Ky. Richmond, Va., and Minneapolis, Minn., were also after it.

A most interesting paper on "An Emergency Intake," was given by Dr. Wm. P. Mason, and reference was made to disasters at Newark, N.J., Lowell, Mass., Butler, Pa., and Ottawa, Ont., which followed the opening of emergency intakes, and allowing polluted water to enter the system. In these four places, over 4,060 cases of typhoid resulted, and which brought out the enquiry: "Which would a man prefer. Loss of his home by fire, or death from typhoid fever?"

Another interesting and profitable paper, "The Purification of Drinking Water," was exceedingly well received. The speaker said, in part:

"The importance of water is illustrated by the fact that it constitutes about 70 per cent of the entire weight of the human body, is universally present in all tissues and fluids, in blood and secretions, where its presence is necessary "in order to give them the fluidity necessary to the performance of their functions, when new substances are introduced into the body and the old ingredients discharged. It is an essential ingredient of the fluids for it holds their "solid material in solution and enables them to pass and repass through the animal form. Also an ingredient of the solid and semi-solid tissues, being necessary to give them the special consistency characteristic of them, and which would be lost without it, thus interfering with their functions."

"Taken into the body in the form of drink and food, therein taking part in the vital functions, is a universal solvent of all ingredients of the animal fluids. It thus enables the nutritious elements of food to find their way into the circulating fluids and penetrates the substance of "the organs; takes part in the phenomena of absorption, transudation, exhalation, chemical union and decomposition. Therefore, playing such an important part in the human economy, it should be pure and wholesome; should not contain sufficient organic or inorganic matter to interfere with its solvent properties; should not carry into the human "body specific germs of disease."

These were the opening words of John L. Leal, after which he went on to explain the derivation of water and how it spreads over and through the ground becoming polluted more or less.

The various systems of purification which have been adopted and are in use, are:—

1. Sedimentation.
2. Slow sand filteration.
3. Rapid mechanical filteration with coagulation.
4. Ozonation.
5. Sterilization or disinfection.

After discussing the cost and benefits of each system, Mr. Leal gave as his opinion that "rapid mechanical filteration with coagulation" in conjunction with "sterilization" is the one most suitable for use.

It was impossible for me to remain over Friday, the closing day.

In conclusion, I would say that to me it appears important that the superintendent of our waterworks system, together with one or more of the commissioners, should attend these annual conventions. New appliances and methods are continually being introduced, new ideas on control and management brought forward, and it it only by meeting with experts and practical engineers can information of value be obtained.

A motor-bus will meet all trains arriving at Peterborough, and will convey delegates to the church at a charge of 25c each.

It is requested that delegates' names be forwarded before June 6th to Mr. Fred. Scott, R.F.D., Peterborough, if accommodation is required for the night. Church clerks are requested to send notice of appointment of all delegates to W. Carey Sage, Clerk pro. tem., Box 439, Campbellford.

New Train Service to "Lake of Bays"

An important feature that will be inaugurated during the coming season will be a new train service to the "Lake of Bays" district. A standard Grand Trunk passenger train will leave Toronto with through coaches, parlor cars and dining car at 10.15 o'clock in the morning, daily except Sunday, for Huntsville, reaching the latter point at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, connecting with the steamers for points in the "Lake of Bays" district, and affording passengers the opportunity of reaching their destination in time for dinner.

The Sunday evening boat service from the WaWa hotel, Britannia, Point Ideal, Portage, Deerhurst and other important calling ports on "Lake of Bays" to Huntsville will be run on same schedule as for season 1910, during the months of July and August, and which will be a boon to week-enders desiring to return to the city for business on Mondays.

The Tudhope Motor Co., of Orillia will have an agency in New Zealand.

STRUCK THE WRONG PLACE

Toronto Man Taken Into Custody by Police

A man named Thomas Baydon who is wanted in Toronto on a charge of obtaining a diamond ring by false pretense, was arrested here last night. Some time ago Chief Thompson received a letter from the Toronto chief asking him to be on the lookout for the culprit.

An officer is coming down from Toronto to take the man to Toronto, where he will be tried.

Kind to the Eyes

Kryptok lenses have distinctive advantages over all former near and far-sighted glasses, having no line or patch to suggest old sight or to confuse the eye. "They are truly delightful and I scarcely realize that I am wearing glasses, as my vision is perfect, both distant and reading," is the remark of one of the pleased patrons of the Optical Institute.

U.S. SENATORS GIVE RECIPROCITY BILL EXCITING RECEPTION; BIG FIGHT COMING

Battle Lines Are Squarely Drawn, and Contest is on—Lafollette to Press an Amendment.

Washington, June 14.—The battle lines on the Canadian reciprocity agreement were squarely drawn in the Senate yesterday, when in accordance with an agreement, Chairman Penrose, of the finance committee reported the bill without recommendation. Favorable and adverse views were presented by Senators and the way cleared for the long siege of discussion in open session. Messrs. McCumber and Lafollette submitted reports outlining their individual views in opposition to reciprocity, and Mr. Williams presented the views of himself and Messrs. Stone and Kern favorable to the measure. The debate will begin to-day with speeches in opposition to the bill by Senators Curtis and McCumber.

The exchange of views on the bill was general. Mr. Dixon expressed surprise and regret that the committee had not been able to bring in a recommendation for or against the bill, and in so doing elicited a series of statements regarding the course of the finance committee. One of these was made by Senator Heyburn, who brought out the facts regarding the motion in committee to report the bill adversely. He said that he had presented this motion and that it had been lost by a tie vote of 7 to 7, thus rendering an opposing report impossible, while at the same time approaching very near to one.

Mr. Gore introduced an amendment to the bill which would place Canadian flour, meal, meats and agricultural implements on the free list, but said he would not press the provision if it became evident that its adoption would imperil the bill.

Senator Lafollette, in an individual report, presented adverse views on the reciprocity bill. He said it was perfectly consistent for one who believed in free trade to support the bill, but no man who believed either in a tariff for revenue only or in a protective tariff, could consistently give it his support.

"In the belief that duties should represent the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, with others I contended," said he, "when the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was pending, for reductions in duties to that level, in so far as the information then at hand furnished any safe criteria to determine rates upon that principle.

"I believe in reciprocity. I believe in reciprocity with Canada. The mutual give and take of tariff concessions between our country and our world neighbors along the lines laid down by Blaine and McKinley, is a policy that has in view the best welfare of all concerned."

"But I protest against this proposed revision of our tariff by executive mandate. I protest against this diplomatic bargain that is masquerading in the guise of reciprocity. It is not reciprocity. It is not a fair exchange of tariff advantages between our citizens and the citizens of Canada. It is a tariff trade conceived in special interest, selfish, negotiated in secret and brought into the open with the attractive name of reciprocity as a bid for the favor of the American public, a people who believe sincerely in reciprocity that is genuine.

"This agreement is not in the interest of the consumer. Relative high cost of living is not to be found in such a tariff compact as that represented in the pending bill.

"I purpose to offer amendments providing for a complete revision of the wool and cotton schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, revision of the rates on structural iron and steel and certain other paragraphs of that schedule; also amendments revising the sugar schedule. Such revision downward will be reducing our Government revenues less than $10,000,000 annually, will effect a reduction in the cost of living by lowering prices to the consuming public, aggregating more than $200,000 a year."

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE IS IN HARMONY ON NATURALIZATION

Uniformity Will be Assured—Laws Are Different in Each of the Dominions Now.

London, June 14.—The Imperial Conference was occupied yesterday with questions relating to imperial citizenship. A resolution was adopted in favor of the principle of imperial naturalization under an act open to adoption by the dominion, with a view to securing uniformity in the recognition everywhere of British subjects.

Resolutions also were adopted in favor of uniformity throughout the Empire in the law of accident compensation, and for reciprocal action regarding the deportation of undesirable aliens.

Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, in a speech at the Colonial Institute last night, pleaded eloquently for a closer union of the Empire than can be obtained by a conference every four years. The present system excluded 15,000,000 of people from full imperial citizenship. In the hour of national peril, he declared, neither Great Britain nor her children could stand alone. Closer union for defence was a vital necessity.

The conference discussed the following resolutions regarding naturalization.

From Australia, declaring the conference in favor of the creation of a system, which, while not limiting the right of a dominion to legislate in regard to local naturalization, will permit the issue to a person fulfilling the prescribed conditions certificates of naturalization effective throughout the Empire.

From New Zealand, declaring it in the best interests of the Empire that there should be more uniformity in the law of naturalization.

From South Africa, declaring it desirable to review the principles underlying the draft of a bill on imperial naturalization before the details are Strike Ties up Shipping at British Ports.

Empress of Ireland Cannot Get Away for Canada.

Special To The Review

London, June 14—The White Star Company has made concessions to strikers to-day that enabled the "Olympic" the largest ship afloat, to start on her maiden voyage to New York. The "Teutonic" and the "Empress of Ireland" which go to Canadian ports are held up by a strike along with many others. At Liverpool companies have notified the union that they will treat with committees from the men.

STORM DAMAGE IS VERY SEVERE

Much Live Stock Killed in Eastern Ontario.

Brockville, June 14.—Reports are coming in of the havoc wrought by the severe electrical storm, which passed over this country. These show that a large number of cattle, sheep and horses were killed in pastures by lightning. A heavy loss was sustained by Edward Summers, a farmer, residing in Crosby Township. A bolt of lightning struck his barns, which, with outbuildings adjoining, and their contents, were completely destroyed. Summers carried no insurance. A barn owned by James Bissell of North Augusta was partially demolished and a horse stabled in it killed. Along the line of the B.W. & N.W.R. telegraph poles were destroyed by the row. A train crew standing at Delta depot, where the storm was particularly severe, were shocked. Fred Hawkey, 14 years old, son of a McIntosh Mills farmer, stood in the door of the country schoolhouse till the storm subsided. Following a flash of lightning the lad fell in a heap on the step. He was still unconscious in the afternoon.

Got $5,000 In Easy Fashion.

Washington, D.C., June 14.—A subpoena for Secretary of State Knox to appear and explain the payment to Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of $5,000 from the Canadian Boundary Fund of the State department, was issued yesterday by the House committee on expenditures in the State Department.

The money was said to have been paid on the sole authority of Mr. Knox's "O.K." on a piece of paper attached to an unsigned voucher.

Australia Wants Settlers.

Melbourne, Australia, June 14.—The Government of the Commonwealth has approached the Governments of the different states with a request that they co-operate with the Commonwealth to secure a number of immigrants in England, in Canada, and the United States.

These immigrants will be carried to their destination in Australia on special steamers and placed on the land.

A Reign of Terror.

Montreal, June 14.—Through the apprehension of an Italian, Cichile Subrin, in the act of assaulting two young school girls, the police believe they have brought to justice the pest who for two months past has been creating a reign of terror in the neighborhood of the Aberdeen and Berthelet schools.

John McFarlane's Sudden Death.

LOOKING INTO DAM PROJECTS

Public Works Engineers Busy on St. Lawrence.

Ottawa, June 14.—Shortly before the House rose, it was announced that a commission would be appointed to study the various projects to dam the St. Lawrence river, and a sum of $40,000 was provided on the estimates for the purpose.

The commission has not yet been named, but a preliminary survey is now being made in the vicinity of Cedar Rapids and Beauharnois by engineers of the Public Works Department. These engineers are instructed to thoroughly test the claims of the Long Sault and Canadian Light & Power companies, that the development of power will not interfere with navigation.

Drowning at Dundas.

Hamilton, June 14.—James Bull, aged 21, of Dundas, assistant librarian of Knox Church and District Deputy Grand Master of the Orange Order, was drowned in the canal at the town dam Monday night.

About 8.30 he went to the canal, and as he had not returned at midnight a search was instituted and his clothes were found. Yesterday morning the body was recovered.

Motive For Abduction.

Montreal, June 14.—The trial of W. Waldo, A. J. King and Leo Brodie, charged with attempted kidnapping, was begun yesterday.

S. H. Jones said that Brodie was named as correspondent in divorce proceedings he had taken against his wife, and that the possession of the boy would be a good point in the defence of the divorce case.

Peace Proposals Meet With Hearty Endorsation by by Assembly—Question of Church Union.

Ottawa, June 14.—No matter, which has come before the Presbyterian General Assembly, has evoked more hearty enthusiasm than did the motion on the arbitration proposal as introduced by Principal Forrest of Dalhousie University, Halifax, yesterday afternoon.

The resolution was introduced by Principal Forrest and seconded by Principal Patrick of Winnipeg.

"Rarely, if ever," said Principal Patrick, "has a more important question been before any assembly. For the first time in the history of mankind it is proposed that all possible questions of controversy between Great Britain and the United States should be remitted to arbitration. The principle of arbitration have been met with increasing reception in the last three decades, but until the present moment every Government in the world reserved to itself freedom of action as regards certain questions and to settle for themselves whether or not to resort to war when their honor was at stake. A new era seems dawning. No one is more pleased than the people of Canada. We see a practical working out of the proposal in the thousands of miles of boundary without a battleship or fortification. I am sure all in this assembly are of one mind and profoundly grateful that the proposal so born of the spirit of our Lord and Master and so grateful to every Christian is brought forward by the most representative men of the United States and the British Empire."

The resignation of Rev. Dr. E. D. McLaren of Toronto as general secretary of the home missions, has resulted in a rearrangement of the forces by the Presbyterian Assembly.

Rev. A. S. Grant of Toronto was appointed general superintendent of missions, the assembly thus reverting to the position held by the late Dr. Robertson. He will be paid a salary of $3,000 a year and will also have a secretary to be appointed by the home mission committee. Rev. Dr. Carmichael, Winnipeg, will continue as superintendent for Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but his salary has been increased to $2,500 a year, and the committee was also empowered to appoint an assistant for him.

The assembly by a practically unanimous vote approved of the form in which the mind of the people is to be learned on the great question of organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches. A common ballot [illegible] be supplied to all the churches free and they will be asked to take a vote of adherents as well as communicants, and report to the clerks of the assembly before March 1, 1912. Three questions will be submitted:

Are you in favor of or against union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches?

Do you approve of the basis of union?

Have you any suggestions or alternative to offer?

The age of adherents whose votes are to be taken was fixed at not less than 18 years, and their vote will be taken separate from that of the sessions and church members.

May Be Fighting Portugal.

Lisbon, June 14.—Capt. Couceiro, the Royalist leader, is reported to be again preparing to cross the Portuguese frontier.

The northern and southern frontiers are being lined with troops at strategic points. Gunboats are moving in the rivers.

Minister of War Barreta declares that if the Royalists enter the country, they will be annihilated.

An official decree issued yesterday convokes the constituent assembly on June 19.

Fatal Explosion.

Albany, N.Y., June 14.—Fire, which destroyed the building of the Albany Chemical Works on Van Renseelaer Island, in the south end of the city yesterday afternoon, spread to the plant of the Texas Oil Co. shortly before three o'clock, and caused an explosion in one of the tanks.

Several persons are believed to have been killed and fatally injured.

TWO BROTHERS SUFFOCATED BY GAS IN DIGGING A WELL

Double Fatality near London Bodies Recovered by Grappling—Varency Fatality.

London, Ont., June 14.—A double fatality occurred yesterday on Munro's farm, concession six, Westminster, when two brothers, Warren and Elias Hicks, were suffocated in a well. They came here two months ago from Tillsonburg, and bought the property known as the London View, south of the city. They took a contract to deepen a well for Mr. Munro, and went down about 10.30 yesterday morning. The wife of the hired man saw them go to the well, and noticing their absence at dinner investigated. One of the men was seen suspended on a beam. The men of the farm, who were called, lowered a lantern, which went out, indicating the presence of gas, so that the recovery of the bodies was made by grappling.

Tragedy at Varency.

Jarivs, June 14.—William Miller, aged 34 years, was asphyxiated in a well on the farm of his father, James Miller at Varency, about three miles from this place, Monday. His brother, Edward, 20 years old, who tried to rescue him, was overcome by gas, and was with difficulty saved by neighbors. He was in a precarious condition throughout the night, but is fully recovered to-day.

MORGAN BUYS

London, June 14.—J. Pierpont Morgan has acquired Lord Ronald Gower's collection of portraits, documents and personal relics relating to Marie Antoinette. These include a complete collection of medals and miniatures.

CONVICTS DEPORTED

Brockville, June 14.—Two ex-convicts were deported from Brockville to Morristown, N.Y., yesterday. Thomas Holman, who has just completed a six months' sentence at the Central Prison, for a hold up committed here, and Henry ("Kid") Hogan, brought from the Kingston Penitentiary, where he served four months of a three year sentence for a vicious assault upon officers who raided his place at Cobalt for gambling. The "Kid," who is an old-time pugilist, will hike it to Washington, to interview the powers that be in the hope of starting international correspondence whereby he will get permission to return to Cobalt to look after his interest in several mining claims.

Emil Bernhardt, aged 77, of Berlin, was killed by a radial car while driving across the tracks.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

CURED SIX YEARS

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

THE TIE THAT BINDS

The imperial conference seems to be attracting close attention from more than the British and over-sea Dominion public men and newspapers. France and Germany, and Russia and the United States are all scanning the horizon closely to forecast what will appear as a result of the deliberations behind closed doors at Downing street.

The imperial conference is a lesson to the world in the art of coagulating and consolidating the scattered bits of red on the map of the world. No other nation in the world can bring about an imperial conference, for lack of over-sea dominions; for no other nation has been successful in obtaining and creating a system of self-governing, independent, yet loyal group of colonies.

Whether the conference has accomplished much cannot be told, but even though Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the wet blanket to throw shivery drafts around the room, he will be unable to prevent the free public discussion of imperial relations and means for consolidating the various sections of the empire on a still sounder and more enduring basis, that helps to crystalize sentiment. The moral effect on the sentiment of the people cannot be underestimated. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is no doubt a distinguished representative, and he may be adopting a course in discouraging any imperial advisory body, and any overtures by the home government in critical situations, that is far from representing true British Canadian opinion. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier is one man, and men, like imperial Caesar, turn to clay, while the work calls and the mantle is taken up by someone else.

Sir Wilfrid may succeed in entirely blocking any practical, effectual steps toward rivetting the sheath that protects us, but he cannot command the tide of sentiment that flows toward the new imperialism to reverse its course and be still.

This comforting reflection, is no excuse for the premier, however, in standing aloof from all effort to close up the ranks in the march toward destiny. It is the voice of Bourassa and Monk that speaks at the conference, though the form that speaks is that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In sinking the statesman in the vote-getting politician, Sir Wilfrid is lowering himself from a rather exalted pinnacle in the opinion of the Britishers across the sea, and they see him as he really is for the first time. It is not likely that any proposition has been advanced by the home government that would lessen or invade the the autonomy of the dominions. Rather is it Sir Wilfrid who is the aggressor in seeking means to have Canada separate or withdraw from the empire when the sky darkens with storm clouds, and mutterings of trouble are heard in the distance.

Laurier will be known to British Canadians as the Great Separationist, unless his course in handling imperial matters suddenly undergoes what is known in politics as a "d——d sharp curve." He would have Canada a fair-weather friend, and everyone knows how much use that sort of help is.

EDITORIAL NOTES

At least one senator has a Rooted objection to the reciprocity pact.

The first month of the bar tax has netted the province $18,000. The boozer pays in this, just as he pays dearly for his booze in every other way.

The sheriff at Goderch has decided that newspaper men will not be allowed to see the hanging of Edward Jardine. The news will cause a sigh of relief from the newspaper men, at least.

Montreal is inaugurating a movement for the release of the Welland canal dynamiters, who have been in the penitentiary for eleven years. The dastardliness of the attempt has seldom been equalled in Canadian history and it would be a most distinct mistake to shorten their just punishment.

It is rather odd that every gathering of a religious denomination expresses a strong approval of the principle of church union, while it seems to be a difficult matter to get down to the business of accomplishing the unionising. Having approved the principle, the churches ought to substitute action for talk.

The Conservative prospects in Nova Scotia are declared to be very bright indeed. Surely after 29 years of rule, by one party, enough barnacles have accumulated to make a change advisable. It is the history of every political party. Even the Government organs in the Blue-nose province admit that the Conservatives will probably reduce the governmental majority by a dozen or more seats.

The presence of 20,000 Mormons in Alberta has led to the Presbyterian assembly to make a strong protest against their activities. The Mormons have 3000 missionaries, and are said to teach that the more children a man is the father of, the higher he will rise in heaven. If they could only transplant some of the Mormons to race suicide France and other countries, their example might have a stimulating effect.

The Montreal Heat, Light and Power company claims that its cut in the price of lighting current means a gift of $300,000 a year to the people of Montreal. If a reduction of 1¢ cent on house lighting and 1 1-2 cents on commercial lighting means a difference of $300,000, it means that the people of Montreal are paying for lighting somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,500,000 annually for their electric lighting. A cut such as that in Toronto would save Montreal people probably a million dollars a year.

More Deaths From Lightning.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 14.—There were two deaths in this city yesterday as a result of Monday night's severe wind and electrical storm.

William G. Ellison, a motorman, whose car was struck by lightning, knocking him off the platform, died, and a Pennsylvania Railway brakeman, who was in the act of coupling a car when he was temporarily blinded by a flash of lightning and crushed between the cars, also died.

Narragansett, R.I., June 14.—While closing a window Charles Baker was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Mrs. Baker, who saw her husband killed, was not harmed.

Nurses Put Fire Out.

Kingston, June 14.—Nurses at the General Hospital showed their ability as fire-fighters when lightning struck the Doran wing and started a fire in one of the rooms.

The nurses attached a hose and put the fire out before much damage was done. The blaze broke out two or three times, but the nurses were equal to the occasion.

A good deal of damage was done to wiring in the hospital.

Village Washed Away.

Chihuahua, June 13.—Santa Eulalia, a village 18 miles to the east of Chihuahua, is reported to have been washed away and 20 persons drowned as the result of the Chuviscar River overflowing, due to heavy rains.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 13.—A sale of 50,000 bushels of Manitoba No. 1 northern wheat was made to an Ontario miller at 97c f.o.b. vessel, Duluth, and 70,000 bushels more was offered at 96c, but the best bid obtainable was 94c, which was refused. There was some demand from foreign buyers for oats, but the prices bid were all out of line. The local market is quiet but firm. There was a good enquiry from European sources for spring wheat flour, which may result in some business, but the prices bid for winter wheat flour were 6d per sack out of line. A fair local business continues to be done at firm prices. There was an increased demand for Manitoba bran for export account and sales of some round lots were made.

"When the ladies have gone?" echoed Kirby, entirely without comprehension, for he had never contemplated such a move.

Mr. Randall nodded.

"Mr. Kirby," he said coldly, "in their sense of honor to the dead man who lost this place to you his children do not oppose your possession. But you can scarcely imagine they would be willing to pass the night under this roof once you had claimed it."

Without comment Kirby returned to the balcony. He looked old and careworn, for the words had stung him to the quick. Twice within the past hour he had sent a request for an interview to Adele, and as yet she had made no answer. This, then, was the explanation. Evidently he was deemed too unclean a thing even to look upon. He did not greatly wonder, for he could never efface the memory of her horrified look and cry when the mask had fallen and the bad prince stood revealed. After all, the penalty for his remaining had been immeasurably greater than he had anticipated.

Meanwhile Aaron had bent over the portmanteau, which still lay open upon a chair as Judge Pleydell had left it. In searching for Colonel Moreau's Derringer the contents of the suit case had been somewhat disarranged, and the methodical Aaron now withdrew a badly crumpled coat, intending to fold it neatly before replacing it. As he did so a red morocco box fell from one of the pockets. Aaron, about to return it, suddenly started and held it under the light of an adjacent lamp, for the inscription on the lid which had arrested his attention was: "Margaret Randall to her husband, John Randall."

"Margaret Randall—that was Adele's mother," he exclaimed in wonder.

"What is that?" asked M. Veaudry, entering the room and noting the other's interest.

"Something that fell from Colonel Moreau's portmanteau," replied Aaron, opening the box and examining its contents. "You see, it is the miniature of Adele's mother that that gambler won the night he won the plantation," nodding to the balcony where Kirby could be heard pacing back and forth. "You know he got even my poor cousin's jewels. This is set with diamonds. Look—half of them are gone."

"To the pawnshop, eh?" ventured M. Veaudry. "Yet you found it in Colonel Moreau's portmanteau? It is very strange. How has it come there?"

"No one knows but Colonel Moreau, and he can't answer anything now," said Aaron solemnly. "You better give this box to Tom."

Like his older brother, the General has proved an unwilling participant in Judge Pleydell's maneuver. The child strongly disapproved of the idea, for

"THEY ALL HATE YOU, DON'T THEY?"

bed and forced to exchange the known comforts of that article for the doubtful accommodations of the drawing room sofa.

"What for do they make me get up in the middle of the night?" he sleepily demanded as Croup made up the impromptu bed in the now deserted room. "What for do they dress me again?"

"Yo's gwine to Jedge Pleydell's plantation, honey," patiently explained the old servant for the tenth time. "Dey go'n' pack up all yo' li'l' clothes an' all dem toys yo' had when yo' was a baby. Dey ain't gwine to 'sturb yo' so much hyah."

"But I don't want to go to Judge Pleydell's plantation," peevishly protested the child. "Aren't we ever coming back here to live again?"

"No'm, I don't hardly spect so, li'l' marse. Yo' kain't stay no mo' hyah, honey, an' ole Croup kain't go nowah wif yo' all's no mo'. Ole niggah got a new marse now. Yo' must sleep, honey. I wake yo' when dey ready, li'l' marse. Hesh, honey, hesh!" And Croup lightly tiptoed from the room as the General nodded drowsily and then closed his weary eyes.

And thus Kirby found him. As if conscious of the other's gaze, the boy instantly awoke with a start and sat bolt upright, throwing off his impromptu covers.

"I've got to have a talk with you," he said gravely. "No; I won't go to sleep, and if you leave I'll get up. I want some more light. I'm going to have some things the way I want them."

Recognizing that flight was useless and that the child was in deadly earnest, Kirby obediently turned up the lamp.

"It strikes me," he said mildly, "you'll come very near getting a good many things the way you want them."

"You come and sit here," peremptorily ordered the General, pointing to a stool beside the sofa. And again the man obeyed. For a moment the child was silent, gravely contemplating his pseudo hero. "What is a 'd—d low gambler?'" he suddenly inquired.

"It's what some people call me," replied Kirby after a pause. "I'm sorry they do it before you."

"They don't like you any more, do they—specially Dele? They all hate you, don't they? I know why. It's because you turned out to be the bad prince," said the boy, nodding solemnly.

Again the other was silent. "General," he said at length, "there's something your sister never got quite straight in the stories she's read you. Sometimes the good prince is half bad, and sometimes the bad prince—is half good."

"No; there was never anything like that in the books," reflected the General, greatly surprised.

"And sometimes," added Kirby, "they are both just one man—half good and half bad."

"Both just in one person?"

"Yes. And when that person—half good prince and half bad prince, remember—gets into a mysterious underground passage, say, and the adventure takes him to where the people are good, why, then he tries to be all good too."

The child pondered over this truth, little comprehending those strange contradictions and complexities of the soul, of that dual personality which has mystified older and wiser heads than his, that has baffled sage and scientist alike and will baffle them to the end of time.

"Then are you trying not to be a bad prince now—not any more at all ever?" he finally asked.

"Not where you and your sister are," said Kirby, his voice trembling.

"But you'll turn out bad again when we go away?" suggested the child.

"I don't know just what will happen then," confessed the man, staring dully at the floor.

Silence came. Then the child sighed. "I'd like to know the end of that story."

The man echoed the sigh, smiling wanly. "I'm afraid I can't tell you the end."

To be Continued.

Motherhood Class.

In an English school they have added to the curriculum a class which may be called "mothering, practical and theoretical." A real, live baby has been engaged as the "subject," while a trained nurse from one of the hospitals explains to the pupils the best way to bathe and clothe it and generally how to be a good mother.

Girls must be seventeen or over to enter this class. Each girl takes her turn in looking after the baby, a plump little girl aged thirteen weeks. Every little duty which the careful mother has to attend to in the home is taught the girls by the trained nurse.

A LESSON IN TAKING CARE OF BABY.

How to bathe the baby, how to cut out and make clothes for it, how to mix foods, scientific feeding and hygiene, cooking for the home and how to detect illness. They are taught to distinguish the "teething" cry from the "stomach" cry, the "pin" cry from just plain temper.

That all this is valuable training even the old fashioned ones must admit. Our schools are turning out thousands of girls every year that are in no essential fitted for matrimony. Every woman should know about the care of babies, whether their own or those of some one else.

To Clean Bronze.

Bronzes which have become dull and lusterless with age can be immensely improved by the simple means of washing them with a soapy sponge and then rinsing them in beer. Old directions say the rinsed bronzes should be placed close to the fire while still wet and allowed to dry of themselves. This is supposed to produce the dull leaden glaze which is characteristic of good bronze. The less soap used the better. To clean bronzes in the ordinary way with plenty of hot water and a strong lather will be apt to injure their appearance.

BALZAC WAS HUNGRY.

A Hundred Oysters and Twelve Cups Just Started His Meal.

If Honore de Balzac, the "Shakespeare of the novel," did not live to a great age it was probably due to his reversal of nature's rules for work and recreation. He labored as no other man in the history of literature has labored and then, after periods of intense application, would go to the opposite extreme. Frederick Lawton, his latest biographer, makes one feel some of the folly of this as well as the comedy.

He not only burned the midnight oil, but would keep up his eighteen or twenty hours' daily labor for weeks together until some novel that he was engaged on was finished.

During these spells of composing he would see no one, read no letters, but write on and on, eating sparingly, sipping his coffee and refreshing his jaded anatomy by taking a bath, in which he would lie for a whole hour, plunged in meditation.

One of these prolonged claustrations, in October, 1834—the day was Sunday — he interrupted by a call, most unexpected, on his friend Werdet. His face was sallow and gaunt with vigil. He had been stopped in the description of a spot, he explained, by the uncertainty of his recollections and must go into the city in order to refresh them. So he invited Werdet to accompany him in playing truant for the day.

The morning was spent in the slums, where he gathered the information required, and the afternoon they whiled away in listening to a concert at the Conservatoire. There he was welcomed by the fashionables of both sexes, notwithstanding his shabby costume, which he had donned in view of his morning's occupation.

On quitting the concert room he carried Werdet off to dine with him at Very's, the most expensive and aristocratic restaurant in Paris.

The place was full of guests, and those who were in proximity to the table where the two newcomers sat down were astonished to see the following menu ordered and nearly all consumed by one man, since Werdet, being on diet, took only a soup of a little chicken: A hundred oysters, 12 chops, a young duck, a pair of roast partridges, a sole, hors d'oeuvre, sweets, fruit (more than a dozen pears were swallowed), wines, coffee, liqueurs.

Never since the time of Rabelais or perhaps Louis XIV. had such a Gargantuan appetite been witnessed. Balzac was recouping himself for fasting.

Why Gold Is Precious.

Pure or fine gold will stand any test it may be put to in comparison with other metals; it can be rolled or hammered, extending it in any direction, until it becomes transparent. It can also be drawn into a thread as fine as human hair. It melts at about 2,000 F, and though it may be kept in a molten state for an indefinite time it loses none of its weight, even should the heat be increased. The color is unaffected by air, water or heat, and will stand any test or oxidation. No simple acid will dissolve or attack pure gold.

In conjunction with silver gold is the first metal with which man became acquainted, and is the most valuable by reason of the vast number of uses to which it is put. It is found in almost every country in a metallic state, and nearly always in crystals. The old Egyptian symbol for gold signified divinity and perfection. The chemical term used to-day is aurum.

Father Morriscy's Remedies

Now on Sale in Ontario

When Father Morriscy, the famous priest-physician of Bartibogue, N. B., died a year ago last spring, he left his prescriptions to the Sisters of the Hotel Dieu, at Chatham, to be used for the benefit of humanity and of the church.

Not being in position to make up and distribute the prescriptions themselves, the Sisters arranged with a number of gentlemen, who had been Father Morriscy's friends, to do it for them. These gentlemen working under the name of the "Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited," had by the first of the year placed the remedies in nearly every store in the Maritime Provinces.

So gladly were they received, and so satisfactory has been their record of cures, that the Sisters and the Company have decided to place them on sale throughout Canada.

Father Morriscy's "No. 7", for Rheumatism and the Kidneys—"No. 10", Cough Cure and Lung Tonic—"No. 11", Stomach Remedy—"No. 26", for Catarrh, and "Father Morriscy's Liniment"—can now be obtained from most dealers in this Province. If yours does not keep them write the Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited,

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

MR. WADDELL LEFT LARGE ESTATE

Has Been Registered at Toronto —Valued at $462.000

Toronto, June 14.—A considerable amount of money will go to the province as the percentage duty on two large estates, which have just been registered in the succession duty department at the Parliament buildings.

On March 17th, 1911, Peter Whelan died at Ottawa, leaving an estate valued at $526,000, which devolved upon his widow and five children. On a five per cent basis, the duty will amount to approximately $26,000.

The second estate is that of Hugh Waddell, of the township of North Monaghan, in the county of Peterborough, whose gross estate is figured at $462,000. Of this amount the widow and son of deceased will each receive $200,000, and an annuity of $500 for life will be paid to the sister of deceased. As the two principal heirs of this estate each receive upwards of $200,000, the duty is levied on a 6 1-2 per cent. basis, making the provincial receipts about $30,000.

AUCTION SALE

Of David Knox Homestead, Queen St., Peterborough. This fine house, solidly built, 10 rooms, steam heated, all modern improvements, will be offered at the adjourned sale on Saturday, 24 June at 2 p.m., on the prem[illegible]. PRETTY JUNE WEDDINGS

ARDIEL—GOODING

Neice of Hon. J. R. Stratton Becomes a Happy Bride

A very pretty wedding was celebrated, Wednesday, June 14th, at Strathormond, the beautiful residence of Hon. J. R. Stratton, when his neice, Miss Alberta Louise Gooding, daughter of Mr. A. F. Gooding, Kenora, was united in marriage to Mr. L. T. Harris Ardiel, of the Dominion Bank, Toronto, son of Dr. Ardiel, of London, Ontario. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Little, B.A., pastor of the Knox Presbyterian church, Kenora, assisted by Rev. G. W. Henderson, of the Charlotte street Methodist church. The large number of guests were received at the drawing room entrance by Mr. and Mrs. Stratton and Mrs. Gooding.

The wedding was celebrated in the yellow drawing room, which was in festal array for the occasion. The bridal pair stood under an arch of spingheri and white peonies, looped with white satin bows and banked at the rear with palms. The other decorations of the room were in white and green—foliage and flowers—very effectively placed.

The bride entered the room escorted by her uncle, Hon. Mr. Stratton—who gave the bride away—to the measures of the wedding march from Lohengrin, performed by Mr. Charles Ackerman, and followed by her bridal cortege. The maid of honor was Miss Ione Heintzman, of Toronto, and the bridesmaids were Miss Florence Stevely, London; Miss Eileen McFaul, Collingwood, and Miss Muriel Rogers, Peterborough. The ribbon bearers were Miss Jessie Matthews and Miss Rosamond Huycke. The groomsman was Mr. Lorne Ardiel, of Windsor, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Keith Leeb, Peterborough; Mr. P. M. Anderson, and Mr. Carston McCormack, Toronto. At the conclusion of the ceremony, and while the bridal pair were signing the register, Miss Helen Davies sang "Love's Coronation," and while the newly wed were receiving the congratulations of the assistants, she sang "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy."

The bride was charming in a gown of ivory satin with garniture of chiffon, bordered with point de Venise lace, studded with seed pearls — the lace being that worn by the bride's mother on the occasion of her own marriage. The long square train was caught from the shoulders with large satin bows. The bridal veil of tulle was arranged, with cap effect, of orange blossoms. The bride wore the groom's gift, a dainty necklet of pearls, and carried a Marie Antoinette shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, also his gift.

The maid of honor, Miss Ione Heintzman, was gowned in white marquisette with deep border of pink roses worn over ivory satin. Her large white hat was of tegal straw with band of pink velvet and pink roses tied with ceil bleu ribbon with long streamers. The three bridesmaids wore gowns of white marquisette over ivory satin with geisha sashes and bows of ceil bleu satin and large white tegal straw hats, trimmed with blue satin and pink roses, and blue satin slippers to match. All carried sheaf bouquets of pink roses tied with ceil bleu satin streamers. The flower girls were dressed in white lingerie and lace with blue sashes, Juliet caps of lace with pink rosebuds and blue ribbons, and carried baskets of rose petals to be scattered before the bride.

The maid of honour and the bridesmaids wore the gifts of the bride—gold necklaces, with pendants, and set with baroque pearls and turquoises, and the flower girls were given signet ring. The gift of the groom to the ushers were gold pearl-set tie pins.

Among the numerous guests there were many exquisite toilettes. Mrs. Stratton, aunt of the bride, wore a gown of robin's-egg blue marquisette, with raised white silk embroidery, over white satin, large black lace hat with plumes, and carried a bouquet of Richmond roses, tied with blue ribbon. Mrs. Gooding, mother of the bride, was dressed in Dresden net over pink satin, and wore a black hat with willow plumes. Mrs. Ardiel, the groom's mother, wore a handsome gown of black and white satin foulard, with trimmings of lace, and black and white picture hat with plumes.

After receiving congratulations the bride and groom led the way to the marquee erected upon the beautiful lawn, where the bride's table was done in white and silver, the decorations being lilies-of-the-valley and maiden hair fern. The bride's cake was surrounded by unique novelty silver slippers, filled with silver confetti, afterwards presented as souvenirs to the bridesmaids and flower girls. The buffet table, from which refreshments were served, was decorated with a large centre basket of pink Killarney roses and asparagus fern, tied with blue ribbon, and at either end were placed low baskets of syringa and roses. Suspended over the centre basket was a flying Cupid, carrying a wreath of orange blossoms under a canopy formed of festoons of blue baby ribbon, mounted at intervals, with miniature silver wedding bells and reaching to the several baskets. In addition roses were profusely scattered over the table.

After the toast of the bride had been heartily honoured and she had cut the wedding cake, she slipped away to don her travelling costume of coronation blue rajah silk and Panama hat, trimmed with white satin ribbon.

The wedding presents were numerous and of great variety, and beauty. The out-of-town guests included many from Toronto, Collingwood, Hamilton, Windsor, Kenora, Oklahoma, U.S., and towns in the vicinity of Peterborough.

The bridal couple were driven to the C.P.R. railway station in Mr. Stratton's four-in-hand victoria, and amid showers of confetti from their numerous escorts, they took train for Toronto, where they will embark on the steamer for a wedding trip down the St. Lawrence. On their return they will take residence in Toronto.

LAING—MENZIES.

Knox church was this morning the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Mamie Jean Menzies, only daughter of Mr. D. Menzies, King street, and Mr. Roy Frederick Clayton Laing, eldest son of Mr. William Laing, 390 Water street, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. H. J. Keith.

The marriage ceremony was performed at 9.30 o'clock in the presence of a large number of friends and later the wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Jean Menzies, Sherbrooke street, to the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The many beautiful and costly presents received testify to the esteem in which the young couple were held by their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Laing left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Toronto and the Thousand Islands. On their return they will reside on Dalhousie street.

SULLIVAN—DONOGHUE.

At St. Peter's Cathedral this morning Miss Mary Vivian Donoghue, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Donoghue, was united in marriage to Mr. John E. Sullivan. Rev. Father McColl officiated.

CLARK—DARTNELL.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dartnell, 312 Pearl avenue, when their only daughter, Ella Maye, was united in marriage to Dr. D. W. Clark, of Pontypool.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Henderson in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. Dr. and Mrs. Clark left for a trip to Toronto, and the Thousand Islands. On their return they will reside in Pontypool.

HENDERSON—BRYCE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryce, 471 Gilmour Street Street, was the scene of a quiet wedding at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, when their oldest daughter, Miss Mary Bryce, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to John S. Henderson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Henderson, of Otonabee, by Rev. H. J. Keith, in the presence of friends and relatives.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left for Toronto and points west on the 4.28 C.P.R. train.

They will reside in Otonabee on their return.

BURNS—MEAGHER.

At the Sacred Heart church at 7.30 o'clock this morning, Miss Catharine Theresa Meagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meagher, 230 Perry street, and Mr. Francis Burns, of Lindsay, were joined in wedlock by Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in khantonia cloth with trimmings of valencienne embroidered lace and wore a hat of cream tuscan, garnished with pink roses and carried a beautiful pearl rosary.

Miss Theresa Malone, of Pittsburg, Pa., who acted as bridesmaid, was prettily gowned in French embroidered mull and a handsome hat of ramie straw braid with folds of silk velvet and pink roses. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Patrick Burns.

After the ceremony a dainty dejeuner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Perry street, which was beautifully decorated with evergreens, smilax and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns departed on the 4.28 C.P.R. train for Toronto and points west on their honeymoon. On their return they will take up their residence in the vicinity of Lindsay.

TAYLOR—COPPAWAY.

The parsonage of the George street Methodist parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding this afternoon, when Miss Esther Coppaway and Mr. Geo. H. Taylor, both of Smith township, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Isaac Couch.

The happy couple left on their wedding tour on the 4.28 C.P.R. train.

McKERCHER—BEAUMONT.

At the George street parsonage this afternoon, Miss Hettie Beaumont and Mr. Walter McKercher, both of Cavan township, were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Isaac Couch in the presence of witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. McKercher left on the 4.28 C.P.R. train for Toronto, and other points and will reside in Cavan on their return.

Here is a furnace that is easy to attend—
One you can clean out without using the poker.
¶ The ashes at the side of the pot can be shaken down without losing good coals in the centre. The four separate grate bars do that.
¶ The water pan, so essential to good heating, is placed where it can be easily filled and not so likely to be overlooked.

"Hecla" Furnace

Six tons of coal instead of seven.

And this furnace which is so easy to run will save you one ton of coal in every seven.
¶ It will give you pure air without gas or dust.
¶ When you shake it down no ash dust can escape either in the basement or in the living rooms.
Sound interesting?
Why not investigate?

NOTE THE FEATURES THAT MAKE FOR CONVENIENCE:

Water Pan Openings conveniently placed on either side of ash door.

Large Firing Door for wood or large shovels of coal.

Four Separate Grates to clean out ashes without using poker.

Common Sense Ash Pan fitting perfectly and catching all the ashes.

Large Door Handle which drops into place and locks the door securely.

CRIMINAL CASE IS COMMENCED

True Bill Brought in by the Grand Jury

At the general sessions of the County Court, which were resumed this morning, the case of the theft of 55 bags of feed from the Quaker Oats company, in March, was the first to be heard. The accused pleaded not guilty when the charge was read.

The grand jury brought in a true bill yesterday.

The following jurors were sworn: Wallace H. Moore, R. B. McGill, Joseph Ingram, J. T. Drummond, Robt. Dale, Edward O'Donahue, George Ayotte, V. Warner, J. T. McCoy, H. A. Cairn, Samuel Johnston and Fred McMillan.

Crown Attorney Wood addressed the jury, explaining their duties.

The examination of witnesses was proceeded with, Mr. W. H. Denham, superintendent of the Quaker Oats, being first called by the crown.

Messrs. O'Connell and Gordon are appearing for the accused.

The Bank of Ottawa vs. John Haggart action was heard yesterday afternoon, but judgment was deferred.

Michael McCutcheon of Woodstock was killed by a train while walking along the track with a bundle of ferns.

PRESENTATION TO REV. H. C. GARBUTT

Purse of Gold and Address From Eden Church

Special Correspondence.

Haultain, June 14.—Rev. H. C. Garbutt, who has been stationed in the Apsley mission field for the past four years, delivered his farewell address at Eden church Sunday morning, 11 inst. Rev. Mr. Garbutt made many warm friends in this mission. The members of his congregation at the Eden appointment, South Burleigh, presented him with a well-filled purse, accompanied by the following address.

Dear Pastor,—We your friends at this appointment, would like to express our gratitude to you for the deep interest you have taken in your work amongst us during the past four years. May you long be spared to direct the wanderers in the narrow way, and may many respond to the call wherever you may be placed. We ask your acceptance of this small gift as a slight token of our appreciation of your work among us. We heartily hope that temporal blessings may be yours in this life; and in the end life everlasting.

Signed on behalf of your friends,
CHAS. LAUDER, Steward.

NO MORE ICE FOR CITY; SUPPLY TO BE TAKEN FROM LITTLE LAKE

Board of Health Will Have By-law Prepared to This Effect—Citizens Ask That Gas Works be Removed.

In the future, ice dealers of the city will not be permitted to take ice from the Little Lake.

This very important decision, the Board of Health arrived at, yesterday afternoon. The question had been broached before, and when the M.H.O. mentioned it yesterday, it was but a short time, before the above decree was decided on.

The M.H.O. city solicitor and the chairman of the Board will prepare a by-law.

There were present at the meeting the chairman, Dr. McNulty, Dr. McPherson, M.H.O., Mayor Morrow and Messrs. Jas. Murty and W. J. Johnston.

PLUMBING JOB

A resident of Downie Street complained of unsanitary conditions existing at the property of 328 Downie St. The owner will be notified to have sewer connections made.

SEWER CONNECTIONS

Sewer connections on portions of Argyle Street to Sunnyside, Benson Avenue from Manning Avenue to Aberdeen Avenue; Concession and Douro, Carlisle Avenue, Frederick Avenue, Murray and Stewart. McDonnel, St. Joseph, Simcoe, Townsend, Downie Victoria Avenue, Downie St. from Brock to Hunter, College, Water Street, up Anson to Protestant Home were recommended.

Mr. Elliott residing at Bethune St., north of Hunter, asked for a sewer, and a connection from Hunter to Brock was recommended.

PROTEST AGAINST GAS WORKS

Residents in the vicinity of the gas works, complained by petition against the danger of fire, insufferable noise and odors coming from the plant. They asked that the works be removed. The communication was referred to the city solicitor.

The request of the M.H.O. for the purchase of a book for keeping records of typhoid fever cases, was granted. He was given authority to procure the book also a quantity of antitoxen.

Dr. McPherson wished to know what steps he would take in regard to charging in cases of small pox. Mr. Johnston thought that when a patient was able, he or she should pay.

Unsanitary conditions at 135, 137 139, 141, 143, and 295, 297, 299, 301, 311 Rubidge Street, 79 and 99 Hunter St., were reported, and the Board decided that sewer connections be made.

TEN YEARS AS GATEMAN

"Charlie" Noyes Has Been Always on the Job

Ten years ago to-day, Mr. Charlie Noyes waved for the first time the signal flags at the G.T.R. crossing at Charlotte Street.

Ten years ago, he was foreman of a section gang, and when Ringling's circus came to town he was instructed to perform the duty of signal man at this crossing, because of the large crowds of people, having occasion to pass over the crossing in question. He continued to remain at work, and on June 20, the railway had houses erected both at the Charlotte and Simcoe street crossings, and later the gates were installed. Citizens seldom hear of the many accidents which are averted by the watchfulness of a railway gateman. Drunken men reel across the tracks, little children never think of danger, and elderly people particularly, are assisted across the tracks to safety, by the courteous and alert gateman. "Charlie" Noyes has given the greater part of his life in the service of the railway, and previous to his appointment as gateman was for thirty years foreman on section work.

His many friends will hope to see him enjoy many more years of activity, health and happiness.

REV. MR. KEITH RETURNS FROM THE ASSEMBLY

Lakefield Pastor to be Inducted in Near Future

Rev. H. J. Keith returned this morning from the General Assembly of Presbyterian churches in Canada, held at Ottawa, with representatives from Newfoundland to Vancouver. Rev. Robert Pogue and Mr. Lees are expected home this evening.

Rev. Mr. Keith in discussing the proceedings of the assembly said that there was every evidence of a most progressive year and the foundations were laid at the assembly for most aggressive work in every department of the church.

QUEEN'S VS. CHURCH.

The question of Queen's University being separated from the church was one over which there was much debate, but the vote was quite decisive for separation. While many people regret the separation, yet there is general satisfaction that the matter is at last settled.

QUESTION OF UNION.

The question of union was decided very quietly compared with what was expected. A large committee of men for both sides of the question had been selected early in the assembly and their recommendation to the assembly was carried unanimously. The majority of the Presbyterians having voted in favor of union, it was decided to send the question to sessions, church members and adherents with the following three questions:—1. Are you in favor of organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches? 2. Are you in favor of union? 3. Do you offer any alternative?

Under the leaderships of Dr. A. S. Grant, of Dawson fame, it is expected that the Home Mission work of the church will be greatly advanced. While the resignation of Dr. E. D. McLaren was greatly regretted it was felt that the assembly had made a wise move in appointing such a man as Dr. Grant as his successor.

A matter of interest to the Peterborough Presbytery is the unanimous recommendation of the committee considering such cases, to the assembly that Rev. Mr. McCorkindale, now stationed at Lakefield, be received as a minister of the Canadian church. His induction will take place shortly at Lakefield.

THE BREAKING OF WIRE INSULATORS

Serious Crime and Offenders Will Be Severely Punished

Five East City youths faced Magistrate Dumble in police court this morning having been arrested for throwing stones and breaking insulators on the C.P.R. railroad telegraph poles about two weeks ago. The boys were discharged with a severe warning by the magistrate.

It was evident that the boys did not realize the seriousness of their offence and his Worship strongly pointed out the dire results which are liable to happen such foolhardy and criminal acts. When these insulators are broken or injured in any way, train despatchers are unable to accurately transmit messages on the wire and when such is the case serious accidents must inevitably follow. Only the other day a serious accident originating in a similar cause was narrowly averted near Toronto, and was only prevented by the fact that the two trains coming towards each other were running on a straight piece track and sighted each other thus avoiding a collision. In future any person or persons found interfering with these insulators will be dealt with to the very limit of the law, as the offence comes under the criminal code.

OBITUARY

The Late William Fowler

William Fowler, a former resident of Peterborough, passed away at Vancouver, on May 13. The deceased was a brother of James Fowler, of Smith township, and George Fowler, of Kells, Fowler and Co., Millbrook, and twelve years ago resided on Albert street, this city. He was sixty-eight years of age and had led a retired life for a number of years. The late Mr. Fowler was born in the north of Ireland, and spent in all about twenty years of his life in Peterborough. He was an Anglican in religion. One sister, Mrs. Thomas Hunter, lives in South Australia. He is survived by a wife and a family of six sons and one daughter, all of whom reside in Vancouver, and at the funeral the sons acted as pall-bearers.

The Late John Armstrong

A copy of the Milton Globe, of Milton, Cavalier County, North Dakota, refers to the death of John Armstrong, at that place, last December. Mr. Armstrong was a brother of Mrs. E. Beavis, of Douro, and his father was the late John Armstrong, of Hamilton township.

The Globe says;—The death of Mr. Armstrong, comes as a distinct blow to the entire community. He was an exceptionally good citizen and a devout Christian. Perhaps no man in eastern Cavalier county stood higher in the esteem and respect of his neighbors, than did Mr. Armstrong. He was one of those rare individuals who never made an enemy. His untimely death is a sad bereavement, not only to the immediate members of the family, but also to all those, who have learned to know him, and regard him for his true worth.

Mr. Armstrong was a pioneer of Osford township. He leaves a family in good circumstances financially, which however, does not compensate them for the sad bereavement of a kind and indulgent father and husband. Long will the memory of John Armstrong, one of the grandest of God's noblemen, linger in the hearts of his many friends in Cavalier county.

Coal miners in Alberta have refused to return to work pending a settlement of their differences with employers.

YOUNG MEN WERE LEFT BEHIND

Would Not Heed Call of Companions—Bensfort News

Toronto, June 14.—Thomas Boyd, a young man, was brought here from Peterborough last night by Detective Richard Tipton on a carge of fraud preferred by James McTanney, a pawnbroker, Adelaide street, east. The warrant was issued on January 28 last year. Since then Boyd had been working at race tracks in Jacksonville and Florida, returning to Peterborough last Saturday.

It appears that in October, 1909, Boyd pawned a diamond ring worth $225 for $125 at McTanney's. Subsequently he sold the pawn ticket to R. V. Weldon, of 463 Dovercourt road, but when the latter went to redeem the diamond he discovered that Boyd had, in the meantime, regained possession of it.

Boyd gave the name of Thomas Baydon to the local police.

INDIAN RIVER

Heavy Loss by Fire—Accident to Young Lad

Special Correspondence.

Indian River, June 14.—Shortly after eleven o'clock on Saturday last, the barns owned by Hugh Fife were struck by lightning and were soon enveloped in flames. A valuable horse, twenty-five pigs, and nearly a hundred hens were burned to death. The building also contained a quantity of packed meat, which was destroyed. Among the farm implements saved was a binder, a seeder and a fanning mill. The barns, which were burned to the ground, were built of logs and were erected seventy-eight years ago. The hired man was the only man on the farm when the buildings were struck.

Last Wednesday evening Anthur Hall fell from a fence and broke his left arm near the elbow. A doctor was quickly summoned, and the child is now getting along very nicely, although there is some fear that the arm may remain a little stiff owing to the position of the break.

Mr. McCutcheon, relieving agent, will have charge of the station here while Mr. Munn is having his vacation.

TELESCOPE LENSES.

The Small Glass Magnifies the Picture Made by the Large One.

People sometimes wonder why a telescope has two glasses, one at the big end and one at the little end, and they want to know the difference. The glass at the big end is to gather light. It is simply a big eye. If it is a hundred times bigger than the eye in your head it will gather a hundred times more light. It gathers the rays of light coming from a star and bends them all into a common meeting point called a focus, which is a picture of the star. You can look at this picture of the star with your naked eye if you like. But you can see it better and examine it more closely if you look at it with a small magnifying glass. And this is the glass at the small end of the telescope. It magnifies the picture made by the big glass at the other end of the instrument. All telescopes are built on this principle. Sir William Herschel was the first to arrange matters a little differently. He took away the glass from the big end and admitted the rays coming straight into the tube in parallel lines. Then at the bottom of the big tube he placed a bright concave mirror made of burnished metal. When the entering rays fell upon this mirror they were again bent to a point called a focus, which was the picture of the star. To look at this picture he had to place the little magnifying glass at the side of the tube because the mirror had stopped up its lower end.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Something Blind.

In one of the crowded streets of New York a beggar was in the habit of taking his stand every day and appealing to the charity of the passers-by. By means of a short string he held a dog, around the neck of which a card was fastened with the words, "I Am Blind." A very kind old gentleman, who had been in the habit of dropping a penny into the beggar's hat, passed rapidly one morning without doing so. Instantly the beggar rushed after him and asked for the penny to be given, as usual. The gentleman, turning in surprise, said:

"Why, I thought you were blind?"

"Oh, no, sir!" was the cool reply. "It is the dog that is blind, as the card says."

Why a Horse Rolls.

Horses are fond of rolling on the ground, and no animal more thoroughly shakes itself than they do. After a roll they give themselves a shake or two to remove anything adhering to the coat. The habit is of much service to horses living in open plains. On being turned loose at the end of a journey an Arab horse rolls in the sand, which acts as blotting paper, absorbing exudations from the body. A shake removes the sand, and the coat soon dries. Cavalrymen in hot climates sometimes put sand on their horses as the simplest and quickest way of drying them.—Selborne Magazine.

Untainted.

Tempted by an offer of considerably more than the property had cost him, Mr. Kreezus, who counted his wealth in millions, had parted with his suburban villa.

"You didn't need the money," said his disgusted business partner, who had just heard of the transaction, "yet for a little filthy lucre you sold that beautiful home."

"I didn't!" exclaimed the equally indignant Mr. Kreezus. "I sold it for clean cash!"—Youth's Companion.

HUNGRY ATMOSPHERE

Smoke-Laden Air of Old London is Eating Stone and Marble—Electric Remedy

All great cities, but more especially London, are engaged in a constant warfare with their atmosphere. It is a losing fight. The air wins.

Westminster Abbey, which has seen dozens of Coronations and is now about to add another to the list, is generally regarded as the most venerable and one of the most ancient buildings in England. But in one way it is a sham. ... visitor gazes at so admiringly he does not see a stone a hundred years old. The outer walls of the Abbey suffer so terribly from the London air that the re-building process is always going on. Stonework only fourteen years old is already going bad. Work done when Queen Victoria came to the throne is softer than dried putty several inches deep.

The trouble, of course, lies in the smoke—in the various sulphur acids that smoke carries. They convert the stone into sulphate of lime, and this process expands the stone and breaks it up gradually into powder. The older statues in St. Paul's keep constantly losing fingers for the same reason.

Marble suffers terribly. The Elgin marbles in the British Museum kept their almost transparent surface for over two thousand years in the sunny climate of Greece. Half a century in London has given the marble a dull, putty-like appearance.

Good timber, curiously enough, stands city air practically for ever. The great beams in Westminster Hall are as old as the Hall itself, and still sound. In one of the London parks, the original oak posts that were preferred to the usual iron railings are still stout, though the iron bands that originally clamped them have disappeared utterly, the air having devoured them so thoroughly that nothing is left but rust-stains.

Iron, indeed, is peculiarly untrustworthy in city air. When the great roof of Charing Cross Station fell in a few years ago, it was because the huge girders (unpainted) had been eaten into by the clouds of smoke from the engines below. The old Underground Railway was proverbial for its smoky atmosphere, and at one station at least there were iron girders into which playful travelers used to poke their umbrellas six inches deep. Except at the heart, they were practically powder.

The bronze base on which Cleopatra's Needle stands is at present being renovated, though it is only about forty years old. The stone Needle itself stood the air of Egypt unharmed for at least three thousand years. When it came to England, its weight was almost exactly a hundred tons. According to a recent estimate, it is now quite two hundredweight lighter. The outlines of the hieroglyphics are crumbling away.

But if many civilized countries have to fight their climate, they sometimes win points in the fight. A thick fog multiplies by six the amount of sulphur in the atmosphere, and probably attempts will soon be made to clear off fog by electrical discharges.

And it is quite possible that before many years science will have succeeded in the teeth of climate in reclaiming to civilization many tracts that are now rainless desert. It has been seriously proposed that the Sahara—whose soil would be fertile if it could get moisture—should be turned into a great grain-growing region by planting its coasts with eucalyptus trees to attract rain.

OVER PISA'S TOWER

The Remarkable Flight of a Daring Aviator

Visitors to the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa recently witnessed a sight that would have amazed the old Italian builders who erected it about 600 years ago. The occasion was the flight of a daring aviator in his aeroplane round the tower. The flying man, Signor Mario Cobianchi, flew from the Hippodrome of San Rossore, near Pisa, and with consummate skill, encirlled the Leaning Tower, and safely returned to his starting-point.

One cannot help thinking how the sight would have thrilled Galileo; the great scientist and astronomer, who made his famous tests with falling bodies from the upper galleries of this tower. Here he proved that globes of different weights reached the ground at the same moment. Probably in his wildest flights of imagination he never thought of a man flying in a machine through the air. Science has, indeed, progressed since his day.

Pisa's famous Leaning Tower was erected some time between 1175 and 1350, and is about 180 feet high. It is supposed that the builders intended it to be upright at first; but when part of it was built the foundations tilted, and the rest of the tower was so erected that it would remain in this oblique position. There seems no danger of its falling.

It is built of beautiful white marble, and adjoins the Cathedral of Pisa.

A staircase of 295 steps leads to a fine belfry of seven bells. The view from the top is magnificent, especially at sunset.

"A PREPOSTEROUS PRICE"

"'The Mill' is a most beautiful work; but as for $500,000, that is a preposterous price." Such is the opinion of Mr. B. W. Leader, the Royal Academician, who recently celebrated his eightieth birthday. The son of a professional man with a large family, Mr. Leader confesses that he had to maintain himself from the first by art. The consequence was that he "had to paint pictures which the public liked, and not the pictures I wanted them to like. Many's the time I have wished I could destroy a number of those early pot-boilers." It is fifty-seven years ago since Mr. Leader first exhibited at the Royal Academy, and since then he has only missed one year, and that was owing to illness.

TATTOOING.

It Is Extensively Practiced All Over the World.

Nearly all must be familiar with the crude tattoo designs, of anchors, ships, and so on that sailors love to have upon their arms and chests. But the professional tattooist can import to his skin pictures pretty well all colors except white, so that he can produce the most elaborate and beautiful designs. Nor is his work limited to covering small areas, for while many men are satisfied with a simple design, others have different tastes, and men have been tattooed all over from head to toe.

Travelers, sportsmen, and army officers seem to favor tattooing more than other classes, and the designs one is asked to execute are many and varied. Among officers the most usual is the regimental crest. Sportsmen usually favor something which reminds them of their favorite sport.

Perhaps the funniest case recalled was a man who had texts from the Bible tattooed all over him till he was a perfect walking Testament.

Tattooing is practiced very extensively in the east; and it is no doubt for this reason that so many travelers submit to tattooing. They get accustomed to seeing people tattooed, and feel that they must be tattooed too. But there are sometimes other reasons. Natives frequently think more of a man if he is tattooed, and so the traveler may reap a real advantage. This is particularly so in West Africa. If their boss is tattooed the niggers boast about it to the others, and feel that they are on a higher plane!

Almost every eastern country has its own particular style of tattooing. In Burmah, all the natives are tattooed as a matter of course with a pair of figured black pants extending from the waist to just above the knee, and until this design has been executed they are not considered to have reached manhood.

In China the art is a very old one, but, although the designs are both varied and picturesque the work is somewhat crude, and cannot be compared with that of Japan, where until late years there was such a tremendous craze in this direction that the state put a stop to it. Every Jap of the lower classes used to rush off to the nearest tatooist the moment he had a little money, and as the work is by no means cheap men reached a point when the pictures upon their bodies represent a small fortune spent in this way. Meanwhile when their working days were over they had to be kept by the state instead of having for their old age the money expended on transforming themselves into walking picture galleries. To such an extent was this carried that with a view to encouraging thrift the Government forbade the practice by law, making it such a serious offence that so far as the Japanese themselves are concerned it is practically stamped out, although there are still Japanese tattooers who draw their clients from foreigners visiting the country.

It seems rather curious that a thing of this sort should be forbidden by law, but it is not nearly for so remarkable a reason in this case, as it is with the Maoris in New Zealand. The Maoris have a special kind of tattooing their designs being executed in the form of elaborate rings, lines and curves upon the face. So wonderful were some of these designs that, after death well-tattooed heads use to be smoked dried and kept. After a while these became curiosities which commanded a ready market, and no sooner did the Maoris discover this than they took advantage of it. Whenever any member of another tribe was captured in battle they used to tattoo them, and when perfect kill them, and keep the heads as articles of merchandise. They used even to display the living heads to prospective buyers and then kill whichever was chosen! This got to such a pitch that the practice had to be stopped by law, and the supply of heads now having run short they have an ever-increasing market value. There are several specimens in the British and other museums. The average value of a good head is about $250.

Native methods of tattooing are usually very crude. After the Maori tattooist had been at work the face of the subject used to swell to such an extent that he had to be fed through a funnel. In Samoa and the Pacific Islands the natives use fish bones to pick the skin, with the result that cases of blood poisoning are frequent, while in parts of Central Africa a kind of "relief" work is done, dirt being introduced into the wounds so that they fester for months and eventually leave a raised whitish scar.

What He Ought to Do.

"Miggles," says the old friend, "you got me to give your brother a job a month ago, didn't you?"

"Yes, and I was mighty glad you took care of him. He's been the deadwood of the family for years. It was a deucedly clever thing of you to"—

"Well, I just wanted to say to you that if you want to make your pull good you'll have to come around and do his work for him."

How to Clean Old Ivory.

Antique ivory requires a good deal of care before it can be made to regain its original lustre and lose the dingy yellow tint which disfigures it. Prepared chalk, sal volatile and olive oil made into a paste should be rubbed on the ivory figure or carving with a piece of wash leather, a little more being then rubbed over it and left to dry on. When dry the powder will brush off easily.

Seized Fishing Tug.

Ottawa, June 14.—Canadian customs officials at Shelburne, N.S., have seized the fishing schooner "J. R. Atwood," owned by J. A. Young & Co. of Boston. It is alleged that last year the Atwood put into Wood Harbor during the close season and took on eighty lobster traps with which she sailed away to Boston. The Government agents have been looking for the vessel ever since.

The owner has entered a protest and is expected in Ottawa to-day.

The Government has been having much trouble with U. S. vessels fishing in the close season just outside the three-mile limit.

Proclaimed Seamen's Strike.

Antwerp, June 14.—The Seamen's Union has posted a manifesto proclaiming a strike and inviting all to adhere. As a result of this the coal and firemen on the Red Star steamer Finland, due to leave for New York on Saturday refused to sign contracts. German sailors who signed for the steamer Marquette, refused to go aboard. The Belgian steamer Tigris, however, left port with a full complement.

The Burgomaster has summoned representatives of the shipowners to meet at the City Hall to-day to consider means for settling the dispute.

Girl Never Ill-Used.

St. Catharines, Ont., June 14.—At the inquest into the death of Gertrude Dale, aged 18, of Thorold, the evidence adduced did not go to show that the girl had been ill-used at home.

Her mother and father swore positively that she had never been whipped, and that she had no house work to do, merely having to take milk to the customers.

"Since my girl's death, I have lost all my customers," said Mrs. Dale. She described the dead girl as being very erratic, morose and sulky at times.

Scheib Released.

New York, June 14.—Unable to prove that Mrs. Lillian Scheib had not died a natural death, Henry Scheib was on Monday released on the murder charge, but was re-arrested on a charge of grand larceny for using his employer's auto for "joy riding."

Aviator Fell 124 Feet.

Magdeburg, Germany, June 14.—The first serious accident of the national aviation circuit race occurred here yesterday, when Karl Mueller, in attempting a landing, fell with his biplane about 125 feet. He suffered a concussion of the brain.

Must Go Home to Strike.

Boston, June 14.—The seamen on British steamers now in United States ports will not strike in response to the strike call to be issued in England to-day.

The seamen will have to carry the ships back to their home ports before they can join the strike.

Opposition to Garbage Scheme.

Brockville, June 14.—A few weeks ago the Town Council passed a bylaw providing for the collection and disposal of garbage and imposing fees to meet the cost of the work, which was awarded to a local firm by tender. Opposition to the scheme developed in certain quarters of the town, resulting in the contractors refusing to take the job, and a call for new tenders being sent out. Mayor Patterson, acting on a largely signed petition from adverse ratepayers, has called a public meeting for the 19th inst., to discuss the bylaw. Notwithstanding the opposition, the council propose to put the bylaw into effect as soon as possible.

Good Time For the Troops.

Ottawa, June 14.—The program arranged by the "Colonial Troops Entertainment Committee" in London has been received by Earl Grey. The Duke of Abercorn is chairman of the committee, and others include the Duke of Argyle and Lord Roberts.

The entertainment will include, for the Canadians, a visit to Windsor Castle and the Royal Mausoleum at Frogmore, a visit to Woolwich or Portsmouth, and a visit to Warwick Castle and the Birmingham small arms factory. The departure is scheduled for July 1st.

Success at London.

London, Ont., June 14.—The first of the near-by villages to take power from the city Hydro service was connected up yesterday, when the linemen of the city connected up thirty-eight houses in Byron, 6 1-2 miles from here.

Chairman Pocock of the Water and Power Commission announced yesterday that 4,000 subscribers would be connected up with Hydro power before the end of the year, and that a surplus would be turned over to the city from the electrical department.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If In Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

SURGEONS' FEES.

Pretty Big Sometimes, but Then There Is Another Point of View.

I have a warm spot in my heart for the big American surgeons, says a writer in the New York Telegraph, and because of regular attendance for years at some of the most famous clinics in this and other cities I have been a witness of their unadvertised charities—acts of mercy and kindness which were never heard of outside the walls of the hospitals they honor by their services.

I knew a wealthy man whose daughter was suddenly stricken and whose life was saved by the attending surgeon. His fee was $25,000. Straightway the father emitted a wail.

"It's robbery," he said. The surgeon stood firm.

"Your daughter's life is worth $25,000 to you," he countered. There was no denial.

"Well, this fee means that I can operate on fifty persons without any charge, and if you don't like it you can force me to sue, but I will get it without a suit or you will stand a lot of publicity."

And he got the money without recourse to a court of law.

It is safe to mark it down when you see a story of some great surgeon who has charged a high fee that there are many of his patients enjoying good health and relief from pain because he charged them nothing at all.

EXCURSIONS TO WESTERN CANADA

The Grand Trunk Railway system announce that on Tuesdays, June 13th and 27th, July 11th and 25th, August 8th and 22nd, September 5th and 19th, 1911, Homeseekers' Excursions will be run from all stations in Ontario and Quebec to Western Canada, via Chicago, and Duluth or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, at reduced round trip fares.

The well-known double track line of the Grand Trunk from the East to Chicago appeals to the traveller, and with the superior train service that is offered by this line, including the famous "International Limited" from Montreal daily at 9 a.m., and which is the finest and fastest train in Canada, many passengers will be attracted this way. The route via Chicago is a most interesting one, taking passengers through the principal cities and towns in Canada and in the States of Michigan and Indiana. In addition to this a choice of seven lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is offered.

Owing to the great number of Canadians who reside in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and other cities en route, there is no doubt that the Grand Trunk will find many patrons who will take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them for a brief visit at the stations with their friends.

Canadian citizens are exempt from so-called Immigration examination, and there is no detention at any point.

Baggage is carried through the United States in bond without requiring any special attention on the part of the passenger. Inspection is not necessary at any of the points at the Border.

Another feature that will appeal to the home-seeker is the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth into freshly ventilated clean cars, avoiding the necessity of travelling a long distance in the same car.

In addition to the above routes, the sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarnia, and the Northern Navigation Company's magnificent steamers across Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, or write to Mr. J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent, Bonaventure Station, Montreal, or Mr. A. E. Duff, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto.

Farmer Jones And The Tariff

OR, A FRIEND IN DISGUISE

Farmer Jones sat on his back verandah watching his crops grow under the gentle influence of a May evening. His feet were up, his pipe was going, the smell of the new spring earth was in his nostrils. Out in the harrowed fields the grain was showing in long green lines, while on the rolling hills across the river the season's hay was standing in tangled richness. Mingled with the songs of birds, his eager ear caught a sound quite as attractive—the insidious something which told him of abundant and progressive life. It was his hour of pleasure, and he enjoyed it to the full. But on this particular evening he was doomed to become the prey of a foreign influence which threatened to turn his contented brooding into a fit of melancholy. As he watched his fields he began to estimate his profits, subtracting expenditures from receipts and calculating how the former might be reduced. The things he had to buy, the wear and tear on the things he already possessed were duly taken into account.

Agricultural Scare Crow

At this point, that agricultural scare crow, the tariff, stalked into his soliloquy. He recalled fragments of the pamphlets and newspapers he had read, wild words from the inaccurate orations he had heard on the subject, all of which claimed to have proven that the tariff was the yoke upon the Canadian farmer's neck that chained him to perpetual slavery on the land. If these allegations were true, the tariff, and those corpulent monopolists who were represented as profiting by its existence, would take their toll of every broad acre he possessed. This was the reason, then, that there was not a larger margin between his annual debits and credits.

Farmer Jones put down his feet. He leaned anxiously forward and scanned the fields already disappearing in the twilight as though capitalists, with giant hands, were snatching them bodily away. He could easily imagine that he saw stout little men, with seal rings and heavy watch chains, scurrying over the fences, carrying bushels of wheat, sheaves of corn and baskets of fruit. Depressed by his vision, Farmer Jones put away his now tasteless pipe.

In a Pessimistic Mood

"Blast them!" he remarked, referring to the absent tariff makers, "I wish I had them out in the hay field on a hot day. I'd take the humps off the stomachs and put them on their backs."

This remark showed that the genial Jones was in an extremely pessimistic mood, which compelled him to turn his back on his fields, enter his house, and sit down before his great old-fashioned desk with its quaint pigeon holes full of musty books and papers.

Mr. Jones' intention was to reduce himself to a state of absolute depression by reading anti-tariff literature, but his attention was arrested by a blue book which had just arrived that day from Ottawa. It contained the returns of the Customs Department. Mr. Jones glanced through the orderly array of figures and terse significant statements, so different from those which had threatened to undermine the cheerfulness of his disposition a few minutes before. He noticed that the duty collected on spirits and wines imported into Canada during 1910 amounted to $5,955,645.40, which went into the Dominion treasury and helped to make up the total revenue of the country.

Who Pays This Bill?

"Who pays that six millions?" asked Farmer Jones of himself.

"I don't drink spirits. No one on this concession drinks. Practically no one in the township touches liquor. We have had local option for three years and ... has not been sold in the county for that time.

"Clearly the farmers about here do not pay any of that six millions. Who does then? Temperance statistics show that most liquor is consumed in large cities, where there are at least two distinct classes of people, the very rich and the very poor. A duty on liquor is a tax on a luxury. It tends to place it beyond the reach of the poor and takes a little of the extra pocket money of the rich. Therefore, it has a moral effect on the poor at all events. Moreover, it does not tax a necessity such as bread. Therefore, a great sum is added to the revenues of the country. Where is the harm in that bit of the tariff?"

More Customs Returns

Farmer Jones, after arriving at this stage of his argument with himself, turned over more pages of the customs returns. Having started with one kind of intoxicating liquors he determined to find out how much other kinds were adding to the national pocket of Canada. He found that the duties on ale, porter and lager beer amounted to $211,733.83 in 1910. Ale, porter or beer had never touched his palate, or those of his four sons. Wine was a more mysterious stranger. He had read about it in the Bible, and fully believed in its powers as a mocker, but had never seen it, to his knowledge, and he would have staked his farm that Mrs. Jones had never gazed on it when it was red or any other color. Yet, these intoxicating liquors, which were unfamiliar beverages to him and to all his acquaintance, furnished over six millions of customs duties.

Mr. Jones is Puzzled

Mr. Jones knew that all the national revenues are "pooled," that is, put into one vast account, from which all expenses are paid. His taxes went in with the rest. It was quite clear, therefore, that his taxes would be lessened in proportion to the amount of national revenue derived from other sources than a direct tax on land. Consequently, these six millions, collected in duties on intoxicating liquor, lessened to some degree the taxes on his property. Mr. Jones was perplexed. He had been taught that the tariff was his enemy. In this case, at any rate, it was his friend. He continued to run over the items in the schedules. The duty on animals imported into Canada during 1910 amounted to $167,350.38; on butter, $15,702.08; on eggs, $20,305.42; on grain and products, $273,421.17; on green fruit, $267,937.94; and on vegetables, $350,661.85.

The effect of this duty was two-fold; $1,095,381.84 was added to the national revenue, and his competitors were placed under a handicap in competition for the Canadian market. He had all these articles on the market himself. Therefore, this much-abused tariff was conserving a selling field for him and making his rivals help pay his taxes.

Helping Him Out

Mr. Jones, being a man of ingenious turn of mind, looked at the problem as it affected him in another way. He knew what few realize—that out of the special revenues of the country the majority of the great public works are financed. He thought musingly of the outcry which would be raised by some of his tight-fisted neighbors if a levy was made upon them directly to build the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Yet this great transcontinental would benefit their agricultural community. Farmer Jones began his calculations again.

Rock cut, fill, timber land and open prairie averaged, railway construction costs about $35,000 per mile. The duty on spirits for 1910 would build 170 miles of the Transcontinental. The combined revenue derived from the duty on animals, butter, eggs, grain and its products, green fruit and vegetables, would build 31 miles. The consumers of intoxicants, and his rivals who had farm produce to sell, were actually paying for the railroad which would transport his produce to a wider market than it had enjoyed before the advent of the line.

The next item upon which his attention rested was "Electrical Apparatus," on which the revenue collected through the duty in 1910 amounted to $909,482.72. There was not a cent's worth of electrical apparatus used within a radius of ten miles of where Mr. Jones lived. Dwellers of towns and cities used electrical apparatus, and consequently paid all or part of the duty on it. The amount collected through this duty went into the national treasury and eased the financial burden of Farmer Jones.

"It strikes me," said Farmer Jones finally, "that a moderately protective tariff is not so black as it has been painted."

A Great Country

He began to analyze the present period of Canada's industrial and commercial development. The Grand Trunk Railway was linking up two oceans. Would it have been built if a plebiscite had been taken in a country where the agricultural classes are in the majority in the absence of a system of moderate protection? Would the C.P.R. have been built out of the proceeds of direct land taxes? Farmer Jones was inclined to answer these questions in the negative. The Georgian Bay Canal, connecting Port Arthur and Montreal, will be built some day; the Welland Canal will be deepened; the St. Lawrence Canals will be enlarged and a great waterways will be opened for ocean steamers to the head of the Great Lakes. What does the completion of these vast public works mean to the farmers of Canada, particularly those in the Prairie Provinces who have grain to ship across the Atlantic? The cost of maintaining the militia, the army, the great non-dividend-earning public services are direct charges on the national revenue. They must be paid. If a tariff secures part of the bill it lessens the inevitable burden of direct taxation on the land, income taxes, poll taxes or business taxes, imposed on all urban and rural communities.

It was midnight when Farmer Jones, having smoked three pipes of home-grown tobacco, made a statement to himself.

"I'll bring this thing up at the next meeting of the Grange," he said. "There is too much aimless talk about 'bloated capitalists' and 'down trodden farmers' indulged in by the orators who visit us. I'll take the customs returns over and read a few hard facts and figures to the boys."

"Farmer Jones," he continued to himself, "is not paying all the taxes in this country as he has been led to believe, and he is getting a good deal of benefit from the money expended on the nation. Even if I am paying taxes on a few things because of this protective tariff, it seems to me I am benefitting in part from it as well as from the taxes levied on all other classes. And more, I am paying my own way as a self-respecting citizen ought to do," concluded Farmer Jones.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

discussed further.

Hon. E. L. Batchelor of Australia said that nothing could be done in the direction of imperial naturalization except by the Parliaments of the Dominions themselves. Divergencies of law in the various states must also be recognized, and no attempt could be made to bring about uniformity of law as far as local naturalization in the particular Dominion was concerned, as conditions upon application varied considerably in the different Dominions, but he suggested that many thousands of people could comply with even the strictest conditions. Would it not be worth while to give imperial certificates of naturalization to such persons as could comply with a standard embodying the most drastic conditions at present imposed.

S. Malan asked whether it was contemplated if a man applied for naturalization in South Africa under the local law and his application was refused, say on the ground of character, he would be able to apply and obtain imperial naturalization, thus defeating the local law.

Batchelor replied that imperial naturalization would not be granted unless the applicant complied with the conditions in all the Dominions.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that all the dominions had availed themselves of the naturalizing powers granted them by their constitutions, but in no two dominions were the conditions the same. The certificate given by a self-governing dominion was limited to the territory of that dominion. For instance, 100,000 Americans came to Canada every year, the greater part of whom sought naturalization at the earliest moment. They were British subjects while they remained in Canada, but if they came over to Britain they were American citizens. Such a position required modification.

He strongly urged the adoption of the principle that there should be uniformity in the effect of naturalization wherever granted, and that the man who was a British subject anywhere should be recognized as a British subject everywhere. There was no objection to a variety of conditions as to machinery for granting naturalization in different dominions. It would be difficult to have the same methods everywhere, as circumstances varied too considerably. If, however, they adopted the two principles of uniformity of the effect of naturalization when granted and diversity of methods as to the manner of granting naturalization, he thought they would have reached the best solution practicable.

Sir Joseph Ward saw no reason why, provided each dominion were allowed to retain their local powers on condition that they should not have uniformity of effect.

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. ENNISMORE PICNIC WAS ANOTHER SPLENDID SUCCESS

Large Attendance and a Good Time—Long List of Prize-winners—The Speakers.

The always eagerly anticipated and enjoyable yearly event in the lives of the good people of Ennismore was realized yesterday, when they celebrated the first and best outing of the season, namely, the Ennismore picnic, held at Tara Grove, under the auspices of St. Martin's T.A.S. Despite the chilly and rather threatening weather the grounds were thronged with pleasure-seekers, and it was estimated to have been one of the most liberally patronized picnics of many years. Early in the afternoon the crowds of holiday-makers commenced to assemble, coming from surrounding villages for miles around, and before long the spacious wooded grounds resembled somewhat a vast bivouac, horses and vehicles being everywhere. Four booths had previously been erected and stocked, presided over by capable waiters, and a rushing business commenced.

An immense supply of picnic necessities, such as sandwiches, cakes, cold to whom much of the credit for the success of the picnic is due.

REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK

meat, coffee, tea, etc., was invitingly spread on large tables, where meals could be had by any so desiring.

The sports committee, with Mr. Donovan as clerk of the course immediately got busy with the sporting events. The various competitions aroused great interest, and were watched eagerly by nearly all present.

Some of the events were keenly contested and were only won by narrow margins. Michael O'Brien won the running broad jump and came second in putting the shot.

Ex-ALD. HARRY PHELAN

ROAD RACE.

Albert Smoke, the popular Indian prancer, won two events, the 10 mile road race and the mile. In the former event he won by a big lead, reaching the grounds about 3-4 of a mile ahead of Worthley, the English runner, who was second. The third and last to finish of the three who entered was J. Dion, who ran a splendid race, considering it was his first attempt at the long distance game. The ten mile event was run under several difficulties, chief of which was the terrible condition of the roads and the steep grades and hills to be covered. Despite this the time was excellent, all doing the distance in a little over an hour. The start was made at 1.45 from the Examiner office.

PRIZE WINNERS.

The following is the list of the events, with the first and second in each:

Standing broad jump for men—1, George Tillen; 2, Dennis Begley.

Hop, step and jump—1, J. W. Northey; 2, J. Flynn.

Running broad jump, men—1, Michael O'Brien; 2, D. Begley.

Standing broad jump for boys under 16—1, Gus Crough; 2, M. Gannon.

Hop, step and jump—1, Gus Crough; 2, Thomas McAuliffe.

Running broad jump—1, Gus Crough; 2, M. Gannon.

Throwing heavy weight, for men—1, W. Taylor; 2, Michael O'Brien.

Throwing heavy weight, for boys—1, Gus Crough; 2, Fred Revol.

Running, for men—1, Jack Jacobs; 2, John Crapp.

Mile race—1, Albert Smoke; 2, J. Worthley.

Running, for boys 16 and under—1, M. Gannon; 2, John Kearney.

Mile race—1, J. McAuliffe; 2, Allan Knott.

Girls' race, 12 or over—1, Molly Kennedy; 2, Mary Sherron.

Girls' race, under 12—1, Maggie Sherron; 2, Molly Moloney.

Bicycle race, two miles, open—1, G. Rutherford; 2, Harry Murphy.

MR. J. R. STRATTON, M;P.

Shoe race, for boys 10 and under—1, Michael McAuliffe; 2, Howard Kellar.

Best lady dancer—Miss Mamie Tooley, Ennismore.

Irish jig—Harvey McManus, Bridgenorth.

Clog dance—Michael Toomey.

The clog dancing and Irish jig constituted a source of intense merriment, as usual. To the sound of the proverbial fiddle, the performers kept up the pace until winded and retired amid the plaudits of the crowd, who jammed the platform and every advantageous point of ivew.

Very valuable prizes were donated for the winners in the sports.

Afterwards the crowd assembled around the grand-stand, the platform of which was occupied by quite a number of representatives of Roman Catholic clergy, politicians, and professional men. Some splendid addresses were delivered, most timely and appropriate to the occasion and the crowd were by no means backward in showing their approval of the sentiments which the speakers expressed.

THE SPEAKERS

Father Galvin, of the parish of Kinmount, was an ideal chairman. In a few suitable words he expressed his sincere pleasure at being present and welcoming his fellow speakers and the others to the Ennismore picnic. He hoped there would many more of such pleasing and enjoyable occasions in store for all present. He then called on Mr. F. D. Kerr, who made a few humorous remarks, and then retired, giving place to Mr. R. R. Hall. The latter's address was of a patriotic nature. He enlarged on the very great progress Canada was making, and of how she was coming to the forefront in commercial and political lines. He referred to the rapid growth and expansion of the Western territories and the maritime provinces, and hoped they would continue to grow. "It is not well to be satisfied and let well enough alone," he remarked. "There has been a vast increase in the trade receipts of Canada. Our relations toward our southern neighbors were strained to a certain extent after the civil war, but happily that feeling is diminishing. It is to be hoped that we will grow stronger and more united in friendship as time goes on."

Father McColl was asked to say a few words. The reverend gentleman recalled happy memories of his term of pastorate in Ennismore nine years ago. He urged progressiveness on the part of the parishioners and hoped that the measure of prosperity that has been richly bestowed upon them in the past would continue to favor them in the future. His address was most heartily endorsed by enthusiastic applause.

Ex. Ald. Harry Phelan was called on, but expressing his regret at not being a lime-light speaker, he retired to give place to some of the "big guns" as he styled them.

Mr. J. R. Stratton was heartily welcomed on rising to say a few words He said he was glad of the opportunity to mingle with the Ennismore people and enjoy a holiday with them. He was glad to see the prosperous condition of Ennismore and the people, and to see the good work that was being done. After congratulating the clergy on the platform and referring in a general way to the present reciprocity question, he concluded amid hearty applause.

Father Fitzpatrick, the last speaker gave a real good, pithy address. He is deservedly popular with his parishioners and in his few remarks he extended a sincere welcome to all who attended the picnics and especially to those of other than the Roman Catholic belief. He said he had been credited by Father McColl with having brought about many changes in Ennismore, but "when he arrived in Ennismore" he said, "the boundation of the present flourishing parish had been laid by the late Father Teefy, and all that remained for him was to put the cap on."

"It does not matter what altar a man kneels at," he said "so long as we are all united for the purpose of helping and benefiting mankind." With a plea for a broader outlook on life, he concluded his address amid warm applause.

The people shortly after commenced to disperse to their homes, all unanimous in voting the annual picnic a most successful affair.

The following clergy were noticed present, Father MacGuire of Downeyville; Father Fitzpatrick, Ennismore Father McColl, of St. Peter's Cathedral, Dr. O'Brien of Sacred Heart Church, Father Bretherton, of Hastings; and Father Fergus O'Brien, of St. Peter's Cathedral.

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

INDIAN RIVER BREEZY BRIEFS

Indian River, June 13—Owing to the sudden change of weather, many are suffering from the cold and sore throat.

Mr. Kidd has reopened his ice cream parlors for the summer months, which is greatly appreciated by the public.

Mr. John Graham purchased his millinery at Hastings. He had some difficulty in securing what he wished, as he wanted a convenient hat for his voyage across the ocean, which, we understand, he intends to make soon. Mr. Donald Hope will be unable to accompany him owing to the inability of his father to get competent help for farm work.

Mr. Stewart Elmhurst who for the past six months has been learning the tailoring, may open up a shop at Indian River. Should he do so, he with a number of apprentices, will make men's coats, vests, overalls, etc., and ladies' plain shirtwaists. He will also remodel and repair old suits. Now we feel assured that such a trade would not only be very beneficial to the neighborhood, but would prove to be a lucrative business for himself, as Mr. Elmhurst is an expert along such lines, and we sincerely hope he carries out this project.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, Lakehurst, spent part of their honeymoon visiting friends in Otonabee.

Mr. Peter Walker is to be congratulated on his originality in the invention of his new vehicle, which surely displays the workmanship of a genius. This vehicles resembles somewhat the war-chariot of the ancient Britons, with this exceptions, that the hooked scrythes on the axles are excluded. When the patent is made a quite a demand will be likely made for them, as they are undoubtedly convenient for ready use.

Mr. Johnson, of Havelock, agent for fruit trees, etc., made quite a sale to the agriculturists in this part.

SEAMEN ON STRIKE

British. Belgian and Dutch Ports Are Affected.

London, June 15.—The seamen's strike was formally declared last night at London, Glasgow, Liverpool, Cardiff, Bristol, Southampton and other British ports, and also at Belgian and Dutch ports, but the chances of any real international strike being declared seem remote. So far as last night's indications show, the confidence of the shipping federation is well placed, for at hardly any of these ports was enthusiasm displayed for the strike, and the ship-owners maintain an attitude of indifference, seemingly satisfied that they will have no trouble in filling the places of the strikers, who thus far can be counted by hundreds.

Tom Man at Liverpool, Ben Tillett at London, and Havelock Wilson at Southampton are doing their utmost to galvanize the movement, but with small success. They demand chiefly a conciliation board and the establishment of a minimum wage, and complain bitterly of the wholesale employment of Asiatics by the ship-owners.

There appears very small hope here that Germany, Norway or Denmark will come into the movement.

At a mass meeting in East London last night, attended by 3,000 sailors and firemen, the signal for the strike was given. This consisted in the firing of three rockets and the unfurling of a banner inscribed: "The war is now declared."

C.P.R. Liner Delayed.

Liverpool, June 15.—This was the first of the big British ports to feel the effect of the general strike order issued to the union seamen to enforce the ultimatum served on the shipping federation some time ago. The crews of the Teutonic and the C.P.R.'s Empress of Ireland, which both run to Quebec, abandoned their vessels yesterday, and the ships are now tied up, unable to sail on schedule.

The crews of a number of tramp liners followed the example of the men on the big American liners. The men are very orderly, having been warned by their officers to keep away from the water front.

Officers of the union say that as fast as the big liners come in the men will quit work. All, however, will complete the trip for which they have signed, so that none of the steamers whose home port this is will be interfered with elsewhere.

Trouble at Montreal.

Montreal, June 15.—While it is not likely that the International Seamen's strike will greatly affect Montreal, it is not at all unlikely that trouble may arise between the local Longshoremen's Union and the principal shipping companies using this port.

During the past week the permanent board of conciliation appointed to settle all disputes between longshoremen and shipping have been deliberating in an endeavor to arrive at a solution of the grievances, which if not settled will threaten the ordinary quiet and peaceful conditions of labor along the water front. The main point complained of by the longshoremen is that the captains of the vessels entering the port never ask for sufficient workers, thus leaving in the longshoremen's ranks many more unemployed than are necessary.

The second complaint is that the shipping companies are ignoring the union by employing non-union hands to unload the vessels which visit Montreal.

It was announced yesterday by Mr. Francq, president of the board, that no decision would be handed down until the members of the board had themselves investigated the longshoremen's complaints.

The longshoremen are confident that the permanent board will succeed in adjusting their difference and are content to await a decision for some time yet before taking extreme measures.

The next meeting of the board has been set for Saturday, when some definite announcement is certain to be made.

AGAINST THE NE TEMERE

Presbyterian Assembly Are Strongly Against It.

Vote of Adherents on Question of Organic Union.

Ottawa, June 15.—A strong pronouncement against the promulgation of the "ne temere" decree and a warning to the people of the church to abstain from mixed marriages till the situation is cleared up was passed by the Presbyterian General Assembly here last night. The motion was carried unanimously by a standing vote.

The main resolutions as presented read, as outlined yesterday, with the adoption of the following clause:

"But so long as the 'ne temere' decree is attempted to be enforced in Canada, and so long as the Roman Catholic Church assumes the authority to interfere with and destroy the peace of those who contract mixed marriages, while deeply regretting the necessity of suffering any cloud to rest upon the social harmony that should exist among all Christians in this dominion, the General Assembly is compelled, until the cause of this disharmony is removed by the Church of Rome, to warn all our people to abstain from entering into the marriage tie with those who give their allegiance to the Roman Catholic authority."

At the afternoon session the question of church union came up again. The standing committee of which Principal Patrick is chairman, reported incorporating the recommendations of the special committee, which the assembly had already accepted and also making an additional recommendation that in addition to the vote from church sessions, members and adherents, a vote be also asked from the presbyteries. This was agreed to. The vote of members and adherents will be taken up to March 15 and of presbyteries up to March 25. The vacancies on the committee were filled and the committee was authorized to take what steps it deemed best to lay the proposed basis of union before the church members. It is possible that printed copies of the proposed bill may be sent to every member so that an intelligent vote may be taken.

In addition to the vote on the submitting question form, the members and presbyteries will be asked to make suggestions.

That self-indulgence and the desire to make money have caused a disappointing condition in church finances was one of the statements made at the assembly in the report of the committee on systematic church giving.

The report concludes with the recommendation that immediate expansion is necessary, and "that any standard of giving less than ten cents per week by each communicant, or 25 cents per family is discreditable."

Ottawa's Board of Control have voted $600 for coronation celebration since they learned Earl Grey was making enquiries.

A SEPARATIST IN EVERY POLICY

"Great Britain Has Lost Her Great Opportunity — Let Us See to it That We Do Not Lose Ours"

From the Minneapolis Journal.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier will argue before the Imperial Conference at London a resolution providing that any Dominion of the Empire may for itself withdraw from a treaty made by the Mother Country, such act not to invalidate the treaty as regards the other members of the Empire.

"For instance Canada might serve notice that as for herself the Treaty of Alliance with Japan does not hold.

run, although with the remaining members of the Empire it would hold.

"If the resolution was adopted as part of the Constitution of the Epire, the foreign engagements of the United Kingdom would not be binding upon the self-governing Dominions, if they elected to serve notice of dissent. The next step obviously would be that any Dominion would be free to contract political alliances outside the Empire, Australia for instance, to ally herself with Russia or Germany as against Japan, the Mother Country's ally.

"Whether the resolution passes or not, its presentation certainly marks a reservation upon the part of Canada. She is not necessarily to be dragged into any war that Great Brittain may make, nor to be bound by any contract that the Mother Country may undertake.

"The resolution, moreover, is significant of the radical change in the attitude of Sir Wilfrid to-day as contrasted with his attitude four years ago. In 1907 he showed himself an Imperialist of the first water. In 1911 he is a Canadian Nationalist, still loyal to the Crown in sentiment, but a Canadian separatist in every policy. In 1907 he was looking forwward to a federation of the Empire. To-day he is a North American and the Imperial connection is merely a historical and sentimental tie.

"Great Britain has lost her great opportunity. Let us see to it that we do not lose ours. Reciprocity is the alternative of imperialism for Canada. Let us give her reciprocity."

J. A. SEXSMITH'S SPEECH GETS ATTENTION IN THE U.S. SENATE

Blind Senator Gore Wants it Put on Congressional Records as Blue Ruin Affair—McCumber's Speech Companion in Misery, Says He.

Washington, June 14.—For four hours the Senate chamber to-day was filled with gloom, but almost empty of legislators, while Senators McCumber and Curtis, Kansas, pictured the ruin that would follow from the competition with Canadian farmers. Then, in four minutes, Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, brushed away the clouds in a beautiful tactical move, and virtually undid the effect of the previous speakers' lengthy orations.

"I do not know whether there is any truth in the proverb that misery loves company," Senator Gore began, "but if there be, I desire to afford the Senators from North Dakota and Kansas the rich ecstacy resulting from companionship. I hold in my hand a speech delivered by Mr. Sexsmith, East Peterborough, a member of the Canadian Parliament. Mr. Sexsmith is a farmer, and in his address he demonstrates, at least to his own satisfaction, that approval of the reciprocity agreement by the Canadian Parliament would absolutely shipwreck the agricultural interests of the Dominion of Canada. He demonstrates that it would depreciate the value of their lands, that it would depress the price of their products, and that it would subject them to a competition with the farmers of the United States which they cannot withstand. If the Senator from North Dakota imagines that he has painted the blackest picture which it is possible for an artist to portray, I desire to call his attention to the gloomy views portrayed in this picture by Mr. Sexsmith. Mr. President, I do not believe that either artist has painted true to nature. I desire to ask that this speech be printed in the Congressional Record as a companion-piece to the speech of the Senator from North Dakota, in order that the farmers of the United States may be sure that if this agreement does not result in reciprocal benefit it will at least result in reciprocal ruin.

THOMAS P. GORE.
The blind Senator from Oklahoma.

PRINCE FOR NAVY

London, June 15.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales will follow in his father's footsteps and will serve as a midshipman in the navy after the coronation ceremonies next week.

BIG FIRE AT THE CAPITAL

Loss of $100,000 to Warehouse Co. Premises.

Thousands of. Bunches of Bananas Destroyed

Ottawa, June 15—Damage to the extent of about $100,000 was wrought yesterday morning by a fire which completely gutted the storerooms of the Dominion Warehouse Co., Nicholas street. The first started from some unknown cause and within a short time had swept clean through the warerooms, which contained thousands of dollars' worth of furniture, which had been stored. It then took to the offices and storerooms of the McCormick Biscuit Co., the Canadian Fruit Co., and the Dominion Fruit Exchange.

The building was owned by the Dominion Warehouse Co., whose president is D. M. Finnie of the Bank of Ottawa. The building itself was valued at $95,000, but the walls remain and the chief loss therefore will be its contents. Thousands of bunches of bananas and a carload of strawberries were destroyed in addition to alarge quantity of liquor, which had recently been imported under bond. The water pressure was poor, but the fire, on account of the inflammable contents of the storerooms, was very difficult to handle. The fire brigade confined the flames to the warehouse and the fruit exchange, managing to save the building of the Ottawa Cold Storage Co., which stood adjacent. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Held Up and Threatened.

Kingston, June 15.—A young man employed as a servant at the Royal Military College was held up on Cataraqui Bridge by three men, who robbed him of all his money, a few dollars, and in the struggle almost tore all the clothes off his back. The men threatened him with further harm if he should tell the police.

Some Fishing, Eh!

Selkirk, Man., June 15.—A single haul of 7,000 pounds of white fish is the new record announced in the Lake Winnipeg fishing industry, the steamer Wolverine having returned to port with a total cargo of 100,000 pounds of white fish, of which the first 7,000 was caught in a single haul.

Second Sudden Bereavement.

Ottawa, June 15.—Almost within 24 hours of the death of his brother-in-law, John McFarlane, who succumbed from heart failure here on Tuesday, William Forsythe of Finch dropped dead from the same cause there yesterday.

MURRAY IN AGAIN

Liberal Majority in Nova Scotia Reduced by 6.

Halifax, June 15.—The Provincial general elections took place yesterday and resulted in a victory for the Government, who have carried twenty-seven of the thirty-eight seats in the province. Halifax elects three Liberals with a majority for the highest of 1,056, and for the lowest of 705. The Labor candidate in Halifax polled a total of 2,741 votes, compared with 4,888 for the highest Government candidate. Cape Breton elects two Conservatives, but that party confidently expected at least four.

A notable feature of the election is the defeat of three membrs of the Government, Hon. C. Chisholm, Commisisoner of Works and Mines, who ran at the foot of the poll; Hon. B. F. Pearson in Colchester, and Hon. Dr. Leblanc in Yarmouth. Premier Murray has a large majority in Victoria, and his colleague also has a big lead. The issues were chiefly local. The Liberals in this province will now have five years more to add to their 29 years of rule. The Opposition in the last Legislature numbered five. They will now have eleven, and they have the advantage of having with them C. T. Tanner, the former Opposition leader, who is elected in Pictou.

PREMIER MURRAY.

The results of the polling yesterday were as follows—Two members being elected in each constituency, except in Halifax and Pictou, each of which elect three:

Inverness—McDonald and McLellan, Liberals, leading with six places to hear from.

Victoria—Premier Murray and Buchanan, Liberals, large majority, with two places to hear from.

Guysboro—Ellis, Liberal, 319 majority; Torry, Liberal, 170 majority.

Richmond—Joyce and Bissett, Liberals, leading with good majority.

Cape Breton—Butts and Douglas, Conservatives, leading with small majorities.

Pictou—McGregor, Liberal, 3,883; Tanner, Conservative, 3,660; McKay, Liberal, 3,657; Baillie, Conservative, 3,503; Robertson, Conservative, 3,355; McKenzie, Liberal, 3,340; Cosgrave, Labor, 877.

Cumberland—Ralston, Liberal, 4,148; Carter, Liberal, 4,104; Gilroy, Conservative, 4,033; Smith, Conservative, 3,634.

Digby—Comeau, Liberal, 1,893; Wall, Liberal, 1,851; Marshall, Conservative, 610; Deveau, Conservative, 1,375.

Antigonish—Girrior, Conservative, 1,311; Trotter, Liberal, 1,285; McDougall, Conservative, 1,081; Hon. Mr. Chisholm, Liberal, 1,067.

Yarmouth — Armstrong, Liberal, 1,631; Corning, Conservative, 1,564; Leblanc, Liberal, 1,498; Dentremont, Conservative, 1,145.

Hants—Parsons, Conservative, 2,304; Reid, Liberal, 2,061; Fielding, Conservative, 2,023; Wilson, Liberal, 1,792.

Shelburne—Irwin Liberal, 1,245; Mickerson, Liberal, 1,202; Fisher, Conservative, 1,120; Phillips, Conservative, 1,110.

Colchester — Stanfield, Conservative, 2,589; Kennedy, Conservative, 2,524; Hill, Liberal, 2,479; Pearson, Liberal, 2,215.

Kings — Wickwire, Liberal, 2,456; Covert, Liberal, 2,204; Eaton, Reform, 1,873; Parker, Conservative, 1,603; Campbell, Reform, 1,016.

Lunenburg—Maclean, Liberal, 3,292; Margeson, Conservative, 2,971; Mader, Liberal, 2,676; Swicker, Conservative, 2,303.

Queens—Hall, Conservative, 1,083; Smith, Liberal, 1,056; Kingston, Conservative, 935; Purney, Liberal, 883.

Annapolis—Daniels, Liberal, 2,091; Phinney, Conservative, 1,942; Davidson, Conservative, 1,921; Hall, Liberal, 1,864.

Halifax—Faulkner, Liberal, 6,234; Logan, Liberal, 6,201; Finn, Liberal, 5,883; Conservative, 5,178; Smith, Conservative, 4,835; O'Mullin, Conservative, 3,914; Joy, Labor, 2,503.

FIVE YEAR OLD LAD MAY DIE

Accident at Hamilton May be Fatal.

Hamilton, June 15.—Edward Gauthier, a five-year-old boy, living at 177 Young street, was perhaps fatally hurt last evening by being run over by a T. H. & B. freight car at the corner of Ferguson avenue and O'Reilly street. One leg was severad and the bones of the foot of the other were so badly crushed that the member may be useless to the boy if he recovers, which is very doubtful. The boy was so weak from loss of blood that the necessary surgical operations could not be performed last night. He was also badly cut and bruised about the body, and internal injuries are feared. Dr. T. H. Balfe is attending him. The boy was absorbed in play with other lads at the scene of the accident, and did not notice the approaching car.

FRASER OF UNSOUND MIND

Judges Say He is Incapable of Managing Affairs

His Wife Loses Control of the Estate

Special Correspondence

Toronto, June 15—Judgment was handed down in the Michael Fraser case this morning. All three judges agree that Fraser is of unsound mind and incapable of managing his own affairs. They advise that a Trust Company be appointed to take charge of the estate. The heavy costs of the action will come out of the estate. By this judgment, Frasers wife loses control of property.

On New Bank's Business.

Montreal, June 15.—In connection with the rumor that Lloyd's Bank is preparing to extend its business to Great Britain's overseas dominions, J. W. Beaumont Pease, vice-chairman of the bank, is stopping in Montreal at the Windsor Hotel. He has visited many prominent financiers here, but refuses to discuss his plans. It is understood, however, that his visit is not foreign to the proposed extension.

The extension would take the form of gaining control of an existing bank, as the Dominion Bank Act would prevent the establishment of a branch office of Lloyd's in Canada.

CROWN PRINCE IN ACCIDENT

His Auto Skidded and Was Overturned

Special Correspondence

Berlin, June 15—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm, narrowly escaped serious injury to-day, when his auto skidded and overturned. The chauffeur was painfully injured.

Gala Day In Cobourg.

Cobourg, June 15.—Yesterday in Cobourg was marked by the presence of several thousand excursionists, including the retail grocers and their families and friends from Toronto, and camps of the Sons of Scotland from Toronto, Belleville, Campbellford, Madoc, and other places, who came to participate in the Caledonian games. The grocers proceeded to Victoria Park and ran off an interesting program of events, opening with a ball game between the grocers and travelers, in which the former won. Mayor Gummow proclaimed the afternoon a half holiday in honor of the Caledonian sports held at the horse show park. Last night the 48th Highlanders' band, assisted by the pipers and dancers, gave a Scotch concert in the park.

Patten To Be Roblin's Guest.

New York, June 15.—James A. Patten, the former Chicago wheat and cotton operator, in sailing yesterday on the Mauretania, to be the coronation guest of Premier Roblin of Manitoba said: "Crops are looking good. Corn is the only uncertainty, but more rain in the corn belt will relieve any anxiety."

STREET CAR EXTENSIONS

Lambton and Guelph Will be Connected

Special Correspondence

Toronto, June 15—In the acquirement of the Toronto Suburban Railway, Sir William Mackenzie, commences a policy of extensions of his holdings in inter-urban roads. This line will be extended from Lambton to Guelph. The Niagara and St. Catharines line also comes under the control of MacKenzie.

BOMB EXPLODED NEAR THE PALACE

Royal Household in Madrid Was in Danger

Special Correspondence

Madrid, June 16—Great damage was caused to-day by the explosion of a bomb in Plaza Orient adjoining the Royal Palace. The responsibility for the explosion has not yet been placed.

LAURIER ATTENDS IMPERIAL CONFERENCE AGAINST ORDERS

Doctors Had Advised Him to Stay Inside — All-red Cables.

London, June 15.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Sir Frederick Borden has been able to attend the conference yesterday.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier also put in an appearance yesterday, disregarding the advice of his doctors. He is suffering from neuralgia and throat trouble.

Explaining his stand in the matter of all-red cables, he says that we need an all-British Atlantic cable, carrying a land line through Canada, is possible at such a distance from the southern frontier that it could by no possibility get itself involved in the American stategic telegraphic or economic system; for it must be remembered that we need independent communication for other than military reasons. As things stand there is a danger that the Canadian land lines may become mere subsidiaries to the enormously powerful and wealthy organizations of the United States.

FIRST SUITS

San Benito, Tex., June 15.—King George, Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, and President Taft are to be presented with suits of clothes made from the first bale of cotton of this season's growth.

Serious Situation In Hayti.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 15.—News advices received here by mail describe conditions in the northern part of Hayti as serious. The fighting in northern Hayti has been desperate. One of the commanders of the federal troops, has taken refuge in a consulate. The supporters of Gen. Antenor Firmin, formerly Haytien Minister of Great Britain and leader of the revolt of 1980, are jubilant over the prospect of placing Firmin in the Presidential chair. Incendiary fires are reported in various parts of the republic.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

It doesn't matter to the happy ones whether you call it the Matrimonial Flyer, the Honeymoon special, or the Two-as-One Limited. It gets them there just the same.

The fishing season starts to morrow. Ananias may as well go on his vacation for a while, because he won't have a look in.

Catarrhozone

Cures Permanently
BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs. Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

Catarrhozone destroys disease germs, but it does more, it heals diseased tissue.

CATARRHOZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe, Catarrhozone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhozone means little drops of healing carried by air and placed over the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

Catarrhozone

Yes, Sir, it is taken in air.

"Little drops of healing" carried by air to weak places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

Three sizes: 25c, 50c, and $1.00, at druggists, or by mail postpaid from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

NEWSPAPER MORALITY

Governor Denne, of Illinois, has vetoed the bill that prohibited newspapers publishing news of crime on the ground that it interfered with the liberty of the press. The principle behind this decision of the governor is right. For a muzzled press is like a clock without a spring.

Canada, fortunately, is free from the objectionable exploiting of crime that some American so-called newspapers make their chief business, depending on the morbid mentality of the gum-chewing strap-hangers for their circulation. The liberty of the press is as dear a liberty as freedom of speech, although any liberty or privilege may be abused by irresponsible people.

Newspapers frequently find that even in Canada their liberty is too often abridged by the libel laws that permit anyone with even a fancied grievance to put a newspaper to the expense of defending an action in court. Guard as they may, something that a court might hold to be libellous or defamatory will creep occasionally into the columns of newspapers, and for these unintentional slips, the publisher may be called on to pay heavy damages.

But we think it is a matter for congratulation that Canadian newspaper men have the good of the community so much at heart that they refuse to descend to the level of caterers to the morbid and salacious, and strive as best they can to maintain a high standard of journalism.

SOME "SANE OPINION"

Arthur Brisbane, one of the Hearst editors in New York, is said to be one of the highest priced newspaper men in the world. All of his "stuff" is written over his name, which is supposed to guarantee the weight and authority of the utterance. And Brisbane has written some really live editorial articles on the big questions.

Arthur is sending to the Canadian newspapers, a letter enclosing an editorial written by him in the New York Evening Journal, the chief Hearst organ. The article is on the subject of Reciprocity, and in his letter Mr. Brisbane is quite emphatic in stating that the sentiment of the editorial, is that of the sane, thinking men of the United States. Arthur Brisbane is a man who should know, even though he is allied with the Hearst forces.

Brisbane assures us that the majority of sane men in the United States

> "look forward to the day when this whole American continent will be one great nation, as it should be."

Quite a natural ambition, one might say. And as for the aims and aspirations of these sane men, Arthur B. says;

> "We want to trade with each other, to do business with each other more and more—with as little obstacle between Canada and our country as possible. . We went to tear down tariff and other barriers as rapidly as we can, and to make of this great northern continent at least a united commercial whole. . . The treaty of reciprocity will bring all good men on this northern continent closer together. It will help all business and all consumers of life's necessities, widening all markets, hurting no one unless it be some monopolist eager to restrict the supply in order to supply the demand at extortionate rates."

Canadians who thought Champ Clark's speech was a take-off now have the word of the leading editorial writer of the United States that the sane men of that country look forward to tearing down the tariff barriers as rapidly as possible, and to make of this great northern continent at least a united commercial whole. No annexation talk here! Oh no! Just to unite the two countries commercially, without barriers, as Erastus Wiman and Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have done twenty years ago. Just have unrestricted reciprocity, that's all.

But Brisbane also considers the outlook when Canada decides to come into the union. He says, as to this;

> Canada, when she is ready, can step into the great well-known firm of U. S. & Co., and take her place as a full partner, and a very welcome partner. It would be like taking an admirable first-class young business man into a big first-class firm—the transaction equally honorable to both partners. Canada would have her own say, as she now has, in her own affairs—as Texas or Maine has—and she would also have her full say in the legislation and elections that control the destinies of this continent. She would lose nothing, no fraction of autonomy—she would gain her partnership in a big concern while giving up nothing.

It will be noticed that Brisbane assures us that Canada can become a state of the union as powerful as Texas or Maine. We would have our full say as one state in the policies of the United States, though we happen to be bigger in area than the half hundred states and territories now composing the whole republic. We would give up nothing, etc., etc. Really most generous, Mr. Brisbane. We'd hardly expected so much from you. Of course as the opinion of the majority of the sane men of the United States should carry great weight, there can be nothing left for us but to take a star, sew it or paste it on Old Glory, and then we shall at last be free, and happy, and have achieved the glorious destiny of having as much power in the affairs of the continent as Texas or Maine.

Really, how Canadians can resist such generosity is beyond our comprehension.

SWAT THE FLY

In the two or three weeks of summery weather already there have been millions of flies born. One of the most dangerous habits of the fly is that he wipes his feet. He wipes his feet on the food you eat and on the faces of your sleeping children. He feasts on offal and refuse and sewage, and then jaunts around the house with the horrible microbes clinging to his spongy feet and antennae. The fly gathers the microbes, the germs from the foul refuse and wipes his feet on your meat, or your bread, or drowns himself in your milk.

Watch a fly light on a lump of sugar. He shuffles his feet like a buck-and-wing dancer, or an Irish jig-man. He is leaving the minute microbes on the jump for your benefit. Thorough screening of houses will keep out the pest; but this must be done early in the season. If you are late, and let Mr. Fly get in, he can breed a million others in a month. The best plan is not to leave anything around for the fly to breed in. See that all dust and rubbish is carried out. Keep a cover on your garbage can or pail. Do a little spraying with kerosene and the flies will not come around, because they cannot endure the slight odor.

Keep your milk and food from all danger of contamination by flies, and be awake and alive to get rid of the pest. Swat it if you see it, and don't miss an opportunity of curing the evil by preventive work. If everyone was careful, the fly nuisance would soon dwindle into nothingness.

INDIAN RIVER

Special Correspondence.

Indian River, June 14.—Shortly after eleven o'clock on Saturday last, the barns owned by Hugh Fife were struck by lightning and were soon enveloped in flames. A valuable horse, twenty-five pigs, and nearly a hundred hens were burned to death. The building also contained a quantity of packed meat, which was destroyed. Among the farm implements saved was a binder, a seeder and a fanning mill. The barns, which were burned to the ground, were built of logs and were erected seventy-eight years ago. The hired man was the only man on the farm when the buildings were struck.

Last Wednesday evening Arthur Hall fell from a fence and broke his left arm near the elbow. A doctor was quickly summoned and the child is now getting along very nicely, although there is some fear that the arm may remain a little stiff owing to the position of the break.

Mr. McCutcheon, relieving agent, will have charge of the station here while Mr. Munn is having his vacation.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes effected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's. 10

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 14.—There was some enquiry from European sources for Manitoba wheat, but as the prices were all from 1c to 3c per bushel below cost, no business was done. A firm feeling prevails in the local market for oats and sales of 25,000 bushels of sample grades were made at 39½c per bushel, afloat, but at the close of the market sellers were asking 40½c each, ex-store, for some grades. Cargo lots of No. 3 yellow corn to arrive were offered at 50¾c per bushel, afloat. A little business was worked in winter wheat flour for export account at an advance of 6d per sack, and there was also some enquiry for round lots for July shipment. The local trade is fairly good and prices are well maintained.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 14.—The offerings at the Canadian Pacific Stock Yards to-day were 600 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 1500 hogs, and 1100 calves. A feature of the trade was the stronger tone to the market for cattle, and prices scored a further advance of 15c to 25c per cwt., since made, which was due to the small supply and a further rise in prices in the Toronto market. The demand from butchers was fairly good for small lots to fill actual wants, and the market was moderately active with sales of choice steers at $6.65 to $6.75; good, at $6.35 to $6.50; fairly good, at $6.15 to $6.25; fair, at $5.90 to $6, and the lower grades at from $5 to $5.70 per cwt. Cows brought from $4.25 to $5.50, and bulls, from $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt., as to quality.

A weaker feeling developed in the market for hogs and prices declined 25c to 50c per cwt., which was due to the increased supplies and the fact that the competition between buyers was not so keen as it was in the early part of the week. At the reduction the demand was ample to absorb all the offerings and sales of selected lots were made at $6.75 to $7.25 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

A feature of the small meat trade was the stronger feeling in the market for lambs and prices advanced $1 per head on account of the limited supply and the increased demand for the same from local buyers. Sales at from $4.25 to $6.25 each. Prices for old sheep were also firmer at from $4.50 to $6 each. The demand for calves was good and prices were unchanged at from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality.

At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, there were offered 225 cattle, 675 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs and 700 calves. A fairly good trade was done and the prices realized were much the same as those quoted above.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

Although no herald of intrusion had been apparent, he was suddenly conscious that some one had entered the room before the General had expressed his wish. Rising, he discerned Adele Randall, who now came swiftly forward and, ignoring him, assumed a protecting attitude over the child, as if to shield it from an infinitely contaminating presence. She appeared the same as on the first occasion of his meeting with her—pale, sad, dressed entirely in black, hopelessly emotionless and uncompromisingly hopeless.

"Miss Randall," he ventured at [illegible] something for you. Several times I have sent one of the servants to you requesting an interview. I don't want you to regret all your life the fact that you refused to listen to me."

Without a word or a glance she turned to the General and took him by the hand, the child struggling with all his small strength. "Please don't make me!" he implored. "Dele, he's trying not to be bad like they said. And, don't you remember, I promised to be his trusty friend. Can't I even talk to him?"

"Miss Randall," quietly interposed Kirby, "there isn't a slave on this plantation you wouldn't listen to if he asked to be heard before you punished him. Won't you"—

But she had gone, half carrying the still ineffectually struggling General.

Kirby remained grimly eying a slip of paper he had withdrawn from his pocket. It was his last card—the deed to the plantation. Throwing it on the table, he sank into a chair, a prey to the most hopeless dejection.

CHAPTER XIV.

IN that disheartened attitude Bunce eventually found Kirby. From the balcony window the fat veteran had witnessed Adele's silent contempt, and he now laid a sympathetic hand upon his partner's shoulder.

"You see how you stand with her, don't you?" he said quietly. "I won't say she ain't a fine enough woman to make any man act the fool about her. But, Gene, you've got to hold up your head and git over it. It's too late for you to start your life again, and you can't drag her into it. Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby, then take another at her. But, say, she wouldn't take you if you was an angel stepped right out of the first front floor of heaven. What could you ever be to her? Nothin' but a d—d gambler. I seen the way she treated you."

"That's because she doesn't know what I'm going to do," replied Kirby, striving to convince himself. "Look at that paper."

Bunce examined the deed, then turned indignantly upon the signer thereof.

"I've seen you give some pore young feller his money back after you'd won it, but I never knowed you to do it if the feller slapped you in the face first," he said witheringly. "The girl won't stay long enough in the same room to wipe her shoes on you. Don't that hurt you?"

"It won't hurt so much after this," replied Kirby, indicating the paper.

"When the fool maker made you I reckon he quit work. He knowed he'd reached his high water mark," commented Bunce, with a despairing shrug. "Now, I'll make her speak to you."

Kirby shook his head, his relaxed figure stiffening with sudden resolution.

"No," he said quietly. "You and I'll get out of here. I won't see Miss Randall again."

But the other, giving no heed to the words, quietly left the room, while Kirby remained seated at the table abstractedly toying with the cards, utterly oblivious to surroundings. His fleeting resolution had already vanished. His grip on the present had relaxed. He felt singularly hopeless, heartsick and utterly alone.

He did not know—nor, knowing, would greatly have cared—that Judge Pleydell's plan was about to be executed. He did not know that Mme. Davezac, Miss Pleydell and the General were already in the carriage waiting to be conveyed to their neighbor's plantation, waiting for the coming of Adele, who had been inexplicably delayed at the last minute—delayed by Bunce, who was putting forth every persuasive effort, pleading, coaxing, threatening all in one breath, in a desperate attempt to bring her back to the drawing room, to make her grant a farewell interview to his partner.

At length, in the midst of his broodings, a sound from the window attracted his attention, and, listlessly turning, he discerned young Randall, old Pleydell, Aaron and M. Veaudry, all scrutinizing him intently with a look there was no misinterpreting. They considered the ladies safely away, and the time had now come when a judicial murder might be perpetrated.

Before a word had been exchanged Kirby fathomed their purpose, but no hint of cognizance was evinced in his manner. He arose leisurely and with the courtesy of guest to host rather than with any intention of self defense, alarm or even interest. And for a space and in silence the four men surveyed the one. Then young Randall spoke ominously and, for him, with admirable restraint.

"It's pretty dark outside, Mr. Kirby—too dark to shoot straight. Shall we settle it here? We are going to give you a chance, and you'd better get yourself ready to take it blanked quick unless you prefer to be shot like a rat."

"If you leave it to me," said Kirby mildly, "I prefer not to be shot at all."

"Do you realize that in giving you a fair show we do a common gambler an honor?" returned the boy, struggling hard against his passion. He resented Kirby's serene composure, for against it he was placed at a humiliating disadvantage.

"I am deeply sensible of your kindness to one of my profession," observed the "common gambler," bowing with courteous formality. "You seem to be making quite elaborate preparations, gentlemen, but I think you're putting yourselves to unnecessary trouble. Mr. Randall, you and your sister"—

"Don't you dare mention the name of any lady of my family!" menaced Tom.

"But that is necessary, sir," suavely murmured the other, "because you and your sister, Miss Adele Randall"—

"You wolf!" snarled the boy, and he struck with all his strength.

The alert and pacific M. Veaudry caught the descending arm, and before the outraged and now thoroughly incensed boy, furious at Kirby's deliberate repetition of Miss Randall's name, could wrest himself free and renew the attack Adele herself had entered the room, followed by the successful Bunce. Her presence instantly prohibited further hostilities, and young Randall sullenly turned away, raging against her delayed departure and unexpected intrusion. The self satisfied and beaming glance cast upon him by the portly veteran Bunce did not improve his temper, although in a measure it afforded an explanation of Adele's presence.

"I have yielded to this gentleman's request," said the girl stonily, waving an ironic and contemptuous hand toward Bunce, while her eyes looked accurately through the top of Kirby's head. "I grant your interview. What is it you wish to say? Kindly be as explicit and terse as possible."

Three Hundred Return to Work.

Montreal, June 15.—With about a thousand of their striking comrades lining the street railway tracks and the G.T.R. embankment at Dominion, and urging them to remain with them, some 300 employes of the Canadian Car & Foundry Co., Ltd., returned to their desks yesterday morning.

Despite this break in the ranks of the two thousand men affected by the strike, the majority seemed more determined than ever to have their demand for two cents an hour over the present scale paid.

A big meeting was held by the strikers yesterday morning. While all the speakers urged the men to hold together and fight for what they claimed was a just principle, all strongly advocated pacific measures, and warned the men that any disorder would weaken their case and that repressive measures would be adopted without hesitation.

Anglicans Against Decree.

Kingston, June 15.—With rousing cheers the Ontario Synod yesterday afternoon passed a resolution protesting against the "ne temere" decree. The resolution read as follows:

"That the Synod of Ontario Diocese desires to express its resentment of the Church of Rome's action in issuing the 'ne temere decree,' and would respectfully suggest that all English churchmen maintain a firm and courteous attitude of opposition to any attempted interference in regard to such a vital matter as that covered by the decree, which strikes a serious blow at the moral status of society in general and the sacredness of home life, and that a memorial be sent to the general synod urging that united action of the Canadian Church be taken in regard to the matter."

Austrian Elections.

Vienna, June 15.—The Christian Socialists, who were badly beaten in the local elections for the Reichsrath on Tuesday, made a better showing outside the capital, and yesterday's returns put them in the lead, with a total of 63 deputies out of a total of 244 definitely elected.

Beginning Work on C.N.R. Line.

Smith's Falls, Ont., June 15.—The actual work of construction of the Smith's Falls division of the new Canadian Northern Railroad line, has begun. About half way between Smith's Falls and Ottawa at Dwyre Hill, a six-mile contract is under way.

Prince to Enter Navy.

London, June 15.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales will follow in his father's footsteps and will serve as a midshipman in the navy, after the coronation ceremonies next week.

Frey May Recover.

Ronciglione, Italy, June 15.—Dr. Mazzoni, the noted surgeon, who operated on Pope Leo XIII., came to Ronciglione yesterday and made an examination of Frey, the German aviator, who fell on Tuesday in an attempt to fly from Rome to Turin. He set fractured bones, after which the injured aviator seemed to rest more easily. Dr. Mazzoni predicted that if Frey recovered it will take not less than two months.

Set Fire to His Cell.

New York, June 15.—An unruly citizen who was bundled into the padded cell at Hoboken police headquarters, set fire to the cell yesterday afternoon. The canvas and lining was entirely consumed, and the prisoner, John Lawlor, was badly burned and had a narrow escape from death. Three other prisoners in ordinary cells were overcome by smoke.

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Miss Grandy of Port Hope, is the guest of Mrs. G. H. Renwick.

Miss Laura M. Rose, of 524 Water street, has gone to Toronto to attend the Library school.

Capt. E. S. Clarry, paymaster of the Third Prince of Wales Dragoons, left on the 11.26 C.P.R. train to-day to join his regiment at Petawawa camp.

Mrs. J. A. Culverwell, "Glenridge," Port Hope, is making a short visit to Pittsburg, Pa., and is returning by motor car, the guest of Pittsburg relatives. Mr. Culverwell is resting, after the successful completion of his public affairs, being engaged superintending landscape and building improvements to their new home, on the American Colony hill. He has recently purchased the "Fort Orton" property, making together with the present consolidated three properties some five acres of parkland, glen and ridge overlooking Lake Ontario and Cobourg and hills in the distance.—Guide.

AXLE WAS BROKEN

Grain Took a Fall on Charlotte Street

A farmer coming to the city with a load of grain this morning was delayed on Charlotte street when the axle of his wagon was broken.

He was driving east on the Charlotte street car track and when a car approached him from the rear he attempted to swerve the horses to the side of the street and the rear axle broke. Another wagon had to be secured to finish the journey.

Ford Hawkey, aged 14, of McIntosh Mills, was stunned by lightning.

WEDDING BELLS

PICKUP—ABRAHAM

The marriage of Miss Annie May Abraham, daughter of the Rev. Dr. R. H. Abraham, to Rev. Stanley H. Pickup, B.A., pastor of the South Side Presbyterian church, took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents, in Winchester street. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. J. E. Russ, of Peterville. The house was fragrant with the perfume of hundreds of peonies, the gift of Miss Brown, of Elgin Mills.—Toronto Star.

The groom is well known in this city. He resided at Millbrook for some time.

BERRY—MINNS

Belleville Ontario—A pretty house wedding was celebrated this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Minns, corner of Yeomans and Lewis streets, when their daughter, Miss Minnie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Fred. Berry, of Trenton. Promptly at 9 o'clock the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Winnie Wheatcroft of Trenton, and looked very charming in a dress of cream silk serge. The young couple were unattended. The officiating pastor was the Rev. Benj. Greatrix of Holloway St. Methodist church, who tied the nuptial knot in the presence of relatives and invited guests. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was partaken of.

At 12.16 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Berry left on the flyer for Montreal and Quebec where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride's traveling costume was of navy blue cloth. Afterwards they will take up their residence in Trenton.

The bride is wery popular in this city as the large number of beautiful wedding presents testify. Among them were half a-dozen of silver tea spoons, the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Coughlin of the D. & D. Institute, and a cut glass water set from the girls of the Bell Telephone Co.

WOLSELY—SCOTT

A pretty wedding took place in St. John's Church, Havelock, the bride being Miss Edith Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, and the groom Mr Joseph Wolsely of Winnipeg, Man. The church was prettily decorated by the members of the Girl's Guild. The choir sang "O Perfect Love" as the bride entered the church with her father, wearing a gown of white satin en train and carrying lily of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Caroline Scott, was in cream voile, with touches of mauve and carried ink roses. A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's parents. Among the many gifts received by the bride was a chime clock from the congregation of St. John's Church, Havelock.

Fourth Annual June CHALLENGE SALE OF SHOES

Commences This Week

THIS IS OUR FOURTH JUNE CHALLENGE Sale of Shoes and we are amply prepared to make it the record breaker. Preparations were begun away last Fall while the Spring purchases were being made, and taking into consideration the unqualified success of the previous June Sales, we bought heavily of the lines we anticipated being the most popular for spring and summer, resulting as you will see, in our stock being the largest and best ever offered for any shoe sale in this store and especially after the briskest shoe season we have ever had. Of course, many of the lots we offer are the remnants of the spring stock, and being remnants as you can readily understand, are points in their favor, as the best styles and values are generally sold out first—leaving, very often, a few broken sizes. We will begin this sale this week with a greater number of pairs of shoes than ever before—the choice is the very b st and the money-saving in store for you is well worth your consideration. Every shoe is correct in style—no old stock.

JURY RETURNED VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY" IN HOUEDRY CASE

Was Honorably Acquitted by Judge Huycke After a Lengthy Trial.

"Not guilty" was the verdict the jury returned last evening at the County Court in the case of Louis Houedry, charged with the theft of 55 bags of feed from the Quaker Oats company. The jury was out only ten minutes. The trial occupied most of the day, and the jury's verdict was the result of clear diagnosis of all the facts of the case.

CONTRADICTORY, EVIDENCE.

Houedry's trial created considerable interest, and the crown, by using quite a number of witnesses, endeavored to secure a conviction, but much of the evidence was contradictory in nature, which rendered the jury's duty rather onerous. When the jury, through the foreman, Wallace H. Moore, gave their finding, the judge remarked that he himself agreed with them, and had pleasure in honorably acquitting the prisoner.

When all the witnesses called had been questioned and cross-questioned, Mr. O'Connell, for the defence, contended there had not been sufficient evidence of value submitted to cause the case to go before the jury. The judge disagreed with his contention, however, stating that it was a question of fact, and the jury must accordingly pass upon it.

Mr. O'Connell endeavored to show by putting witnesses on the stand, who had known Houedry for years, the good reputation for honesty he bore in the community. Every witness, including Ald. Buller, T. H. Hooper and Dr. Greer testified to the reputation for honesty which he carried.

Mr. O'Connell, who addressed the jury first, made a strong plea for them to exercise the utmost care in dealing with such an important matter as the character for honesty and uprightness which the prisoner bore. He strongly impressed upon them that they were dealing with a question fraught with consequences, and urged them to feel their great responsibility in the matter. The prisoner's actions in the affair, he said, had been square and open, and it was through his own honesty in exposing the theft by Shearer that his own appearance in court was brought about. While there was no doubt in his mind that Houedry took and sold the fifty bags, the question for them to decide was did he take it with intent to steal? The evidence of some of the witnesses all showed that the prisoner believed that he had been told to take it by employes of the Quaker Oats.

Mr. R. E. Wood, crown prosecutor, in addressing the jury, said they must give a finding from the evidence alone, regardless of their own private opinion. Sympathy for the prisoner must not be allowed to excuse him, when it was important that people's property must be safeguarded.

Judge Huycke also explained the duties of the jury as plainly as possible.

The trial ended at 7.15 in the evening.

The evidence was practically the same as was previously given in the police court and which was reported at the time.

THE HONEYMOON SPECIAL

Big Crowd Watched Interesting Proceedings at the C.P.R. Station as the Newly Weds Waited for Their Train

Did you ever notice how a wedding will interest the young ladies—yes, and even the married ones, (who ought to know better.) Well, if it was never brought home to you before, the scene at the 1.28 C.P.R. train yesterday afternoon, would quite emphasize the fact.

Fully one thousand enthusiastic mammas and daughters assembled in the vicinity of the C.P.R. station, to give vent to their curiosity—or was it to see what poor fellows had gone to their fate.

Of course, some of the newlyweds were of the more humble order, and being afraid to assert themselves, (as they had not yet decided who was to be boss) they got a back seat, as it were, and when it was traintime, several had a difficult job getting to the car. One young man, neatly attired in the suit in which his father had been married, and a silk hat, which had the honor of being worn on several "seventeenths" lost his charming mate in the scramble over the heap of confetti, hobble-skirts, old boots, baggage, etc., and she, probably thinking "hubbie" was bringing up the rear calmly proceeded into the train. The excited bride groom rushed pell-mell up and down the platform, spilling people to right and left, and at last saw her through the window as the, shall we say, matrimonial fruitbasket was pulling out. He started along the track after the train and the obliging conductor, who had perhaps been there himself in his palmy days and believed in letting others be happy so long as they could, stopped his train and assisted the joyful newlyweds into each other's arms, ruefully remarking that in six months, they would not be so joyful about such a pick up. (He had evidently been through the mill as he was heard to give vent to a deep sigh.)

The livery men were also "tied up" yesterday. There was such a demand ofr hacks that a number of orders had to be turned down. One proprietor went to Oshawa, Monday night and made arrangements to have the carriage company start a couple of men with hacks to Port Hope.

A couple of the local liveryman's men were to bring the outfits to Peterboro. The drivers arrived in Port Hope and remained until 11 a.m. yesterday but the hacks did not put in an appearance and the irate men were compelled to return to the city. The proprietor of the barn in question intends sueing the Carriage Company for damages. Thus the troubles are beginning already—but such is married life.

CHANGE IN THE PROGRAM

Band Will Give Their Festival on St. John's Lawn

The band concert and garden party, under the auspices of the 57th regimental band, announced to be held on Riverside park, on Friday, June 23rd, has been changed to the beautiful grounds of St. John's church, by permission of the rector and wardens under the auspices of the Anglican Young People's Association, who will co-operate with the band in all the arrangements. A concert will be given by the full band, also selections on the newly installed chimes.

APPOINTED TO INSPECTORSHIP

Barrie County Council Get Brother of Mr. John Garvin.

Barrie, June 14.—The County Council to-day appointed Mr. Joseph L. Garvin, B.A., Toronto, 1892, public school inspector for North Simcoe, as successor to G. K. Mills, promoted to be inspector of continuation schools. Mr. Garvin is a brother of Mr. John Garvin of Toronto, formerly public school inspector for Peterborough, and is now teacher of mathematics and science in Penetang High school. There were seven applicants for the position.

REYNOLDS WILL GET MONEY BACK

Has Decided to Give up the Walking Game

Guide 1—Jimmy Reynolds, who attempted to walk to Toronto and return in thirty-five hours, came back by carriage, having given up the trip after travelling eighteen miles. When interviewed this morning Jimmy stated that the severe cramps in his legs caused his defeat. He has decided, however, that the trip is too much for him and he will give up the walking game. The gentleman who made the bet with Jimmy, has decided under the circumstances to return his share of the wager, under the condition that Reynolds never makes another proposition on the walking game.

BY-LAW TO GOVERN FIRE DEPARTMENT

Dealt With by Fire Water and Light Committee

At the fire, water and light committee meeting last evening prices were read from several firms for incandescent street lighting standards. The clerk was instructed to obtain a price from the Peterborough Light and Power company for wiring the lamps from above, and to accept the offer of the Canadian Machine Telephone company to furnish information regarding the cost of underground wiring for the lamps.

Mr. McWilliams was heard and asked for a light at the corner of King and Reid streets.

A by-law to provide for the government of the fire department was considered.

On motion of Messrs. Metheral and Kerneghan the committee approved of the by-law as amended, and recommended that it be passed by the council, and that the chairman be authorized to have copies printed.

Moved by Ald. Metheral, seconded by Ald. Kerneghan.—That the Brinton Carpet company be informed that the council will instal a factory fire alarm box instead of box 12, provided the company pays the difference in the cost between such a box and an ordinary alarm box, and will permit the company to connect it with their factory.—Carried.

There were present at the meeting Ald. Morgan (chairman), Metheral, Graham, Edgar and Kerneghan.

Trout Fishing

Mr. W. S. Dodds, of Peterborough, accompanied by Messrs. Buller and Laughlin, of that city, came down on Thursday last, and accompanied by Mr. Reg. Brennan, of town, visited Balporeen trout preserve, where they succeeded in landing some sixty speckled beauties.—Havelock Standard.

R. L. Borden will address over forty meetings in the west.

PORT HOPE WILL BE HERE SATURDAY WITH NEW HEAVER

Stan Cresswell Likely to Start the Game for the Locals.

"For goodness sake, bring a fast team here, and let us see a good game of ball," writes a fair fanette.

Miss Rooter, and hundred of others should be favored with an interesting Midland League contest, this Saturday at Riverside, when the locals entertain the Port Hope crew, who will bring along with them, new heaver, by the name of Pipher. This gent had the Bowmanville nine, wobbling around the plate like the black face artist in the "hit the nigger game," and if he lives up to expectations, the Quinlan brigade won't be running the hit column into double figures, as has been the case in all three games played to date.

A statement from the managerial end of the home team, made last-night was to the effect that Stan Cresswell and Ernie Rahmal, would be sent into do the mound work. This will be good news to many fans, who have been waiting for a chance to see Cresswell serve them up in a Midland League game.

Another new face to be seen on the line up, is Gouter, of St. Michael's College.

LAWN BOWLING

Several exciting games were played yesterday afternoon and evening. Close finishes being the rule. Members are asked to turn out as the greens are in nice shape and the games are getting very interesting. Scores are as follows:

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Henderson	Mr. Maynard
B. Hall	A. E. Belleghem
Dr. Eastwood	S. J. Harrington
Dr. Marchall	D. Belleghem
Skip—16	Skip—18

Several games singles and doubles also played, but no scores were handed in.

EVENING.

Mr. McCartney	Mr. Bambrick

BENEFIT GAME TO BE PULLED OFF

All Star Team From Church League vs C.G.E. Champs

A picked team from the Church Football League, will play the champion C.G.E. eleven, at the exhibition grounds next Wednesday evening, and the proceeds will be handed over to "Bob" Irwin, who, early in the season, while playing for the St. James team, was accidentally injured so severely that he has been unable to do anything since.

Such an exhibition should be a big drawing card, and the All Stars will no doubt make the Electric Boys go the limit.

FOOTBALL

Secretary Milburn has supplied the following standing of the teams in the Midland Football League.

	P	W	L	Goals F	Goals A
C.G.E.	6	6	0	8	1
Bethany	6	4	2	7	3
Havelock	4	1	3	3	2
Lakefield	3	0	3	7	0

Lakefield and Havelock defaulted last two games.

All Saints, of Church League, are entered in semi-finals, and are drawn to play Brooklyn in home and home games. C.G.E. playing the winners for the Midland League championship

Y.M.C.A. SPORTS

The two leading teams in the City Juvenile League, will clash to-night at the Oval at 6.30 sharp. And the game promises to be a clinker. If you want to see a fast game, watch these two teams fight it out for the league leadership. A large number of supporters will no doubt be on hand to root for each team. Mr. W. J. Neale will umpire, and a fast clean seven innings game is assured. Teams Midgets vs. Thistlhes.

The game scheduled for Saturday between the Tecumsehs and Maple Leaves will be played at the Oval at 4 p.m. Not 6.30 as advertised earlier in the week.

The Hustlers and Pets, who have been resting up on account of the unfavorable weather came together last night and in a seven innings game at the Central school yard. Each player worked as if he had been holidaying for a month and was keen for something to do. The spit ball, shutes etc., offered by the pitcher had no effect, and as a result, the pill travelled all over the pot and a big score was piled up. Hustlers 19, Pets 9.

Batteries—Hustlers, A. Trull, A. Darling, F. Tait, J Marsh.

That big Hike up the canal! Do not forget. We start at 9.30 and stay all day. Bring your bathing suit and a big lunch. We will supply a boat, a big time and a big appetite. No money required. Every boy in the department invited. If you cannot swim this is your chance to learn. Saturday 9.30, from the Y.M.C.A.

BASEBALL

Doc Burton, who will be remembered as the twirler who with pitching for a Barrie team, defeated a local picked team at Riverside, in eleven innings, two years ago, is on working for the Guelph Canadian League team. He was beaten by Hamilton on Tuesday 6-4. In the double header Connie Murphy, who is playing second bag for Manager Lee's nine, had four hits and four errors.

Hydro Power in Village

London, Ont., June 15.—The first of the near-by villages to take power from the city hydro service was connected up yesterday, when the linemen of the city connected up thirty-eight houses in Byron, 6 1-2 miles from here.

Chairman Pocock of the water and power commission announced yesterday that 4,000 subscribers would be connected up with hydro power before the end of the year, and that a surplus would be turned over to the city from the electrical department.

THE CLANRICARDE PLAQUE.

A Famous Specimen of the Sixteenth Century Goldsmith's Art.

One of the greatest cinquecento jewels in the world is the Clanricarde plaque, owned by Lord Clanricarde, who is known as the "hermit peer" and who claims direct descent from the kings of Connaught. He guards with jealous care this precious example of the goldsmith's art, keeping it safe from possible thieves and the common gaze in a bank vault, to which he goes occasionally with great secrecy to feast his eyes upon its magnificence. Some years ago, by royal request, he lent it to an art exhibition in London, where it was admired and coveted by some of the greatest connoisseurs of Europe.

The huge disk is as delicately wrought as a spider's web and represents the figure of Hercules wielding a diamond sword. The sword blade is composed of a mass of perfectly matched steel white stones, and a superb blue diamond scintillates from the hilt. The present owner inherited it from his mother, who was a Miss Canning before her marriage to the Irish lord, and the plaque is practically priceless. Aside from its value to collectors and its worth as a specimen of rare and exquisite art, it is incrusted with a fortune in jewels.—New York Press.

"Clipping Sunday."

At Painswick, in Gloucestershire, the Sunday following Sept. 8 is called by the curious name of "Clipping Sunday" and connected with a quaint custom. In the churchyard are ninety-nine yew trees, and tradition says that all attempts to complete the hundred by planting another yew have failed becomes the newcomer invariably dies. Every year before the feast of the Nativity of Our Lady—Sept. 8—these mystic yews are clipped, and the Sunday "in the octave" thus becomes "Clipping Sunday." After service there is a procession of parishioners around the churchyard, and then all join hands and form a ring round the church. Finally they gather at the foot of a flight of steps leading to the chancel door, from which a sermon is preached.—London Chronicle.

A Request.

"I shall never forget," says the eminent man of wealth during the course of his little speech on "How to Become as I Am," "I shall never forget how I saved my first hundred dollars."

At this juncture a weary individual in the audience, who has heard this story many times and has read it many times more, interrupts:

"Well, if you can't forget it, for heaven's sake give the rest of us a chance to."—Chicago Post.

Aged Man Kills Himself.

Hamilton, June 15.—Despondent and grief-stricken because of the death of his wife, John. Lockman committed suicide at his home on York street early this morning. His wife died on Monday morning and was to have been buried yesterday morning.

Each was 73 years of age, and they had lived together for over 50 years. Lockman had been in a kind of stupor since his wife died, and he had frequently expressed the hope that he would not last long after her death. All day yesterday he remained by the coffin, sobbing bitterly. His despondency grew more acute by night, when his friends were unable to get him to leave the casket to go to bed, and he was left sitting by the dead body.

Will Extend Hospital.

Brockville, June 15.—The Ontario Government has commenced at the eastern hospital for the insane the erection of a building for the accommodation and treatment of those who may desire consultation for mental trouble, and for the better treatment of mild and incipient cases. A surgical ward will also be provided for, including two wings of 35 feet each. The new building will be 200 feet long and 78 feet through the centre. The wings will be two storeys and three storeys in the centre.

Want to Know Where Money's Gone.

London, June 15.—Signatures are being sought here for a petition asking the Ontario Government to appoint a commission for the expenditure of the $235,000 grant to the Hydro-Electric Commission. A detailed statement of all expenditure is demanded.

R. S. Neville to Speak.

Berlin, June 15.—R. S. Neville, K.C., of Toronto, has accepted an invitation to deliver a patriotic address at the Dominion Day gathering of the Canadian Club of Waterloo County, and the Women's Canadian Club of Berlin and Waterloo, to be held in the Waterloo Park on the afternoon of the holiday.

For an Eight-Hour Day.

Amsterdam, June 15.—The Congress of Textile Operatives, now in session here, yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution in favor of eight hours' work in all the textile mills in all countries.

Driver Mustn't Sell.

Ottawa, June 15.—The Provincial Attorney-General has upheld the contention of Crown Attorney Ritchie, in a recent case in the Ottawa police court that it is illegal for the representative of a licensed brewery to sell or offer for sale beer from a brewery wagon to a householder.

Leviathan "Olympic" Sails.

Southampton, June 15.—The largest and finest steamer in the world, the new White Star Liner Olympic, left this port at noon yesterday for New York, via Cherbourg and Queenston. The Olympic is due at New York on the 21st inst.

The Olympic and her sister vessel, Titanic, the latter recently launched at Belfast, are 882 feet over all—more than 100 feet longer than any other steamer afloat—45,000 tons register and 66,000 tons displacement.

Headquarters of the Second Brigade Field Artillery, have been transferred from Hamilton to Toronto.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that I have drawn by my own hand ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's EXTRA STANDARD GRANULATED SUGAR, indiscriminately taken from four lots of about 150 barrels each and six lots of about 450 bags each. I have analyzed same and find them uniformly to contain 99-99/100 to 100 per cent of pure cane sugar, with no impurities whatever.

WEST PETERBORO' FARMERS' INSTITUTE ANNUAL MEETING

J. H. Garbutt and Wm. Collins Re-Elected President and Secretary Treasurer.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held Tuesday afternoon at the farm of Mr. Robert Hanbidge, lot 20, concession 15, township of Otonabee and in spite of the inclement weather was a decided success, everyone having a profitable and enjoyable time.

After the general business, addresses from H. B. Cowan: editor of the "Farm and Dairy" and E. S. Hopkins, the new district representative for the Department of Agriculture, and general discussions by the members and directors, the ladies served a dainty luncheon, and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in social enjoyments.

The secretary, Mr W. Collins, read a letter from Mr. J. R. Stratton, expressive of his regret at not being able to be present.

When the various reports had been read and adopted, and the meeting had decided to hold the regular and supplementary meetings at the usual places, the election of officers and directors for the ensuing year took place as follows—

President—J. H. Garbutt. re-elected.
Vice-Pres.—C. E. Moore.
Sec.-Treas.—W. Collins, re-elected,
Directors—J.N. Telford, G. W. Mann, T.T. Milburn, Alex. McGregor, F. McKee, B.W. Manning, T.J. Cullen, H.C. Garbutt, T.D. Young, J. Brown, T. M. Hunter, R. Hanbidge, S. Deyell, S. Matchett, R. Chambers, W.B. Stewart, C.C. Nixon E.M. Elliott, R.H. Leary, J.E.A. Fitzgerald, R. Strain, A. Wilson, J. R. Galvin, D. Crough and J. Flood.

Auditors—Jos. Barnard and John Riddell.

MR. COWAN

Mr. H.B. Cowan in the course of his remarks as to how the Institute could be improved and made more useful referred to other counties where local men were picked out and asked to speak on some subject with which he was acquainted. He also said that more Farmers' clubs were necessary as it was a good way for the men to get together and work with each other.

E. S. HOPKINS

Mr. Hopkins who has been appointed to the position left vacant by the transferring of Mr. Duff to Grey County, spoke on the importance of farm forestry, spraying of orchards and tile draining.

He asked the men to follow the experiments started by Mr. Duff on the first two subjects and watch for results.

TILE DRAINING

The speaker, Mr. Hopkins, dwelt at length upon tile draining. He agreed to come and tell any member, who wished to have his land drained, the approximate cost of drainage, number of tile and depth, situation, etc., at which they should be placed and if anyone required any information, he would be pleased to look up the matter in question.

He said that some farmers felt unable to bear the expense of draining but it would pay. Some did not understand the tile, stone and timber drainage act under which any farmer could borrow from the council any sum of money (for drainage purposes) notl ess than $100 and not to exceed $1000 for which he would pay back annually for twenty years, $7.36 per hundred dollars. Any municipality might secure a sum of money for this purpose, not less than $2,000 and not more than $10,000.

Under the Act it was therefore possible for a farmer to borrow sufficient money to drain his land.

He estimated the profits accruing from tile drainage at from $10 to $25 per acre per year. Therefore a man borrowing $100 and draining four acres at the rate of $25 per acre would in one year derive $40 at the conservative estimate of $10 per acre profit, and only be required to pay back $7.36 It would necessarily be a paying proposition, which the farmers should consider.

The reports read, were as follows—

EXECUTIVE REPORT.

To the members of the West Peterborough Farmer's Institute:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your executive committee I beg leave to submit to you for approval the 24th annual report of this institute.

Since our last annual meeting a great many changes have taken place in our nation, our fair Dominion, and our Province.

But we must be pleased to know that under the Divine Province of the Almighty God of the universe, that we have been blessed with peace and plenty.

The usual annual excursion was ran in 1910, jointly with East Peterborough and East Durham Farmers' Institutes, to the O. A. College and was a decided success in every way.

Our regular institute meetings were held as follows;

At Ennismore hall, on November 30, two meetings being held.

Afternoon with attendance of 75.

Evening the attendance was 300.

The delegates sent were Mr. Anson Groh and Dr. McAlpine, the latter a lady.

The following meetings, with same delegates, were held at Lakefield;

With afternoon attendance 40.

Evening attendance 250.

The evening meeting was held jointly with the Women's Farmer's Institute of Lakefield, Mr. H. B. Cowan, editor "Farm and Dairy," was with us at both those evening meetings.

Splendid musical programs were also interspersed with addresses at both Ennismore and Lakefield evening meetings.

Supplementary meetings were held on January 5th, 6th and 7th, at Stewart's hall; on the 5th, Stewart's hall, afternoon only, on account of the raging storm, attendance 25.

On the 6th at Temperance hall, 4th line of Smith, afternoon attendance 25, evening 45. Very cold and stormy night.

On the 7th, Saturday, market day, when it was very hard to get a good attendance.

At City Council Chamber, Peterborough, afternoon attendance 50.

And at North Monaghan town hall in the evening, attendance very small—only 18.

The delegates sent by department to these latter meetings were Mr. J. W. Clark, Cainsville, and R. Smith, of Columbus. Were very fortunate to get some of the very best institute speakers for our circuit.

We are in receipt of letters from the department, urging us to take up new lines of work, offering special help for taking up some of the following lines;

Fruit institutes.
Poultry institutes.
Short coursing in stock and seed judging.

Special speakers will be provided on request, on very reasonable terms—Superintendent Putman is also very much alive to increasing the membership of the institutes, which seemed to be a very difficult matter, as there seems to be no united effort on the part of directors to help to get their neighbors to join. The literature sent to the members being worth many times the price charged, 25c. We ask the co-operation of all to increase our membership three or four fold for the coming year.

We cannot close without extending to the City Council our thanks for the use of their council chamber for holding our meetings, and also to the local press for their splendid reports published by them of our meetings showing that they are interested in the good work that is being carried on by the Farmer's Institute, and in conclusion we should again urge on every farmer the necessity of our organization.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. COLLINS,
Secy.-Treas.

J. H. GARBUTT,
President.

YOUNG MEN WERE LEFT BEHIND

Would Not Heed Call of Companions—Bensfort News

Special Correspondence.

Bensfort, June 12.—A number of our young men crossed the river on Sunday night to Mr. John Coward's, of Otonabee. Two of the party separated from the others. The mosquitoes were very annoying to those remaining at the water's edge, causing them to make audible appeals to the others to come home. The others paid no heed to their urgent demands, and when they finally decided to go home they reached the river to find that their brethren had departed. They had considerable difficulty in procuring a boat by which to return.

The S.S. excursion of the 9th inst. was a very successful event. The weather was ideal, and it is said that all enjoyed the accommodation afforded them by the commodious steamer Stoney Lake, whose accommodation was not overtaxed by the large representation from both schools.

Mr. George Smithson, our local contractor, received injuries which might have been more serious a few days ago, as the result of a collision with a cow, while wheeling. No serious complications are expected.

Reeve Waterman returned on Saturday from Cobourg, where he has been attending the meeting of the county council. He was much pleased with his sojourn in our southern town, having had an additional pleasure of a trip to Rochester, provided the members of the county council by Warden Kelly, of Cavan township.

Mr. Ross Moncrief was the guest of Mr John Fry the other evening.

Automobiles are becoming a menace to the residents of Lake View. Dr. Dickinson, V.S., of Port Hope, made a hasty trip to Mr. Ernest Barnardo's a few days ago, and while people do not object to trips of this kind by professional men in their motor vehicles, they disapprove of pleasure seekers touring this road, thus making it unsafe for the residents to travel. A short time ago a young couple had a narrow escape from accident because of the spirited horse becoming unmanageable at the approach of a machine, and both inmates had a miraculous escape. Later the milk man in distributing his cans narrowly averted a serious loss, one can being damaged as it was. Another man whose colt pastures the road, has many a chase after it. It tries to keep ahead of these vehicles however long the distance, and the sooner the grievance is remedied the better. It is reported that stones have been placed in suitable places on the road, and that one man had a puncture with his machine, but this is not an advisable course of action, as the perpetrator of such an act leaves himself liable for damages. Why not solicit the co-operation of our councils and government?

Mr. James Whittington lost a valuable horse a few days ago.

Another meeting of the township council was held on Wednesday, 12th inst., when contracts for the various road jobs were awarded those tendering for such work.

The monthly service in the S.S. hall was postponed on Sunday night on account of the absence of Rev. D. A. McKenzie, whose health has been impaired, and who is now enjoying his vacation in different parts with the hope of recuperating.

Mr. Harry Finnie attended the Zion S.S. excursion to Young's Point a few days ago and was much pleased with the social privileges afforded him, together with the beautiful scenery of the Kawartha lakes.

People are much pleased with the steamer Geneva now running Saturday trips to Peterborough. It is considered much superior to the steamer Monarch, for which it was substituted, and people are now able to go to market at a reasonable time.

Miss Eulene Perrin attended the Farmers' Institute excursion to Ottawa last week and was much pleased with the trip.

Mr. Reginald Perrin spent Sunday in Peterborough.

Some History About Typewriters Modern and Ancient

CHAPTER TWO

THE Underwood was an original typewriter, radical in design.

THE new principle not with instant popularity. For years other makers fought against the innovation. They died hard, but the demand for visible writing could not be successfully combated.

BUT you cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, and they could not successfully incorporate the new principle into their antique machines.

IN the attempt they sacrificed the mechanical excellence resulting from 20 years' experience, and at the same time fell far short of the Underwood standard.

ALL typewriters now manufactured are visible writers. There have been a score of near-Underwoods placed on the market during the past three or four years.

PRESIDENT OF PAINT COMPANY

Omemee Boy Worked With Hardware Firm Here

Omemee, June 15.—Among honors given to Omemee boys that conferred upon Walter H. Cottingham, in making him president of the Sherwin-Williams Paint company, of America, is perhaps the most recent. Mr. Cottingham received his early education and training in our village, and then went to Peterborough, where he spent some time in the Peterborough Hardware store. Later he went to the States, and has steadily climbed the ladder of achievement, until he has acquired the position of president of one of the largest paint industries on the continent.

PROGRAM FOR CORONATION DAY

All Details Have Not Yet Been Decided on

The program for coronation day, which will include the inauguration ceremony of the people's chimes, is practically completed, and will be announced by Saturday at the latest. Rev. Canon Davidson is in Toronto, but will, it is understood, return to-morrow evening.

The committee selected from the officers of the 57th regiment will hold a meeting to-night and decide on some matters regarding the military program on the holiday. The dedication ceremony of the chimes will be conducted by Bishop Sweeney, of Toronto.

FISHING DAYS

To-day must only come and go
To-morrow fish will start to grow
By oft told tales and stories too
Which must be said—they also grew.
—0—
The bridal month of June is here,
And many kids will hop and cheer,
No more trips up to bed at eight,
For sister Min goes to her fate.
—0—
No more will truants from the schools
Content themselves with minnow pools,
The eagle eyes of Johnnie Watt
Have had their day—they can't be caught.

But fishing days and anglers bold,
Have got the call on bands of gold,

And June the sixteenth sure by jink,
Will see some hustling for the drink.
—o—
This eve, the lanterns hied away
Will once more see another fray,
They'll bring the dew worms to the top
And in the can each one will flop.

There'll be some dreaming stunts to-night,
Rehearsals of a hard-fought fight,
And in the morn the line will swish

HER HANDS WERE RAW

HAD TO WEAR RUBBER GLOVES

"Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured The Eczema

GRANDE LIGNE, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910

"My wife was troubled for three years with Eczema on the hands which made her hands almost useless. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, none of which had any effect. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves (she wore out three pairs).

I persuaded her, as a last resort, to try "Fruit-a-tives". The effect was marvellous. Her hands are now cured.

We both attribute our present health to "Fruit-a-tives."

N. JOUBERT.

Eczema, Rash, Pimples, Itching and Burning Skin are always caused by impure blood—due to chronic constipation, indigestion or some weakness with the kidneys.

"Fruit-a-tives" is a positive cure for all Skin Troubles. It is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world—and is the only remedy made of fruit juices.

ROBBERS OF THE SOIL

An Iowa farm of something more than eighty acres passed into the hands of a city man on a mortgage. He rented it and for the first two or three years the returns were satisfactory. Then he found the dwellings and outbuildings needed repairs which took back some of the profits. He held the land nine years, and in that time had six tenants, the last of which harvested a crop of corn that barely was enough to feed his team and pay his own family expenses for the year.

The land was in a community where values ranged around $125 an acre, but it cost the owner only about $6,000 under the mortgage. As near as he could estimate his income from the land for the nine years was about $4,000 from which was deducted repairs, taxes, new fencing and other incidentals, aggregating about $1,200 This left him a net income of about $2,800. Then he tried to sell the land Many buyers looked but none bought They wanted no "corned out" land, they said. Finally along came a young farmer who took it off his hands for $4,000. That left the first man a net income of $800 on his $6000 investment for nine years.

The greatest agricultural evil of the present day is the tenant farmer. This statement is made by President Henry J. Waters of the Kansas State Agricultural College. The tenant farmer, he declares, is the highwayman of the soil; collectively a vandal horde that has marched from Maine to the Missouri, laying waste an agricultural empire with the fire of its greed and the sword of its ignorance. His advance guard already is thrown beyond the Big Muddy. Give him time and he will overwhelm the West as he has the East.

The tenant farmer, President Waters says, is the ruination of the country and the menace of the city. He has left in his wake impoverished land, abandoned farms and a train of economic evils that must soon be remedied or grave consequences will follow. The tenant farmer is the man who is chiefly responsible for the increased cost of living, he is the man who has caused American exports to fall off million dollars in three years. He is the man who has reduced our farming area, forced the price of productive land to an abnormal height, and sent droves of sturdy young farmers beyond our borders to the north.

President Waters has been investigating the tenant farmer for a long time and he knows his subject, but nothing good of him. He speaks now of the tenant who doesn't farm but merely skins the soil, not the real tenant farmer—the small ten per cent or so. of hustling, ambitious young men, long on industry and short on cash, who rent only until they have saved enough to buy a farm of their own. He speaks of the other ninety per cent, the migratory agricultural vagabonds who follow in the wake of the homeseeker, and the homemaker leaving blight and desolation wherever they tarry.—From "Agricultural Highwaymen," July Technical World Magazine.

Kind to the Eyes

Kryptok lenses have distinctive advantages over all former near and far-sighted glasses, having no line or patch to suggest old sight or to confuse the eye. "They are truly delightful and I scarcely realize that I am wearing glasses, as my vision is perfect, both distant and reading," is the remark of one of the pleased patrons of the Optical Institute.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO BOTH THEFT CHARGES

Jury Went Out at Three O'clock in First Charge

The second criminal case before the general sessions of the County Court was commenced this morning at 10 o'clock, namely that of Vernon Killingbeck, charged with stealing, on May 31st, 1911, the sum of $54 from Robert Brown, a Swiss, employed by the Peterborough Lumber company.

The story of the theft was aired recently at police court before Magistrate Dumble, and is familiar to the public.

When the charge was read to the prisoner this morning he pleaded "not guilty" and announced himself ready for the trial.

The following juors were sworn: Adelard Guerin, Joseph Ingram, John Hooey, Robert Martin, William Peoples, J. T. Drummond, J. C. McConkey, Gordon Fox, A. S. Kent, Jos. McCaufey, Wm. Langford, Jr., and Arthur Jory.

Mr. R. Ruddy conducted Killingbeck's defence, and Crown Attorney Wood prosecuted.

Robert Brown, the victim of the robbery was the first witness called.

At 3.50 the jury returned with a verdict of guilty. The second charge is being proceeded with.

GENEVA HAS A NEAT RECORD

Has Carried 107 Tons of Freight Since Yesterday

The little steamer Geneva made a record for Peterborough navigation in handling 107 tons of freight from the Rice Lake district since yesterday. The Geneva arrived yesterday at 5.30 with a large load of hogs for the Matthews Co., cleared at 6.30 and was back at 3 o'clock this morning with another load, clearing at noon with 60 tons of miscellaneous freight for Rice lake, a total of 107 tons, the most ever handled in this time at Wolfe street wharf.

The steamer Otonabee, of the Peterborough and Lake Simcoe Navigation company, left the Wolfe street wharf with an excursion of L.O.L. 457 Nassau, for South Beach and Stony lake points.

REV. ARMITAGE SAYS ANGLICANS ARE LAGGING

Former Rector at All Saint's at the Ontario Synod

Kingston, June 14.—"The Anglican church has been lagging behind in the work of social and moral reform" declared Rev. W. L. Armitage, of Picton, at the Ontario Synod today. "It is allowing other denominations to do the work, to its discredit. The Anglican church should be a leader in the work."

Mr. Armitage was criticizing the Synod committee for not giving the clergy something to inspire them in the work. The committee had recommended that the clergy be governed by local conditions in the action they take on local option. Said Mr. Armitage: "Local option will sweep this country, in spite of the churches. Perhaps ten years from now there will be no licensed bars in Canada, and the Synod may be asked what it had done to rid the country of them."

The Picton rector's remarks were resented by Bishop Mills and Dean Bidwell. The former said that the Anglican church was exercising its powers regarding temperance and moral reform work. The Dean also

OPPONENTS OF RECIPROCITY HAD FIELD DAY IN SENATE

Second Day Sees the Antis in Great Working Trim—Root Amendment Subject of Spirited Discussion.

Washi[illegible]on, June 16.—The second day of d[illegible]te on the Canadian reciprocity [illegible]ved a field day for those [illegible] the measure. Led by Senato[illegible]n a prepared and exhaustive [illegible]ch, a number of Senators took part in a running debate, that marked the closing period of the address. At adjournment Senator Penrose, in charge of the bill, felt that this had cleared the atmosphere considerably, and he expressed the opinion that the general debate would not be of such great duration as had been predicted.

A spirited debate among Republican Senators was precipitated over the effect of the Root amendment dealing with paper and wood pulp. Senators Lodge, Clark of Wyoming, and Smoot were all on the floor and talking simultaneously. They agreed that that provsion only restored the terms of the treaty as submitted to Congress.

"How, then, did that feature of the agreement disappear?" asked William A. Smith of Michigan.

"Ask the whispering winds," responded Mr. Clark.

Apparently pleased with the poetic character of his response, the Wyoming Senator at first seemed disposed to leave it there, but later added that the amendment was not only in harmony with the original compact between the two countries, but in consonance with the Canadian bill carrying the agreement into effect.

Mr. Smith was not satisfied and demanded from Chairman Penrose an explanation of the disappearance of that feature from the bill. Mr. Penrose had adopted the policy of allowing the opponents of the measure to do the talking and, reluctantly, he arose to reply.

"The change," he said, "occurred in the ways and means committee of the House, and the Senator from Michigan knows as much about it as I do."

"The effect, then, is to give the Canadians free trade in paper and pulp and not give it to us," commented Mr. Smith.

"And yet," he continued, "we are told by the House that we must not change a word in the bill as it was passed there, for fear of impairing it."

The debate will be resumed at noon to-day, if any Senator is ready to speak. This appeared doubtful last night.

SENOR CANALEJAS

FROM THE EUROPEAN EDITION OF THE HERALD

THE SULTAN OF MOROCCO.

Madrid, June 16.—Senor Canalejas, the Spanish Premier, informed the Chamber of Deputies that Spain's projected military operations at El-Arish, Morocco, were not inconsistent with the treaty of Algeciras or other agreements.

It was necessary, he said, for Spain to restore and preserve order in that part of Morocco.

It is understood that the government plans the occupation of Tetuan because Spanish subjects have been killed or maltreated by rebellious tribesmen. In both the Tetuan and El-Arish regions Spanish interests are endangered.

The French government is endeavoring to dissuade Spain from these military movements.

SHELDON FOR PEN

Was Sentenced to Kingston for Five Year Term

(Special to the Review.)

Montreal, June 16.—Charles D. Sheldon, blind pool operator, was convicted this morning and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Sheldon was given his trial last Friday, and the hearing lasted only two hours after which the judge deferred sentence till to-day. This get-rich-quick wizard operated extensively in Montreal, and secured many thousands of dollars on the promise to the investors of a profit of from 30 to 40 per cent. The crash came, but Sheldon made good his escape, eluding the police for many months. He was finally apprehended in Pittsburg and brought back for trial.

ELECTRICIAN IS KILLED BY SHOCK

Touched a Live Wire With Pair of Pliers.

Cornwall, June 16.—Robert D. Byers, chief electrician on the dredges used in cleaning out the canal by the St. Lawrence River Power Co. at Massena, across the river from here, was instantly killed in the carbon building of the Aluminum Co. of America on Wednesday by coming in contact with a live electric wire carrying 2,200 volts. Mr. Byers had worked all night on one of the dredges with an electrical apparatus, and then went to the carbon building to take down a starting box to remove it to the dredge. The box was double wired, and Mr. Byers apparently did not know this. [illegible]ut three wires, but this still left three. He had cut one wire, but when his pliers came in contact with the second one he received the full voltage and dropped over gasping. Dr. Mason was sent for, but could do nothing for the unfortunate man. Byers was a Canadian, born at Ponteford, Ont., and was a son of Wm. Eyers, who now lives at Orono, Ont. He is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Linde of Oshawa, and one brother, Wm. Byers of North Carolina.

BIG STRIKE MAY TERMINATE TO-DAY

Steamship Companies Show Tendency to Compromise

(Special to the Review.)

London, June 16.—It is expected that to-day will see the end of the seaman's strike in Great Britain, all companies showing a tendency to compromise with the men. Reports from other parts of the continent say that the strike is a fizzle there.

No Discrimination.

Ottawa, June 16.—The officials of the Immigration Department say there is obsolutely no truth in the statements made by E. B. Osborne in The London Morning Post to the effect that while British emigrants are handpicked, Americans are given free access to Canada.

Acquitted of Receiving.

Chatham, Ont., June 16.—Samuel Kovinsky was acquitted in the County Court, on a charge of receiving stolen goods. The young boys who sold him the goods and who are now serving time for their offence, were the chief witnesses against him.

Good Templars Elect Officers.

London, June 16.—The grand lodge of Good Templars here yesterday elected F. S. Morrison of Hamilton, grand chief templar; J. T. Dyson, Toronto, grand councillor, and G. Locke McCrae, Toronto, grand secretary.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN IS MEETING AT PORT ARTHUR

Ladies Spend an Afternoon Discussing Flag-Flying—Appealing for Financial Aid.

Port Arthur, June 16.—Under the most favorable weather conditions, the National Council of Women are carrying on their annual meeting in Port Arthur. The routine work of committee and sub-committee business reports have all been disposed of and when the council adjourned for the luncheon at 1 oclock, the heaviest and most trying time of the council gathering had passed. After luncheon a group photograph of the council in session was taken upon the lawns of the church.

The greetings of the West Algoma Council were presented by Mrs. Perry.

Lady Taylor asked that the usual president's address be omitted for this time, and then called upon the mayor to give the greetings of the city, which was given with a heartiness and good will that went right to the heart of the visitors.

The report of the treasurer was given, showing the total receipts to be $2,061.93, received through affiliation fees, council aid, sale of year books, fees of patrons, etc.

The report of the corresponding secretary showed that the local councils and standing committees have continued their work during the year. One special and two regular executive meetings had been held. The organization committee outlined the campaign of organization in different parts of the country. It is hoped that this will result in great extension and strengthening of the work. A local council in Strathcona, reported last year as formed, has united with the council in Edmonton in the new local council of Edmonton and Strathcona.

MRS. [illegible]NGTON.

The local councils of Ontario again approached the Provincial Governments asking adequate provision for the care of the feeble-minded and were encouraged to hope that something would be done in the near future.

A copy of amendments to the Curfew Act in Ontario was sent out to the Ontario councils.

A loyal address to Her Gracious Majesty Queen Mary, from the National Council of Women of Canada, was despatched to His Excellency the Governor-General, for transmission to England.

The treasurer and recording secretary, as well as the convenor of the press committee, and the provincial vice-president of New Brunswick, have resigned owing to various reasons.

The resolution from the London Council, asking that the Dominion Government be memoralized to have the flag of the Empire fly from all public buildings and schools daily caused a discussion that took up the whole of the afternoon session, and was not then all settled for presentation.

Mrs. Huestis, speaking to the resolution, showed that it would cost the City of Toronto a great amount of money to have the flags fly daily, as a flag so used lasts but three months, and no one would want a tattered flag flying from the flagpoles of our schoolhouses. The delegates declared that the school children should be taught to salute the flag.

Mrs. Boomer pointed out that we are not installing patriotism as we should in the lives and hearts of the children. The delegate said she had ridden three miles in Toronto on the first of July and had not seen a Canadian flag. A committee was selected to consider the resolution and report later.

One of the questions facing the National Council, this year, is concerned with the finances. A special appeal will be sent forth to all local councils, asking for donations to the council aid, the fund to wipe out the deficit before the retiring treasurer, Mrs. Frost, goes out of office.

WRITER SHAW IS DEAD AT WINNIPEG

Was Well Know as an After-Dinner Speaker.

Winnipeg, June 16.—The death occurred yesterday morning, after a brief illness, of Charles Lewis Shaw, a well-known Canadian magazine and newspaper writer, who for the past few years has been practicing law here. He was taken ill last Monday with a heavy cold, which developed alarming symptoms, and was taken to the general hospital, where he died yesterday morning, the immediate cause being heart failure. Mrs. Shaw was on a visit to her mother in Toronto.

Charles Lewis Shaw was born in Perth, Ont., 46 years ago and graduated at Trinity College. He removed to Edmonton in the early days, where he achieved a reputation as a lawyer and after-dinner speaker. When Khartoum was threatened Mr. Shaw's spirit of adventure was too strong for his commercial instincts and he went with the Canadian contingent, handling boats on the Great River. He also connected himself with the English and Canadian newspapers and his articles attracted much attention for their vivid character.

EIGHT MEN HOLD UP HOTEL CLERK

Got Away With $160 in Bills From Cash Drawer.

New York, June 16.—An automobile, containing eight men, pulled up in front of the Hotel Roy, on West Thirty-fifth street, near Broadway, early yesterday morning, and the men all lined up before Charles Simmons, the night clerk.

Each held a revolver, and one ordered the clerk to stand back while he explored the cash drawer of the open safe and scooped out $160 in bills. Then the men filed out, the last one covering the clerk with his revolver until all were outside.

The clerk then grabbed his own weapon from a drawer and fired five shots to call the police, and got a response from a Broadway patrolman before the robbers could crank their automobile and get started.

The patrolman captured two of the men, and found in the pockets of one of them a roll of bills twice the size of that which the hotel clerk had lost.

White Star Compromises.

London, June 16.—It was announced last evening that the White Star line and the Seamen's Union had arranged a settlement of their differences, the White Star conceding an advance of $2.50 a month in wages to all employes involved. This is one half the amount demanded by the strikers.

JARDINE HANGED

Murderer of Lizzie Anderson Paid Extreme Penalty This Morning

(Special to the Review.)

Goderich, June 16.—Edward Jardine went to his death on the gallows at the jail yard here this morning sharp at eight o'clock. He made no statement before his execution.

EDWARD JARDINE.

The crime for which Jardine paid the extreme penalty was a particularly atrocious one, he having lured Lizzie Anderson to a secluded spot, and after causing her death, cut up the body.

CIVIC MILK FOR MONTREAL BABIES

Depot Will be Established to Cut Down Mortality.

Montreal, June 16.—Strong efforts are being made to reduce the high infant mortality rate which for years has been a sad feature of Montreal summers.

The first pure milk depot to be opened by the local branch of the National Council of Women, for the supply of pure milk at low rates to poor families, opened Wednesday at 189 West Dorchester street, and another was opened yesterday by the Local Council of Women at 65 Britannia street, Point St. Charles.

Soon there will be three depots under the supervision of the council. The city has granted them $1,500 for the establishment of the three places. A "mothers'" clinic has also been opened in Colborne street, and every morning the mothers of the neighborhood take their babies to receive treatment for childish complaints.

Two doctors and a trained nurse are in attendance, for the purpose of instructing the mothers in the proper methods of caring for their children.

WIRELESS SAVED THE PASSENGERS

Steamer Blew Out Her Cylinder Head

(Special to the Review.)

Cleveland, Ohio, June 16.—By summoning assistance by wireless the crew of the steamer Western States, which blew out her cylinder head in mid-lake early this morning, transferred two hundred and twenty-five passengers to the City of Cleveland, which came to her aid.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

ALL RED CABLE SCHEME IS SHELVED BY THE CONFERENCE

Sir Wilfrid Non-Committal as to State-Owned Cables to Link Empire—Nationalization too Expensive.

London, June 16.—The Imperial Conference yesterday discussed resolutions providing for cheaper cable rates throughout the Empire, and the laying of a state-owned cable between England and Canada, thus securing an "all red" route, linking up all the British dominions.

The Postmaster-General, Rt. Hon. H. J. Samuel, explained the steps that have recently been taken to secure reductions in Atlantic cable rates. He said that in view of this the Government was not justified at the present time in incurring the expense of laying a new cable.

A resolution was adopted that if considerable reductions in transatlantic cable rates were not effected in the near future the project to lay a state-owned cable between England and Canada should be considered at a subsidiary conference.

Mr. Joseph Ward, at the Imperial Conference, moved a resolution declaring the urgency of a reduction in cable rates throughout the Empire. He said much had been accomplished, but the cheapening process had not gone nearly far enough. High cable rates were injurious from a public point of view. There was a restricted use of the cables themselves. There was a feeling in the overseas countries that the present rates were due to a ring or combination in the cable world.

Postmaster-General Samuel said that the Home Government cordially sympathized with and supported the resolution. Since last conference the press rates to Australia had been reduced from a shilling to ninepence, but the progress was quite inadequate. The United Kingdom was taking steps to bring about a cheapening of rates. He instanced the reduction of 50 per cent. in the rates for cablegrams uncoded, but liable to be deferred; secondly, the steps being taken towards a reduction of press rates; thirdly, that the Government intended providing that in all new land-licenses there should be inserted a clause giving effective Government control over rates, with due security to companies against abuse of that power; fourthly, the wireless system must have some effect on the cable rate.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that in all the trouble which existed at present in connection with the Atlantic part of the cables, there was an impression almost amounting to conviction in Canada that a combination existed regarding the old cables. It seemed to him that the remedy suggested by Mr. Samuel a sound one for dealing with that combination if it had existed. They in Canada were endeavoring to act practically along the same lines.

Mr. Fisher asked whether it would be feasible to grant a low rate so far as the Pacific cable was concerned for news cabled from Australia to Montreal, whence news might be posted. This would mean a great saving of time.

Premier Morris agreed that the rates were somewhat excessive. The matter was one in which Newfoundland was deeply interested. He was prepared to support the resolution.

Postmaster-General Samuel promised to represent the strong desire felt by Australia and New Zealand that the Pacific board should be authorized, so far as the United Kingdom's consent was concerned, to proceed with the work to which Mr. Pearce referred.

Mr. Asquith promised further consideration to the matter and the resolution was agreed to.

Hon. G. S. Pearce of Australia moved that the conference recommend the nationalization of the cable, in order to cheapen and render more effective telegraphic communication between Britain, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand by thus acquiring complete control of all telegraphic cable lines along the all-red route.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that after the statement of Mr. Samuel on the previous resolution, he preferred to reserve his judgment on the present proposal.

Mr. Joseph Ward, who had a resolution urging extension by laying a state-owned cable between England and Canada, with powers for the Pacific board to be entered into to lay and control such a cable, strongly held that nationalization was the right course to follow.

In view of the probability of reductions in rates, Hon. Mr. Samuel suggested that the Governments would not at the present time be justified in undertaking so large capital expenditure at the risk of loss involved. He suggested a resolution as an alternative to those submitted:

"That in the event of considerable reductions in transatlantic cable rates not being effected in the near future, it is desirable that the laying of a state-owned cable between England and Canada be considered by a subsidiary conference."

The original resolutions being both withdrawn, that suggested by Samuel was unanimously agreed to.

ACCUSED THEM OF BEING BRIBED

Serious Charge Against Four Montreal Constables.

Montreal, June 16.—A serious charge was made against four constables by Jockey E. J. Simms, in the enquete court yesterday. He accuses them of having accepted bribes. Simms, who was riding at Blue Bonnets, met a Mme. Tosca, who invited him to call. He accepted, and claims that after he had spent over $90 for champagne, etc., he was kicked out of the house and his money, $700 in cash, stolen. He told the court that he brought four policemen back to the house with him. The constables, he said, were made presents of greenbacks by one of the women in the house, and advised to depart. This they immediately did.

Mme. Tosca was committed for trial, and will be brought up for voluntary statement on June 27. In the meantime Simms' charges will be investigated.

The four policemen whom he accused were present in court, but were not called to give evidence.

THE MAIL'S GUESS

The vigorous opposition to the Ne Temere decree of the Roman Catholic church goes on apace, both in the councils of the Protestant churches and in the newspapers of the country. The opposition to this does not wear away with time, because it seems to be almost a unanimous opinion that the law should be tested, and placed on a basis, especially as regards Quebec, that is clear and emphatic.

The Mail and Empire this morning came along with a belated editorial that was to some extent wide of the mark in discussing the decree. We are not defending the decree in the least, but on the contrary have asserted frequently that it must be made clear that the civil power of the country shall be supreme in matters of marriage, just as it is in matters of divorce, and that the state shall not be used as a tool to enforce unjust or unreasonable promulgations of any ecclesiastical authority.

In its explanation of the situation, the Mail says:—"The Ne Temere decree supersedes this understanding, and says that any marriage of a Catholic with a Protestant by a Protestant minister is null and void. In Quebec, where the code is interpreted as giving the Church the right to legislate on the question of marriage the Ne Temere decree will have the force of law. But, in the other parts of Canada the decree will operate rather as a means of requiring parties about to marry to go to the priest for the ceremony, and to comply with his requirements, or it will cast doubts in the minds of Catholics who have married Protestants under Protestant auspices as to the validity of their marriage bond. . . . But no church ought to be permitted to say that a marriage, made possible by the State, and entered into in good faith by both parties, is no marriage at all."

A recent judicial opinion on the status of a marriage by a Protestant minister of a Catholic and a Protestant—that is to say, a mixed marriage—"is to the effect that the courts would probably hold such a mixed marriage to be valid, though no such case has ever come up for a decision. Judge Leet explains this fully, when he says: "Until the Ne Temere decree there was never any question in this country as to the validity of the marriage of a Catholic with a Protestant by a Protestant minister, and I do not think there is any danger of the courts upholding the pretension of the decree. The decree will only cause heartburning and social difficulties that the law can hardly deal with. It is only a dogma of the church which the law does not now recognize and is not likely to recognize."

The Mail is wrong in saying that the decree will have the force of law in Quebec, except as regards the case of two Roman Catholics. In the other part of Canada any duly ordained priest or clergyman is authorized as a civil agent to perform a valid marriage, irrespective of the religion of the contracting parties, and the decree has only the force of a purely ecclesiastical ordinance and is of no civil effect whatever. As a leading newspaper, the Mail ought to be better informed in discussing such a question as this.

CHRISTIANITY AND POLITICS

In his charge to the Synod of the Diocese of Ontario, Bishop Mills deplored the unsatisfactory rate of progress of the Church of England in Canada. Instead of occupying the first place numerically it occupied the third place. The late Archbishop Lewis had confirmed 28,000 persons, and he had confirmed 8,000. Statistics of the diocese did not show this increase in membership. Where did they? he asked. His Lordship then went on to discuss the Ne Temere decree and the possibility of annexation as a result of reciprocity. To the latter subject he devoted considerable attention, denouncing opposition to reciprocity as "simply a political one" and vigorously condemning those who predict annexation as a possible outcome of reciprocity, says the Montreal Star.

The comparatively slow progress of the Church of England among the Protestant churches in Canada is the more remarkable as the Established Church seems to be the only one in England which is making substantial headway, and the others show an actual falling off. But it is, of course, impossible to gainsay the good bishop's statement with regard to his own diocese; and it might be desirable for His Lordship to institute an enquiry into the cause, or causes, of this regrettable state of affairs within his own jurisdiction. Perhaps his clergy are prone to preach politics instead of Christianity, than which nothing is more fatal to a clergyman's influence and usefulness, especially when, as is generally the case, he is profoundly ignorant of politics. At the opening of one of the other church courts recently, the reverend gentleman who preached the inaugural sermon found the great weakness of the churches to be the tendency of the ministers to preach sensational sermons, on all sorts of subjects, the gospel principally excepted. It is remarkable how Protestant clergymen who are the first to denounce the interference of the Roman Catholic bishops and priests in politics, see no impropriety in delivering political doctrine ex-cathedra. The great revival in the Church of England in the old country is largely due to the broadness of view and the devotion to pure gospel preaching of men like Bishop Ingram.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Everyone who was alive on June 1, is supposed by the census officials to be alive until the next census, ten years hence. It would never do to have undertakers as census officials.

They have elected a woman named Catt, as president of the International Women's Suffrage alliance at Stockholm. It is not necessary to mention that she has a strong feline for votes for women.

Mr. Borden will undertake to hold forty-five meetings in the west in about three weeks. After forty-five meetings it will not be Mr. Borden's fault if the people in all parts of the west do not know where he stands on the questions of the day.

Rev. Dr. Teefy, the Roman Catholic priest, who died a few days ago in Toronto, was a man of unusual attainments, yet he never drew in his life more than $80 per annum and his board. Measured by the world's standard, he was a downright failure but who can say that of his life?

Old Michael Fraser has been found by the divisional court judges to be an imbecile, and his wife married him for his money. A commission to manage the estate is to be appointed. This is an unhappy state of affairs, but it is little worse then many other marriages that take place and which never get to the courts.

The Conservatives made a gain of six seats in Nova Scotia, and almost won half a dozen other government ridings. With the establishment of a Conservative government at Ottawa after the next election, Nova Scotia should complete the flop next time.

The Toronto police department is going to prosecute the leader of a Buffalo military band for giving a musical concert on Sunday afternoon at the island. The Salvation army gives musical concerts on the Sabbath. Why don't the morality people prosecute the Salvation army bandsmen?

The Emperor of Japan has sent a coronation poem to King George. The interesting effusion is:

When nation speaks to nation in tones of Friendly greeting, 'tis joy to hear.
When nations dwell in peace beneath the sway of Wise, good rulers, 'tis joy to see.

Very good. We promptly nominate the "Mickeydo" as the logical successor of one Alfred Austin. Any change would be an improvement.

Bishop Mills, of Kingston, in his pastoral charge rather fiercely denounced those who opposed reciprocity on national grounds. The good bishop being a preacher, is of course able to judge of the effect of a tariff deal much better than business men like Sir Edmund Walker. That's the trouble with a good many preachers—they are not content to have their own views, but they seek to cram them down the throats of other people, no matter what the subject may be. Bishop Mills would be better advised to stick to his church work. If he has any desire to be a politician, let him rise in righteous wrath against the bunch of Pugsleys at Ottawa, and accomplish something worth while.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 15.—There was an improved demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, and, as the prices bid for numbers 3 and 4 northern were higher, sales of several loads were made. The demand for oats was also better, but no business was worked as bids were half cents per bushel out of line. The export trade in flour was quiet, but the local and outside demand is fair and the undertone to the market is steady.

For the Family

You work to provide for your wife and children. Your ambitions are for them. You intend to make up to your wife the self denials she has practised. You plan that the girls and the boys shall have their chance; you picture the future by your hope.

But have you had the forethought to realize that death does not halt for any man's hopes, or wait for any man's convenience? Have you made such provisions for the future that your family will receive an income adequate to their needs in case of your death?

By devoting a small part of your income to life insurance, your hopes will become realities to them.

A guaranteed income policy for $1,000 at age 35 costs less than 10c a day and will not lapse if you become unable to pay the premiums in consequence of total and permanent disability from accident or disease, and further if you wish it, the Company will begin immediately to pay the amount due under the policy, not necessarily waiting until it becomes a claim through death.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

He handed her the slip of paper which before this he had sought to offer.

"I fear your brother may be too excited to read it," he said indifferently.

She eyed it wonderingly, scanning it twice over and yet again before digesting its brief contents. In silence she handed it to her brother, and he, after a long, incredulous stare, exclaimed:

"He gives it back to buy his safety!"

"Read the date," commanded Kirby, addressing the girl.

In the same mechanical manner she obeyed, spelling it out as if it were written in some strange language with which she was but vaguely familiar.

"He wrote that the first day the doctors let him set up to a table after Jack Moreau shot him," sharply explained Bunce, angered at the reception accorded what he considered a sublime act of generosity, forbearance and asininity.

Slowly Adele raised her eyes from the paper and looked steadily at the "common gambler." "This was in remorse—for my father?" she whispered.

"No." It was said quite simply and emotionlessly, as if the question were too absurd to seriously consider. He would have employed the same tone in refuting the statement that he was a Chinaman.

"That doesn't agree very well with Colonel Moreau's story," sneered young Randall, loath to credit such an enemy with one worthy motive.

"You bet your bottom dollar it don't," agreed Bunce.

"That will do, Larkin," said Kirby sharply. "There's nothing more to be said. We're through here."

Despite Adele's earnest request to remain and the plea that she had the right to know the meaning of this strange contradiction of evidence, he resolutely turned to leave the room, his partner obediently following.

But once again M. Veaudry, sinking his own interests in those of justice, stepped forward and detained his sometime rival.

"Make him speak, Tom!" he cried, turning to young Randall. "This miniature of your mother we found in Colonel Moreau's portmanteau." And he handed the other the red morocco box.

"But—but my father lost it to you!" exclaimed the bewildered boy, turning to Kirby.

"No, not to me, Mr. Randall." Again that same patient, emotionless tone, totally devoid of resentment or even interest.

"If—if we've been in the wrong," tremulously whispered Adele, raising her head proudly, but pleading supplication speaking strongly from her eyes, "you will set us straight, you will be fair?"

For a long moment Kirby hesitated, then finally turned to the now eagerly waiting boy.

"Mr. Randall," he said, with elaborate irony, "the question involved in my conduct is so purely professional that it may be almost impossible to clear it up to the satisfaction of a layman. Mr. Bunce, being one of the brethren, would comprehend me perfectly, but I shall have to point out that in my profession there are separate castes, both high and low, each controlled by its own standards."

"You accuse Colonel Moreau of being a gambler?" said young Randall as the other paused.

"I regretfully admit that he had some claim to the title," replied Kirby, with intentional elegance of manner, "for the group to which the 'colonel' belonged countenances certain practices, such as the intoxication of opponents and the elimination of chance in the fall of the cards, and this, we feel, shows a lack of foresight tending to bring discredit on the entire profession, which might in time drive its followers from their legitimate field of industry. For that reason, when I discovered the late Colonel Moreau in a private stateroom of the Shotwell despoiling a gentleman who was—who was not himself, I took charge of the despoliation of what remained, intending to make restitution in the morning, when the victim should be in better condition."

Young Randall being one who cherished his hatreds and affections and renounced them with difficulty, this new and obviously accurate version of his father's suicide left him in a state of mental fog. Where Adele was only too willing and eager to believe, the boy was loath. To the girl Kirby had once appeared all that woman can think of man, but to her brother he had ever been the personification of evil. Tom had blindly nourished his hatred. Now he felt strangely bewildered, self distrustful and unclean. His credulity had been shattered with his self respect. He flushed hotly at the thought of how implicitly and on such meager evidence he had believed the specious and totally unscrupulous Moreau, how from such a tissue of falsehood he had carefully erected his elaborate feud. He had even stooped to the unutterably foul act of swearing a murder upon this man, who, rather than being an enemy, had stood his father's sole friend. To him it was difficult to relegate unto himself a new viewpoint with the "common gambler" as an object for admiration rather than vilification, to disinter and transfer the halo which Moreau had calmly appropriated and taken with him to the grave to this erstwhile master rogue, this arch fiend, titles for which his name of Cameo Kirby had been a synonym.

"You meant to protect my father?" he faltered at length.

"For the honor of the profession," said Kirby. "That's all right, Mr. Randall," he added gently as the boy, utterly crushed and filled with a bitter self hatred, strove to verbally interpret his abject thoughts, to frame some sort of fitting apology. "If you'll lend me a horse to get back to the city we'll call it square. I'm ready, Larkin."

He held out his hand, and young Randall, flushing hotly, grasped it firmly, then turned away and, sinking into a chair, buried his face in his arms.

Adele, placing her hand on her brother's shoulder as if he were a child, raised him gently and escorted him from the room. At the door she turned, looking steadily at Kirby.

"You waited for me this afternoon when there was danger," she said tremulously. "Won't you wait for me now, when there is none?"

CHAPTER XV.

"BY George, Gene, it looks to me like you'd get the girl and the plantation, too!" exclaimed Bunce when at length the two were alone.

"What was that you called me awhile ago?" returned Kirby quizzically, but with an undercurrent of great seriousness. "Nothing but a—what was it? Seems to me you said something mighty pleasant about me, you being my oldest friend and therefore complimentary. Oh, yes, nothing but a 'damned gambler.' That was it."

He seated himself at the table and, as was his wont in moments of abstraction, began to cut the cards.

Bunce diplomatically ignored the tribute. The mad escapade had terminated far better than he had expected or thought possible, and in consequence his native fund of good humor had been abundantly re-enforced.

"Take Miss Randall while you can git her," he advised. "She ain't thinkin' tonight of you bein' a gambler."

"What do you suppose she'll think of it tomorrow? Think she'll remember what I am, perhaps?"

"Mebbe she won't think of it tomorrow," said Bunce hopefully.

WOMAN HER OWN LAWYER

Was Ready to Fight for Her Rights With Her Life's Blood

In the Non-Jury Assize Court, before Mr. Justice Latchford, Mrs. Daniels, a buxom widow, pleaded her own case in the application for an enlargement of the hearing of her action against the London and Western Trust Co., as assignees of the defunct Birkbeck Co., for $3,500, which the plaintiff claims is owing her from the assets. Mrs. Daniels wanted the case to go over until the next Fall Assizes, and she had the judge practically persuaded to her way of thinking, until Mr. Gibbons, counsel for the defence, produced a typewritten document, which changed the mind of his Lordship, and resulted in his dismissing the action without costs. This ended another chapter in this case, which has been in the courts for the past ten years, having been fought through the Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal by the plaintiff herself, who claimed that in the last court she had obtained an order for the trial of her action before a High Court judge.

Mrs. Daniels is a woman of ample dimensions, weighing over 200 lbs., and she looked quite picturesque in a black tailored suit and hat, with flowing plumes, when she argued before the judge. She became quite testy when the judge announced his decision, declaring that she was not going to have her rights trampled on, if she had to fight for them with her life's blood. With the consent of his Lordship she dictated a lengthy statement to the court reporter on the merits of her case, and obtained a thirty days' stay of proceedings, pending an appeal, which she signified her determination to make.

A TOWN A DAY

Marvellous Progress in Establishing Towns in the West

By the end of the coming summer there will be at least one hundred and seventy new towns in Canada, not counting those which come into existence gradually and in the natural course of evolution from clusters of houses into hamlets and then into towns. The one hundred and seventy will all be in the West. Not for them the humdrum processes of conventional development; they will spring, full panoplied, into being, with hotels, courthouses, jails, and all the modern improvements, and a small railroad station, a mile or so of siding, and unbounded hope and confidence in the future, as actual assets. The Canadian Pacific will be responsible for fifty of them, the Grand Trunk Pacific for twenty-four, and the Canadian Northern for ninety-six. It is a fair supposition that all of them will live because of the fostering care of their railroad and that most of them will prosper because the time has come for towns to succeed farms at selected locations on the prairies, and the railroads are in a better position to do the selecting than any other instrumentality except land companies. Nor will these railroad towns be the only communities to come into being in the West in the next three or four months, but from their number it is possible to draw some kind of an impression of the method and the speed of Western development.

SCHOOL GARDENING

An Interesting Feature of the School in Scarboro'

School gardening has proved to be one of the most useful and interesting features of the public school curriculum, and is being undertaken just as quickly as the supply of properly qualified teachers will permit. To the pupils of S.S. No. 1, Scarboro', belongs the honor of being the first school to undertake school gardening.

Under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Margaret Doherty, who is a graduate of the O. A. C., the children prepared and planted the garden, which consists of experimental plots in barley, corn and wheat, a perennial flower border, and an annual flower border. To the senior pupils individual plots have been assigned, while the juniors work in class plots.

Prizes to the value of five, four, three and two dollars have been offered for the four best individual plots, and a further prize of one dollar has been donated for the pupil of the primary class whose division in the class plot presents the best appearance.

The I. C. R. had a gross income for 1909 of $9,863,783, with a surplus of $272,712.

Francis Hall, formerly of Guelph, Ont., has been appointed sheriff of Nottingham, Eng.

Ottawa will save $1,200 intended for Coronation celebration to use in welcoming Connaught.

There are only 2,000 men at the Barriefield militia camp.

SEEING THE FAR EAST.

It Should Be Viewed Through the Bible and "Arabian Nights."

The best books on the east, as every one knows, are the Bible and the "Arabian Nights," and yet I found most travelers were saturating themselves with snippity descriptions of monuments and places, with tabloids of history, with technical paragraphs on architecture and the ethnic religions, with figures about the height of this and the length of that or condensed statistics of exports and imports and the tonnage through the Suez canal and dates about the Pharaohs and the Mughals. No wonder they see nothing, know nothing, enjoy nothing and come home bringing a few expletives, adjectives and photographs which can be had for a small price in either New York or London.

The first thing to do in going to the east is to turn your education out on your desk so that you can get at the bottom of it, and there you will find the Bible and the "Arabian Nights" and the "Odyssey" and "Iliad" and "Virgil" and "Herodotus" and "Xenophon," and you will realize what a fool you were not to have devoted more time to them when you were asked to do so. Guide books can get you to the east, but they do not get you inside. It is temperament, not trains, that counts.—Price Collier in Scribner's Magazine.

Was It Stale?

While playing in a provincial pantomine on one occasion, Mr. G. P. Huntley, the English actor, had an amusing experience. The stage hands organized a draw for a turkey, and all the members of the company bought tickets. The turkey was won by a limelight man, but as his wife did not know how to cook it, she asked him to put it up again. This was done, and the next time it was won by a scene-shifter, who did not like turkeys, so he followed the limelight man's example, and organized another raffle.

These draws went on for several weeks, and they were always being won by the stage hands, and financially supported by the actors and actresses. At last, on the concluding night of the pantomime, Mr. Huntley won the bird. By this time it had cost him over a couple of pounds, and in telling the story he has said: "I took that unfortunate turkey out of the theatre, but I did not take it home; I thought it advisable to leave it on the doorstep of a local sanitary inspector!"

HOTELMAN WAS STABBED

His Assailant Goes to Jail for Thirty Days

At Police Court this morning, two vagrants appeared answering to the names of Morgan and Fairbairn. They were implicated in the row at a local hotel about a week ago with the proprietor, the bartender and another fellow named Crawford.

Peter Fairbairn pleaded hard for another chance. He said he came from Toronto where he had been engaged in a boiler shop, but he had become crippled with rheumatism. He could make a living by peddling or with a farmer if His Worship would let him go. With Morgan, he was discharged on their promise to get out of the town.

The proprietor of the hotel in question was called to tell his story which was to the effect that the three men mentioned were quarelling in his barroom on June 8th, and when they refused to leave at his order, he ejected Fairbairn and Morgan. Crawford was offensive and the proprietor proceeded to throw him out also. He claimed that Crawford stabbed him in the leg and he beat him severely for it. Crawford began on the bartender, whom he met in the yard, and the proprietor went at him again.

His Worship assessed Crawford $10 to be paid forthwith, or take 30 days hard labor. He took the hard labor.

In dismissing the others, His Worship said that the proprietor had a right to keep order, and even eject the men by force, if it was necessary. A blow like that delivered by Crawford might have cut an artery and a murder case might have been hanging over him now. It was quite natural for the bartender to assist against the three ruffians.

GIVEN LOCKET AND ADDRESS

Ex-Deputy Fire Chief Surprised at Fire Hall

Expressions of An Unanimous Feeling of Goodwill

Ex-Deputy Fire Chief Grange, was surprised at the Fire Station last night, when the firemen gathered in the Chief's office, and presented him with a gold locket, with the following letters "G. G." from P. F. D., beautifully engraved.

Chief Howard in making the presentation made a few remarks regarding Mr. Grange. He said that during the three years that Mr. Grange had been in the Department, it was a pleasure to work with him. He didn't believe there was another city in Canada or even in the United States where the Chief and his assistants had worked so well together as he and Mr. Grange had during the past three years. By good habits and stability of character Mr. Grange had endeared himself to Chief Howard, more than any man in his twenty-five years as fireman.

The men had asked the Chief's permission to collect the money in the usual way, and he gave it on the condition that it be the unanimous wish of every man in the department that Mr. Grange should receive some token of their good will.

The speaker was very glad that the retiring fireman was leaving the department with good feelings towards it. Mr. Grange had offered to turn out to any of the fires, and, he was sure the men would appreciate his services. There had been many, who had left the department for various reasons, but he was very sorry to say that some of those who had left in bad graces, wound up in the penitentiary.

The presentation had been held before representatives from the press so that everyone might know of the general good feeling for Mr. Grange at the Fire Station.

Mr. Grange, in a few well chosen words, thanked the men for their kindness. He would value and prize the locket as it would always bring back memories of the pleasant times spent in the Peterboro Fire Department. The evident good feeling of all the firemen also went to show that the stories circulated about him were incorrect.

Firemen McBride, Mundon and Kidd each spoke a few words on behalf of the men saying that they were very sorry to lose Mr. Grange, as he had endeared himself to them during his term as Deputy Fire Chief.

WEDDING BELLS

GREENE—CAIRNS

Toronto Star—At ten o'clock this morning, the residence of Mrs. J. H. Cairns, in Sunnyside avenue, was the of the marriage of her eldest daughter, Lilian Louisa, to Mr. Reginald A. Greene, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Greene, Peterboro. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gilbert Agar, pastor of the Howard Park Presbyterian Church, in the drawing room, which was decorated with pink and white carnations, lily of the valley daisies, and smilax. Miss Violet Moore, the bride's cousin played the wedding march and Miss M, Dunlop sang "Because".

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. S. J. Moore, wore an ivory duchess satin gown with silk fringe and tulle veil caught with a wreath of lilies of the valley and she carried an Empire shower of the same fragrant flowers. Miss Evelyn Cairns was her sister's bridesmaid, in pale blue silk with bebe Irish lace and bandeau of blue and she carried pink roses. Two little flower girls were also in attendance, Miss Mildred Mabee and Miss Marjorie Hampton, the bride's cousins, in dainty frocks of white silk mull and lace, and carrying white peonies. Master Jack Cairns was a page in a black velvet suit, and carried a ring on a satin cushion. The best man was Mr. Wilfred Fitzgerald of Peterboro.

Mrs. Cairns, wearing pearl grey silk with Persian trimmings, held a reception following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Greene left later to spend their honeymoon in Muskoka, the bride traveling in a grey tailor-made and black hat with white plumes. On their return they will reside in Sunnyside avenue.

A SUCCESSFUL MOONLIGHT

Excursion Under Auspices of the of the Y.W.C.A.

Although the moon did not shine at the Y.W.C.A. moonlight excursion last night down the Otonabee, it was an unqualified success both in attendance and financially. The steamer Stoney Lake, which was chartered for the occasion, was comfortably filled and suitable music provided by the Salvation Army band, enlivened things greatly. The boat left the Wolfe street wharf at 8.15 and returned about 11 o'clock.

HUGH DARKE LOST HIS LIFE; WAS CAUGHT BETWEEN BELT AND PULLEY IN C.G.E. TEST

Was in Stooping Position and Fellow Workman's Movement Was Taken by Man at Switchboard for Signal to Start Power.

A terrible fatality occurred in the C. G. E. test department at 9.50 o'clock last night when Mr. Hugh Darke, sr., a fitter, residing at the corner of Townsend and Rubidge streets, was caught on a belt and carried around the large wooden pulley, crushing him so badly that he died before reaching the hospital. Drs. Boucher, Frederick and Williamson were in attendance but could not do anything to relieve the sufferer. The Dan Spence ambulance was called and he was removed from the company surgery where he had been carried by his comrades, but he passed away on arriving in the vicinity of Charlotte street.

PREPARING MACHINE.

The victim was working with Wm. Cartner and expected to work all last night preparing a machine for the test. They had had the power turned off and were busy bolting the large motor to the floor. A belt about 5-8 inches thick and 22 inches wide was connected with the machine in question and the men were busy around it, sometimes being compelled to lie across it to place certain bolts. Cartner became cramped and stood up to ease his muscles. The man at the switch thought he was signalling for the power and turned it on. The late Mr. Darke was supposed to have attempted to jump away from the machinery but was in such a cramped position that he was unable to get clear and was taken around the large wheel and his face and head were jammed against projecting irons and blocks marring his face beyond recognition. He was taken to the surgery and several doctors summoned. Dr. Boucher was the first on the scene but could do nothing for the man, though life was not altogether extinct. Dr. Frederick and Dr. Williamson arrived in the former's auto and the latter accompanied the unfortunate man in the ambulance.

CARTNER'S STORY.

Wm. Cartner when approached about the fatality told the following story to the Review;

Mr. Darke and I were engaged on the machine in the test and had worked all day yesterday on the job. I had been in a cramped position and had stood up for a second and the switchman evidently thinking I was signalling for the power, started the machinery. I was unable to assist Mr. Darke and was myself so close to the machine that I narrowly escaped being caught also. I had looked away towards another wing of the department and the machinery had started so slowly and quietly that I did not realize the danger until Mr. Darke cried in his agony.

PEOPLE WERE ANXIOUS.

A crowd soon collected at the gate-house and the gate-man was kept busy answering the queries of anxious mothers and sisters, who heard about an accident but did not get the name and fearing for the welfare of members of their family or relatives hurried to enquire. After the injured man had been removed the crowd stood in awed silence as a result of the tragedy which had been enacted within such a short distance of them.

The late Hugh Darke was well and favorably known in Peterborough for his many good qualities as a citizen and the news of his passing will cast a gloom over a large number of homes. He was born in Port Hope in 1860, the son of the late Ezekiel Darke. He came to Peterborough in 1883. He was a machine fitter by trade and was in the employ of the Wm. Hamilton Co. for about eighteen years and later has been in the C.G.E. plant. He was a member of the Sons of England.

Those left to mourn his loss are his mother, residing in Port Hope, his wife, two sons, William B., of Brandon; Hugh A., of Cheyenne, Wyoming; one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Richards, Penn, U.S., four brothers, John, Detroit; Melville, Chicago; Henry and Richard Port Hope, and three sisters, Mrs. W. Burley, Newtonville; Mrs. F. Bird, Port Hope, and Mrs. W. Welsh, Port Hope.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

YOUTHFUL CRIME MUST BE CHECKED SAYS JUDGE HUYCKE

His Honor's Comments on Presentment of the Grand Jury—Cannon in Front of Court House Should be Re-mounted.

The customary presentment submitted by the grand jury at the County Court proceedings yesterday afternoon and was replete with valuable and well founded suggestions whereby the general efficiency and value of several institutions might be increased, and which the jury considered should be immediately carried out. After the part of the presentment which contained the suggestion that the judge's chambers and his private chamber required improvements, in the way of sanitation and heating, it referred to the prisoners whom were found in the jail, fifteen males and one female. The latter was an insane person, for whom the jail, so the jury thought, was an obviously improper place. There were also confined in the jail a number of persons classed as vagrants, not criminals, but unfortunates for whom the jail was neither an intended or suitable place.

Judge Huycke extended his thanks to the jury upon their able and thorough fulfilment of their duty in submitting such a splendid report. He intimated that he would send the presentment to the county council, when, no doubt, the suggestions it contained would receive due consideration, and he hoped would be acted upon.

CRIME INCREASING.

In the clause of the report relative to the criminals in the jail, the judge thought the jury perhaps had overlooked, or were not cognizant of the proportions which youthful crime is assuming. While not referring particularly to Killingbeck, whose case was under way at the time, he drew their attention to the frequency with which crimes of a like nature were committed by boys and young men. It augured ill, he said, for the rising generation if such actions were allowed to continue or proceed unchecked. Another thing he thought objectionable was the necessity of bringing a prisoner into court, to give testimony, while wearing the prison uniform. His remarks were induced, he said, by the action of the officials in bringing Dougherty, who was connected with Killingbeck in the crime for which the latter was being tried, by having him brought into the court before the public dressed in prison clothes. He thought that wherever possible the court should exercise relaxation in this regard, thereby minimizing the degradation and humiliation which the prisoner must necessarily feel.

The presentment also contained a clause hitherto unmentioned, suggesting that the Russian cannon in front of the court house should be properly mounted. The present delapidated foundation should be removed and be replaced by substantial concrete, or other solid sightly foundations.

After the judge's remarks on the presentment, the grand jury were dismissed and the hearing of the second charge against Killingbeck was resumed, namely, of stealing the sum of $46 from John Doig, a semi-paralyzed man, residing on Antrim street.

He has also diplomas for life saving, ambulance work and is altogether a very competent all round man.

FIELD DAY FOR 57TH REGIMENT

Sports in Afternoon of Coronation Day

The 57th regiment, officers and non-coms held a meeting Wednesday evening and decided unanimously that on Coronation Day, the Regiment should hold a field day of sports on Central Park, commencing at 2 30 p.m. The events will be open only to members of the regiment, Collegiate cadets and Boy Scouts. The following will constitute the program of events for which suitable prizes will be provided by the officers.

Sack race, three-legged race, mob fight, wheel barrow race, tug-of-war, tilting the bucket, climbing the greasy pole, bun and treacle race; Bandsmen's race, officers costume race, Victoria Cross race for Boy Scouts, 100 yds. dash for Boy Scouts, 150 yards obstacle race for Scouts and Cadets, 100 yards' Cadets race, putting the shot, 12 lb., 1 mile go as you please race for members of the regiment drill order.

The officers intend holding the military day of field sports annually and may in time supply open events.

Several of the events are new to Peterborough athletes, but they are the same as constitute the regulars' field day sports. A man with an extra amount of athletic ability will not have any particular advantage.

Entries will be received by Lieut. C. R. Cameron until noon of June 22nd.

SPRIGS OF SPORT

CRESSWELL IS BILLED TO SERVE UP THE TWIRLING

Classy Game Billed for Riverside To-morrow With Port Hope.

Everything points to a great game of ball at the ball lot Saturday afternoon, when the Port Hope team will make its first appearance of the season.

The news that Stan Cresswell would be worked in the contest has awakened wide interest, and all the collegiate rooters will be there to hand out encouragement to their star twirler.

In three games Cresswell has struck out forty-four batters and that he will give a good account of himself, on the mound against Blake Crawford's aggregation, his many supporters are justly confident.

He will be pitted against young Pipher, who made such a fine showing against Bowmanville last Saturday. The Culverwellville boys will go into the game with all kinds of fancy motions of walking away with the game and a pretty fight should and no doubt will be the result.

"Play ball" will be called at three o'clock. The usual prices of admission will be charged. Boys, however, can pass the gate for ten cents.

Manager Quinlan and Rahmal will deck the bench in uniform ready to relieve the cub southpaw should the occasion arise.

The local lineup will be McFadden and Cresswell as the battery, Mike O'Brien, Ahearne, Gonther and Murphy, infield Shaw, W. O'Brien and Craig, outside.

In the T.A.S. league to-morrow Central T.A.S. and the Sacred Heart teams meet, immediately after the Midland league fixture. The Central T.A.S. with Hayes, the Collegiate Institute catcher, and Sheehy, the school short-stop, and strengthened up otherwise, expect to reverse the score of last game. The following are requested to be on the ground in uniform: Corkery, Connors, Mahoney, Giroux, Derocher, Phelan, Sheehy, Hayes, Hickey, Flaherty, Callaghan, Hatrick and Doherty. The Sacred Heart team will be about the same as has represented them in the last two games with Lafave and Rose doing the battery work.

LEAGUE TAILERS BEAT COLDSPRINGS

An Interesting Church Football League Game Went 4-1

In a well-contested game on the Park street grounds last night the Baptists defeated Cold Springs in the return game by a 4—1 score.

The first half ended with the score standing 1—0 in favor of the Park street boys, who were getting a little the better of the argument.

In the last period Smith laying outside right for the Baptists, scored three times before the Cold Springs line could find the goal. The losers braced up at this stage and landed their only goal of the night shortly before time was called.

The Park street line-up was as follows;

Goal—Lasemby.
Backs—Marsh and King.
Halves—Collett, Biddle and Marks.
Forwards — Smith, Folis, Tooley, Gregory and Thorn.
Referee—Mr. Padgett, of the C.G.E team.

GOLF NEWS

Some excellent games of golf have been played at the local golf grounds since the season opened, this splendid sport being a favorite with many citizens. On Friday, June 16, the Peterboro golfers will play a team from the local golf club, and as the Peterboro club have some excellent players a good game is looked forward to.—Warder.

THE RING

Wells, the White Hope, began fighting in the army in India. His father was a musical composer who earned enough to keep the family in modest circumstances. When he died the responsibility devolved upon Billy. Finding the wages of a bombardier insufficient for the new demand upon it, he supplemented his earnings by turning professional boxer. Like Gunner Moir, he eventually won the army championship of India. Returning to England he won a couple of contests when he was seen by Eugene Corri who can claim the distinction of being the real discovere of this particular "white man's hope." Corri told McIntosh that Wells was the most promising heavyweight he had ever seen, and the Australian lost no time in placing him under contract.

SHOOTING

The semi-monthly meeting of the Peterborough Gun Club was held last evening in the Driving park. Owing to the showery weather and the fact that several of the members were away fishing, the attendance was small. Twenty-five birds were shot at with the following scores: C. Wood, 15; C. James, 12; C. Lech, 12; C. Gutterson, 10; S. Rush, 9; C. Mills, 6; B. Searle, 4.

The next regular shoot will be on Thursday, July 6th.

BASEBALL

Once, when playing on an independent team I had a queer proposition up to me, one that wouldn't be duplicated probably in a hundred years." said Charley Schmidt, the Detroit Americans' catcher, recently.

"My best girl was sitting in the grand stand and a better baseball fan never lived. She knew the game from A to Z—knew it better than even our captain, who was strangely lacking in foresight. The score in the ninth was 2 to 1 in our favor. Only one man on the opposing team was out, and there was a runner on third when the batter lifted a long, high, twisting foul away over back to first. To catch it meant a desperate run, taking the ball over my shoulder, but the captain called 'Schmidt, Schmidt!' and I set sail for that ball at top speed.

As I passed the section in the grand stand where my girl friend was sitting she cried down to me, 'Let it go, Charley!' Instantly I realized that she had divined that were I to catch the ball I could by no possibility recover myself in time to catch the runner coming in from third.

"The captain was bawling out, 'Get it, Schmidty!' but I took a chance on the girl's judgment and let the ball go. The captain 'panned' me proper, but the girl's judgment was right. The batter went back to the plate and struck out. The next man up sent a fly to centre, and the game was over."

Paul Cobb, brother of the famous Tyrus Raymond Cobb, of the Detroit Tigers, will very likely be a member of the Washington American league team before the end of the present season. Paul is now playing right field for the Lincoln team of the Western league, and his hitting is such that it is attracting wide attention.

The first official list of batting averages of the players of the Canadian Ball League, gives Connie Murphy, with the Hamilton club, 18 runs and 24 hits in 88 times at bat. Dubbie Shea for the Brantford club, with 65 times at bat has had 21 hits and 21 runs. Five of the hits have been two-baggers.

Steamers to Burn Oil.

Montreal, June 16.—At a meeting yesterday the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co.'s management had under consideration several innovations which will mean a still further curtailment in operating expenses.

In this connection the announcement was made that it is proposed to introduce oil fuel on several of the R. & O. steamers plying the great lakes and rapids between Toronto and Montreal, and that negotiations to this effect are being conducted with the Imperial Oil Co.

May Meet In Toronto.

Quebec, June 16.—The fourth annual convention of the Canadian Gas Association opened here yesterday.

The officers for the coming year are: President, Arthur Hewitt, Toronto; vice-presidents, E. J. Phillips and A. W. Moore; secretary-treasurer, John Keillar; executive, J. S. Norris, R. A. Wallace, P. S. Coote, A. A. Dion and J. M. H. Young.

The committee recommends Toronto as the next place to hold the annual meeting, providing the manufacturers' exhibits be held there.

Found Body In Hay Mow.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 16.—A sensation has been caused by the finding of Edward Francois' body in the hay mow of his barn at Chesham.

Neighbors enquiring for him at his house were told by his wife that Francois was in the barn, and on going there the remains were found in the hay mow. The husband and wife had had domestic difficulties, and it has been deemed necessary to hold an investigation.

Muzzles to Go on Again.

Ottawa, June 16.—It was announced at the Veterinary General's Department here yesterday that a general order for the muzzling of dogs, as a safeguard against rabies, was not likely to be enforced this summer.

An order was, however, almost certain to be issued for the district in and around Toronto, where the local department inspectors have reported a number of suspected cases.

Deadly Gale on Adriatic.

Trieste, Austria, June 16.—A storm of hurricane force raged during Wednesday night, causing many deaths and much damage to shipping.

Early yesterday the bodies of twenty victims had been recovered at this point alone.

It is feared that fishing smacks with crews totalling forty men, which were at sea Wednesday night were lost. The ships in the roads were severely damaged.

A Greek vessel with its crew of twelve, foundered. Minor damages to craft are reported from other points on the Adriatic Sea.

Suits For $3,500,000.

Edmonton, June 16.—Claims for damages amounting to $3,500,000 have been filed with the executive council by the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway project against the Provincial Government. One of the claims is for $2,500,000, made by the railway and construction companies. The Royal Bank of Canada have put in a claim for $398,000.

The Empire Supply Co., ask $121,796.65 for ties, timber loss and loss of profits. Campbell and Brown have an item of $3,340 for goods, building roads and breach of contract.

Headquarters of the Second Brigade Field Artillery, have been transferred from aHmilton to Toronto.

HAUNTED JUNGLE.

An Explorer's Vivid Description of Dutch New Guinea.

Details of the experiences and hardships of the British expedition in Dutch New Guinea, which for months past has been engaged in an apparently hopeless attempt to reach the great interior snow range, show that Mr. Goodfellow, the leader of the expedition, is now on his way home owing to sickness. Writing at the end of August from the British camp at Parimau, on the Upper Mimika river, one of the explorers says: "A climate hot, steamy, and unhealthy, never varying more than 25 degrees Fahr., night or day, winter or summer. Sickness and disease rampant, and deaths the rule rather than the exception. Heavy rains and storms all the year round, hardly a day or night passing without a downpour; and during the so-called wet season, June-September, incessant rain night and day, and, in consequence, heavy floods. About a week ago Capt. Rawlings and Dr. Marshall had just reached the Iwaka river by a 5 1-2 mile route, which, however, only places us three miles or so due east. The jungle in this direction is the worst we have yet encountered, and one might well spend a life-time in jungle trails and yet meet with nothing to equal this. The mere fact that it exists in one of the only remaining spots of the world yet to be explored is sufficient reason for presuming that the difficulties to be overcome are exceptional.

It is virgin jungle, never before trodden by the foot of man; to its hidden depths the natives are complete strangers; the pigmies from the hills shun it; and the natives from the low lands fear it, and do not probe its dark mysteries. The outskirts and more open parts bordering the river are frequented by cassowary, boar, and walleby, and are the haunt of the greater Bird of Paradise, whose shrill, joyous calls from its dancing trees enliven these dark depths. Less than a mile from the river the trees and saplings encroach upon one another to such an extent that it is impossible for a man to stand at any spot without being touched on every side by their straight stems. In addition to this these are heavy undergrowth and manyother obstructions from falling and rotting trees. It is the haunt of all creeping things, from the deadly puff adder to the greater, yet comparatively harmless python. Noxious insects abound, and leeches swarm on the saturated, moss-ridden trees and undergrowth. Everything decaying; no air seems to circulate there, and what little there is is foetid and stiffling.

Dismal, dark, dripping—this is the jungle where for days and weeks we have been trying to cut a path, along which we may squeeze through to the big valley, which undoubtedly lies 12 or 13 miles to the east. With Gurkhas and natives cutting and hacking with axes for hours on end, some slight advance is made. Never a halt or rest—for as soon as one man's hand gives out, rendered incapable by bruises and blisters, his place is promptly taken by another and a fitter. Four weeks' arduous and constant work has resulted in the cutting of 5,900 yards of road."

Dr. Eric Marshall in a letter gives some interesting details of the natives in these unknown regions. He says: "Woman out here is relegated to a very inferior position. Her duties are numerous, for she drags up the children, cuts the firewood, brings in the sago from the sago swamps, and works the canoes so far as poling and paddling go; occasionally proving her skill as a warrior in the family and village quarrels, and always coming off best with her tongue. The tailoring department does not worry her much, she being usually content with a strip of bark cloth which adorns her person if it does not suffice to clothe her.

On the death of a man—men predominate in this region—the night is spent by the mourners in shouting, chanting, and yelling aroond a large fire, with the purpose of driving away the ghosts or devils. From time to time the widow, clad like Eve, but as ugly as Satan, crawls around the grave wailing and chanting, and performing weird movements with arms and body."

Premier's Test of Fitness.

Brockett Hall, Hatfield, where the King and Queen are to pay a visit to Lord and Lady Mount Stephen, formerly belonged to Lord Palmerston, and it was there he went after his last election for Tiverton. Of those last days a story has been told of the moribund Premier's unconquerable pluck and cheerfulness. There were then some tall railings just opposite the front door. One day the invalid, who imagined himself unobserved, was seen to walk out bareheaded and deliberately climb over the rails and climb back again to feel how fit he was.

One of the real romances of life is associated with the career of Lord Mount Stephen. Born of Scottish parents, he received his early education in a parish school, and worked between his studies as a herd boy. He passed into a draper's shop in Aberdeen, and when in his twenty-first year emigrated to Canada, where he made a fortune in the woollen trade, and largely financed the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He received the honor of a peerage in 1891, and is one of the most generous men in the world, generally contributing to charities in thousands of pounds.

A Well-Earned Honor.

Cordial congratulations from members of both parties reached Sir Robert Hudson, chief agent of the Liberal party, when he was knighted in 1906, for he has earned the respect and goodwill of political opponents as well as political friends. The knighthood came to him as a complete surprise, being carefully planned by the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman; and it was an honor richly deserved, for, thanks to Sir Robert, the Liberal party was never better equipped for [illegible] than it is to-day.

You might hear some strange things were it not for the fear that you would tell.

Bomb In Valencia.

Valencia, Spain, June 16.—The great entrance of the cathedral here was shattered by a bomb exploded in the Plaza Orient here yesterday.

So violent was the shock that several neighboring buildings were damaged. No person was injured.

Run Over by Ice Wagon.

Brantford, June 16.—Ernest Smith, a 4 1-2 year old boy, while watching an automobile here yesterday, in the middle of Dalhousie street, was run over by an ice wagon and severely crushed. It is feared that the lad will die.

Above the Vulgar Gaze.

Until 1870 it was against the law and sacred custom for any subject to look at the emperor of Japan. His political advisers and attendants saw only his back. When he first left the palace the shutters of all the houses had to be drawn, and no one was permitted in the streets. Even today, when the emperor has the privilege of driving through the streets like one of his subjects, it is not considered quite proper to cast a glance at him.

MIDY

HAPPY DAYS

By George S. Applegath in the Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Backward, turn backward, O Time on thy way,
Make me a boy again, just for one day;
Give me a chew of tobacco to eat,
Ragged knee-breeches and dirty bare feet;
Let me play hookey, I'll shoulder the blame,
Show me the street that leads out to the game;
Never mind car-fare, I'll get there somehow,
Keep yer gate-tickets, I don't want 'em now;
Telegraph pole is the grandstand fer me;
Plenty o' seats in the tall popular tree;
Oodles o' knotholes and cracks in the fence,
Jimminy whjllikens! aint it immense?
Lam 'er out, Gibbie! Slide fer it, Leach!
Look at Clarke swing on it! Zowie! a peach!
Put it right over. Babe, make 'em come clean;
Oh there, you Redleg, look out fer yer bean!
Nice work there, Deason; three swishes, skiddoo!
Hey, Mr. Funnyface, blooey fer you:
Ha! there's ol' Honus; just look at 'im! Bam!
Hully G. Whittaker Jones, what a slam!
Run, you lame goslings, git out of his way!
Mebbe ol' Wag aint a-steppin' some, hey?
A homer! A homer! an' two men on bag!
Three husky hoots an' a tiger fer Wag!
Goodby, ol' Ciney, a goose-egg fer you;
Seven to nothin', game's over, skiddoo!
Little care I for the long homeward way,
Cheered by the thought that we waxed 'em to-day;
Little care I though the supper be cold,
Dad may lambaste me and mother may scold;
Slumbers of boyhood would banish the pain,
To-morrow I'd pull off the same stunt again.
Oh for one day of the exquisite joy
Merely and simply of being a boy!

HAVE YOU A BAD SORE?

If so, remember these facts—Zam-Buk is by far the most widely used balm in Canada! Because it heals sores, cures skin diseases, and does what is claimed of it. Why not let it heal your sore?

Remember that Zam-Buk is altogether different to the ordinary ointments. Most of these consist of animal fats. Zam-Buk contains no trace of any animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that ZamB-ukk is at the same time healing, soothing, and antiseptic. Kills poison instantly, and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases, and for chronic sores, ulcers, etc. Test how different and superior Zam-Buk really is. All druggists and stores at 50c. box. Use also Zam-Buk Soap. Relieves sunburn and prevents freckles. Best for baby's bath. 25c. tablet.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Jones started for their western home in Saskatoon last Saturday. We extend to them congratulations for a long and happy wedded life.

Quite a number who came into our town last Saturday evening were detained here until the small hours on account of the heavy thunderstorm that visited this section.

Miss Essa Wright called on some of the town people last week.

There is an auto that visits this town in the evening and the occupants make the night hideous with their ill behaviour. Now boys take warning. We are a law-abiding people, but we will not let rudeness go to far with outsiders. Perhaps you think you are not recognized. Let us tell you that you are, so beware in the future.

Mrs. Kingdon and two children of Peterborough, came down to visit her friends in Perrytown and visited some of our citizens here also.

Report says a wedding in our town is near at hand.

DETECTIVES AS SALESMEN; SAY THEY SECURED WHISKY

Charge Against Pontypool Man for Selling Without a License.

Port Hope, June 15 — William J. Coulter, of Pontypool, was in the Police Court this morning charged with selling liquor without a license and pleaded not guilty.

The charge was laid by Mr. J. A. Ayerst, Provincial License Inspector, upon information received from two whisky spies, Thomas Sky and Harry Solomon.

According to their story they went to Pontypool on May 18th, Sky carrying samples of Hahn's Stock Food manufactured in Tavistock, while Solomon was selling ladies' dress goods. They called at Coulter's Hotel about five o'clock in the evening and asked for a night's lodging. After supper Mr Coulter showed them to their rooms. They got up next morning shortly after six o'clock and at seven went into the bar. Sky stated that they ordered a drink, Solomon asking for something soft. They each had a glass of pop and asked the proprietor to join them. He took a drop from another bottle, and when questioned what it was, replied that it was some other stuff. They asked him for some and he served them, and it was whisky. They had another drink of it and then went to breakfast. After breakfast they went to the bar again and ordered drinks. The bottle was empty but the proprietor filled it from a jug which was under the counter. Sky swore that at no time did either of them order whisky but when they asked for "that stuff" whisky was served.

Solomon stated in his evidence that Sky asked for whisky before breakfast and when they returned after breakfast he, Solomon, ordered whisky. He was positive that no other persons were in the bar while they were there while Sky swore that on one occasion two other men were there and at one time three men were there.

Mr. Coulter swore that he did not see either of the witnesses until the morning of May 19th. He was in Millbrook on the 18th and did not return home until after midnight. They received no whisky at his place and further, he had none on the premises. They had pop the first drink and after that ginger wine.

The information read that Coulter did sell liquor between the 30th of April, and the 30th of May. Mr. Ayerst, after the evidence had been taken, asked to have this amended to read May 19th.

Mr. James Haverson, K. C., who appeared for the defendant stated that had he been furnished with the date of the offence he would have been in a position to offer more evidence and therefore asked for an enlargement of the case.

His Honor adjourned the hearing until Wednesday, June 21.

Robert Hutchison, of Cavanville was charged with selling liquor without a license between 30th of April and May 14th. As one of the witnesses could not be served this case was adjourned until Wednesday next.

Another charge against Hutchinson was for selling liquor between the 14th and 30th of May, but this was enlarged until Wednesday also.

D. H. Chisholm appeared for defendant.

PASSING OF THE CIRCUS POSTER

An important announcement comes from New York to the effect that the Circus Owners' Protective Association whose membership comprises all of the well-known circus companies in America, at a recent meeting decided to abandon poster advertising. One of the owners of the famous 101 Ranch Wild West Show prompted the idea to do away with the big expense item entailed in the use of large lithographic posters, and when the association met he found little trouble in getting the other members to coincide with his views. This means that only the newspapers will be used as ad. mediums for the circus and marks a new and pronounced departure along lines of circus advertising.

The change is in accord with the spirit of modern methods—of that there is no doubt, but at the same time it does not go into effect without a pang of regret. Where, for instance, is the man of to-day, who as a small boy, did not gaze with delight and anticipation on the flaming, gaudy circus poster, which heralded the coming of a great day in the community. To the boys and girls the immense circus posters covering the fences or barns was in effect, a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Great works of art or staid official and important announcements sunk into insignificance once the circus poster man pasted his productions in the village streets or along the rural highways. And it was not only the hearts of the juveniles that were delighted with the circus litho and all that it stood for. The head of the family and the good wife were none the less loath to gaze and inspect the delights and mysteries depicted by the flaming sheets, and they, too, will secretly sigh and vainly regret the passing of the poster.

This is an age of business progress. The newspaper is the great advertising medium, and that being the case the generous poster was doomed. The poster served it purpose well. It would still be valuable as an advertising asset, but compared with its cost as against the value to be secured from the same outlay in newspaper columns no doubt it became excessive. This is the day of the press. The poster has its place, but when the issue resolves itself into that of press vs. poster that on every side it must be conceded that the former will conquer.

A MISERABLE BIAS

Catholic Register.

The Toronto Daily Star was generous enough to give publicity even to the first appearance in this city of "Archbishop Platon," of New York, whom it described as the "Primate of the Greek Catholic Church in America." How prodigal the Star is with its titles. We should like to know when and how "Archbishop Platon" became the "Primate of the Greek Catholic Church in America." There is only one head of the Greek Catholic Church that we know of, and that head is Pope Pius X. We have been informed on reliable authority that "Archbishop Platon" is a schismatic bishop, if bishop at all, and hailing from the Greek Orthodox Church. It would do the Star no harm, and cause its Catholic readers less annoyance, if it were a little less mixed in its religious advertising of such reverend gentlemen as come to us under the guise of priests. The bias of that organ shows through all its works. Inclined to materialism in religion, it is none the less unfair and inaccurate whenever the Catholic Church is concerned. It makes a great show of broadness in religion, but is as narrow as a pane of glass when anything Catholic comes into discussion. The crass ignorance and consistent hatred of the Telegram is preferable to its mealy-mouthed patronage and covert hostility.

OPENING OF THE FISHIHG SEASON

No Very Large Catches Reported This Morning

No very large catches were made by the fishermen this morning. A number of lunge were pulled out of the water between the C.P.R. bridge and McDonald's mill and Ab. Metheral and W. Mellis secured a seven pounder. This as far as is known was the largest caught at this point. Messrs. Jack Stevenson, Thos. Henderson and others pulled in smaller ones. One ten pounder was taken out below the locks. At Chemong Lake, the season opened with Mr. Jack Patte and Wm. Pearce, of Warminster, getting two lunge, twelve and six pounds Mr. James Burke and Mrs. Burke of Canton, landed three bass and a Rochester angler caught a lunge which tipped at 5 1-2 lbs. There were a number of other successful fishermen

KILLINGBECK GOES TO THE CENTRAL FOR ONE YEAR

Given Year on Each Charge, the Sentences to Run Concurrently—Civil Action Settled.

Sentence was passed by Judge Huycke this morning upon 17 year old Vernon Killingbeck, who was found guilty of two charges of stealing money, by a jury with a request to the judge in the second case to exercise leniency in giving judgment.

The prisoner was given a year in Central prison on each charge, the terms to run concurrently making it one year altogether. Mr. O'Connell who was present this morning on behalf of the prisoner also urged His Honor to consider the youth and respectable parents of the prisoner, when passing sentence, and give judgment which would best meet the interests of society.

Killingbeck was asked if he had anything to say why he should not be sentenced. He asked for a chance to do better, promising to steady down, forsake his bad companions and get down to work and help his father and mother.

When sentencing him, the Judge said that his case had given him great anxiety. If the prisoner had taken the right path he could have been leading a useful and honest life, at present, instead of being in his present regrettable position.

"You are not too old to do better yet" he said. "While the charges that have been brought against you, of which the jury have found you guilty are most serious, and must be punished, I cannot understand why a strong intelligent looking boy should descend so low as to prey upon and rob incapacitated men, one an intoxicated man, and the other paralyzed. The crime of stealing is bad enough at any time, but it is cowardly, and worse to rob unfortunates. That I have been recommended to exercise leniency and I will consider it. I could not, however, even if I chose, let you off on suspended sentence, as the circumstances would not justify it.

"If you continue in your criminal course, you will become a wreck, a ruin and a disgrace and moral leper, scattering destruction wherever you go. I urge you as a friend to change your ways, and I would help you if I could. In the place I am sending you to I intend to communicate with the officials, with reference to having you placed amid helpful surroundings, where you will be taught things of value and not be compelled to associate with the worst class of criminals.

Mr. Gordon asked to have him sent to the agricultural instruction farm for criminals near Guelph, and the Judge said he would endeavor to see if it could be arranged.

His Honor did not give judgment in the civil action of the Bank of Ottawa vs. John Haggart, reserving his decision indefinitely.

CIVIL ACTION.

The civil action case of Peter Hamilton versus Cummings & Cummings, of Toronto was settled privately, judgment being given in favor of the plaintiffs. The Hamilton Company were suing to recover the amount of several promissory notes, from the defendants who are a Toronto contracting firm. The latter have consented to settle the claims by paying $150 and three promissory notes of $75 each before June 27th.

ELECTRIC POWER CO. PLANS FOR POWER SUPPLY IN THE TRENT VALLEY DISTRICT

Company Said to Have Stranglehold on all Available Water Powers, With Development of 75,000 h.p.– Big Trunk Lines Are Planned to Feed District—60,000 h.p. Yet Unused.

While there is a lot of talk in Peterborough about cheap civic power, and getting the price down in order to induce the coming of factories, the Electric Power company is rapidly completing and extending a great power system covering the Trent waterways thoroughly. And in the eyes of the Electric Power company the city's chances of getting a power site for development purposes is very slim indeed, and to find a market so as to provide for the development still slimmer.

U. H. Larmonth, general manager of the big power company, was in the city Thursday night, and in conversation with a Review man, told of some of the plans of the company as regards Peterborough, and made some very interesting comments on the situation generally.

"I don't see where Peterborough can develop a supply of civic power," said he, "because with the exception of the Dickson and the Otonabee powers, the Electric Power company has got them all, and had them quite a while before the power talk began. Even if the city did get power from somewhere, I can't figure out where it can make any reduction over the existing prices, because they are as low as will be found in most places except in a few favored localities like Welland and Hamilton and Niagara Falls, with which we cannot possibly compete." Under market conditions, civic power would probably cost about $30 or more.

Mr. Larmonth, in referring to power prices in Peterborough, calculated that a load of 100 h.p. used by a manufacturer at the flat rate of $12 a h.p. and 1-4 cent per kilowatt hour, would cost the manufacturer about $16. It might be mentioned that a similar calculation by another prominent official of the company made the rate under this system of charging, about $19. Mr. Larmonth said that the total power consumption in Peterborough, outside of the Quaker Oats and the C.G.E. Co., was about 2,500 h.p. There are only seven or eight consumers in the city using more than 50 h.p. In fact in January and February the lighting load is considerably heavier than the power load.

A LOT OF TROUBLE.

"The city would find a lot of trouble getting a market for its power in Peterborough, against the Electrical Company and the Otonabee, under such conditions, as we would probably be able to keep a good many of our customers. To spend $400,000 to get power here, and wait to get new customers in from outside to consume it, does not look like a very profitable venture, does it?"

"We will have in a short time 30,000 h.p. ready to put into Peterborough, if need be," said Mr. Larmonth. "In the power development we have under way and ready for working, we have a total now of about 75,000 h.p. over the whole system, and we at present are disposing of only 15,000 h.p. That means we have got to get consumers for 60,000 h.p. and it certainly means that the Electric Power company will have to make the Trent Valley system hum with energy. You will see great progress in the district, in the power line, I think."

A TRUNK LINE SYSTEM.

Mr Larmonth said that the company was building a trunk line from Campbellford to Peterborough, and from Peterborough to Trenton, and from Trenton to Campbellford, making a complete loop. It was the plan of the company to feed the power developed at all dams into this big trunk line, which would carry 44,000 volts, and the danger of a tie up would be avoided by making the trunk lines run through widely separated territory, so that an accident to either one would not tie up power in the district.

The company will have automobile truck repair cars at intervals of about 30 miles on the lines, so that every facility will be provided for quick repairs in case of accident.

There will be a distributing station at Peterborough, one at Campbellford, and one at the southern end of the line. And in order to assist in getting a market for all this power, which is expected to ultimately reach 100,000 h.p., the company has instituted an industrial department, to aid in locating industries in the district.

NO POWER LEFT.

In speaking of the water powers of the district, Mr Larmonth was quite emphatic in asserting that the company had Healey's Falls in the hollow of its hand, and it cost the company $230,000 to get it. It has in its possession, according to Mr. Larmonth, a duly signed lease from the Dominion government, and rights from the Ontario government. As far as Dam No. 8 is concerned, Mr. Larmonth says that the company owns the land all around, the title going back for 150 years, and regards this power as quite out of the city's reach. In fact, it is claimed that there is nothing left.

Mr. Larmonth also pointed out, in stating the company's side of the case, that the franchise in Peterborouh provided a maximum for power prices—the present prices being this maximum—and the Ontario Railway and Municipal board had the power of revision downward every five years. The rates were under the control of the Dominion Railway commission, and an appeal would bring consideration of the prices, if necessary.

THE PRICE QUESTION.

In discussing the price of power in Peterborough as compared with other places, the general manager stated that while prices were often quoted offhand, the method of measurement altered the conditions entirely. For instance, the rate of $3 per 16 candle power lamp per year—the maximum allowed to be charged—was much cheaper than the people of Hamilton had to pay the Cataract company until lately. Most of the stores in Peterborough found it more convenient and cheaper to use this flat rate in the basement, or where light was needed constantly, and the meter system upstairs. Trenton, for instance, advertised power to manufacturers at $15 per h.p. This was a block of 1,000 h.p. the town got at cost from the power company under an agreement by which it had surrendered certain rights it had in the Trenton water powers, and which were valued at $100,000, having cost Trenton a large sum. At 5 per cent. interest, this meant a cost to the city of $5,000 a year, or made the cost of power $20, while it sold at $15.

THE GAS TROUBLES.

Speaking of the gas company, Mr. Larmonth made the interesting statement that there were only three consumers in Peterborough for gas for lighting purposes. Gas was used for cooking, but only in the summer months, and the gas company receipts scarcely covered the interest charges. The price was $1.25 per thousand feet, but a comparison with Toronto's price of 75 cents was scarcely fair, as the Toronto company made in one day what the Peterborough system would not make in six months.

"We are spending $3,000,000 on our system," said Mr. Larmonth, "and I look for an era of power prosperity in this section of the province such as it has never experienced, because of the supply of power.

James Madill, Toronto, Brother of Wm. Madill, Druggist of Peterborough, Loses His Life — Most of Injuries to Others Not Serious—Whole Train Leaves Track.

Special to the Review.

Newcastle, June 17.—While travelling at 60 miles an hour, the westbound Grand Trunk international limited was wrecked at 3.40 yesterday afternoon, through the breaking of an axle on the first truck of the first passenger car, throwing the whole train off the track and killing one man and injuring more or less serious twenty-five other passengers.

DEAD.

James Madill, traveller, Toronto.

INJURED.

Hector Dauphinais, St. Hyacinthe, Que.
Mrs. Ivey, Cobourg.
Fred F. Allison, traveller, Toronto.
Thomas Ingram, auctioneer, Toronto.
Mrs. Sarah M. Driver, Toronto.
Mrs. B. Swearer, Toronto.

Mrs. M. Laverve, Cardingall.
Thomas B. Stimson, Kingston.
A. Draby, Hanover, Ont.
Henry Kimbell, Haverhill, Mass.
Thomas Smith, sailor, Kingston.

Dauphinais and Stinson are the most seriously hurt.

The dead man is a brother of Mr. Wm. M. Madill, the local druggist, who has gone to Toronto. The late Mr. Madill travelled for Park, Davis Co., Toronto, and was well known in this city, he having visited here on a number of occasions.

Of the injured men Horace G. Shaver, Robert Bell and H. L. Symons were regular guests at the Oriental and were here only a few days ago.

WAS A PASSENGER

Mr. "Bill" Martin, who is travelling for the Novel-Tie company, left the train at Port Hope. He was returning from an eastern trip and the conductor had along with a number of others, puched the hat ticket, held by Mr. Martin, right through to Toronto, the train not making any stops till it reached that city. His friends tried to pursuade to go through, but he decided that, as he would have a wait in Port Hope, he could transact some business, and come up here on the regular train. However, none of Mr. Martin's fellow passengers were injured in the wreck which followed. The train was endeavoring to make up time.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE

Mr. Joseph Denno, Parnell Street, was returning last night from Windsor, where he had been attending the Convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters. He had remained at Hamilton a few days to see some friends, and was coming home on the Grand Trunk line.

Mr. Denno in speaking to the Review this morning, said that his train had met and passed the International Limited about a quarter of a mile west of Newcastle. The wrecked train left the track shortly after the meeting and he rushed to the rear door of his train. He said several cars left the track, but he could not give a very authentic account of the accident, as his train did not stop. The wrecked train landed on the other track and Mr Denno was sure that had the east bound train been a couple of seconds later it should have crashed into the wreck. Mr. Chas. Banks was also in the east bound train.

JUST AN INCIDENT.

Holmer Lajoie, engineer on the Belleville train, in a conversation with a Review representative this morning, stated that his daughter, who lives in Belleville, intended going to Toronto yesterday morning on the International Limited, to take some special music lessons and to return last evening. She was ill in the morning and did not go, hence she narrowly escaped being on the ill-fated train.

Mr. Lajoie, as he had left on his run early in the morning, did not know of her change in plans and he was worried until he telegraphed home for news. Naturally he was much relieved at the word received.

WILL OPPOSE TAFT

Special to the Review.

Washington, June 17.—Senator Lafollette allowed it to be made known to-day that he would oppose Taft for Republican nomination for Presidency.

Hurt by Live Wire.

Cornwall, June 17—A Bell Telephone Co. lineman named Leitch, was working on a pole in Morrisburg, when the back of his neck touched a live wire and was badly burned. Leitch fell to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into the Central Hotel, while a doctor was summoned. He is recovering.

WOMEN DEAL WITH TRAFFIC

National Council Would Raise Age of Consent.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 17.—The report of the standing commitee on equal moral standing and prevention of traffic in women, by Mrs. Asa Gordon of Ottawa, read by Mrs. Boomer yesterday morning, touched a live wire of interest at yesterday's session of the National Council of Women, and it was with the greatest difficulty that Lady Taylor could close the discussion. Lady Taylor recommended the work of Dr. Shearer, saying that, while his work was confined to the Presbyterian Church, nevertheless it was a great and wonderful one of the Dominion.

Mrs. Leathes of Toronoto, speaking to the resolution, said that it was a great pity that people cannot see an evil until something awful happens to shock them into action. This evil is not at our door; it is inside. The best way to prevent the white slave traffic is to make conditions harder for the people who are engaged in this traffic among women. The raising of the age of consent will raise the age of protection for the girls of Canada. Investigation in New York shows that 80 per cent. of these women are not women at all, but children. She would advise the raising of the age of consent from 16 years, as it is at present, to 18.

Mrs. Cummings pointed out that there is an organized traffic in women; everywhere there are agents, and in most cases these agents are attractive, who lure young and unsuspecting girls downward.

Mrs. Torrington of Toronto said that while the laws were made by men they would be made for men, and, as this was a woman's question, it was the women of Canada who should come to the rescue.

COLONIES TO BE LET OUT

Dominions Will Be Freed From Commercial Treaties.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Moves at Imperial Conference That Negotiations Be Entered Upon to Permit Dominions to Renounce Home Land's Commercial Pacts—Commission Will Be Appointed to Tour the Empire.

London, June 17.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—At the Imperial Conference yesterday Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that the Government be requested to open negotiations with the several foreign Governments having treaties, which apply to the oversea dominions, with a view to securing the liberty for any of those dominions, which may so desire to withdraw from the operation of a treaty without impairing the treaty in respect to the rest of the Empire.

He said these proposals had been before the public for some time and had given rise to various comments, some one-sided, others fair and reasonable. The necessity for what he proposed might be shown by the experience of Australia, who, when they wished to give preferential treatment to British products carried in British ships were prevented from so doing by the most favored nation clause in certain treaties.

A similar difficulty arose when Canada wished to give a preference to the Mother Country. There were twelve treaties in existence containing that clause.

It had been suggested that the proposal would destroy the principle of commercial unity, but that principle did not at present exist. The United Kingdom had a free trade system, and all the dominions had fiscal policies based on the principle of raising revenue by customs duties, but no two of their tariffs agreed. Instead of commercial unity there was commercial diversity. Consequently it was not difficult to understand that when the United Kingdom made a treaty which suited its own requirements that treaty might not suit the requirements of the Dominion. For very many years, at least fifteen since he had been in office, the Home Government, when negotiating commercial treaties, had followed the policy of not including any of the dominions without their consent. What he suggested was that the old treaties should now be brought into line.

It was not an argument for separation, but would make for closer union. Proposal should be coupled with three principles. First, it should be the first effort of the self-governing dominions to develop their trade as far as possible with the Mother Country; secondly, they should not confine their effort to the British markets, but be allowed as their second object to increase their trade with other nations; thirdly, any benefits given by the dominions to other nations should be given also, not only to the Mother Country, but to other dominions of the Empire.

Premier Fisher said that both the resolution and the arguments in support of it strongly commended themselves to the Commonwealth point of view. The Dominion Government appreciated the difficulties, but strongly wished, without embarrassing the Home Government, that treaties by which they were affected should be modified in the way proposed at the earliest convenient moment.

Sir Joseph Ward agreed with the resolution, assuming it meant that the old treaties would be renegotiated by the Imperial Government, with a view to a better arrangement being made. So far as the dominions were concerned, both agreed with the resolution.

Premier Morris was also entirely in its favor.

Sir Edward Grey said the resolution was one which in facts of the case must be accepted.

The case might be met by agreeing to open negotiations with the countries concerned, and asking whether they would be prepared to modify the treaties in the direction desired, so as to bring them up to date in the point desired. If they agreed, the course would be quite simple, but if they did not the best course of procedure

STRIKERS ARE STILL OUT

Montreal Strike Continues But Some Are Going Back.

Montreal, June 17.—The strike of the men of the Canadian Car & Foundry Co., Ltd., at Turcot and Dominion, which commenced at one o'clock last Monday, has not yet been settled, though indications point to the majority of the men being at work on Monday, as more are returning to work each day. The open air meeting held yesterday morning was not characterized by any excitement, and only a few hundred men surrounded the speakers.

The younger element hooted and shouted at the passing cars filled with men going to work, but the police kept the men off the car lines.

At the Dominion works yesterday morning men were working to the number of 450 and for the first time since the strike they entered the shops without any big assembly of strikers shouting at them from the railway embankment.

The company shipped eight cars on Thursday and sixteen yesterday.

L. A. Rivet, deputy for Hochelaga, has offered his services as mediator between the men and the company.

Catarrhal Bad Breath

Corrected Quickly by the Use of

Catarrhozone

Catarrh is an inflammation. Where there is inflammation there is always more or less offensive secretion. Inflammation may be of the very active sort, but it is often of the slow kind, and this is the particular form in which the breath is rendered offensive and the presence of the sufferer becomes an offence to every person of delicate sensibility.

Bad breath is in itself sufficient to urge you to correct it, because one dislikes to be unpleasant to their friends, but this form of catarrh is dangerous because it supplies a hotbed for the development of Consumption or of other diseases of the throat and lungs.

Bad breath is an evidence that the microbes have found a good resting place and are carrying on their evil inroads into the health of the body.

Catarrhozone acts at once and destroys these minute organisms, but it does more—it heals the inflamed surfaces in which they found a nesting place and consequently removes both cause and effects of their action.

If we only highly estimated the value of prevention and used Catarrhozone at the beginning of a cold or just before it becomes well seated, the deadly ravages of Consumption would be stayed and the terrible agonies of sufferers of Asthma or Bronchitis completely abolished.

There is no remedy as effective for bad breath, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc., as Catarrhozone. Besides being healing and soothing it is germ destroying. Nothing ever offered to the public can compare with it in its promptness, efficiency, and permanency of action, and you can buy it from any dealer in medicine throughout the Dominion of Canada, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 sizes. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

MERGERING

The bakery merger that will be formed to include bakeries in Toronto, Montreal, and Winnipeg, will have a capitalization of $5,000,000. This will be divided into $1,250,000 bonds, $1,250,000 preferred and $2,500,000 common stock.

The details of the financing of this latest attempt at consolidation of business enterprises have not been made public, and the public of course cannot tell how much of the proposed capitalization will be water. It has been the common practice lately to make water of the amount of the common stock because the actual earnings must go to meet the interest on the bonds and the preference stock, and the common stock may be held as a non-dividend payer for a while, until increase of earnings from whatever cause—growth of business or advance of prices, or elimination of competition—make it really valuable.

It would be interesting to know whether the proposed $2,500,000 common stock in this case is water, and when the bakeries expect to earn a return on it.

Of course, in making such a capitalization, the merger is providing for the taking in of more plants than at present are combining, but if to sell their bonds and preference stock, the common is thrown in as a bonus and handed around freely as promotion stock, it can be described as water without any hesitation.

On another page of the Review today will be found an analysis of a prospectus issued by the Independent Tire Company, by Toronto Saturday Night.

This prospectus was not issued until the deal with Guelph had been made, but in it seems to be some information as to the mystic methods of company financing adopted by the modern promoter. The Tire company may turn out all right, but this explanation of the conditions surrounding the formation and bonus stock arrangements of the company is really illuminating.

PAPER BAG COOKERY

They say that the new "paper bag cookery" will revolutionise the work of the house-keeper, and will go far towards solving the problem that is always confronting a young man in considering a partner in making a home—can she cook? The paper bag cookery scheme is not known in this country, apparently, but it has made wonderful progress in favor where it has been exhibited and demonstrated.

It is the eminently simple device of putting foods to be cooked into sealed paper bags of patented special construction, which are water-tight, air tight, and grease-tight, and are not affected by intense heat. This sounds rather strange, but the bags invented for the purpose seem to have given great satisfaction in London. They are more economical on material they prevent the smell of cooking that is sometimes to objectionable; pots and pans are dispensed with, and the labor of trying to keep them clean and free from grease. An even temperature is maintained, that cooks without burning, and the finished dishes leave nothing to be desired in flavor, tenderness and nutritiveness.

The paper bag device, as invented by a Frenchman is so essentially simple and labor saving that everyone wonders why it has not been introduced before. Of course, we, in Peterborough are privileged to be skeptical until this wonderful invention gets closer home, but such a method of preparing meals would certainly save a great deal of labor and temper.

The cables telling of this invention do not mention whether the paper bags can be filled with soup bones, and water, and the mixture boiled over a hot fire, without the bags going up in a blaze; or whether potatoes can be boiled in them. For oven cookery, there does not seem to be the same ground for possible objection. At any rate, anything that will keep the odor of cooking onions or meats from spreading through a house, and almost sickening the flies in it, ought to be welcomed. We would recommend the government to give a free supply of bags to the foreigners who cook garlic.

THE POWER SITUATION

In another part of the Review to-day will be found an interview with Mr. Larmonth, of the Electric Power company, in which he has considerable to say as to electric power in Peterborough and the Trent district. Mr. Larmonth, may be relied on, of course, to present the Electric Power company's case very efficiently and ably, and he makes some interesting statements.

If what he claims on behalf of the big merger, is substantiated by facts if held judicially, there does not seem to be a great deal of chance for Peterborough getting in on the ground floor with a cheap power development. The Electric Company is undoubtedly in a very strong position, intrenched behind the bulwark both of long term contracts, and of a virtual monopoly of the business of the district. It cannot be denied that the city in developing or securing from some source a supply of cheap power, to get manufacturers, would face a very difficult task in getting a market commensurate with the scope of such a scheme.

However, nothing is to be gained by lying down under the weight of an apparent difficulty. The city authorities, should push ahead, and endeavor to get to the stage where some definite proposition can be considered, or the knowledge secured that no such proposition is feasible. Mr. Larmonth's remarks are certainly forcible and very interesting, but they do not necessarily offer conclusive evidence that the city cannot find a way, either by expropriation or some other method, to enter into the power field as a competing factor. The Hydro-electric commission has made many things possible, and it may yet be of considerable assistance to Peterboro.

Fire In Steamer's Hold.

New York, June 17.—A fire in the hold of the steamship President Lincoln defied the efforts of the Hoboken firemen for three hours yesterday, while the vessel lay at pier 2 of the Hamburg-American Line.

The city fire department, with the aid of the fire brigade of the steamship company, confined the flames to hatch No. 6 amidships. Not far away, at pier No. 3 was the Cincinnati of the same line, which is due to sail to-day, and several tugs stood by, ready to haul either vessel into the river, should the flames get beyond control.

Sheldon Gets Five Years.

Montreal, June 17.—The culmination in the great Sheldon drama was reached yesterday morning in the Court of Special Sessions, when Mr. Justice Langelier meted out sentence to Charles D. Sheldon, the man whose financial exploits have dazzled all Montreal, and who fleeced confiding Canadians out of over a million dollars.

Five years' hard labor was the sentence given to the absconder, on the charge of having stolen a sum of $15,000 placed in his hands for investment purposes.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicines. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas.

After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and am stronger in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women.—MRS. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman Cured

Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others.—MRS. F. E. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Stubbornly bullish prices maintained in Europe, notwithstanding declines on this side of the water, were responsible largely for an advance to-day in the wheat market. Closing figures showed a gain of a shade to 1-4c and 3-8c over last night. Corn finished 1-4c and 3-8c to 3-8c up. Oats a shade to 1-8c dearer and hog products more expensive by 2 1-2c to 17 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ¼d higher than yesterday, on wheat, and ⅜d higher on corn. Berlin, closed ⅛c higher on wheat; Antwerp, ⅝c higher; Buda Pest, 1½c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 16.—There was a fair enquiry from European sources for Manitoba spring wheat again to-day, but no further business was reported. The demand for oats continues fairly good and sales to Bristol were made at 18s and Liverpool bid 15s, which is ¾c per bushel out of line. The local trade was quiet, the demand being only for small lots. There was some demand for winter wheat flour from foreign buyers, and sales of several cars were made, but the prices bid for spring wheat grades were 6d per sack out of line.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson

Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by W. B. M. Ferguson

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY

"But what about young Veaudry? She'd never have to think of anything he's done—or was," pursued Kirby. "Pretty square sort of a fellow, Larkin. Looks to me like I owe him a clear field to himself."

"I ain't denyin' but what he acted a gentleman to you, Gene. But now's the time you got to think of yourself."

"HAVE TWO SADDLED," HE ADDED QUIETLY

"Looks to me you're considerable of a turncoat," smiled Kirby, picking up a card. "What were you saying to me about this? There's my wife. I married that for better or for worse—too long ago for a woman to come between us now. And what else was that you said? Oh, yes—'Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby; then take another at her.'"

Bunce snuffled feebly. "I've kind o' changed my mind since I said that," he mumbled. "Besides," consulting his watch, "it was a long time ago. It was last night now."

Silence came, and with it the white dawn, and as still the men sat, one mutely eying the cards, the other his fingers, a fugitive sunbeam, herald of the morning, stole into the room to shame the smoky yellow of the lamps. In the sunbeam's golden wake there followed a faint breeze that stirred the curtains and sent a current of cool, pure air swirling through the stagnant atmosphere. Then there fell upon the silence, with a softness so impalpable that it seemed merely a progression of the hush, the sound of distant singing. For some time strain and source were alike indefinite, a mere setting to harmony the charm of the young morning. And then it arose like a sweeping curve of beauty until it resolved itself into the throaty, melodious chorus of "Mississippi River."

Kirby shivered, and his eyes came back from the great beyond, while [illegible] leaving the water.

"There's the niggers goin' out to the cane," he said mechanically. "The mornin's here. Well, Gene?"

"Well, Larkin?"

The other hesitated, fortifying himself with a cheroot, which he contented himself with chewing. Finally he arose, offering elaborate signs of departure.

"I hate to see a man lose out on—everything," he tentatively observed. "Well, I'm goin', Gene. I reckon they'll let me have a hoss now. Mebbe I better have two saddled, eh?"

"Well, what do you think?" parried Kirby, slowly lifting the deck of cards from the table. "Is that my wife? Do I turn back to the old river road with you, or do I"— He lifted his head with brightening vision. "Have two saddled," he added quietly, with bitter finality.

Bunce nodded, slowly, understandingly.

Alone, Kirby remained at the table, staring and seeing not.

"'Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby; then take another at her,'" he mused mechanically and with dull monotony reiterating the phrase. "'Take one good look at yourself, Gene Kirby.' I might never have thought of that—I have been so busy looking at her."

As he sat there face to face with the future, striving to learn renunciation without embitterment, the General, now dressed in nightclothes, tiptoed softly into the room.

"They sent me to bed again," he whispered, triumphant at his evasion, while he cuddled against the man's extended arm. "I want to know the end of that story. Tell me."

Kirby strove to assume his wonted gayety of manner. How long ago it seemed since in the closed carriage he had prompted that light hearted laughter!

"So you made another hairbreadth escape, General," he commented lightly. "And you want to hear the end of the story—about the bad prince who was half good? I—I don't know if I can tell you the end."

"Why? Hasn't the end happened yet?"

"Yes; it's come."

"But it ended all right, didn't it?" persisted the General, with all youth's confident optimism.

"Yes," said the man; "it ended all right."

"But I want to know if he's still a mixed prince—a mixed good and bad prince."

Kirby pressed a weary hand over his throbbing forehead. "I guess he's pretty much mixed," he confessed, still smiling bravely.

The child pondered over this statement until at length he began to nod. "Did—did he go away?" he murmured drowsily, inquisitiveness battling nobly against outraged nature.

"Yes—he went away," whispered the man, his arm tightening about the small form. "You're sleepy, General."

"I'm not," protested the child, with great earnestness, opening wide his eyes only to promptly close them after an ineffectual struggle. "I—want—to—know—the—end." He gave a vexed, protesting sigh; then his breathing grew deep and regular.

"Your sister will tell you the end in the morning," said the man.

Rising, he gently laid the now sleeping child on the sofa and with clumsy tenderness covered him with a rug. For a long time Kirby stood looking down upon the faithful little General, who of them all had from the first given his full measure of unswerving loyalty and devotion without question and without price, and this despite the influence of family pressure, the venom of lying tongues or the specious evidence of circumstance. He knew only that he loved; that was faith and trust sufficient. As yet he was only a very small juvenile member in life's boys' brigade, but still he had his own dim notions of standing true to the colors.

When at length Kirby turned away it was to find himself face to face with Adele. How long she had been standing there he did not know. The fugitive sunbeam had long since vanished, as if heartily ashamed of taking precedence over its majestic progenitor, and the room was now suffused by a dull, rosy glow. For a space girl and man eyed each other in silence, both waiting for the other to speak. Finally she whispered:

"Am I to tell him the end of the story?" nodding to the sleeping General. "But he'll want you to."

"I'm afraid it won't be fixed so that I can, Miss Randall. You see, I was only waiting to say goodby to you."

"He'll—he'll be disappointed," she ventured, with a pitiful attempt at composure. "And—you are only waiting to say goodby?"

He nodded, smiling wanly.

"You remember that story I told you of the rosebush and the playing cards?"

"Are you and I like that?"

"Just like that," he said.

"But some time"— She broke off, making a hopeless, pleading gesture.

"Tell him when he awakes," said Kirby, taking a great breath and holding high his head, "the end is that for one great day, from sunrise to sunrise, the mixed prince was with somebody so good that he went away to try to make himself all over. And if he can"— He faltered and stopped; then, taking courage from her eyes, began again. "And if he can"—

"And if he can," she prompted, a great wave of color surging to cheek and neck. "And if I should wait for that—that wouldn't be the end?"

"No. That would be"—

"It would be"— she whispered, holding him with her eyes.

"Just the beginning, after all."

THE END.

MAN OF SIXTY ELECTROCUTED

22,000 Volts Passed Through Body of Reuben Jewell at Picton

Reuben Jewell, aged 60, was electrocuted at the electric light station at Picton, Ont., twenty-two thousand volts passing through his body and killing him instantly. He was alone at the time of the accident, but when found his body was ten feet from the switchboard, he evidently having been hurled that distance through the shock of the voltage. He was cleaning the switchboard and by mistake touched two parts of the transmitter, getting the full force of the voltage. The ends of his two thumbs were found burned to the switchboard.

FOR TEETHING BABIES

There is only one medicine for teething babies—that is one that will make teething easy and at the same time can be given with absolute safety. That medicine is Baby's Own Tablets—every box of which is sold under the guarantee of a government analyst to be free from all those injurious opiates and narcotics which make "soothing" stuffs so harmful. Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. George Leblanc, St. Pamphile, Que., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby when he was teething and constipated and found them an excellent remedy. VIENNA DEATH NOTICES.

They Read Like an Extract From a Family History.

"Don't die in Vienna. You'll be sorry if you do," writes an American on his first visit to that city, "not because of the usual objections, but on account of the death notices in the papers. They appear flanked by all sorts of ads. and range in size according to the desire for notice on the part of the family of the late lamented. Every possible title is mentioned, and the name of every member of the family goes to make up the notice. A death announcement black bordered and covering half a page of the paper is nothing unusual. Here is a sample:

"'Bruno Weiss, purveyor of lubricating oil to his imperial and royal majesty, and his wife, Amalie—born Horsitzky—in their own and in the names of their children—Hans, Otto, Minna, Laura and Hilde—and their sons-in-law, Military Surgeon Dr. Lois Krobinsky and Architect Oskar Jellinek; their daughters-in-law, Louise, born Lederman, and Marie, born Anspacker, as also in the names of their grandchildren'—here follows a long string of names—'and their mother and mother-in-law, Frau Ernestine Winkler, relict of Commercial Councilor Anton Winkler, announce to their friends the entrance into eternal rest, after a long and severe illness, of their dearly beloved son, Arthur, in the twenty-sixth year of his age.'

PRINCE EDWARD ORCHARDS

New Plantations Made and Old Ones Improved

The possibilities of apple-orcharding in Ontario are now becoming appreciated. Many new plantations are being made, and old ones improved. Commercial concerns are taking up the enterprise by leasing orchards in different counties and putting them under modern methods of culture. Prince Edward County is well known for the fine quality of its apples, and a Toronto syndicate have already leased over thirty thousand trees there for a period of ten years, and expect to increase the number as time goes on. They have been working in the orchards for a month or more. They expected to do a great deal of pruning, but they have been unable to do much in that line owing to the scarcity of labor. They have some six or seven gangs (of four men each) at work in different parts of the county, pruning and scraping the trees. Recently, they had six power spraying outfits shipped to the county, and were turning these gangs to spraying, and increasing their men as they could obtain them. They hope to get every tree sprayed at least three times, and during the time between sprayings they will have men cultivating and pruning. They seem to be determined to give the orchards the best possible attention, but it will be impossible to care for all the orchards they have with the amount of help available.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS

The Remarks of W. L. Scott, Ottawa, on the Subject

"We should have all the juvenile cases examined by a physician," stated President W. L. Scott, of the Children's Aid Society, Ottawa. "Very often the seemingly criminal tendencies of children have a pathological basis, and a practised doctor can often tell at a glance what is the explanation of a youth's misdemeanors. If every case which comes before our juvenile court were diagnosed by a competent physician, I am confident the results would be very gratifying."

In corroborating Mr. Scott's position, one of the probation officers told of a recent occurrence. A lad of sixteen had been guilty of some petty thefts, and during his term of surveillance by the society kept complaining of a racking headache Taken to a local doctor the surprising discovery was made that the boy had in earlier life broken his collar bone, and some chords of his neck were always tightly strained. This alone was held to be ample explanation of any abnormal tendencies in his conduct.

You might hear some strange things were it not for the fear that you would tell.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR THE NEW PROTESTANT HOME

Jas. G. Graham, R. J. G. Sutherland and Adamson and Dobbin Successful Tenderers.

A special meeting of the directors and representative members of the Protestant Home Board, was held on Friday afternoon, June 16th, at the Home, on Stewart street.

The meeting was called to discuss the matter of letting the contracts and to settle all final business with Mr. Sandford Smith. The successful contractor is Mr. J.G. Graham, for the bulk of the work. The heating will be in the hands of Mr. R. J. G. Sutherland, and the plumbing will be given to Adamson & Dobbin. The building will be commenced at once, and is to be complete by the earliest possible date. At the close of the meeting, the Board adjourned to the site, and the location of the house was decided upon.

The directors feel very grateful to all these representative members of the various churches, who, so kindly, attended this meeting and rendered most valuable assistance in deciding such important matters.

It is to be hoped that the citizens in general will not overlook the appeal which is being made for funds. If this building can be completed free from debt, it is hoped that it will be self-supporting and that no further appeal will have to be made. The response made so far has been very generous, but there still remains a considerble sum to be collected. Contributions may be made to any member of the Board or to Mr. Travers of the Bank of Montreal.

PERMITS OF THE MONTH

Brides-to-be Remembered by their Friends

A happy event took place at the residence of Miss Gladman, Dickson St., last Thursday, when a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Banks Clement, by a number of her intimate friends. Miss Clementi is soon to enter upon the happy realms known as matrimony, and her many girl friends chose the above method of showing the warm place she occupies in their hearts.

A similar demonstration was held yesterday in honor of Miss Irene Perks Gilmour Street, another extremely popular and well-known local young lady. About thirty guests attended the shower in her honor. Miss Perks is shortly to be married to Mr. Guy McDougall of Port Arthur, Ont.

GARDEN PARTY

Young Ladies of Park St. Had Successful Evening

A very pleasant time was spent last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs.T. G. Gillespie, 110 Lock street, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' of the Park street Baptist church. A goodly number, considering the many other attractions, was present. Mr. J. Miller contributed several musical selections, and Mr. L. Brindley sang in good voice. The proceeds will go toward the organ fund.

MATINEE ON DRIVING PARK

On Thursday, June 22nd, coronation day, Mr. F. J. Daly will hold his first matinee on the Driving park, and he assures us that some fine exhibitions of speed will be seen, as there are some fast horses in training there now. The races will start at 2.00 p.m. Tickets, gentlemen, 25 cents; children, 15 cents, and ladies free. The grand stand will be reserved for ladies and their escorts free of charge. The Driving park is now looking its best and a very enjoyable afternoon's sport is assured. No betting on any of the races allowed. Everything conducted on good sound business principles, and any monies left after paying prizes and expenses will be donated to some charitable institution. Come early and avoid the rush.

Angus McDonald, arrested at Rodney, Ont. for uttering a forged promissory note, was given four years in penitentiary.

WEDDING BELLS

GARBUTT—DOIDGE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Doidge, on Wednesday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, when their second daughter, Miss Alice, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Roland S. Garbutt, of Toronto, son of Mr. Robert Garbutt, of this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Cragg, in the presence of about twenty-five guests. After the ceremony the usual congratulations were extended, and the happy couple drove to Peterborough, took the 4.30 C.P.R. to their future home in Toronto. Among the beautiful presents received was a substantial cheque from the groom's father. Mr and Mrs. Garbutt have the best wishes of a large number of friends for their future welfare and happiness.—Lakefield News.

REV. DR. CLIFFORD REMARKABLE MAN

Not One Man, But Half a Dozen is This Famous Divine

A Montreal paper says of Dr. John Clifford: — "He is slight, medium height, white, bald, full white beard, head inclined forward, with the shoulders stooped, high, broad forehead; beetling brows, strong, straight nose, searching, sparkling, merry eyes, Dr Clifford, Nonconformist war-horse, seventy-five summers young, is one of London's strong men. For fifty-three years Dr. Clifford has been the pastor of Westbourn Park Institute, grown out of the Praed Street Church—the church that called him when he left college, only four years after Spurgeon began his ministry. Yet he has only this year found it necessary to secure the services of an assistant. He still preaches, himself once a Sunday, and whenever he preaches, the church, seating a thousand, is filled.

During the past twenty years no national function open to the representatives of the Free Churches has taken place where Dr. Clifford has not been present.

When the late Duke of Edinburgh escaped from the attack made on him in the Southern Seas, Dr. Clifford was one of the ministers of "three denominations' to carry an address of congratulation to Queen Victoria. He was in Westminister Abbey at Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1887. He was one of the Baptist deputation received by King Edward on his accession, and was a representative of the Free Churches at Mr. Gladstone's funeral in the Abbey. A Welsh Baptist minister describes him as "having the idealism of eighteen, the daring of eight and twenty, the fighting instincts of forty, and the seership of one hundred and fifty.'

"One minute a steam roller, breaking up a road with its steel spikes in another a pedantic college don, the next a saint in a mediaeval convent, and the next an officer shouting to his troops to follow him over the trenches.' "Clifford,' the minister says, "is not one man, but half a dozen: he is as honest as he is brave, as brotherly as he's outspoken, as modest as he's enthusiastic, and as lovable as he's learned.'

Says a fellow-worker: "His youthfulness is a most a chestnut—but really it is marvellous. It is not only boyishness. With his wife and daughter, it is actual roguishness.'"

WHO'S COMING AND GOING

Miss Bessie Logan and Miss Agnes have returned from a two weeks' visit with friends in Prescott and Cardinal.

Information has been received that the condition of Mr. Wm. Fair, of Millbrook, who has been seriously ill for some time, at present is promising for his recovery.

Mr. Robert Service, the poet author has left Edmonton for the Far North. His trail will be to Fort McPherson, where he will remain for several months, collecting data and local color to be used in a forthcoming new press work of fiction. Mr. Service will follow the trail taken by the late Inspector Fitzgerald and his unfortunate party, and will spend some time in the vicinity of the place where the ill-starred patrol spent their last months.—Vancouver Province.

IT TELLS ABOUT THE SANE HEATING OF HOMES

"Comfort & Health" tells about a heating system.

It goes into the question of healthful heating and shows how important a part the furnace plays in the health of your family.

It explains the principle of warm air heating; how the furnace draws in fresh air, warms it and circulates it moist and pure to every room in the house.

Then it tells about the perfect warm air furnace—the "Hecla." The furnace that cannot leak gas. The furnace that gives heat without dust. The furnace that is easy to run, and what is more important, how that furnace—The "Hecla"—saves you one ton of coal in seven.

"Hecla" Furnace

Cannot Leak Gas

Gas in the house is disagreeable. Often it proves dangerous to the health. The "Hecla" is so constructed that gas cannot get into the living rooms. The places where gas leaks occur in the ordinary furnace are fused in the "Hecla" so that gas cannot possibly find an outlet.

Saves 1 Ton in 7

The "Hecla" uses only six tons of coal where others use seven. It is the steel ribbed fire pot that makes this saving. How flanges are of steel plate placed close together and welded into the fire pot get more heat from your coal is told in "Comfort & Health."

THE INDEPENDENT TIRE CO. PROMOTION; IT IS ANALYSED

Toronto Saturday Night.

A Toronto gentleman who has been solicited to interest himself in the Independent Tire company of Toronto, ltd., by purchasing shares of that company, requests a Gold and Dross analysis before committing himself.

Roughly, it looks to the writer as if the "investor" here has a chance. But the promoters have about ninety-nine chances to the other's one.

The prospectus handed in to this office is one of those vest pocket kind with a blue cover, printed in large type so that one can peruse its contents comfortably in fifteen minutes without straining the eyes; although the process does involve considerable strain on one's imagination.

The Independent Tire company of Toronto, is co-operative in character.

That is to say, he who buys at least two shares of the capital stock will thereby be entitled to purchase automobile tires or tubes manufactured by the Independent company at a discount of 10 per cent. and 10 per cent.; and on top of that the shrewd motor owner who saves money in this way on his tire bill automobile will also be entitled to dividends earned by the company in selling stuff at cut rates.

Prospective shareholders looking over the list of officers and directors might get the idea that President W. D. Wilson, capitalist, Toronto; H. T. Vance, vice-president, Batavia, N.Y., general superintendent of the Batavia Rubber Co.; and directors, A. L. Perkins, Powason; L. M. Dougherty, Toronto, and H. H. Hastings, Toronto, broker, were handing over all the valuable privileges to shareholders, keeping nothing for themselves.

It is too soon, however, to start worrying what H. H. Hastings, et al., receive; H. H. comes out, it would seem very nicely, indeed.

Authorized capital, $350,000.

Divided into 7,000 shares of the par value of $50 each.

4,000 shares of 7 per cent. cumulative preference stock, $200,000.

3,000 shares common stock, $150,000.

Paragraph two of the prospectus of the Independent Tire company states that the company has purchased the existing business and stock in trade of H. H. Hastings in Bay street, Toronto, together "with the exclusive agency rights for the Dominion of Canada for the sale of the well-known "Independent" tires manufactured by the Batavia Rubber Co., of Batavia, N.Y., and also the patent rights for Canada of the "Security Tread Non-Skid Tire".

The Batavia Rubber Co. has lately, I believe, started the manufacture of rubber tires, but their output is so small and so meagerly advertised that in face of the fierce competition put up by the big tire makers, their product has scarcely so far made a ripple in the motor tire trade. A Batavia tire may be all right on an automobile wheel, but it hasn't to date made a name for itself. At best, there is only a whispered demand for it—if there is any at all, so the question occurs: why pay $20,000 to secure an exclusive agency to sell it?

However, director H. H. Hastings hands over to H.H. Hastings 320 fully paid shares and 400 shares on which 20 per cent. has been paid up, in payment for said privilege, and H.H. Hastings presumably pockets the stock.

A few paragraphs further on contains more luck for H.H. Hastings. In consideration of his securing substantial loan from some Ontario municipality and further for procuring the appointment of the company as sole selling agents for Canada for "the well known 'Monarch' tires, manufactured by the Mansfield Tire Company of Mansfield, Ohio," H.H. gets $120,000 more in stock, split up into $100,000 of common and $20,000 of preferred.

In all, he receives $140,000 worth of shares.

In consideration, arrangements have been made, or are being made with Guelph, whereby that city will loan the company $25,000 and grant a free site for a factory, exempt from taxes for the term of ten years.

How good is the 'Monarch' plum which H.H. Hastings drops into the company's lap?

Well, quite a few automobile men in Toronto aver that to their recollection no buyer has ever specified "fit her with Monarch tires," and men in the trade here say "Monarch" tires are not generally known in the United States.

All of which prompts another query: Why pay H.H. Hastings $100,000 for a service of doubtful value to the company?

I notice that among the original incorporators of the company is O.J.B. Yearsley of Toronto—a gentleman not unacquainted with ruses of finance. Why did it not occur to Mr. Yearsley to save $100,000 to the company by having the company handle Batavia tires alone?

The company says the prospectus will erect a Canadian plant, so that when this plant is completed the Independent Tire Co. will possess two things:

1. The patent rights and processes of the "Security Tread Non-Skid Tire made by the Batavia people, and also the exclusive right to sell "Independent" tires in Canada.

2. The factory to make the non-skidders.

With sole authority to handle the well-known "Independent" tire and the plant to turn out a second (Non-Skid) tire, why does this $350,000 company want to hand over $100,000 more of its capital stock to become selling agents for still another tire—the Monarch?

Why not the whole Canadian field that well-known tire, the Independent tire?

Why, O.J.B.Y.

Under the head of "Profits" the prospectus tells us that the 34x4 inch tire sold by the company costs, f.o.b., at Toronto, including 35 per cent. duty, $32.20, and is sold for $51.35, allowing a profit to the company of $18.95 per tire. Under the co-operative principle, under which H. H. Hastings consents to give every shareholder a shred of his own large slice of melon, it might be possible to sell tires at the price quoted, but, as a rule, the man who makes tires has to sell them through dealers, and he has to allow the dealer 20 per cent. or better for handling his output. He cannot overlook the automobile manufacturer either, and the latter would snort at the idea of putting your tires on his machine at a discount to him of only 20 per cent. off $51.35. The retail price of an "Independent" 34x4 inch tire is $51.35, and minus 10 per cent. and ten per cent. to shareholders the tire would cost about $41.60. The 34x4 inch Monarch tire is, however, listed to retail at $41.08, or less without the discount than the "Independent" tire.

Yet the company pays $100,000 to H. H. Hastings for securing the exclusive selling rights for the Monarch tire, which is a tire cheaper at its standard retail price than is the "Independent" to handle for which only $20,000 was paid.

Also under "Profits" it is declared that there is no duty on raw rubber coming into Canada. This is correct, but other things than rubber enter into the modern tire. One-third of a tire to-day is composed of cotton fabric which costs 60 cents per lb. in the United States, with a duty of 20 per cent added when the fabric is imported into Canada. Other articles entering into the make-up of any rubber tire also are subject to duty.

In general, it looks as if H.H. Hastings were getting too much melon at the outset, and also as if it were not quite a kind thing to say to shareholders of the Independent Tire Company.

"The more tires you break through the greater the profit to the company including yourself, while at the same time, the tires we supply you with are the well-known "Independent" brand which are so strong and tough that we paid $20,000 for the mere privilege of handling them."

There are better chances for your money, Mr. Investor.

EARLY CLOSING AND HOLIDAYS

During the months of July and August, every Thursday afternoon at one p.m., the Dry Goods, Clothing, Gent's Furnishings, Hatters, Furriers, and Jewellers of the city will close their stores, in order to afford the employees a half day during the hot spell.

As Dominion Day comes on Saturday this year, the regular market day will be held on Friday preceding. All business houses will be closed on the holiday.

Coronation Day, June 22nd, will also be observed by all the stores closing.

INAUGURATION AND DEDICATION OF THE CHIMES

Bishop of Toronto Will Conduct the Ceremony

On Thursday next at 11 o'clock a public coronation day service will be held in St. John's church, conducted by His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto. At the conclusion of the service at 12 o'clock noon the dedicatory service in connection with the people's chimes will be held in front of the church. The documentary deed setting forth the resolutions of vestry under which the chimes were accepted will be presented on behalf of the subscribers by the Mayor to the Bishop, who will offer the dedicatory prayers. The act of dedication will then be performed by his Lordship, accompanied by the ringing of the large bell. After dedication the doxology, National Anthem and O Canada will then be sung, led by the band. The Bishop will make a very short address and pronounce the benediction, after which the National Anthem and religious selections will be played on the chimes. The city council is expected to be present and places will be reserved on the terrace for members representing the fraternal societies, who have taken a considerable interest in this movement. These associations are asked to send deputations with the regalia of their society.

At the conclusion of this ceremony, a lunch will be tendered in the school house to the Bishop of Toronto and other guests of honor, at which representatives of the public bodies of the city have been invited.

BOBCAYGEON PIC-NIC JUNE 22

An event of first importance will be the picnic that is to be held in Bobcaygeon, on coronation day, June 22nd, under the combined auspices of the parishes of Bobcaygeon, Galway, Fenelon Falls and Kinmount. Father Galvin has assured us that no effort is being spared to make the day a most enjoyable one. Amusements of various kinds will be found on the grounds, music of a high class order will be supplied, and meals that will appeal to the appetites of the many will be supplied by the ladies of the above mentioned places. This occasion will furnish non-residents of Bobcaygeon an opportunity of visiting this picturesque little village. None therefore should fail to spend coronation day at Bobcaygeon. 2w2d

Bachelors and Benedicts of Park St. to Meet

The battle of Waterloo will be fought all over again on the grounds of the Park street football club next Tuesday evening, when the Benedicts will endeavor to check the winning streak of the Bachelors. Mr. Blucher has kindly consented to referee the game as far as it goes, and the Belleghem ambulance in all its glories, will be present to convey the indisposed to the parlors of the church across the road, from the fields where the young ladies will endeavor to aggravate the victors and vanquished with eatables and restoratives too numerous to mention. Don't miss game. Everybody welcome. No charge.

CHURCH LEAGUE HELD FINE SOCIAL

The Church Football League held a social in the Knox Church Lecture Hall last evening. President Percy Fitzgerald was in the chair and after a few remarks, there was a program of English songs. Rev. H.J. Keith was present and addressed the meeting. He said he wished to be considered a friend of the Church Football League. He thought it was a good thing.

Afterwards refreshments were served and everyone had a good time.

FEAR REVENGE.

Montreal Girls Afraid to Testify Against Italian.

Montreal, June 17.—Arrested on suspicion of being the man who has for the past three months been assaulting little girls in many parts of the city, Cichile Subrini, has been remanded eight days for medical examination as to his sanity. Subrini was arrested on Monday by special Constables Walsh and Robillard while in the act, they claim, of attacking a 13-year-old girl on the corner of St. Urbain and Milton streets.

Six witnesses were summoned to appear against Subrini yesterday, four of his alleged victims, and two teachers at the schools where little girls were assaulted. All will appear next Saturday.

Special Constable Walsh declared that as Subrini is an Italian many of the witnesses that might have been brought against him, mostly girls, who have positively identified him from the description as their assailant, are afraid to come to the court and give their evidence for fear that he or some of his friends may avenge him.

No Conscience Clause.

Montreal, June 17.—The Anti-vaccination Society of Montreal has been awakened into activity by the recent vaccination legislation passed by the City Council, the outcome of several cases of smallpox, yesterday declared the new bylaws. These make vaccination absolutely compulsory and provide penalties for non-compliance. There is no "conscience clause" and the only exemption is by a doctor's certificate testifying as to physical inability to undergo the operation.

The society will distribute literature throughout the city and provide for the delivery of lectures. Several doctors are with them in their fight.

A challenge is also being issued to Doctor Louis Laberge, city health officer, to engage in public debate with the leaders of the society, on the question of vaccination.

Killed in Wisconsin.

Cornwall, June 17.—John McGillivray, son of the late Murdoch McGillivray of Finch Township, was accidentally killed while working with a construction company in Superior, Wis., a short time ago. The remains were brought home by his cousin, Mrs. John Mackenzie, and the funeral took place to the Presbyterian Church, Moose Creek, and the sixth concession cemetery. Rev. Mr. Mackenzie officiated.

Fined the Pilot.

Quebec, June 17.—Pilot Phileas Lachance was yesterday fined $100 as a result of the investigation held into the grounding of the steamer Manchester Spinner at White Island. A number of witnesses were heard, including the pilot, who acknowledged that he had been guilty of an error in judgment, having mistaken the White Island lightship lights for the stern lights of a steamer.

COLONIES TO BE LET OUT

would be to enter upon negotiations for new treaties without denouncing those now in existence.

On behalf of the Home Government he was prepared to accept the resolution on that understanding.

The resolution was agreed to with the addition of the word "commercial" before "treaties."

Australia had given notice of resolutions urging that every effort be made to bring about co-operation in commercial relations in matters of mutual interest, and that efforts in favor of British manufactured goods and British shipping should be supported as far as practicable.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the Government of Canada had perfect sympathy with the objects to be obtained by these resolutions, but it was difficult to secure improvement in trade relations between the dominions and the United Kingdom unless they possessed more information than they had at present. He therefore thought the first thing to be done was to institute an enquiry, and with this object he proposed a resolution which recommended "That His Majesty should be approached with a view to the appointment of a royal commission representing the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland, with a view to investigating and reporting upon the natural resources of each part of the Empire represented at this conference.

Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt said the resolution was only another step in the policy which had been the governing note of the conference, namely not of imperial concentration, but imperial co-operation.

Premier Fisher thought the resolutions a very practicable way of dealing with a rather difficult set of questions.

Sir Joseph Ward thought the proposal met the position in a very practical way.

Premier Morris also expressed concurrence.

Asquith thought the conference was much indebted to Laurier for making this very practical proposition, which would certainly prepare the way and possibly make the way plain for effective action at the next conference, if not before. The proposed commission would be an advisory body with reference as wide as words could make it on all matter connected with trade and commence, production and intercourse between the different parts of the Empire, but would not be a commission to suggest or state a policy to any part of the Empire.

JARDINE IS HANGED.

Goderich Boy Goes to His Death After Being Baptized.

Goderich, June 17.—The sentence of death was executed upon Edward Jardine at the county jail yesterday morning just before eight o'clock.

Early in the morning Rev. Geo. E. Ross, pastor of Knox Church, who has been the condemned man's spiritual adviser throughout his confinement, was with him, and the young man showed deep concern for his future welfare. For half an hour he broke down, but he recovered and walked to the scaffold apparently without a tremor.

Those present at the execution were Sheriff Reynolds, Jailer Griffin, Dr. Alex. Taylor, jail surgeon; Rev. Mr. Ross, Constables Whitesides and Postlethwaite, Guards Murphy and McMath, and Owen Geiger, warden of the County of Huron.

No representatives of the press were allowed to be present.

Jardine was never baptized until Thursday evening, when at his earnest solicitation the rite was performed by Rev. Mr. Ross, in a room beside the condemned man's cell, in the presence of the jail officials and guards.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

As a result of a strike of printers, The Local Anzeiger, The Tageblatt and The Morgen Post of Berlin, Germany, did not appear yesterday.

In a voice trembling with emotion, Chief Justice Townsend pronounced the death sentence on 19-year-old J. O. Tebo at Digby, N.S., yesterday. He will be hanged on July 24.

The Township of Bastard is suing Ormond Chant, tax collector, for over four thousand dollars that Chant collected and placed in the Farmers' Bank just before the failure.

G. Lloyd Faulkner, aged 24, one of the best-known young business men of Vancouver, was at the Victoria assizes yesterday sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for rape.

In order to save a young companion from instant death, William Detlor, aged 51, of Kingston, took hold of a falling tree which crushed him to the ground and fractured his left leg.

Gunner Thomas Allen, accused of killing Capt. Ellison at Esquimalt, B.C., was yesterday sentenced by Justice Murphy at the spring assizes to imprisonment for the rest of his natural life.

Ottawa, June 17.—There will be a public reception for Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he gets back from attending the Imperial Conference, probably about July 12.

It is likely that the civic authorities will, within a few weeks, arrange for a fitting welcome to the Premier.

To Celebrate Alien Victory.

St. John, N.B., June 17.—The 62nd Fusiliers, Col. J. L. McAvity commanding, with band and fife and drum corps, 300 strong, left here on a special train for Boston, to take part in the Battle of Bunker Hill celebration at the "Hub" to-day. Mayor Frink accompanied them.

SUFFERED FROM VIOLENT CATHARTICS

The Warning of Mr. Geo. C. Fox Is One That Should Be Heeded by All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the West are legion In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, billiousness, constipation, bad stomach, and keep the system in perfect condition."

THE AGE LIMIT.

Self Culture a Powerful Enemy to Father Time.

A WARNING, "DON'T GET FAT."

The Crying Need of the Hour Is "Servant Girl Revision"—So Says a Mere Man Who Thinks He Understands the "Situation"—Tailored Suit For Spring Wear.

Dear Elsa—"It's more than all a matter of looks." We were talking on that ever interesting topic of conversation to women, how to be pretty at forty, and the above remark was made by Mrs. Van S., who of all persons is a living example of her own theories. "And," she continued, "self culture in the sense of personal appearance has proved a powerful enemy to Father Time. When he makes his annual visit and asks, 'Any wrinkles today, madam?' the up to date woman replies, 'No, thank you; I prefer cold cream and a face unmarred by your visits, you horrid old man!' And Father Time bows himself out more pleased than otherwise, muttering, 'There are no old women any more.'"

We are certainly learning to grow old gracefully. But this does not suggest a sixty-year-old face in a six-year-old mob cap, nor does it exactly mean the adoption of little girl modes, which has been the curious whim of Dame Fashion for the past few seasons. To my mind it means to have acquired the sweet dignity of manner which years and experience bring, to have preserved the youthful expression and contour of face and, above all, to dress with the taste and care that harmonize and do not conflict with the passing of years. Our grandmothers were old at forty, and at thirty-five a woman would have been looked upon as mad if she thought of beginning a career. Nowadays women's work, whether it be in the home or in public places where women are forced—and a few of them have forced themselves—is being done by women in their forties, and they are eager, good looking, popular and look with contempt upon the "chit of a girl."

Today the woman of forty is "young." There is no middle age, and the age which is considered "old" is—well, it is always to come and can be applied correctly only to the woman who looks it. And that she looks it is usually her own fault, either by reason of disposition or neglect of her personal appearance. Lack of exercise and accumulated fat make for middle aged appearance, but personally I think the worst horrors of old age are the thin face, scraggy neck and bony frame. A famous beauty's advice on how to keep young is, "Be cheerful, keep busy and don't get fat."

In fact, the woman who wants to look attractive in middle life and afterward must recognize the power of mind over matter, the great science of exercising the will with a definite purpose. I have in mind the wise words of a woman who looked young enough to be her daughter's sister. She was no beauty doctor, but her prescription is worth keeping, "If you don't want to grow old get rid of the old age thought." Don't speak of yourself as old or think of yourself as old. Get interested in something outside of yourself and the rapid passing of your own years. The age thought—the constant dwelling on your advancing years and the lack of outside interests—makes a woman old at thirty. It was, I think, this attitude of mind that made the middle aged woman of previous generations so uninteresting to herself and to her neighbors. Well, even grandmothers are not socially shelved these days, for a silver haired old lady was recently the only attendant at her granddaughter's wedding.

His Point of View.

I am so sorry to hear you are having trouble with maids. We are all up against the same proposition in a more or less aggravated form, but it may console you a little to hear the plaint from the husband of a friend of mine anent the servant problem. I quote directly from the letter.

"It is wash day and a particularly bad one at that, the kind when the soil rubbed out of the clothes gets into your temper. A wash day is a sufficient evil of itself. Add to it an absolutely incompetent girl with a peculiar genius for working hard and getting nothing done, and a very little half done, and you have a day to make angels weep. Poor Margaret has been tried to the point of despair. Anne will work her fingers to the bone and take scoldings ad libitum et ad nauseam, but we have concluded she is an incapable.

"Margaret appeals to me a dozen times a day to bear witness, and the evidence is appallingly certain and abundant, so we have agreed that Anne must take her patient, unresenting smile and amazing incapability to some other kitchen where some other housewife will have a distinct chapter added to her experience of help that doesn't help. I pity her.

"She will come over by and by and [illegible] to Margaret, that other housewife, and go away uncomforted, for she will have learned that Anne is beyond hope. I pity Anne too There's the pity o't. The girl wants to please you and will get up at 5 and work the livelong day with scarcely a mouthful the while, but it all comes to what a real girl would do in about half the forenoon, and most of that cries out against the hand that did it. Anne isn't bright.

"I guess Margaret is right. Nature got through with her too soon and left out the balance wheel. She's ill adjusted. Power goes to waste. The belt is on and the wheels buzzing, but there's nothing doing? Do you see? That's why Anne must go. But first we hope to find traces of her successor. Oh, dear; oh, dear!

"What is the great American issue? Trusts? Nonsense! Revision of the tariff? Not by a long shot! The president missed the mark entirely in his message. The crying need of the hour is servant girl revision. Our boasted civilization is going to the bowwows simply because we cannot get girls to keep our shirts clean and our steaks broiled."

Now, how is that for a mere man? He's got the right idea, all right, all right.

How do you like the smart looking little dark blue sicilienne suit of mine? It's going to be my spring tailor made, and the knockabout hat I'm to wear with it is of panama straw with a facing of pale blue dotted silk. A fancy straw bow caught to the hat with a bit of the blue silk is the only trimming.

My, what a lot of talking I've done! And that reminds me of a so called masculine witticism:

"It is a woman's lot to suffer in silence," she remarked.

"I should put it differently," rejoined the mere man.

"How, pray?" she queried.

"A silent woman suffers a lot," he said.

But this accusation will never be brought against your loquacious friend

MABEL.

BEAUTIFUL EYES

are made beautiful by long, silky lashes, and well defined, lustrous brows. Eyes, like diamonds, depend on their setting. The beauties of the face are lost if the eye brows are thin and scanty; and the lashes are short and lifeless. Parisian Lash Lustre grows beautiful, soft, silky lashes. It has done so for society women throughout Europe, and it comes here well recommended to do the same for you. Parisian Lash Lustre is not a dye or colorator, but a scientific preparation for beautifying the eye lashes and brows. Our guarantee goes with every box of Parisian Lash Lustre. A two weeks' treatment will bring beauty to your eyes that you have never before possessed. By mail, prepaid, in opal boxes, on receipt of price, fifty cents. B. V. Gas Distended His Stomach

Caused Palpitation, and Prevented Sleep—When Health Was Gone, Cure Followed Use of "Nerviline."

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveler of Hartford, "that everyone with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the traveling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

Testimonial No. 4890

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the aches and ailments of the entire family—refuse anything but Nerviline. 50c per bottle, trial size 25c, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LITTLE CHRISTIAN

Six Years of Age Now in Good Health, Thanks to Booth's Kidney Pills

Mrs. Alex. Moore, of James street, Oxford, N.S., says: "Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, age six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent headaches and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal and she plays around the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills."

STARVED NERVES

The Cause of Neuralgia—It Must be Treated Through the Blood

Neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It literally means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body, the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. There is therefore no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the worst cases of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich blood, carrying to the starved nerves the elements they need, thus driving away the sharp, torturing pains which nearly drives the sufferer wild. So many cases of neuralgia have yielded to treatment through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer from this dreaded trouble should lose no time in giving the Pills a fair trial. Mrs. Sophia H. Johnson, Mozan, Sask., says: "For upwards of ten years I was a periodical sufferer from neuralgia. It located in the side of my face and in the jaw, which would actually click every time I opened or closed my mouth. At times the pains would be almost unendurable, and as time went on, my whole nervoius system seemed to be affected. I was constantly doctoring, but the doctor did not seem to be able to give me permanent relief, and at last I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a half-dozen boxes and before they were half gone I felt much better, and by the time I had used them all every sympton of the trouble had gone, and I was enjoying a comfort I had not known for years. I have since remained in the best of health, and can only say I owe the joy of living without pain to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HIGH HONOR FOR REV. JOHN EDMISON

Rev. John H. Edmison of Kincardine a nephew of Magistrate Edmison, of this city was appointed to a very responsible position at the recent general assembly of the Presbyterian churches of Canada held at Ottawa. He was the unanimous choice of the conference for the office of general-secretary of home missions, assisting Dr. A.S. Grant of Toronto, who was appointed general superintendent of missions. Rev. Mr. Edmison was greatly beloved by the congregation of the Presbyterian church of which he was pastor in Kincardine, who, while regretting his departure, from Kincardine to Toronto, to enter upon his new duties, will extend to him their most sincere congratulations.

RECIPROCITY WILL PASS

Friends of Reciprocity Have Majority in the Senate.

Action of Senator Penrose In Forcing the Tariff Pact Into Its Second Reading Seems to Show That the Measure Will Be Passed Without Amendment and In a Short Time—Townsend Wants Wider Treaty.

Washington, June 17.—The determination of the Senate finance committee to push through the Canadian reciprocity bill with all possible speed, and the confidence of the Senate leaders that there is a clear majority in favor of the bill without amendment was made plain yesterday, when Chairman Penrose of the committee forced the bill into its second reading before the Senate, and announced its probably early passage.

In reply to questions from Senator Gallinger, Chairman Penrose said he believed no speeches would be ready before next week.

He had found, he said, that few friends of the bill cared to speak on it, but preferred to vote as quickly as possible. The opponents of the measure, he said, wanted more time to prepare their arguments.

"Do I understand that no one wants to speak in behalf of this bill?" asked Senator Smith of Michigan.

Senator Penrose said that for his own part he was ready to vote today. Other members suggested that the President and many other leading Republicans and Democrats had explained and endorsed the bill.

"I am not surprised," returned Senator Smith, "that a measure so devoid of merit, similar to the treaty of 1854, which President Lincoln saw no reason for continuing in force, and similar to the projects rejected by Grant and Blaine and others, should find no one in this chamber willing to stand up and risk his reputation as its champion.

"I did not intend to make a speech I thought when the bill came here we would be greeted by a great burst of wisdom that would flood the country with light and that would cement the people of the country together in support of this agreement. Instead all lights are out. The country is in darkness so far as anything has been revealed in favor of this measure."

"Don't you consider the President's speech at Chicago as enlightenment on this bill?" asked Senator Kern of Indiana.

"The President has been able to make intelligible many public questions," replied Senator Smith, "but it is amazing that if all the things he has discussed, and of all the suggestions he has made, this reciprocity agreement is the only one that has found favor on the Democratic side of the chamber, and that finds no championship on this side."

Chairman Penrose volunteered no statement as to the Senators who would speak for the bill, if any. The Senate listened to the second reading of the measure, which brought it officially before that body for amendment, and Senator Root's pulpwood amendment, which has been adopted by the finance committee, was then offered, but as Senator Root was not prepared to speak upon it no attempt was made to vote.

The Senate adjourned until Monday at the conclusion of the second reading.

From that time forward speeches are expected every day on the bill until it is finally disposed of. Senator Townsend of Michigan announced that he would offer an amendment instructing the President to undertake further negotiations looking to a wider reciprocity arrangement with Canada.

Friend's Plight Too Much For Him.

Toronto, June 17.—Depressed by the plight of his friend, Joseph Jessiman, who is awaiting trial for the murder of James Lougheed, William Torrance, a fireman in the Richmond street hall, committed suicide at his room in West Gerrard street early Friday morning by taking a quantity of carbolic acid.

His landlady, with whom he had roomed for ten years, found the body early yesterday morning. Speaking of the probable cause for his act, she said:

"He was a friend of Jessiman, who shot Lougheed a short time ago, and he was all the time talking about this case. He couldn't see what made Jessiman do that, and thought he must have been wrong in the head. He kept repeating, 'I wonder what made him do it! I wonder what made him do it!' There was nothing else that I know of that would cause him to commit suicide."

TOLL OF DEATH AND INJURY IN START OF AVIATION RACE

Two Burned to Death, One Killed Against Tree, and Three Others Seriously Hurt—Exciting Scenes of Rescue.

Paris, June 19.—Fifty aeroplanists took wing early yesterday from the aviation fields at Vincennes on the first stage of the European Circuit race, which calls for a flight to London and return with stops at various places going and returning. Two of the aviators almost immediately after the start, met with tragic death. One was killed later and at least one more injured.

The dead: Capt. Princetau, whose motor exploded in mid-air, flooding him with gasoline and burning him to death.

M. Lemartin, who dashed against a tree, the motor of his aeroplane crushing his head.

M. Leudron, burned to death near Chateau Thiery. Benzine in the reservoir exploded and the machine was consumed.

The injured: M. Gaubert, a former lieutenant in the army, who was entered in the civilian race under the name "Dalger." He was found lying senseless near his machine in a wheat field, four miles from Villars-Coterets. His injuries are grave.

M. Bille, his aeroplane struck the earth within a mile of the start and was wrecked. Bille was injured, but not seriously.

Three other birdmen fell. M. Loridan, near Charleville; Oscar Morison, close to Gagny; and M. Morin at Chevron, within 22 miles of Liege, which is the end of the first stage of the race. None of these men were badly hurt, though all of them were badly shaken up.

Of the fifty aviators who started the race, thirty-eight were civilians, and twelve officers assigned to the contest for military duty. Hung up for the competitors are prizes amounting to $94,000.

Dawn at Vincennes saw many hundreds of thousands of persons—variously estimated at from 500,000 to 1,000,000—massed around the military exercise field to witness the start of the race. Six thousand soldiers and 4,000 police, most of them mounted, strove to keep the field clear.

A single gun fired at 5.45 o'clock signaled the commencement of the preliminaries. The Abbe Larebourg was just finishing the mass which, by order of the Archbishop of Paris he was celebrating at an improvised altar in one of the aeroplane hangars for some of the aviators, who desired spiritual preparation for the perils of the day. M. Lemartin, who within the hour was dying, was among those who was kneeling for blessing and consolation.

Lemartin's aeroplane had reached the woods a quarter of a mile beyond the barriers when it was observed to pitch swiftly downward into the trees. Lemartin was using a biplane, which was broken badly as it fell at the foot of an oak treet A corner of the motor struck the aviator's head, crushing his skull, and his right leg also was fractured in two places. The aviator was barely alive when he was taken away by Red Cross surgeons, whose stations surrounded the field. The crowds removed their hats solemnly as the wounded aviator was carried past or as word passed among the people that he was dead. Lemartin was alive when he reached the hospital, but expired a few minutes afterwards.

Girl Decapitated by Plane.

Budapest, June 19.—A girl who was witnessing an aviation meeting here on Saturday was struck by one of the machines and her head was severed from her body.

FIFTY THOUSAND OF THEM IN LINE; SUFFRAGETTES MARCH

Coronation Demonstration Extends Give Miles, and Contained Ladies of Rank —A Stirring Sight.

London, June 19.—The coronation procession of suffragettes, which traversed the streets of London Saturday evening prior to the meeting at Albert Hall was probably justly described by "General" Mrs Hammond, as "the greatest procession of women in support of the suffrage movement that the world ever has seen."

From forty thousand to sixty thousand women, according to the varying estimates, marched in the five-mile procession, which started at the Victoria embankment, which leads east from Winchester Bridge, and proceeded along the coronation route to Kensington. Militant and non-militant suffragettes combined on this occasion, all question of caste being put aside and queens, or those garbed to represent such characters as Boadicea, Catherine of Aragon, Mary Queen of Scots and Queen Victoria rubbed shoulders with fellow-workers in the suffrage cause from the sweat shops of Whitechapel.

Every phase of social, professional and industrial life was represented, among the paraders being women of title, prominent actresses and collegians. Hundreds of historic characters from the early ages down to famous Victorians like Charlotte Bronte, Grace Darling, Jenny Lind, and Mrs. Browning, were portrayed.

Seven hundred women who had been imprisoned for the cause formed a striking feature of the pageant. They carried lances with banners and the suffragette colors.

Miss Bryce, a daughter of John A. Bryce, member of the House of Commons, and a niece of the British Ambassador at Washington, was at the head of one of the contingents. Other prominent women in line included Annie Besant, president of the Theosophical Society; Sarah Grand, the novelist; Princess Dhuleep Singh, Mrs. W. G. Bentinck, Lady Frances Balfour, sister-in-law of the Unionist leader; Mrs. Millicent G. Fawcett, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and Miss Sylvia Pankhurst.

One of the brigades was made up of women pipers in Highland costume who played a stirring march at the head of the procession, while scores of bands led different contingents.

Dr. McPhail Injured.

Montreal, June 19.—Dr. Andrew MacPhail, the well-known author and essayist, was seriously injured last night by the explosion of a bottle of aerated water at his residence on Peel street.

Glass from the shattered bottle entered both eyes. The doctor was immediately operated on at the Royal Victoria Hospital, where a specialist pronounced that one eye could be saved and that there were good hopes of saving the other.

HEBREWS MADE A RIOT IN THE WARD

Toronto Police Have some Trouble in the Slums.

Toronto, June 19.—Eight Hebrews are under arrest in the Agnes street police station, and all the "Ward" is in excitement as the result of a fierce fracas at the corner of Agnes and Teraulay streets, for nearly an hour last night. Those arrested are: Harry Perchewsky, 91 Agnes street, butcher, assaulting the police; Nathan Getstein, 102 Ontario street, obstructing the police; and Samuel Gleek, 45 Chestnut street; Morris Hans, 218 McCaul street; Samuel Goldberg, 110 Elm street; Heiman Kaz, 53 Elizabeth street; Isadore Fink, 90 Elizabeth street, and Morris Ceitman, 169 Elizabeth street, for disorderly conduct. From two or three hundred joined in the fray, which lasted from seven to nearly ten o'clock.

Mrs. Harry Perchewsky is at her home, 91 Agnes street, more or less seriously hurt. It is declared by Hebrew bystanders that a policeman in rushing into her house to make an arrest, wantonly struck her with his baton. She is said to have sustained a broken rib.

A meeting which will view the protests of the Hebrews both against the Christian missionaries and police treatment, will be held in the Lyric Theatre to-morrow night. Such is the announcement of Dr. John Shayni, president of the Zionist Association.

General Otter Delighted.

Calgary, June 19.—Gen. Otter left yesterday for Ottawa after inspecting the militia encampment here. He expressed himself as delighted with the conditions of the military organizations in Alberta.

Women's Welcome Home.

Fort William, June 19.—The closing session of the Women's Council in Port Arthur was marked by an address Saturday evening from Miss Fitzgibbon, the superintendent of the Women's Welcome Home in Toronto. Miss Fitzgibbon told of her work and urged the local council of West Algoma to take immediate steps to secure a hostel here. I. L. Matthews, who was in the chair, upon the behalf of the men of Port Arthur, promised help. The local council met yesterday morning to consider the proposition, and decided that they would make this their work for the coming year. The hostel will likely be placed between the two cities.

The first session opened in Fort William yesterday morning, and the city turned out with a warm welcome to the distinguished ladies, who are to consider questions of work of wide importance in this city for the next three days.

PREFERENCE AT MAST-HEAD

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Declares Determination.

Premier Makes Declaration to Offset Actions.

London, June 19.—(C.A.P. Cable)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking at the Constitutional Club, said that although himself a party man, he belonged to no party whatever in this country. They did not forget in his country when they came to Britain, they became part of the greater whole of British institutions, which, while not perfect, were certainly the wisest ever devised by men for the Government of men.

It was fourteen years since Canada had introduced the system of a preferential traiff to Britain. They did it without any conditions, believing in their heart of hearts that such a policy was sound commercially and politically and in the best interests of the Empire. They had had no reason to repent of their aetion. It had stood the test of fourteen years; the more they had of it the better they liked it. They had hoisted the policy of British preference to the top of the mast.

There might be some there who would say that by the reciprocal agreement with the United States they had given a fatal blow to the British preference. For such a doubt there was in his judgment no reason. The agreement made with the States was no solemn treaty, but an agreement, to which an end could be put. There was no occasion for alarm about the matter. When he was told they had chained their liberty and paralyzed their movements, he would say, "Look at the correspondence on the matter." They would see that the policy was one which suited the convenience of Canada, and one to which an end could be put at any time.

They were told they were leading to the annexation of Canada, and he had a right to say that he did not believe such an accusation as that. If he believed it he would not have advocated this policy. Their effort would be to trade with the Mother Country in preference to any other (cheers), but they wanted also to trade with other countries.

RAIN SPOILS THE DECORATIONS

Heavy Rainfall in London for Two Days.

Special to the Review.

London, June 19.—Two days' torrential rain have worked havoc with coronation decorations. Bunting, flags and pennant are spoiled and will have to be replaced. Crowds are already so great that streets are almost impassable and many cases of pocket-picking have been reported to the police. Full rehearsal of coronation service is being held at Westminster abbey to-day.

TWO FREIGHTERS ARE DESERTED

Crews Ask For an Increase in Wages.

Special to the Review.

New York, June 19.—Morgan line freighters "Creole" and "Sol," were deserted by crews and union officials claim they are in a position to call out twenty thousand men to enforce demands for higher wages.

Spain Ready for Trouble.

Paris, June 19.—A despatch to La Patrie from Tangiers says that Spain has concentrated 10,000 men with an enormous quantity of war materials, at Cadiz, for use in Morocco should occasion arise. The forces now occupying El-Araish are to be increased to 4,000 men.

AUTO CRASH NEAR ORILLIA; TWO LIVES ARE SNUFFED OUT

Five Others Are Injured—Emergency Brake Stopped Car Too Suddenly.

Barrie, June 19.—While traveling at a high rate of speed, 14 miles north of Barrie, a party consisting of seven Torontonians, were hurled from their automobile and two, who were thrown to the left side, were instantly killed by the car toppling over on them, the running board striking the back of their necks. The others were thrown to the opposite side and escaped with slight injuries.

The dead are: David W. Braidwood, chauffeur, 12 McGill street.

Florence Crawford, 124 Howard Park avenue.

The injured: Mrs. George C. Thompson, 459 Euclid avenue.

Flossie Thompson, 459 Euclid avenue.

Norma Thompson, 459 Euclid avenue.

Charles E. Bowden, 132 Brunswick avenue.

Harry G. Martin, Swansea.

The party consisted of Braidwood, who was driving; Miss Crawford, who was sitting in the front seat beside Braidwood, and with him was thrown to the left side. The others were Mrs. Thompson and her two daughters, Bessie and Norma, in company with two male friends, Charles E. Bowden and Harry G. Martin. All but the mother of the two girls were in the employ of the Toronto Electric Light Co. The last five escaped with slight injuries, and are suffering principally from nervous shock.

At 1.30 the happy party left the city. Nearly 70 miles was traversed with pleasure, the road being in excellent condition and the weather ideal, created desire for speeding and to satisfy the desires of the party, Braidwood turned on more power. Suddenly his eye caught sight of a fence a hundred yards in front, almost the same second he observed a turn in the road.

Realizing the immediate danger he jammed the emergency brake and unfortunately in his excitement put too much pressure upon it, causing the power, which had not yet been turned off, to force the car ahead. The brakes, however, were strong enough to stop the wheels with such suddenness as to turn the car completely around facing Barrie.

As the car reversed its direction the left rear wheel collapsed, throwing the car to one side and hurling the two front passengers to the road. Swaying to the opposite side, those in the remaining five seats were thrown to that side. The broken wheel caused the heavy machine to fall the second time to the left. This time the running board struck the necks of Braidwood and Miss Crawford, causing instant death.

Manned by Non-Unionists.

Antwerp, June 19.—Notwithstanding the efforts of the striking seamen to tie her up, the Finland sailed for New York on scheduled time. She was manned by non-union men.

The strike leaders appear discouraged at the attitude of the Germans who are arriving in great numbers to take the places of strikers.

A Chain of Circumstance.

Kingston, June 19.—James Madill, the traveler killed in the Grand Trunk wreck at Newcastle, was at the Randolphe Hotel here Friday and was on his way to Toronto to attend the wedding of Miss Annie Madden, a former Kingstonian. A series of troubles have occurred in several families. Miss Madden was to have been married on Wednesday, but her intended was taken ill and removed to the hospital. The marriage was then set for Saturday, the time being fixed to suit Mr. Madill, as he was a traveler. Three weeks ago Mrs. Madill was bereaved by the death of a sister.

Canadian Militia at Hague.

Ottawa, June 19.—Directors of the horse show to be held at The Hague from July 2 to 9 have extended an invitation to officers of the Canadian militia to take part in uniform. Officers proposing to accept the invitation are directed in Saturday's militia orders to communicate with headquarters.

Presented With Purse of Gold.

Kingston, June 19.—Rev. T. E. Bourke of the Brock street Methodist Church, transferred to Montreal, was presented with a purse of gold by the congregation.

JUMPED TO DEATH OVER A BRIDGE

Toronto Man Short of Money, and Couldn't Stand It.

Toronto, June 19.—William J. H. Black, aged 31, employe of the T. Eaton Co., and a boarder at 597 Parliament street, jumped to death over the Howard street bridge at three o'clock Saturday afternoon. Practically every bone in his body was broken. He landed on the roadway in the Rosedale Ravine. The man was quite dead when found.

His body in its flight struck the girders of the bridge and his boots were torn clean off. Several boys were playing baseball in the ravine and saw the body fall. Harry Boyce, 106 Rosedale avenue, heard somebody shout, You dam fool, get back!" and looking up, saw Black jump from the railing of the bridge. The body struck the ground within a few feet of Jimmy Buck and Harold Ryan.

He has been despondent for some time, owing to being short of money. He borrowed a dollar from his landlord on Friday and a letter from his brother at Pittsburg, Pa., was found on him, in which the brother asked for the return of a loan.

AVIATOR DEAD

Was Contestant in the International Race.

Special to the Review.

Paris, June 19.—The fourth aviator in the international race met death between St. Laurent and Lumes today, according to Paris Journal. Name not yet known.

BORDEN'S WELCOME

Gets Great Reception at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, June 19.—Winnipeg gave R. L. Borden a big reception on Saturday evening. The streets about the C.P.R. station were black with citizens when his train arrived, and his appearance was greeted with great enthusiasm.

Mr. Borden was met on his special car by Hon. Robert Rogers and many of the federal members for Manitoba. Without delay a torchlight procession was formed and the Opposition leader was escorted to the residence of Hon. Robert Rogers in Fort Rouge. The procession was led by fifty brilliantly decorated and lighted motor cars, behind which followed several hundred cars. The residence and grounds of Manitoba's Minister of Public Works were thronged with citizens, who shook hands with the Conservative leader.

CORONATION IS THE BIG THING

London is En Fete for the Week, Alright.

London, June 19.—On the eve of coronation week London is ablaze with color. A few days ago the aspect of the streets suggested a city in splints, so vast was the area of bare timber. All this has been transformed with paint and hanging fabrics. The metropolis now appears in her gayest gala attire. From early morning until late at night the streets are crowded with a cosmopolitan throng. Motor busses are doing a brisk business, carrying sightseers to the coronation route. Musical rehearsals are proceeding with full choir and orchestra for the great ceremony in Westminster Abbey. No fewer than 450 voices compose the choir, drawn from every cathedral in England. The interior transformation of the abbey is completed, and with the final rehearsal to-day, at which Their Majesties are expected to be present, everything will be in readiness for Thursday's celebration.

Early in the week the last of the royal delegates will arrive and London will then contain as distinguished a company as ever gathered in any capital.

Few seats remain unsold, and those only the most expensive. Contrivances of all kinds are raising the users afoot above the heads of their fellows are being extensively advertised, but unfortunately for the buyers Scotland Yard has decided to treat such appliances as portable stands. Anyone carrying or wearing them within 100 yards of the route of the procession will be unceremoniously conducted into the nearest side street.

Officer Beaten by Thugs.

Toronto, June 19.—Three thugs badly wanted in the United States are in custody and Detective William Wallace of the headquarters' staff is at his home, 89 Borden street, in a seriously injured condition, as a result of a severe beating by the trio.

They are William J. Farrell, aged 21 years, pugilist, on probation for assault in Massachusetts; his brother, George J. Farrell, aged 18 years, and Victor Osborne, aged 20 years.

Detective Wallace has his cheekbones broken and his face badly cut up as the result of a plucky fight of fifteen minutes, when he attempted, single-handed, to arrest two of them in a York street pawnshop, where they were attempting to dispose of the booty from two burglaries committed by them a few weeks ago in Cambridge, Mass.

Trooper Hooper Dies.

Toronto, June 19.—Trooper John E. Hooper of the second Company, Canadian Field Engineers, who was injured at Niagara Camp on June 8, by a 60-foot span filling across the abdomen, died in the General Hospital at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Hooper's recovery at the time of the accident was considered doubtful, as he sustained severe internal injuries.

Hooper was 45 years of age, unmarried, and boarded at 268 Parliament street.

The local militia will look after the body, pending funeral arrangements.

Bank Clerk Is Dead.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 19.—J. A. F. Barth, the young bank clerk who shot himself Friday morning, died yesterday at 10 a.m. yesterday, not having regained consciousness. He was attended by his brother Louis, who arrived from Toronto Saturday noon. No cause for his act has yet been discovered, although it is said that he was worried about a recent consultation with a Toronto physician regarding his health. The body will be forwarded to Toronto to-day.

POLICE COURT

Indian Fined $2 for Being Found Drunk

A band Indian from Chemong named Alexander Knott was fined $2 with ten days to pay it in at police court this morning by Magistrate Dumble, for being drunk Saturday. He allowed his liquor loving propensity to conquer him, and asked a young fellow whom he met on the street to buy him a $1 bottle of whiskey. Alex. said he did not know the name of the purchaser.

"Conny" Ryan also paid $2 for indulging.

Horse Distemper

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares "Nerviline" Is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. I. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

Nerviline CURES QUICKLY

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 50c, trial size 25c, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CORNS CURED IN 24 HOURS

You can painlessly remove any corn, either hard, soft, or bleeding, by applying Putnam's Corn Extractor. PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

The Daily Review

MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1911.

A POINT OF VIEW

In another part of the Review today will be found a letter from a valued correspondent, objecting to our editorial comment on the Ne Temere decree. Our correspondent has apparently failed to distinguish between the discussion on the merits or demerits of the decree itself—from the dogmatic standpoint—and the situation produced as affecting the civil law, and the rights of citizens under that civil law.

We suppose it will be admitted by every fair-minded person that the church of Rome, or any other church is at perfect liberty to make such internal rules and regulations as it pleases for guidance of its members, and to visit ecclesiastical penalties upon them for violation. That is the right enjoyed by every religious sect, or church under the British law. Therefore, it follows that the Ne Temere decree is nobody's business but that of the members of the church of Rome, while its operation is confined to purely churchly matters, or matters of faith or conduct as applied to the members. If anyone does not like these rules or regulations, he or she is at perfect liberty to change his or her religion, under the British law.

As an ecclesiastical ordinance we all may have our opinion of the Ne Temere decree, just as any person may hold any view he or she pleases on the subject of the infallibility of the pope, or the confessional. These are matters of faith and religion only, and we have not discussed the Ne Temere from this standpoint at all. We have, however, discussed repeatedly, the provisions of the decree that affect the rights of Protestants or even of Catholics under the civil law, for that is where the people generally, of whatever faith, are concerned.

The point of the whole discussion, though so many people cannot see it, that is Protestants should be concerned only with the civil bearing of the decree and its importance judicially. It is a fact that the provisions of the decree have no civil bearing whatever, outside of Quebec; and in Quebec it has a civil bearing only because the law of that province is so framed that it gives effect to the decree in relation to the marriage rite. Here we have a quarrel with the legislators. It is most essential that the law shall give no church the power to invalidate a marriage, performed by a minister or priest, because it is not in conformity with church rules.

Marriage is a civil affair, not purely a sacrament, and as such the law must take cognizance of no religious differences, or conflicting religious rules. A marriage law, without respect to church or churches, is what Quebec should have. There may most certainly arise situations as regards mixed marriages, or marriages of Roman Catholics by Protestant ministers, or mixed marriages, or marriages of Roman Catholics that are gravely unjust, and we are concerned in the effort to see the civil power so moved that these injustices are impossible. "A square deal for everyone under the law, without regard to church or faith," is what is wanted.

To fight the decree itself, as issued from Rome, is like hoping to make an impression on a stone wall; and about as useless an effort. Moreover, the decree as applied to Roman Catholics, we hold to be the business of Roman Catholics only. The fight that should be waged is to make the Quebec civil code the same as in other provinces, so that the decree can have no legal effect whatever; and so that when one is married by a qualified minister, it is settled for once and all, despite what any church may say or do.

HIS WORK FINISHED

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's work has been practically done at the imperial conference, and he will soon be sailing again for Canada, in preparation for the fight on reciprocity that is expected. He has been entirely successful in his mission to the conference in blocking and obstructing the plans of both home and colonial statesmen to bring the empire closer together he has succeeded in preserving Canada's autonomy in every respect, and in killing for the time being the aspirations of the imperialists for the solidifying of the five nations composing the empire confederation.

Sir Wilfrid ought to have in this attitude a trump card to play in Quebec. Since he successfully resisted the attempt to have Canada act as an integral part of the empire in time of stress or need, he will be able to assure Johnny Crapaud that he will not be conscripted into the navy. The French-Canadian youths will not be dragged by the hair of the head to serve on the British war-ships, and made food for the shrieking shell of the enemy. Sir Wilfrid has saved the country from a most ignominious position in having to live up to its responsibilities of being a part of the "vastest empire that has been," as Sir William Mulock put on the postage stamp.

Regarding his attitude at the conference, the Hamilton Herald, a well-edited and independent newspaper, says:

The plea that in his anti-imperialist course at the imperial conference Sir Wilfrid Laurier has the sympathy and support of the Asquith government will not do. Two of the proposals which Sir Wilfrid opposed, and which were withdrawn because of his opposition, were made by Mr. Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies and chairman of the conference. He made them in behalf of the Asquith government. One was the proposal that the dominion government be consulted by the imperial government in the making of treaties with foreign powers—a proposal which Sir Wilfrid rejected because it might imply that the dominions would be under obligation to participate in some war arising out of a treaty. The other was the proposal that a standing advisory committee, representing the imperial government and the governments of the dominions be appointed to serve as a medium of communication and to facilitate the transaction of inter-imperial business business. This proposal Sir Wilfrid rejected because he thought it unnecessary.

It is clear that the Canadian prime minister is determined to block every movement, from whatever quarter it may proceed, which has for its object the organization of the empire. Is it strange that English newspapers are calling Sir Wilfrid the "wet blanket" of the imperial conference?

SPELLING REFORM

We are in receipt of The Herald, a postage stamp journal devoted, as it says, to "pronounciation and amended speling," and coming from Toronto. It teaches the phonetic spelling of English and manages to introduce so many changes that no one would recognize what it presents as the English language, until it is laboriously deciphered. For instance this exponent of the new thought says: "In 1897 we promist that a simpl notation would be developt in these colums. The weak vowels in our tung receiv therein lucid, th ocondensed treatment.

Since 1897 ther has been time for consideration of many problems of speech, observation and critical comparison with others' work and digestion of their statements. The matters involved wer so fundamental as tu forbid haste. Altogether it is tho't that considerabl advance may be heralded along right lines."

Anyone who would make "tu" replace "too" evidently ought to be taught his or her "dooty." "Who" becomes "Hu," but of course that does not give the word a variegated hue. But to make it real interesting here is a sample of what the world is coming to:

Youropianz, being in tuch with the istern siboard, du not isili grasp the idea hou fast Yunited Stats popylation, welth and enerji swipes ever west. Vast expansion, colectiv fors, indeszostibl enerji—thes ar impressionz forst on a vizitor, beyond al that hi had consived or ecspekted to faind."

Murder! police!

Some day we shall gravely promulgate something after this fashion: Aris in ure mit, oh ye of litl faith, and swot the fli. And likwis swot thos hu wud treat owr bois and gurls so horibly. Wat's de use, anyway. Let us go thru the world hapy if we kan, and if we khant, hellup us to be mizerabl with such a langwidtch as this new won.

THE MARKETS

Latest Quotations in Grain, Dairy Products, Live Stock Etc.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Favoring weather in the spring crop belt gave the wheat market to-day quite a decided downturn. Compared with last night, the close was ⅛c to ⅜c off. Other cereals, too, showed a net decline—corn ¼c to ½c, and oats a shade to ¼c. For hog products the outcome varied from 5c lower to 5c advance.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d to ⅝d higher than yesterday on wheat, and unchanged to ⅛d higher on corn. Berlin wheat closed 1⅛c higher, Antwerp unchanged, and Budapest 1c lower.

British Cattle Markets.

LIVERPOOL, June 17.—John Rogers & Co. report to-day that the demand in Birkenhead was very slow. Prices realized were one-quarter cent over last week's quotations, but the market undertone was weak. It seems very probable that there may be a slight reduction before the week is out. Both States and Canadian steers made from 12 1-4c to 12 3-4c per pound.

Lemieux on Tour.

Montreal, June 19.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, assisted by several M.P.'s, M.P.P.'s, and other supporters, continued his series of Liberal campaign meetings this week-end, addressing electors at Joliette Saturday and at St. Constant yesterday.

Mr. Lemieux touched on reciprocity, warmly defended the navy bill, and fiercely attacked Bourassa, Monk, Lavergne and the Nationalists.

At St. Constant yesterday afternoon, 2,000 people assembled to hear the Postmaster-General.

Opening with an attack on Mr. Bourassa, in which he characterized his opposition as the cries of a fool disappointed in his ambitions, he proceeded to give a short summary of his own life, referring to early hardships and declaring that his position in public life had been hardly earned and honestly won. Mr. Bourassa had attacked him on more than one occasion, but could never prove a single assertion to detract from his reputation.

New Industry For Brantford.

Brantford, June 19.—The Brantford Motor Truck Co. has been organized here, with a capital stock of $100,000. Representations were made by R. O. Cumback, the designer of a 1,200 pound truck of Detroit, and R. Bailey, local capitals, decided to launch the industry and turn out 50 trucks this year. The factory site has been selected on Spring street.

The Liberator

A Story of How a Small Boy Tries to Imitate Lincoln

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Little Azariah Ichabod Peters sat on the topmost rail of the fence and looked thoughtfully down at the shiny new rubber boots that incased his fat legs. A warm overcoat was buttoned tightly about his form, and on his black, woolly head was drawn a bright red toboggan cap that matched his red mittens.

"I reckon I's mighty lucky," he mused. "Jes' t'ink, dat ole Sandy Claws a-bringin' me all dese yere spandy new cloes w'en my ole ones wasn't all wore out yit! Now, dat no 'count Caesar Woodson he say it's jes' because my pappy has a butler job at de hall an' gits a sight ob munny fer standin' behin' Marse Clement's cha'r dat I kin hev all dese t'ings, but I likes to t'ink dat yere ole Sandy Claws brung some ob 'em. O Lawdy me! I done fergot Marse Abe Linkum an' how granny ses if he hadn't set grandpap free my pappy couldn't hev a butler job an' git a sight of munny. I dunno!"

HANDED IT THROUGH THE BARRED WINDOW.

"Whah yo' ben, li'l' Azariah?" said his old granny. "I guess yo' toeses is mos' froze off; come close to de fiah an' warm up."

Azariah Ichabod sat down on a stool near the stove and slowly removed his outer garments. "Granny," he hesitated, "did ole Marse Sandy Claws bring dese cloes to me or did Marse Abe Linkum?"

"Marse Linkum?" Granny stared over her spectacles. "Dat good man been dead an' berried dis fifty year. How come it yo' got dem mixed up, 'less now, li'l' Azariah, I guess yore recollectin' whut granny said to yo' 'bout how if Marse Linkum hadn't set de slaves free mebbe yore pappy wouldn't be wurkin' up to de hall an' earnin' sights ob munny fer us."

"I wish yo'd tell me all 'bout dat yere Marse Abe Linkum ag'in', granny," said Azariah.

Both Granny Peters and Azariah Ichabod were in tears at the conclusion of her recital, and when granny had brought forth the brown covered "Life of Abraham Lincoln" the old woman and the little boy pored over its crude woodcuts and large type with complete forgetfulness of the burning potatoes in the oven.

"Yore pappy larned his letters in dat yere book," said granny proudly, "and yo' recomember dat he larned yo' yores too. Now, doan' you never forgit, li'l' Azariah, dat yo' larned yo' fust readin' in Marse Abe Linkum's book."

"S'posin' yo' read a li'l' about him now," coaxed granny, thrusting the book into his hands. She lighted a kerosene lamp and fished the charred potatoes out of the oven with philosophic cheerfulness and thrust in another batch. "Begin now, honey."

Azariah Ichabod opened the book at the first chapter and ran a small black finger along the lines, reciting glibly what he had already learned by heart under the tuition of his father.

"Marse Abe Linkum wuz bo'n on Febry twelve in de yeah—what's de matter, granny?" Azariah paused as Mrs. Peters grasped the book from his hand.

"Li'l' Azariah," cried his grandmother excitedly, "I done forgot whut yore pappy said dis mornin'. He come down from de hall wid er newspaper from de no'th whut he'd found, an' ses he, 'Termorrer will be Marse Abe Linkum's birthday, an' dey's gwine ter celybrate it up no'th. It's all in dis yere paper. Now, do yo' tell Azariah ter git some er dat creepin' stuff from de woods an' hang ober Marse Linkum's pictur'.' I declar' I done fergot all about it, an' yore pappy'll be mighty struck if yo' doan' do it."

"I'll git it in de mornin'. Dat Marse Linkum mus' have been dreffle good ter make folks 'member his birthday. I wish I was like dat man, granny. I reckon I'd do jes' as he did," asserted Azariah warmly as he drew up to the table prepared by his grandmother.

"Li'l' boys kin do jes' as much good in dere way," said granny wisely.

"I couldn't set nobuddy free."

"Yaas, yo' could set somebody free," said granny suddenly. "Whah's dat li'l' rabbit yo' found in yo' trap yistiddy?"

Azariah rolled a startled eye at his grandmother. "It's locked up in de woodshed. I reckon dat yere li'l' rabbit likes me mo'n he does to run aroun' de col' woodses, granny. I want ter keep him, I do!"

"Go 'long, Azariah Peters. I's 'shamed ob yo', I declare I am, wid dat sample ob Marse Abe Linkum right befo' yo' all de time. Doan' yo' talk to me!"

"Tomorrer I'll let him go free. Den I'll be some like Marse Linkum. I reckon I'll give him some cabbidge now," and Azariah left the table and went to his little captive, while granny hobbled around the room singing in a high, cracked voice.

The next day Azariah's first duty was to go to the adjacent woods and search under the covering of dead leaves for trailing vines of sassafras and "old man's hand," with which to adorn the large picture of Abraham Lincoln which hung on the kitchen wall.

After that he took the little gray rabbit from the woodshed and stumped doggedly across the winding path to the upland pasture. He could feel the beating of the little frightened heart against his hand, and he snuggled the little furry body closer into his neck.

"Doan' yo' be 'fraid, li'l' rabbit. I's gwine ter take yo' straight ter yore mammy," he comforted it. Then at the pasture fence he kissed the trembling animal and set it on the ground. For an instant it crouched, frightened and tense, and then with a bound it left him and disappeared in the hedge.

"Lawdy sakes!" ejaculated the round eyed Azariah. "I didn't reckon it made folkses so glad to git away. I wished I could be moah like Marse Linkum an' set moah folkses free." He walked meditatively back to the cabin and peered through the paling into the chicken yard. "I reckon yo' chickens would be mighty glad to git away. But I doan' know whut granny'd t'nk erbout dat."

All the afternoon little Azariah pondered over the story of Abraham Lincoln and the lesson taught by his noble life. Toward night he went the lonely two miles into Collinsville to replenish the molasses jug. As he was leaving the town on his way home he came across that scapegrace Caesar Woodson, and, wonder of wonders, that marvel of hardness and abandoned wickedness was bawling lustily in the back yard of his father's isolated cabin.

"Mah pappy he's gone ter jail!" he wept noisily in response to Azariah's solicitous inquiry. "Kunnel Fenn he tole de constable dat dere wuz only five chickens lef' in his roos', an' he said pappy hed sold 'em ober ter de town folkses. An' all becuz de kunnel could only find five chickens in his roos' dey locked my pappy up!"

Henry Woodson's reputation as a connoisseur of fine poultry was too well known in the county for Azariah Ichabod Peters to express much surprise or indignation over that colored gentleman's incarceration in the lockup. Nevertheless as he left his playmate and went his homeward way his little heart was filled with pity for the genial Mr. Woodson, who was confined within four walls away from the sunshine and the crisp February air and corn pone and sweet potatoes. Azariah wondered what Mr. Abraham Lincoln would have done in like circumstances, and he finally concluded that Mr. Lincoln would have made every effort to obtain the freedom of Henry Woodson and restore him to the bosom of his family.

Azariah hid his molasses jug in the hedge, and, turning his shiny rubber boots toward the town he had just left, he trotted swiftly back, turning and twisting until he reached the small, isolated brick building that served as a temporary place of confinement for the evildoers of the vicinity. The little boy crept up under the small barred window, and in the falling darkness his form became part of the shadows.

"Hi, Mr. Woodson!" he hissed anxiously.

There was a shuffling step across the floor, and Henry's rich voice came in a hushing whisper: "Who's dere? Is dat yo', Caesar, yo' lim' ob Satan?"

"It ain't Caesar. It are somebuddy like Marse Abe Linkum come to set yo' free," whispered Azariah. "Jes' yo' tell me how an' I kin do it."

"Lawsy me!" ejaculated Mr. Woodson. "Lemme see. I reckon I oughter know dis yere ole lockup like a—like a coop. He, he! Whoever yo' be, do yo' know whah my house is?"

"Yaas."

"Well, yo' run erlong an' bring me er crowbar outer my shed. Put yo' han' inside de do' an' it's in de corner. Fetch it heah."

Azariah went and without adventure he returned with the desired implement, and at Henry's direction he handed it through the barred window. That gentleman grabbed it hastily.
